20 Sing vnto the Lord, all the earth: and shew from day to day his saluation.

21 Tell of his glory among the heathen: his wonderfull deeds among all nations.

22 For great is the Lord, and woorthy to be praised exceedingly: he is to be feared aboue all gods.

23 For all the gods of the people are but idols: but the Lord made heauen.

24 Praise and honour are in his presence: strength and gladnesse are in his place.

25 Giue vnto the Lord, ye hundreds of people: giue vnto the Lord glory and dominion.

26 Giue vnto the Lord the glory due vnto his name: bring sacrifices, and come before him, and worship the Lord in his glorious sanctuary.

27 Let all the earth feare him: surely the world shall be stable, and not moue.

28 Let the heauens reioyce, and let the earth be glad: and let men tel among the nations that the Lord is King.

The xvij. Chapter.

12 Christ is promised vnder the figure of Solomon.

AND * when Dauid dwelt in his house, he sayd to Nathan the Prophet, Loc, I dwell in an house of Cedar tree, but the Arke of the Lords couenant remaineth vnder curtaines.

2 And Nathan said vnto Dauid, Do all that is in thine heart, for God is with thee.

3 And the same night the word of God came to Nathan, saying,

4 Go and tell Dauid my seruant, Thus saith the Lord, Thou shalt not build mee an house to dwell in:

5 For I haue dwelt in a house since the day that I brought out the children of Israel, vnto this day, but haue gone from tent to tent, and from one dwelling place to another.

6 And wheresoeuer I haue walked with all Israel, spake I eur one word to any of the Iudges of Israel, whom I commanded to feed my people, saying, why haue ye not build mee an house of Cedar tree?

7 Nowe therefore thus shalt thou say vnto my seruant Dauid, Thus sayeth the Lord of hosts, I tooke thee from the sheep cote, and from following the sheepe, that thou shouldst be captain ouer my people Israel:

8 And I haue bene with thee whithersoever thou hast walked, and haue weeded out all thine enemies of thy sight, and haue made thee a name, & the name of the greatest men that are in the earth.

9 And I haue ordained a place for my people Israel, and abode it fast, so that now they may dwell in thys place, and moue no more: neither shall the children of wickednesse bere them any more, as at the beginning.

10 And since the time that I commanded Iudges to euer my people Israel, I haue subdued all thine enemies: and I told thee that the Lord would build thee an house.

11 And also shall come to passe: when thy dayes expired, that thou wilt go vnto thy fathers: and I will raise vp thy seed after thee, which shall be thy sonnes, and I will stablish his kingdome.

12 He shall build me an house, and I will stablish his seat for euer.

13 I will be his father, and hee shall be my sonne, and I will not take my mercy away from him, as I tooke it from him that was before thee.

14 But I will stablish him in mine house and in my kingdome for euer, and his seat shall be sure for euermore.

15 According to all these words, & according to all this vision, did Nathan tell king Dauid.

16 And Dauid the king came, and late before the Lord, and sayd, what am I, O Lord God, and what is mine house, that thou hast promoted me thus farre?

17 And yet this seemed little in thine eyes, O God: but thou hast also spoken of thy seruants house for a great while to come, and hast looked vpon me, as vpon a man of high degree, O Lord God.

19 O Lord, for thy seruants sake, euen according to thine owne heart, hast thou done all this magnificence, to the w all great things.

20 Lord, there is none like thee, neither is there any God besides thee, according to all that we haue heard with our eares.

21 Moreover, what nation on the earth is like thy people Israel, to whom God hath vouchsafed to come, and redeme them to be his owne people, and to make thee a name of excellencie and terriblenesse, with casting out nations from before the people whom thou hast deliuered out of Egypt?

22 Thy people of Israel didst thou make thine owne people for euer, and thou Lorde becomest their God.

23 Therefore nowe Lord, let the thing that thou hast spoken concerning thy seruant and his house, be true for euer, that thou Lord do as thou hast sayd.

24 Let it come to passe, that thy name may be magnified for euer, that it may be said, The Lord of hostes is the God of Israel, euen the God of Israel, and the house of Dauid thy seruant endureth stable before thee.

25 For thou, O my God, hast told thy seruant that thou wilt build him an house, and therefore thy seruant hath found in his heart to pray before thee.

26 And nowe Lord, thou art God, and hast promised this goodnesse vnto thy seruant.

27 Nowe therefore, let it be thy pleasure to blesse the house of thy seruant, that it may continue before thee for euer: for whome thou blessest, O Lord, the same is blessed for euer.

The xviiij. Chapter.

1 The battell of David against the Philistines, 2 and against Moab, 3 Zoba, 5 Aram, 12, and Edom

After this, * Dauid smote the Philistines, & subdued them, and tooke Geth, and the Townes that longed thereto, out of the hands of the Philistines.

2 And he smote Moab, and the Moabites became Dauids seruants, and payed him tribute.

3 And Dauid smote Hadarezer king of Zoba, vnto Hamath, as he went to stablish his dominion by the riuer Euphrates.

4 And Dauid tooke from him a thousand charets, and seuen thousand horsemen, & twenty thousand footmen, and destroyed all the charets, but reserued of them an hundred charets.

5 And when the Syrians of Damascus came to helpe Hadarezer king of Zoba, Dauid slew of the Syrians twenty and two thousand.

6 And Dauid put souldiers in Syria Damascus, & the Syrians became Dauids seruants, and brought him tribute: and the Lorde preferred Dauid in all that he went to.

7 And Dauid tooke the shields of golde that were on the seruants of Hadarezer, and brought them to Hierusalem.

8 And from Chubbath, & from Chun, cities of Hadarezer, brought Dauid exceeding much brasse, wherewith Solomon made the brasen lauacory, the pillars, and the vessels of brasse.

9 And when Thogu king of Hemath heard how Dauid had beaten all the strength of Hadarezer king of Zoba, 10 Hee sent Hadoram his sonne to king Dauid, to make peace with him, and to blesse him, because hee had fought against Hadarezer, and beaten him (for Thogu had warre with Hadarezer) and Hadoram brought all maner of iewels of golde, siluer, and brasse with him.

11 And king Dauid dedicated them vnto the Lord, with the siluer and golde that he brought from all nations, from Edom, from Moab, from the children of Ammon, from the Philistines, and from Amalec.

12 And Abisai the sonne of Zaruia slew of the Edomites in the salt balley, eightene thousand.

13 And put souldiers in Edom, and all the Edomites became Dauids seruants: thus the Lord kept Dauid in all that he took in hand.

14 And Dauid reigned ouer all Israel, and executed iudgement and righteousness among all his people.

15 And Joab the sonne of Zaruia was ouer the hoste, and Josaphat the sonne of Ahilud recorder.

16 And Zadoc the sonne of Abitob, and Abimelech the sonne of Abiathar, were the priests, and Sausa was scribe, 17 And Banaias the sonne of Jehoiada, was ouer the Cherethites, and the Ghelethites: and the sonnes of Dauid were next vnto the king.

The xix. Chapter.

4 Hanon king of the children of Ammon, doth great iniuries to the seruants of Dauid. 6 He prepareth an army against Dauid, 15 and is overcome.

After this, * Nahas the king of the children of Ammon died, and his sonne reigned in his stead.

2 And Dauid sayd, I will shew kindness vnto Hanon the sonne of Nahas, because his father dealt kindly with me. And Dauid sent messengers to comfort him ouer the death of his father: and the seruants of Dauid came into the land of the children of Ammon, to Hanon, to comfort him.

3 But the lords of the children of Ammon sayd to Hanon, Thinkest thou that Dauid doth honour thy father in thy sight, that he hath sent comforters vnto thee? are not his seruants come to search, to looke, and espie out thy land?

4 Wherfore Hanon tooke Dauids seruants, and shaued them, and cut off their coats hard by their buttocks, and sent them away.

5 And there went certaine and tolde Dauid how the men were serued: and the king sent to meet them (for the men were exceedingly aduamed) and the king sayd, Carry at Jericho, vntill your beards be growen, and then returne.

6 And when the children of Ammon sawe that they stank in the sight of Dauid, Hanon and the children of Ammon sent a thousand talents of siluer, to hire them charets and horsemen out of Mesopotamia, & out of Syria, Maacha, and out of Zoba.

7 And they hired thirty and two thousand charets, and the king of Maacha and his people, which came and pitched before Medeba: and the children of Ammon gathered themselves together from their cities, and came to battell.

8 And when Dauid heard of it, hee sent Joab and all the host of strong men.

9 And the children of Ammon came out and put themselves in aray to battel, before the gate of the city: and the kings that were come, kept them by themselves backe in the field.

10 When Joab also saw that the front of the battell was against him befoze and behinde, hee chose out of all the cholen men of Israel, and put them in aray against the Syrians.

11 And the rest of the people he deliuered vnto the hand of Abifai his brother, and they put themselves in aray against the children of Ammon.

12 And he sayd, If the Syrians be too strong for me, thou shalt succour me, and if the children of Ammon preuaile against thee, I will helpe thee.

13 Plucke by thine heart, and let vs play the men for our peoples sake, and for the cities of our God: and the Lorde shall doe that which is good in his owne sight.

14 So Joab and the people that were with him, drew nigh, before the Syrians, vnto the battell, and they fled befoze him.

15 And when the children of Ammon sawe that the Syrians were fled, they ran away likewise befoze Abifai his brother, and gate them into the city: and Joab came to Hierusalem.

16 And when the Syrians sawe that they were put to the woorse befoze Israel, they sent messengers, and set out the Syrians that were beyond the riuer: and Sophach the captaine of the host of Hadarezer, went befoze them.

17 And it was tolde Dauid: and he gathered all Israel, and went together ouer Jordan, and came, and set vpon them: and when Dauid had put himselfe in aray against the Syrians, they fought with him.

18 But the Syrians fled befoze Israel, and Dauid destroyed of the Syrians, seuen thousand charrets, and forty thousand footmen, and killed Sophach the captaine of the host.

19 And when the seruants of Hadarezer saw that they were put to the woorse befoze them of Israel, they made peace with Dauid, & became his seruants: neither would the Syrians helpe the children of Ammon any more.

The xx. Chapter.

1 Rabba destroyed. 3 The Ammonites tormented.

4 The Philistines are thrise ouercome, with their giants.

¶ And after the yere was expired, about the time that kings goe out a warfare, Joab caried out the army of the host, and destroyed the countrey of the children of Ammon, and came, and besieged Rabba: (but Dauid taried at Hierusalem) while Joab smote Rabba, and destroyed it.

2 And Dauid tooke the crowne of their king from his head, and found that it had the weight of a talent of golde, & there were precious stones in it, and it was set vpon Dauids head: and he brought also exceeding much spoile out of the citie.

3 And he brought out the people that were in it, and tormented them with sawes and harrowes of iron, and with other sharpe instruments, and he dealt Dauid with all the cities of the children of Ammon: and Dauid and all the people came againe to Hierusalem.

4 After this, there arose warre at Gazer with the Philistines: at which time Sobochai the Husathite slew Sippai that was of the children of Bepthaim, and they were subdued.

5 And there was battell againe with the Philistines, and Uthanan the sonne of Jair slew Lahemi the brother of Goliath the Gethite, whose speare stasse was like a weavers beane.

6 And yet againe there was warre at Geth, whereas was a man of a great stature, with foure and twenty fingers and toes, sixe on euery hand, and sixe on euery foot, and hee was the sonne of Raphah.

7 But when he defied Israel, Jonathan the sonne of Simea, Dauids brother, slew him.

8 These were borne vnto Raphah at Geth, and were ouerthrowen in the hand of Dauid, and in the hand of his seruants.

The xxj. Chapter.

1 Dauid causeth the people to be numbred. 14 And there die seuentie thousand men of the pestilence.

¶ And Satan stood by against Israel, and pouoked Dauid to number Israel.

2 And Dauid sayde to Joab, and to the rulers of the people, Go ye, and number Israel, from Beersaba to Dan: and bring it to mee, that I may know the number of them.

3 And Joab answered, The Lord make his people an hundred times so many moe as they be: but my lord, what thing, are they not all my lords seruants? why then doeth my lord require this thing? why will my lord be a cause of trespass to Israel?

4 Neuerthelesse, the kings word preuailed against Joab: and Joab departed, and walked thoroowout all them of Israel, and came to Hierusalem againe.

5 And gaue the summe of the number of the people vnto Dauid: and all they of Israel were a thousand thousand, and an hundred thousand men that dye w sword: and Iuda was foure hundred, threescore and ten thousand men that dye w sword.

6 But the Leuites and Benjamin counted he not among them: for the kings word was abominable to Joab.

7 And the Lorde was displeas'd with this thing, and smote Israel.

8 And Dauid said vnto God, I haue sinned exceedingly in doing this thing: and now I beseech thee, doe away the wickednesse of thy seruant, for I haue done very foolishly.

9 And the Lord spake vnto Gad, Dauids seer, saying,

10 Goe, and tell Dauid, saying, Thus sayth the Lord, I giue thee the choise of three things: chuse thee one of them, that I may do vnto thee.

11 And Gad came to Dauid, and sayd vnto him, Thus sayth the Lord, Chuse thee

12 Either three yeeres famine, or thre moneths to be destroyed befoze thine aduersaries, and that the sword of thine enemies may ouertake thee: or els the sword of the Lord, and pestilence in the land thre dayes, and the Angel of the Lord destroying thoroowout all the coasts of Israel: and now aduise thy selfe what word I shall bring againe to him that sent me.

13 And Dauid sayd vnto God, I am in an exceeding strait: let mee fall now into the hand of the Lord (for passing great are his mercies) but let me not fall into the hand of men.

14 So the Lord sent pestilence vpon Israel: and there were ouerthrowen of Israel thre score and ten thousand men.

15 * And God sent the Angel vnto Hierusalem to destroy it: and as he was about to destroy, the Lord beheld, and had compassion on the euil, and sayd to the Angel that destroyed, It is enough, let now thine hand cease. And the Angel of the Lord stood by the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite.

16 And Dauid lift vp his eyes, and sawe the Angel of the Lord stand betwene the earth and heauen, hauing a drawn sword in his hande, stretched out toward Hierusalem: then Dauid and the Elders of Israel which were clothed in sacke, fell vpon their faces.

17 And Dauid sayde vnto God, Is it not I that commanded the people to be numbred? It is I that haue sinned, and done euill indeed: and what haue these sheepe done? Let thine hand, O Lord my God, be on mee, and on my fathers house: but not on thy people, that they should be punished.

18 * And the Angel of the Lord commanded God to say to Dauid, that Dauid should goe by, and set vp an altar vnto the Lord in the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite.

19 And Dauid went by, according to the saying of God, which he spake in the Name of the Lord.

20 And Ornan turned about, and sawe the Angel, and his foure sonnes were with him, and hid themselves: but Ornan was threshing wheat.

21 And as Dauid came to Ornan, Ornan looked and saw Dauid, and went out of the threshing floore, and bowed himselfe to Dauid, with his face to the ground.

22 And Dauid sayd to Ornan, Giue me the place of the threshing floore, that I may build an altar therein vnto the Lord: thou shalt giue it me for as much money as it is woorth, that the plague may cease from the people.

23 And Ornan sayd vnto Dauid, Take it to thee, and let my lord the king do that which seemeth good in his eyes: Loe, I giue thee open also for whole burnt sacrifices, and threshing instruments for wood, & wheat for meat offering, I giue it all.

24 And king Dauid sayd to Ornan, Not so, but I will buy it for as much money as it is woorth: for I will not take that which is thine for the Lord, nor offer whole burnt offerings without cost.

25 * And so Dauid gaue to Ornan for that place sicles of golde, sixe hundred by weight.

26 And Dauid built there an altar vnto the Lord, and offered whole burnt offerings, and peace offerings, and called vpon the Lord, and hee heard him from heauen in fire vpon the altar of whole burnt offering.

27 And when the Lord had spoken to the Angel, hee put vp his sword againe into the sheath of it.

28 At that time, when Dauid sawe that the Lord had heard him in the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite, he bled to offer there:

29 (for the Tabernacle of the Lord which Moses made in the wilderness, and the altar of whole burnt offering, were at that season in the high place at Gibeon:

30 And Dauid could not goe before it to aske counsell at God, for he was afrayed of the sword of the Angel of the Lord.)

The xxij. Chapter.

2 Dauid prepareth things necessary for the building of the Temple.

And Dauid sayde, This is the house of the Lord God, and this is the altar for the whole burnt offering of Israel.

2 And Dauid commanded to gather together the strangers that were in the land of Israel, and hee set mansions to be w and polish stones for the building of the house of God.

3 And Dauid prepared plentie of yron for nailes, and doores of the gates, & to toyne with all, and abundance of brasse without weight.

4 And Cedar trees without number: for the Sidons and they of Tyre brought much Cedar wood to Dauid.

5 And Dauid sayd, Solomon my sonne is yong and tender, and the house that is to be builded for the Lord, must be magnificall, excellent, and of great fame and dignitie thoroout all countreys: I wil therefore make ordinaunces for it. And so Dauid prepared many things before his death.

6 And hee called Solomon his sonne, and charged him to build an house for the Lord God of Israel.

7 And Dauid sayd to Solomon, My sonne, I thought in mine heart to build an house vnto the name of the Lord my God:

8 But the word of the Lord came to me, saying, * Thou hast shed much blood, & hast made great battels: thou shalt therefore not build an house vnto my Name, for thou hast shed much blood vpon the earth in my sight.

9 Beholde, a sonne is borne to thee, and hee shall be a man of rest, for I will giue him rest from all his enemies round about: for his name is Solomon, and I will send rest and peace vpon Israel in his dayes.

10 He shall build an house for my Name, and hee shall be my sonne, and I will be his father, and I will establish the seat of his kingdome vpon Israel for ever.

11 Howe therefore my sonne, the Lord be with thee, and prosper thee, and thou shalt build an house to the Lord thy God, as he hath sayd of thee.

12 And the Lord shall giue thee wisdom and vnderstanding, and shall giue thee commandments for Israel, that thou maiest keepe the law of the Lord thy God.

13 For then thou shalt prosper, euen when thou takest heed, and fulfilled the statutes and lawes which the Lord charged Moses with for Israel: plucke vp thine heart therefore, and be strong, dread not, nor be discouraged.

14 Behold, according to my powerie haue I also prepared for the house of the Lord an hundred thousand talents of golde: and a thousand thousand talents of siluer: and as for brasse and yron, it can not be numbyed (for it is verie

The xxiiij. Chapter.

1 David being old, ordeineth Salomon king. 13 Aaron and his sonnes are for the high Priests.

When David was olde and full of dayes, he made Solomon his sonne king ouer Israel.

2 And then he gathered together all the Lords of Israel, with the Priests and Leuites.

3 And the Leuites were numbred from the age of thirty yeeres and aboue: and the number and summe of them was thirty and eight thousand men.

4 Of which twenty a foure thousand were set to further the worke of the house of the Lord: and six thousand were officers and iudges.

5 Foure thousand were porters, and foure thousand praised the Lorde with such instruments as were made to praise withall.

6 * And so David made the ordinances among the children of Leui, namely to Gerson, Caath, and Merari.

7 Of the Gersonites was Laadan, and Semei.

8 The sonnes of Laadan, the chiefe was Jehiel, Zetham, and Joel, thre.

9 The sonnes of Semei, Selomith, Haziell, and Haran, thre. These were the ancient fathers of Laadan.

10 And the sonnes of Semei, were Jabath, Zina, Jeus, and Beria: these foure were the sonnes of Semei.

11 And Jabath was the chiefe, Zina the second: but Jeus, a Beria had not many sonnes, therfoꝛe they were in one reckoning according to their fathers household reckoned foꝛ one.

12 The sonnes of Caath, Amram, Izahar, Hebzon, and Oziel, foure.

13 The * sonnes of Amram, Aaron, and Moses: and * Aaron was separated to haue the rule of the holy things in the place most holy, he and his sonnes foꝛ euery, and to burne incense befoꝛe the Lord, and to minister vnto him, and to blesse in his Name foꝛ euery.

14 The * children of Moses the man of God, were named in the tribe of Leui.

15 The sonnes of Moses, Gerson, and Elezer.

16 Of the sonnes of Gerson, Sebul was the chiefe.

17 The sonnes of Elezer, Rehabia the chiefe: and Elezer had none other sonnes, but the sonnes of Rehabia were very many.

18 The sonnes of Izahar, Selomith the chiefe.

19 The sonnes of Hebzon, Jeria the first, Amaria the second, Jahaziel the third, and Jecmaan the fourth.

20 The sonnes of Oziel, Micha the first, and Jesia the second.

21 The sonnes of Merari, Bahli, and Husi. The sonnes of Bahli, Eleazar and Cis.

22 And Eleazar died, and had no sonnes, butt daughters: and their brethren the sonnes of Cis tooke them.

23 The sonnes of Husi, Bahli, Eder, and Jerimoth, thre.

24 These are the children * of Leui after the houtholde of their fathers, euen the ancient of the fathers according to their offices, and after the number and summe of the names of them that did the worke in the seruice of the house of the Lord, from the age of twentie yeeres and aboue.

25 And David sayd, The Lord God of Israel hath giuen rest vnto his people, that they may dwell in Hierusalem foꝛ euery.

26 That the Leuites also should now no moze beare the Tabernacle, and all the vessels foꝛ the seruice thereof.

27 foꝛ according to the last words of David, the Leuites were numbred from twenty yeeres and aboue.

28 And their office was vnder the hand of the sonnes of Aaron, foꝛ the seruice of the house of the Lord, in the courts and celles, and in the purifying of all holy things, and in the worke of the seruice of the house of God:

29 In the shewbread, in the fine flowꝛe, in the meat offering, in the waters of sweet bread, in the frying pan, in the gridiron, and in all manner of measures and cise:

30 And to stand euery day in the morning to thanke and praise the Lorde, and so likewise at euen:

31 And to offer all whole burnt sacrifices vnto the Lord, in the Sabbathys, in the new moones, and on the feastfull dayes, by number and custome continually, as they were commanded, befoꝛe the Lord.

32 And that they should wait on the Tabernacle of the congregation, and on the holy place, and on the sonnes of Aaron their brethren, in the seruice of the house of the Lord.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

David assigneth offices vnto the sonnes of Aaron.

Hese are the diuisions of the sons of Aaron. * The sonnes of Aaron, Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, and Jithamar.

2 Nadab also and Abihu died vnto their father, and had no children: but Eleazar and Jithamar executed the priestly office.

3 And David ordered them on this manner, Zadoc, of the sonnes of Eleazar, and Ahimelec, of the sonnes of Jithamar were according to their offices in their ministracion.

among the sonnes of Eleazar, then the sonnes of Ithamar: and thus were they ordered together. Among the sonnes of Eleazar there was sixteen rulers, according to the household of their fathers, and eight among the sonnes of Ithamar, according to the household of their fathers.

5 And thus were they put in order by lot the one sort from the other, and so were there rulers in the Sanctuary, and lords before God, as well of the sonnes of Eleazar, as of the sonnes of Ithamar.

6 And Semeia the sonne of Nathanael the scribe of the kindred of the Levites, wrote them before the king and the lords, and before Zadoc the Priest, and Ahimelec the sonne of Abiathar, and before the ancient fathers of the Priests and Levites, one principall household being reserved for Eleazar, and one for Ithamar.

7 And the first lot fell to Jehoiarib: and the second to Jedaiar,

8 The third to Harim, and the fourth to Sehozim,

9 The fifth to Melchias, and the sixth to Mishamin,

10 The seventh to Hacos, and the eight to Abia,

11 The ninth to Jesua, and the tenth to Secaniah,

12 The eleventh to Eliaub, and the twelfth to Jachin,

13 The thirteenth to Huppa, and the fourteenth to Jelebeab,

14 The fifteenth to Bilga, and the sixteenth to Imner,

15 The seventeenth to Hezir, and the eighteenth to Aphses,

16 The nineteenth to Bethabias, and the twentieth to Jeheskel,

17 The twenty and one to Jachin, and the twenty and two to Samul, 18 The twenty and three to Delaia, and the twenty and four to Maasia.

19 These are the ordinances of them in their offices, when they came into the house of the Lord, according to their maner, vnder Aaron their father as the Lord God of Israel had commanded him.

20 The rest of the sonnes of Leui, are these: of the sonnes of Amram, Subael: of the sonnes of Subael, Jchedia.

21 Of the sonnes of Rehabias, the first, Jedia.

22 Of the Jezaharites, Selomoth: of the sonnes also of Selomoth, Jathath.

23 His sonnes, Jeria the first, Amaria the second, Jathaziel the third, and Jecameam the fourth.

24 Of the sonnes of Dziel, Michas: of the sonnes of Michas, Samir.

25 The brother of Michas was Jilia: of the sonnes also of Jilia, Jecharia.

26 The sonnes of Merari, were Mahli, and Musi: the sonne of Jaasia, Beno.

27 The sonnes of Merari by Jaasia, Beno, Soham, Zacur, and Ithir.

28 Of Mahli came Eleazar, and hee had no sonnes.

29 Of Cis: the sonne of Cis, Jerahmeel.

30 The sonnes of Musi, Mahli, Eder, and Jerimoth: these are the children of the Levites, after the household of their fathers.

31 And these cast lots next to their brethren the sonnes of Aaron, in the presence of David the king, and Zadoc, and Ahimelec, and the ancient fathers of the Priests and Levites, even the principall fathers before their younger brethren.

The xxv. Chapter.

The singers are appointed, with their places and lottes.

AND so David and the captaines of the hoste, appointed out to doe service the sonnes of Alaph, and Heman, and Jeduthun, which should prophesie with Harpes, Psalteries and Tymbales: and there was a multitude of the men that were appointed to doe the service and ministracion:

2 Of the sonnes of Alaph, Zacur, Joseph, Nahania, and Arela, the sonnes of Alaph, that waited on Alaph, which prophesied according to the commandement of the king.

3 Of Jeduthun: the sonnes of Jeduthun, Gedalia, Zer, Jesaja, Pasabia, and Mathathias, sixe, vnder the hands of their father, Jeduthun, which prophesied with a Harpe, for to giue thanks and praises vnto the Lord.

4 Of Heman: the sonnes of Heman, Buccia, Matthanias, Dziel, Zebucl, Jerimoth, Hananiah, Hanan, Eliatha, Gedalchi, Romanthi Ezer, Jostecasa, Malochi, Hothir, and Mahazioh.

5 All these were the sonnes of Heman, which was the kings Seer in the wordes of God, to lift vp the borne of the regall dignitie: and God gaue to Heman foureteene sonnes and thre daughters.

6 All these also were at the hand of their father, singing in the house of the Lord, with tymbales, Psalteries, and Harpes, when Alaph, Jeduthun, and Heman, executed the service in the house of God at the kings commandement.

7 And the multitude of them, with their brethren, that were instructed in the songs of the Lord, even all that were cunning, were two hundred fourescore and eight.

8 And they cast lots among themselves, how they should waite, as well for the small, as for the great, for the scholler, as well as for the schoolemaster.

9 And the first lot in Alaph fel to Joseph, the second to Gedalia, with his brethren and sonnes, which men were twelue.

10 The third fel to Zacur, with his sonnes and brethren, being twelue persons.

11 The fourth to Ithir with his sonnes and brethren, twelue persons.

The xxvj. Chapter.

1 The porters of the temple are ordained euery man to the gate which hee should keepe, 20 and ouer the treasure.

Or, ordinances.

These are the || diuisions of the porters. Among the Cozethites, Deselemlia the sonne of Coze, of the children of Asaph.

2 And the sonnes of Deselemlia were these: Zacharia the eldest, Jedibel the second, Zebadia the third, and Jahmiel the fourth.

3 Elam the fifth, Ichohanam the sixth, and Eluonai the seventh.

4 The sonnes of Obed Edom, Semeia the eldest, Jeholabad the second, Joah the third, Saccar the fourth, and Nathanael the fifth,

5 Ammiel the sixth, Issachar the seventh, Beulthai the eight: for God blessed him.

6 And vnto Semaia his sonne, were sonnes borne that ruled in the house of their father: for they were men of might.

7 The sonnes of Semaia, Othni, Rephael, Obed, and Elzabad and his brethren were strong men. Elihu, and Samachia.

8 All these were of the children of Obed Edom: they and their children, and their brethren, actiue men, and of strength to doe seruike, euen threescore and two of Obed Edom.

9 And Deselemlia had sonnes and brethren, actiue men, eightene.

10 The sonnes of Hosa, of the children of Merari, Simri the chiefe, and though hee was not the eldest, yet his father set him in the chiefe place:

11 Elcia the second, Tebalia the third, and Zecharia the fourth: all the sonnes and brethren of Hosa were thirteene.

12 Among these was diuided the office of the porterhip, that they should bee ancient men, to waite with their brethren, when they ministred in the house of the Lord.

13 And they cast lots betweene the great and small, after the household of their fathers for euery gate.

14 And the lot on the East side fell vpon Selemia: for Zacharia his sonne (which was a wise counsellor) they cast lots, and his lot came out toward the North.

15 And Obed Edoms lot fell to the South, and for his sonnes fell the houses of: Alsupim.

16 For Suppim and Hosa toward the West, with the gate || Sallecteth, by the pauered strecte that goeth byward: one watch being ouer against another.

17 In the East were sixe Leuites, and toward the North foure a day, toward the South foure a day, and toward Alsupim two and two.

18 In Parbar toward the West, two at the going by, and two in Parbar.

19 These are the diuisions of the porters among the sonnes of Cozeh, & among the sonnes of Merari.

20 And of the Leuites, Abiah had the ouersight of the treasures of the house of God, and of the treasures of the dedicate things.

21 As concerning the sonnes of Laadan, which were the children of the Gersonites of Laadan, came ancient fathers, euen of Laadan, there came Gersuni, and Jehieli.

22 The sonnes of Jehieli, Zetham, and Joel his brother, which were ouer the treasures of the house of the Lord.

23 Of the Amramites also and Izharites, Hebronites, and Onelites.

24 And Subael the son of Gersom the sonne of Moses, was a ruler ouer the treasures.

25 And of his brethren the sonnes of Elezer, was Rahabiah, whose sonne was Jelsai, whose sonne was Jozam, whose sonne was Zichu, whose sonne was Selomith.

26 Which Selomith and his brethren were ouer all the treasures of the dedicate things, which Dauid the king, and the ancient fathers, the captaines ouer thousand and hundred, and the captaines of the hoste, had dedicated.

27 Out of the spoiles wonne in battels they did dedicate to maintaine the house of the Lord.

28 And all that Samuel the Seer, and Saul the sonne of Cis, and Abner the sonne of Ner, and Joab the sonne of Zaruia had dedicated: and whosoever had dedicated any thing, it was vnder the hand of Selomith and of his brethren.

29 Of the Izharites was Chenania and his sonnes, appointed to the businesse: without ouer Israel: for they were officers, and iudges.

30 And of the Hebronites, Palabia and his brethren, men of actiuitie, a thousand and seven hundred, were officers among them of Israel beyond Iordane westward, in all businesse belonging to God, and seruike of the king.

31 Among the Hebronites was Jedia the chiefe, euen a prince among the Hebronites and fathers of his kinred: and in the fourtieth yere of the kingdom of Dauid they were fought for, and there were found among the men of actiuitie at Jazer in Gilead.

32 And his brethren were men of actiuitie, euen two thousand and seven hundred ancient fathers: whom king Dauid made rulers ouer the Rubenites, Gadites, and ouer the halfe tribe of Manasse, for euery matter pertaining to God, and for the kings businesse.

1 Quer the first course for the first moneth, was Iasoboam the sonne of Zabdiel, and in his course were twentie and foure thousand.

2 And the chiefest of all the captaynes of the hoste for the first moneth, was of the children of Iudah.

3 Quer the course of the second moneth, was Dodai an Ahoiite, and in his course was Hicloth a ruler his helper: and in his course were twentie and foure thousand.

4 The chiefest captaine of the thirde hoste of the thirde moneth, was Banaia the sonne of Jehoiada the high priest, and in his course were twentie and foure thousand.

5 This is that Banaia which was most mighty among thirtie, and about thirtie: and in his part was Amizabad his sonne.

6 The fourth captaine for the fourth moneth, was Abiel the brother of Joab, and Zabadaia his sonne after him, and in his course were twentie and foure thousand.

7 The fifth captaine for the fifth moneth, was Sambut the Jezrahite, and in his course were twentie and foure thousand.

8 The sixth captaine for the sixth moneth, was Ira the sonne of Jecce a Cheuite, and in his course were twentie and foure thousand.

9 The seventh captaine for the seventh moneth, was Helez the Belonite, of the childzen of Ephraim, and in his course were twentie and foure thousand.

10 The eighth captaine for the eighth moneth, was Sibbechai an Husathite, of the hundred of Gari, and in his course were twentie and foure thousand.

11 The ninth captaine for the ninth moneth, was Abiezer an Anathothite, of the sonnes of Jemini, and in his course were twentie and foure thousand.

12 The tenth captaine for the tenth moneth, was Baharai the Netophatite, of the Zaphites, and in his course were twentie and foure thousand.

13 The eleuenth captaine for the eleuenth moneth, was Banaia the Pirathonite, of the childzen of Ephraim, and in his course were twentie and foure thousand.

14 The twelth captaine for the twelth moneth, was Heldai the Netophatite, of Othom, and in his course were twentie and foure thousand.

15 And the rulers ouer the tribes of Israel were these: among the Rubenites was Eliezer the sonne of Zichri: among the Simeonites so, was Saphathia the sonne of Maacha.

16 Among the Leuites, Halabia the sonne of Gemuel: among the Aaronites, Zadoc.

17 Among them of Iuda, Elibu, of the childzen of Dauid: among them of Issachar, Inri the sonne of Michael.

18 Among them of Zabulon, Jesmaie the sonne of Obadia: among them of Nephtali, Jerimoth the sonne of Azriel.

19 Among the childzen of Ephraim, Hosa the son of Azaria: in the halfe tribe also of Manasse, Joel the sonne of Pedai.

20 Of the halfe tribe of Manasse in Gilead, Ado the son of Zacharia: among them of Benjamin, Jaasiel the sonne of Abner.

21 Among them of Dan, Azarel the sonne of Jerobam. These are the lordes of the tribes of Israel.

22 But Dauid tooke not the number of them vnder twentie yeeres, because the Lord saide, he would encrease Israel like vnto the starres of the skie.

23 And Joab the sonne of Zaruia began to number: * but hee finished it not, because that there fell wrath for it against Israel, neither was the number put into the Chronicles of king Dauid.

24 Quer the kings treasures was Asmaueth the sonne of Adiel: and ouer the treasures of the fields, in the cities, and billages, and castles, was Jehonathan the sonne of Ozia.

25 And ouer the workemen in the fields that tilled the ground, was Ezi the sonne of Cheiub.

26 And the ouersight of the vineyards had Semei the Ramathite: ouer the encrease also of the vineyards, and ouer the winecellers, was Sabdi the Zaphonite.

27 And ouer the oliue trees and musberie trees that were in the bailles, was Baal Hanan the Gedarite: and ouer the treasure of oyle, was Joas.

28 Quer the oren that fedde in Saron, was Setrai the Saronite: and ouer the oren that were in the bailles, was Saphat the sonne of Adai.

29 Quer the camels, Obil the Ihuacite: and ouer the asses, was Jehdca the Meronothite.

30 Quer the sheepe, was Jazez the Hagerite: all these were the rulers of the substance of king Dauid.

31 And Jonathan Dauids uncle, a man of counsell and of vnderstanding, was a scribe, he and Jehiel the sonne of Bathmori was with the kings sonnes instructing them.

32 And Abitophel was of the kings counsell: Chusai the Arachite was the kings companion.

33 And next to Abitophel was Jehorada the sonne of Banaia, and Abiathar: and the captaine of the kings warre was Joab.

The xxviij. Chapter.

1 Because Dauid was forbidden to build the Temple, he willeth Solomon and the people to performe it, 8 exhorting him to feare the Lord.

AND Dauid gathered all the lordes of Israel, the lordes of the tribes, the lordes of the companies that ministered to the king by course, the captaynes ouer the thousands, and ouer the hundreds, and the lordes that had the ouersight ouer all the substance and possession of Dauid, and of his sonnes, with the chamberlaines, and all the mightie and balliant, and all active men, vnto Hierusalem.

2 And king Dauid stood by vpon his feete, and said, Heare me, my brethren and my people, I had in mine heart to build an house of rest for the Ark of the Couenant of the Lord, and for the foote stoole of our God, and had made ready for the building.

build an house for my name, because thou hast bene a man of warre, and hast shed blood.

4 Moreover, the Lord God of Israel chose me before all the house of my father, to be king over Israel for ever: for in Juda would he chuse a captaine, and of the houholde of Juda is the house of my father, and among the sonnes of my father he had a lust to me, to make me king over all Israel.

5 * And of all my sonnes (for the Lord hath given me many sonnes) hee hath chosen Solomon my sonne, to sit vpon the seat of the kingdome of the Lord in Israel.

6 And he sayd vnto me, Solomon thy sonne he shall build me an house & courts: I haue chosen him to be my sonne, and I will be his father.

7 I will establish his kingdome for ever, if he will be strong to doe my commandements and my lawes, as it goeth this day.

8 Now therefore, in the sight of all Israel, the Congregation of the Lord, and in the audience of our God, heepe and seeke for all the commandements of the Lord your God, that ye may enjoy a good land, & leaue inheritance for your children after you for ever.

9 * And thou Solomon my sonne, know thou the God of thy father, and serue him with a pure heart, and with a willing minde: for the Lord sear cheth all hearts, and vnderstandeth all the imaginations of thoughts: and if thou seeke him, he will be found of thee: but if thou forsake him, he will cast thee off for ever.

10 Take heed now, for the Lord hath chosen thee to build him an house of a Sanctuary: be strong therefore, and play the man.

11 And Dauid gaue Solomon his sonne the paterne of the porch, & of the houses that longed thereto, of the store houses, byper chambers, inner parlors, and of the house of the mercy seat:

12 And the example of all that hee had in his minde, for the courts of the house of the Lord, and for all the celles round about, for the treasures of the house of God, and for the treasures of the dedicate things:

13 for the diuisions of the Priests and Levites that waited by course, and for all the workmanship that should serue for the house of the Lord, and for all the vessels that should serue in the house of the Lord:

14 for gold, and for the weight of gold, for all vessels of sundry ministrations, for all manner of vessels of silver in weight, & for all vessels whatsoever purpose they serued vnto:

15 The weight of golde for the candlesticks, and the golde for their lamps, with the weight for every candlesticke, and for the lamps thereof, and for the candlesticks of silver by weight, both for the candlestick & also for her lamps, according to the diuersity of the vse of every candlesticke.

16 And by weight (hee gaue) golde for the tables of the bread, euen for euery table, and likewise silver for the tables of silver:

17 And pure gold for the fleshhooks, cups, and drinking pots: and pure golde in weight for basons, euen for euery bason: and like wise silver by weight, for euery bason of silver.

18 And for the altar of incense pure golde by weight, and gold for the paterne of the chariot of the Cherubims that stretched out their wings, & covered the arke of the covenant of the Lord.

19 All he sayd was giuen me by writing of the hand of the Lord, which made me vnderstand all the workmanship of the paterne.

20 And Dauid sayd to Solomon his sonne, Be strong, and of good courage, and do manfully: feare not, nor be faint hearted, for the Lord God, euen my God, is with thee, and he shall not faile thee, nor forsake thee, vntill thou hast finished all the worke that must serue for the house of the Lord.

21 Behold, the Priests and Levites are diuided in companies, for all maner of seruice that pertaineth to the house of God, they are with thee for all maner of workmanship, and so are all that excel in wisdom for any maner of seruice, thou hast also the princes & all the people wholly at thy commandement.

The xxix. Chapter.

2 The offering of Dauid, and of the princes, for the building of the Temple.

And Dauid the king sayd vnto all the Congregation, God hath specially chosen Solomon my sonne, which is yet young and tender, and the worke is great: for the house shall not be for man, but for the Lord God.

Moreover, I haue prepared with all my might for the house of my God, golde, for vessels of gold, silver, for them of silver, brasse, for things of brasse, yron, for things of yron, and wood for things of wood, and onyx stones, and stones to be set, glistering stones, and of diuers colours, and all maner of precious stones, and marble stones in great abundance.

And because I haue lust to the house of my God, I haue of mine owne proper good, of golde and silver, which I haue giuen to the house of my God, beside all that I haue prepared for the holy house, Euen three thousand talents of gold of Ephraim, and seven thousand talents of tried silver, to verlay the walles of the house withall.

The gold, for things of gold, silver for them of silver, & for all maner of worke by the hands of artificers: and whosoever is willing, may this day consecrate his hand vnto the Lord.

And so the ancient fathers, and the lords of the tribes of Israel, the captaines of thousands, an hundred, with the lords that were rulers ouer the kings worke, were willing:

And gaue for the seruice of the house of God, siue thousand talents of gold, and ten thousand pieces of golde, and ten thousand talents of silver, and eightene thousand talents of brasse, anone hundred thousand talents of yron.

And they with whom precious stones were sold, gaue them to the treasure of the house of the Lord by the hand of Jehiel the Gerfonite.

And the people reioyced when they were willing to giue their goods, & with a perfect heart they offered willingly to the Lord, and Dauid the king reioyced with great gladnesse.

And Dauid blessed the Lord before all the Congregation, and sayd, Blessed be thou Lord God of Israel, our father, for ever and euer.

Thine, O Lord, is greatnesse, and power, glory, victorie, and praise: for all that is in hea- uen and in earth is thine, and thine is thy kingdome, O Lord, and thou excellest above all, euen as the head of all.

14 But who am I, and what is my people, that wee should bee able to giue these things so willingly? but all things come of thee, and of that which wee receiued at thine hand, wee haue giuen thee.

15 For wee bee but strangers befoze thee and sojourners, as were all our fathers: * our dayes on the earth also are but as a shadowe, and there is none abiding.

16 O Lord our God, all this stuffe that wee haue prepared to build thee an house for thy holy Name, commeth of thine hand, and is all thine.

17 I wote also, my God, that thou triest the hearts, and hast pleasure in vnfaignednesse: and in the vnfaignednesse of mine heart, I haue willingly offered all these things: and now haue I seene thy people which are founde here to offer vnto thee willingly, and with gladnesse.

19 And giue vnto Solomon my sonne a perfect heart, to keepe thy Commandements, thy testimonies, and thy statutes, and to doe all, and build the house for the which I haue made prouision.

20 And Dauid said to all the Congregation, Now blesse the Lord your God. And all the Congregation blessed the Lord God of their fathers, and bowed downe their heads, and worshippd the Lord, and the king.

21 And they offered offerings vnto the Lord: and on the morrow after the said day, they offered whole burnt offerings vnto the Lord, euen a thousand pong oren, a thousand rammes, and a thousand sheepe, with their drinke offerings, many sacrifices offered they for all Israel.

22 And did eate and drinke befoze the Lord the same day with great gladnesse, & they made Solomon the sonne of Dauid King the second time, and anointed him Prince befoze the Lord, and Zadoc to be the high Priest.

23 And Solomon sat on the seat of the Lord, and was King in stead of Dauid his father, and prospered: and all they of Israel obeyed him.

24 And all the lords, and men of power, and all the sonnes of King Dauid, submitted themselves, and were vnder King Solomon.

25 And the Lord magnified Solomon in dignitie, in the sight of all them of Israel, and gaue him so glorious a kingdome, as no king had befoze him in Israel.

26 * And so Dauid the sonne of Iai reigned ouer all Israel.

27 And the space that he reigned ouer Israel, was fourtie yeeres: Seven yeeres reigned hee in Hebron, and thirtie and thre yeeres reigned he in Hierusalem.

28 And hee died in a good age, full of dayes, riches and honour: and Solomon his son reigned in his stead.

The second Booke of the Chronicles, which in the Hebrew is one with the first.

The first Chapter.

6 The offering of Solomon at Gibeon. 8 He prayd vnto God to giue him wisdom, 11 which hee heaueh him, and more. 14 The number of his chaires and horses, 15 and of his riches.

And Solomon the sonne of Dauid waxed strong in his kingdome, * and the Lord his God was with him, and magnified him in dignitie.

2 And Solomon spake vnto all Israel, to the Captaines ouer thousands, and to euery Officer in all Israel, and to the annt fathers.

3 And to Solomon, and all the Congregation with him, went to the high place that is at Gibeon: for there was the Tabernacle of Congregation of God, which Moses the seruant of the Lord made in the wilderness.

4 But the Arke of God had Dauid brought from Kiriatjearim, into the place which Dauid had made therfore: for he had pitched a tent for it at Hierusalem.

5 * Moreover, the brazen Altar that Bezaleel the sonne of Auri, the sonne of Hur had made, was there befoze the tabernacle of the Lord: and Solomon & the Congregation went to visite it.

6 And Solomon went by there befoze the Lord, to the brazen Altar that was befoze the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and offered a thousand whole burnt offerings vpon it.

7 And the same night did God appeare vnto Solomon, and said vnto him, Alke what I shall giue thee.

8 And Solomon said vnto God, Thou hast shewed great mercie vnto Dauid my father, and hast made me to raigne in his stead.

Exod. 38. 1.

9 Now therefore, O Lord God, let thy promise, which thou madest vnto Dauid my father, be true: for thou hast made mee King ouer a people which is like the dust of the earth in multitude:

10 Give me now wisdom and knowledge, that I may be able to go in and out before this people: for who els can iudge this people that is so great?

11 And God saide to Solomon, Because this was in thine heart, and because thou hast not asked treasure, and riches, nor honour, nor the likes of thine enemies, neither yet long life, but hast asked wisdom and knowledge for thy selfe, to iudge my people, ouer whom I haue made thee King:

12 Wisdom and knowledge is granted vnto thee, and I will giue thee treasure, and riches, and glory: so that among the Kings that haue bene before thee, or after thee, none was or shall be like thee.

13 And so Solomon came from the high place that was at Gibeon, to Hierusalem, from the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and reigned ouer Israel.

14 And Solomon gathered charrets, and horsemen: and he had a thousand and foure hundred charrets, and twelue thousande horsemen, whom he bestowed in the charret cities, and with the King at Hierusalem.

15 And the King made siluer and golde at Hierusalem, as plenteous as stones, and Cedar trees made hee as plentie as the mulberie trees that grow in the valleys.

16 Also Solomon had horses brought out of Egypt, and fine linnen: the kings marchants receiued the fine linnen for a price.

17 They came also, & brought out of Egypt, a charret for sixe hundred pieces of siluer, euen an horse for an hundred and fiftie: and so brought they horses for all the kings of the Hethites, and for the kings of Syria, by their owne hand.

The ij. Chapter.

3 Solomon sendeth to Hiram the King of Tyrus for wood and workemen.

And Solomon determined to build an house for the Name of the Lord, and an house for his kingdome.

2 And Solomon told out threescore & ten thousand men to beare burdens, and fourescore thousand men to heve stones in the mountaine, and three thousande and sixe hundred to ouersee them.

3 And Solomon sent to Hiram the King of Tyre, saying, As thou diddest deale with Dauid my father, and diddest send him Cedar wood to builde him an house to dwell in, euen so deale with me.

4 Behold, I build an house for the Name of the Lord my God, to offer vnto him holy things, and to burne sweet incense, and to let the bread before him continually, to offer whole burnt sacrifices of the morning, & evening, on the Sabbath dayes, in the first day of euery new moone, and in the solemne feastes of the Lord our God: for it is an ordinance to bee continually kept of Israel.

5 And the house which I build shalbe great: for great is our God, aboue all gods.

6 But who is able to builde him an house?

when that heauen, & heauen aboue all heauens is not able to receiue him, what am I then, that should builde him an house? nay, but euen to burne sacrifice before him shall this building be.

7 Send mee now therefore a cunning man that can worke in golde, and siluer, in brasse, and iron, in purple, crimson, yellow silke, and that can skill to graue with the cunning men that are with mee in Iuda and Hierusalem, whom Dauid my father did prepare.

8 Send mee also cedar trees, pine trees, and algerne trees out of Libanon: for I wote that thy seruants can skill to heve timber in Libanon: and behold, my men shalbe with thine, 9 That they may prepare me timber ynough: for the house which I am determined to builde, shall be wonderful great.

10 And behold, for the vse of thy seruants the cutters and heuers of timber, I haue giuen twentie thousande measures of beaten wheate, and twentie thousand measures of barley, and twentiethouand Battes of wine, and twentie thousand Battes of oyle.

11 And Hiram the king of Tyre answered in writing, which hee sent to Solomon, Because the Lord hath loued his people, therefore hath he made thee King ouer them.

12 And Hiram saide moreover, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, which made heauen and earth, & that hath giuen Dauid the king a wife like me, and one that hath discretion, prudence, and vnderstanding, to builde an house for the Lord, and a palace for his kingdome.

13 And nowe I haue sent a wise man, and a man of vnderstanding, whom my father Hiram didde:

4 The sonne of a woman of the daughters of Dan, and his father was a man of Tyre, and hean skill to worke in gold, and siluer, in brasse, an iron, in stone, and timber, in purple, and yealowe silke, and fine white, and crimson, and can graue sundry maner of grauings, and to finde out diuers maners of subtiler worke that shall be setefore him, with thy cunning men, and with thy cunning men of my lord Dauid thy father.

Nowe therefore, the wheate, and barley, oyle, and wine, which my lord hath spoken of, let him send vnto his seruants:

5 And wee will cut wood in Libanon, as much as thou shalt neede, and will bring it to thee in flotes by sea to Iapho, from whence thou wilt cary them to Hierusalem.

6 And Solomon numbred all the strangers that were in the land of Israel, after the number of them whom his father Dauid had numbred: and they were found an hundred, fiftie, and thre thousand, and sixe hundred.

7 And hee set threescore and ten thousand to beare burdens, and fourescore thousand to heve logs in the mountaine, & three thousand and six hundred Officers to let the people a worke.

The iij. Chapter.

1 The Temple of the Lord, and the porch are builded, with other things thereto belonging.

And Solomon began to builde the house of the Lord at Hierusalem in mount Sion, where the Lord appeared vnto Dauid his father, euen in the place that Dauid prepared the cypressing floore of Oman & Iebusite.

1. 1. To be written of all sorts of Officers and workemen. 3. Reg. 5. 2.

2 And he began to build in the second day of the second moneth, the fourth yere of his reigne.

3 And these are the paternes whereby Solomon was instructed to builde the house of God: the length was threescore cubites, after the olde measure, and the breadth twentie cubites.

4 And the porch that was before the length in the front, according to the breadth of the house, was twentie cubites, and the height was an hundred and twentie cubits: and he overlaid it on the inner side with pure golde.

5 And the greater house hee siled with sirc tree, which he overlaid with the best golde, and graued there to palme trees, and chaines.

6 And he overlaid the house with precious stone beautifully: and the golde was golde of Paruaim.

7 The house, I say, the beames, posts, walles, and doores thereof, overlaid he with golde, and graued Cherubims on the walles.

8 And hee made the house most holy: whose length was twentie cubites, like to the breadth of the house, and the breadth thereof was also twentie cubites: and hee overlaid it with good gold, euen with sixe hundred talents.

9 And the weight of the nailes of golde was fiftie sicles: and he overlaid the vpper chambers with golde.

10 And in the house most holy, hee made two Cherubims of image worke, like children, and overlaid them with golde.

11 And the wings of the Cherubims were twentie cubites long: the one wing was siue cubites, reaching to the wall of the house: and the other wing was likewise siue cubites, reaching to the wing of the other Cherub.

12 And euen to the one wing of the other Cherub was siue cubites, reaching to the wall of the house: and the other wing was siue cubits also, and reached to the wing of the other Cherub.

13 So that the wings of the said Cherubims were stretched out twentie cubites: and they stood on their feete, and looked inwards.

14 * And hee made a fore hanging of purple, crimson, and fine white, and caused the pictures of Cherubims to be brodered thereon.

15 And he made before the house two pillars of thirtie and siue cubits high, and the head that was aboute on the toppe of euerie one of them, was siue cubites.

16 And he made chaines of wreathen worke for the quier, and put them on the heads of the pillars, and made an hundred pomegranates, and put them on the chaines.

17 And hee reared by the pillars before the Temple, one on the right hand, and the other on the left: and called the right Jachim, and the left Boaz.

The iij, Chapter.

1 The Altar of brasse. 2 The lauatorie. 6 The caldron. 7 The candlestickes, &c.

18 And hee made an Altar of brasse, twentie cubites long, and twentie cubites broad, and tenne cubites high.

19 And hee cast a brassen lauatorie of ten cubits from brynne to brynne round in compasse, and siue cubites high, and a line of thirtie cubites did compasse it round about.

3 And vnder it was the fashion of oren, which did compasse it rounde about: with ten cubites did they compasse the lauatorie rounde about, and there were two rowes of oren, which were cast like molten worke.

4 And it stood also vpon twelue oren: three looked towarde the North, three toward the West, three toward the South, and three towarde the East, and the lauatorie was set vpon them: and all their backs were toward the lauatorie.

5 And the thickenesse of it, was an hand breadth, and the brynne like the brynne of a cup, with flowers of lilies, and it receiued and held three thousand Battes.

6 And hee made ten lauers, a put siue on the right hand, and siue on the left, to wash a cleane in them such things as they offered for a whole burnt offering: but the great lauatorie was for the Priestes to wash in.

7 And he made ten candlestickes of gold, according to the paterne that was giuen of them, and put them in the Temple, siue on the right hand, and siue on the left.

8 And hee made also tenne tables, and put them in the Temple, siue on the right side, and siue on the left: and he made an hundred batons of golde.

9 And he made the court of the Priestes, and the great court, and doores to it, and overlaid the doores of them with brasse.

10 And he set the great lauatorie on the right side of the East ende, ouer against the South.

11 And Hiram made pots, shouels, a batons, and finished the worke that he was appointed to make for King Solomon in the house of God.

12 The two pillars, and the bowles, and the pommels on the toppe of the two pillars, and the two wreaths to couer the two bowles of the pommels, which were on the top of the pillars.

13 And foure hundred pomegranates on the two wreaths: two rowes of pomegranates on one wreathe, to couer the two bowles of the pommels.

14 And hee made two bottonnes, and lauers made he vpon the bottonnes.

15 The great lauatorie, and twelue oren bnder it.

16 Pottes also, shouels, and fleshhookes: and all these vessels did Hiram his father make to King Solomon for the house of the Lord, of bright brasse.

17 In the plaine of Iordane did the King cast them, euen in the clay ground that is betweene Socoth and Saredatha.

18 And Solomon made all these vessels in great abundance: for the weight of brasse could not be reckoned.

19 And Solomon made all the vessels that were for the house of God, the golden Altar also, and the tables to set the shew bread vpon.

20 Moreouer, the candlestickes, with their lampes to burne, after the maner before the quier, and that of precious gold.

21 And the flowers, and the lampes, and the snuffers, made he of gold, and that perfect gold.

22 And the dressing kiuies, batons, spoones, and censers, of pure golde: and the doore of the Temple, and the inner doores within the place most holy, and the inner doores of the Temple were gilted.

a Hiram is called Solomons father, because Solomon reuerenced him, and honoured him as his father.

b In Hebrew, the bread of the face, because they were set before the altar where God receiues his fact.

The v. Chapter.

The things dedicated by David, are put in the temple.

AND so all the worke that Solomon made in the house of the Lord was finished: * and Solomon brought in all the things that David his father had dedicated, with the siluer and golde, and all the iewels, and put them among the treasures of the house of God.

2 Then Solomon gathered the Elders of Israel together, and all the heads of the tribes and ancient fathers of the children of Israel, bnto Hierusalem, to bring the Arke of the Couenant: of the Lord out of the citie of Dauid, which is in Sion.

3 Wherefore, all the men of Israel resorted bnto the king, in the feast, euen in the seventh moneth.

4 And all the Elders of Israel came, and the Leuites tooke vp the Arke.

5 And the Priests and the Leuites brought away the Arke of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and all the holy vessels that were in the Tabernacle, and they bare them.

6 And King Solomon, and all the Congregation of Israel, that were assembled bnto him before the Arke, offered sheepe and oxen, so many, that they coulde not bee tolde, nor numbred, for multitude.

7 And the Priests brought the Arke of the Couenant of the Lord bnto his place, euen into the quier of the Temple, within the place most holy, and set it vnder the wings of the Cherubims, 8 So that the Cherubims stretched out their wings ouer the place of the Arke, and the Cherubims covered both the Arke & her barres aboue on high.

9 And the barres of the Arke were so long, that the heads of the barres were scene without the Arke, within the quier, but not without: and there the Arke remained vnto this day.

10 But there was nothing in the Arke, saue the two Tables which Moses put therein at Horeb, when the Lord made a couenant with the children of Israel, after they were come out of Egypt.

11 And when the Priests were come out of the holy place (for all the Priests that were present, were sanctified, and did not then waite by course:

12 That both the Leuites and the singers, vnder Asaph, Heman, and Idithun, were appointed to sundry offices, with their children and brethren, and were arrayed in fine white, hauing Cymbales, Psalteries, and Harpes, and stood at the East ende of the Altar, and by them an hundred and twentie Priests blowing with trumpets:

13 And the trumpet blowers and the singers so agreed, that it seemed but one voyce in praying and thanking the Lord, and when they lift by their voyce with the Trumpets, Cymbales, and other instruments of mulicke, and when they praised the Lord, how that he is good, and that his mercie lasteth euer:) the house of God was filled with a cloude.

14 So that the Priests could not endure to minister by the reason of the cloude: for the Spirit of the Lord had filled the house of God.

The vj. Chapter.

3 Solomon blesteth the people. 4 Hee praifeth the Lord. 14 He prayeth vnto God for thoe that shall pray in the Temple.

THEN Solomon saide, * The Lord hath spoken, how that he wil dwell in the darke cloude.

2 And I haue built thee an house of habitation for thee, and a place for thy dwelling for euer.

3 And the King turned his face, and blessed the whole Congregation of Israel (and all the Congregation of Israel stood.)

4 And hee saide, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, which hath with his hands fulfilled it that he spake with his mouth to my father Dauid, saying,

5 Since the day that I brought my people out of the land of Egypt, I chose no citie among all the tribes of Israel to build an house in, that my Name might bee there, neither chose I any man to be a ruler ouer my people Israel:

6 Sauiug that I haue chosen Hierusalem, that my Name might be there, and haue chosen Dauid to be ouer my people Israel.

7 And when it was in the heart of Dauid my father, to build an house for the Name of the Lord God of Israel,

8 The Lord said to Dauid my father, for as much as it was in thine heart to build an house for my Name, thou didst wel that thou thoughtest in thine heart.

9 Notwithstanding, thou shalt not build the house: but thy soune, which shall come out of thy loynes, he shall build an house for my Name.

10 The Lord therefore hath made good his saying that hee hath spoken: and I am risen by in the roune of Dauid my father, and am set on the seate of Israel, as the Lord promised, and haue built an house for the Name of the Lord God of Israel.

11 And in it haue I put the Arke, wherein is the Couenant of the Lord that hee made with the children of Israel.

12 And the king stood before the Altar of the Lord, in the presence of all the Congregation of Israel, and stretched out his hands:

13 (For Solomon had made a brazen scaffold of five cubits long, and five cubits broad, & three of height, and had set it in the mids of the great court, and vpon it he stood, and kneeled downe vpon his knees, before all the Congregation of Israel, & stretched out his hands toward heauen.)

14 And said, * O Lord God of Israel, there is no God like thee in heauen, nor in earth, which keepeth couenant, and sheweth mercede vnto thy seruants that walke before thee with all their hearts.

15 Thou which hast kept with thy seruant Dauid my father, the things that thou promisedst him: thou saydest it with thy mouth, and hast fulfilled it with thine handes, as it is to see this day.

16 And now Lord God of Israel, keepe with thy seruant Dauid my father, the things that thou promisedst him, saying, Thou shalt in my light not be without a man that shall sit vpon the seate of Israel, so that thy children take heede to their wayes, to walke in my Lawe, as thou hast walked before me.

17 And now Lord God of Israel, let thy saying bee true, which thou spakest vnto thy seruant Dauid.

18 (And wilt God in very deede dwell with men on earth? Behold, heauen, and heauen aboue all heauens, doe not containe thee, howe much lesse the house which I haue builded?)

19 Let it bee thy pleasure therefore to turne to the prayer of thy seruant, and to his supplication. O Lord my God, to hearken vnto the voice of a prayer which thy seruant prayeth before thee.

20 And let thine eyes bee open toward this house day and night, ouer this place whereof thou hast sayd, that thou wouldest put thy name there, to hearken vnto the prayer which thy seruant prayeth in this place.

21 Hearken vnto the prayers of thy seruant, and of thy people Israel, which they pray in this place: heare thou, I say, out of thy dwelling place, euen out of heauen, heare, & be mercifull.

22 If a man sinne against his neighbour, and take an othe against him, and make him to sweare, and the othe come before thine altar in this house:

23 Then heare thou from heauen, and doe and iudge thy seruants, that thou reward the bigodly, and recompente him his way vpon his head, and iustifie the righteous, and giue him according to his righteousness.

24 And if thy people Israel bee put to the worse before the enemy, because they haue sinned against thee: yet if they turne & giue thanks vnto thy name, and make intercession, and pray before thee in this house:

25 Then heare thou from heauen, and be mercifull vnto the sinne of thy people Israel, & bring them againe vnto the land which thou gauest to them and to their fathers.

26 When heauen is shut vp, and there bee no raine, because they haue sinned against thee: yet if they pray in this place, and confesse thy name, and repent from their sinne, for the which thou chastenest them:

27 Then heare thou in heauen, and be mercifull vnto the sinne of thy seruants, and of thy people Israel, and giude thou them into the good way to walke in, and send raine vpon thy land which thou hast giuen vnto thy people for an inheritance.

28 And if there bee dearth in the land, or pestilence, corruption, or blasting of corne, Grasshoppers, or Caterpillers, or that their enemies besiege them in the cities of their land, or whatsoever plaugue or sickness it be:

29 Then what supplications and prayers soeuer shall bee made of any man, and of all thy people Israel, when euery one shall knowe his owne soze, and his owne grieffe, and shall stretch out their hands toward this house:

30 Thou shalt heare from heauen, euen from thy dwelling place, and shalt be mercifull, & giue euerie man according vnto all his waies, as thou dost knowe euery mans heart: (for thou only knowest the hearts of the childre of men.)

31 That they may feare thee, and walke in thy waies as long as they liue in the land which thou gauest vnto our fathers.

32 Whereouer, the stranger which is not of thy people Israel, if hee come from a farre land for thy great names sake, and thy mightie hand, and thy stretched out arme: if they come, I say, and pray in this house,

33 Thou shalt heare from heauen, euen from thy dwelling place, and shalt doe according to all that the stranger calleth to thee for: that all people of the earth may know thy name, and feare thee, as doeth thy people Israel, and that they may know how that in this house which I haue built, thy name is called vpon.

34 If thy people goe out to warre against their enemies by the way that thou shalt sende them, and they pray to thee in the way toward this citie which thou hast chosen, euen toward the house which I haue built for thy name:

35 Then heare thou from heauen their supplication and prayer, & helpe them in their right.

36 If they sinne against thee (as there is no man but he doth sinne) and thou be angry with them, and deliuer them ouer before their enemies, and they take them, and carie them away captiues vnto a land farre off nere:

37 Yet if they repent in their heart, in the land where they be in captiuitie, and turne and pray vnto thee in the lande of their captiuitie, saying, We haue sinned, we haue done euill and wickedly:

38 And turne againe to thee with all their heart, and all their soule, in the land of their captiuitie where they keepe them in bondage, and so pray toward their land which thou gauest vnto their fathers, euen toward the citie which thou hast chosen, and toward the house which I haue built for thy name:

39 Then heare thou from heauen, euen from thy dwelling place, their supplication and their prayer, and iudge their cause, and be mercifull vnto thy people which haue sinned against thee.

40 Now, my God, let thine eyes be open, and thine cares attend vnto the prayer that is made in this place.

41 * Now vp, O Lord God, into thy resting place, thou, and the arke of thy strength: O Lord God, let the Priests be cloathed with health, and let thy saints reioyce in goodnesse.

42 O Lord God turne not away the face of thine anoynted: remember the mercies which thou hast promised to Dauid thy seruant.

The vij. Chapter.

1 The fire consumeth the sacrifice, 2 The glory of the Lord filleth the Temple.

Ad when Solomon had made an end of praying, there came downe fire from heauen, and consumed the whole burnt offering, and the sacrifices, and the house was filled with the glorie of the Lord.

2 And the Priests could not goe into the house of the Lord, because the glorie of the Lord had filled the Lords house.

3 And when all the children of Israel sawe how the fire & the glorie of the Lord came downe vpon the house, they fell downe flat vpon their faces to the earth vpon the pavement, and worshipped, and confessed vnto the Lord, That hee is gracious, and that his mercie lasteth euer.

4 And the king, and all the people, offered sacrifices before the Lord.

5 And king Solomon offered a sacrifice of twentie and two thousand open, & an hundred and twentie thousand sheepe: and so the king and all the people, dedicated the house of God.

6 And the priests waited on their offices, and the Levites had the instruments of musick of the Lorde, which king David had made to confesse unto the Lorde. That his mercie lasteth ever, David praising God by them, & the priests blew with trumpets before them, and all they of Israel stood.

7 Moreover, Solomon hallowed the middle of the court that was before the house of the Lord: for there he offered whole burnt offerings, and the fatte of the peace offerings, because the brazen altar which Solomon had made, was not able to receive the whole burnt offerings, and the meat offerings, and the fat.

8 So at the same time Solomon kept a feast of seven dayes, and all Israel with him, an exceeding great congregation, even from the entering in of Hamath, unto the river of Egypt.

9 And in the eight day they made an assembly: for they kept the dedication of the altar seven dayes, and the feast seven dayes.

10 And the three and twentieth day of the seventh month, he let the people depart into their tents, glad and merie in heart, for the goodnesse that the Lord had shewed to David, and to Solomon, and to Israel his people.

11 * And so Solomon finished the house of the Lord, and the kings house: and all that came in his heart to make in the house of the Lorde, and in his owne house, went prosperously forward.

12 And the Lorde appeared to Solomon by night, and sayde to him, I haue heard thy petition, and haue chosen this place for my selfe, to be an house of sacrifice.

13 If I shut up beauen, that there bee no raine, or if I commaund the Locusts to deuoure the land, or if I send pestilence among my people:

14 And if my people, among whom my name is called vpon, doe humble themselues, & make intercession, and seeke my presence, and turne from their wicked wayes: then will I heare from heaven, and bee mercifull to their sinne, and will heale their land.

15 And from henceforth mine eyes shall bee open, and mine eares attent vnto the prayer that is made in this place.

16 And therefore, nowe I haue chosen and sanctified this house, that my name may be there for ever: and mine eyes and mine heart shall be there perpetually.

17 And if thou wilt walke before me, as David thy father walked, to doe all that I haue commanded thee, and shalt obserue my statutes and my lawes:

18 Then will I stablish the seate of thy kingdom, according as I made the covenant with David thy father, saying, Thou shalt not bee without a man to be ruler in Israel.

19 But if ye turne away, and forsake my statutes and my commandements which I haue set before you, and shall go, and serue other gods, and worship them:

20 Then will I plucke them by by the roots, out of my land which I haue given them, and this house which I haue sanctified for my name, will I cast out of my sight, and will make it to bee a prouerbe and a feast among all nations.

21 And this house, which is most high, shall be an astonishment to euery one that passeth by, and shall say, why hath the Lorde dealt on this fashion with this land, and with this house?

22 And they shall answer, Because they forsooke the Lorde God of their fathers, which brought them out of the lande of Egypt, and caught hold on other gods, & worshipped them, and serued them, therefore hath he brought all this euill vpon them.

The viij. Chapter.

2 The cities that Solomon built, 12 His sacrifices which he offered.

And * after t'wentie yeeres, when Solomon had built the house of the Lord, and his owne house:

2 Hee built the cities that Hiram gaue him, and caused the children of Israel to dwell there.

3 And Solomon went to Hamath Zoba, and strengthened it.

4 And hee built Chadmoz in the wilderness, and repayzed all the soze cities which were in Hamath.

5 And hee built Bethhoron the upper, and Bethhoron the neather, strong cities, hauing walles, gates, and barres:

6 And Baalah, and all the soze cities that Solomon had, and all the charet cities, and the cities of the horsemen, and euery pleasant place that Solomon had lust to build in Hierusalem, and Libanon, and throughout al the land of his dominion.

7 And all the people that were left of the Hethites, Amorites, Pherezites, Heuites, and Jebusites, which were not of the children of Israel,

8 But were the children of them which were left after them in the lande, and were not consumed of the children of Israel, them did Solomon make to pay tribute, vntill this day.

9 But of the children of Israel, did Solomon make no seruants for his worke: but they were men of warre, and rulers, and great lords with him, and captaines ouer his charets and horsemen.

10 * And king Solomons officers that ouersawe and ruled the people, were two hundred and thirtie.

11 And Solomon brought the daughter of Pharao out of the cite of David, into the house that he had builded for her: for he sayd, My wife shall not dwell in the house of David king of Israel, for it is holy, because that the Arke of the Lord is come vnto it.

12 Then Solomon offered whole burnt offerings vnto the Lord, on the altar of the Lord, which he had built before the porch:

13 Doing euerie thing in his due time, and offering according to the commandement of Moses, in the Sabbathes, newe Moones, and solenne feasts, three times in the yeere, that is to say, in the feast of sweete bread, in the feast of weekes, and in the feast of tabernacles.

14 And Solomon set the sortes of Priests to their offices, as David his father had ordered them, and the Levites in their watches, for to praise and minister before the Priests day by day, and the porters by course at euerie gate: for so had David the man of God commanded.

17 Then went king Solomon to Ezion Gaber, and to Cloth at the sea side in the land of Edom.

18 And Hiram sent him by the hands of his seruants, shippes, and seruants that had knowledge of the sea: and they went with the seruants of Solomon to Ophir, and caried thence foure hundred and fiftie talents of golde, and brought it to king Solomon.

The ix. Chapter.

1.9 The Queene of Saba cometh to see Solomon, and bringeth gifts.

AND when the Queene of Saba heard of the fame of Solomon, she came to proue him in hard questions at Hierusalem, with a very great company with camels that bare spices, and plenty of golde, and precious stones, and when shee was come to Solomon, shee communed with him of all that shee had in her heart.

2 And Solomon soiled her all her questions, and there was not one worde hid from Solomon, which he told her not.

3 And when the Queene of Saba had seene the wisdome of Solomon, and the house that he had built,

4 And the meate of his table, the sitting of his seruants, and the standing of his waiters, their apparell, his butlers, their apparell, || his going by by the which he went into the house of the Lord: there was no more spirit in her.

5 And she said to the king, The saying which I heard in mine owne land of thine I acce, and of thy wisdome, is true.

6 I beleueed not the wordes of them, vntill I came, and mine eyes had seene it: and behold, the one halfe of thy wisdome was not told me: for thou exceedest the fame that I heard.

7 Happie are thy men, and happie are these thy seruants which stand before thee alway, and heare thy wisdome.

8 Blessed be the Lorde thy God, which had lust to thee, to set thee king on his seat, that thou mightest be king for the Lord thy God: because thy God loueth Israel, to make them continue euer, therefore made hee thee king ouer them, to doe right and equitie.

9 And shee gaue the king an hundred and twentie talents of gold, and of spices exceeding great abundance, and precious stones: neither was there any more such spice as the Queene of Saba gaue king Solomon.

10 And the seruants of Hiram, and the seruants of Solomon, which brought golde from Ophir, brought also Algumme wood, and precious stones.

11 And the king made of the Algumme wood waitres in the house of the Lord, and in the kings palace, and harpes, and psalteries for singers: and there was none such wood seene before in the land of Iuda.

12 And king Solomon gaue to the Queene of Saba every pleasant thing that shee asked, besides that which shee had brought vnto the king: and so she turned, and went away to her owne land with her seruants.

13 The weight of golde that came to Solomon in one yere, was sixe hundred, threescore and sixe talents of gold.

14 Besides that which chapmen and marchants brought: and all the kings of Arabia, and rulers of that countrey, brought gold and siluer to Solomon.

15 And king Solomon made two hundred targets of beaten gold: and sixe hundred sciles of beaten gold were spent vpon one target.

16 And thre hundred shields made he of beaten golde: thre hundred pieces of golde went to one shield: and the king put them in the house that was in the forest of Libanon.

17 And the king made a great seat of Iuozie, and ouerlaid it with pure gold.

18 And there was sixe steps to the seate, with a footstool of gold fastened to the seate: a pommel on each side of the sitting place, and two Lyons standing by the pommels.

19 And twelue Lyons stood on the one side and on the other vpon the sixe steps: so that there was no such worke made in any kingdome.

20 And all the drinking vessels of king Solomon were of golde, and all the vessels of the house that was in the forest of Libanon were of precious golde: for siluer was counted nothing worth in the dayes of Solomon.

21 For the kings shippes went to Charlis with the seruants of Hiram, euery three yeres once came the shippes to Charlis, and brought gold, siluer, Iuozie, and Apes, and Peccocks.

22 And king Solomon passed all the kings of the earth in riches and wisdome.

23 And all the kings of the earth sought the presence of Solomon, to heare his wisdome that God had put in his heart.

24 And they brought euery man his present, vessels of siluer, and vessels of golde, rayment, harnesse, spices, hoxses and mules, yere by yere.

25 * And Solomon had || foure thousand stables for hoxses and charrets, and twelue thousand horsemen: whome he bestowed in the charret cities, and some were with the king at Hierusalem.

26 And hee reigned ouer all the kings that were from Euphrates vnto the land of the Philistines, and to the border of Egypt.

27 And the king made siluer in Hierusalem as plenteous as <sup>b</sup> stones, and Cedar trees as plenteous as the Mulberry trees that growe in the valleys.

28 And they brought vnto Solomon hoxses out of Egypt, and out of all lands.

29 The rest of the acts of king Solomon first and last, are they not wriiten in the sayings of Nathan the Prophet, and in the propheticke of Ahiah the Silonite, and in the vision of Iddo the Seer of visions, against Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat.

30 And Solomon reigned in Hierusalem by on all Israel fourtie yeres.

31 And Solomon slept with his fathers: and they buried him in the cite of Dauid his father, and Roboam his sonne reigned in his steade.

4 The rigour of Roboam, 13 Hee followed lewd counsell. 16 The people rebell.

3.Reg.12.1

AND Roboam went to Sichem: for to Sichem were all Israel come together to make him king.

2 And when Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat (which was fledde into Egypt from the presence of Solomon the king) heard it, he returned out of Egypt.

3 And they sent and called him: And so Jeroboam and all they of Israel came, and communed with Roboam, saying,

4 Thy father laid a grievous yoke vpon vs: now therfore remit thou somewhat of the grievous seruice of thy father, and of his heauy yoke that he put vpon vs, and we will serue thee.

5 And he sayde to them, Come againe vnto me after thre dayes. And the people departed.

6 And king Roboam counselled with the Elders that had stand before Solomon his father, while he yet liued, and he sayd, what counsell giue ye me to answer this people againe?

7 And they told him, saying, If thou be kind to this people, and shew thy selfe lowly to them, and speake louing wordes to them, they will be thy seruants for euer.

8 But he left the counsell which the Elders gaue him, and tooke counsell with the young men that were growen vp with him, and that stood in his presence.

• Cōcil of wiser of his counsell and lecters.

9 And he sayd vnto them, what aduise giue yee, that wee may answer this people, which haue communed with me, saying, Abate somewhat of the yoke which thy father did put vpon vs?

10 And the young men that were growen vp with him, spake vnto him, saying, Thus shalt thou answer the people that spake vnto thee, saying, Thy father made our yoke heauie, but make thou it somewhat lighter for vs: thus shalt thou say vnto them, My little finger shall bee thicker then my fathers loynes.

11 For where my father put a heauie yoke vpon you, I will put moze to your yoke: my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scourges.

Or, scorpions.

12 And so Jeroboam and all the people came to Roboam the third day, as the king bade, saying, Come againe to me the third day.

13 And the king answered them cruelly, and king Roboam left the counsell of the aged men.

14 And answered them after the aduise of the young men, saying, My father made your yoke grievous, and I will adde thereto: my father chastised you with whips, but I wil chastise you with scourges.

3.Reg.12.31.

15 And so the king hearkened not vnto the people: but the occasion came of God, that the Lorde might make good his saying, which hee spake by the hand of Abia the Silonite, to Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat.

16 And when all Israel sawe that the king would not agree vnto them, the people answered the king, saying, what portion haue wee in Dauid: for wee haue no inheritance in the sonne of Isai: Every man to his tent. O Israel, and now Dauid see to thine owne house. And so all Israel gate them to their tents.

17 So that Roboam reigned ouer no moe of the children of Israel then dwelt in the cities of Iuda.

18 Then king Roboam also sent Haduraim that was ruler ouer the tribute, and the children of Israel stoned him with stones, that he dyed: but king Roboam made speede to get him vp to his charet, to flee to Hierusalem.

19 And Israel rebelled against the house of Dauid vnto this day.

The xj. Chapter.

4 Roboam is forbidden to fight against Ieroboam.

AND when Roboam was come to Hierusalem, hee gathered of the house of Iuda and Benjamin, nine scoze thousand chosen men of warre to fight against Israel, and to bring the kingdome againe to Roboam.

2 * And the worde of the Lorde came to Semia the man of God, saying,

3.Reg.14.22.

3 Speake vnto Roboam the sonne of Solomon king of Iuda, and to all them of Israel that are in Iuda and Benjamin, and say,

4 Thus sayth the Lorde, Ye shall not goe vp, nor fight against your brethren: returne euery man to his house, for this thing is done of mee. And they obeyed the words of the Lorde, and returned from going against Jeroboam.

5 And Roboam dwelt in Hierusalem, and built strong cities in Iuda.

6 He built vp Bethlechem, and Etam, and Thecoa.

7 Bethzur, Socho, and Adullam,

8 Gath, and Harela, and Ziph,

9 Aduraim, Lachis, and Azecah,

10 Fozaa, Aialon, and Hebron, which is in Iuda and Benjamin, strong cities.

11 And he repaired the strong holds, and put captaines in them, and store of victuall, & wine, and oyle:

12 And in all cities he put shields and speares, and made them exceeding strong, hauing Iuda and Benjamin on his side.

13 And the Priests and the Levites that were in all Israel, resorted to him out of all their coasts.

14 For the Levites left their suburbs, and their possession, and came to Iuda and Hierusalem: for Jeroboam and his sonnes had cast them out from ministering vnto the Lorde.

15 And hee ordained him Priests for the high places, for the deuils, and for the calves which he had made.

16 And after the Levites, there went out of the Tribes of Israel, such as submitted their hearts to seeke the Lorde God of Israel, & came to Hierusalem, to offer vnto the Lorde God of their fathers.

17 And so they strengthened the kingdome of Iuda, and made Roboam the sonne of Solomon mightie thre yeeres long: for thre yeeres they walked in the way of Dauid and Solomon.

18 And Roboam tooke him Bahalath the daughter of Jerimoth the sonne of Dauid to wife, and Abihael the daughter of Eliah the sonne of Isai:

19 And they bare him children, Jeus, Samaria, and Zaphan.

20 And after her, hee tooke * Baacha the daughter daughter of Absalom, which bare him Abia, Athal, Ziza, and Selomith, 21 And Roboam loued Maacha the daughter of Absalom about all his wiues and concubines: for hee tooke eighteene wiues and threescore concubines, and begate twenty and eight sonnes, and threescore daughters.

22 And Roboam made Abia the sonne of Maacha, the chiefe ruler among his brethren: for he thought to make him king.

23 And hee played wisely, and scattered all his children throughout all the countries of Iuda and Benjamin vnto every strong citie: and he gaue them abundance of victuall, and obtained many wiues.

The xj. Chapter.

1 Roboam forsaketh the Lord, and is punished by Sefac.

AND when Roboam had established the kingdom, and became mighty, hee forsooke the lawe of the Lord, and all Israel with him,

2 And in the fifth yeere of king Roboam Sefac king of Egypt came by against Ierusalem (because they had transgressed against the Lord)

3 With twelue hundred charrets, and threescore thousand horsemen: and the people were without number that came with him out of Egypt: Lubim, <sup>b</sup> Suthin, and the Ethiopians.

4 And hee tooke the strong cities in Iuda, and came to Ierusalem.

5 Then came Semia the Prophet to Roboam, and to the lords of Iuda that were gathered together within Ierusalem for Sefac, and said vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord, See haue left mee, and therefore haue I also left you in the hands of Sefac.

6 Whereupon the lordes of Israel and the king humbled themselves, and sayd, The Lord is righteous.

7 And when the Lord saw that they submitted themselves, the worde of the Lord came to Semeia, saying, They submit themselves, therefore I will not destroy them, but I will deliuer them somewhat, and my wrath shall not be powored out vpon Ierusalem by the hand of Sefac.

8 Neuerthelesse, they shall be his seruants, to know what difference is betweene <sup>d</sup> my seruice, and the seruice of the kingdomes of the world.

9 And so Sefac king of Egypt came to Ierusalem, and tooke away the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the kings house, hee tooke all: & hee caried away the shields of gold which Solomon made.

10 In stead of which king Roboam made shields of brasse, & committed them to the hands of the chiefe of the guard, and that kept the entrance of the kings house.

11 And when the king entred into the house of the Lord, the guard came and set them, and brought them againe to the guard chamber.

12 And when he humbled himselfe, the wrath of the Lord turned from him, that he would not destroy altogether: and in Iuda all was well.

13 And so king Roboam waxed mighty, and reigned in Ierusalem: and Roboam was one and fourtie yeeres olde when hee began to reigne, and he reigned seuentene yeeres in Ie-rusalem, the citie which the Lorde had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel to put his name there: and his mothers name was Maama, an Aminontelle.

14 And hee did euill, because he prepared not his heart to seeke the Lord.

15 The actes also of Roboam first and last, are they not written in the sayings of Semeia the Prophet, and of Iddo the Seer, which noted the genealogie: and there was warre alway betweene Roboam and Ieroboam.

16 And Roboam slept with his fathers, and was buried in the citie of Dauid, and Abia his sonne reigned in his stead.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 Abia maketh warre against Ieroboam. 4 He sheweth the occasion. 12 He trusteth in the Lord, and ouercommeth Ieroboam.

IN the eighteenth yeere of king Ieroboam, began Abia to reigne ouer Iuda.

2 And hee reigned three yeeres in Ierusalem: (his mothers name also was Michai the daughter of Uriel of Gibea:) and there was warre betweene Abia and Ieroboam,

3 And Abia set the battell in aray, with the armie of haliant men of warre, euen foure hundred thousand chosen men: and Ieroboam set himselfe in aray to fight against him, with eight hundred thousand pickt men, which were strong men, and men of armes.

4 And Abia stoode by vpon Zemaraim, an hill which is in mount Ephraim, & saide, Heare me thou Ieroboam and all Israel.

5 Doe not you knowe how that the Lorde God of Israel gaue the kingdom euer them of Israel to Dauid for euer, enen to him, and to his sonnes, with a salted couenant?

6 And Ieroboam the sonne of Nabat the seruant of Solomon the sonne of Dauid, is risen vp, and hath rebelled against the Lord.

7 And there gathered vnto him lewd men, the children of Belial, and preuailed against Roboam the sonne of Solomon, when Roboam was young, and tender hearted, and could not stand before them.

8 And now ye say that ye be able to preuaile against the kingdom of the Lorde, which is in the hands of the sonnes of Dauid, and ye be a great multitude, and haue the golden calues which Ieroboam made you for gods.

9 And haue ye not cast out the priests of the Lord the sonnes of Aaron and the Leuites, and haue made you priests after the maner of the nations of other landes: so that whosoever cometh and consecrateth his hande with a young ore and seuen rammes, the same may be a priest of them that are no gods.

10 But wee belong vnto the Lorde our God, whom we haue not forsaken, and the priests are the sonnes of Aaron which minister vnto the Lord, and the Leuites waite vpon their office.

11 They burne vnto the Lord euery morning and euening, whole burnt sacrifices, and sweete incense: the she we bread set they in order vpon a pure table, and prepare the candlesticke of gold, with the lampes of the same, to burne euer at Euen: and truly we keepe the watch of the Lord our God, but ye haue forsaken him.

12 And behold, God himselfe is our captaine, and his priests blow with the Trumpets, and crye alarme against you. O ye children of Israel, fight not against the Lord God of your fathers: for it will not prosper with you.

13 But for all that Ieroboam conueied men priuily about, to come behind them: and so they were before Iuda, and the liers in waite were behinde them.

14 And when they of Iuda looked about, behold, the battel was before and behind, and they cried vnto the Lord, and the priests blew with the trumpets.

15 And the men of Iuda gaue a shoute: and as the men of Iuda shouted, it came to passe that God smote Ieroboam and al Israel, before Abia and Iuda.

16 And the children of Israel fled before Iuda, and God deliuered them into their hand.

17 And Abia & his people slew a great slaughter of them: there fell downe wounded of Israel siue hundred thousand chosen men.

18 And to the children of Israel were brought vnder at that time, and the children of Iuda prevailed, because they leaned vnto the Lord God of their fathers.

19 And Abia followed after Ieroboam, and tooke cities from him, Bethel with the townes belonging thereto, Iesana with the townes that belonged thereto, and Ephion with her townes.

20 And Ieroboam recouered no strength againe in the dayes of Abia: and the Lord plagued him, and he died.

21 But Abia wared mighty, and married fourteene wiues, and begate twentie and two sonnes, and seeteene daughters.

22 The rest of the acts of Abia, his maners and his sayings, are written in the story of the Prophet Iddo.

The xiiij. Chapter.

3 Afa destroyeth idolatry, and commandeth his people to serue the true God.

S Abia slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the citie of Dauid. * and Afa his sonne reigned in his stead, in whose dayes the land was in quietnes ten yeeres.

2 And Afa did that was good and right in the eyes of the Lord his God.

3 For he tooke away strange altars, and the high places, and brake downe the images, and cut downe the groves:

4 And commanded Iuda to seeke the Lord God of their fathers, and to doe according to the law and commandement.

5 And hee put away out of all the cities of Iuda, the high places and the images: and the kingdome was quiet before him.

6 And he built strong cities in Iuda, because the land was in rest, & hee had no warre in those yeeres: for the Lord had giuen him rest.

7 Therefore he said vnto Iuda, Let vs build these cities, and make about them wals, towres, gates, and barres, for the land is yet in rest before vs: because wee haue sought the Lord our God, we haue sought him, and he hath giuen vs rest on euery side. And so they built, and it prospered with them.

8 And Afa had an armie of men that bare shields and speares, out of Iuda thre hundred thousand, & out of Beniamin that bare shields, and drewe bowes, two hundred and fourescore thousand: all these were valiant men.

9 And there came out against them Sarah of Ethiopia, with an hoste of ten hundred thousand and thre hundred charets, and came as farre as Mareta.

10 And Afa went out before him, and they ioined the battel in the balley of Zephata, beside Mareta.

11 * And Afa cried vnto the Lord his God, and sayd, Lord, it is no hard thing with thee to helpe with many, or them that haue no power: helpe vs therefore, O Lord our God, for we trust to thee, and in thy Name we goe against this multitude: thou art the Lord our God, and no man shall preuaile against thee.

12 And so the Lord smote the Ethiopians before Afa and Iuda, and the Ethiopians fled.

13 And Afa and the people that was with him, followed after them vnto Gerar: and the Ethiopians hoste was ouerthowen, that there was none of them left, but were destroyed before the Lord and before his hoste: and they carried away a mighty great praye.

14 And they smote all the cities round about Gerar, for the feare of the Lord came vpon them: and they spoiled all the cities, and there was exceeding much spoile in them.

15 They smote also the tents of cattel, and carried away plentie of sheepe and camels, and returned to Hierusalem.

The xv. Chapter.

1 The exhortation of Azaria. 8 Afa purgeth his country of idolatry. 14 They sweare together to serue the Lord. 16 He deposeth his mother for her idolatry.

And the spirit of God came on Azaria the sonne of Obed.

2 And he went out to meett Afa, and said vnto him, Heare me, Afa, and all Iuda and Beniamin, the Lord is with you, while yee be with him: and when ye seeke him, he will be found of you: and againe, when yee forsake him, he also will forsake you.

3 Now for a long season Israel hath bene without the true God, and without Priests to teach, and without law.

4 And when any man in his trouble did turne vnto the Lord God of Israel, and sought him, he was found of them.

5 And in that time there was no peace to him that did goe out and in, but great sedition was there among all the inhabitants of the earth.

6 And nation was destroyed of nation, and citie of citie: for God did moue all aduersitie among them.

7 Play yee therefore the men, and let not your handes slacke: for your worke shall be rewarded.

8 And when Afa heard those wordes, and the prophesie of Azaria the sonne of Obed the Prophet, he tooke courage, and put away the abominable doles out of all the lande of Iuda and Beniamin, and out of the cities which he wain in mount Ephraim, and renued the altar of the Lord that was before the porch of the Lord.

9 And he gathered all Iuda and Beniamin, and the strangers with them, out of Ephraim, Manasse, and Simeon: for there fell many to him out of Israel, when they saw that the Lord his God was with him.

10 So they assembled together at Hierusalem the third moneth, the fifteenth yeere of the reigne of Asa.

11 And they offered vnto the Lorde the same time, of the spoyle which they had brought, seuen hundred oren, and seuen thousand sheepe.

12 And they made a couenant to seeke the Lord God of their fathers with all their heart, and all their soule.

13 And whosoeuer would not seeke the Lord God of Israel, should die for it, whether he were small, or great, man, or woman.

14 And they sware vnto the Lord with a loud voyce, blowing and blowing with trumpets and shawmes.

15 And all they in Juda reioyced at the othe: for they had sworne vnto the Lord with all their heart, and sought him with all their lust, and he was found of them: and the Lorde gaue them rest round about on euery side.

16 * And king Asa put Maacha his mother out of authoritie, because she had made an idole in a groue: and Asa broke downe her idole, and stamped it, and burnt it at the brooke Cedron.

17 But all the high places were not taken away out of Israel, though the heart of Asa was perfect all his dayes.

18 And he brought into the house of God the things that his father had dedicate, and that he himselfe had dedicate, euen siluer, and gold, and vessels.

19 And there was no more warre vnto the thirtie and fve yeere of the reigne of Asa.

1 Asa for feare of Baasa king of Israel, maketh a couenant with Benhadad king of Syria. 7 Hee is reprooued by the Prophet.

IN the thirtie and sixe yeere of the reigne of Asa, came Baasa king of Israel against Juda, and built Rama, to the intent that he would let none passe out or in to Asa king of Juda.

2 And Asa fet out gold and siluer out of the treasures of the house of the Lord, and out of the kings house, and sent to Benhadad king of Syria that dwelt at Darmesec, and sayd,

3 There is a confederation betweene mee and thee, betweene my father and thine: behold, I haue sent thee siluer and gold, that thou wilt come and breake thy league with Baasa king of Israel, that he may depart from me.

4 And Benhadad graunted vnto king Asa, and sent the captaines of his armies to the cities of Israel: and they smote Zion, Dan, and Abilmaim, and all the strong cities of Nephtali.

5 And when Baasa heard this, he left building of Rama, and let his worke cease.

6 And then Asa the king tooke all Juda, and caried away the stones and timber of Rama wherewith Baasa was a building, and he built therewith Geba and Mithah.

7 At that time Hanani the Seer came to Asa king of Juda, and sayd vnto him, Because thou hast trusted in the king of Syria, and not rather put thy trust in the Lorde thy God, therefore is the hoste of the king of Syria escaped out of thine hand.

8 * Had not the Ethiopians and Lubim an exceeding great hoste, with many charets and horsemen: and yet because thou trustedst in the Lord, he deliuered them into thine hand.

9 For the eyes of the Lord beholde all the earth, to strength them that are of perfect heart toward him: herein thou hast done foolishly, and therfore from henceforth thou shalt haue warre.

10 And so Asa was wroth with the Seer, & put him into a prison house, for he was displeasid with him, because of this thing: and Asa destroyed certaine of the people the same season.

11 And behold, these deedes of Asa first and last, are written in the booke of the kings of Iuda and Israel.

12 And Asa in the thirtie and ninth yeere of his reigne fell sick in his feete, and his disease continued very long, & in his sickness he sought not the Lord, but Physicians.

13 And Asa slept with his fathers, and dyed in the fourtie and one yeere of his reigne.

14 And they buried him in his owne sepulchre, which he had made for himselfe in the citie of Dauid, and layd him in the bedde which was filled with diuers kindes of spices, and sweete odours, made by the craft of the Apothecaries: and they made a very great burning.

The xvij. Chapter.

5 Iosaphat trusting in the Lorde, prospereth in riches and honour. 6 Hee abolisheth idolatrie, 7 and causeth the people to be taught.

IN Iosaphat his sonne reigned in his stead, and preuailed against Israel.

2 And hee put souldiers in all the strong cities of Juda, and set rulers in the land of Juda, and in the cities of Ephraim, which Asa his father had wonne.

3 And the Lord was with Iosaphat, because hee walked in the former wayes of his father Dauid, and sought not Baalim:

4 But sought the Lorde God of his father, and walked in his commaundements, and not after the doings of Israel.

5 And the Lorde stablished the kingdome in his hand, and all Juda brought him presents, so that he had abundance of riches and honour.

6 And he lift vp his heart vnto the wayes of the Lord, and he put downe yet more of the high places and groues out of Juda.

7 In the third yeere of his reigne he sent to his lords, euen to Benhail, Obadiah, Zacharia, Methanel, and to Michah, that they should teach in the cities of Juda:

8 And with them he sent Leuites, euen Semia, Methania, Zebadiah, Asael, Semiramoth, Jehonathan, Adonia, Tobia, and Tobadonia, Leuites: and with them Elisama and Joiam, Priests.

9 And they taught in Juda, and had the booke of the Law of God with them, and went about throughout all the cities of Juda, and taught the people.

10 And the feare of the Lord fell vpon all the kingdomes of the land that were round about Juda, and they sought not against Iosaphat.

11 And some of the Philistines brought Iosaphat gifts, and tribute siluer, & the Arabians

16 And next him was Amazia the sonne of Zichri, which of his owne good will offered him selfe vnto the Lord, and with him two hundred thousand mightie men of warre.

17 And of the children of Beniamin, Eliada a man of might, and with him armed men with bow and shield two hundred thousand.

18 And next him was Iosabab, and with him an hundred and fourscore thousand that were prepared for the warre.

19 These waited on the King, besides those which the King put in the strong cities thoro- out all Iuda.

The xviii. Chapter.

1 Iosaphat maketh affinitie with Achab. 10 Four hundred Prophets counsell Achab to go to warre. 14 Michea is against them. 29 The effect of his prophesie.

3. Reg. 22.3

And * Iosaphat had abundance of riches and honour, and ioynded affinitie with Achab.

2 And after certaine yeeres he went downe to Achab to Samaria: and Achab slew many sheepe and oren for him, and so; the people that hee had with him, and entreated him to goe vp with him vnto Ramoth in Gilead.

3 And Achab king of Israel said vnto Iosaphat king of Iuda, wilt thou go with me to Ramoth in Gilead? And he answered him, I will be as thou, and my people shall be as thine, and we will goe with thee to the warre.

4 And Iosaphat said vnto the king of Israel, Seeke counsell, I pray thee, at the worde of the Lord this same day.

5 Therefore the king of Israel gathered together of prophets foure hundred men, and said vnto them, Shall we goe to Ramoth in Gilead to fight, or should I cease? And they said, Goe vp, and God shall deliuer it into the kings hand.

6 But Iosaphat said, Is there yet here neuer a Prophet more of the Lords, that we might aske of him?

7 And the king of Israel laide vnto Iosaphat, There is yet one man, by whom we may aske the Lord, but I hate him, for he neuer prophesieth me good, but alway euill: and the same is Michea the sonne of Gemla. And Iosaphat said, Let not the king say so.

8 And the king of Israel called one of his chamberlaines, and said, fetch hither quickly Michea the sonne of Gemla.

9 And the king of Israel and Iosaphat king of Iuda sate either of them on his seate in their apparell, in a threshing floore beside the gate of Samaria, and all the prophets prophesied be- fore them.

10 And one Zedecia the sonne of Chanaana had made him hornes of yron, and sayd, Thus saith the Lord, with these thou shalt pully Syria, vntill they be brought to nought.

11 And all the prophets prophesied euen so, saying, Goe vp to Ramoth in Gilead, and it shall prosper with thee: for the Lord shall deliuer it into the hand of the king.

12 And the messenger that went to call Michea, spake to him, saying, Behold, the words of the prophets speake good to the king with one assent: let thy words therefore, I pray thee, be like one of theirs, that thou speake that which is pleasant.

13 And Michea said, As the Lord liueth, euen what my God sayth, that will I speake.

14 And when hee came to the king, the king sayd vnto him, Michea, should wee goe to Ramoth in Gilead to fight, or leaue off? And hee said, Goe vp, and all shall be well, and they shall be deliuered into your hand.

15 And the king said to him, So and so many times doe I charge thee that thou say nothing but the truth to me, in the name of the Lord.

16 Then he sayd, I did see all Israel scattered in the mountaines, as sheepe that haue no shepheard, and the Lord said, These haue no master: let them returne euery man therefore to his house in peace.

17 And the king of Israel said vnto Iosaphat, Did I not tell thee, that he would not prophesie good vnto me, but euill?

18 But hee said againe, Therefore heare the word of the Lord: I sawe the Lorde sit vpon his seate, and all the companie of heauen stood on his right hand and on his left.

19 And the Lord sayd, who shall deceiue Achab king of Israel, that he may goe vp and be ouerthrowen at Ramoth in Gilead? And one sayd this, another said that.

20 And there came out a spirit, and stood before the Lord, and said, I will deceiue him. And the Lord said vnto him, wherein?

21 And hee said, I will goe out, and be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And the Lord said, Thou shalt deceiue him, and shalt preuaile: goe out, and doe euen so.

22 And now therefore behold, the Lord hath put a lying spirit in the mouthes of these thy prophets, and the Lord hath spoken euill against thee.

23 * And Zedecia the sonne of Chanaana went to, and smote Michea vpon the cheeke, and said, By what way went the spirit of the Lord from me, to speake with thee?

24 And Michea sayd, Behold, thou shalt see the day when thou shalt goe from chamber to chamber for to hide thy selfe.

25 And the king of Israel sayd, Take ye Michea, and bring him to Amon the gouernour of the citie, and to Joas the kings sonne.

26 And ye shall say, Thus saith the king, Put this fellowe in the prison house, and feede him with the bread of affliction, and water of trouble, vntill I come againe in peace.

27 And Michea sayd, If thou come againe in peace, then hath not the Lord spoken by me. And hee sayd, Hearken to yee people euery one of you.

a. Or, will not be able to stand before the Lord.

b. They that will not be from the Lord, shall be strong to me, they shall be liars.

3. King. 22. 3. c. When the spirit of the Lord shall be gone, the Lord shall be gone, and the Lord shall be gone.

28 And so the king of Israel and Josaphat the king of Juda went by to Ramoth in Gilead.

29 And the king of Israel said unto Josaphat, I will change me when I goe to the battell: but see that thou haue thine own apparel upon thee. And the king of Israel changed himselfe, and they came to the battel.

30 But the king of Syria had commaunded the captains of the charrets that were with him, saying, See that yee fight not against small or great, saue against the king of Israel onely.

31 And when the captains of the charrets saw Josaphat, they said, It is the king of Israel: and therefore they compassed about him to fight. * But Josaphat cried out, and the Lord helped him, and God // chased them away from him.

32 For when the captaines of the charrets perceived that it was not the king of Israel, they turned backe againe from him.

33 And a certaine man drew a bowe // at a venture, and smote the king of Israel betwene the ioints of his habergine: and hee sayd to his charretman, Turne thine hand that thou mayest carrie me out of the holse, for I am wounded.

34 And the battell increased that day: howbeit the king of Israel caused his charret to stand still against the Syrians, vntil Euen: and about the time of the sunne going downe, he died.

The xix. Chapter.

1 After Josaphat was rebuked by the Prophet, hee calleth againe the people to the honouring of the Lord.

After Josaphat the king of Juda came home againe in peace to Hierusalem.

2 And Jehu the sonne of Hanani the Seer, went out to meeete him, and said to king Josaphat, Wouldest thou helpe the vngodly, and loue them that hate the Lorde? Therefore is wrath come downe vpon thee from before the Lord:

3 Neuerthelesse, there are some good actes found in thee, in that thou hast heuen downe the groues out of the land, and hast prepared thine heart to seeke God.

4 And Josaphat dwelt at Hierusalem, and turned, and went out to the people from Beerseba to mount Ephraim, and brought them againe vnto the Lord God of their fathers.

5 And he set Judges in the land, thowout all the strong cities of Juda, citie by citie.

6 And sayd to the Judges, Take heed what yee doe: for yee execute not the iudgements of man, but of God, which is with you in the iudgement.

7 Wherefore no to let the feare of the Lord be vpon you, and take heede, and be doing the thing that pleaseh him: for there is no brightnes with the Lord our God, * that he should haue any respect of persons, or take rewards.

8 Whereouer, in Hierusalem did Josaphat set of the Leuites and of the Priests, and of the ancient fathers ouer Israel, in the iudgement and cause of the Lord, and they returned againe to Hierusalem.

9 And hee charged them, saying, Thus shall yee doe in the feare of the Lord faithfully, and with a pure heart:

10 What cause soeuer come to you of your brethren that dwell in their cities betwene blood and blood, betwene law and commandement, betwene statutes and ordinances: ye shall warne them that they trespasse not against the Lorde, and so wrath come vpon you and your brethren: thus doe, and ye shall not offend.

11 And behold, Amaria the high Priest is among you in all matters of the Lord, and Zebadiah the sonne of Ismael, a ruler of the house of Juda, for all the kings matters: There be officers of the Leuites also before you, take courage to you therefore, and be doing manfully, and the Lord shall be with such as be good.

The xx. Chapter.

3 Josaphat and the people pray vnto the Lord. 22 The marueilous victorie that the Lord gaue him against his enemies. 30 His reigne and actes.

After this also, the children of Moab and the children of Ammon, and with them other of the Ammonites, came against Josaphat to battell.

2 And there came some that told Josaphat, saying, There cometh a great multitude against thee from the other side of the sea, and out of Syria, and behold, they be in Basalon Thamar, which is in Engadi.

3 And Josaphat feared, and set himselfe to seeke the Lord, and proclaimed fasting thowout our all Juda.

4 And Juda gathered themselves together, to aske counsell of the Lord: and they came out of all the cities of Juda, // to make intercession to the Lord.

5 And Josaphat stood betwene the congregation of Juda and Hierusalem, in the house of the Lord, before the new court,

6 And said, O Lord God of our fathers, art not thou God in heauen, and reigned not thou on all the kingdomes of the heathen, and in thine hand is power and might, and there is no man that is able to withstand thee?

7 Art not thou our God which diddest call out the inhabitants of this land before thy people Israel, and gauest it to the seede of Abraham thy louer, for euer?

8 And they dwell therein, and haue built thee a temple therein for thy name, saying,

9 * It euill come vpon vs, as the sworde of iudgement, pestilence, or hunger: then if wee stand before this house in thy presence, (for thy name is in this house) and cry vnto thee in our tribulation, heare thou, and helpe.

10 * And now behold the children of Ammon and Moab, and mount Seir, * by whom thou wouldest not let them of Israel goe, when they came out of the land of Egypt, but they departed from them, and destroyed them not.

11 See how they reward vs, to come for to cast vs out of thy possession, which thou hast giuen vs to inherite.

12 O our God, wilt thou not iudge them: for we haue no might against this great company that commeth against vs: neither wote we what to doe, but our eyes be vnto thee.

13 And all Juda stood before the Lorde, with their young ones, their wiues, and their children.

14 And there was Jahaziel the sonne of Zacharia, the sonne of Benaias, the sonne of Jehiel, the sonne of Matthanias, a Leuite of the sonnes of Alaph, and vpon him came the spirit of the Lord in the mids of the Congregation:

15 And he said, Hearthen all Iuda, and ye inhabitants of Hierusalem, & thou king Iosaphat, Thus saith the Lord vnto you, Be not affraide, nor faint hearted, by reason of this great multitude: for the battell is not yours, but Gods.

16 To morow goe ye downe against them: behold, they come by by the cleft of Ziz, and ye shall find them at the end of the brooke, before the wilderness of Ieruel.

17 Ye shall not neede to fight in this battell, but step forth, and stand, and behold the helpe of the Lord which is with you: feare not, nor let your hearts faile you, O ye of Iuda and of Hierusalem, to morow goe out against them, for the Lord will be with you.

18 And Iosaphat bowed his face to the earth, and all Iuda, and the inhabitants of Hierusalem fell before the Lord, worshipping the Lord.

19 And the Leuites of the children of the Caathites, and of the children of the Corahites, stood vp to praise the Lord God of Israel, with a loud voyce on high.

20 And when they arose early in the morning, they gate them out vnto the wilderness of Thecoa: and as they went out, Iosaphat stood, and said, Hearc me, O Iuda, and yee inhabitants of Hierusalem: Put your trust in the Lord your God, that yee may be found faithfull: giue credence to his prophets, and so shall ye prosper.

21 When he had consulted with the people, and set some to sing vnto the Lord, and to praise him in the beautie of holinesse, and to goe out before the armie, and to say, Praise the Lord, for his mercy lasteth euer:

22 And when they beganne to shoute, and to praise the Lord, the Lord layde ambushments against the children of Ammon, Moab, and mount Seir, which were come against Iuda, and they were ouerthrowen with strokes among themselves.

23 For the children of Ammon and Moab, rose against the inhabitants of mount Seir, and slew and destroyed them: and when they had made an ende of the inhabitants of Seir, euery one helped to destroy an other among themselves.

24 And when Iuda came toward Dispah in the wilderness, they looked vnto the multitude, and beholde, they were dead carkeises fallen to the earth, and none escaped.

25 And when Iosaphat and his people came to take away the spoyle of them, they found among them abundance of goods, raiment, and precious iewels, which they tooke for themselves more then they could carie away: so that they were thre dayes in gathering of the spoile, it was so much.

26 And the fourth day they assembled in the valley of blessing: for there they blessed the Lord, and therefore they called the name of the same place, The valley of blessing, vnto this day.

27 And to all the men of Iuda and Hierusalem, returned with Iosaphat their head, for to goe againe to Hierusalem with gladnesse: for the Lord had made them to reioyce ouer their enemies.

28 And they came to Hierusalem with Psalteries, and Harpes, and Shatomes, vnto the house of the Lord.

29 And the feare of God fel on the kingdomes of all lands, when they had heard that the Lord fought against the enemies of Israel.

30 And so the realm of Iosaphat was in tranquillitie, and his God gaue him rest on euerie side.

31 And Iosaphat reigned vpon Iuda, and was thirtie and five yeeres olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned twentie and five yeeres in Hierusalem, and his mothers name was Azuba, the daughter of Silhi.

32 And hee walked in the way of Asa his father, and bowed not therfrom, doing that which was right in the sight of the Lord.

33 Howbeit, the high places were not taken away: for the people had not yet prepared their hearts vnto the God of their fathers.

34 The rest of the actes of Iosaphat first and last, behold, they are written among the sayings of Iehu the sonne of Hanani, which noted them in the booke of the kings of Israel.

35 After this, did Iosaphat king of Iuda ioine himself with Ahazias king of Israel, whose mind was to doe wickedly:

36 Hee ioyned himselfe with him, to make ships to goe to Charis: and they made the ships in Ezion Gaber.

37 And Eliezer the sonne of Dodanah of Marefa, prophesied against Iosaphat, saying, Because thou hast ioyned thy selfe with Ahazias, the Lord hath broken thy workes. And the ships were broken, that they were not able to goe to Charis.

The xxj. Chapter.

1 Iosaphat dieth. 3 Ioram succedeth him, 4 which killeth his brethren. 16 He is oppressed of the Philistines. 18 His miserable end.

Iosaphat also slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David: and Ioram his sonne reigned in his stead.

2 And he had brethren which were the sonnes of Iosaphat, Azarias, Jehiel, Zecharia, Azaria, Michael, and Sephatias: all these are the sonnes of Iosaphat king of Iuda.

3 And their father gaue them many great gifts of gold and siluer, and other speciall substance, with strong cities in Iuda: but the kingdome gaue he to Ioram, for he was the eldest.

4 And Ioram rose vp against the kingdome of his father, and preuailed, and slew all his brethren with the sword, and diuers of the lords of Israel.

5 Ioram was thirtie and two yeeres olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned eight yeeres in Hierusalem.

6 And he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, like as did the house of Achab, for he had the daughter of Achab to wife: & he wrought euill in the eyes of the Lord.

7 Howbeit, the Lord would not destroy the house of David, because of the coveniant that he had made with David, as he promised to giue a light to him and to his sonnes for euer.

9 And Jozam went forth with his lords, and all his charrets were with him: and he rose by by night, & smote the Edomites; which compassed him in: and the captaines of the charrets.

10 But Edom rebelled stil, so that they would not be vnder the hand of Iuda vnto this day: that same time also did Libna rebell from being vnder his hand, because he had forsake the Lord God of his fathers.

11 Moreover, hee made high places in the mountaines of Iuda, and caused the inhabitants of Hierusalem to commit fornication, and pro- uoked Iuda to idolatric.

12 And there came a writing to him from E- lia the Propheet, saying, Thus saith the Lorde God of Dauid thy father, Because thou hast not walked in the wayes of Josaphat thy father, and in the wayes of Aia king of Iuda:

13 But walkedst in the wayes of the kings of Israel, and hast made Iuda, and the dwellers of Hierusalem, to goe a whoying like to the whoze- dome of the house of Achab, and hast slaine thy brethren, euen thy fathers house, which were better then thou:

14 Behold, with a great plague wil the Lord suite thy follic, thy childzen, thy wiues, and all thy goods:

15 And thou shalt suffer great paine, euen a discaise of thy bowels, vntill thy guts fall out by reason of thy sicknesse day by day.

16 And so the Lord stirred by against Jozam the spirit of the Philistines, and the Arabians (that were beside the Ethiopians).

17 And they came by into Iuda, and wasted it, and caried away all the substance that was found in the kings house, & his sonnes, and his wiues, so that there was neuer a sonne left him, saue || Joahaz, which was the youngest among his sonnes.

18 And after all these things, the Lord smote him in his bowels with an incurable discaise.

19 And in procelle of time, after the ende of two yeeres, his guttes fell out in his sicknesse, and so he died of very euill discaises: and they made no burning for him like the burning of his fathers.

20 When he began to reigne, hee was thirtie and two yeeres old, and he reigned in Hierusalem eight yeeres, and liued || wretchedly: how- beit they buried him in the citie of Dauid: but not among the sepulchres of the kings.

The xxij. Chapter.

10 Athalia putteth to death all the kings linage. 11 Ioas escapeth.

AD * the inhabitants of Hierusalem made Ahazia his yong sonne king in his stead: for the men of warre that came with the hoise of the Arabians, had slaine all his eldest sonnes. And so Ahazia the sonne of Jozam king of Iuda was made king.

2 <sup>b</sup>fourtie and two yeeres old was he when he began to reigne, and he reigned one yeere in Hierusalem: his mothers name was Athalia, the daughter of Amr.

3 And hee walked also in the wayes of the house of Achab: for his mother by her counsell cntised him to doe wickedly.

4 Wherefore hee did that which was euill in the light of the Lorde, as did they that were of the house of Achab: for they were his <sup>d</sup>coun- sailours after the death of his father, to his de- struction.

5 And hee walked after their counsaile, and went with Jozam sonne of Achab king of Isra- el, to fight against Hazael king of Syria at Ra- moth in Silcad: and the Syrians smote Jozam.

6 And hee turned to be healed in Jezrahel, of the wounds which were giuen him at Ramia, when hee fought with Hazael king of Syria: and Ahazia the sonne of Jozam king of Iuda, went downe to see Jozam the sonne of Achab at Jez- rahel, because hee was diseased.

7 And it came of God that Ahazia should be destroyed for his comming to Jozam: for when hee was come, hee went out with Jozam against Jehu the sonne of Nimsi, whom the Lord had a- nomited to destroy the house of Achab.

8 And when Jehu was erecting iustice by- on the house of Achab, and found the lords of Ju- da, and the sonnes of the brethren of Ahazia that waited on Ahazia, he slew them.

9 And hee sought Ahazia: and they caught him (where hee was hid in Samaria) & brought him to Jehu, and when they had slaine him, they buried him: because, said they, hee is the sonne of Josaphat, which sought the Lorde with all his heart: And the house of Ahazia had no power to keepe still the kingdome.

10 * But when Athalia, the mother of Aha- zia, saw that her sonne was dead, she arose and destroyed all the kings seed in <sup>d</sup>himed of Iuda.

11 And Jolabech the daughter of the king, tooke Joas the sonne of Ahazia, and stalle him from among the kings sonnes that were slaine, and put him and his nurse in a priuite chamber: and so Jolabech the daughter of king Jozam, the wife of Jehoiada the Priest (and the sister of Aha- zia) hid him from Athalia, that hee was not slau.

12 And so hee was with them hid in the house of God six yeeres, and Athalia reigned ouer the land.

6 But there shall none come into the house of the Lord, save the Priests and Levites that minister, they shall goe in, for they are holy: but all the people shall keepe the watch of the Lord.

7 And the Levites shall compasse the king round about, & every man shall have his weapon in his hande, and what other man so ever doeth come into the house of the Lord he shall be slaine: and let them be with the king when he cometh in, and when he goeth out.

8 And the Levites, and all Juda did according to all things that Jehoiada the Priest had commanded, and tooke every man his men that came in on the Sabbath day, with them that went out on the Sabbath day: neither did Jehoiada the Priest let the companions depart.

9 And Jehoiada the Priest, delivered to the captains of hundreds, speares, shields, and bucklers, that had pertained to king David, and were in the house of God.

10 And he set all the people (every man having his weapon in his hand) from the right side of the temple, to the left side of temple, along by the altar and the temple, round about the king.

11 And they brought out the kings some, and put upon him the crowne, and the testimonie, and made him king: and Jehoiada and his sons anointed him, and said, God save the king.

12 When Athalia heard the noise of the people running, and praying the king, she came to the people in the house of the Lord.

13 And she looked, and behold, the king stood in his place at the entering in, and the lodges and the trumpets were by the king, and all the people of the land rejoyced, blowing with trumpets: and the singers were with instruments of musike, and such as could sing psalme: but Athalia rent her clothes, and saide, Treason, treason.

14 And Jehoiada the Priest went out to the captaines of hundreds, that were governours of the hoste, and said unto them, Have her forth of the ranges: and who so followeth her, let him be slaine with the sword: for the Priest said, That they should not slay her in the house of the Lord.

15 And they layd hands on her, till shee was come to the entering of the horse gate, beside the kings house, and there they slew her.

16 And Jehoiada made a bond between him, and all the people, and the king, that they should be the Lords people:

17 And all the people went to the house of Baal, and destroyed it and brake his altars and his images, and cleve Matthan the Priest of Baal, before the altars.

18 And Jehoiada put the officers for the house of the Lord under the hand of the Priests and Levites, as David had distributed them in the house of the Lord, to offer whole burnt offerings unto the Lord, as it is written in the law of Moses, with rejoicing, and singing, as it was ordained by David.

19 And he set porters by the gates of the house of the Lord, that none which was unclean in any thing, should enter in.

20 And he tooke the captaines of hundreds, and all the nobles, and the governours of the people, and all the folke of the land, and caused the king to come downe out of the house of the Lord, and they came thoro the high gate into the kings house, and set the king upon the seate of the kingdome.

21 And all the people of the land rejoyced, and the citie was in tranquillitie after that they had slaine Athalia with the sword.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

1 Ioas repaireth the house of the Lord. 23 Ioas is killed of his owne servants.

Ioas * was seven yeeres old when he began to reigne, and hee reigned fourtie yeeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name also was Ziba, of Beerseba.

2 And Ioas did that which was right in the sight of the Lord all the dayes of Jehoiada the Priest.

3 And Jehoiada gave him two wives, and he begate sonnes and daughters.

4 And after this Ioas was minded to renew the house of the Lord.

5 And he gathered together the Priests and the Levites, and said to them, Goe out vnto the cities of Juda, and gather of all Israel, money to repaire the house of your God, from yeere to yeere, and see that ye haue the thing: Howbeit, the Levites were slacke.

6 And the king called Jehoiada that was the chiefest, and said unto him, Why requirest thou not of the Levites to bring in, out of Juda and Hierusalem, the collection of money, according to the commandement of Moses the servant of the Lord, and of the congregation of Israel, for the Tabernacle of witness?

7 For wicked Athalia and her children, brake by the house of God, and al the things that were dedicate for the house of the Lord, did they bestow vpon Baalim.

8 And at the kings commaundement they made a chest, and set it without at the gate of the house of the Lord:

9 And made a proclamation thoro Juda and Hierusalem, to bring in to the Lorde the taration of money that Moses the scruant of God set vpon Israel in the wilderness.

10 And the lords and all the people rejoyced, and brought in, and cast into the chest, until it was full.

11 And at the same time they brought in the chest, vnto them which were in the kings businesse, by the hand of the Levites, and when they sawe that there was much money: the kings scribe, & one appointed by the high Priest, came and emptied the chest, and tooke it, and carried it to his place againe. Thus they did day by day, and gathered much money.

12 And the king and Jehoiada gave it to such as did labour and worke in the house of the Lorde, and hired Masons and Carpenters to repaire the house of the Lord, and so did they artificers in iron and brasse, to mende the house of the Lord.

13 And to the workemen wrought, and the worke mended thoro their handes: and they made the house of God as it ought to be, and strengthened it.

14 And wht they had finished it, they brought the rest of the money before the king and Jehoiada, and there with were made bells for the house of the Lorde, even bells to minister

15 But Jehoiada wared olde, and died full of daies: for an hundred and thirtie yeeres olde was he when he died.

16 And they buried him in the city of David, among the kings, because he dealt wel with Israel, and with God, and with his house.

17 And after the death of Jehoiada, came the lords of Juda, and made obeisance to the king: and the king hearkened vnto them.

18 And so they left the house of the Lord God of their fathers, and serued groues and idoles, and then came the wrath of God vpon Juda and Hierusalem for this their trespasses sake.

19 And he sent Prophets to them, to bring them againe vnto the Lorde, and they testified vnto them, but they would not heare.

20 And the spirit of God came vpon Zacharia the sonne of Jehoiada the Priest, which stood by the people, and said vnto them, Thus sayth God, why transgresse ye the commandements of the Lorde, that pee can not prosper? for because ye haue forsaken the Lord, he hath also forsaken you.

21 And they conspired against him, and stoned him with stones, at the commandement of the king, euen in the court of the house of the Lord.

22 And so Joas the king remembred not the kindness which Jehoiada his father had done to him, but slew his sonne, and when he died, he said, The Lord looke vpon it, and require it.

23 And when the yeere was out, the holte of Syria came by against him, and they came against Juda and Hierusalem, and destroyed all the lords of the people, from among the people, and sent all the spoyle of them vnto the king to Damascus.

24 For the Syrians came with a small companie of men, and the Lord deliuered a very great hoste into their hand, because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers: and they gaue sentence against Joas.

25 And when they were departed from him, they left him in great diseases: and his owne seruants conspired against him, for the blood of the children of Jehoiada the Priest, and slew him on his bed, and he died: and they buried him in the cite of David, but not in the sepulchres of the kings.

26 And these are they that conspired against him: Zabab the sonne of Simeath, an Ammonite, and Jehosabad the sonne of Simrith, a Moabite.

27 And his sonnes, and the summe of the tax that was raised in his time, and the repaying of the house of God, behold, they are written in the storie of the booke of the kings: and Amazia his sonne reigned in his stead.

The xxv. Chapter.

3 Amazia putteth them to death which slewe his father. 14 He falleth to idolatrie.

Amazias was twenty and five yeeres old when he began to reigne, and he reigned twentie and nine yeeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name was Jehoadan, of Hierusalem.

2 And he did that which is right in the sight of the Lord, but not with a perfect heart.

3 And as soone as he was lected in the kingdome, he slew his seruants that had killed the king his father.

4 But he slewe not their children, because it is written thus in the Lawe and booke of Moses, where the Lord commanded, saying, * The father shall not die for the children, neither shall the children die for the fathers: but every man shall die for his owne sinne.

5 And Amazia gathered Juda together, and made them captaines ouer thousandes, and ouer hundredes, according to the houses of their fathers, thozowout all Juda, and Benjamin: and he numbred them from twentie yeeres old, and aboue, and found among them thye hundred thousand chosen men able to goe to battell, and that could handle speare and shield.

6 He hired also an hundred thousand strong fighting men out of Israel, for an hundred talents of siluer.

7 And there came a man of God to him, and saide, O king, let not the armie of Israel come with thee: for the Lord is not with Israel, to wit, with all the children of Ephraim.

8 But if thou wilt needes be faithlesse come on, and take the battell in hand, and God shall make thee fall before the enemy: for God hath power to helpe, and to cast do wne.

9 And Amazia said to the man of God, what shall we doe then for the hundred talents which I haue giuen to the host of Israel? The man of God answered, The Lord is able to giue thee much moze then they be.

10 And Amazia separated the army that was come to him out of Ephraim, to go home againe: wherefoze they were exceeding wroth with Juda, and returned home in great anger.

11 And Amazia tooke heart, and carried out his people, and went to the salt valley, and smote of the children of Seir, ten thousand.

12 And other ten thousand did the children of Juda take aliuie, and carried them vnto the top of a rocke, and cast them downe from the top of the rocke, that they all burst.

13 But the souldiers of the armie which Amazia sent away that they should not goe with his people to battell, fell vpon the cities of Juda, from Samaria, vnto Bethzon, and smote thye thousand of them, and tooke much spoyle.

14 And after that Amazia was come from the slaughter of the Edomites, hee brought the gods of the children of Seir, and set them vp to be his gods, and bowed himselfe before them, and burned incense vnto them.

15 wherefoze the Lorde was wroth with Amazia, and sent vnto him a Prophet, which said vnto him, why hast thou sought the gods of the people, which were not able to deliuer their owne people out of thine hand?

16 And as the Prophet talked with him, the king sayd vnto him, Haue men made thee of the kings counsell? Cease, why wilt thou bee beaten? And the Prophet ceased, and said, I am sure that God is minded to destroy thee, because thou hast done this, and agreed not vnto my counsell.

17 Then Amazia king of Juda, tooke aduise, and sent to Joas the sonne of Joahaz the 18 And Joas king of Israel, * sent to Amazia king of Juda, saying, * A thistle that is in Libanon, sent to a Cedar tree of Libanon, saying, Give thy daughter to my sonne to wife: and there came a wilde beast of Libanon, and trode do wne the thistle.

19 Thou sayest, Lo, thou hast smitten the Edomites, and thine heart maketh thee proud to glorie thy selfe: No we therefore hide at home, why dost thou proude into euill, that thou mayest perish, both thou, and Juda with thee?

20 But Amazia would not hearken to him: for it came of God, euen to deliuer them into the hand of their enemies, because they sought counsel at the gods of Edom.

21 And so Joas the king of Israel came by and they saw either other, both he, and Amazia king of Juda at Bethshemes, which is in Juda.

22 And Juda was put to the worse before Israel, and they fled euery man to his tent.

23 And Joas the king of Israel tooke Amazia king of Juda the sonne of Joas, the sonne of Joahaz, at Bethshemes, and brought him to Hierusalem, and tare the wall of Hierusalem, from the gate of Ephraim, vnto the corner gate, foure hundred cubites.

24 And he tooke away also al the gold and siluer, and all the vessels that were found in the house of God with Obed Edom, and the treasures of the kings house, the children also that were in hostage, and returned to Samaria.

25 And Amazia the sonne of Joas king of Juda, liued after the death of Joas sonne of Joahaz king of Israel, fiftene yeeres.

26 The rest of the acts of Amazia first and last, are they not written in the booke of the Kings of Juda and Israel?

27 And after the time that Amazia did turne away from the Lord, they conspired treason against him in Hierusalem, and when he was fled to Lachis, they sent to Lachis after him, and slew him there:

28 And brought him by with horses, and buried him with his fathers in the cite of Juda.

When all the people of Juda * tooke Ozias, which was sirtene yeeres old, & made him king in the rounne of his father Amazia.

2 And he built Cloch, & brought it againe to Juda, after that the king was laide to sleepe with his fathers.

3 Sirtene yeeres old was Ozias when he began to reigne, and he reigned fiftie and two yeeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name also was Iecholia, of Hierusalem.

4 And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, according to all as did his father Amazia.

5 And he sought God in the dayes of Zacharia, who had vnderstanding in the visions of God: and as long as he sought the Loyde, God made him to prosper.

6 And he went to battell against the Philistines, and brake downe the wall of Beth, & the wall of Jabne, and the wall of Asdod, and built cities about Asdod, and among the Philistines.

7 And God holpe him against the Philistines, and against the Arabians that dwelt in Gurbaal, and Hamethumim.

8 And the Ammonites gaue tribute to Ozias, and his name spread abroad euen to the entering in of Egypt: for he played the man exceedingly.

9 Moreover, Ozias built towres in Hierusalem by the corner gate, and by the valley gate, and at the turning of the wall, and made them strong.

10 And he built towres in the wilderness, and digged many wels: for he had much cattell in the valleys and plaines, plowmen, and binders in the mountaines, and in Charnel: for he loued husbandry.

11 And Ozias had an hoste of fighting men, that went out to warre in the armie, according to the number of their office, vnder the hand of Jiel the scribe, and Daasia the ruler, and vnder the hand of Hanania, which was one of the kings lords.

12 And the whole number of the ancient fathers, and of the men of might, were two thousand and sixe hundred.

13 And vnder the hand of them, was the army of the men of warre, euen thye hundred and seuen thousand, and sixe hundred, that made warre with the power of an armie, helping the king against the enemies:

14 And Ozias provided them thowout all the hoste, shields, speares, helmets, habergines, bowes and slings for to cast stones.

15 And he made subtil engines in Hierusalem, which he inuented, and layd on the towres and corners, to shooote arrowes and great stones withall: and his name spread farre abroad, because he had prepared to himselfe marueilous strength.

16 But in his strength <sup>b</sup> his heart arose to his destruction: for he transgressed against the Lord his God, and went into the temple of the Lord, to burne incense vpon the altar of incense.

17 And Azaria the Priest went in after him, and with him foure score Priests of the Lord, that were valiant men:

18 And they stood against Ozias the king, and said vnto him, It pertaineth not to thee, Ozias, to burne incense vnto <sup>c</sup> the Lord, but to the Priests the children of Aaron, that are consecrated for to offer incense: come therefore out of the sanctuarie, for thou hast trespassed, and it is no worship for thee before the Lord God.

19 And Ozias was woth, and had incense in his hand to burne it, and so while he had indignation against the priests, the leprosie sprang in his forehead before the priests in the house of the Lord, euen beside the incense altar.

20 And Azaria the chiefe Priest, with all the other priests, looked vpon him, and beholde, he was become a leper in his forehead, and they thrust him from thence, and he had to go out, because the Lord had smitten him.

21 * And Ozias the king continued a leper vnto the day of his death, and dwelt severall in an house, being a leper, and shut out of the house of the Lord: and Jotham his sonne had the gouernance of the kings house, and iudged the people of the land.

1 Jotham reigneth, and ouercommeth the Ammonites. 8 Hisraigne and death. 9 Ahas his sonne reigneth in his stead.

Jotham * was twenty & siue yeeres old when he began to reigne, and he reigned sxtene yeeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name was al- to Jerusa, the daughter of Zadoc.

2 And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lorde, in all pointes as did his father Othas, saue that hee came not into the temple of the Lord: and the people did yet wickedly.

3 He built the high gate of the temple of the Lord, and on the wall (where the house of ordinance was) he built much.

4 Moreover, hee built cities in the mountaines of Juda, and in the wood countrey hee built castles and to wres.

5 He fought with the king of the children of Ammon, and prevailed against them, and the children of Ammon gaue him the same yeere an hundred talents of siluer, and ten thousand measures of wheate, and ten thousand of barley: so much did the children of Ammon giue him the second yeere, and the third also.

6 So Jotham became mightie, because he directed his wayes before the Lord his God.

7 The rest of the actes of Jotham, and all his warres, and his conuersacion, loe, they are written in the booke of the kings of Israel and Juda.

8 He was siue and twentie yeeres old when he began to reigne, and reigned sxtene yeeres in Hierusalem.

9 And Jotham slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of Dauid: and Ahas his sonne reigned in his stead.

The xxviij. Chapter.

1 Ahas an idolater is giuen into the hands of the Syrians and the king of Israel. 23 Ahas encreaseh his idolatrie. 26 His death, and successour.

Ahas * was twentie yeeres olde when hee beganne to reigne, and reigned sxtene yeeres in Hierusalem, and hee did not that which is right in the sight of the Lord, as did his father Dauid:

2 For he walked in the wayes of the kings of Israel, and made molten images for Baalim.

3 He offered incense in the balley of the sonne of Hinnom, and burnt his children in fire, after the abominations of the Heathen, whom the Lord cast out before the children of Israel.

4 He offered also, and burnt incense in the high places, and on mountaines, and vnder euery greene tree.

5 Wherefore the Lorde his God deliuered him into the hand of the king of the Syrians, which smote him, and carried away a great multitude of his captiue, and brought them to Damaeus: and he was deliuered into the hand of the king of Israel, which smot him with a great slaughter.

6 For Decah the sonne of Romelia slew in Juda an hundred and twenty thousand in one day, which were all fighting men: and that because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers.

7 And Zichi a mighty man of Ephraim, slew Paasia the kings sonne, and Azrica the gouernour of the house, and Elcana that was next to the king.

8 And the children of Israel tooke prisoners of their brethren, two hundred thousand women, sonnes, and daughters, and caried a way much spoile of them, and brought the spoile to Samaria.

9 But there was a Prophet of the Lords, whose name was Obed: and he went out before the hosse that came to Samaria, and sayd vnto them, Behold, because the Lord God of your fathers is wroth with Juda, he hath deliuered them into your hand, and ye haue slaine them with crueltie that reacheth vp to heauen.

10 And now yee purpose to keepe vnder the children of Juda and Hierusalem, and to make them bondmen and bondwomen: and do ye not saue your selues with sinne in the sight of the Lord your God?

11 Now heare me therefore, and deliuer the captiues againe which yee haue taken of your brethren: for els shall the great wrath of God be vpon you.

12 Wherefore certaine of the heads of the children of Ephraim, as Azaria the sonne of Iohanan, Berechia the sonne of Mesilemoth, and Ezechias the sonne of Sallum, and Amasa the sonne of Hadlai, stood vpon against them that came from the warre:

13 And sayd vnto them, Bring not in the captiues hither: for whereas we haue offered toward God already, yee intend to adde moze to our sinnes and trespass: for our trespass is great already, and there is a fierce wrath against Israel.

14 And vpon that, the men of armes left the captiues, and the spoile, before the lozds and all the congregation:

15 And the men that were now rehearsed by name, rose vp, and tooke the prisoners, and with the spoile clothed all that were naked among them, and arayed them, and shooed them, & gaue them to care and to drinke, and anointed them, and caried all that were feeble of them vpon asses, and brought them to Jericho the citie of palme trees, to their brethren: and then they returned to Samaria againe.

16 At that same time did king Ahas send vnto the kings of the Syrians, to haue helpe of them.

17 And the Edomites came againe, and slew some of Juda, and caried away captiues.

18 And the Philistines inuaded the cities in the low countrey, & toward the South of Juda, and tooke Bethlames, & Alalon, and Gederoth, and Socho, with the townes longing thereto, and Chimna with the townes of the same, Gimsa and the townes thereof, and dwell there.

22 And in the very time of his tribulation, did king Achas trespasse yet more against the Lord.

23 For he offered vnto the gods of Damascus, which smote him, and he said, Because the gods of the kings of Syria helpe them, therefore will I offer to them, that they may helpe me also: but they were his destruction, and the destruction of all Israel.

24 And Achas gathered together the bessels of the house of God, and brake them, and shut vp the doores of the house of the Lord, and made him altars in euery corner of Hierusalem.

3 He opened the doores of the house of the Lord, in the first yeere and first moneth of his reigne, and repaired them.

4 And he brought in the Priestes and the Leuites, and gathered them together into the East-streete,

5 And said vnto them, Heare mee, pee Leuites, and now be sanctified, and hallow the house of the Lorde God of your fathers, bying filthyneesse out of the holy place.

6 For our fathers haue trespassed, and done euill in the eyes of the Lord our God, and haue forsaken him, and turned away their faces from the habitation of the Lord, and turned their backs on it.

7 And beside that, they haue shut vp the doores of the porch, and quenched the lampes, & haue neither burnt incense, nor offered whole burnt offerings in the holy place vnto the God of Israel.

8 Wherefore the wrath of the Lord fell on Iuda & Hierusalem, and he hath brought them to trouble, to be wondrous on, and to be killed at, cunct as pee see with your eyes.

9 For loe, our fathers were ouerthrowen with the sword, and our sonnes, our daughters, and our wiues were caried away captiue for the same cause.

10 And nowe it is in mine heart to make a couenant with the Lorde God of Israel, that hee may turne away his heauie indignation from vs.

11 Now therefore, my sonnes, be not negligent: for the Lord hath chosen you to stand before him, and for to minister and serue him, and to burne incense.

12 Then the Leuites arose, Mahath the sonne of Amasai, and Joel the sonne of Azaria, of the children of the Caathites: and of the sons of Merari, Cis the sonne of Abdi, and Azaria the sonne of Jahaleiel: and of the sonnes of the Gersonites, Joah the sonne of Simma, and Eden the sonne of Joah:

13 And of the sonnes of Elizaphan, Simri and Jehiel: and of the sonnes of Afaph, Zacharia and Patthanias:

14 And of the sonnes of Heman, Jehiel, and Shimei: and of the sonnes of Adithun, Semais, and Oziel.

15 And they gathered their brethren, and purified themselves, & came according to the commandement of the king, and the wordes of the Lord, for to cleanse the house of the Lord.

16 And the priests went into the inner parts of the house of the Lord, to cleanse it, and brought out all the vncleannesse that they found in the temple of the Lord, into the court of the house of the Lord: and the Leuites tooke it, to carry it out into the brooke Cedron.

17 They beganne the first day of the first moneth to purge, and the eight day of the moneth came they to the porch of the Lord: so they sanctified the house of the Lorde in eight dayes, and in the sixteenth day of the first moneth they made an ende.

18 And they went in to Hezecia the king and said, We haue cleansed all the house of the Lord, the altar of the whole burnt offering, with all his bessels, and the Sheb bread table, with all his apparell:

19 And all the bessels which king Achas did cast aside when he reigned & transgressed, them we haue prepared and sanctified, and beholde, they are before the altar of the Lord.

20 And Hezecia the king rose carely, and gathered the lords of the cite, and went by to the house of the Lord.

21 And they brought seuen oxen, seuen rammes, seuen sheepe, and seuen hee goates, to be a sinne offering, for the kingdome, for the sanctuary, and for Iuda: and he commanded the Priestes, the sonnes of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the Lord.

22 And they slew the oxen, and the priests receiued the blood, and sprinkled it on the altar: likewise when they had slaine the rammes, they sprinkled the blood vpon the altar: they slew also the sheepe, and they sprinkled the blood vpon the altar.

23 And then they brought forth the hee goats for the sinne offering, before the king and the congregation, and put their hands vpon them.

24 And the priests slew them, and with the blood of them they cleansed the altar, to make satisfaction for all Israel: for the king commanded that the whole burnt offering and the sinne offering should be made for all Israel:

25 And set the Leuites in the house of the Lord, with cymbales, plalteries, and harpes, 26 And the Levites stood, having the instruments of Dauid: and the priests held the trumpets.

27 And Hezecia commanded to offer the whole burnt offering upon the altar: And when the whole burnt offering began, the song of the Lord began also, and the trumpets, with the instruments that were ordained by the hand of Dauid king of Israel.

28 And all the Congregation worshipped, singing a song, and blowing with the trumpets: and all this continued untill the whole burnt offering was finished.

30 And Hezecia the king, and the lords spake to the Levites, to praise the Lord with the words of Dauid a of Asaph the Seer: and they sang praises with gladnes, and the other bowed themselves, and worshipped.

31 And Hezecia answered and said, How ye have consecrated your hands unto the Lord: go to therefore, and bring the sacrifices and thanke offerings into the house of the Lorde. And the congregation brought in the sacrifices a thanke offerings, and whole burnt offerings, as many as were of a free liberall heart.

32 And the number of the whole burnt offerings, which the congregation brought, was threescore and tenne oren, an hundred rammes, and two hundred sheepe: which were all for the whole burnt offering of the Lord.

33 And there were dedicated five hundred oren, and three thousand shepe.

34 And the priests were too few to slay all the whole burnt offerings: but their brethren the Levites did helpe them, till they had ended the worke, and untill the priests were sanctified: for the Levites were purer hearted to be sanctified then the priests.

35 And thereto the whole burnt offerings were many, with the fat of the peace offerings, a the drinke offerings that belong to the whole burnt offering: and so the service, pertaining to the house of the Lord, was finished.

36 And Hezecia reioiced, and all the people, that God had made the folke so ready, and that the thing was so done.

The xxx. Chapter.

The keeping of the Pasfeouer by the kings commaundement.

And Hezecia sent to all Israel and Juda, and wrote letters to Ephraim and Manasse, that they should come to the house of the Lorde at Hierusalem, and keepe the Pasfeouer unto the Lord God of Israel.

2 And the king held a counsel with his lords, and all the congregation of Hierusalem, to keepe the feast of Pasfeouer in the second moneth:

3 For they could not keepe it at that time, because the Priests were not sanctified sufficiently, neither was the people gathered together to Hierusalem.

4 And the thing pleased the king and all the congregation.

5 And they decreed that it should be proclaimed throughout all Israel, from Beerseba to Dan, that they should come and hold the feast of Pasfeouer unto the Lord God of Israel at Hierusalem: for they had not done it of a great season as it is written.

b That is, in the time of the Pasfeouer, as it is written in the law.

6 So the postes went with letters of the kings and of his lords, thorowout all Israel and Juda, and at the commaundement of the king they said, Ye children of Israel, turne againe unto the Lord God of Abraham, Isahar, and Israel, and he will returne to the remnant that are escaped of you out of the hand of the kings of the Assyrians.

7 And be not like your fathers and your brethren, which trespassed against the Lord God of their fathers, which gaue them vp to be destroyed, as ye see.

8 And now be not ye stiffnecked like as were your fathers: but yeeld your selues unto the Lorde, and enter into his holy place, which hee hath sanctified for euer, and serue the Lord your God, and the fiercenesse of his wrath shall turne away from you.

9 For if ye turne againe unto the Lord, then shall your brethren and your children haue compassion in the presence of them that tooke them captiue, and they shall come againe unto this land: for the Lord our God is gracious and merciful, and wil not turne away his face from you, if ye conuert unto him.

10 And so the postes went from citie to citie, thorow the land of Ephraim, and Manasse, euen unto Zabulon: but they laughed them to scorne, and mocked them.

11 Neuertheles, yet diuers of Aser, Manasse, and of Zabulon, submitted themselves, a came to Hierusalem.

12 And the hand of God was in Juda, and he gaue them one heart to doe the commaundement of the king, and of the rulers, according to the word of the Lord.

13 And there assembled to Hierusalem much people, and there was present a mighty great congregation, to holde the feast of sweete bread in the second moneth.

14 And they arose, and remoued the altars that were in Hierusalem: and all the altars for incense did they away, and cast them into the brooke Cedron.

15 And they slewe the Pasfeouer the foureteenth day of the second moneth: and the priests and Levites which were ashamed, sanctified themselves, and brought in the whole burnt offerings into the house of the Lord.

c Seeking their vaine negligence, and the readinesse of the people.

16 And they stood in their office after their manner, and according to the law of Moses the man of God: and the priests sprinkled the blood which they receiued of the hand of the Levites.

17 For there were many in the congregation that were not sanctified, and therefore the Levites had the charge of the killing of the Pasfeouer for every one that was not cleane, to sanctifie him unto the Lord.

18 For many of the people, and very many of Ephraim, Manasse, Isahar, and Zabulon, were not cleansed, and yet did eate the Pasfeouer, against the lawe appointed: but Hezecia prayed for them, saying, The good Lord be mercifull toward euery one,

Lord God, the God of his fathers, though he be not cleaned according to the purification of the sanctuary.

20 And the Lord heard Hezecia, and healed the people.

21 And the children of Israel that were present at Hierusalem, held the feast of sweete bread seuen dayes with great gladnesse: and the Leuites and the priests praised the Lord day by day, singing with loude instruments vnto the Lord.

22 And Hezecia spake || comfortably vnto all the Leuites that had good knowledge to sing vnto the Lord: and they did eate throughout that feast seuen daies long, and offred peace offerings, and thanked the Lord God of their fathers.

23 And the whole assembly tooke counsell to doe so other seuen dayes: and they held those seuen dayes with gladnesse.

24 For Hezecia king of Iuda, did giue to the congregation a thousand young oren, & seuen thousand sheepe: and the lords gaue out to the congregation a thousand oren, and tenne thousand sheepe, and a great number of the Priests were sanctified.

25 And all the congregation of Iuda, with the Priests and Leuites, and all the congregation that came out of Israel, and the strangers that came out of the land of Israel, & that dwell in Iuda, reioiced.

26 And there was great gladnesse in Hierusalem: for since the time of Solomon the sonne of Dauid king of Israel, there was no such ioy in Hierusalem.

27 And the Priests and the Leuites arose, and blessed the people: and their voice was heard of the Lord, and their prayer came by vnto heauen his holy dwelling place.

The xxxj. Chapter.

1 The people destroy idolatric. 2 Hezecia appointeth Priests and Leuites, 4 and prouideth for their liuing.

And when all these things were finished, all Israel that were present in the cities of Iuda, went out and brake the images, and cut downe the groues, and all to brake the high places and altars thorowout all Iuda and Benjamin, in Ephraim also and Manasse, vntil they had utterly destroyed them all: and all the children of Israel returned euery man to his possession, and to their owne cities.

2 And Hezecia appointed sundry companies of the Priests and Leuites, after the diuersitie of their ministrations, euery man according to his office, both Priests and Leuites, for the whole burnt offering, and peace offerings, to minister and to giue thankes and praise in the gates of the holie of the Lord.

3 And the kings portion of his substance that hee gaue, were dayly whole burnt offerings in the morning and euening, and whole burnt offerings for the Sabbath dayes, newe moones, and solemne feasts, according as it is written in the law of the Lord.

4 And he bade the people that dwell in Hierusalem, to giue a part to the Priests and Leuites, that they might with more courage apply themselves to the law of the Lord.

5 And as soone as the kings commandement came abroad, the children of Israel brought a bundance of first fruits, of corne, wine, oyle, honie, and of all maner of fruits of the field, and the fishes of all maner of things brought they in plentiously.

6 And the children of Israel and Iuda, that dwell in the cities of Iuda, they also brought in the tithes of oren and sheepe, and other holy tithes, which were consecrate vnto the Lord their God, and layd them all by heapes.

7 In the third moneth they began to lay the heapes in maner of a foundation, and finished them in the seuenth moneth.

8 And when Hezecia and the lordes came and saw the heapes, they blessed the Lord, and his people Israel.

9 And Hezecia questioned with the Priests and the Leuites concerning the heapes.

10 And Azaria the chiefe Priest, of the house of Zadoc, answered him, and said, Since the people began to bring the heave offerings into the house of the Lord, we also haue had enough to eat, and yet remaineth plenty: for the Lord hath blessed his people, and this heape is left.

11 And Hezecia bade prepare the chambers in the house of the Lord: and they did prepare them,

12 And caried in the first fruits, the tithes, and the dedicate things faithfully, ouer which Chononia the Leuite had the rule, and Semei his brother next to him:

13 And Ichiel, Azaria, Nahath, Asael, Jerimoth, Jolabab, Eliel, Jehuachia, Mahath, and Banaias, were ouerscers, ordeined by Chononia, and Semei his brother was an officer of Hezecia the king, and Azaria was the ruler of the house of God.

14 And Chozai the sonne of Imma the Leuite, and porter of the East doore, had the ouersight of the things that were offered of a free will vnto God, to distribute the oblations of the Lord, and the holy things that were consecrate.

15 And vnder his hand were Eden, Miniamin, Iesua, Semaia, Amaria, and Sechania, in the cities of the priests, appointed of their fidelitie to giue to their brethren their parts, as well to the small, as to the great:

16 Also to their generation, being males, fro three yeres olde and byward, euen vnto euery one that entrech into the house of the Lord, they shall giue day by day for their ministration, and for their giuing attendance, and for their diuers waitings by course,

17 Both to the generation of the Priests and Leuites, throughout the householde of their fathers, from twentie yeres and aboue, to waite when their courses came:

18 And to the families of all their babes, wiues, sonnes and daughters, through all the congregation: for vpon the fidelitie of them, were the holy things bestowed.

19 And to the children of Aaron the Priests which were in the fields and suburbs of their cities, city by city, the men whose names were expressed afore, should giue portions to all the males among the Priests, and to all the Leuites, according to their number.

20 And of this maner did Hezecia thorowout all Iuda, and wrought that is good and right and true before the Lord his God.

21 And in all the workes that he began for the seruice of the house of God, according to the

The xxxij. Chapter,

1 Sennacherib inuadeth Iuda. 3 Hezecia prepareth for the warre. 7 Hee exhortheth the people to put their trust in the Lord.

After that these deedes were faithfully done, * Sennacherib king of the Assyrians came, and entred into Iuda, and compassed the strong cities, and thought to winne them for himselfe.

2 And so when Hezecia sawe that Sennacherib was come, and that hee was purposed to fight against Hierusalem,

3 He tooke counsell with his lords and men of might, to stoppe the water of the fountaines without the citie: and they did helpe him.

4 For there gathered many of the people together, and stopt all the welles, and the brooke that ranne thowow the mids of the land, saying, why shall the kings of the Assyrians come, and find much water?

5 And Hezecia went to lustily, and buist by the wall where it was broken, and made the towers, and another wall without, and repaired Billo in the citie of Dauid, and made many darts and shields.

6 And hee set captaines of warre ouer the people, and gathered them together to him in the large strette of the gate of the citie, and spake gently to them, saying,

7 Bluche by your hearts, and be strong, be not afraid nor discouraged for the king of the Assyrians, and for all the multitude that he hath with him: for there be moe with vs then with him.

8 With him is an arme of flesh, but with vs is the Lord our God, for to help vs, and to fight our battels. And the people tooke a courage thowow the words of Hezecia king of Iuda.

9 After this did Sennacherib king of the Assyrians send of his seruants to Hierusalem (but he himselfe remained beside Lachis, hauing all his power with him) vnto Hezecia king of Iuda, and vnto all Iuda that were at Hierusalem, saying,

10 Thus saith Sennacherib king of the Assyrians, wherein doe ye trust, O pee that dwell in Hierusalem which is besieged?

11 Woth not Hezecia entice you to giue ouer your selues vnto death, hunger, and thirst, saying, The Lorde our God shall ridde vs out of the hand of the king of the Assyrians?

12 Hath not the same Hezecia put downe his high places and his altars, and commaunded Iuda and Hierusalem, saying, Pee shall worship befoze one altar, and burne incense vpon the same?

13 Know ye not what I and my fathers haue done vnto all people of the lands? were the gods of the people of other lands able or mighty to saue their lands out of my hand?

14 Which of all the gods of those nations that my fathers destroyed, could deliuer his people out of my hand? And shall your God be able to deliuer you out of my hand?

15 Wherefoze now let not Hezecia deceiue you, nor perswade you of this fashion, nor yet beleue him: for as no god among all nations and kingdomes was able to ridde his people out of my hand, and out of the hand of my fathers: how much lesse shall your gods be able to keepe you out of my hand?

16 And yet moe things did his seruants speake against the Lorde God, and against his seruant Hezecia.

17 And Sennacherib also wrote a letter to raise on the Lorde God of Israel, and spake against him, saying, As the gods of the nations of other landes haue not bene able to deliuer their people out of my hand: euen so shall not the God of Hezecia deliuer his people out of my hand.

18 And they cryed with a loude voyce in the Jewes speech vnto the people of Hierusalem that were on the wall, to feare them, & to make them faint hearted, and that they might take the citie.

19 And they spake against the God of Hierusalem, as against the gods of the nations of the earth, which were the workes of the handes of men.

20 But Hezecia the king, and the Prophet Esai the sonne of Amos prayed against the blasphemie, and cryed by to heauen.

21 And the Lord sent an Angel which destroyed all the men of warre, and the lordes and captaines of the holste of the king of the Assyrians, that he turned his face againe with shame toward his owne land: and when he was come into the house of his god, they that came of his owne body slew him there with the sword.

22 And so the Lord saued Hezecia and the inhabitants of Hierusalem out of the hand of Sennacherib the king of the Assyrians, and from the hand of all other, and maintained them on euerie side.

23 And many brought offerings vnto the Lorde to Hierusalem, and presented to Hezecia king of Iuda: so that hee was magnified in the sight of all nations from thenceforth.

24 In those dayes * Hezecia was sicke to the death, and prayed vnto the Lord: which answered him, and shewed him a wonderfull miracle.

25 But Hezecia did not againe vnto God according to it that hee had shewed him: for his heart arose, and there came wrath vpon him, and vpon Iuda and Hierusalem.

26 Notwithstanding Hezecia submitted himselfe, after that his heart was risen by, hee, and the inhabitants of Hierusalem: and the wrath of the Lorde came not vpon them in the dayes of Hezecia.

27 And Hezecia had exceeding much riches and honour: and he gate him treasures of siluer and gold, precious stones, and spices, shields, and of all manner pleasant iewels, 28 And made store houses for the fruites of corne, for wine and oyle, and stalles for all manner of beasts, and cotes for sheepe.

29 And he made him cities, and had of sheepe and oren great abundance: for God had giuen him substance exceeding much.

30 This same Hezecia stopped the upper water springs of Sion, and brought them downe to the west side of the citie of Dauid: and Hezecia prospered in all his workes.

31 And when * the princes of Babylon sent vnto him ambassadours, to enquire of the 32 The rest of the deedes of Hezeria, and his goodnesse, behold, they are written in the vision of Esai the Prophet the sonne of Amos, in the booke of the kings of Iuda and Israel.

33 And Hezeria slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the most worthy place of the sepulchres of the sommes of Dauid, and all Iuda and the inhabitants of Hierusalem did him honor at his death: and Manasses his sonne reigned in his stead.

The xxxiiij. Chapter.

1 Manasses an idolater 9 causeth Iuda to erre: 11 He is led prisoner into Babylon.

4. Kin. 21. 1

Manasses * was twelue yeres old when he began to reigne, and he reigned skie and sue yeres in Hierusalem:

2 But did euill in the sight of the Lord, like vnto the abominations of the heathen, whom the Lorde cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For he went backe, and built the high places which Hezeria his father had broken downe: and he reared vp altars for Baalim, and made groues, and worshipped all the hoste of heauen, and serued them.

2. Reg. 7. 10

4 And hee built altars in the house of the Lord, where as the Lord yet had said, * In Hierusalem shall my name be for ever.

5 And he builded altars for all the hoste of heauen, in the two courtes of the house of the Lord.

6 And he burnt his children in fire in the balley of the sonne of Hinnom: he was a soxcerer, he regarded the crying of birds, vsed enchantmets, and maintained workers with spirits, a seers of fortunes, and wrought much euill in the sight of the Lord to anger him withall.

2. Reg. 7. 10
3. Reg. 8. 16

7 And he put the carued image, and an idol which he had made, in the house of God: * of which house God saide to Dauid and to Solomon his sonne, In this house, and in Hierusalem which I haue chosen afore all the tribes of Israel, will I put my Name for ever.

8 Neither will I make the foote of Israel to remouue any more out of the lande which I haue ordeined for your fathers, if so be that they will be diligent, and doe all that I haue commanded them in all the lawe and statutes, and ordinances by the hand of Moses.

9 And so Manasses made Iuda, and the inhabitants of Hierusalem to erre, and to doe worse then the heathen whom the Lord destroyed before the children of Israel.

10 And the Lord spake vnto Manasses, and to his people: but they would not regard.

11 Wherefore the Lord brought vpon them the captaines of the hoste of the king of the Assyrians, which tooke Manasses, and bound him with fetters and chaines, and caried him to Babylon.

12 And when he was in tribulation, he besought the Lord his God, and humbled himselfe exceedingly before the God of his fathers, 14 After this he built a wall without the city of Dauid, on the west side of Bion, in the balley as they come to the sh gate, and round about Ophel, and brought it by of a very great height, and put captaines of warre in all the strong cities of Iuda.

15 And he tooke away strange gods and images out of the house of God, & all the altars that he had built in the mount of the house of God and Hierusalem, and cast them out of the cite.

16 And he prepared the altar of the Lord, and sacrificed thereon peace offerings, and thanke offerings, and charged Iuda to serue the Lorde God of Israel.

17 After thesse, the people did offer still in the high places, howbeit, vnto the Lorde their God onely.

18 The rest of the acts of Manasses, and his prayer vnto his God, & the words of the Seers that spake to him in the name of the Lord God of Israel, behold, they are written in the sayings of the kings of Israel.

19 And his prayer, and howe that he was heard, and all his sinnes, and his trespass, and the places where he made high places, and set by groues and images before he was humbled, behold, they are written among the sayings of the Seers.

20 And Manasses slept with his fathers, and they buried him in his owne house, and Amon his sonne reigned in his rounne.

21 Amon was two and twentie yeres olde when he began to reigne, and reigned two yeres in Hierusalem.

22 But he did euill in the sight of the Lord, like as did Manasses his father: for Amon sacrificed to all the carued images which Manasses his father had made, and serued them.

23 And submitted not himselfe before the Lord, as Manasses his father had humbled himselfe: but Amon trespassed greatly.

24 And his owne seruants conspired against him, and slew him in his owne house.

25 But the people of the land slew all them that had conspired against king Amon: and the same people of the land made Iosias his sonne king in his rounne.

Diias * was eight yeres olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned in Hierusalem thirtie and one yeres.

2 And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the wayes of Dauid his father, and bowed neither to the right hand nor to the left.

3 In the eight yere of his reigne, when he was yet a child, he began to secke after the God of Dauid his father: and in the twelfth yere he began to purge Iuda and Hierusalem, from the high places, groues, carued images, and images of mettall.

4 And they brake downe the altars of Baalim euen in his presence: and other images that were in greater honour then they, hee caused to be destroyed: and the groues, carued images, and images of metall, he brake, and made dust of them, and strowed it vpon the graues of them that had offered into them.

5 And hee burnt the bones of the Priestes vpon the altars of them, and cleansed Iuda and Hierusalem.

6 And so did he in the cities of Manasse, Ephraim, Simeon, vnto Nephthali, and in the wilderness of them round about.

7 Hee plucked asunder the altars and the groues, and did beate the images and stampe them to powder, and cut downe all the idoles throughout all the land of Israel, and returned to Hierusalem againe.

8 In the eighteenth yeere of his reigne, when he had purged the land and the temple, he sent Saphan the sonne of Azalia; and Maasiah the gouernour of the citie, and Iosh the sonne of Iobab; the recorder, to reparaire the house of the Lord his God.

9 And when they came to Helcia the high Priest, they deliuered the money that was brought into the house of God, which the Leuites that kept the entrie had gathered of the hand of Manasse and Ephraim, and of all that yet remained in Israel, and of all Iuda & Benjamin, and they returned to Hierusalem.

10 And they put it in the hands of the workemen that had the ouersight of the house of the Lord, and they gaue it to the labourers, that wrought in the house of the Lord, to reparaire and mend the house.

11 Euen to masons and carpenters gaue they it, to get hewed stone, and timber, for couples, and for beames of the houises, which the kings of Iuda had destroyed.

12 And the men did the worke vpon truil: and the ouersers of them to courage them forward, were Jahath and Obadiah, Leuites of the children of Merari: and Secharia and Mesuliam of the children of the Cassathites, and other of the Leuites, which all could skill of instruments of musicke.

13 And ouer the bearers of burdens, & ouer all that wrought in whatsoever workmanship it were, were there scribes, officers, and porters of the Leuites.

14 And when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the Lord, Helcia the piell found the booke of the lawe of the Lord giuen by Moses.

15 And Helcia answered and said to Saphan the scribe, I haue found the booke of the law in the house of the Lord. And Helcia gaue the booke to Saphan.

16 And Saphan carried the booke to the king, and brought the king word againe, saying, All that was committed to thy seruants, that doe they.

17 And they haue gathered together the money that was found in the house of the Lord, and haue deliuered it into the hands of the ouersers of the worke, and to the handes of the workemen.

18 And then Saphan the Scribe shewed the king, saying, Helcia the Priest hath giuen me a booke: and Saphan read in it before the king.

19 And when the king had heard the wordes of the law, he tare his clothes.

20 And the king commaunded Helcia, and Abican the sonne of Saphan, and Abdon the sonne of Uria, and Saphan the Scribe, and Afaa, a seruant of the kings, saying, 21 Goe and enquire of the Lord for me, and for them that are left in Israel and Iuda, concerning the wordes of the booke that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is fallen vpon vs, because our fathers haue not kept the word of the Lord, to doe after all that is written in this booke.

22 And Helcia, and they that the king had appointed, went to Hulda a prophetesse, the wife of Shallum the sonne of Checuach, the sonne of Hasra, keeper of the wardrobe (for shee dwelt in Hierusalem within the second wall) and so they communed with her.

23 Shee answered them, Thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel, Tell ye the man that sent you to me,

24 Euen thus sayeth the Lord, Beholde, I will bring euil vpon this place, and vpon the inhabitants thereof, euen all the curses that are written in the booke which they haue read before the king of Iuda:

25 Because they haue forsaken me, and haue offered vnto other gods, to anger mee with all manner workes of their hands: therefore is my wrath set on fire against this place, and shall not be quenched.

26 And as for the king of Iuda, which sent you to enquire of the Lord, so shall ye say vnto him, Thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel, concerning the words which thou hast heard, 27 Because thine heart did melt, and thou didest humble thy selfe before God, when thou heardst his words against this place, & against the inhabitants thereof, and humbledst thy selfe before mee, and tarest thy clothes, and diddest weepe before me, I haue heard it also, sayeth the Lord.

28 Beholde, I will take thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be put in thy graue in peace, and thine eyes shall not see all the mischief that I will bring vpon this place, and vpon the inhabitants of the same. And they brought the king word againe.

29 Then the king sent, and gathered together all the Elders of Iuda and Hierusalem:

30 And the king went by into the house of the Lord, and all the men of Iuda, and the inhabitants of Hierusalem, and the Priestes and Leuites, and all the people great and small, and the king did reade in their eares all the wordes of the booke of the covenant that was found in the house of the Lord.

31 And the king stood at his standing, & made a covenant before the Lord, to follow the Lord, and to keepe his commaundments, his witness, and his statutes, with all his heart, and with all his soule, and to fulfill the wordes of the covenant written in the said booke.

32 And hee set in their roome all them that were found in Hierusalem and Benjamin: and the inhabitants of Hierusalem did according to the covenant of the Lord God of their fathers.

33 And Iofias put away all manner of abominations out of all lands that pertained to the children of Israel, and constrained al that were found in Israel, to serue the Lord their God: and they turned not aside from the Lord God of their fathers, as long as he liued.

The xxxv. Chapter.

1 Iosias keepeth the Passeouer. 2 Hee setteth forth Gods seruice. 20 He fighteth against the king of Egypt, and dyeth. 24 The people bewaile him.

Ad * Iosias held the feast of Passeouer vnto the Lorde in Hierusalem, and they slew the Passeouer in the foureteenth day of the first moneth.

2 And he let the priests in their offices, & ayded them in the seruice of the house of the Lorde.

3 And sayde vnto the Leuites that taught all Israel, and were sanctified vnto the Lorde, Put the holy arke in the house which Solomon the sonne of Dauid king of Israel did build, it shall be no more a burden vpon your shoulders: but now serue the Lorde your God, and his people Israel.

4 And prepare your selues by your auncient households and companies, according to the writing of Dauid king of Israel, and the writing of Solomon his sonne:

5 And stand in the holy place according to the diuision of the auncient householdes of your brethren the children of the people, and after the diuision of the ancient householdes of the Leuites:

6 Kill the Passeouer, & sanctifie your selues, and prepare your brethren, that they may doe according to the word of the Lorde by the hand of Moses.

7 And Iosias gaue to the people, sheepe, lambes, and kids, all for the Passeouer, and for all that were present, thirtie thousand by tale, and three thousand oxen: and these were of the kings substance.

8 And his lordes gaue willingly both vnto the people, and vnto the priests, and vnto the Leuites, Helcia also, Zacharia, and Jehiel, rulers of the house of God, gaue vnto the priests for the Passeouer offerings, two thousand and six hundred sheepe, and three hundred oxen.

9 Cononia, Semeta, and Nathanael, his brethren, and Hazabiah, and Jehiel, and Josabad, rulers of the Leuites, gaue vnto the Leuites Passeouer offerings, five thousand sheepe, and five hundred oxen.

10 And so the seruice was prepared, and the priests stood in their places, and the Leuites in their distinct companies, at the kings commandement:

11 And they slew the Passeouer, and the Priests sprinkled the blood with their hand, and the Leuites pulled off the skinnes of the beafts.

12 And they set away the whole burnt offerings, to giue them vnto the people that were diuided by ancient houses: and that they should offer vnto the Lorde, like as it is written in the booke of Moses: and so did they with the oxen also.

13 And they dressed the Passeouer with fire, as the manner was: & the other dedicate beafts sod they in pots, caldrons, and pans, and diuided them speedily among all the people.

14 And afterward they made ready for themselves, and for the Priests: for the Priests the children of Aaron were busied in offering of whole burnt offerings, and the fat vntill night: therefore the Leuites prepared for themselves, and for the Priests the sonnes of Aaron.

15 And the singers the children of Asaph stood in their standing, according to the commandement of Dauid, & Asaph, Heman, and Idithun, the kings Suer: and the porters waited at euery gate, & might not depart from their seruice: so; their brethren the Leuites prepared for them.

16 And so all the seruice of the Lorde was prepared the same day, to offer the Passeouer, and to offer whole burnt offerings vpon the altar of the Lorde, according to the commandement of king Iosias.

17 And the children of Israel that were present, kept the Passeouer the same time, and the feast of sweete bread, seuen dayes.

18 And there was no Passeouer like to that kept in Israel, from the dayes of Samuel the Prophet, neither did all the kings of Israel hold such a Passeouer as did Iosias, and the Priests, and Leuites, and all Juda and Israel that were present, and the inhabitants of Hierusalem.

19 This Passeouer was holden in the eighteenth yere of the reigne of Iosias.

20 After all this, * when Iosias had prepared the temple, Necho king of Egypt came by to fight against Charcanis, beside Euphrates: and Iosias went out against him.

21 Which sent messengers to him, and sayd, what haue I to doe with thee thou king of Iuda: // Bee not thou against thy selfe this day, for my warre is against another house, & God haue me make haste: leave off therefore, and meddle not with God which is with me, lest he destroy thee.

22 Neuerthelesse, Iosias would not turne his face from him, // but rather tooke aduise to fight with him, and hearkened not vnto the wordes of Necho, * out of the mouth of God, and came to fight in the balley of Megiddo.

23 And the shooters shot darts at king Iosias: and the king said to his seruants, Carry me away, for I am sore wounded.

24 His seruants therefore had him out of that charet, and put him in another charet that they had: and when they had brought him to Hierusalem, he died, and was buried in the sepulchre of his fathers: and all Juda and Hierusalem mourned for Iosias.

25 And Jeremias lamented Iosias, and all singing men, & singing women mourned for Iosias in their lamentations to this day, and made the same lamentations an ordinance in Israel, and behold, they are written in the lamentations.

26 The rest of the actes of Iosias, and his goodnes, as it is written in the law of the Lorde.

27 And his sayings first and last, beholde they are written in the booke of the kings of Israel and Iuda.

4 And the king of Egypt made Eliacim his brother king upon Juda and Hierusalem, and turned his name to Joacim: and Necho tooke Joabaz his brother, and carried him to Egypt.

5 Joacim was twentie and five yeeres olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned eleuen yeeres in Hierusalem, and he did euill in the sight of the Lord his God.

6 Against him came by Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, & bound him with two chains to carry him to Babylon.

7 Nabuchodonosor also carried of the vessels of the house of the Lozde to Babylon, and put them in his temple at Babylon.

8 The rest of the actes of Joacim, and his abominations which hee did, and that which was found upon him, behold, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Israel and Juda, and Joacim his sonne reigned in his stead.

9 And Joacim was eight yeeres old when he began to reign, and he reigned three moneths and ten dayes in Hierusalem, and did euill in the sight of the Lord.

10 And when the yeere was out, King Nabuchodonosor sent, & fet him to Babylon, with the goodly vessels of the house of the Lord, and made Zedecia his fathers brother king ouer Juda and Hierusalem.

11 Zedecia was twentie and one yeeres olde when hee began to reigne, and reigned eleuen yeeres in Hierusalem.

12 And he did euill in the sight of the Lozde his God, and humbled not himselfe before Jeremie the Prophet at the mouth of the Lozde.

13 And he rebelled against king Nabuchodonosor, which had receiued an oth of him by God: but he was stiffnecked, and too hard hearted, to turne vnto the Lord God of Israel.

14 Moreover, all the chiefe of the Priestes, and the people, transgressed wonderfully, after all manner of abominations of the heathen, and polluted the house of the Lozde, which hee had hallowed in Hierusalem.

15 And the Lord God of their fathers sent to them by his messengers, rising by betimes, and sending: for hee had compassion on his people, and on his dwelling place.

16 But they mocked the messengers of God, and despised his wordes, and mislud his Prophets, vntill the wrath of the Lord arose against his people, and till there was no remedie.

17 And so hee brought vpon them the king of Chaldee, which slew their young men with the sword in their holy temple, and spared neither yong man, mayden, olde man, nor him that stooped for age: he gaue them all into his hand.

18 And all the vessels of the house of God, both great and small, and the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the king, and of his lordes: all these carried he to Babylon.

19 And they burnt the house of God, & brake downe the wal of Hierusalem, and burnt all the palaces thereof with fire, and destroyed all the goodly iewels thereof.

20 And the rest that had escaped the sword, carried hee to Babylon: where they were bondmen to him and his childzen, vntill the time that Persia had the Empire:

21 To fulfill the woode of the Lozde by the mouth of Jeremie, vntill the land had her pleasure of her Sabboths: for as long as shee lay desolate, shee kept Sabboth, vntill threescore and ten yeeres were fulfilled.

22 And the first yeere of Cyrus king of Persia (when the word of the Lozde, spoken by the mouth of Jeremie, was finished) the Lozde stirred by the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, that he made a proclamation thozowout all his kingdome, and that by writing, saying,

23 Thus saith Cyrus king of Persia, All the kingdomes of the earth hath the Lozde God of heauen giuen me, and hath charged me to build him an house in Hierusalem, that is in Juda: wherefoze whosoever is among you of all his people, the Lozde his God be with him, and let him goe by.

ans continued, and also touching the names of the Monarchies herein described, wherein there is great confusion. And therefore all other opinions set apart, we will herein follow Philo Iudeus, and Metasthene, auncient authors, whose opinions do nearest agree with the holy scriptures.

Cyrus hauing conquered the kingdome of the Medes against Astiages, left the saide kingdome to his vnckle Darius: by whose aid he tooke Babylon, and transported the monarchy of Babylon to the Persians. Two yeres after, the saide Darius returned into Mede, and Cyrus reigned alone in Babylon. Then he mooued warre against the Scythians, & marched toward them, & in the meane while left Cambyses his sonne, king of the countrey in his absence, according to the custome of the Persians, which was to appoint the nerest of the kings blood to be king ouer the countrey, when the king went out to fight against any strange nation. This is the cause why Cambyses was not set in the successe order of the monarchies. Neither is there any mention of two brethren that were Magicians, which guilefully vsurped the kingdome: but their guyle being knowen, they continued but a fewe moneths, and Darius sonne to Hytaspis, was chosen king.

Xerxes the sonne of the saide Darius succeeded him: but is not here placed in the number of the monarchies, for that hee left his kingdome to Darius Longhand his sonne (according to the custome of the Persians) when he went to warre against the Greeces. The Greeke Historiographers not respecting that custome, number the sayde Xerxes, and Cambyses aboue mentioned, among the sayd Monarchies successiue in order, which is the cause that they count more yeres in the saide Monarchie, that is to say, 226. yeres.

As touching their confused names, yee shall vnderstand that among the Persians, Darius signifieth, hee that subdueth: Xerxes, a warriour: Artaxerxes, a great warriour. Also, that this name Assuerus, is drawn from the Hebrewes, in steade of Artaxerxes. further, that Artaxerxes was the common name of all kings of Persia, as Pharaos was the common name of the kings of Egypt, & Cesar of the Romish Emperors. Therefore where yee finde many indifferently named Darius, or Artaxerxes, or both together, that is the cause of the difficulty, how to vnderstand vnder what king that happened which is recited in the sayde booke of Esdras, Nehemias, Esther, Daniel, and other places of the holy scriptures, except yee will marke them, and well vnderstand the contents of this table.

The first Booke of Eldras.

The first Chapter.

1 Cyrus sendeth againe the people that was in captiuitie, 8 And restoreth them their holy vessel.

In the first yeere of Cyrus King of Persia, (that the word of the Lord, spoken by the mouth of Ieremie, might be fulfilled) the Lord stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, & hee caused to be proclaimed through out all his empire, and to be written, saying,

2 Thus saith Cyrus the king of Persia, The Lord God of heauen hath giuen me al the kingdomes of the earth, and hath commanded mee to builde him an house at Hierusalem, which is in Iuda.

3 whosoever now among you is of his people, the Lord his God bee with him, and let him goe bp to Hierusalem in Iuda, and builde the house of the Lord God of Isra. (he is the God) that is at Hierusalem.

4 And whosoever remaineth yet in any manner of place, where hee is a stranger, let the men of that place helpe him with silver & golde, with goods & cattell, beside that whh they willingly offer for the house of God that is at Hierusalem.

5 Then gate bp the principall fathers of Iuda and Beniamin, and the Priests and Leuites, and all they whose spirit God had raised to goe bp, and to builde the house of the Lord which is at Hierusalem.

6 And all they that were out them, strengthened their hande with vels of siluer and gold, with goods, and cattell, & jewels, besides all that was willingly offered.

7 And king Cyrus brought forth the vessels of the house of the Lord, which Nabuchodonosor had taken out of Hierusalem, and had put in the house of his God.

8 Those did Cyrus the king of Persia bring forth by the hand of Mishpates the asurer, and numbred them into Selbazer prince of Iuda.

9 And this is the number of the thirtie chargers of golde, a thousand charger of siluer, twenty and nine kiuues:

10 Thirtie basons of gold, and of siluer basons, foure hundred and tenne: and other vessels, a thousand.

11 All the vessels of gold and siluer, a foue thousand and foure hundred: all these did Selbazer carry away with them that came bp of the captiuitie of Babylon into Hierusalem.

58 All the Methinims, and the children of Solomons seruants, were altogether three hundred, ninetie and two.

59 And these went by from Theilmelah, and from Theharia, Cherub, Addon, & Immer, but they coule not discern their fathers house, and their seede, whether they were of Israel.

60 The children of Tobia, the children of Delaia, the children of Necoda five hundred, fiftie and two.

61 And of the children of the Priests: the children of Habaaia, the children of Accoz, the children of Berzillai, which tooke one of the daughters of Berzillai the Gileadite to wife, and was called after their name.

62 These sought the register of their petigree, and were not found, therefore were they put from the Priesthood.

63 And Pathirsatha said vnto them, that they should not eate of the most holy, till there rose by a Priest to weare || Arim and Chummin.

64 The whole Congregation together was fourtie and two thousande, three hundred and threescore:

65 Beside their seruants and maydens, of whom there were seuen thousande, three hundred, thirtie and seuen: and there were among them two hundred singing men and women.

66 Their horses were seuen hundred, thirtie and five: their Mules, two hundred, fourtie and five.

67 And their Camels, foure hundred, thirtie and five: their Asses, six thousand, seuen hundred and twentieth.

68 And certaine of the chiefe fathers, when they came to the house of the Lord at Hierusalem, they offered themselues willing for the house of God, to set it by in his place:

69 And gaue golde after their abilitie, vnto the treasure of the worke, threescore & one thousand pieces, an five thousande pound of silver, and an hundred Priests garments.

70 So the Priests, and the Levites, and certaine of the peope, and the singers, and the porters, and the Methinims, dwelt in their cities, and all Israel in their cities.

3 And the Altar set they vpon his sockets: for there was a fearefulnesse among them, because of the people of those countreys, therefore they offered whole burnt offerings thereon vnto the Lord, euen whole burnt offerings, morning and evening.

Cyrus the King of Persia.

In the second yere of their coming vnto the house of God at Hierusalem, in the second moneth, began Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Josue the sonne of Joseduc, and the remnant of their brethren, the Priests and Leuites, and all they that were come out of the captiuitie vnto Hierusalem: and appointed the Leuites from twentieth yeres olde, and aboue, to see that the work of the house of the Lord went for ward.

And Josue stood with his sonnes and brethren, and Cadmiel, with his sonnes, and the children of Juda, as one man, to set forward the workmen of the house of God, the children of Benadab, with their children, and their brethren the Leuites.

And when the builders layde the foundation of the Temple of the Lord, they appointed Priests in their array with trumpets, and the Leuites the children of Asaph with Cymbals to praise the Lord after the maner of Dauid King of Israel.

And they sang together when they gaue praise and thanks vnto the Lord, Because he is gracious, and because his mercie endureth for euer vpon Israel: And all the people shrowed loude in praising the Lord, because the foundation of the house of the Lord was layd.

But many of the Priests and Leuites, and chiefe fathers, and ancient men, which had seene the first house, when the foundation was layde before their eyes, wept with a loude voyce, and many shrowed aloud with joy:

So that the people could not discern the ioyfull sounde and gladnesse, from the noyse of the weeping among the people: for the people shrowed with a loud cry, & the noyse was heard farre off.

The iiij. Chapter.

The building of the Temple is hindered, and how.
11 Letters to Artaxerxes, and the answer.

But the aduersaries of Juda and Benjamin, heard that the children of the captiuitie builded the temple vnto the Lord God of Israel.

And they came to Zorobabel, and to the principal fathers, and said vnto them, we will builde with you, for wee seeke the Lord your God, as ye doe, and wee haue done sacrifice vnto him since the time of Asoz Daddon the king of Assur, which brought vs by hither.

And Zorobabel, and Josue, and the other ancient fathers of Israel, saide vnto them, It cannot bee that you and wee together should build the house vnto our God: for we our selues will builde alone vnto the Lord our God of Israel, as Cyrus the king of Persia hath commanded vs.

And the folke of the land discouraged the people of Juda, and troubled them as they were building:

And hired counsellers against them, to hinder their deuisie, as long as Cyrus the King of Persia liued, buttill the reigne of Darius King of Persia.

And in the reigne of Artaxerxes, at the beginning of his reigne, wrote they vnto him a complaint against the inhabitants of Juda and Hierusalem.

And in the dayes of Artaxerxes, wrote Dithirbach, Tabeel, and the other of his counsel, vnto Artaxerxes the King of Persia with faire wordes: and the writing of the letter was in the Syrians speech, & interpreted in the language of the Syrians:

8 Behum the Recorder, and Samtai the Scribe, wrote a letter from Hierusalem to Artaxerxes the King, as it followeth.

Then Behum the Recorder, and Samtai the Scribe, and other of their company, they of Mina, of Apharsach, of Carpelai, of Persia, of Arache, of Babilo, of Susan, of Becha, of Eflan,

And other of the people, whom the great and noble Assnapper brought ouer, and set in the cities of Samaria, and other that are now beyond the water, and Cheeneth.

This is the tenor of the letter that they sent vnto King Artaxerxes, thy seruants, and the men that are now beyond the water, and in Cheeneth, salute thee.

See it knowne vnto the King, that the Jewes which came by from thee to vs, are come vnto Hierusalem, a citie seditious and froward, and beside the same, and set by the walles thereof, and lay the foundations.

See it knowne now vnto the king, that if this citie bee builded, and the walles made by againe, then shall not they giue tolle, tribute, and custome, & so they shall hinder the kings tribute.

And now we remembering that wee were brought by in the kings palace, & would no longer see the kings dishonour, therefore sent wee out also, and certified the king,

That it may be sought in the booke of the Chronicles of thy progenitours, & so shalt thou find in the booke of the Chronicles, and perceiue that this citie is seditious and noysome vnto the kings and lands, and that they cause other also among them to rebell of olde: and for the same cause was this citie destroyed.

Therefore doe we certifie the king, that if this citie be builded againe, and the walls thereof made by, thou shalt hereafter haue no portion beyond the water.

Then sent the king an answer vnto Behum the Recorder, and Samtai the Scribe, and to the other of their companions that dwell in Samaria, and vnto the other that were beyond the water in Selam, and Cheeth.

The letter which yee sent vnto vs, hath bene openly read before me.

And I haue commanded to make search, and it is found that this citie of olde hath made insurrection against kings, and that rebellion and sedition hath bene committed therein.

There haue bene mighty kings also at Hierusalem, which haue reigned ouer all countreys beyonde the water: and tolle, tribute, and custome was giuen vnto them.

Giue yee now therefore commandement, that the same men bee forbidden, and that the citie bee not builded againe, till I haue giuen another commandement.

Take heede now that yee be not negligent to doe this: for why should the king haue harme thereby?

Nowe when the tenor of king Artaxerxes letter was read before Behum and Samtai the Scribe, and their companions, they went by in all the haste to Hierusalem, vnto the Jewes, and forbade them with violence and power.

The v. Chapter.

1 Aggeus and Zacharie do prophesie. 3 The woork of the Temple goeth forward, contrary to the minde of Ithathanai. 6 His letters are sent to Darius.

The Prophets Aggeus, and Zacharie the sonne of Iddo, prophesied vnto the Jewes that were in Iuda and Hierusalem in the Name of the God of Israel.

2 Then gate by Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Josue the sonne of Josedec, and began to builde the house of God at Hierusalem: and with them were the Prophets of God, which helped them.

3 At the same time came to them Chathanai, which was captaine beyond the water, and Scharbuzanai, and their companions, and said thus vnto them, Who hath commanded you to build this house, and to make vp these walles?

4 Then saide wee vnto them after this manner, What are the names of the men that make this building?

5 But the eye of their God was vpon the elders of the Jewes, that they could not cause them to cease, till the matter was brought to Darius: and then they answered by letters thereunto.

6 This is the tenour of the letter that Chathanai, which was captaine beyond the water, and Scharbuzanai, and the counsellers of Apharsath, which were beyonde the water, sent vnto king Darius.

7 And the matter that they sent vnto him, was written thus within the letter, vnto Darius the king, all peace.

8 Wee it knowen vnto the King, that wee went into the prouince of Iury, to the house of the great God, which is builded with mightie great stones, and beames are layd in the walles, and the woork goeth fast forth, and prospereth in their hands.

9 Then asked we the Elders, and saide vnto them thus, Who commanded you to build this house, and to make vp the walles thereof?

10 We asked their names also, that we might certifie thee, & write the names of the men that were with their rulers.

11 But they answered vs with these words, and said, wee are the seruants of the God of heauen and earth, & builde the house that was builded of old and many yeeres ago, which the great King of Israel builded, and set vp.

12 But after that our fathers had prouoked the God of heauen vnto wrath, hee gaue them ouer into the hand of Nabuchodonosor the King of Babylon, and of the Chaldees, which brake downe this house, and caried the people away captiue vnto Babylon.

13 But in the first yeere of Cyrus the King of Babylon, the same King Cyrus gaue commandement concerning this house of God, that it should be built againe.

14 And the vessels of golde and siluer of the house of God, which Nabuchodonosor tooke out of the Temple that was at Hierusalem, and brought them into the temple at Babylon: those did Cyrus the King take out of the temple at Babylon, & they were deliuered vnto one Saf-bazar by name, whom he made captaine.

15 And said vnto him, Take these vessels, and goe thy way, and set them in the Temple that is at Hierusalem, and let the house of God be builded in his place.

16 Then came the same Saffbazar, and layd the foundation of the house of God, which is at Hierusalem: Since that time also vntill now he hath it bene in building, & yet it is not finished.

17 Nowe therefore if it please the King, let there bee search made in the Kings treasure house which is there at Babylon, whether it hath bene king Cyrus commandement that this Temple of God at Hierusalem should be builded: and let the King send his minde concerning the same matter.

The vj. Chapter.

1 At the commandement of Darius the king of Persia, after the Temple was builded & dedicate, the children of Israel keepe the feast of vnleauened bread.

Then commanded King Darius, that search should bee made in the library of the kings treasure house, which lay at Babylon:

2 And there was founde in a cofler in the palace that is in the prouince of the Medes, a volume, and therein was it thus written, as a memoriall.

3 In the first yeere of King Cyrus, gaue the same king Cyrus commandement concerning the house of God at Hierusalem, that the same house should bee builded in the place where they offer the sacrifices, and to ioyne the walles together of threescore cubites height, and threescore cubites breadth,

4 Three rowes of rough stones, and one row of new timber: and the expenses shall be gotten of the kings house.

5 And let the golde and siluer vessels of the house of God, which Nabuchodonosor tooke out of the Temple at Hierusalem, and brought vnto Babylon, bee restored and brought againe vnto the Temple at Hierusalem to their place in the house of God.

6 Now therefore thou Chathanai captaine beyond the water, and Scharbuzanai, and your counsellers, and Apharsath, which are beyond the water, get ye away from them.

7 Let the woork of the house of this God alone, that the captaine of the Jewes, & their Elders may build the house of God in his place.

8 I haue commanded what ye shal do to the Elders of Iuda for the building of the house of God, that of the kings goods, even of the tribute beyond the water, forthwith expenses be giuen vnto the men, that they be not hindered.

9 And if they haue need of calves, rammes, and lambs for whole burnt offering of the God of heauen, wheat, salt, wine, and oyle, after the custome of the priests at Hierusalem, let the same be giuen them dayly, that there be no default:

10 That they may haue to offer sweet sallows vnto the God of heauen, and pray for the kings life, and for his children.

11 And such a commandement haue I giuen, that what man soeuer he be that altereth this word, there shall a beame bee taken from his house, and set vp, and hee shalbe hangd thereon, and his house shall bee made a downghill for the same thing.

24 And we certifie you, that yee haue no auchoyritie to require taring and custome, and peryrents vpon any of the Priests, Leuites, singers, porters, Bethinims, and ministers in the house of his God.

¶ Or, minde.

25 And thou Esdras, after the wisdom of thy God that is in thine hand, let Iudges and arbiters by my authority to iudge all the people that is beyond the water, euen all such as know the law of thy God: and them that know it not, those see that ye teach.

26 And whosoever will not fulfill the lawe of thy God, and the kings lawe, let him haue his iudgement without delay, whether it bee vnto death, or to be rooted out, or to bee condemned in goods, or to be put in prison.

27 Blessed bee the Lord God of our fathers, which so had inspired the kings heart, to garnish the house of the Lord that is at Hierusalem:

28 And hath enclined mercie vnto me in the presence of the king, and his counsaillours, and before all the kings high estates: and I was comforted euen as the hand of the Lord my God was vpon mee, and so gathered I the heads of Israel together, that they might go by with me.

2 Of the children of Phinches, Gersom: of the children of Jthamar, Daniel: of the children of Dauid, Hattus:

3 Of the children of Zechania, among the children of Pharos, Zachari, and with him were numbered an hundred and fifty men.

4 Of the children of the captaine of Moab, Elioenai the sonne of Zerahia, and with him two hundred men.

5 Of the children of Zechania, the sonne of Jahasiel, and with him three hundred men.

6 Of the children of Adin, Abed the sonne of Jonathan, and with him fiftie men.

7 Of the children of Elam, Etasas the sonne of Athalia, and with him seuentie men.

8 Of the children of Sephatia, Zebadia the sonne of Michael, and with him fouretwo men.

9 Of the children of Joab, Obadiah the sonne of Jehiel, and with him two hundred and eightie men.

10 Of the children of Selomith, the sonne of Josaphia, and with him an hundred and threescore men.

11 Of the children of Bebai, Zachari the sonne of Bebai, and with him twenty and eight men.

12 Of the children of Asgad, Johanan the sonne of Bacatan, and with him an hundred and ten men.

13 Of the children of Adoniam that were the last, whose names are these: Euphelet, Jehiel, and Samaiah, and with them threescore men.

14 Of the children of Biguai, Uthal, and Zabud, and with them seuentie men.

15 And I gathered them together by the water that runneth toward Ahava, and there abode we three dayes: and I looked among the people and the Priests, and found there none of the children of Leui.

16 Then sent I to Eliezer, to Ariel, Semecia, El Nathan, Jarib, El Nathan, Nathan, Zacharia, and Helisiam, the rulers, and to Josarib and El Nathan, which were men of vnderstanding.

17 ¶ And to those gaue I commandement vnto Jddo the chiefeest at Casphia, and I toid them what they should say vnto Jddo and to his brethren the Bethinims at Casphia, that they should cause the ministers of the house of our God to come vnto vs.

18 And through the good hand of our God vpon vs, they brought vs a very wise man from among the children of Moholi the sonne of Leui the sonne of Israel, and Sarabia with his sonnes and his brethren, etien eighteene.

19 And Hasabia, and with him Elaias of the children of Merari, with his brethren, and their sonnes, twenty.

20 And of the Bethinims whom Dauid and the princes gaue to minister vnto the Leuites two hundred and twenty of Bethinims: which all were named by name.

21 And euen there at the water beside Ahava I proclaimed a fast, that wee might humble our selues before our God, and seeke of him a right way for vs, and for our children, and for all our substance.

22 For I was ashamed to require of the king souldiers and horsemen, to helpe vs against the enemy in the way: for wee had spoken vnto the king, saying, The hande of our God is vpon all them that seeke him in goodnesse, and his power and wrath is against all them that forsake him.

23 So wee fasted and besought our God for this, and he was intreated of vs.

24 And I tooke out twelue of the chiefe priests, Sarabia, and Hasabia, and ten of their brethren with them.

25 And weyed them the siluer and golde, and vessels that were appointed for the house of our God, which the king and his counsellors, and his lords, and all Israel that were there at hand, had giuen together.

26 And I weyed vnto their hand six hundred and fiftie talents of siluer, and in siluer vessels an hundred talents, and in gold an hundred talents:

27 Twentie basons of golde of a thousand drammes, and two costly vessels of good vase, as cleare as gold.

28 And I sayd vnto them, Yee are consecrate vnto the Lord, like as the vessels are holy also: and the gold and siluer are giuen of a good will vnto the Lord God of your fathers.

29 Watch yee, and keepe them: for yee shall weigh them down before the chiefe Priests, and Leuites, and ancient fathers of Israel at Hierusalem, in the treasures of the house of the Lord.

30 Then tooke the Priests and Leuites the weyed siluer and gold, and vessels, to bring it to Hierusalem vnto the house of our God.

32 And we came to Hierusalem, and abode there three dayes.

33 But on the fourth day was the siluer and golde & vessels weighed in the house of our God by the hand of Hiereemoth the sonne of Iaria the Priest, and with him was Eleazar the sonne of Phinehes, and with them was Iosabab the sonne of Josue, and Noadiah the sonne of Bennot, the Leuites.

34 According to the number and weight of every one, was the weight all written by at the same time.

35 And the children of the captiuitie, which were come out of captiuitie, offered whole burnt offerings vnto the God of Israel, twelue bullocks for all Israel, ninety and five rammes, seuentie and seuen lambes, twelue hee goats for sinne offering, all to the whole burnt offering of the Lord.

36 And they deliuered the kings commission vnto the kings officers, and to the captaines that were beyond the water: and they promoted the people, and the house of God.

The ix. Chapter.

1 Esdras complaineth on the people that had turned themselves from God, and married with the Gentils.

6 He prayeth vnto God.

When these things were done, the rulers came to me, and sayd, * The people of Israel, and the Priests and Leuites are not separated from the people of the lands, as touching their abominations: namely, of the Chananeites, Bethites, Pherezites, Jebusites, Ammonites, Moabites, Egyptians, and Amorites.

2 For they haue taken the daughters of the same to themselves, and to their sonnes, and the holy seed is mixed with the nations of the lands, and the hand of the princes and rulers hath bene principall in this trespass.

3 And when I heard this saying, I rent my clothes and my garment, and plucht off the haire of my head & of my beard, and sate || mourning.

4 And there resorted vnto me all such as feared the words of the God of Israel, because of the transgression of the people of the captiuitie: and I sat || mourning vntil the euening sacrifice.

5 * And about the euening sacrifice I arose by from my heatinesse, and rent my clothes and my raiment, and fell vpon my knees, and spread out my hands vnto the Lord my God.

6 And sayd, My God, I am ashamed, & dare not lift by mine eyes vnto thee my God: for our wickednesses are growen ouer our head, and our trespasse is ward great vnto the heauen.

7 Since the time of our fathers haue we bene in great trespasse vnto this day, & because of our wickednesse haue we and our kings and our priests bene deliuered into the hand of the kings of the nations, vnto the sword, into captiuitie, into a spoile, and into confusion of face, as it is to see this day.

8 And now for a litle space grace hath bene shewed fro the Lord our God, in causing a remnant to escape, and in giuing vs <sup>b</sup> a name in his holy place, that our God may light our eyes, and giue vs a litle life, to take breath in our bondage:

9 For we were bondmen, and yet our God hath not forsaken vs in our bondage, but hath inclined mercy vnto vs in the sight of * the king of Persia, to giue vs life to set by the house of our God, and to redresse the desolation thereof, and to giue vs a wall in Iuda and Hierusalem.

10 And now, O our God, what shall we say after this? for we haue forsaken thy commandements, 11 which thou hast commanded by thy seruants the prophets, saying, * The lande vnto which ye go to possesse it, is an vncleane land because of the filthinesse of the people of the lands, which with their abominations haue made it full of vncleannesse on euery side.

12 * Therefore shall ye not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, and their daughters shall ye not take vnto your sonnes, nor seeke their peace and wealth for euer: that ye may be strong, and || enjoy the goodnesse of the land, and that ye and your children may haue the inheritance of it for euermore.

13 And after that all these things are come vpon vs, because of our euill deeds & great trespasses (seeing that thou our God hast || stayed vs from being <sup>c</sup> beneath for our iniquities) and hast giuen vs such deliuerance:

14 Should wee returne to breake thy commandements, and ioyne in affinitie with the people of these abominations? wouldst not thou be angry towards vs, til thou haddest consumed vs, so that there should be no remnant, nor any escaping?

15 O Lorde God of Israel, thou art righteous, for we remaine yet escaped, as it is yet to see this day: Behold also, in thy presence are wee in our trespasses, and because of it may we not stand before thee.

The x. Chapter.

1 The people repent and turne, and put away their strange wiues.

And when Esdras prayed after this maner, and <sup>a</sup> knowledged, wept, and lay before the house of God, there resorted vnto him out of Israel a very great congregation, of men, and women, and childzen: and the people wept very soze.

2 And Secharia the sonne of Jehiel, one of the childzen of Elam, answered, and said vnto Esdras, we haue trespassed against our God, and haue taken strange wiues of the people of the land: Yet now there is <sup>b</sup> hope in Israel concerning this thing.

3 For now wee will make a covenant with our God, and put away all the wiues and such as are borne of them, according to the counsell of the Lord, and of those that feare the commandements of our God, that we may doe according to the Law.

4 Get thee by, for this matter belongeth vnto thee, we also wil be with thee: be of good comfort therefore, and doe it.

5 Then arose Esdras, and tooke an othe of the chiefe Priests and Leuites, and of all Israel, that they should doe according to this word: and they sware.

6 * And Esdras rose by from before the house of God, and went into the chamber of Iohanna the sonne of Eliash: and when he came thither, he did eate no bread, nor drinke water: for hee mourned, because of the transgression of the people that had bene in captiuitie.

7 And they caused a proclamation to goe throughout Iuda and Hierusalem, vnto all them of the captiuitie, that they should gather themselves together vnto Hierusalem:

8 And that whosoever came not within three dayes, according to the deuise of the rulers and elders, all his substance should be forfeited, and he should be put out from the congregation of them of the captiuitie.

9 Then all the men of Iuda and Benjamin, gathered themselves together vnto Hierusalem, within three dayes, euen the twentieth day of the ninth month, and all the people sate in the freete of the house of God, and trembled, because of this matter, and for the raine.

10 And Esdras the Priest stood vp, and sayde vnto them, See haue transgressed, and haue taken straunge wiues, to make the trespasse of Israel yet more.

14 Let our rulers stand therefore in all the Congregation, and let all them which haue taken straunge wiues in our cities, come at the time appointed, and let the Elders of euery citie & their iudges be with them, til the fierce wrath of our God for this matter be turned from vs.

15 Then were appointed Jonathan the sonne of Asabel, and Jahazias the sonne of Thecus ouer this matter: and Melullam and Sabathai the Leuites helped them.

16 And the children of the captiuitie did euen so: and Esdras the Priest, and the ancient heads thorow the house of their fathers, all men of great fame, separated themselves, and sate them downe in the first day of the tenth month, to examine the matter.

17 And vntill the first day of the first month, they were finishing the bulnesse, with all the men that had taken straunge wiues.

18 And among the children of the priestes, there were men found that had taken straunge wiues: namely, among the children of Josue the sonne of Joseder, and of his brethren, Maasiah, and Eliezer, Jarib, and Gedalia.

19 And they gaue their handes, that they would put away their wiues: and they that had trespassed, gaue a ramme for their trespasse.

20 And among the children of Immer, Hanani, and Zebadiah.

21 Among the children of Harim, Maasia, Elia, Semeia, Jehiel, Eliab.

22 Among the children of Pahur, Eliecnai, Maasia, Jhmael, Bethanael, Josabad, and Elafah.

23 Among the Leuites, Josabad, Semei, & Selata (which same is Selitah) Phathaiah, Iuda, and Eliezer.

24 Among the singers also, Eliaub: and among the porters, Sellum, and Telem, and Uri.

25 And of Israel, among the children of Pharaos, Remaia, Jelia, Melchia, Diamin, Eliezer, Melchia, and Banaiah.

26 Among the children of Flam, Mathania, Zacharia, Jehiel, Aboi, Jerimoth, and Elia.

27 Among the children of Zattu, Eliecnai, Eliaub, Mathania, Jerimoth, Zabab, and Aziza.

28 Among the children of Debai, Jehohanan, Hanania, Zabbai, and Athalai.

29 Among the children of Bani, Melullam, Malluch, Adaiah, Jarib, Saai, and Jerimoth.

30 Among the children of the captaine of Hoab, Adna, Chelai, Benais, Maasia, Mathania, Betalel, Benmui, and Manasse.

31 Among the children of Harim, Eliezer, Jhsiah, Melchia, Semeia, and Simeon, 32 Benjamin, Malluch and Semariah.

33 Among the children of Halum, Matthenai, Mathathia, Zabab, Eliphelet, Jeremai, Manasse, and Semei.

34 Among the children of Bani, Maadal, Amram, and Uel.

35 Banea, Badaia, Chelian,

36 Uaniah, Marcemoth, Eliaub,

37 Mathanias, Mathanai, Jasi,

38 Bani, Benmui, and Semei,

39 Selemia, Nathan, Adaiah,

40 Machnadebai, Safai, Sarai,

41 Alarel, Selemia, and Semariah,

42 Shallum, Amaris, and Joseph,

43 Among the children of Bebo, Jehiel, Mathathia, Zabab, Zabina, Jadan, Joel, and Banai.

44 All these had taken strange wiues, and among the same there were some that had children.

The Booke of Nehemias, or second Booke of Esdras.

The first Chapter.

1 Nehemias bewaileth the calamitie of Hierusalem.
5 He confesseth the finnes of the people, and prayeth to God for them.

In the words of Nehemias the sonne of Bachalia. In the moneth of Chelcu, in the twetieth yeere, as I was in the castle at Susan,

2 Came Hanani, one of my brethren, he and the men of Juda: and I asked them how the Jewes did that were deliuered and escaped from the captiuitie, and how it went at Hierusalem.

3 And they sayd vnto me, The remnant that are left of the captiuitie there in the land, are in great affliction and rebuke: the wall of Hierusalem also is broken downe, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire.

4 And when I heard these words, I satte downe and wept, and mourned certaine dayes, and fasted, and prayed before the God of heauen:

5 And sayd, *O Lord God of heauen, thou great and terrible God, thou that keepest covenant and mercie for them that loue thee, and obserue thy commandments:

6 Let thine eares hearken, I beseech thee, and let thine eyes bee open, that thou mayest heare the prayer of thy seruant, which I nowe pray before thee day and night, for the children of Israel thy seruants, & knowledg the finnes of the children of Israel, which we haue sinned against thee: both I and my fathers house haue sinned.

7 Wee haue grievously sinned against thee, and haue not kept thy commandments, statutes, and iudgements, which thou commandedst thy seruant Moses.

8 I beseech thee call to remembrance the word that thou commandedst thy seruant Moses, and saidest, Ye will transgresse, and I will scatter you abroad among the nations.

9 But if ye turne vnto mee, and keepe my commandments, and do them: though ye were cast out vnto the vttermost part of heauen, yet will I gather you from thence, and will bring you vnto the place that I haue chosen to set my name there.

10 They are thy seruants & thy people whom thou hast deliuered through thy great power, and in thy mighty hand.

11 O Lord, I beseech thee, let thine eare hearken to the prayer of thy seruant, and to the prayer of thy seruants, whose desire is to feare thy name: and let thy seruant prosper this day, and grant him mercie in the sight of this man. For I was the kings butler.

The ij. Chapter.

1 After Nehemias had obtained letters of Artaxerxes, 11 he came to Hierusalem, 17 and builded the walles.

In the moneth of Nisan, in the twetieth yeere of king Artaxerxes, the wine stood before him: and Iooke by the wine, and gaue it vnto the king: and I had not bene before heaue in his presence.

2 And the king sayd vnto mee, why lookest thou so sadly, seeing thou art not sicke? It is nothing els, but that thou art heauy hearted. And I was sore afrayd,

3 And said vnto the king, God saue the king for euer: howe should not I looke sadly, when the citie & place of my fathers burials lie waste, and the gates thereof are consumed with fire?

4 And the king sayd vnto me, what is then thy request? I made my prayer also to the God of heauen,

5 And sayde vnto the king, If it please the king, and if thy seruant haue found fauor in thy sight, send me vnto Juda, vnto the citie of my fathers burials, that I may build it.

6 And the king sayd vnto me (the queene sitting by him) Howe long shall thy iourney continue, and when wilt thou come againe? And it pleased the king to send me, & I set him a time,

7 And sayde vnto the king, If it please the king, let him giue mee letters to the captaines which are beyond the water, that they may conuey me ouer, till I come into Juda:

8 And letters vnto Asaph the lorde of the kings wood, that hee may giue mee timber, to make beames for the gates of the palace which is hard by the house, and for the walles of the citie, and for the house that I shall enter into. And the king gaue mee according to the hand of my God which was good vpon me.

9 And when I came to the captaines beyond the water, I gaue them the kings letters: and the king had sent captaines of the army, and horsemen with me.

10 Sanballat also the Horonite, and Tobia a seruant the Ammonite, heard of it, and it grieued them soze that there was come a man which sought the wealth of the children of Israel.

11 And I came to Hierusalem, and was there three dayes.

12 And I gat me by in the night season, and a few men with mee, neither tolde I any man what God had giuen mee in my heart to doe at Hierusalem: and there was not one beast with me, saue it that I rode vpon.

13 And I departed in the night by the balley port, before the dragon well, and to the douring port, and considered the walles of Hierusalem,

Which was the hill north of the temple, and contained part of the wall and part of the wall.

Or, fauour.

how they were broken downe, and the ports thereof consumed with fire.

14 And I went ouer vnto the well port, and to the kings conduit, and there was no roume for the beast that was broder me to passe.

15 Then went I in the night by the brooke side, and considered the wall, and turned backe, and came home againe by the halley port.

16 And the rulers knew not to whicher I went, or what I did, neither did I as yet tell it vnto the Jewes, to the Priests, to the noble men, to the rulers, and to the other that laboured in the worke.

17 Afterward sayd I vnto them, See see the miserie that we are in, how Hierusalem lieth waste, and howe the gates thereof are burnt with fire: come therfoze, and let vs build by the wall of Hierusalem, and that wee be no more a rebuke.

18 Then I tolde them of the hand of my God, that it was gracious ouer mee, and the kings wordz that hee had spoken vnto mee: and they said, Let vs get vp, & build. And they strenghtened their hands to good.

19 But when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobia the seruant an Ammonite, and Celem the Arabian, heard it, they laughed vs to scorne, and despised vs, and sayd, what is this that ye do? will ye fall away from the king?

20 Then answered I them, and sayd, The God of heauen, he it is that hath granted vs prosperitie, and we his seruants will get by & build: as for you ye haue no portion, nor right, nor remembrance in Hierusalem.

The iij. Chapter.

The number of them that builded the walles.

And Eliasib the hie Priest gate him vp with his brethren the Priests, and they builded the sheepe gate, they repaired it, and set by the doozes of it: euen vnto the tower which repaired they it: and vnto the tower of Hananeel.

2 Next vnto him also builded the men of Jericho: and beside him builded Sachur the sonne of Anri.

3 But the fish port did the children of Asnaa build, which also laid the beames thereof, and set on the doozes, locks, and barres of it.

4 And next vnto them builded Meremoth the sonne of Uria, the sonne of Haccos: and next vnto them builded Mesullam the sonne of Barachia, the sonne of Meselabel: and next vnto them builded Zabor the sonne of Baana.

5 And next vnto him builded they of Thecoa: but the great men that were among them, put not their necks to the worke of their Lord.

6 The old gate builded Jehoiada the sonne of Pascah, and Mesullam the sonne of Belodia, they layd the beames therof, & set on the doozes, locks, and barres of it.

7 Next vnto them builded Melatiah of Gibeon, and Jsdon of Parona, men of Gibeon, and of Misphah, vnto the thzone of the duke which was beyond the riuer.

8 Next vnto him builded Eziel the sonne of Barhaiah, of the goldsmiths: next vnto him also builded Hananiah the sonne of Paracahim, and they repaired Hierusalem vnto the broad wall.

9 Next vnto them builded Raphaiah the son of Hur, the ruler of the halfe part of Hierusalem.

10 Next vnto him builded Jedaia the sonne of Harinaph ouer against his house: and next vnto him builded Pattus the son of Harabnia.

11 But Melchia the sonne of Harim, and Hasub the sonne of the captaine of Moab, builded the other picce, & the tower beside the furnaces.

12 Next vnto him builded Sallum the sonne of Hallohes, the ruler of the halfe part of Hierusalem, he, and his daughters.

13 The valley gate builded Hamun, and the citizens of Zanoa, they builded it, and set on the doozes, locks, and barres therof, and a thousand cubits on the wall, vnto the doing port.

14 But the doing port builded Melchia the sonne of Rechab, the ruler of the fourth part of Bethacharem: he repaired it, & set on the doozes, locks, and barres therof.

15 But the well gate repaired Sallum the sonne of Cholhosah, the ruler of the fourth part of Misphah: he builded it, and couered it, and set on the doozes, locks, and barres thereof: and the wal vnto the fishpool Siloah by the kings garden, and vnto the steps that go downe from the city of Dauid.

16 After him builded Nehemias the sonne of Athob, the ruler of the halfe part of Bethzur, vntill the other side ouer against the sepulchres of Dauid, and to the fish pool that was repaired, and vnto the house of the mighty.

17 After him builded the Leuites, Rehum the sonne of Bani: and next vnto him builded Hasabia the ruler of the halfe part of Ceilah in his quarter.

18 After him builded their brethren Banai the sonne of Hanadab the ruler of the halfe part of Ceilah.

19 And after him builded Ezer the sonne of Josue, the ruler of Misphah the other picce, hard ouer against the going by to the house of ordinance that was in the corner.

20 Againe, after him brake forth Daruch the sonne of Zachai, of indignation, and repaired the other picce from the turning corner vnto the dooze of the house of Eliasib the hie Priest.

21 After him also builded Meremoth the son of Uria, the sonne of Haccos, the other picce, fro the dooze of the house of Eliasib, euen as long as the house of Eliasib extended.

22 After him builded the Priests, the men of the plaine.

23 After him builded Benjamin and Hasub, ouer against their houses: and after him wrought Azaria the sonne of Maasia, the sonne of Anania, by his house.

24 After him also builded Benmui the sonne of Hanadab, the other picce, from the house of Azaria, vnto the turning of the wall, and vnto the corner.

25 After him builded Pala the sonne of Usai, ouer against the corner, and the hie tower which lieth out ouer from the kings house that was beside the court of the prison: after him, Phadaia the sonne of Pharos.

26 *As for the Meshinims, they dwelt in the strong holde, vnto the water gate, toward the East, and to the tower that lieth out.

27 After him builded they of Cheua the other picce, ouer against the great tower that lieth outward, vnto the wall of the strong holde.

b They were encouraged, & gave their hearts to doe well, and to trauele in this way by encrease.

c Or, rebell. e Thus the wicked when they will burthen the children of God, will lay treason vnto their charge, both because it maketh them most odious to the world, and also stretcheth the barres of punice most against them.

2 In Urubeth, they sanctified themselves, they builded it, and to dedicated it to the Lord by placing him to maintain it.

h The rich might would not obey them which were appointed officers in the worke, rather would they helpe themselves.

buked the counsellors, and the rulers, and sayd bnto them. Cuery one of you taketh vsury of his brother. And I brought a great congregation against them.

8 And sayd bnto them, nre after our abilitie haue redeemed our hezethen the Jewes, which were sold bnto the heathen: and will you sell your hezethen againe: and shall they be sold bnto vs: Then held they their peace, and coulde finde nothing to answeere.

9 And I sayde, It is not good that yee doe: ought yee not to walke in the feare of our God, because of the rebuke of the heathen that are our enemies?

10 I, and my hezethen, and my seruants, doe lend them money and corne: I pray you let vs leaue off this vsury.

11 Therefore, this same day, I pray you, see that yee restore them their lands againe, their vineyards, olive gardens, and their houses, & remit the hundred part of the money, of the corne, wine, and oile, that ye haue exacted of them.

12 Then sayd they, wee will restore them againe, and wil require nothing of them, and wil do as thou hast spoken. And I called the priests, and tooke an oth of them, that they should do according to this promise.

13 And I shooke my lay, & said, God shake out cuery man after the same maner from his house and labor, that maintaineth not this word, euen thus be he shaken out, and void. And all the congregation sayde, Amen, and praised the Lorde: And the people did according to this promise.

14 And from the time forty that the king committed bnto me to be captain of them that were in the lande of Iuda, euen from the twentieth yere bnto the thirty and two yere of king Artaxerxes, that is twelue yeres, I with my hezethen liued not of such sustenance as was giuen to a captaine.

15 For the old captaines that were before me, had bene chargeable bnto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, beside forty sicles of siluer, yea, and their seruants had oppressed the people: but so did not I, and that because of the feare of God.

16 But I laboured also in the worke bpon the wall, and we bought no land: and all my seruants came thither together bnto the worke.

17 Moreover, there were at my table an hundred and fifty of the Jewes and rulers which came bnto vs from among the heathen that are about vs.

18 And there was prepared for mee daily, an ore, and fixe chosen sheepe, and birds were prepared for me: and euer once in ten dayes, wine for all in abundance: yet required not I the liuing of a captaine, for the bondage was grieuous bnto the people.

19 Thinke vpon me my God bnto the best, according to all that I haue done for this people.

The vj. Chapter.

1 Nehemias answereth with great wisdom and zeale to his aduersaries. 11 Hee is not discouraged by the false prophets.

And when Sanballat, Tobia, and Geselem the Arabian, and the other of our enemies, heard that I had builded the wall, and that there were no moe gaps therein: howbeit, at the same time had I not hanged the doozes vpon the gates)

2 Sanballat and Geselem sent bnto me, saying, Come, that we may meet and take counsell together in the billages that are in the plaine of the city Dno. Nevertheless, they thought to do me euill.

3 And I sent messengers bnto them, saying, I haue great businesse to do, and I cannot come downe: why should the worke cease, whiled I leaue it, and come downe to you?

4 Howbeit, they sent bnto mee foure times, after the same maner: and I gaue them the same answer.

5 Then sent Sanballat his seruant againe bnto me the fift time, with an open letter in his hand.

6 wherein was written, It is told the heathen, and Geselem hath sayd it, that thou and the Jewes thinke to rebel: for the which cause thou buildest the wal, that thou mayest be their king, according to these words:

7 And hast ordained the prophets to preach of thee at Hierusalem, and to say, He is king of Iuda. And now shall this come to the kings eares: come now therefore, and let vs take our counsell together.

8 And I sent bnto him, saying, There is no such thing done as thou sayest, for thou sainest them of thine owne heart.

9 For they were all minded to make vs afraid, saying, They shall withdraue their hands from their worke that it shall not bee finished: Now therefore, strengthen thou my hand.

10 And I came bnto the house of Semai the sonne of Delaia, the sonne of Shebetabel, and he had shut himselfe within, and sayd, Let vs come together in the house of God, euen bnto the mijs of the Temple, and shut the doozes of the Temple, for they will come to slay thee, yea, euen in the night will they come to put thee to death.

11 And I sayde, Should any such man as I flee? who is it, that bring as I am, will go into the Temple to saue his life? I will not go in.

12 And lo, I perceiued that God had not sent him, but that hee pronounced this prophete against me: for Tobia and Sanballat had hired him for money.

13 Therefore was he hired, that through feare I should so doe, and sinne, that they might haue euill report of me, to lay to my charge.

14 My God, thinke thou vpon Tobia, and Sanballat, according vnto these their works, and on the propheteisse Moadia, and the other prophets that would haue put me in feare.

15 And the wall was finished in the twentieth and fift day of the moneth Elul, in fifty and two dayes.

16 And when all our enemies heard thereof, all the heathen that were about vs, were afraid, and their courage failed them: for they perceiued that this worke came of our God.

17 And at the same time were there many of the chiefe of Iuda, whose letters went bnto Tobia, and againe from Tobia bnto them.

18 For there were many in Iuda that were sworn bnto him: for hee was the sonne in law of Sechania the sonne of Arah, and his sonne Johanan had the daughter of Beulliam the sonne of Barachia.

b Or, multitude of people, either because they should be mouned with pride, or els because, seeing howe many were oppressed by them: and also might heare the iudgement of others, which should be as it were witness of their cruell dealing towards their brethren. c Also by this occasion will blaspemye the name of God, seeing that our doings are no better then theirs.

Or, but rather I fortified a portion in the worke of this wall.

Or, breaches.

Or, breaches.

19 And they spake good of him before me, and colde him my words: and Tobia sent letters to put me in feare.

The vij. Chapter.

1 After the wall once builded, is the watch appointed. 6 They that returne from the captiuitie, are numbred.

Now * when the wall was builded, I hangd on the || doozes also, and the porters, singers, and Leuites, were appointed:

2 And I commanded my brother Hanani, and Hanania the || ruler of the castle at Hierusalem (for he was a faithfull man, and feared God more then did many other)

3 And I sayd vnto them, Let not the gates of Hierusalem be opened, vntil the sunne be hot: and while they stand by, let the shut the doozes, and barre them. And we appointed certaine citizens of Hierusalem to be watchmen, euery one to keepe his watch, and euery one to be ouer against his house.

4 As for the city, it was large of rounne, and great, but the people were few therein, and the houses were not builded.

5 * And God gaue me in mine heart, that I gathered together the principall men, and the officers, and the people, to || number them: and I found a register of the number of them which came by || before, and found written therein,

6 These are the 3 sonnes of the || land, that went by from the captiuitie that was caried away, whom Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon had brought away, and came againe to Hierusalem and Iuda, euery one vnto his city.

7 They which came with Zorobabel, are these, Josue, Nehemia, Asariah, Raamia, Pahamani, Pardoche, Belsan, Mepheroth, Beguai, Bahum, and Baanah. This is the number of the men of the people of Israel.

23 The children of Belsai, three hundred, twenty and foure.

24 The children of Hariph, an hundred and twelue.

25 The children of Gibeon, ninety and siue.

26 The men of Bethlehem, and Methophah, an hundred, foure score and eight.

27 The men of Anathoth, an hundred, twenty and eight.

28 The men of Bethalmauech, forty and two.

29 The men of Ciriath-iarim, Cephira, and Beeroth, seuen hundred, forty and three.

30 The men of Ramath, and Geba, sixe hundred, twenty and one.

31 The men of Michmas, an hundred, twenty and two.

32 The men of Bethel and Ai, an hundred, twenty and three.

33 The men of the other Nebo, fifty and two.

34 The children of the other Elam, a thousand, two hundred, fifty and foure.

35 The children of Harim, three hundred and twenty.

36 The children of Jericho, three hundred, forty and siue.

37 The children of Lodhadid, and Ono, seuen hundred, twenty and one.

38 The children of Senaa, three thousand, nine hundred and thirty.

39 The Priests: The children of Jedaia, of the house of Josue, nine hundred, seuentie and three.

40 The children of Immer, a thousand, fifty and two.

41 The children of Phashur, a thousand, two hundred, forty and seuen.

42 The children of Harim, a thousand, and seuentene.

43 The Leuites: The children of Josue, of Cadmiel, and of the children of Hodiah, seuentie and foure.

44 The Singers: The children of Asaph, an hundred, forty and eight.

60 All these Bethinims, and the children of Solomons seruants, were thre hundred, ninety and two.

1. Esdr. 2. 43.

61 * And these went by also from Thelmela, Thelharai, Cherub, Abdon, and Janner: but they could not shewe their fathers house, nor their seed, and that they were of Israel.

62 The children of Dalatah, the children of Tobia, and the children of Mecoda, fife hundred, forty and two.

63 And of the priests: The children of Bahaiah, the children of Haccos, the children of Barzillai, which tooke one of the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite to wife, and was named after their name.

64 These sought their writing in the register of their generation, but they were not found: therefore they were put from the priesthood.

65 And b Athirsatha sayde vnto them, that they should not eate of the most holy, till there came by a priest which should weare || Trim and Chummin.

66 * And so the whole congregation together, was forty and two thousand, thre hundred, and thre score, 67 Beside their seruants and maidens, of whom there were seuen thousand, thre hundred, thirty and seuen: and they had two hundred, forty and fise singing men and women.

68 Their hoxses, seuen hundred, thirty and fise: and their mules, two hundred, forty and fise:

69 The camels, foure hundred, thirtie and fise: fise thousand, seuen hundred and twentic asses.

70 And certaine of the ancient fathers gaue vnto the worke: Athirsatha gaue to the treasure a thousand pieces of gold, sixty basours, fise hundred and thirtie priests garments.

71 And some of the chiefe fathers gaue to the treasure of the worke, twenty thousand pieces of gold, and two thousand & two hundred pound of siluer.

72 And the other people gaue twentic thousand pieces of golde, and two thousand pound of siluer, and thre score and seuen priests garments.

73 And the Priests, and Leuites, the Poetters and the Singers, and the other of the people, and the Bethinims, a all Israel, dwell in their cities: and when the seuenth moneth came, the children of Israel were in their cities.

The viij. Chapter.

2 Esdras gathereth together the people, and readeth the Law to them.

And all the people gathered themselves together as one man, in the street that was before the water gate. * and they sayd vnto Esdras the scribe, that he should fetch the booke of the law of Moses, which the Lord commanded to Israel.

2 And Esdras the priest brought the law before the congregation, both of men and women, and all that could vnderstand, did hearken vnto it, vpon the first day of the seuenth moneth.

3 And he read therein in the street that was before the water gate, from the morning vntill the noone day, before men and women that did hearken to it: and the eares of all the people were inclined vnto the booke of the law.

4 And Esdras the scribe stood vpon a pulpit of wood which they had made for the preaching, and beside him stood Parthathia, Sema, and Anaiah, Uriah, Helcia, and Phasaeliah, on his right hand: and on his left hand stood Bedaia, Misael, and Melchia, and Hasim, Hasababana, Zacharie, and Besullam.

5 And Esdras opened the booke before all the people (for he stood aboue all the people:) and when he opened it, all the people stood by.

6 And Esdras praised the Lord the great God: and all the people answered, Amen, Amen, lifting by their hands, and bowed themselves, and worshipped the Lord, falling downe vpon their faces to the ground.

7 And Josue, Bani, Serebia, Jamin, Acub, Sebethai, Hodais, Phasias, Celita, Azariah, Josabad, Hanan, Pelatah, and the Leuites, caused the people to giue heed vnto the law: and the people stood in their place.

8 And they read in the booke of the law of God distinctly, and gaue the sense, and caused them to vnderstand the reading.

9 And Nehemias, which is Athirsatha, and Esdras the Priest and Scribe, and the Leuites that caused the people to take heed, sayd vnto all the people, This day is holy vnto the Lord your God, be not ye soyr, and weepe not. For all the people wept when they heard the words of the Law.

10 And he sayd vnto them, So your way, and eat the fat, and drinke the sweet, and send part vnto them also that haue not prepared for themselves, for this day is holy vnto our Lord: be not ye soyr therefore, for the ioy of the Lord is your strength.

11 And the Leuites filled all the people, and sayd, Hold your peace, for the day is holy, be not sad therefore.

12 And all the people went their way to eat, and to drinke, and to send part vnto ether, and to make great mirth, because they had vnderstood the words that were declared vnto them.

13 And on the next day were gathered together the chiefe fathers among all the people, and the Priests, and the Leuites, vnto Esdras the Scribe, that they might vnderstand the words of the Law.

14 And they found written in the law which the Lord had commanded by Moses, that the children of Israel should dwell in bootheres in the feast of the seuenth moneth:

15 And that they should cause it to be declared and proclaimed in all their cities, and throughout Hierusalem, saying, Go forth vnto the mount, and fetch Oliue branches, Pine branches, Myrtle branches, Palme branches, and branches of the thicke tree, to make bootheres, as it is written.

16 And so the people went forth, & fet them,

and:

and made them bootches, every one upon the rooffe of his house, and in their courts, and in the courts of the house of God, and in the street by the water gate, and in the street of the port of Ephraim.

17 And all the Congregation of them that were come againe out of the captiuitie, made bootches, and sate vnder the bootches: for since the time of Josua the sonne of Num, vnto this day, had not the children of Israel<sup>b</sup> done so: and there was very great gladnesse.

18 And every day, from the first day vnto the last, read Moses in the booke of the law of God: and seuen dayes held they the feast, and on the eight day they gathered together, according vnto the maner.

The ix. Chapter.

- 1 The people repent, and forsake their strange wiues.
- 5 The Levites exhort them to praise God.

In the *twentie and fourth day of this moneth, came the children of Israel together againe, with fasting, and sackclothes, and earth vpon them.

2 And they that were of the seed of Israel, were separated from all the strange childzen, and stood, and knowledged their finnes, and the wickednesse of their fathers:

3 And stood vp in their place, and read in the booke of the law of the Lord their God foure times on the day, and they knowledged, and worshipped the Lord their God foure times on the day.

4 Then stood vp vpon the staires of the Levites, Josue, Bani, Cadmiel, Sabaniah, Bunni, Serebiah, Bani, and Chanani, and cried loud vnto the Lord their God:

5 And the Levites, Josue, & Cadmiel, Bani, and Sabania, Serebiah, and Hodia, Sebania, and Phathahia, sayd, Stand vp, and praise the Lord your God for ever, and let thanks be giuen vnto the name of thy glozy, which excelleth all thankgiuing and praise.

6 Thou art Lord alone, thou hast made heauen, and the heauen of all heauens, with all their host, the earth, & all things that are therein, the sea, and all that is therein, and thou preferrest them all, and the host of them worshippeth thee.

7 Thou art, O Lord, the God that hast chosen *Abraam, and broughtest him out of Ur in Chaldea, and calledst him Abraham:

8 And foundest his heart faithfull before thee, and madest a covenant with him, to giue vnto his seede the land of the Chanaanites, Hethites, Amorites, Pherezites, Jebuities, and Sergetites, and hast made good thy wordes: for thou art righteous.

9 And hast considered the misery of our fathers in Egypt, and heard their complaint by the red sea,

10 And thewed tokens and woonders vpon Pharao and all his seruants, and on all the people of his land: for thou knewest that they were presumptuous and cruell against them: and to madest thou thee a name, as it is this day.

11 *And the red sea didst thou diuide in sunder before them, so that they went thozow the midst of the sea || drye shod: and their persecutozs threwest thou into the deepe, as a stone in the mighty waters:

Exo. 13. 21.

12 *And leddest them on the day time in a clouidie pillar, and in the night season in a pillar of fire, to shew them light in the way that they went.

Exod. 10. 1.

13 *Thou camest downe also vpon mount Sion, and spakest vnto them from heauen, and gauest them right iudgements, true laws, good commandements, and statutes:

14 And declaredst vnto them thy holy Sabbath, and commandedst them precepts, ordinances and lawes, by the hand of Moses thy seruant:

Deut. 1. 8.

15 *And gauest them bread from heauen, when they were hungry, and broughtest forth water for them out of the rocke, when they were thirsty, and promisedst them that they should go in, and take possession of the lande ouer which thou hadst lift by thine hand for to giue them.

16 But they, and our fathers, were proud and hard-necked, so that they followed not thy commandements:

17 And would not obey, neither were mindfull of the wonders that thou didst for them: but hardened their necks, and had in their heads to returne to their bondage by their rebellion: but thou, O God of mercies, gracious, & full of compassion, of long suffering, and of great mercy, yet forsookest them not.

Exod. 32. 4. num. 14. 14 1. cor. 10. 2.

18 *Whozouer, when they had made them a molten calfe, and sayde, This is thy god that brought thee out of the lande of Egypt, and did blasphemies:

19 Yet forsookest thou them not in the wilderness, according to thy great mercies: *and the clouidie pillar departed not from them on the day time to leade them the way, neither the pillar of fire in the night season, to shew them light in the way by which they should go.

Exo. 13. 22.

20 And thou gauest them thy good spirit to informe them, and withheldest not thy Hanna from their mouth, and gauest them water when they were thirsty.

21 Forty yeeres long diddest thou feed them in the wilderness, so that they lacked nothing: their clothes waxed not old, and their feet swelled not.

22 And thou gauest them kingdomes and nations, and diddest scatter them into corners: so they possessed the land of Schon, and the land of the king of Helbon, and the land of the king of Basan.

b *Whozouer, the hearken, Amm. 21.

23 And their children multipliedst thou as the starrs of heauen, and broughtest them into the lande whereof thou hadst spoken to their fathers, that they should go into it, and haue it in possession.

24 And the children went in, and possessed the land, and thou subduedst before them the inhabitants of the lande, euen the Chanaanites, and gauest them into their hands, with their kings, and the people of the lande, that they might doe with them what they would.

25 And they wan their strong cities, and a fat land, and tooke possession of houses that were full of all maner of goods, || wellles digged out, vineyards, oliue gardens, and many fruitfull trees, and they did eat, and were filled, and became fat, & liued in pleasure through thy great goodnesse.

Or, which protested among the to turne the to thee.

Or, protested.

Or, against thy iudgements, which is a multitude of them of repro? Multitude of the people and burden, as Jer. 7. 11. Or, protested.

Or, protestations, Or, protested amongst them. Or, far.

26 Neuerthelesse, they were disobedient, and rebelled against thee, & cast thy law behind their backs, and slew thy Prophets, which exhorted them earnestly, that they might bring thee a gaine vnto thee, and did great blasphemies.

27 Therefore thou gauest them ouer into the hand of their enemies that hated them, and in the time of their trouble, when they cried vnto thee, thou heardst them from heauen: and through thy great mercy thou gauest them succours, which helped them out of the hand of their enemies.

28 But when they came to rest, they turned backe againe, to doe euill befoze thee: therefore leftest thou them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had the dominion ouer them: and when they conuerted, and cried vnto thee, thou heardst them from heauen, and many times hast thou deliuered them, according to thy great mercy.

29 And testifiedst vnto them, that thou mightest bring them againe vnto thy law: notwithstanding, they were proud, and hardened not vnto thy commandments, but sinned in thy lawes, which if a man do, he shall liue in them: and turned the shoulder away, and were stiffnecked, and would not heare.

30 Yet many yeres didst thou forbear them, and testifiedst vnto them through thy spirit by the hand of thy Prophets, and yet would they not heare: therefore gauest thou them into the hand of the nations of the lands.

31 And for thy great mercies sake, thou hast not utterly consumed them, neither forsaken them: for thou art a gracious and merciful God.

32 Now therefore, our God, thou great God, mighty and terrible, thou that keepst couenant and mercy, regard not a litle all the trauell that hath come vnto vs, and our kings, our princes, our priests, our prophets, and our fathers, and all the people since the time of the kings of Assur, vnto this day.

33 And truly thou art iust in all that thou hast brought vpon vs, for thou hast done right: as for vs, we haue bene vngodly.

34 And our kings, & our princes, our priests, and our fathers haue not done thy law, nor regarded thy commandments, and thy earnest exhortations wherewith thou hast exhorted them.

35 And they haue not serued thee in their kingdome, and in thy great goodnesse that thou gauest them, and in the large and plenteous land which thou gauest befoze them, and haue not conuerted from their wicked works.

36 Beholde, we are in bondage this day, and so is the land that thou gauest vnto our fathers to eat the fruits and goodnesse thereof, beholde, there are we bondmen.

37 And great is the increase of it vnto the kings, whom thou hast set ouer vs, because of our sinnes, and they haue dominion ouer our bodies and cattel, euen as they will themselves: and we are in great trouble.

38 Now because of all this, make we a sure couenant, and write it, and our princes, Leuites, and priests seale vnto it.

The x. Chapter.

1 The names of them that sealed the couenant betweene God and the people.

The sealers were Nehemias, that is, Achirathas, the sonne of Bachiab, and Sedecias, 2 Seratah, Azaria, Irmeliah, 3 Dabur, Amariah, Malachias, 4 Batus, Sebaniah, Malluch, 5 Harim, Meremoth, Obadiah, 6 Daniel, Ginnethon, Baruch, 7 Mesullam, Abiiah, Miamin, 8 Maaziah, Bilgah, Senaiiah: these were priests.

9 The Leuites were, Josue the sonne of Azaniah, Benuui, among the children of Benadad, and Cadmiel.

10 And their brethren, Sebaniah, Hodiah, Celita, Belaiiah, Hanan, 11 Micha, Mehob, Malabiah, 12 Sachur, Serubiah, Sebaniah, 13 Hodiah, Bani, Benin.

14 The heads of the people were Pharas the captaine of Moab, Elam, Zaihu, Bani, 15 Bunni, Azgad, Bebai, 16 Adoniah, Biguai, Adin,

17 Ater, Hizkiah, Azur, 18 Hodiah, Hasum, Besai,

19 Hariph, Anathoth, Bebai, 20 Magpias, Mesullam, Hezir,

21 Meselabel, Sadoc, Iaddua, 22 Pheletiah, Hanan, Ananiah, 23 Hoses, Hananiah, Hasub, 24 Halohes, Phales, Sobec,

25 Rehum, Halebna, Haasia, 26 Ahia, Anan, and Anan, 27 Malluch, Harim, and Baana.

28 * And the other people, the priests, Leuites, porters, singers, Methinims, and all they that had separated themselves from the people of the landes, vnto the Lawe of God, with their wiues, their sornes, and their daughters, and as many as could vnderstand,

29 And their lords that had rule of them, receiued it for their brethren: and they came to sweare, and to binde themselves with an othe, to walke in Gods Law, which was giuen by Moses the seruant of God, and that they would obserue and do according vnto all the commandments, iudgements, and statutes of the Lord our God:

30 And that we would not giue our daughters vnto the people of the land, neither to take their daughters for our sornes.

31 * And if the people of the lande brought ware on the Sabbath, and all manner victuals to sell, that we would not take it of them on the Sabbath and on the holy dayes, and that wee would let the seventh yere be free, and the debts of euery person.

32 And we decreed a statute vpon our selues, to giue yeerely the third part of a sicle, to the ministracion in the house of our God.

33 To the she w bread, to the dayly meat offering, to the dayly whole burnt offering, of the Sabbaths, of the new Moones, and seall dayes, and to the things that were sanctified, and to the offerings of atonement, to reconcile Israel withall, and to all the businesse in the house of our God.

34 And wee cast the lot among the priests, Leuites, and the people, for the offering of the wood, to be brought vnto the house of our God from yeere to yeere, after the houses of our fathers, that it might be burnt at times appointed vpon the altar of the Lord God, as it is wriitten in the law.

35 And to bring the first fruits of our land, and the firstlings of our fruits of all trees yeere by yeere vnto the house of the Lord.

36 And the first borne of our sonnes, and of our cattell (as it is wriitten in the lawe) and the firstlings of our oren and of our sheep, which we should bring to the house of our God, vnto the priests that minister in the house of our God:

37 And that we should bring the first fruits of our dough and our heaue offerings, & the fruits of all maner of trees, of wine also, and of oyle vnto the priests, to the chests of the house of our God, and the tithes of our land to the Leuites, that the Leuites might haue the tithes in all the cities of our ministracion.

38 And the Priest the sonne of Aaron shall be with the Leuites, * when the Leuites take tithes, so that the Leuites shall bring by the tithes of their tithes vnto the house of our God, to the store houses, and to the treasure houses.

39 For the children of Israel, and the children of Leui, shall bring by the heaue offerings of the corne, wine, and oyle, vnto the store houses therc as are the vessels of the Sanctuarie and the Priests that minister, and the porters, and singers, and wec will not forsake the house of our God.

The xj. Chapter.

1 Who dwelled in Hierusalem after it was builded, 21 And who in the cities of Iuda.

And the rulers of the people dwelt at Hierusalem: the other people also cast lots, that among tenne one part should goe to Hierusalem, into the holy citie to dwell, and nine parts to be in the cities.

2 And the people thanked all the men that were willing to dwell at Hierusalem.

3 These are the heads of the Province that dwell in Hierusalem, and in the cities of Iuda, euery one in his possession, and in their cities, they of Israel, the Priests, the Leuites, the Bethinims, and the children of Solomons seruants.

4 And at Hierusalem dwelt certaine of the children of Iuda, and of Beniamin: of the children of Iuda, Athai the sonne of Azia, the sonne of Zacharia, the sonne of Amaria, the sonne of Sapharia, the sonne of Mahalaleel of the children of Phares.

5 And Maasia the sonne of Baruch, the sonne of Chol Hosa, the sonne of Hafia, the sonne of Adais, the sonne of Joarib, the sonne of Zacharia, the sonne of Siloni.

6 All these were the children of Phares that dwell at Hierusalem, euen foure hundred threescore and eight valiant men.

7 These are the children of Beniamin: Salu the sonne of Mesillam the sonne of Joed, the sonne of Bedaia, the sonne of Colaisa, the sonne of Masia, the sonne of Jethiel, the sonne of Etai.

8 And after him Gabai, Sellaf, nine hundred and twentie and eight.

9 And Joel the sonne of Zichri had the oversight of them: and Iuda the sonne of Semua was the second ouer the citie.

10 Of the Priests: Jedatah the sonne of Joarib, Jachin, 11 Saratah the sonne of Elcia, the sonne of Mesillam, the sonne of Zadoc, the sonne of Meraioth, the sonne of Achitob, was chiefe in the house of God.

12 And their brethren that did the worke in the temple, eight hundred and twenty and two: and Adais the sonne of Jeroham, the sonne of Melaliah, the sonne of Amzi the sonne of Zacharie, the sonne of Phashur, the sonne of Malchia,

13 And his brethren chief among the fathers, two hundred and fourtie and two: and Amasai the sonne of Azrael, the sonne of Ahafai, the sonne of Meselemoth, the sonne of Immer, 14 And their brethren valiant men, an hundred and twenty and eight: and their ouerseeer was Zabdai, a sonne of one of the great men.

15 Of the Leuites: Semaisa the sonne of Hasub, the sonne of Azaricam, the sonne of Hasabia, the sonne of Buni.

16 And Sabathai, and Josabad of the chiefe of the Leuites had the oversight of the outward businesse of the house of God.

17 And Hathania the sonne of Micha, the sonne of Zabdi, the sonne of Asaph, was the principall to begin the thanksgiving and prayer: and Bacubias the second among his brethren, and Abda the sonne of Sammua, the sonne of Galal, the sonne of Jeduthun.

18 All the Leuites in the holy citie, were two hundred fourescore and foure.

19 And the porters, Accib and Calmon, and their brethren that kept the ports, were an hundred and seuentie and two.

20 As for the residue of Israel, of the Priests and Leuites, they were in all the cities of Iuda, euery one in his inheritance.

21 And the Bethinims dwell in Ophel, and Ziba and Gispa were set ouer the Bethinims.

22 The ouerseeer of the Leuites at Hierusalem was Azzi the sonne of Wani, the sonne of Hasabia, the sonne of Matthania, the sonne of Micha: of the children of Asaph singers were ouer the businesse in the house of God:

23 For it was the kings commandement concerning them, that the singers should deale faithfully euery day.

24 And Pathaia the sonne of Merezabel, of the children of Zerah the sonne of Iuda, was next the king in all matters concerning the people.

25 And in the villages in their lands, some of the children of Iuda dwell at Kiriatarba, and in the villages thereof, and in Dibon, and in the villages thereof, and at Iecabzeel, and in the villages thereof:

26 At Iesua, Moladath, Bethpphalet, 27 In the towne of Sual, Beerseba, and in the villages thereof:

28 At Silag, and Moconah, and the villages thereof:

29 And at Enrimmon, Farah, Jerimuth,

30 Zanoa, Doolam, and in their villages: at Lachis, and in the fields thereof: at Asca, and in the villages thereof. And they dwell from Beerseba, vnto the balley of Bimom.

31 The children also of Beniamin, from Geba, dwell at Michmas, Aia, Bethel, and in their villages,

32 And at Anathoth, Nob, Ananiah,

The xij. Chapter.

1 The Priests and Leuites which came with Zorobabel vnto Hierusalem, are numbred, 27 and all the wall is dedicated.

2. Esd. 2. 1.

Here * are the Priests and Leuites that went by with Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and with Josue: Saraia, Jeremia, and Esdras,

2 Amaria, Palluch, Hattus,
 3 Sechania, Rehum, Merimoth,
 4 Iddo, Genthon, Abia,
 5 Miamin, Madaia, Belga,
 6 Semaia, Joarib, Jedaia,
 7 Sattu, Amoc, Helcia, and Jedaia: these were the heads among the Priests, and their brethren in the dayes of Josue.

8 The Leuites were these: Jesu, Benui, Cadmiel, Serebia, Juda, & Matthania, which was ouer the office of thanksgiuing, he and his brethren.

9 Bachusia, and Hanni, and their brethren, were about them in the watches.

1. Chron. 25. 6.

10 * Josue begate Joacim, Joacim also begate Eliasib, and Eliasib begate Joadas, 11 Joadas begate Jonathan, and Jonathan begate Jaddua.

12 In the dayes of Joacim were these the chiefe fathers among the Priests: Under Saraia, Madaia: vnder Jeremi, Hanania:

[Or, next.

13 Under Esdras, Mesullam: vnder Amaria, Ichoanan:

14 Under Mithco, Jonathan: vnder Sebania, Joseph:

15 Under Hozim, Adna: vnder Meraioth, Helcia:

16 Under Iddo, Zacharia: vnder Genthon, Mesullam:

17 Under Abia, Fichzi: vnder Miamin, and Moadia, Miltai:

18 Under Belga, Sammua: vnder Semaia, Jonathan:

19 Under Joarib, Matthenai: vnder Jedaia, Azzi:

20 Under Sellai, Cellai: vnder Amoc, Eber:

21 Under Helcia, Mafabia: vnder Jedaia, Nathanael:

22 And in the time of Eliasib, Joiada, Johanan, and Jadius, were the chiefe fathers among the Leuites & the Priests, written in the reigne of Darius the Persian.

23 The children of Leui the principal fathers were written in the Chronicles vntil the time of Jonathan the sonne of Eliasib.

24 And these were the chiefe among the Leuites: Mafabia, Serebia, and Jesu the sonne of Cadmiel, and their brethren in their presence, to giue praise and thanks, according as Dauid the man of God had ordained it, one watch ouer against another.

[Or, about them.

25 Matthania, Bachusia, Mhadia, Mesullam, Calmon, and Accub were porters in the watch, and at the thresholds of the gates.

[Or, keeping the ward.

26 These were in the dayes of Josuacim the sonne of Josue the sonne of Josedec, and in the dayes of Nehemias the captaine, and of the priest Esdras the scribe.

27 And in the dedication of the wall at Hierusalem, they sought the Leuites out of all their places, that they might bee brought to Hierusalem, to keepe the dedication and gladnesse with thanksgiuings, and singing with cymbals, psalteries, and harpes.

[Or, v.

28 And the children of the singers gathered themselves together from euery side, out of the plaine countrie about Hierusalem, and from the villages of Bethophathi, 29 From the house of Gilgal, and out of the countreys of Geba, and Asnauey: for the singers had builded them villages round about Hierusalem.

30 And the Priests and Leuites were purified, and cleansed the people, and the gates, and the wall.

31 And I brought the princes of Iuda vpon the wall, and appointed two great quiers of men to giue thanks, which went on the right hand of the wall toward the dung gate.

[Or, quiers.

32 And after them went Hosai, and halfe of the princes of Iuda, 33 And Azaria, Esdras, and Mesullam.

34 Juda, Benjamin, Semeia, and Jeremi,

35 And certaine of the priests children with trumpets: namely Zachari the sonne of Jonathan, the sonne of Semeia, the sonne of Matthania, the sonne of Michai, the sonne of Zaccur, the sonne of Asaph.

36 And his brethren, Semeia, Asrael, Melalai, Bilalai, Maa, Nathanael, and Juda, and Hanani, with the muscicall instruments of Dauid the man of God: and Esdras the scribe went before them.

37 And beside the well gate, they went by ouer against them vpon the steppes of the cite of Dauid at the going by of the wall beyond the house of Dauid vnto the water gate Eastward.

38 The other quier of them that gaue thanks, went ouer against them, and I after them, and the halfe part of the people, vpon the wall beyond the furnace gate, vnto the broad wall, 39 And beyond the port of Ephraim, and beyond the old gate, beyond the fish gate, and the tower of Hananeel, and the tower of Mear, euen vnto the sheepe gate, and they stood still in the prison gate.

40 And so stood the quiers of them that gaue thanks in the house of God, and I and the halfe of the rulers with me:

41 And the Priests, namely Eliasib, Mafabia, Miamin, Michai, Choenai, Zacharie, and Hanania, with trumpets:

42 And Mafabia, Semeia, Eleazar, Azzi, Jehobanan, Melchiah, Eiam, and Ezer: and the singers sang loude, hauing Nehemiah for their ouerfeet.

43 And the same day they offered great sacrifices, and reioiced: for God had giuen them great gladnesse, so that both the wives and children were ioyfull, and the mirrh of Hierusalem was heard farre off.

44 * At the same time were the men appointed ouer the treasure houses, wherein were the heaue offerings, the firstlings, and the tithes, that they should gather them out of the fieldes about the cities, to distribute them vnto the priests and Leuites according to the law: for Iuda was glad of the priests and Levites that served.

45 And both the singers and porters kept the ward of their God, and the ward of the purification, according to the commandment of David, and of Solomon his sonne.

46 For in the time of David and Asaph of old were the chiefe singers ordained, and the songs of praise and thanksgiving vnto God.

47 In the time of Zorobabel and Nehemias, did al Israel giue portions vnto the singers and porters, euery day his portion: and they gaue tithes vnto the Levites, and the Levites gaue tithes againe vnto the children of Aaron.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 The Lawe is read. 3 They separate from them all strangers. 30 An ordinance to serue God.

And that day did they reade in the booke of Moses in the audience of the people, & therein was found written, that the Ammonites and Moabites should neuer come into the Congregation of God:

2 * Because they met not the children of Israel with bread and water, but hired Balaam against them, that he should curse them: and our God turned the curse into a blessing.

3 Now when they had heard the Law, they separated from Israel euery one that had mixt himselfe therein.

4 And before this had the priest Eliaub the oversight of the treasure of the house of God, and he was kinsman vnto Tobia,

5 And had made him a great chamber, and there had they aforesime layed the offerings, frankincense, vessels, and the tithes of corne, wine, and oile, which was commanded to be giuen to the Levites, singers, and porters, and the heaue offerings of the priests.

6 But in all this time was not J at Hierusalem: for in the two and thirtieth yere of Artaxerres king of Babylon, came J vnto the king, and after certaine dayes obtined J licence of the king to come to Hierusalem.

7 And J gate knowledge of the euill that Eliaub did for Tobia, in that hee had made him a chamber in the court of the house of God.

8 And it grieved mee sore: therefore J call forth all the vessels of the house of Tobia out of the chamber,

9 And commanded them to cleanse the chambers, and thither brought J againe the vessels of the house of God, with the meat offering, and the incense.

10 And J perceiued that the portions of the Levites had not bene giuen them, and that euery one was fled to his laide, euen the Levites and singers that executed the worke.

11 Then reprovoued J the rulers, & sayd, why is the house of God forsaken? And J gathered them together, and set them in their place.

12 Then brought al Iuda the tithes of corne, and wine, and oile, vnto the treasures.

13 And J made treasurers ouer the treasure, Seleimiah the priest, and Zadoc the scribe, and of the Levites, Phadaia: and vnder their hand was Hanan the sonne of Zaccur the sonne of Matthanias: for they were counted faithfull, and their office was to distribute the portions vnto their brethren.

14 Thinke vpon mee, O my God, heerein, and wipe not out my mercy that I haue shewed on the house of my God, and on the officers thereof.

15 And the same time saue J in Iuda some treading wine presses on the Sabbath, & bringing in sheaves, and which laded asses also with wine, grapes, and figges, and all burdens, and brought them into Hierusalem vpon the Sabbath day: and J rebuked them earnestly the same day that they solde victuals.

16 There dwelt men of Tyre also therein, which brought fish, and all maner of ware, and solde on the Sabbath vnto the children of Iuda in Hierusalem.

17 Then reprovoued J the rulers in Iuda, and sayd vnto them, what euill thing is this that ye do, and breake the Sabbath day?

18 Did not your fathers euen thus, and our God brought all this plague vpon vs, and vpon this city: and ye make the wrath more yet vpon Israel, in that ye breake the Sabbath?

19 And when the ports of Hierusalem began to be darke in the evening before the Sabbath, J commanded to shut the gates, and charged that they should not be opened til after the Sabbath: & some of my seruants set J at the gates, that there should no burden be brought in on the Sabbath day.

20 Then remained the chapmen & merchants once or twise ouer night without Hierusalem, with all maner of wares.

21 Then reprovoued J them sore, and sayd vnto them, why tary ye all night about the wall? If ye do it once againe, I will lay hands vpon you: from that time forth came they no moze on the Sabbath.

22 And J sayde vnto the Levites, that they should cleanse themselves, and that they should come and keepe the gates, to hallow the Sabbath day: Thinke vpon me, O my God, concerning this also, and spare mee according to thy great mercy.

23 In those daies also saw J Jewes that married wiues of Ahdod, of Ammon, and of Moab.

24 And their children spake halfe in the speech of Ahdod, and could not speake in the Iewes language, but according to the language of the one people and of the other people.

25 Then J reprovoued them, and cursed them, and smote certaine men of them, & made them bare: and tooke an oth of them by God, Ye shall not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, neither shall ye take their daughters vnto your sonnes, or for your selues.

26 * Did not Solomon the king of Israel sin by these things? and yet among many heathen was there no king like him, which was deare vnto his God, and God made him king ouer all Israel: * and yet neuertheless, outlandish women caused him to sinne.

27 Shal we then obey vnto you, to do all this great euill, and to transgresse against our God, and marry strange wiues?

28 And one of the children of Jehoiada, the sonne of Eliaub the high priest, was the sonne in law of Sanballat the Hozonite: but J chased him from me.

29 O my God, thinke thou vpon them that defile the priesthood, & the couenant of the priesthood, and of the Levites.

30 Thus cleansed J them from all such

The Booke of Esther.

The first Chapter.

1 King Ahasuerus maketh a royal feast. 10 Whereunto the Queene Vasthi will not come. 19 For which cause she is put away. 20 The Kings decree touching the preeminence of man ouer his wife.

In the dayes of Ahasuerus, (this is Ahasuerus which reigned from India vnto Ethiopia ouer an hundred and twentie and seuen prouinces)

2 In those dayes, when the King Ahasuerus sat on his seate royall, which was in the palace of Susan:

3 In the thirde yeere of his reigne, he made a feast vnto all his Princes and seruants: and the mightie men of Persia and Media, the Captaines also and rulers of his countreys were befoze him,

4 And hee shewed the riches and gloz of his kingdom, and the glorious worship of his greatnesse many dayes long, an hundred and fourescore dayes.

5 And when these dayes were expired, the king made a feast vnto all the people that were in the palace of Susan, both vnto great a small, seuen dayes long, in the court of the garden by the Kings palace,

6 Where there hanged white, greene, and peafow clothes, fastened with cords of fine silke and purple in siluer rings, vpo pillars of marble stones: the benches also were of golde and siluer made vpon a pavement of greene, white, pealow, and blacke marble.

7 And they dranke in bessels of golde, and changed bessel after bessel, and royall wine in abundance, according to the power of the king.

8 And the drinking was by an order, none might compell: for so the King had appointed to all the Officers of his house, that they should doe according to euery mans pleasure.

9 And the Queene Vasthi made a feast also for the women in the palace of Ahasuerus.

10 And on the seuenth day when the King was merie after the wine, hee commanded Memuchan, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, Abagthan, Zethar, and Charchas, the seven Chamberlaines that did seruice in the presence of King Ahasuerus, 11 To fetch the Queene Vasthi with the Crowne regall into the kings presence, that hee might shewe the people a princes her fairenesse: for she was beautifull.

12 But the Queene Vasthi would not come at the kings word by his Chamberlaines: then was the King very wroth, and his indignation kindled in him.

13 And the king spake to the wife men which knewe the times (for so was the Kings manner towards all that knewe the lawe and the iudgements):

14 And the next vnto him were Carshena, Sethar, Admata, Charlis, Dares, Martena, and Memuchan, the seven princes of Persia and Media, which sawe the kings face, and sat the first in the kingdome)

15 What shall we do vnto the Queene Vasthi according to the lawe, because she did not according to the worde of the King Ahasuerus, which he commanded by his chamberlaines:

16 And Memuchan answered before the king and the princes, The Queene Vasthi hath not onely done euill against the king, but also against all the princes, & against all the people that are in all the prouinces of King Ahasuerus.

17 For this deepe of the Queene shall come abroad vnto all women, so that they shall despise their husbands before their eyes, and shall say, The king Ahasuerus commanded Vasthi the Queene to bee brought in befoze him, but shee would not come.

18 And so shall the princesses in Persia and Media say likewise this day vnto all the kings princes when they heare of this deepe of the queene: thus shall there arise too much despitefulness and wroth.

19 If it please the king, let there goe a commandement from him, and let it bee written according to the lawes of the Persians and Medians, & not to bee transgressed, that Vasthi come no moze befoze King Ahasuerus, and let the king giue her royall estate vnto an other that is better then she.

20 And when this commandement of the king, which shall be made, is published thorowout all his Empire, which is great, all women that hold their husbands in honour both among great and small.

21 This saying pleased the king and the princes, and the king did according to the worde of Memuchan.

22 For he sent letters forth into all the kings prouinces, into euery land according to the writing thereof, and to euery people after their language, that euery man should bee loze in his owne house: and this to bee published after the language of his people.

The ij. Chapter.

After these acts, when the displeasure of king Ahasuerus was now asayed, he thought upon washt, and what shee had done, and what was decreed against her.

2 Then said the kings seruants that ministered vnto him, Let there be faire yong virgins sought for to the King.

3 And let the king appoint officers in all the prouinces of his Empire, that they should bring together all the faire yong virgines vnto the palace of Susan to the womens building, vnder the hand of Hegai the kings chamberlaine that kept the women, to giue them their apparell.

4 And that the mayden which pleased the king, should be Queene in washtis stead. And this pleased the king, and he did so.

5 In the palace of Susan there was a certaine Jew, whose name was Hardocheus, the sonne of Jair, the sonne of Semel, the sonne of Cis, a man of Temini,

6 which was caried away from Hierusalem with the captiuitie, when Nebucias the king of Iuda was led away, whom Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon caried thence:

7 And he nourished Hadassa (that is Esther) his vncles daughter: for shee had neither father nor mother, and shee was a faire and beautifull mayden, whom Hardocheus (when her father and mother were dead) receiued for his owne daughter.

8 So when the kings commandment and commission was published, and many maydens were brought together into the palace of Susan vnder the hand of Hegai, Esther was brought also vnto the kings house vnder the hand of Hegai the keeper of the women.

9 And the maiden pleased him, and she found fauour in his sight: and hee caused ornaments to be giuen her speedily, and such things as belonged to her, and appointed her seuen comely maydens out of the kings house, and fauoured both her and her gentle women singularly in the house of the women.

10 But Esther shewed not her people and her kindred: for Hardocheus had charged her, that she should not tell it.

11 And Hardocheus walked euery day before the court of the womens house, that hee might know howe Esther did, and what should become of her.

12 And when the appointed time of euery mayden came, that she should goe in to the King Ahasuerus, after that shee had bene twelue moneths according to the maner of the women (for so were the daies of their purification accomplished, sixe moneths with oyle of myrthe, and sixe moneths with sweet odours, and in the purifying of the women:

13 And thus went the maydens vnto the king, whatsoever he required, that must bee giuen her, to goe with her out of the womens building vnto the kings palace.

14 In the euening she went, and on the morrowe shee returned into the second house of the women, abiding vnder the hand of Saalgaz the kings chamberlaine, which kept the concubines: and shee came in vnto the king no more, except it pleased the king to haue her, and that he were called by name.

15 Now when the course came of Esther, the daughter of Abihail, the vnkle of Hardocheus (which had receiued her as his owne daughter) that she should come in vnto the king, she desired nothing but what Hegai the Kings Chamberlaine the keeper of the women saide: and Esther found fauour in the sight of all them that looked vpon her.

16 And Esther was taken vnto king Ahasuerus into his house royall, in the tenth moneth (which is the moneth Tebeth) in the seventh yeere of his reigne.

17 And the king loued Esther aboute all the women, and shee found grace and fauour in his sight, more then all the virgins, so that he set the crowne of the kingdome vpon her head, & made her Queene in stead of washt.

18 And the king made a great feast vnto all his princes and seruants, which feast was because of Esther, and caused the prouinces to be in quietnes, and gaue gifts as became the royaltie of a King.

19 And when the virgins were gathered together the second time, Hardocheus sate in the Kings gate.

20 And as yet had not Esther shewed her kindred and her people, according as Hardocheus had bidden her: for Esther did after the word of Hardocheus, like as if shee had bene yet vnder his gouernance.

21 At the same time (while Hardocheus sate in the Kings gate) two of the kings chamberlaines, Bigthan and Theris, which kept the dooze, were wroth, and sought to lay their hands on the king Ahasuerus:

22 wherof also Hardocheus gat knowledge, and told it vnto Queene Esther, and Esther certified the king thereof in Hardocheus name.

23 And when inquisition was made, it was founde so, and they were both hanged on tree: and it was writen in the Chronicles before the king.

The iij. Chapter.

1 Haman after he was exalted, obtaineth of the king, that all the Iewes should bee put to death, because Hardocheus had not done him worship as other had.

After these actes did king Ahasuerus promote Haman the sonne of Amadatha the Agagite, & set him on high, and set his seat above all the princes that he had with him.

2 And all the kings seruants that were in the kings gate, bowed their knees, and reuerenced Haman, for the king had so commanded concerning him: but Hardocheus bowed not the knee, neither did him reuerence.

3 Then the kings seruants which were in the kings gate, saide vnto Hardocheus, Why transgresseth thou the kings commandment?

4 And though they spake this dayly vnto him, yet would he not heare them, therfore they told Haman, that they might see how Hardocheus matters would stand, for he had told them that he was a Jew.

5 And when Haman saw that Hardocheus bowed not the knee vnto him, nor did reuerence vnto him, he was full of indignation,

6 And thought it too little to lay hands onely on Hardocheus, for they had shewed him the nation of Hardocheus: wherfore hee sought to destroy all the Jewes that were thowout the whole Empire of Ahasuerus, and that were of the nation of Mardocheus.

7 In the first moneth (that is the moneth Nisan) in the twelfth yeere of king Ahasuerus, they cast Phur, that is, a<sup>b</sup> lot, before Haman fro day to day, and from moneth to moneth, to the twelfth moneth, that is, the moneth Abar.

8 And Haman laide vnto king Ahasuerus, There is a people scattered abroad, and disperfed among all people in all the prouinces of thine Empire, and their lawes are diuers from al people, and doe not after the kings lawes, therefore it is not the kings profit to suffer them.

9 If it please the king, let it be written, that they may bee destroyed: and so will I weigh downe tenne thousande talents of siluer, by the handes of them that haue the charge of this businesse, to bring it into the kings treasure.

10 And the king tooke his ring from his hande, and gaue it vnto Haman the sonne of Amadatha the Agagite the Jewes enemye.

11 And the king laide vnto Haman, Let the siluer be thine, & doe with that people as it pleaseth thee.

12 Then were the kings Scribes called, on the thirteenth day of the first moneth, and there was written according as Haman commanded, vnto al the kings Officers, and to the Captaines that were ouer euery prouince, and to the rulers of euery people in the countreys on euery side, according to the writing thereof, and to euery nation after their language, in the name of king Ahasuerus was it written, and sealed with the kings ring.

13 And the letters were sent by posts into all the kings prouinces, to roote out, to kill, and to destroy all Jewes both yong and olde, children and women, in one day, vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth (which is the moneth Abar) and to spoile them as a pray.

14 This was the tenour of the writing, that there should bee a commandement giuen in all prouinces, and published vnto all people, that they should be ready against the same day.

15 And the postes went in all haste according to the kings commaundement, and in the palace of Susa was the commandement deuised: and the king and Haman sate and dranke, when in the meane time the cite of Susa was quieted.

The iiii. Chapter.

5 Mardocheus giueth the Queene knowledge of the cruel decree of the King against the Iewes. 16 She willet that they pray for her.

When Mardocheus perceiued all that was done, he rent his cloths, and put on sackcloth with ashes, and went out into the middes of the cite, and cried loude and lamentably.

2 And came before the kings gate, but hee might not enter within the kings gate, because he had sackcloth on.

3 And in all prouinces, countreys, and places, as farre as the kings word and commandement came, there was great lamentation among the Jewes, fasting, weeping, and mourning, and many lay in sackclothes and in ashes.

4 So Esthers maydens; and her chamberlaines came, & told it her: then was the Queene exceedingly affonied, and hee sent rayment that Mardocheus should put on, and lay the sackcloth from him: but Mardocheus would not take them.

5 Then called Esther Hathach, one of the Kings chamberlaines, which stood before her, and gaue him a commandement vnto Mardocheus, to know what it was wherefore hee did so.

6 So Hathach went sooth to Mardocheus vnto the street of the cite, which was before the Kings gate:

7 And Mardocheus told him of all that had come vnto him, and of the summe of siluer that Haman had promised to weigh downe into the kings treasure, because of the Jewes, if hee would destroy them.

8 And hee gaue him the copie of the kings commandement that was deuised at Susa to destroy them, that he might shew it vnto Esther, and to speake to her, and to charge her that she should go in vnto the king, and make her prayer and supplication vnto him for her people.

9 And when Hathach came in, hee tolde Esther the words of Mardocheus.

10 And againe Esther spake vnto Hathach, and commanded him to say vnto Mardocheus, 11 All the Kings seruants, and the people in the prouinces of the king know, that whosoever cometh within the court vnto the king, whether it be man or woman, which is not called, the commandement is, that the same shall die, except the king holde out the golden scepter vnto him, for then hee shall liue: but I haue not bene called to come in vnto the king now these thirtie dayes.

12 And when Mardocheus was certified of Esthers words,

13 Mardocheus bade say againe vnto Esther, Thinke not with thy selfe that thou shalt escape in the kings house more then all the Jewes.

14 For if thou holdest thy peace at this time, then shall the Jewes haue helpe a deliuerance out of another place, and thou and thy fathers house shall be destroyed: And who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdome for this cause sake?

15 Esther bade them giue Mardocheus this answer.

16 Goe and gather all the Jewes that are found at Susa, and fast yee for me, that ye eate not and drinke not in thre dayes, neither day nor night, I and my maydens will fast like wise: and so will I goe in vnto the king, which thing is yet contrary to the commandement, and if I perish, I perish.

17 So Mardocheus went his way, and did according to all that Esther had commanded him.

The v. Chapter.

1 Esther entreteth in vnto the King, and biddeth him and Haman to a feast. 11 Haman prepareth agalious for Mardocheus.

AND on the thirde day, Esther put on her royall apparell, and stood in the court of the kings palace within, ouer against the kings house: and the king sate vpon his royall seate in the kings palace: ouer against the gate of the house.

light: and the king helde out the golden scepter that was in his hand: So Esther lept forth, and touched the top of the scepter.

3 Then saide the King vnto her, what wilt thou. Queene Esther: and what requirest thou? aske euen the halfe of the Empire, and it shall be giuen thee.

4 And Esther answered, if it please the king, let the King and Haman come this day vnto the banquet that I haue prepared for him.

5 And the king said, Cause Haman to make haste, that he may do as Esther hath said. So the King and Haman came to the banquet that Esther had prepared.

6 And the King said vnto Esther at the banquet of wine, what is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? And what requirest thou? If it be euen the halfe of the empire, it shall be done.

7 Then answered Esther, and saide, My petition and desire is,

8 If I haue founde grace in the sight of the king, and if it please the king to giue mee my petition, and to fulfill my request, then let the King and Haman come to the banquet that I shall prepare for them, and so will I do to morrow as the King hath said.

9 Then went Haman forth the same day ioyfull and merie in his minde: but when Haman sawe Mardocheus in the Kings gate, that hee stood not vp, nor moued for him, hee was full of indignation at Mardocheus.

10 Neuerthelesse, Haman refrained himselfe, and when hee came home, hee sent and called for his friends, and Zares his wife.

11 And Haman tolde them of the glozy of his riches, & the multitude of his children, and al the things wherein the king had promoted him so greatly, and how that hee had set him aboute the Princes, and seruants of the king.

12 Haman saide moreover, Yea, Esther the Queene did let no man come in with the King vnto the banquet that hee had prepared, except mee: and to morrowe am I bidden vnto her also with the King.

13 But in all this am I not satisfied, as long as I see Mardocheus the Jewe sitting at the kings gate.

14 Then said Zares his wife, & al his friends vnto him, Let them make a gallous of suttie cubites high, and to morrow speake thou vnto the king that Mardocheus may be hanged there on: then goe thou in merily with the king vnto the banquet. And Haman was well content with all, and caused the gallous to be made.

The vj. Chapter.

1 The King turneth ouer the Chronicles, and findeth the fidelitie of Mardocheus, 10 and commandeth Haman to cause Mardocheus to be had in honour.

He same night coulde not the king sleepe, and he commanded to bring the || Chronicles and stories: and they were read before the king.

2 When it was found written, how Mardocheus had tolde that Bigthana and Theres the kings two Chamberlaines which kept the || doores, sought to lay hands on king Ahasuerus.

3 And the king said, what honour and dignitie hath bene giuen to Mardocheus therelofe? Then saide the kings seruants that ministered vnto him, There is nothing at all done for him.

4 And the king said, who is in the court: for Haman was come into the court without before the kings house, that hee might speake vnto the king to hang Mardocheus on the tree that hee had prepared for him.)

5 And the kings seruants said vnto him, Behold, Haman standeth in the court. And the king said, Let him come in.

6 And when Haman came in, the king saide vnto him, what shall bee done vnto the man whom the king would faine bring vnto worshop? (Haman thought in his heart, whom desireth the king to bring vnto worshop more then me?)

7 And Haman answered the king, Let the man whom the king pleaseth to bring vnto worshop be brought hither.

8 That hee may bee arayed with the royall garments which the king vseth to weare, and the horse that the king rideth vpon, and that the crowne royall may be set vpon his head:

9 And let this raiment and horse bee deliuered vnder the hande of one of the kings most noble princes, that they may aray the man with all, whom the king is disposed to bring to honour, and cause him to ride vpon the horse through the streete of the citie, and proclaime before him, Thus shal it be done to the man whom the king pleaseth to bring to honour.

10 And the king said to Haman, Make haste, and take as thou hast saide, the raiment and the horse, & doe euen so vnto Mardocheus the Jewe, that sitteth before the kings gate: and let nothing faile of all that thou hast spoken.

11 Then tooke Haman the raiment, and the horse, & arayed Mardocheus, & brought him on horsebacke through the streete of the city, & proclaimed before him, Thus shall it be done vnto the man whom the king is disposed to honour.

12 And Mardocheus came againe to the kings gate: but Haman gate him home in al the haste mourning, and his head couered:

13 And told Zares his wife, & al his friends, euery thing that had befallen him. Then saide his wife men, and Zares his wife vnto him, If it be Mardocheus of the seed of the Jewes, before whom thou hast begunne to fall, thou shalt not preuaile against him, but shalt surely fall before him.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the kings chamberlaines, and caused Haman to make haste to come vnto the banquet that Esther had prepared.

The vij. Chapter.

3 The Queene prayeth for her selfe, and her people.

6 She accuseth Haman, and hee is hanged on the gallous which he had prepared for Mardocheus.

And the king and Haman came to banquet with Queene Esther.

2 And the king said againe vnto Esther on the second day at the banquet of wine, what is thy petition, Queene Esther, that it may be giuen thee? and what requirest thou? if it be euen to halfe of the Empire, it shall be done.

3 And Esther the Queene answered, and said, If I haue found grace in thy sight, O king, and if it please the king, then grant me my life at my desire, and my people for my petitions sake.

4 For wee are solde, I and my people, to bee destroyed, to be slaine, and to perish: and would God that wee were solde to bee bondmen, and bondwomen, then would I hold my tongue: although the enemye could not recompence the kings losse.

5 The king Ahasuerus answered, and saide vnto Queene Esther, Who is hee? and where is he that dare presume in his minde to doe after that maner?

6 And Esther saide, The enemye & aduersary is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was exceedingly afraid before the king and the queene.

7 And the king arose from the banquet, and from the wine in his displeasure, and went into the palace garden: and Haman stood by, and besought Queene Esther for his life: for hee sawe that there was a mischief prepared for him of the king already.

8 And when the king came againe out of the palace garden into the place where they dranke wine, Haman had laid him vpon the bedde that Esther late vpon. Then saide the king, Will hee force the Queene also before mee in the house? Alsoone as that worde went out of the kings mouth, they covered Hamans face.

9 And Harbona, one of the chamberlaines that stood before the king, saide, Beholde, there standeth yet a gallous in Hamans house, fittie cubits high, which hee had made for Mardocheus, that spake good for the king. Then the king said, Hang him thereon.

10 So they hanged Haman on the gallous that hee had made for Mardocheus: Then was the kings wrath pacified.

The viij. Chapter.

1 After the death of Haman, was Mardocheus exalted.

14 Comfortable letters are sent vnto the Iewes.

In the same day did king Ahasuerus giue the house of Haman the Jewes enemye, vnto Queene Esther, and Mardocheus came before the king: for Esther told what he was vnto her.

2 And the king tooke off his ring which hee had taken from Haman, and gaue it vnto Mardocheus. And Esther set Mardocheus ouer the house of Haman.

3 And Esther spake yet more before the king, and fell downe at his feete weeping, & besought him that he would put away the wickednesse of Haman the Agagite, and his deuice that he had imagined against the Jewes.

4 And the king helde out the golden scepter toward Esther, Then rose Esther, and stood before the king.

5 And saide, If it please the king, & if I haue found grace in his sight, and if it bee acceptable before the king, and I please him, then let it bee written, that the letters of the deuice of Haman the son of Hamadatha the Agagite may bee called againe, which letters he wrote to destroy the Jewes which are in all the kings prouinces.

6 For how can I suffer and see the euill that shall come vnto my people? or howe can I beare and looke vpon the destruction of my kinred?

7 And the king Ahasuerus said vnto queene Esther, and to Mardocheus the Jew, Behold, I haue giuen Esther the house of Haman, whom they haue hanged vpon a tree, because hee layde hand vpon the Jewes.

8 Write ye also for the Jewes as it liketh you in the kings name, and seale it with the kings ring: for the writings that were written in the kings name, and sealed with the kings ring, durst no man disannull.

9 Then were the kings Scribes called at the same time, euen in the thirde moneth (that is in the moneth Sivan) on the thre & twentieth day thereof, and it was written according to all as Mardocheus commaunded vnto the Jewes, and to the princes, to the deputies and captaines in the prouinces which are from Iudaea vnto Ethiopia, namely, an hundred, twentieth and seuen prouinces, vnto euery prouince according to the writing thereof, and vnto euery people after their speech, and to the Jewes according vnto their writing and language.

10 And hee wrote in the king Ahasuerus name, and sealed it with the kings ring, and by postes that rode vpon horses, and swift strong Mules, sent he the writings.

11 wherein the king granted the Jewes, in what cities soeuer they were, to gather themselves together, and to stand for their life, and for to root out, to slay, and to destroy all the power of the people and prouince that would trouble them, both children and women, and to spoyle their goods:

12 vpon one day in all the prouinces of king Ahasuerus, namely, vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth Adar.

13 The tenor of the writing was, home there should bee a commaundement giuen in all and euery prouince, and published among all people, and that the Jewes should bee ready against that day to auenge themselves on their enemies.

14 And so the postes that rode vpon the swift horses and mules, made haste with all speede to execute the kings worde: and the commaundement was deuised in the palace of Sufan.

15 And Mardocheus went out from the king in royal apparel, of yellow and whyte, and with a great crowne of gold, being arrayed with a garment of silke and purple: and the citie of Sufan reioyced and was glad.

16 And vnto the Jewes there was come light and gladnesse, ioy and worship.

17 In all prouinces & cities into what place soeuer the kings word and commaundement reached, there was ioy and mirth, a feast and good dayes among the Jewes: inso much that many of the people in the lande became Jewes, for the feare of the Jewes came vpon them.

The ix. Chapter.

1 At the commaundement of the King, the Iewes put their aduersaries to death. 14 The tenne sonnes of Haman are hanged.

In the twelfth moneth (that is, the moneth Adar) vpon the thirteenth day of the same, when the kings worde and commaundement had bene put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Jewes hoped to haue power ouer them, it turned contrary: for the Jewes had rule ouer them that hated them.

2 For then gathered the Jewes together in their cities within all the prouinces of king Ahasuerus, to lay hand on such as would do them erill, and no man could withstand them: for the feare of them was come ouer all people.

3 And all the rulers in the prouinces, and princes, and deputies, and officers of the king, promoted the Jewes: for the feare of Mardocheus came vpon them.

4 For Mardocheus was great in the kings house, and the report of him was noyed in all the prouinces: so this man Mardocheus was ed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Jewes smote all their enemies with the troie of the sword, and slaughter, and destruction, and did what they would vnto their enemies.

6 And at the palace of Susan, the Jewes destroyed five hundred men.

7 And seue Pharandatha, Dalphon, Aphatha,

8 Phozatha, Adalia, Aridatha,

9 Pharmastha, Arisai, Aridai, & waizatha,

10 The tenne sonnes of Haman the sonne of Hamadatha, the enemy of the Jewes: but on his goods they laid no hands.

11 At the same time was the king certified of the number of those that were slaine in the palace of Susan.

12 And the king sayde vnto Queene Esther, The Jewes haue slaine and destroyed five hundred men in the palace of Susan, and the tenne sonnes of Haman: what haue they done thinkest thou in other lands of the king? And what is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? or what requirest thou more to be done?

13 Esther answered, If it please the king, let him suffer the Jewes which are in Susan, to morow also to do according vnto this dayes decree, that they may hang Hamans tenne sonnes vpon the tree.

14 And the king charged to doe so: and the decreet was deuised at Susan, and they hanged Hamans ten sonnes.

15 For the Jewes that were in Susan, gathered themselues together vpon the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, and slue three hundred men at Susan: but on their goods they layd no hands.

16 As for the other Jewes that were in the kings prouinces, they came together, and stood for their liues, and had rest from their enemies, and slew of their enemies seventy and five thousand, howbeit, they layde no handes on their goods.

17 Thus they did on the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, and on the fourteenth day of the same moneth rested they, which day they helde with feasting and gladnesse.

18 But the Jewes that were at Susan, came together, both on the thirteenth day, and on the fourteenth: and on the fifteenth day of the same they rested, and held that day with feasting and gladnesse.

19 And therefore the Jewes that dwelt in the villages, and in walled towncs, held the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar with gladnesse and feasting, and kept holy day, and euery one sent presents vnto his neighbour.

20 And Mardocheus wrote these wordes, and sent letters vnto all the Jewes that were in all the prouinces of king Ahasuerus, both nigh and farre:

21 That they should make a lawe among themselues, and hold the fourteenth & fifteenth day of the moneth Adar yereley.

22 As the dayes wherein the Jewes came to rest from their enemies, and as a moneth wherein their paine was turned to ioy, and their sorrow into a ioyfull day: and that in those dayes they should make feastes and gladnesse, and one to send gifts vnto an other, and to distribute vnto the poore.

23 And the Jewes promised to doe as they had begun, and as Mardocheus had written vnto them:

24 Because Haman the sonne of Hamadatha the Agagite, all the Jewes enemy, had deuised against the Jewes, how hee might destroy them, and caused to cast Phur, (that is, a lot) for to consume them, and to bring them to nought.

25 * But when Esther came before the king, he commaunded by letters, that his wicked deuice, which hee imagined against the Jewes, should be turned vpon his owne head, and that he and his sonnes should be hanged on the tree.

26 For the which cause they called these dayes Phurim, because of the name of the lot, and because of all the words of this writing, and what they themselues had secne, and what had come vnto them:

27 And the Jewes ordained, & took it vpon them & their seed, & vpon all such as ioyned themselues vnto them, that they would not misse, but obserue these two daies yereley according as they were written and appointed in their season.

28 And that these dayes are to be remembred, and to be kept of childrens children among all kindreds in all lands and cities, in these dayes of Phurim, which are not to bee ouersight among the Jewes, and the memoriale of them ought not to perish from their seede.

29 And Queene Esther the daughter of Abihail, and Mardocheus the Jewe wrote with all authoritie to confirme this second writing of Phurim.

30 And he sent the letters vnto all the Jewes, to the hundred twentie and seuen prouinces of the empire of Ahasuerus, with wordes of peace and truely:

31 To confirme these dayes of Phurim in their time appointed, according as Mardocheus the Jewe, and Esther the Queene had appointed them: and they bound their soule and their seed to fasting and prayer.

32 And the decreet of Esther confirmed these wordes of Phurim, & was written in the booke.

33 And the king Ahasuerus layd tribute vpon the land, and vpon the plex of the sea.

34 And all the actes of his power, and of his might, & the declaration of the dignitie of Mardocheus, wherewith the king magnified him, be they not written in the bookes of the Chronicles of the kings of Medes and Persia?

35 For Mardocheus the Jewe was the second next vnto king Ahasuerus, and great among the Jewes, and accepted among the multitude of his brethren, as one that seeketh the wealth of his people, & speaketh peaceably for all his seed.

The Booke of Iob.

The first Chapter.

1 The holinesse and riches of Iob, 5 the care of Iob for his children. 11 Satan hath permissiō to tempt him. 13 He tempteth him by taking away his substance, and his children. 20 His faith and patience.

In the lande of Hus there was a man whose name was Iob, and the same was a perfect and iust man, one that feared God, and eschewed euill.

2 And hee had seuen sonnes, & thre daughters.

3 His substance also was seuen thousand sheepe, and thre thousand camels, fise hundred yoke of oxen, and fise hundred see asses, and a very great household: so that hee was one of the most principall men among all them of the East country.

4 And his sonnes went and banqueted in their houses, euery one his day, and sent and called for their thre sisters to eate and drinke with them.

5 And when the dayes of their banqueting were gone about, Iob sent and sanctified them, and gate bp earely, and offered for euery one a whole burnt offering: for Iob sayde, It may be that my sonnes haue done some offence, & haue bene vnthankfull to God in their hearts. Thus did Iob euery day.

6 And vpon a day when the children of God came and stood before the Lorde, Satan came also among them.

7 And the Lorde said vnto Satan, whence comest thou? Satan answered the Lorde, and said, From compassing the earth to and fro, and from walking through it.

8 And the Lorde said vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Iob, howe there is none like him in the earth: a perfect and a iust man, one that feareth God, and escheweth euill?

9 Satan answered, and said vnto the Lorde, Both Iob feare God: for nought?

10 Hast not thou preserved him and his house, and all that he hath on euery side? thou hast blessed the worke of his hands, and his possession is increased in the land.

11 But lay thine hand now vpon him, and touch all that he hath, and he shall curse thee to thy face.

12 And the Lorde sayde vnto Satan, Loe, all that hee hath be in thy power, onely vpon himselfe see that thou lay not thine hand. And Satan went forth from the presence of the Lorde.

13 And vpon a certaine day when his sonnes and daughters were eating and drimking wine in their eldest brothers house.

14 There came a messenger vnto Iob, and sayd, The oxen were plowing, and the asses feeding beside them:

15 And the Sabees came violently & tooke them away: yea, they haue slaine thy seruants with the edge of the sword, and I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

16 While he was yet speaking, there came another, and sayde, The fire of God is fallen from heauen, and hath burnt by thy sheepe, and seruants, and consumed them, and I only am escaped alone to tell thee.

17 And while hee was yet speaking, there came another, and said, The Chaldees made out three bands, and fell vpon the camels, and haue carried them away, yea, and slaine thy seruants with the sword, and I onely am gotten away alone to tell thee.

18 And while he was yet speaking, there came another, and sayd, Thy sonnes and thy daughters were eating and drimking wine in their eldest brothers house, 19 And beholde, there came a mightie great wind from beyond the wilderness, and smote the foure corners of the house, which fell vpon thy children, and they are dead, and I am gotten away alone to tell thee.

20 Then Iob stood by, and rent his clothes, and shaued his head, fell down vpon the ground, worshipping, 21 And sayde, Naked came I out of my mothers wombe, and naked shall I turne thither againe: the Lorde gaue, and the Lorde hath taken away, blessed be the Name of the Lorde.

22 In all these things did not Iob offend, nor charged God foolishly.

The ij. Chapter.

9 Iobs wife tempted him to forsake God. 11 His three friends visite him.

AND on a day, the children of God came and stood before the Lorde, & Satan came also among them, and stood before the Lorde.

2 And the Lorde said vnto Satan, From whence comest thou? Satan answered the Lorde, and sayd, I haue gone about the land, and walked through it.

3 And the Lorde sayde vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Iob? howe there is none like vnto him in the earth, a perfect and a iust man: one that feareth God, and escheweth euill, and continueth still in his byrightnesse, although thou mouedest me against him, to destroy him: without cause.

4 And Satan answered the Lorde, and said, Skinne for skinne, yea, a man will giue all that euer he hath for his life.

5 But lay thine hand now vpon him, and touch his bone and his flesh, and hee shall curse thee to thy face.

6 And the Lorde sayd vnto Satan, Loe, hee is thine hand, but saue his life.

7 So went Satan forth from the presence of the Lorde, and smote Iob with soze bites, a This Iob was a Gentile, declaring hereby that God had his men among the heathen.

a God is the author of all grace, and hee is the author of all punishment. Hee is the author of all blessing, and hee is the author of all curse. Hee is the author of all life, and hee is the author of all death. Hee is the author of all mercy, and hee is the author of all judgment.

from the sole of his foot, vnto his crowne.
 8 And he tooke a potshard to scrape him: and he sate do wne among the ashes.
 9 Then sayd his wife vnto him: Dost thou continue yet in thy perfectnesse? curse God, and die.
 10 But he sayd vnto her, Thou speakest like a foolish woman: shall we receiue good at the hand of God, and not receiue euill? In all these things did not Job sinne with his lips.
 11 Now when Jobs thre friends heard of all the trouble that came vpon him: they came e- uery one from his owne place, namely, Eliphaz the Themanite, Bildad the Suhite, and Sophar the Naamathite: for they were agreed to- gether, to come to the we their compassion vpon him, and to comfort him.
 12 So when they lift by their eyes afarre off, they kine to him not: then they cryed, and wept, and euery one of them rent his clothes, & spin- nled dust vpon their heads: in the ayre.
 13 They sate them downe by him also vpon the ground seuen dayes and seuen nights, and none spake a word vnto him, for they saue that his griefe was very great.

The iij. Chapter.

1 Job complaineth, and curseth the day of his birth.
 11 He desireth to die, as though death were the end of all mans miserie.

After this, opened Job his mouth, and curled his day.

2 And Job answered, & sayd,
 3 Let the day perish wherein I was borne, and the night in the which it was sayde, There is a man childe conceiued.

4 The same day he turned to darkenesse and not regarded of God from aboue, neither let the light shine vpon it.

5 But let it be stained with darkenesse and the shadow of death, let the dimme colde fall vpon it, which may make it terrible, as a most bitter day.

6 Let the dark storme ouercome that night, and let it not bee ioyued vnto the dayes of the yere, nor counted in the number of the moneths.

7 Desolate be that night, and without glad- nesse.

8 Let them that curse the day, and that bee readie to rattle by mourning, giue it also their curle.

9 Let the starres of that night be dimme though darkenesse of it, let it looke for light, but haue none, neither let it see the dawning of the day:

10 Because it shut not by the doozes of my mothers wombe, nor hid so low from mine eyes.

11 Why dyed I not in the birth? why did not I perish as soone as I came out of the wombe?

12 Why let they me vpon their knees? why gaue they me sucke with their breasts?

13 When should I nowe haue Ipen still, I should haue slept, and bene at rest.

14 Like as the kungs and lords of the earth, which haue builded themselues speciall places:

15 Or, as the princes that haue had gold, and their houses full of siluer.

16 Or, why was not I hid, as a thing borne out of time, either as yong children which neuer saw the light?

17 There must the wicked cease from their tyranie, and there such as laboured valiantly be at rest.

18 There the prisoners rest together, they heare no moze the voice of the oppyellour:

19 There are small and great, and the ser- uant is free from his master.

20 Wherefore is the light giuen to him that is in miserie: and life vnto them that haue heauy hearts?

21 Which long for death, and finde it not, though they search moze for it then for trea- sures:

22 Which reioyce exceedingly, and bee glad when they can find the graue,

23 From whome their ends are hid, and con- cealed by God?

24 For my sighes come before I eate, and my roarings are powred out like the water:

25 For the thing that I feared is come vpon me, and the thing that I was afraid of, is hap- pened vnto me.

26 Was I not happie? Had I not quietnesse? Was I not in rest? and now commeth such mi- serie vpon me.

The iij. Chapter.

5 Eliphaz blameth Job for impatiencie, & vn- iustice, and for the presumption of his owne righteoulnes.

AD Eliphaz the Themanite an- swered, and sayd,

2 If wee allay to commune with thee, wilt thou bee discon- tent? But who can withholde himselfe from speaking?

3 Beholde, thou hast bene an instructor of many, and hast strengthened the weake hands.

4 Thy words haue set by him that was fal- ling, thou hast refreshed the weake knees.

5 But now it is come vpon thee, and thou art grieued: it toucheth thee, and thou art trou- bled.

6 Is this thy feare, thy confidence, thy hope, and thy byright liuing?

7 Consider, I pray thee, who euer perished being an innocent: or when were the godly de- stroyed?

8 For as I haue prooued by experience, they that plowe iniquitie, and sowe wretchednesse, reape the same.

9 With the blast of God they perish, with the breath of his northwinds are they consumed away.

10 The roaring of the Lyon, and the boyce of the Lyon, and the teeth of Lyons whelps are pulled out.

11 The Lyon perisheth for lacke of pray, and the Lyons whelps are scattered abroad.

12 But where as a thing was hid from me, yet mine care hath receiued a little thereof.

13 In the thoughts and visions of the night, when sleepe commeth on men, 14 Feare came vpon mee, and dread which made all my bones to shake.

15 The winde passed by before my presence, and made the haire of my flesh to stand vp.

16 It stood, and I knew not the face thereof, an image there was before mine eyes, and in the stillnesse heard I a voice.

17 Shall man bee moze iust then God? or shall a man be purer then his maker?

4 What is, death in the eyes and helpe from the ty- rants a wic- ked oflice of chure. Job bee clareth the loss plagues her bare, counting himselfe in wofull state the which yea- sons, a bound prisoners: of which cares, after the count- out of the flou- he accounted dead the only end.

3 Because of the low afflic- tion, and the impatiencie.

b Weeping, thou hast not- ten and com- forted many in miserie, and canst thou not enter the sele- now?

c By this hee gathereth that Job was iust: an hypocrite, and had no perfect heart nor trust in God.

19 How much more in them that dwell in houses of clay, and whose foundation is but dust, which shall be consumed, as it were with a mothe:

20 They shall bee smitten from the morning vnto the evening: yea they shall perish for euer, when no man regardeth them.

21 Is not their royaltie gone away with them? they shall die truly, and not in wisdom.

Thev. Chapter.

1. 2. Eliphaz sheweth the difference betweene the children of God, and the wicked.

Mie, I pray thee, if there bee any that wil answer thee, and looke thou vpon any of the holy.

2 As for the foolish man, his wickednesse killeth him, and enuie slayeth the ignorant.

3 I haue seene my selfe when the foolish was deepe rooted, and suddenly I cursed his habitation.

4 His children were without prosperitie, and they were slaine in the gate, and there was no man to deliuer them.

5 His haruest was eaten of the hungry, and taken from among the thornes, and the thistle drunke by their labour.

6 It is not the earth that bringeth forth iniquitie, neither commeth sorrowe out of the ground:

7 But man is borne vnto labour, like as the sparkes flye by.

8 But I would aske counsell at the Lord, and talke with God:

9 Which doth great things, and vnsearchable, and maruels without number.

10 He giueth raine vpon the earth, and poureth water vpon the streets.

11 To set vp them that be of low degree, and that those which are in heauinesse may be exalted to saluation.

12 He destroyeth the deuises of the subtile, so that their handes are not able to performe that which they doe enterpryse.

13 Hee compasseth the wise in their owne craftinesse, and maketh foolish the counsell of the wicked.

14 They runne into darkenesse by faire day, and grope at the noone day, as in the night.

15 But he deliuereth the poore fro the sword, from their threathings, and from the violence of the mightie.

16 He is the hope of the poore, & the mouth of the wicked shall be stopped.

17 Behold, * blessed is the man whome God correcteth, therefore refuse not thou the chasting of the Almighty.

18 For he maketh a wound, and hee healeth: he smiteth, and his hand maketh whole againe.

19 He shall deliuer thee in all troubles, and in the seuerity there shall no euill come to thee.

20 In hunger he shall saue thee from death, and when it is warre, from the power of the sword.

21 Thou shalt be bidden from the scourge of the tongue, and when destruction commeth, thou shalt not need to feare.

22 In destruction and dearth thou shalt bee mery, and shalt not be afraid of the beasts of the earth.

23 For the stones of the land shall be confederate with thee, and the beasts of the field shall be at peace with thee.

24 And thou shalt knowe that thy dwelling place shall be in rest, and thou shalt visite thy habitation, and shalt not sinne.

25 Thou shalt see also that thy seede shall be great, and thy posteritie as the grasse vpon the earth.

26 Thou shalt come also to thy graue in a full age, like a cozne sheafe cut downe in due season.

27 Loe, this wee our selues haue procured by experience, and euen thus it is: hearken thou to it also, that thou mayest take herde to thy selfe.

Thevj. Chapter.

1 Iob answereth, that his paine is more grieuous then his fault. 8 He wisheth death. 14 Hee complaineth of his friends.

But Iob answered, and sayd.

2 O that my complaint were truly weighed, and my punishment laide in the ballances together:

3 For now it would be heauier then the sand of the sea: and this is the cause that my wordes faile me.

4 For the arrowes of the Almighty are vpon me, the poyson thereof hath drunke by my spirite, and the terrible feares of God are set against me.

5 Doth the wilde assc roare when hee hath grasse: or loweth the oxe when he hath sodder:

6 That which is vnlawfull, shall it be eaten without salt: or is there any taste in the white of an egge:

7 The things that sometime I might not away withal, are now my meat for very sorrow.

8 O that I might haue my desire, and that God would grant me the thing that I long for:

9 O that God would begin and smite me, that hee would let his hand goe and take mee cleane away:

10 Then should I haue some comfort, yea, I would desire him in my paine that he would not spare, for I will not deny the wordes of the holy one.

11 For what power haue I to endure: and what is mine end, that my soule might be patient:

12 Is my strength the strength of stones: or is my flesh of brasle:

13 Is it not so that there is in me no helpe: and that my substance is taken from me:

14 He that is in tribulation, ought to be comforted of his neighbour: but the feare of the Almighty is cleane away.

15 Mine owne brethren passe ouer by me, as the water brooke, and as the overflowing of waters, which doe hastily goe away.

16 Which are blackish by reason of the Ice, and wherein the snow is hid.

17 Which when they haue passed by, doe baruish: and when the heat commeth, they faile out of their place.

18 They depart from the course of their wonted channell to other places, they runne in vaine, and perish.

Meaning, that the stones of the land shall be confederate with thee.

Meaning, that thou shalt knowe that thy dwelling place shall be in rest.

Meaning, that thou shalt see also that thy seede shall be great.

Meaning, that thou shalt come also to thy graue in a full age.

Meaning, that thou shalt see also that thy seede shall be great.

Meaning, that thou shalt see also that thy seede shall be great.

Meaning, that thou shalt see also that thy seede shall be great.

Meaning, that thou shalt see also that thy seede shall be great.

Meaning, that thou shalt see also that thy seede shall be great.

Meaning, that thou shalt see also that thy seede shall be great.

Meaning, that thou shalt see also that thy seede shall be great.

Meaning, that thou shalt see also that thy seede shall be great.

Meaning, that thou shalt see also that thy seede shall be great.

21 Thy mouth shall bee fill with laughing, and thy lips with gladnesse.
 22 They also that hate thee, shall be clothed with shame, and the dwelling of the vngodly shall come to nought.

The ix. Chapter.

Iob declareth the mighty power of God, and that mans righteousness is nothing.

Ib answered, and said,
 2 I knowe it is so of a trueth: for how may a man compared vnto God be iustified?

3 If he wil argue with him, he cannot answer him one thing of a thousand.

4 He is wise in heart, and mighty in strength: who hath bene fierce against him, and hath prospered?

5 Hee tranlateth the mountaines or euer they be aware, it is he that ouerthroweth them in his wrath.

6 He remoueth the earth out of her place, that the pillars thereof shake withall.

7 He commandeth the sunne, and it riseth not: he closeth by the starres as vnder a scale.

8 He himselfe alone spreadeth out the heauens, and goeth vpon the waues of the sea.

9 He maketh the waines of heauen, the Orion, the seven starres, and the secret places of the South.

10 He doeth great things and vnsearchable: yea, and wonders without number.

11 Lo, when he goeth by me, I shall not see him, and when hee passeth, I shall not perceiue him.

12 If he be hastie to take a way, who wil make him refoze it? or who wil say vnto him, what doest thou?

13 God wil not withdraw his anger, and the most mighty doe loupe vnder him.

14 How much lesse shall I answer him? or how should I find out my words with him?

15 For though I were righteous, yet might I not giue him one word againe, but meekely submit my selfe to him as my iudge.

16 If I had called vpon him, and hee had answered mee, yet would I not beleeue that hee heard my voyce:

17 He troubleth me so with the tempest, and woundeth me out of measure without a cause.

18 Hee will not suffer mee to take my breath, but killeth me with bitternesse.

19 If men will speake of strength, loe, hee is strong: if men will speake of iudgement, who shall be my pleader?

20 If I will iustifie my selfe, mine owne mouth shall condemne mee: if I will be a perfect man, he shall proue me a wicked doer.

21 Though I were perfect, yet I knowe not my soule, and am weary of my life.

22 This is one point, and therefore I said, He destroyeth both the perfect and vngodly.

23 And though hee slay suddenly with the scourge, will he laugh at the punishment of the innocent?

24 As for the earth, it is giuen ouer into the hand of the wicked, and hee shall couer the faces of the iudges thereof: if not, where is hee, or who is he, that can shew the contrary?

25 My dayes are moze swift then a runner, they are gone and haue scene no good thing.

26 They are passed away as the ships that be good vnder saile, and as the Eagle that flyeth to the pray.

27 If I say, I will forget my complayning, I will cease from my wrath, and comfort my selfe:

28 Then am I afraid of all my sorowes, for I know that thou wilt not iudge me innocent.

29 If I be wicked, why then labour I in baine?

30 If I wash my selfe with snow water, and make mine hands neuer to cleane at the well:

31 Yet shalt thou dippe me in the mire, and mine owne clothes shall defile me.

32 For hee that I must giue answer vnto, and with whom I goe to the law, is not a man as I am:

33 Neither is there any dayes man to lay his hand betweene vs.

34 Let him take his rod away from me, yea, let him make me no moze afraid of him.

35 And then shall I answer him without any feare: but because I am not so, I hold me still.

The x. Chapter.

1 Iob is wearie of his life, and setteth out his frailenes before God. 20 He desireth him to stay his hand. 22 A description of death.

My soule is cut off though I liue, I will powze out my complaint against my selfe, and wil speake out of the very beautinesse of my soule.

2 I will say vnto God, do not condemne me, but he we me wherefoze thou contendest with me?

3 Thinkest thou it wel done to oppresse me? to cast mee off being the workes of thy hands? and to maintaine the counsell of the vngodly?

4 Hast thou fleshy eyes? or doest thou looke as a man looketh?

5 Or are thy daies as the daies of a man? and thy peeres as mans peeres?

6 That thou makest such inquisition for my wickednesse and searchest out my sinne?

7 Thou knowest that I haue not done wickedly, and that none can deliuer me out of thine hand.

8 Thy hands haue made me, and fashioned me altogether round about, wilt thou then destroy me?

9 Remember, I beseech thee, that thou made me as the mould of the earth, shalt bring me into dust againe.

10 Hast thou not powzed me as it were milke, and turned me to cruds like cheese?

11 Thou hast couered me with skin and flesh, and soined me together with bones and sinewes.

12 Thou hast granted mee life, and done me good: and thy visitation hath preserved my spirit.

13 Thou hast hidde these things in thine heart, yet I am sure that thou rememberest this thing.

14 If I did sinne, thou haddest an eye vnto me, and shalt not pronounce me innocent from mine offence.

15 If I haue done wickedly, wo is me therefore: if I haue done rightously, yet dare I not lift vp my head, so full am I of confusion, and see mine owne miserie.

The xj. Chapter.

1 Iob is vniustly blamed of Sophar, 7 The maiestie of God cannot be searched. 12 God is mercifull to the repentant. 18 The godly liue in safetie.

Then answered Sophar the Naamathite, and said,

1 Should not hee that maketh many words be answered? should hee that babbleth much be commended therein?

2 Should thy lies make men holde their peace? and when thou mockest others shall no man make thee ashamed?

3 For thou hast said, my doctrine is pure, and I am cleane in thine eyes.

4 But what that God would speake, and open his lips against thee,

5 That he might shew thee the secrets of wisdom, how thou hast deserued double, according to right: Know therefore that God hath forgotten thee for thine iniquitie.

6 Art thou able to find out the secrets of God? Or wilt thou attaine to the perfectnesse of the Almighty?

7 He is higher then heauen, what art thou able to doe? deeper then the hell, how wilt thou then know him?

8 The measure of him is longer then the earth, and broader then the sea.

9 Though he turne all things vpside downe, close them in, and gather them together, who will turne him from his purpose?

10 For he it is that knoweth haime men, he seeth their wickednesse also, should he not then consider it?

11 Yet haime man would be wise though man new borne, is like a wilde asses colt.

12 If thou preparedst thine heart, and listest off by thine hands to ward him:

13 If thou wouldst put away the wickednesse which thou hast in hand, so that no vngodlinesse dwell in thine house:

14 Then mightest thou lift vp thy face without shame, and then shouldst thou be sure, and haue no neede to feare.

15 Then shouldst thou forget thy miserie, and thinke no more vpon it then vpon the waters which passe by.

16 Then shouldst thou liue as cleere as the noone day, thou shouldst thine footing, and be as the morning.

17 Then mightest thou be bold, because there is hope, and take thy rest quietly, as compassed with a trench.

18 Then mightest thou lie downe, and none to make thee afraid, yea, many one should make suite vnto thee.

19 As for the eyes of the vngodly, they shall faile, and they shall not escape, and their hope shall be forsook of iudgement.

The xij. Chapter.

1 Iob accuseth his friends of ignorance. 7 He declareth the might and power of God. 17 And how God changeth the course of things.

Then Iob answered, and said,

2 Then no doubt yee are the people, and wisdom shall perish with you.

3 But I haue vnderstanding as well as ye, and am not inferiour to you: yea, who knoweth not these things?

4 I am as one mocked of his neighbour, who calleth vpon God, and he heareth him: the iust and the vpright is laughed to scorn,

5 Being as a light despised in the hearts of the rich, and as one ready to fall.

6 The houses of robbers are in wealth and prosperitie, and they that maliciously meddle against God, dwell without care in those things that God hath giuen richly with his hand.

7 Alke the cattell, and they shall enforme thee: the fowles of the aire, & they shall tell thee.

8 Speake to the earth, and it shall shew thee: or to the fishes of the sea, and they shall certifie thee.

9 What is he, but he knoweth that the hand of the Lord made all these?

10 In whose hand is the soule of euery liuing thing, and the breath of all manking.

11 Doeth not the eares discern the wordes? and the mouth taste the meate?

12 Among old persons there is wisdom, and in age is vnderstanding.

13 Yea, with God is wisdom and strength, counsell, and vnderstanding.

14 Behold, if he breake downe a thing, who can let it vp againe? if he shut a thing, who will open it?

15 Behold, if he withhold the waters, they dry vp: if he let them goe, they destroy the earth.

16 With him is strength and wisdom, both the deceiver and he that is deceiued are his.

17 He carrieth away the wife men as it were a spoyle, and maketh the iudges fooles.

18 He looeth the rule of kings, and girdeth their loynes with a bond.

19 He leadeth away the great men into captiuitie, and turneth the mightie vpside downe.

20 He stoppeth the mouth of them that speak truth, and disappointeth the aged of their vnderstanding.

21 He pouereth contempt vpon princes, and maketh the strength of the mightie weak.

22 Looke what lieth hid in darknesse, he declareth it openly, and the very shadow of death bringeth he to light.

23 He increaseth the people, and destroyeth them, he maketh them to multiply, and diminisheth them.

20 Iob prayeth vnto God that he would not handle him rigorously.

I De, all this haue I seene with mine eye, heard with mine eare, and vnderstand it.

2 What ye know, that same doe I know also, neither am I inferiour vnto you.

3 Neuertheless, I talke with the almighty, and my desire is to commune with God.

4 As for you, ye are workemasters of lies, and vnprofitable phisicians altogether.

5 Would God you kept your tongue, for then might ye be taken for wise men.

6 Now heare my reasoning, and powder the argument of my lips.

7 Will you speake wickedly for Gods defence, and talke deceitfully for his cause?

8 Will ye accept the person of him? or will ye contend for God?

9 Shal that helpe you when he calleth you to reckoning? or as one man mocketh another, do ye so mocke him?

10 He shall surely reprove you, if ye do secretly accept any person.

11 Shal not his excellency make you afraid? shall not his his feare fall vpon you?

12 Your remembrance is like vnto dust, and your bodies like the clay.

13 Hold your tongues before me, that I may speake, and let come on me what will.

14 Wherefore doe I teare my flesh with my teety, and put my soule in mine hands?

15 Loc, though he slay me, yet will I trust in him: but I will reprove mine owne wayes in his sight.

16 He shall be my saluation: for there may no hypocrite come before him.

17 Heare diligently my wordes, and ponder my sayings with your eares.

18 Behold, now haue I prepared my iudgement, a know that I shall be found righteous.

19 What is he that will goe to law with me? if I will hold my tongue, I die.

20 Neuertheless, doe not these two things vnto me, and then will I not hide my selfe from thee:

21 Withdraw thine hand farre from me, and let not the feareful dread of thee make me afraid.

22 Then call, and thou wilt answer: or let me speake, and give thou me an answer.

23 How many are my misdeedes and sinnes? let me know my transgressions and offences.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and holdest me for thine enemy?

25 Wilt thou breake a leafe driuen to and fro, and wilt thou pursue the drie stubble?

26 For thou layest sharply to my charge, and punishest me for the sinnes of my youth.

27 Thou puttest my feete also in the stocks, and lookest narrowly vnto all my pathes, and makest the print thereof in the heeles of my feete:

28 And I as a rotten thing doe consume away, as a garment that is moche eaten.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 Iob describeth the shortnesse and miserie of the life of man. 14 Hope sustineth the godly. 22 The condition of mans life.

An that is borne of a woman, hath but a short time to liue, and is full of miserie.

2 He cometh vp, and is cut downe like a floure: he fleeth as it were a shadow, and continueth not.

3 Doest thou open thine eyes vpon such one, and bringest me into thy iudgement?

4 Who can make it cleane that cometh of an vncleane thing? no bodie.

5 The dayes of man surely are determined, the number of his moneths are knowne onely vnto thee, thou hast appointed him his bounds which he cannot goe beyond.

6 Goe from him, that he may rest vntill his daye come which he looketh for, like as an hireling doeth.

7 For if a tree be cut downe, there is some hope yet that it will sprout, and shoote forth the branches againe.

8 Though the roote of it be warent olde in the earth, and the stocke thereof be dead in the ground:

9 Yet when it getteth the sent of water, it will bud and bring forth boughs, like as a tree that is planted.

10 But as for man, when he is dead, perished, and consumed away, what becommeth of him?

11 As the waters passe from the sea, and as the flood decayeth and dryeth by:

12 So man after he is asleepe riseth not, he shall not wake till the heauens be no more, nor rise out of his sleepe.

13 O that thou wouldest hide mee in the graue, and keepe me secrete, vntill thy wrath were past, and to appoint mee a time wherein thou mightest remember me.

14 May a dead man liue againe? All the daies of my life will I waite still, till my changing shall come.

15 Thou shalt call me and I shall answer thee, despise not thou the worke of thine owne hands.

16 For now thou numbrest all my goings, and giuest no delay vnto my sinne.

17 Mine iniquitie is sealed by as it were in a bagge, and thou addest punishment vnto my wickednesse.

18 The mountaines fall away at the last, the rockes are remooued out of their place.

19 The waters pearce through the very stones by little and little, the floods wash away the grauell and earth: so shalt thou destroy the hope of man.

20 Thou preuailest still against him, so that he passeth away: thou changest his estate, and puttest him from thee.

21 And whether his children come to worship or no, he cannot tell: and if they be men of lowe degree, he knoweth not.

22 But while his flesh is vpon him, it must haue sorrow: and his soule shall mourne within him.

a Dearing, I knowe the power of God as well as you.

b What is, you are vniuersally for my miserie, which seek not the medicine to cure it, but rather to increase it, with your lies, and false to trouble me. c Marke what I shall say against you, for I blame you not in that you declare Gods power, but because you fame a carnall humane iudice to be in him: and so of these things we conclude vs.

d Ioue fame shall come to noth. e What is, for vice and torment my selfe as though I should rest and were my flesh with teeth. f What is, to let my life in daunger.

g There is apparently that which is not and best in God is not all perfect, but that which is of opposite nature with they themselves know. h What is, not from the reason. i To you that is, I am sure.

k Thou makest me thy punishment, and doest to oppresse me, that I can not seee hand nor face.

The xv. Chapter.

Eliphaz blamed Job, because he challengeth wisdom and pureness to himselfe.

Then answered Eliphaz the Themanite, and said,

2 Shall a wise mans answer be as the winde, and fill his belly with the winde of the East?

3 Shall he reprove with a word that is nothing worth, and speake the things which can doe no good?

4 Surely thou hast cast off feare, and restrained prayer before God.

5 For thy mouth tegetteth forth thine owne iniquitie, seeing thou hast chosen the tongue of the craftie.

6 Thine owne mouth condemneth thee, and not I: yea thine own lips shape an answer against thee.

7 Art thou the first man that ever was borne? or wast thou made before the hills?

8 Hast thou heard the secreete counsell of God? and dost thou restraints wisdom to thy selfe?

9 What knowest thou that we knowe not? and what understandest thou, but wee can the same?

10 With vs are both old and aged men, yea, such as haue liued longer then thy father.

11 Thinkest thou it a small thing of the consolations of God? with thee is a lying word.

12 Why doest thine heart so bewitch thee? and wherefore winketh thou with thine eyes?

13 What thy minde is so putt vp against God, and lettest such wordes goe out of thy mouth?

14 What is man, that he should be cleane? and he which is borne of a woman, whereby he might be righteous?

15 Behold, he doth not trust his saints, yea, the heauens are not cleane in his sight:

16 Howe much more then an abominable and vile man, which drinketh wickednesse like water.

17 I will tell thee, heare me, and I will shew thee that I haue scene:

18 Which wise men haue tolde, and haue not hid that which they receiued from their fathers:

19 Unto whom alone the earth was giuen, and no stranger went among them.

20 The vngodly soroweth all the dayes of his life, as it were a woman with child, and the number of a tyrants yeeres are vnknown.

21 A fearefull sound is cuer in his eares, and when he is in peace, the destroyer shall come vpon him.

22 He beleueth neuer to be deliuered out of darkenesse: for the sword is alwayes before his eyes.

23 Hee wandreth abroade for bread where it is, knowing that the day of darkenesse is readie at hand.

24 Trouble and anguish will make him afraid, they shall preuaile against him, as a king with his armie.

25 For hee hath stretched out his hand against God, and armed himselfe against the Almighty.

26 He riseth proudly vpon him, and with a stiffe necke fighteth he against him.

27 Where as he covereth his face with fastnesse, and maketh his body well liking.

28 Therefore shall his dwelling be in desolate cities, and in houles which no man inhabiteth, but are become heapes of stones.

29 He shall not be rich, neither shall his substance continue, neither shall the prosperitie thereof be prolonged vpon the earth.

30 He shall neuer depart out of darkenesse, the flame shall die by his branches, with the blast of the mouth of God shall he be taken aways.

31 He beleueth not that he crieth in vanitie, and yet banitie halbe his recompence.

32 Hee shall perish afore his time be worne out, and his branch shall not be greene.

33 Hee shall be plucked off as an vntimely grape from the vine, and shall let his flowre fall as the Olive doeth.

34 For the congregation of hypocrites halbe desolate, and the fire shall consume the houses of such as are greedie to receiue gifts.

35 He conceiuethe trauaile, and beareth banitic, and their belly bringeth forth deceite.

The xvj. Chapter.

1 Job moued by the importunacie of his friends, 7 counteth in what extremite he is, 19 and taketh God to witness of his innocencie.

Job answered, and said,

2 I haue oft time heard such things: miserable giuers of comfort are ye, all the sort of you.

3 Shall not vaine wordes come yet to an end? what maketh thee bolde so to answer?

4 I could speake as ye doe also: but would God that your soule were in my soules stead, then could I frame wordes for you, and shake my head at you:

5 I would strengthen you with my mouth, and release your paine with the talking of my lippes.

6 For all my wordes my sorowe will not cease: and though I hold my tongue, what am I eased?

7 But now he hath made me wearie, thou hast made desolate all my congregation.

8 And that thou hast filled me with wrinkles, my flesh is reuered, and my leanness riseth vp against mee, and beareth witness thereof in my face.

9 His wrath hath toene me, he hateth me, and gnatheth vpon me with his teeth: mine enemy looketh fiercelly vpon me with his eyes.

10 They haue opened their mouthes wide vpon mee, and smitten me vpon the cheeke despitefully, they gather themselves together against me.

11 God hath shut mee vp with the vngodly, and deliuered mee into the handes of the wicked.

12 I was in wealth, but hee hath brought me to nought: he hath taken mee by the necke, he hath all to shaken me, and set me as a marke for himselfe.

13 His archers compass me round about, he woundeth my reins, and doth not spare, my bowels hath he powdered vpon the ground.

14 He hath giuen me one wound vpon another, and is fallen vpon me like a giant.

What is, a-bounding of riches hath made him to prouide, that he forgetteth God. What is, he shall have no certain and sure place to dwell in.

What is, (not) being as God's enemies, that he runneth into carding.

What is, life progrene as of spring shall not continue.

Esa. 59. 4. psal. 7. 15.

 17 Howbeit there is no wickednesse in my hands, but my prayer is cleane.
 18 O earth couer not thou my blood, and let my crying find no roume.
 19 For loe, my witness is in heauen, and he that imoweth me is in the height.
 20 My friends gaue mee many wordes to scozne, and mine eye poureth out teares vnto God.
 21 O that a body might pleade with God, as one man doth with another.
 22 Yet the number of my yeres is come, and the way that I must go is at hand, from whence I shall not turne againe.

The xvij. Chapter.

Iob saith that he consumeth away, and yet doth patiently abide it. 10 Hee exhorteth his friends to repentance, 13 shewing that he looketh but for death.

My breath is corrupt, my daies are shortned, I am hard at deathes doore.

2 Morrow men are with me, and mine eye must continue in the bitternesse of them.

3 O deliuer me, and looke out one to be my suretie in thy sight: what is hee that knoweth who will promise for me?
 4 For thou hast withholden their heartes from vnderstanding, therefore shalt thou not set them vp on high.
 5 He that speaketh flatterie to his friend, the eyes of his children shall faile.
 6 He hath made use a byword of the people, where as afoze I was their ioy.
 7 Mine eye is dimme for very heauinesse, and all my strength is like a shadow.
 8 Vertuous men therefore shall well consider this, and the innocent shall take part against the hypocrite.
 9 The righteous also will keepe his way, and he that hath cleane hands wil euer be stronger and stronger.

10 As for all you, turne you, and get you hence, I pray you, seeing I cannot finde one wise man among you.

11 My dayes are past, and my counsailes and thoughtes of my heart are banished away, 12 Changing the night into day, and the light approaching into darkenesse.
 13 Though I tarrie neuer so much, yet the graue is my house, and I haue made my bed in the darke.
 14 I said to corruption, Thou art my father: and to the wormes, You are my mother, and my sister.
 15 Where is then now my hope: or who hath considered the thing that I looked for? My hope shall goe downe with mee into the pit, and I will with me in the dust.

The xvij. Chapter.

Bildad rehearseth the paines of the vnfaithfull, and wicked.

Bildad answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said,
 2 When will ye make an end of your wordes? Marke well, and then we will speake.
 3 Wherefore are we counted as beasts, and reputed to beile in your sight?
 4 He destroyeth himselfe with his anger: shall the earth be forsaken, or any stone remoued out of his place: because of thee?
 5 Yea the light of the vngodly shall bee put out, and the sparke of his fire shall not shine.
 6 The light shall be darke in his dwelling, and his candle shall be put out with him.
 7 The steppes of his strength shall bee restrained, and his owne counsell shall cast him downe:
 8 For his feete are taken as it were in the net: and he walketh vpon the snares.
 9 The grinne that take him by the heele, and the thurstie of blood shall catch him.
 10 The snare is layd for him in the ground, and a pitfall in the way.
 11 Fearefulness shall make him afraid on euerie side, and shall diuie him to his feete.
 12 Hunger shall be his strength, and destruction shall be ready at his side.
 13 Hee shall eate the strength of his owne skinne, euen the first bozne of death shall eate his strength.

14 His hope shall bee rooted out of his dwelling, and shall bring him to the king of feare.
 15 Other men shall dwell in his house, and it shall be none of his, and bymstone shall be scattered vpon his habitation.
 16 His rootes shall be dried vp beneath, and aboue shall his branch be cut downe.
 17 His remembrance shall perish from the earth, and he shall haue no name in the streete.
 18 They shall diuie him from the light into darknesse, and chase him cleane out of the world.
 19 He shall neither haue children nor kindred among his people, no nor any posteritie in his dwellings.
 20 They that come after him shall be astonished at his day, and they that goe before shall be afraid.
 21 Such are now the dwellings of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

The xix. Chapter.

Iob reprooueth his friends, 15 and reciteth his miseries and grieuous paines. 25 He assureth himselfe of the generall resurrection.

Bildad answered, and said,
 2 How long will yee bere my soule, and trouble me with wordes?

3 Loe, tenne times haue yee reproched mee, and are not ashamed, but haue laughed me to scorn.
 4 Bee it that I haue erred indeede, mine error then remaineth with my selfe.
 5 Bee it ye wil aduance your selues against me, and rebuke me for the shame that is come vpon me:
 6 Know this then, that it is God which hath ouerthrowen mee, and hath compassed me with his net.
 7 If I complaine of the violence that is done vnto me, I cannot be heard: and if I crie, there

A In all Iobs extreme afflictions, yet this one made the rest most grieuous, that they that should cheerfully comfort him, did cruelly vexe him and mocke him.
Or, mockers.
B That is, make promise with me, & God, that I may talke with thee, for I will not reason with them, for they are fooles.
C That they cannot vnderstand the cause of my punishment: but theyge me tolesse, not knowing the wisdom, whereby thou dost a-flice thy children.
Or, cabret.
D Though the godly let themselves as fathers of God as the wicked are, yet they desire not, nor haue what the iust are punished for the sinners of them.
Or, come nowe.
E Seeing I am but corruptiual.

Here are some notes on the text of this chapter, written in a small hand, which are not printed in the text. Some of them are: 'The words of Bildad are here, which are the words of the wicked, who speak against the righteous, and are not heard of God.' 'The words of Bildad are here, which are the words of the wicked, who speak against the righteous, and are not heard of God.' 'The words of Bildad are here, which are the words of the wicked, who speak against the righteous, and are not heard of God.'

is no sentence given with me.

8 He hath hedged by my way that I cannot passe, and he hath set darknesse in my paths.

9 He hath spoiled me of mine honour, and taken the crowne a way from my head.

10 He hath destroyed me on euery side, and I am gone: my hope hath he taken a way, as a tree plucht by by the roote.

11 His wrath is kindled against me, hee taketh me as though I were his enemy.

12 His men of warre come together, which made their way ouer me, and besieged my dwelling round about.

13 He hath put my brethren farre away from mee, and mine acquaintance are also become strangers vnto me.

14 Mine owne kinsfolkes haue forsaken me: and my best acquainted haue forgotten me.

15 The seruants and maidens of mine own houseooke me for a stranger, and I am become as an aliant in their sight.

16 I called my seruant, and he gaue me no answer: no though I prayed him with my mouth.

17 Mine owne wife might not abide my breath, though I prayed her for the childrens sake of mine owne bodie.

18 Yea, the young men despised me, and when I rose, they spake euill vpon me.

19 All my most familiars abhorred me: and they whom I loued best, are turned against me.

20 My bone cleaueth to my skinned, and to my flesh: onely there is left me the skinned about my teeth.

21 Haue pitie vpon me, haue pitie vpon me, O ye my friends, for the hand of God hath touched me.

22 Why doe ye persecute me as God doth, and are not satisfied with my flesh?

23 What that my words were now writtten, what that they were put in a booke, 24 And grauen with an iron pen in lead, or in stone, to continue.

25 For I am sure that my redeemer liueth, and that I shall rise out of the earth in the latter day.

26 And I shall be couered againe with my skin, and shall see God in my flesh:

27 Whom I my selfe shall see, and mine eyes shall behold, and none other for me: this my hope is laid vpon in my bosome.

28 But ye said, Why is he persecuted? and there was a deepe matter in me.

29 But beware of the sword: for the sword will be auenged of wickednes, and be sure that there is a iudgement.

The xx. Chapter.

1 Sophar sheweth that the wicked and the couetous shall haue a short end, 22 though for a time they flourish.

Then answered Sophar the Naathite, and said,

2 For the same cause doe my thoughts compell me to answer, and therefore make haste.

3 I haue sufficiently heard the checking of my reprooche, therefore the spirit of my vnderstanding causeth me to answer.

4 Knowest thou not this of olde, and since God placed man vpon earth,

5 That the gladnesse of the vngodly hath bene short, and that the top of hypocrites continued but the twinkling of an eye?

6 Though he be magnified vnto the heauen, so that his head reacheth into the cloudes:

7 Yet he perissheth vnto euer like his dung, in so much that they which haue seene him, shall say, Where is hee?

8 He shall banish as a dreame, so that he can no more be found, and shall passe away as a vision in the night.

9 So that the eye which saw him before shall haue no more sight of him, and his place shall know him no more.

10 His children shall please the poore, and his hands shall restore their goods.

11 From his youth his bones are full of sinnes, which shall lie downe with him in the earth.

12 When wickednesse was sweete in his mouth, he hid it vnder his tongue.

13 That he sauoured, that would he not forsake, but kept it close in his thoroate.

14 The bread that hee did eate, is turned to the poison of serpents within his body.

15 The riches that he deuoured shall he partake againe: for God shall drawe them out of his belly.

16 He shall sucke the gall of serpents, and the adders tongue shall lay him:

17 So that hee shall no more see the riuers and brookes of honie and butter.

18 The thing that he hath laboured for, shall he restore, and shall not eate of it: great traualle shall hee make for riches, but he shall not enjoy them.

19 Because hee hath oppressed the poore, and not helped them: houses hath he spoiled, and not builded them.

20 Because he could not perceiue when his belly was well, through his greedie desire, hee shall not escape.

21 There shall none of his meate be left, therefore shall no man looke for his goods.

22 When he had plenteoufnes of euery thing, yet was he poore, though he was helped on euery side.

23 And it shall come to passe, that wherewith he purposed to fill his belly, God shall powre the furie of his wrath thereon, and shall cause his indignation to reigne vpon him, and vpon his meate.

24 Hee shall flee from the iron weapon, and the bow of Steele shall strike him thorow.

25 The sword is drawen out, and goeth thorow the body, and glistereth of his gall: so feare shall come vpon him.

26 All darknesse shall be hid in their secrete places, an vkindled fire shall consume him: and looke what remaineth in his house, it shall be destroyed.

27 The heauen shall declare his wickednesse, and the earth shall take part against him.

28 The substance that hee hath in his house shall be taken a way, and perish in the day of the Lords wrath.

29 This is the portion that the wicked man shall haue of God, and the heritage that hee may looke for of God, because of his wickednes.

The xxj. Chapter.

1 Job declareth howe the prosperitie of the wicked maketh them proud, 15 in so much that they blaspheme God.

Job answered, and said, 2 O heare diligently my words, and that shall bee in stead of your consolations.

3 Suffer me that I may speake, and when I haue spoken, moeke on.

4 Is it with man that I make this disputation? which if it were so, should not my spirit then be in soze trouble?

5 Marke me, and be abashed, and lay your hand vpon your mouth.

6 For when I consider, I am afraid, and my flesh is smitten with feare.

7 Wherefoze doe wicked men liue, come to their old age, and encrease in riches?

8 Their children liue in their sight, & their generation before their eyes.

9 Their houses are safe from all feare, and the rod of God is not vpon them.

10 Their bullocke gendereth, and that not out of time, their Cowe calueth, and is not barren fruitfull.

11 They send forth their children by flocks, and their sommes dance.

12 They beare with them tabrets and harps, and reioyce in the sound of the instruments of musike.

13 They spend their dayes in wealthinesse, but suddenly they goe downe to the graue.

14 They say also vnto God, Go from vs, we desire not the knowledg of thy wayes.

15 Who is the Almighty, that we should serue him? and what profite should we haue if we should pray vnto him?

16 Loe, there is vtterly no goodnesse in their hand, therefore will I not haue to doe with the counsell of the vngodly.

17 How oft shall the candle of the wicked be put out, & their destruction come vpon them? O what sorow shall God giue them for their part in his wrath?

18 Yea, they shall be euen as hay before the winde, & as chaffe that the storme carrieth away.

19 God will lay by the sorow of the father for his children: and when he rewardeth him, he shall know it.

20 Their owne miserie shall they see with their eyes, and drinke of the fearefull wrath of the Almighty.

21 For what careth he for his house after his death, when the number of his moneths is cut short?

22 Seeing God hath the highest power of al, who can teach him any knowledg?

23 One dieth in his full strength, being in all case and prosperitie.

24 His beards are full of milke, & his bones run full of marrow.

25 Another dieth in the bitterness of his soule, and neuer eateth with pleasure.

26 They shall sleepe both alike in the earth, and the wormes shall couer them.

27 Behold, I know what ye thinke, yea, and the subtiltie that ye imagine against me.

28 For ye say, Where is the princes palace, and where is the dwelling of the vngodly?

29 Haue yee not asked them that goe by the way? doubtlesse ye cannot denie their tokens, 30 That the wicked is kept vnto the day of destruction, and the vngodly shall bee brought forth to the day of wrath?

31 Who dare declare his way to his face? who will rewarde him for that he doeth?

32 Yet shall he be brought to his graue, and dwell among the heape of the dead.

33 Then shall the little valley bee sweete vnto him, all men also must follo w him, as there are innumerable gone before him.

34 Howe haime then is the comfort that yee giue mee, seeing fallhood remaineth in all your answeres?

The xxij. Chapter.

1 Eliphaz affirmeth that Job is punished for his sins. He accuseth him of vnmisericordie, 13 and that he denied Gods prouidence. 21 He exhorteth him to repentance.

Eliphaz the Themanite gaue answer, and sayd,

2 May a man be profitable vnto God, as he that is wise may bee profitable to himselfe?

3 Is it any aduantage to the Almighty, that thou art righteous? or shall it profite him that thou makest thy wayes perfect?

4 Is hee afraid to reprove thee, and to step forth with thee into iudgement?

5 Is not thy wickednesse great, and thy vngodly deeds innumerable?

6 For thou hast taken the pledge from thy brother for nought, & robbed the naked of their clothing.

7 So such as were weary, hast thou giuen no water to drinke, and hast withdra wen bread from the hungry.

8 But the mighty man had the earth, and he that was in authoritie dwelt in it.

9 Thou hast sent widowes away empty, and the armes of the fatherlesse were broken.

10 Therefore art thou compassed about with snares, and suddenly decayed with feare.

11 Shouldest thou then see no darkenesse? should not the water flood rume out thee?

12 Is not God on high in the heauen? beholde the height of the starres, how high they are.

13 Wilt thou therefore say, How should God know? can he iudge through the darke cloude?

14 The cloudes couer him, that hee may not see, and he walketh on the top of heauen.

15 Hast thou marked the way of the world, wherein wicked men haue walked?

16 Which were cut downe out of time, and whose foundation was an overflowing riuier, 17 which sayd vnto God, Goe from vs: and what could the Almighty doe for them?

18 He filled their houses with good things: but the counsell of the vngodly bee farre from mee.

19 The righteous saw it, and were glad, and the innocent laughed them to scozne.

20 Is our substance beuen downe? As for the remnant of them, the fire hath consumed.

21 Therefore reconcile thee vnto God, and be at peace: so shall all things prosper with thee right well.

22 Receiue, I pray thee, the law at his mouth, a As though he should say, my cause is his cause, and he will not be capt, and not before you. b Ear is, herpe vnto.

Iere. 12. 1. ||Or, secede.

c Not bring plagues vnto long life. d He is, this, not with tongue, but by the wickednesse and impietie of their hearts, they come to to say.

e That is, their great felicitie and wealth.

f For the wicked are, and neuer enuie the course of their dayes to the end. g Warning the wicked: when Job saith, that it is not for man to reason with God, why he woth thus plague the iust, and prosper the vniuul, for what can reach God to iustice? h And this he meaneth by the vngodly. i How ye thinke me wicked, because I am plaignd. k They call I Job, and by calling and mocking at it.

l For as can be seen, the more the wicked are, the more they are brought to their end.

m The vngodly are, that are not profitable to God, as he that is wise may be profitable to himselfe.

n Where as the wicked are, they are not profitable to God, as he that is wise may be profitable to himselfe.

o The more the wicked are, the more they are brought to their end.

p The more the wicked are, the more they are brought to their end.

and lay by his words in thine heart.
 23 For if thou wilt turne to the almightie, thou shalt be built vp, and put all brightenesse from thy dwelling.
 24 Thou shalt lay by golde as p'entfull as the dust, and the gold of Ophir as the flints of the riuers.
 25 Yea, almightie God shall be thy defence, and thou shalt haue plenty of siluer.
 26 Then shalt thou haue thy delight in the almightie, and lift vp thy face vnto God.
 27 Then shalt thou make thy praier vnto him, and he shall heare thee, and thou shalt keepe thy promises.
 28 Thou shalt also decree a thing, and he shall establish it vnto thee, and the light shall shine in thy wayes.
 29 When the wicked be cast downe, thou shalt say, I am lifted by: and God shall saue the humble person.
 30 The innocent shall deliuer the Iland: it shall be preserued by the purenesse of thine hands.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

2 Iob affirmeth that he both knoweth and feareth the power and sentence of the iudge, 10 and that he is not punished onely for his finnes.

Iob answered, and said,
 2 Though my talke be this day in bitternesse, and my plague greater then my grooming,
 3 What I might know him, and finde him, and that I might come before his seate:
 4 I would pleade my cause before him, and fill my mouth with arguments:
 5 I would knowe what answere he would giue me, and vnderstand what he should say vnto me.
 6 Will hee pleade against mee with his great power? No, but he will make mee the stronger.
 7 Where the righteous might dispute with him, so should I be deliuered for euer from my iudge.
 8 Behold, though I go forward, I find him not: if I goe backward, I can get no knowledge of him:
 9 If I goe on the left side where he doth his worke, I cannot attaine vnto him: againe, if I goe on the right side, he hideth himselfe, that I can not see him.
 10 But as for my way, he knoweth me, and crieth me, that as the gold I may be tried.
 11 Why<sup>b</sup> foote doth keepe his path, his hie way haue I holden, and will not goe out of it.
 12 I will not forsake the commandement of his lips, I haue esteemed y<sup>c</sup> wordes of his mouth more then my necessarie foode.
 13 He is one, and who can turne him? hee bringeth to passe what he desireth.
 14 He<sup>d</sup> performeth the thing that is appointed for me, and many such things doth he.
 15 This is the cause that I shrinke at his presence, so that when I consider him, I am afraid of him.
 16 For God maketh my heart soft, and the almightie putteth me in feare, 17 Because I am not cut off before the darknesse, neither hath hee couered the darke from my face.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

1 Iob describeth the wickednesse of men, and sheweth what curle belongeth to the wicked. 12 How all things are gouerned by Gods providence, 17 and the destruction of the wicked.

Why should not the times be hidden from the Almighty, and they that know him, see not his dayes?
 2 For some men remooue the land markes, robbe men of their cartell, and see de of the same.
 3 They driue away the asie of the fatherlesse, and take the widowes ore for a pledge.
 4 They cause the poore to turne out of the way, so that the poore of the earth hide themselves together.
 5 Behold, as wilde asses in the desert go they forth to their worke, and rise betimes to spoyle: Yea, the berry<sup>b</sup> wildernesse ministrerth foode for them and their children.
 6 They reape the corne field that is not their owne, and gather the binyard of the vngodly which they possesse vniustly.
 7 They cause the naked to lodge without garment, and without couering in the cold.
 8 They are wet with the showres of the mountaines, and embrace the rocke for want of couering.
 9 They plucke the fatherlesse from the brest, and take the pledge from the poore.
 10 They let him goe naked without clothing, and haue taken away the sheafe of the hungry.
 11 They that labour in their oyle milles, and tread their wine presses, suffer thirst.
 12 Men of the cite cry out, the soules of the flaine also cry out, yet God regardeth not their complaint.
 13 Those are they that flee from the light, they knew not his wayes, nor continue in his pathes.
 14 The murderer riseth early, and killeth the poore and needie, and in the night is as a thiefe.
 15 The eye of the adulterer waiteth for the darknesse, and saith, There shall no eye see me: and hideth his face.
 16 In the darke they digge through houses, which they marked for themselves in the day time: they know not the light.
 17 The morning is to them euen as the shadowe of death: if one know them they are in the terrours of the shadow of death.
 18 The vngodly is<sup>d</sup> swift vpon the water: their portion shall be cursed in the earth, and he shall not behold the way of the binyards.
 19 As the dry ground and heat<sup>e</sup> consume the snowy waters: so shall the graue the sinners.
 20 The pitifull man shall forget him, he shall be sweete to the wormes, he shall be no more remembred, and his wickednesse shall be broken as a tree.
 21 Hee hath oppressed the barren that cannot beare, and vnto the widowe hath he done no good.
 22 He<sup>d</sup> drew the mightie after him with his power, and when he was gotten by no man was sure of life.
 23 And though they gaue him to be in safetic, yet his eyes are vpon their wayes.
 24 They are exalted for a while, but shortly are c Not onely the event, but also the adulterers secrett feet, and is not corrected.

d Hee fleeth so the waters for his succour.

e Although such admirable things be done in this world, yet at the length hell shall deuour them all. Because they pittied not others, they shall not be pittied at all.

f That is, when they haue plagued and oppressed the poore & meeke, they shall oppress the strong and mightie also.

way, yea, & bitterly pluckt off as the eares of corn.
25 <sup>h</sup> Is it not so: who will then reprove me as a traitor, and say that my wordes are nothing worth?

The xxv. Chapter.

Bildad prooueth that no man is cleane, nor without sinne before God.

Ben answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said,

1 <sup>2</sup> Power and feare is with him, who maketh peace in his highnesse.

2 <sup>3</sup> Is there any number of his armies: and vpon whom shal not his light arise?

3 <sup>4</sup> But howe may a man compared vnto God, he iustified: or how can he be cleane, that is borne of a woman?

4 <sup>5</sup> Behold, the moone shineth not, and the starres are hidene in his sight.

|| corruption, and the sonne of man which is but a womne?

The xxvj. Chapter.

1 Iob sheweth that no man can helpe God, and pro-ueth it by his wonderful workes.

Ben answered, and said,

1 <sup>2</sup> Whom hast thou helped?
him that is without strength? saueth thou the arme that hath no strength?

2 <sup>3</sup> Where is the counsell that thou shouldest giue him which hath no wisdom: Hast thou taught him that is very wise?

3 <sup>4</sup> To whom hast thou spoken these wordes:
who made the breath to come out of thy mouth?

4 <sup>5</sup> Are not dead things shapen vnder the waters, and in places neare vnto them?

5 <sup>6</sup> Hell is naked before him, and destruction hath no couering.

6 <sup>7</sup> He stretcheth out the North ouer the emp-tic place, and hangeth the earth vpon nothing.

7 <sup>8</sup> He bindeth the waters in his clouds, and the cloude is not broken vnder them.

8 <sup>9</sup> He holdeth backe the sac of his throne, and spreadeth his cloud before it.

9 <sup>10</sup> He hath compassed the waters with certaine boundes, <sup>d</sup> vntill the day and night come to an end.

10 <sup>11</sup> The very pillars of heauen tremble and quake at his reprove.

11 <sup>12</sup> He stilleth the sea with his power, and through his wisdom smiteth hee the strength thereof.

12 <sup>13</sup> His spirit hath garnished the heauens, and his hand hath made the crooked serpent.

little a portion heare we of him? who can vnder-stand the thunder of his power?

The xxvij. Chapter.

3 The constancie and perfectnesse of Iob. 13 The reward of the wicked, and of the tyrants.

Iob proceeded, and went forth in his parable, saying,

1 <sup>2</sup> As God liueth, which hath taken away my iudgment, & the al-mightie that hath bereed my mind:

2 <sup>3</sup> While the breach is in me, and the winde

2 <sup>3</sup> God bringeth the darknesse to an end, and searcheth out all perfection, the stones hidden in darknesse, and in the deepe shadowe.

3 <sup>4</sup> The floods breake out against the inhabitants, and the waters forgotten of the foote, and the dust of it is gold. 7 There is a way that the birds know not, that no viulures eye hath scene: 8 Wherein the Lions whelpes walke not, and where no Lion commeth.

9 Hee putteth his hande vpon the stonie rocks, and ouerthroweth the mountaines by the rootes.

10 Riuiers flowe out of the rocks, and looke what is pleasant, his eye seeth it.

11 He bindeth the floods that they doe not ouerflow: and the thing that is hid bringeth he to light.

12 Where then is wisdom found? & where is the place of vnderstanding?

13 No man can tel how worthy a thing it is, neither is it found in the land of the liuing.

14 The depe saith, It is not in me: the sea saith, It is not with me:

15 It cannot be gotten for gold, neither may the price of it be bought with any siluer.

16 No golde of Ophir, no precious Ony stones, no Saphires may be valued with it.

17 No, neither golde nor Diamond shall be equal vnto it, the exchange of it shall not be for the plate of fine gold.

18 No mention shall be made of Corall, nor of the Gabis: for wisdom is more precious then pearles.

19 The Copas of Ethiopia shall not be equal vnto it, neither shall it be valued with pure gold.

20 Whence then commeth wisdom, and where is the place of vnderstanding?

21 It is hid from the eyes of all men liuing, and hid from the foules of the aire.

22 Destruction and death lay, we haue heard the same thereof with our eares.

23 God seeth the way thereof, and knoweth the place thereof.

24 For he beholdeth the endes of the world, and looketh vpon all that is vnder heauen.

25 When he weyed the windes, and measured the waters,

26 When he made a decree for the raine, and a way for the lightnings of the thunder:

27 Then did he see it, then declared he it, prepared it, and knew it.

28 And vnto man he sayde, To feare the Lord is wisdom, and to forsake euil is vnderstanding.

The xxix. Chapter.

1 Job wisheth the prosperitie of his time past. 7 He setreth forth his authoritie, 12 iustice, and equitie.

Job proceeded and went fourth in his parable, saying,

2 That I were as I was in the moneths past, and in the dayes when God preferred me:

3 When his light shined vpon my head, when I went after the same light, and shining euen thow the darknesse:

4 As it stood with me when I was young, when God prospered my house:

5 When the almightie was yet with mee, when my children stood about me,

6 When I washed my steps with butter, and when the stonie rocks gaue me riuers of oyle:

7 When I went out to the gate, euen to the iudgement seate, and when I prepared my seate in the breete:

8 The young men saw me, and hid themselves, and the aged arose, and stood by:

9 The princes left off their talking, and laid their hand to their mouth.

10 The mightie kept still their voice, & their tongue cleauid to the rooffe of their mouth.

11 When the eare heard me, it blessed me: and when the eye saw me, it gaue witness to me.

12 For I deliuered the poore when he cryed, and the fatherlesse, and him that had none to helpe him.

13 The blessing of him that was ready to perishe, came vpon me, and I caused the widowes heart to reioyce.

14 I put vpon mee righteousnesse, which couered me as a garment, and equitie was my crowne.

15 I was an eye to the blinde, and a foote to the lame.

16 I was a father to the poore: and when I knew not the cause, I sought it out diligently.

17 I brake the iawes of the vnrighuous man, and pluckt the spoyle out of his teeth.

18 Then I said, I shall die in my nest: and I shall multiply my dayes as the sand.

19 For my roote hath spread out by the waters side, and the dea w lay vpon my corne.

20 Whine honour increased more and more, & my bow was neuer the stronger in mine hand.

21 Vnto me men gaue eare, mee they regarded, and kept silence at my counsell.

22 After my wordes they answered not, and my talke dropped vpon them.

23 They waited for me as for the raine, and gaped vpon me as the ground doeth to receiue the latter showre.

24 When I laughed on them, they belieued it not, and the light of my countenance would they not put out.

25 I tried out their way, I sate as chiefe, and dwelt as a king with his armie about him: and when they were in heauynesse, I was their comforter.

The xxx. Chapter.

1 Job complained that he is continued of the vilest, 11 21 because of his aduersitie and affliction. 23 Death is the house of all flesh.

At a now they that are younger then I, haue mee in derision: whose fathers I would haue thought some to haue set with the dogges of my cattell.

2 Whereto might the strength of their hands profit me: for the time was but lost among them.

3 For verie miserie and hunger they fled into the wildernesse, a darke place, horrible, and waste,

4 Plucking by nettles among the bushes, and the Iuniper rootes for their meate,

5 And when they were driuen fourth, men cried after them, as it had bene after a thiefe.

6 Their dwelling was in the cleftes of brookes, yea in the caues and dens of the earth.

7 Among the bushes went they about crying, and vnder the thornes they gathered themselves together.

8 They were the children of foolcs and bilaines, which are the vilest in the earth.

10 They abhorre me, and flee farre from me, and staine my face with spittell.

11 Because God hath loosed my corde, and humbled me, they haue loosed the bridle before mee.

12 vpon my right hand rise the young men against me: they haue hurt my feete, treading vpon me, as vpon the wayes which they would destroy me.

13 My patches haue they cleane marred, it was so easie for them to doe me harme, that they needed no man to helpe them.

17 My bones are pearced thzough in the night season, and my lincwes take no rest.

18 For the behentencie of sorowe is my garment changed, which compasseth me about, as the collar of my coat.

19 He hath cast me into the mire, and I am become like ashes and dust.

20 When I cry vnto thee, thou dost not heare me: and though I stand before thee, yet thou regardest me not.

21 Thou art become mine enemy, and with thy violent hand thou takest part against me.

22 In times past thou diddest set me vp on high, to be caried as it were aboute the winde, but now hast thou giuen me a very soze fall.

23 Sure I am that thou wilt bring me vnto death, euen to the lodging that is due vnto all men liuing.

24 Notwithstanding, thou wilt not stretch out thine hand against him that is in the graue, though men cry in his destruction.

25 Did not I weepe with him that was in trouble? Had not my soule compassion vpon the poore?

26 Yet whereas I looked for good, euill came vnto me: and where I waited for light, there came darknesse.

27 My bowels see the in me without rest, for the dayes of my trouble are come vpon me.

28 I went mourning without heate, I stood vp in the congregation, and cryed.

29 I am a brother of Dragons, and a fellow of Chriches.

30 My thir vpon me is turned to blacke, and my bones are bent with heate.

31 My harpe is turned to mourning, and my instruments of musicke, into the voyce of them that weepe.

The xxxj. Chapter.

Iob rehearseth the innocencie of his liuing, and number of his vertues.

I made a covenant with mine eyes, that I would not looke vpon a maiden.

2 For how great a portion shall I haue of God from aboue: what inheritance of the almightie from an high?

3 Is not destruction to the wicked? and some strange thing to the workers of iniquitie?

4 Woeth not he see my wayes, and tell all my goings?

5 If I haue walked in banitic, or if my feete haue runne to dectiue:

6 Let me be weighed in an euen ballance, that God may see mine innocencie.

7 If my step haue turned out of the way, and mine heart walked after mine eyes, and if any blot haue cleaued to mine hands:

8 Then shall I sowe, and another eate: yea, my posteritie shall be cleane rooted out.

9 If my heart haue bene dectiued by a woman, or if I haue laide waite at my neighbours dooze:

10 Then let my wife grinde vnto another man, and let other men lie with her.

11 For this is a wickednesse, and sinne that is woorthie to be iudged:

12 Yea, a fire that vtterly should consume and roote out all my increase.

13 If I euer thought scozme to doe right vnto my seruants and maidens when they had any matter against me, 14 When God will sit in iudgement, what shall I doe? and when he will blite mee, what answer shall I giue him?

15 Hee that fashioned mee in my mothers wombe, made he not him also? were wee not both shapen alike in our mothers bodie?

16 If I denied the pooze of their desire, or haue caused the eyes of the widowe to waite in vaine:

17 If I haue eaten my morsell alone, that the fatherlesse hath not eaten thereof:

18 For from my youth mercie hath brought me by as a father, and hath guided me from my mothers wombe.)

19 If I haue seene any perissh for want of clothing, or any poore lacking ratment:

20 If his loines haue not blessed me, because he was warmed with the fleece of my sheepe:

21 If I haue lift by mine hand against the fatherlesse, when I saw that I might helpe him in the gate:

22 Then let mine arme fall from my shoulder, and mine arme be broken from the bone.

23 For I haue feared the vengeance of God, and knew very well that I was not able to beare his burden.

24 Haue I put my trust in golde? or haue I sayd to the wedge of golde, Thou art my confidence?

25 Haue I reioiced because my power was great, and because my hand gat so much?

26 Did I behold the sunne when it shined? or the moone walking in her brightnes?

27 Hath my heart bene secretly dectiued? or did I kille mine owne hand?

28 What were a wickednesse woorthie to be iudged: for then should I haue denied the God that is aboue.)

29 Haue I reioiced at the hurt of mine enemy? or was I glad that any harme happened vnto him?

30 I neuer suffered my mouth to sinne by wishing a curse to his soule.

31 Did not the men of mine owne household say, who shall giue vs of his flesh? we cannot be satisfied.

22 His soule draweth vnto the graue, and his life to death.
 23 Now if there be a messenger, one among a thousand, sent for to speake vnto man, and to shew him the right way:
 24 When the Lord is mercifull vnto him, and saith, He shall be deliuered, that he fall not downe to the graue: for I am sufficiently reconciled.
 25 Then shall his flesh be as fresh as a childes, and shall returne, as in the dayes of his youth.
 26 He shall pray vnto God, and he will be fauourable vnto him, and he shall see his face with ioy, for hee will render vnto man his righteousnesse.
 27 A respect hath hee vnto men, let man then say, I haue offended, I did vnrighreously, and it hath done me no good:
 28 He hath deliuered my soule from destruction, and my life shall see the light.
 29 Loe, all these worketh God alway with man,
 30 That hee bying backe his soule from the graue to the light, euen the light of the liuing.
 31 Marke well, O Job, and heare mee: hold thee still, and I will speake.
 32 But if thou hast any thing to say, then answer mee, and speake, for I desire to iustifie thee.
 33 If thou hast nothing, then heare mee, and hold thy tongue, & I shall teach thee wisdom.

The xxxiiij. Chapter.

5 Elihu chargeth Job that he calleth himselfe righteous, 12 He sheweth that God is iust in iudgements

Elihu answered, and sayd,
 2 Heare my words, O ye wise men, hearken vnto mee, yee that haue vnderstanding.
 3 For the care discerneth words, and the mouth tasteth meates.
 4 As for iudgment, let vs seeke it out among our selues, that wee may know what is good.
 5 For Job hath said, I am righteous, and God hath taken away my iudgment.
 6 In my right I must be a liar: my wound is incurable without my fault.
 7 Where is there such a one as Job, that drinketh vp scornfulnesse like water.
 8 Which goeth in the companie of wicked doers, and walketh with vngodly men?
 9 For he hath sayd, It profiteth a man nothing, that he should walke with God.
 10 Therefore hearken vnto me, ye that haue vnderstanding: farre bee it from God that hee should meddle with wickednesse, and farre bee it from the almighty that hee should meddle with vnrighreous dealing.
 11 For he shall reward man after his workes, and cause euery man to finde according to his wayes.
 12 Sure it is that God will not doe wickedly, neither will the almighty peruert iudgment.
 13 Who ruleth the earth but hee? or who hath placed the whole world?
 14 If hee set his heart vpon man, and gather vnto himselfe his spirit and his breath:
 15 All flesh shall come to nought at once, and man shall turne againe vnto dust.
 16 If thou now haue vnderstanding, heare this, and hearken to the voice of my words:

 17 May he be a ruler that loueth not right: wilt thou iudge him wicked that is most iust?
 18 Wilt thou say vnto a king, Thou art wicked: or to princes, Ye are vngodly?
 19 God hath no respect vnto the persons of the princes, & regardeth not the rich more then the poore: for they be all the worke of his handes.
 20 In the twinkling of an eye that they die, and the people shall be troubled at midnight, and passe away, and the mighty shall be taken away without hand.
 21 For his eyes looke vpon the wayes of man, and he seeth all his goings.
 22 There is no darknes nor shadow of death, that can hid the wicked doers from him.
 23 For God will not lay vpon man more then hee hath sinned, that hee should enter into iudgment with him.
 24 Hee shall destroy the mighty without feeling, and shall set other in their stead.
 25 Therefore shall he declare their workes: he shall turne the night, & they shall be destroyed.
 26 The vngodly doth he punish openly.
 27 Because they turned backe from him, and would not consider all his wayes:
 28 Inasmuch that they haue caused the voice of the poore to come vnto him, and now he heareth the complaint of such as are in trouble.
 29 When he giueth quietnesse, who can make trouble? and when he hideth his face, who can behold him? whether it be vpon nations, or vpon one man onely?
 30 Because the hypocrite doth reigne, and because the people are feared.
 31 Surely, of God only it can be said, I haue pardoned, I will not destroy.
 32 If I haue gone amisse enforme thou mee: if I haue done wrong, I will leaue off.
 33 Will he performe the thing though thee? for thou hast repproued his iudgment, thine is the choule, and not mine: but speake on what thou knowest.
 34 Let men of vnderstanding tell me, and let a wise man hearken vnto me.
 35 Job hath not spoken of knowledge, neither were his wordes according to wisdom.
 36 O father, let Job be well tried, because he hath answered for wicked men:
 37 Yea, aboute his sinne he doth wickedly, triumpheth among vs, and multiplieth his wordes against God.

The xxxv. Chapter.
 6 Neither doth godlinesse profit, or vngodlinesse hurt God, but man. 18 The wicked crieth vnto God, and are not heard.

Elihu saide mozeouer, and said,
 2 Thinkest thou it right that thou sayest, I am more righteous then God?
 3 For thou sayest, what advantage will it be vnto thee, and what profit shall I haue if I be clenfed from my sin?
 4 I wil answer thee a word, and thy companions with thee.
 5 Looke vnto the heauen, and behold it, consider the cloudes, which are higher then thou.
 6 If thou hast sinned, what hast thou done against him? if thine offences bee many, what hast thou done vnto him?

What is my soule that appeareth in the land of the liuing. Heb-wiue or thirle.

What is to beu the selfe iust, and not wicked.

Here Elihu wordeth that God cannot be sought, because he is the maker of the world, the gouernour and creator of all. Let vs seeke for him by reasoning vnrighly.

What is he that doth not cease with me according to the request of my soule.

What is, for his holynesse hee breatheth the spirit of the stockes.

Psal. 103. 29.

Or, to the buyers.

What is my soule that appeareth in the land of the liuing. Heb-wiue or thirle.

Or, to the buyers.

Job had his goods but turned to his malice. O Job are like to me in abundance great even if the ch are big but I too, but I must be an excellent in all. It doth I haue some things that I do not need, but I must be an excellent in all.

7 If thou be righteous, what grieueth thou him? or what will he receiue of thine hand?

8 Thy wickednesse may hurt a man as thou art, and thy righteousness may profite the sonne of man.

9 They which are oppressed, cry out vpon the multitude, yea, they cry out for the power of the mightie.

10 But none saith, where is God that made me? and that giueth || vs occasion to praise him in the night?

11 Which teacheth vs more then the beastes of the earth, and giueth vs more wisdom than the foules of heauen.

12 If any such complaine, no man giueth answer, and that because of the wickednesse of proud tyrants.

13 For God will not heare vanitie, neither will the almightie regarde it.

14 Although thou sayest to God, Thou wilt not regard it: yet iudgement is before him, trust thou in him.

15 But now because his anger hath not visited, neither called men to account with great extremitie:

16 Therefore doeth Job open his mouth in baine, and he maketh many wordes without knowledge.

The xxxvj. Chapter.

1 Elihu sheweth the power of God, 6 and his iustice 9 and wherefore he punisheth. 13 The propertie of the wicked.

Elihu also proceeded and said,

2 Hold thee still a litle, and I shall shew thee what I haue yet to speake on Gods behalfe.

3 I will open vnto thee yet farre higher knowledge, and will ascribe righteousness vnto my maker.

4 And truly my wordes shall not be baine, seeing he is with thee that is a perfect in knowledge.

5 Beholde, the great God calleth away no man, for he himselfe is mightie in power and wisdom.

6 As for the vngodly, he shall not pferue him, but shall helpe the poore to their right.

7 He shall not turne his eyes a way from the righteous, but as kings shall they be in their thron, he shall stablish them for euer, and they shall be exalted.

8 But if they be laide in chaines, or bound with the bonds of trouble, 9 Then will he shewe them their worke, and their sinnes which they haue committed stoutly.

10 He openeth his eare also to discipline, and warneth them to leaue off from their wickednesse.

11 If they now wil take heede and serue him, they shall weare out their daies in prosperitie, and their yeeres in pleasure.

12 But if they will not hearken, they shall goe thorow the sword, and perish, or euer they be aware.

13 As for the hypocrites in heart, they shall heape vp wrath for themselves, for they call not vpon him, though they be his prisoners.

14 Thus shall their soules perish in foolishnes, and their life among the fornicatozs.

15 The poore shall be deliuer out of his affliction, and || round them in the care when they be in trouble.

16 Euen so would hee take thee out of the strait place, into a broad place in the which there is no straitnesse: yea, and make thy table quiet, replenished with fatnesse.

17 Neuertheless, thou hast commended the iudgement of the vngodly, a euen such a iudgement and sentence shalt thou suffer.

18 And seeing there is wrath with God, beware leass he take thee away in thy wealth, and all that thou hast to redeeme thee, cannot deliuer thee.

19 Thinkest thou that he will regard thy riches? hee shall not care for golde, nor for all them that excell in strength.

20 Spend not the night in careful thoughts, how he destroyeth the people out of their place.

21 Beware that thou turne not aside to wickednesse, which hitherto thou hast chosen more then affliction.

22 Behold, God is of a mightie high power: where is there such a teacher as he?

23 Who will reprove him of his way? who will say vnto him, Thou hast done wrong?

24 Remember that thou doe magnifie his worke which men doe praise.

25 All men see it, yea, men doe beholde it a farre off.

26 Behold, so great is God, that hee passeth our knowledge, neither can the number of his yeeres be searched out.

27 He turneth the water to small drops, hee driueth his clouds together to raine:

28 Which raine the cloudes doe drop, and let fall abundantly vpon men.

29 Who can consider the spreading out of his clouds, the couerings of his tabernacle?

30 Behold, hee doth stretch his light vpon it, and couereth the bottoome of the sea.

31 For by these || gouerneth he his people, and giueth them abundance of meat.

32 With the clouds hee hideth the light, and at his commandement it breaketh out.

33 Which dashing vpon the next cloudes, thew tokens of wrath.

The xxxvij. Chapter.

2 Elihu proueth that the vnsearchable wisdom of God is manifested by his workes, 4 as by the thunder, 6 the snow, 9 the whirlwinde, 11 and the raine.

And this also is my heart astonied, and moued out of his place.

2 Heare then the sound of his voice, and the noise that goeth out of his mouth.

3 He directeth it vnder the whole heauen, and his light vnto the endes of the world.

4 A roaring voice followeth it: for his glorious maistie giueth a thunderclap, and hee will not stay when his voice is heard.

5 God thundereth maruelously with his voice, great things doth he, which wee cannot comprehend.

6 He commandeth the snow, and it falleth vpon earth: hee giueth the raine a charge, and the showres haue their strength and fall downe.

7 With the force of the raine he shutteth men

8 The beasts creep into their dennes, and remaine in their places.

9 Out of the South commeth the tempest, and cold out from the North wind.

10 At the breath of God the hoare frost is gotten, and the broad waters are frozen.

11 He maketh the clouds to labour, in giuing moistnesse, and againe, with his light he driueth away the cloud.

12 Hee turneth the heauens about by his gouernment, that they may doe whatsoeuer hee commaundeth them vpon the whole world.

13 Hee causeth raine to come, whether it bee for punishment, or for his land, or to doe good to them that seeke him.

14 Hearken vnto this, O Iob, stand still, and consider the wonderous workes of God.

15 Biddest thou knowe when God disposed them? and caused the light of his cloudes to shine?

16 Hast thou knowen the varietie of the cloudes, & the wonderous workes of him which is perfect in knowledge?

17 And howe thy cloathes are warme, when the land is still through the South winde?

18 Hast thou helped him to spread out the heauens, which are strong, and bright as a molten glasse?

19 Teach vs what we shall say vnto him: for we are vnwised to frame our talke, because of our darknesse.

20 Shall it be tolde him what I say? Shall man speake when he shall be destroyed?

21 For men see not the light that shineth in the cloudes, but the wind passeth and cleareth them.

22 The faire weather commeth out of the North, the praise thereof is to God, who is terrible.

23 It is the Almighty, we cannot finde him out: hee is excellent in power and iudgment, and abundant in iustice: he afflicteth not.

24 Let men therefore feare him: for there shall no man see him that is wise in his owne conceit.

The xxxviii. Chapter.

God speaketh to Iob, and declareth the ignorance of man in the consideration of his creatures.

When answered the Loide vnto Iob out of the whirlwind and sayd, 2 what is hee that darkneth his counsell by wordes without knowledge?

3 Gird by thy loines like a man: for I will question with thee, giue me an answer.

4 Where wast thou when I layd the foundations of the earth? tell me, if thou hast vnderstanding.

5 Who hath measured it, knowest thou? or who hath spread the line vpon it?

6 Whereupon are the foundations set? or who layd the corner stone thereof?

7 Where wast thou when the morning starres praised me together, and all the children of God reioyced triumphantly?

8 Who shut by the sea with doozes, when it brake forth as out of the wombe?

9 When I made the cloudes a covering for it, and darknesse as his swabbling band,

10 when I gaue it my commaundement, making doozes and barres for it.

11 Saying, Hither to halt thou come, but no further, and here shalt thou lay down thy proud waues?

12 Hast thou giuen the morning his charge since thy dayes, and shewed the day spring his place, 13 That it might take hold of the corners of the earth, and that the vngodly might be shaken out of it?

14 They are fashioned as is the clay to the scale, and halbe as a garment.

15 The vngodly shall be disappointed of their light, and the arme of the proud shall be broken.

16 Camst thou euer into the ground of the sea, or walkest in the low steps of the deepe?

17 Hast thou gates of death bene opened vnto thee? or hast thou seene the doozes of the shadow of death?

18 Hast thou also perceiued how broad the earth is? If thou hast knowledge of all this:

19 Then shew me the way where light dwelleth, and where is the place of darknesse?

20 That thou shouldest receiue it in the bounds thereof, and knowe the pathes to their houses.

21 Knowest thou afoze thou wast borne, how old thou shouldest be?

22 Knowest thou euer into the treasures of the snow, or hast thou seene the secret places of the haile?

30 That the waters are hid as with a stone, and yce congealed about the deepe?

31 Canst thou binde the liuen starres together? or loose the bands of Orion?

32 Canst thou bring forth the morning starre in his time? canst thou also guide the evening starre with his sonnes?

41 Who provideth meat for the Wauen, when his yong ones crie unto God, and see about for lacke of meate:

The xxxix. Chapter.

God proceedeth in declaring the ignorance of Iob, in the consideration of his maruelous workes, in beasts and foules.

Knowest thou the time when the wilde goates bring forth their yong among the rockes? or layest thou wait when the Hindes ble to calve?

Canst thou number the moneths that they goe with yong? or knowest thou the time when they bring forth?

They lie downe, they calue their yong ones, and they are deliuered of their trauaille and paine:

Yet their yong ones grow bp, and ware fatte through good feeding with corne: they goe forth, and retorne not againe unto them.

Who letteth the wilde asse to goe free? or who looseth the bonds of the wilde asse?

Euen I which haue giuen the wildernesse to be their house, & the barren land to be their dwelling.

He scorneth the multitude of the citie, neither regardeth the crying of the duiuer:

But seeketh his pasture about the mountaines, and followeth the greene grasse.

Will the wancoyne doe thee seruice, or abide still by thy crib?

Canst thou binde the yoke about the wancoyne in the furrow, to make him plough after thee in the balleges?

Mapest thou trust him because hee is strong, or commit thy labour vnto him?

Mapest thou beleue him that hee will bring home thy corn, or carie it into thy barnie?

Gauest thou the faire wings vnto the Pheacocke, or wings a feathers vnto the Estrich?

The Estrich leaueth her egges in the earth, and heateth them in the dust.

Shee remembereth not that they might be troden with feete, or broken with some wilde beast.

So hard is thee vnto her yong ones, as though they were not hers, and laboureth in vaine without any feare.

And that because God hath taken wisdom from her, and hath not giuen her vnderstanding.

When the time is that shee mounteth on high, shee careth neither for the horse, nor the rider.

Hast thou giuen the horse his strength? or learned him to ney couragiously?

Canst thou make him afraid as the Grasshopper: his stout neyng is fearefull.

He breaketh the ground with the hooves of his feet, he reioyeth in his strength, and runneth to meet the harness men.

He mocketh at feare, and is not astraide, neither starteth he backe from the sword.

Though the quiuers rattle vpon him, though the speare and shield glitter:

Yet rutheth hee in fiercely, beating the ground, he regardeth not the noise of the trumpets:

But when the trumpets make most noise, he sayleth, ¶ Cui, for hee finelleth the battell as farre off, the noise of the captains, and the shouting.

Commeth it through thy wisdom, that the Golleha wake flyeth with her wings toward the South?

Doeth the Eagle mount by, and make his nest on high at thy commandement?

He abideth in stonie rockes, and dwelleth vpon the high tops of mountaines:

From whence he seeketh his pray, and looketh farre about with his eyes.

His yong ones also sucke by blood: and where any dead body lyeth, there is he.

The xl. Chapter.

God declareth the weakenesse of Iob, by comparing the same to his great workes, and to the strength of Behemoth.

Whereof, the Lorde spake vnto Iob, and sayd,

Shall hee whome the Almighty will chassen, contend with him? Should not he which disputeth with God, giue him an answer?

Then Job answered the Lord saying,

Behold, I am vile, what shall I answer thee? therefore I will laye my hand vpon my mouth.

Once haue I spoken, but I will say no more: yea & wise, but I will proceede no further.

Then answered the Lord vnto Iob out of the whirle winde, and sayd, Wilt thou be like a man? I will demand of thee, and make thou answer.

Wilt thou disannull my iudgement? or wilt thou condemne me, that thou mapest bee righteous?

Is thy power then like the power of God: maketh thy voice a sound as his doeth?

Wilt thou selte now with excellencie and maiestie, and aray thy selte with beautie and glorie.

Cast abroad the indignation of thy wrath, and behold euery one that is proud, and abase him:

Looke on euery one that is arrogant, and bring him lowe, and destroy the wicked in their place:

Hide them in the dust together, and couer their faces in secret.

Then will I confesse vnto thee also, that thine owne right hand shall saue thee.

Beholde the beast Behemoth, whome I made with thee, which eateth hay as an ore:

Lo how his strength is in his loynes, and what power he hath in the nauell of his belly,

When hee will he spreadeth out his tayle like a Cedar tree, the sinewes of his stonies are knit together.

His bones are strong as brasse, yea, his bones are like stauces of yron.

Or, ha, ha.

What is, for into the region that are not, when color cometh.

When Job considered his offence, and said, for when Job said, I will not speak: for when Job said, I will not proceede further.

Meaning, that for a man to accuse himselfe, is to accuse God himselfe.

Which no men is able to do, for these things are only pertaining to God.

That is, cause them to die, if it be in thy power.

Which God can easily do, and therefore resulting in thine owne strength, thou comparst with God.

19 He is the beginning of the wayes of God, he that made him, will make his sword to approach vnto him.

20 Surely the mountaines bring him forth grasse, where all the beaſts of the field take their paſtime.

21 Hee reſteth him in the ſhade, in the couert of the reede and ſeemes.

22 The trees couer him with their ſhadowe, and the willowes of the brooke compaſſe him about.

23 Behold, he drinketh by whole riuers, and ſearcheth not, hee thinketh that hee can drawe by Jordane into his mouth.

24 He is taken with his eyes, and the hunter thruſteth him throꝝ the noſe.

8 The beaſt is one of the chiefest wayes of God among the beaſts, whome though no man dare come neere, yet God can kill him. In ſome waies, that when men purpoſe to take the Leuiathan, they make a hollow place in the ground where they ſet to haunt and couer the ſame with hay, or plowden, which ſo ſoone as the Leuiathan ſpeth, he ſmellth diſtilly vnto it, and hee then the hunter thruſteth him throꝝ the noſe, becauſe it is the tender part of him.

falleth into the pit, and then the hunter thruſteth him throꝝ the noſe, becauſe it is the tender part of him.

The xlj. Chapter.

God ſetteth forth the malice, the members, the ſtrength, and the pride of Leuiathan.

And thou draw out Leuiathan with an hooke: or binde his tongue with a cord?

2 Canſt thou put a hooke in the noſe of him: or boze his iaw throꝝ with a naule?

3 Will hee make many faire wordes with thee, or flatter thee?

4 Will hee make a couenant with thee: or wilt thou take him for a ſeruant for euer?

5 Wilt thou take thy paſtime with him, as with a birde, wilt thou binde him for thy maidens?

6 That thy companions may make a banquet of him, or that he be parted among the merchants?

7 Canſt thou fill the baſket with his ſkin: or the ſiſh panier with his head?

8 Laye thine hand vpon him, remember the battell, and doe no more.

9 Behold, his hope is in vaine: for ſhall not one periſh euen at the ſight of him?

10 No man is ſo fierce that dare ſtirre him by: who is able to ſtand before me?

11 Who hath giuen me any thing afore hand, that I may reward him again: All things vnder heauen are mine.

12 I will not keepe ſecret his great ſtrength, his power, nor his comely proportion.

13 Who can diſcouer the face of his garment: or who ſhall come to him with a double bridle?

14 Who ſhall open the doores of his face: for he hath horrible teeth round about.

15 His ſcales are as it were ſtrong ſhields, ſo ſtand together as if they were ſealed:

16 One is loyned to another, that no ayre can come in:

17 One hangeth ſo vpon another, and ſticketh ſo together, that they cannot be ſundered.

18 His needles make a gliſſering like light, and his eyes like the morning ſhine.

19 Out of his mouth go torches, and ſparkes of fire leape out.

20 And out of his noſtrils there goeth a ſmoke, like as out of an hote ſeetching pot or caldron.

21 His breath maketh the coles burne, and the flame goeth out of his mouth.

a Leuiathan, is a whale.

b For it is dangerous to eate ſatan in any thing, yea it is dangerous to touch him: for Leuiathan reſembleth ſatan. c If the creature cannot be killed, who can compare with the creature?

d Whales, who dare pull off his ſkin?

e That is, who dare looke in his mouth?

f That is, he ſpeweth out flames of fire out of his mouth.

Or, eyelids of the morning.

22 In his necke there remaineth ſtrength, and nothing is too laborious for him.

23 The members of his fleſh are loyned and cleaue faſt together, and cannot be moued.

24 His heart is as hard as a ſtone, and as faſt as the ſtitchie that the ſmith ſmiteth vpon.

25 When hee moueth himſelfe, the mightie are afraid, and feare troubleth them.

26 If any man draw out a ſword at him, hee will not moue, neither for the ſpeare, ſauelin, nor breſtplate.

27 He ſetteth as much by yron as by a ſtraw, and as much by braſe, as by a rotten ſticke.

28 Hee ſtarteth not away from the arrowe: and as for ſling ſtones, they are as ſtubble vnto him.

29 He counteth the darts as ſtraw, he laugheth him to ſcorne that ſhaketh the ſpeare.

30 Sharpe ſtones are vnder him, and hee lyeth vpon ſharpe things, as vpon the ſoft myze.

31 Hee maketh the deepe to boyle like a pot, and ſtirreth the ſea together like an oymment.

32 Hee maketh the path to ſhine after him, and hee maketh the deepe to ſeeme all hoarie.

33 vpon earth there is no power like vnto his: for he is ſo made that hee ſearcheth not.

34 He beholdeth all the high things, he is a king ouer all the children of pride.

The xlj. Chapter.

6 The repentance of Iob. 9 He prayeth for his friends, 12 and his goods are reſtored double vnto him.

Then Iob answered the Lord, and ſayd,

2 I knowe that thou haſt power ouer all things, and that there is no thought hid vnto thee.

3 For who can keepe his owne counſell ſo ſecret, but it ſhall be knowne: therefore haue I ſpoken that I vnderſtood not, euen the things that are too wonderfull for mee, and paſſe mine vnderſtanding.

4 O hearken thou vnto me alſo, and let me ſpeake: and were vnto the thing that I will aſke thee.

5 I haue heard of thee by the hearing of the eare, but now mine eye ſeeth thee.

6 Wherefore I giue mine owne ſelfe the blame, & take repentance in the duſt and aſhes.

7 Nowe when the Lord had ſpoken theſe wordes vnto Iob, the Lord ſayd to Elphaz the Chemanite, I am diſpleaſed with thee and thy two friends: for yee haue not ſpoken of me the thing that is right, like as my ſeruant Iob hath done.

8 Wherefore take you now ſeuen oren, and ſeuen rammes, and goe to my ſeruant Iob, and offer by for your felices a whole burnt offering, and my ſeruant Iob ſhall pray for you: him will I accept, and not deale with you after your fooliſhneſſe, in that yee haue not ſpoken of mee the thing which is right, like as my ſeruant Iob hath done.

9 So Elphaz the Chemanite, and Bildad the Suhite, & Sophar the Naamaſhite, went, & did according as the Lord commanded them: the Lord alſo accepted the perſon of Iob.

10 And the Lord turned the captivity of Iob when hee prayed for his friends: yea, the Lord gaue Iob twiſe as much as he had before.

11 And then came there vnto him all his brethren,

12 So the Lorde blessed the last dayes of Job more then the first: for hee had foureeteene thousand sheepe, sixe thousand camels, a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand shee asses.

The Psalmes of Dauid.

Beatus vir qui non abiit. Psalme j.

Blessed is the man that hath not walked in the counsell of the vngodly, nor stand in the way of sinners: and hath not sit in the seat of the scoornefull.

2 But his delight is in the Lawe of the Lord: and in his Lawe will hee exerce himselfe day and night.

3 And hee shall be like a tree planted by the water side: that will bring forth his fruit in due season.

4 His lease also shall not wither: and looke whatceuer he doeth, it shall prosper.

5 As for the vngodly it is not so with them: but they are like the chaffe which the wind scatereth a way from the face of the earth.

6 Therefore the vngodly shall not be able to stand in the iudgement: neither the sinners in the congregation of the righteous.

7 But the Lorde knoweth the way of the righteous: a the way of the vngodly shall perish.

Quare fremuerunt. Psal 2.

Why doe the Heathen so furiously rage together: and why doe the people imagine a vaine thing?

2 The kings of the earth stand by, and the rulers take counsell together: against the Lord, and against his anoynted.

3 Let vs breake their bondes asunder: and cast away their cords from vs.

4 Hee that dwelleth in heauen shall laugh them to scoyne: the Lorde shall haue them in derision.

5 Then shall hee speake vnto them in his wrath: and bere them in his sore displeasure.

6 Yet haue I set my king: vpon my holy hill of Sion.

7 I will preach the Law, whereof the Lord hath sayd vnto me: thou art my sonne, this day haue I begotten thee.

8 Desire of mee, and I shall giue thee the Heathen for thine inheritance: and the bittermost parts of the earth for thy possession.

9 Thou shalt bruisse them with a rod of iron: and breake them in pieces like a potters vessel.

10 Be wise now therefore, O yee kings: bee learned ye that are iudges of the earth.

11 Serue the Lord in feare: and reioyce vnto him with reuerence.

12 Kisse the sonne leaust hee be angrie, and so yee perish from the right way: if his wrath be kindled (yea but a little) blessed are all they that put their trust in him.

Domine quid. Psal 3.

Lord how are they increased that trouble me: many are they that rise against me.

2 Many one there be that say of my soule: there is no helpe for him in his God.

3 But thou, O Lord, art my defender: thou art my worship, and the lifter vp of my head.

4 I did call vpon the Lord with my voice: and he heard me out of his holy hill.

5 I layd me downe and slept, and rose by againe: for the Lord sustained me.

6 I will not be afraid for ten thousands of people: that haue set themselves against mee round about.

7 Oyp Lorde, and helpe me, O my God: for thou smitest all mine enemies vpon the cheekebone, thou hast broken the teeth of the vngodly.

8 Saluation belongeth vnto the Lord: and thy blessing is vpon the people.

Cum inuocarem. Psal 4.

Heare me when I call, O God of my righteousness: for thou hast set me at libertie when I was in trouble, haue mercie vpon mee, and hearken vnto my prayer.

2 O yee sonnes of men, how long will yee blaspheme mine honour: and haue such pleasure in banitie, and seeke after lealing?

3 Know this also, that the Lozde hath chosen to himselfe the man that is godly: when I call vpon the Lozde, he will heare me.

4 Stand in awe, and sinne not: commune with your owne heart, and in your chamber, and be still.

5 Offer the sacrifice of rightcoufnesse: and put your trust in the Lozde.

6 There be many that say: who will shewe vs any good?

7 Lozde lift thou vp: the light of thy countenance vpon vs.

8 Thou hast put gladnesse in mine heart: since the time that their cozne and wine and oile encreased.

9 I will laye mee downe in peace, and take my rest: for it is thou Lozde only that makest me dwell in safetie.

Verba mea auribus. Psal. 5.

Ponder my wordz, O Lozde: consider my meditation.

2 Hearken thou vnto the voice of my calling, my King and my God: for vnto thee will I make my prayer.

3 My voice shalt thou heare betimes, O Lozde: earely in the morning will I direct my prayer vnto thee, and will looke vp.

4 For thou art the God that hast no pleasure in wickednesse: neither shall any euill dwell with thee.

5 Such as bee foolish shall not stand in thy sight: for thou hatest all them that worke banitie.

6 Thou shalt destroy them that speake lealing: the Lozde wil abhorre both the bloodthirstie and deceitfull man.

7 But as for me, I wil come into thy house, euen vpon the multitude of thy mercie: and in thy feare will I worship toward the holy Temple.

8 Leade me, O Lozde, in thy righteoufnesse, because of mine enemies: make thy way plaine before my face.

9 For there is no faithfulness in his mouth: their inward parts are very wickednesse.

10 Their throte is an open sepulchre: they flatter with their tongue.

11 Destroy thou them, O God, let them perish through their own imaginations: cast them out in the multitude of their vngodlinesse, for they haue rebelled against thee.

12 And let all them that put their trust in thee, reioyce: they shal euer be giuing of thanks, because thou defendest them, they that loue thy name shall be ioyfull in thee.

13 For thou Lozde wilt giue thy blessing vnto the righteous: and with thy fauourable kindnesse wilt thou defend him as with a shield.

Domine ne in furore. Psal. 6.

O Lozde rebuke mee not in thine indignation: neither chassen me in thy displeasure.

2 Haue mercie vpon mee, O Lozde, for I am weake: O Lozde heale me, for my bones are veyed.

3 My soule is also sore troubled: but Lozde how long wilt thou punish me?

4 Turne thee, O Lozde, and deliuer my soule:

O saue me for thy mercies sake.

5 For in death no man remembereth thee: and who will giue thee thanks in the pit?

6 I am wearie of my groning, euery night wash I my bed: and water my couch with my teares.

7 My beautie is gone for very trouble: and woyme away because of all mine enemies.

8 Away from me all ye that worke banitie: for the Lozde hath heard the voice of my weeping.

9 The Lozde hath heard my petition: the Lozde will receiue my prayer.

10 All mine enemies shall be confounded and sore bered: they shall be turned backe, and put to shame suddenly.

Domine Deus meus. Psal. 7.

O Lozde my God, in thee haue I put my trust: saue mee from all them that persecute mee, and deliuer me.

2 Lest he deuoure my soule like a Lion, and teare it in peeces: while there is none to helpe.

3 O Lozde my God, if I haue done any such thing: or if there bee any wickednesse in my hands.

4 If I haue rewarded euill vnto him that dealt friendly with mee: yea, I haue deliuered him that without any cause is mine enemy.

5 Then let mine enemy persecute my soule, and take mee: yea, let him tread my life downe vpon the earth, and lay mine honour in the dust.

6 Stand vp, O Lozde, in thy wrath, and lift vp thy selfe: because of the indignation of mine enemies, arise vp for mee in the iudgement that thou hast commaunded.

7 And so shal the congregation of the people come about thee: for their sakes therefore lift vp thy selfe againe.

8 The Lozde shall iudge the people, giue sentence with me, O Lozde: according to my righteoufnesse, and according to the innocencie that is in me.

9 Oh let the wickednesse of the vngodly come to an end: but guide thou the iust.

10 For the righteous God: tryeth the verie hearts and reines.

11 My helpe commeth of God: which preserveth them that are true of heart.

12 God is a righteous iudge, strong and patient: and God is prouoked euery day.

13 If a man will not turne, he will whet his sword: he hath bent his bow, and made it ready.

14 He hath prepared for him the instruments of death: he ordaineth his arrowes against the persecuters.

15 Behold, he trauaileth with mischief: hee hath conceited sorrowe, and brought forth vngodlinesse.

16 He hath grauen and digged by a pit: and is fallen himselfe into the destruction that hee made for other.

17 For his trauaile shal come vpon his owne head: and his wickednesse shal fall on his owne pate.

18 I will giue thanks vnto the Lozde, according to his righteoufnesse: and will praise the name of the Lozde the most high.

Domine Dominus. Psal. 8.

O Lozde our governour, how excellent is thy name in all the world: thou that hast set thy glorye aboute the heauens.

Eucning prayer.

2 Out of the mouth of very babes and sucklings hast thou ordained strength, because of thine enemies: that thou mightest kill the enemy and the avenger.

3 For I will consider the heavens, even the workes of thy fingers: the Moone & the starres which thou hast ordained.

4 What is man that thou art mindful of him: and the sonne of man that thou visitest him?

5 Thou madest him lower then the Angels: to crowne him with glory and worship.

6 Thou makest him to haue dominion of the workes of thy handes: and thou hast put all things in subiection vnder his feete.

7 All sheepe and oxen: yea, and the beastes of the field.

8 The foules of the aire, and the fishes of the Sea: and whatsoever walketh through the paths of the Seas.

9 O Lord our gouernour: how excellent is thy Name in all the world?

Confitebor tibi. Psal. 9.

Lord will giue thanks vnto thee, O Lord, with my whole heart: I will speake of all thy marueilous workes.

2 I will be glad and reioyce in thee: yea, my songs wil I make of thy Name, O thou most highest.

3 While mine enemies are driven backe: they shall fall and perish at thy presence.

4 For thou hast maintained my right, and my cause: thou art set in the throne that iudgeth right.

5 Thou hast rebuked the heathen, and destroyed the vngodly: thou hast put out their name for euer and euer.

6 O thou enemy, destructions are come to a perpetuall ende: euen as the cities which thou hast destroyed, their memorialis is perished with them.

7 But the Lord shall endure for euer: he hath also prepared his seat for Iudgement.

8 For hee shall iudge the world in righteousnesse: and minister true iudgement vnto the people.

9 The Lord also will be a defence for the oppressed: euen a refuge in due time of trouble.

10 And they that knowe thy Name, will put their trust in thee: for thou Lord hast neuer failed them that seeke thee.

11 O praise the Lord which dwelleth in Sion: shew the people of his doings.

12 For when he maketh inquisition for blood, hee remembereth them: and forgetteth not the complaint of the pooze.

13 Haue mercie vpon mee, O Lord, consider the trouble which I suffer of them that hate mee: thou that listest mee vp from the gates of death.

14 That I may shewe all thy praises within the portes of the daughter of Sion: I will reioyce in thy saluation.

15 The heathen are sunke downe in the pit that they made: in the same net which they hid priuily, is their foote taken.

16 The Lord is knowen to execute iudgement: the vngodly is trapped in the woorkes of his owne handes.

17 The wicked shall bee turned into hell: and all the people that forget God.

18 For the pooze shall not alway be forgotten: the patient abiding of the meeke shall not perish for euer.

19 O Lord, and let not man haue the upper hand: let the heathen be iudged in thy sight.

20 Put them in feare (O Lord:) that the heathen may knowe themselves to bee but men.

Vt quid Domine. Psal. 10.

Why standest thou so farre off (O Lord:) and hidest thy face in the needfull time of trouble?

2 The vngodly for his owne lust doeth persecute the pooze: let them be taken in the craftie wilinesse that they haue imagined.

3 For the vngodly hath made boast of his owne hearts desire: and speaketh good of the covetous whom God abhorreth.

4 The vngodly is so proud, that hee careth not for God: neither is God in all his thoughts.

5 His wayes are alway grievous: thy iudgements are farre aboue out of his sight, and therefore desieth he all his enemies.

6 For he hath said in his heart, Cush, I shall neuer be cast downe: there shall no harme happen vnto me.

7 His mouth is full of curling, deceite, and fraude: vnder his tongue is vngodlinesse and banitie.

8 He sitteth lurking in the cheerefull corners of the streets: and priuily in his lurking dennes doeth he murder the innocent, his eyes are set against the pooze.

9 For he lieth waiting secretly, euen as a Lion lurketh he in his denne: that he may rauish the pooze.

10 He doth rauish the pooze: when he getteth him into his net.

11 He falleth downe and humbleth himselfe: that the Congregation of the pooze may fall into the hand of his captaines.

12 He said in his heart, Cush, God hath forgotten: he hideth away his face, and he wil neuer see it.

13 Arise (O Lord God) and lift by thine hand: forget not the pooze.

14 Wherefore should the wicked blaspheme God: while he doth say in his heart, Cush, thou God carest not for it?

15 Surely thou hast seene it: for thou beholdest vngodlinesse and wrong.

16 That thou maiest take the matter into thy hand: the pooze committeth himselfe vnto thee, for thou art the helper of the friendlesse.

17 Breake thou the power of the vngodly, and malicious: take away his vngodlinesse, and thou shalt finde none.

18 The Lord is King for euer and euer: and the heathen are perished out of the land.

19 Lord, thou hast heard the desire of the pooze: thou preparedst their heart, and thine eare hearkeneth thereto.

20 To helpe the fatherlesse and pooze vnto their right: that the man of the earth bee no more exalted against them.

In Domino confido. Psal. 11.

In the Lord put I my trust: how say ye then to my soule, that he should seee as a birde vnto the hill?

2 For loe, the vngodly bend their bowe, and make ready their arrowes within the quiver: that they may pynfully shoote at them which are true of heart.

3 For the foundations will bee cast downe: and what hath the righteous done?

4 The Lord is in his holy Temple: the Lords seate is in heauen.

5 His eyes consider the pooze: and his eye lids trieth the children of men.

6 The Lord alloweth the righteous: but the vngodly, and him that delighteth in wickednesse doeth his soule abhorre.

7 vpon the vngodly hee shall raine snares, fire, and brimstone, storme, & tempest: this shalbe their portion to drinke.

8 For the righteous Lord loueth righteou- nesse: his countenance will beholde the thing that is iust.

Saluum me fac. Psal. 12.

Help mee Lord, for there is not one godly man left: for the faith- full are minished from among the children of men.

2 They talke of banitie eue- ry one with his neighbour: they do but flatter with their lips, and dissemble with their double heart.

3 The Lord shall root out all deceitfull lips: and the tongue that speaketh proud things.

4 Which haue said, with our tongue we wil preuaile: we are they that ought to speake, who is Lord ouer vs?

5 Now for the comfortlesse troubles sake of the needy: and because of the deepe sighing of the pooze.

6 I will by (saith the Lord:) and will helpe every one from him that swelleth against him, and will set them at rest.

7 The wordes of the Lord are pure wordes: euen as the siluer which from the earth is tried, and purified seven times in the fire.

8 Thou shalt keepe them, O Lord: thou shalt preferue him fro this generation for euer.

9 The vngodly walke on euery side: when they are exalted, the children of men are put to rebuik.

Vsquequo Domine. Psal. 13.

How long wilt thou forget mee (O Lord) for euer: howe long wilt thou hide thy face from me?

2 Howe long shall I seeke counsell in my soule, and be so bered in my heart: how long shal mine enemies triumph ouer me?

3 Consider and heare mee, O Lord my God: lighten mine eyes, that I sleepe not in death.

4 Least mine enemy say, I haue preuailed against him: for if I bee cast downe, they that trouble me will reioyce at it.

5 But my trust is in thy mercie: and my heart is ioyful in thy saluation.

6 I will sing of the Lord, because hee hath dealt so louingly with me: yea, I will praise the Name of the Lord most highest.

Dixit insipiens. Psal. 14.

The foole hath said in his heart: There is no God.

2 They are corrupt and become abominable in their doings: there is not one that doth good, (no not one.)

3 The Lord looked downe from heauen vpon the children of men: to see if there were any that would vnderstand and seeke after God.

4 But they are all gone out of the way, they are altogetther become abominable: there is none that doeth good, no not one.

5 Their throate is an open sepulchre, with their tongues haue they decciued: the payson of aspes is vnder their lips.

6 Their mouth is full of cursing and bitter- nesse: their feete are swift to shed blood.

7 Destruction and vnhappinesse is in their waies, & the way of peace haue they not known: there is no feare of God before their eyes.

8 Haue they no knowledge, that they are all such workers of mischiefe: eating by my people as it were bread?

9 And cal not vpon the Lord, there were they brought in great feare (euen where no feare was:) for God is in the generation of the righteous.

10 As for you, yee haue made a moche at the counsaile of the pooze: because hee putteth his trust in the Lord.

11 Who shall giue saluation vnto Israel out of Sion: when the Lord curieth the captiuitie of his people, then shall Jacob reioyce, and Israel shalbe glad.

Domine quis habitabit? Psal. 15.

Lord who shall dwell in thy Ca- bernacle: or who shall rest vpon thy holy hill?

2 Euen hee that leadeth an vncorrupt life: and doeth the thing which is right, and spea- keth the trueth from his heart.

3 He that hath bled no deceit in his tongue, no; done euill to his neighbour: and hath not slandered his neighbours.

4 He that setteth not by himselfe, but is low- ly in his owne eyes: and maketh much of them that feare the Lord.

5 He that sweareth vnto his neighbour, and disappointeth him not: though it were to his owne hinderance.

6 Hee that hath not giuen his money vpon vsury: no; taken reward against the innocēt.

7 Who so doth these things: shall neuer fall. Conserua me. Psal. 16.

Presterue mee, O God: for in thee haue I put my trust.

2 O my soule, thou hast said vnto the Lord: thou art my God, my goods are nothing vnto thee.

3 All my delight is vpon the saints that are in the earth: and vpon such as excell in vertue.

4 But they that runne after another God: shall haue great trouble.

5 Their drinke offerings of blood will I not offer: neither make mention of their names within my lips.

6 The Lord himselfe is the portion of mine inheritance, and of my cuppe: thou shalt main- taine my lot.

7 The lot is fallen vnto me in a faire ground: yea, I haue a goodly heritage.

8 I will thanke the Lord for giuing mee warning: my reines also chaken me in the night season.

9 I haue set God alwayes before me: for he is on my right hand, therefore I shall not fall.

Euening prayer.

Morning prayer.

10 Wherefore my heart was glad, and my glory reioyced: my flesh also shall rest in hope.

11 For why? thou shalt not leaue my soule in hell: neither shalt thou suffer thine holy One to see corruption.

12 Thou shalt shew me the path of life, in thy presence is the fulnesse of ioy: and at thy right hand there is pleasure for euermore.

Exaudi Domine iustitiam. Psal. 17.

Hear the right, O Lord, consider my complaint: and hearken vnto my prayer, that goeth not out of fained lips.

2 Let my sentence come forth from thy presence: and let thine eyes looke vpon the thing that is equall.

3 Thou hast proued and visited mine heart in the night season, thou hast tried me, and shalt finde no wickednes in me: for I am betwixt purposed that my mouth shall not offend.

4 Because of mens workes that are done against the wordes of my lippes: I haue kept me from the wayes of the destroyer.

5 O holde thou by my goings in thy pathes: that my footsteps slip not.

6 I haue called vpon thee, O God, for thou shalt heare mee: encline thine eare to mee, and hearken vnto my wordes.

7 Shew thy marueilous louing kindnesse, thou that art the Saviour of them which put their trust in thee: from such as resist thy right hand.

8 Keepe me as the apple of an eye: hide mee vnder the shadow of thy wings.

9 From the vngodly that trouble me: mine enemies compasse mee round about, to take away my soule.

10 They are inclosed in their owne fat: and their mouth speaketh proud things.

11 They lie waiting in our way on euery side: turning their eyes downe to the ground.

12 Like as a Lion that is greedy of his pray: and as it were a Lions whelp lurking in secret places.

13 Tap Lord, disappoint him, and cast him downe: deliuer my soule from the vngodly, which is a sword of thine.

14 From the men of thy hand, O Lord, from the men I say, and from the euill world: which haue their portion in this life, whose bellies thou filled with thy hid treasure.

15 They haue children at their desire: and leaue the rest of their substance for their babes.

16 But as for me, I will beholde thy presence in righteousness: and when I awake by after thy likenesse, I shall be satisfied with it.

Diligam te. Psal. 18.

I will loue thee, (O Lord) my strength, the Lord is my stone, my rocke and my defence: my Saviour, my God, and my might, in whom I wil trust, my buckler, the hope also of my saluation, and my refuge.

2 I wil call vpon the Lord, which is worthy to be praised: so shall I be safe fro mine enemies.

3 The sorowes of death compassed mee: and the ouerflowings of vngodlinesse made mee afraide.

4 The paines of hell came about mee: the snares of death ouertooke me.

5 In my trouble I will call vpon the Lord:

and complaine vnto my God.

6 So that he heare my voyce out of his holy Temple: and my complaint shall come before him, it shall enter euen into his eares.

7 The earth trembled and quaked: the very foundations also of the hilles shooke and were remoued, because he was wroth.

8 There went a smoke out of his presence: and a consuming fire out of his mouth, so that coales were kindled at it.

9 He bowed the heauens also & came downe: and it was darke vnder his feete.

10 He rode vpon the Cherubims, and did flie: he came flying vpon the wings of the winde.

11 He made darknesse his secret place: his pavilion round about him, with darke water and thicke cloudes to couer him.

12 At the brightnes of his presence his cloudes remoued: hailestones and coales of fire.

13 The Lord also thundred out of heauen, and the highest gaue his thunder: hailestones and coales of fire.

14 He sent out his arrowes, and scattered them: he cast forth lightnings & destroyed them.

15 The springs of waters were seene, and the foundations of the round worlde were discouered at thy chiding, O Lord: at the blaking of the breach of thy displeasure.

16 He shall send downe from the high to fetch me: and shall take me out of many waters.

17 He shall deliuer me from my strongest enemy, and from them which hate me: for they are too mighty for me.

18 They preyented mee in the day of my trouble: but the Lord was my byholder.

19 He brought me forth also into a place of libertie: he brought me forth, euen because he had a fauour vnto me.

20 The Lord shall reward me after my righteous dealing: according to the cleanness of my hands shall he recompence me.

21 Because I haue kept the wayes of the Lord: and haue not forsaken my God as the wicked doeth.

22 For I haue an eye vnto all his Lawes: and will not cast out his Commaundements from me.

23 I was also vncorrupt before him: and eschewed mine owne wickednesse.

24 Wherefore shall the Lord reward me after my righteous dealing: and according vnto the cleanness of my hands in his eye sight.

25 With the holy, thou shalt be holy: and with a perfect man, thou shalt be perfect.

26 With the cleane, thou shalt be cleane: and with the froward, thou shalt learn frowardnes.

27 For thou shalt saue the people that are in aduertie: and shalt bring downe the high lookes of the proud.

28 Thou also shalt light my candle: the Lord my God shall make my darknesse to be light.

29 For in thee I shall discomfurt all hoste of men: and with the helpe of my God I shall scape ouer the wall.

30 The way of God is an vndefiled way: the word of the Lord also is tried in the fire, he is the defender of all them that put their trust in him.

31 For who is God but the Lord: or who hath any strength except our God?

32 It is God that giueth mee with strength of warre: and maketh my way perfect.

euening
prayer.

33 He maketh my feete like Harts feete: and setteth me vp on high.

34 He teacheth my hands to fight: and mine armes shall breake euen a bow of Steele.

35 Thou hast giuen me the defence of thy saluation: thy right hand also shall hold me vp, and thy louing correction shall make me great.

36 Thou shalt make route ynough vnder me for to goe: that my footescips shall not slide.

37 I will follow vpon mine enemies, and ouer take them: neither wil I turne againe till I haue destroyed them.

38 I will smite them, that they shall not be able to stand: but fall vnder my feete.

39 Thou hast girded mee with strength vnto the battell: thou shalt throwe downe mine enemies vnder me.

40 Thou hast made mine enemies also to turne their backs vpon mee: and I shall destroy them that hate me.

41 They shall cry, but there shall be none to helpe them: yea, euen vnto the Lord shall they cry, but he shall not heare them.

42 I will beate them as small as the dust before the winde: I will cast them out as the clay in the streetes.

43 Thou shalt deliuer me from the strivings of the people: and thou shalt make mee the head of the heathen.

44 A people whom I haue not knowen: shall serue me.

45 As soone as they heare of mee, they shall obey mee: but the strange children shall dissemble with me.

46 The strange children shall faile: and be a fraide out of their prisons.

47 The Lord liueth, and blessed be my strong helper: and praised be the God of my saluation.

48 Euen the God which seeth that I be auenged: and subdueth the people vnto me.

49 It is he that deliuereth me from my (cruel) enemies, and setteth mee vp above mine aduersaries: thou shalt rid me from the wicked man.

50 For this cause will I giue thanks vnto thee (O Lord) among the Gentiles: and sing praises vnto thy Name.

51 Great prosperitie giueth he vnto his king: and sheweth louing kindnesse vnto Dauid his anoynted, and vnto his seed for euermore.

Cœli enarrant. Psal. 19.

The heauens declare the glory of God: and the firmament sheweth his handy worke.

2 One day telleth another: and one night certifieth another.

3 There is neither speech nor language: but their voyces are heard among them.

4 Their sound is gone out into all landes: and their words into the ends of the world.

5 In them hath he set a Tabernacle for the Sunne: which commeth forth as a bridegrome out of his chamber, and reioycest as a Giant to runne his course.

6 It goeth forth from the vttermost part of the heauen, and runneth about vnto the ende of it againe: and there is nothing hidde from the heate thereof.

7 The Law of the Lord is an vndefiled Law, conuerting the soule: the testimony of the Lord is sure, and giueth wisdom vnto the simple.

8 The statutes of the Lord are right, and reioyce the heart: the commandement of the Lord is pure, and giueth light vnto the eyes.

9 The feare of the Lord is cleane, and endureth for euer: the iudgements of the Lord are true, and righteous altogether.

10 More to be desired are they then gold, yea, then much fine golde: sweeter also then hony, and the hony combe.

11 Moreouer, by them is thy seruant taught: and in keeping of them there is great reward.

12 Who can tel how oft he offendeth: O cleane thou me from my secret faultes.

13 Keepe thy seruant also from presumptuous sinnes, least they get the dominion ouer me: so shall I be vndefiled, and innocent from the great offence.

14 Let the wordes of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart: be alway acceptable in thy sight.

15 O Lord: my strength, and my redeemer.

Exaudiat te Dominus. Psal. 20.

The Lord heare thee in the day of trouble: the Name of the God of Jacob defend thee.

2 Send thee helpe from the Sanctuary: and strength thee out of Sion.

3 Remember all thy offerings: and accept thy burnt sacrifice.

4 Grant thee thy hearts desire: and fulfill all thy minde.

5 Wee will reioyce in thy saluation, and triumph in the Name of the Lord our God: the Lord performe all thy petitions.

6 Nowe knowe I that the Lord helpeth his anoynted, and wil heare him from his holy heauen: euen with the wholesome strength of his right hand.

7 Some put their trust in charets, and some in horses: but wee will remember the Name of the Lord our God.

8 They are brought downe and fallen: but we are risen, and stand vpright.

9 Saue Lord, and heare vs, O King of heauen: when we call vpon thee.

Domine in virtute. Psal. 21.

The King shall reioyce in thy strength, O Lord: exceeding glad shall he be of thy saluation.

2 Thou hast giuen him his hearts desire: and hast not denied him the request of his lips.

3 For thou shalt preuent him with the blessings of goodnesse: and shalt set a crowne of pure gold vpon his head.

4 He asked life of thee, and thou gauest him a long life: euen for euer and euer.

5 His honour is great in thy saluation: glory and great worship shalt thou lay vpon him.

6 For thou shalt giue him euerlasting felicitie: and make him glad with the ioy of thy countenance.

7 And why? because the King putteth his trust in the Lord: and in the mercie of the most highest, he shall not miscarry.

8 All thine enemies shall feele thy hand: thy right hand shall finde out them that hate thee.

9 Thou shalt make them like a fiery ouen in time of thy wrath: the Lord shall destroy them in his displeasure, and the fire shall consume them.

10 Their fruit shall thou roote out of the earth:

Morning prayer.

earth: and their seede from among the children of men.

11 For they intended mischief against thee: and imagined such a device that they are not able to performe.

12 Therefore shalt thou put them to flight: and the strings of thy bowe shalt thou make ready against the face of them.

13 Bee thou exalted Lord in thine owne strength: so will we sing and praise thy power.

Deus Deus meus. Psal. 22.

My God, my God, (looke vpon me) why hast thou forsaken me: and art so farre from my health, and from the wordes of my complaint?

2 My God, I crie in the day time, but thou hearest not: and in the night season also I take no rest.

3 And thou continuest holy: O thou worship of Israel.

4 Our fathers hoped in thee: they trusted in thee, and thou biddest deliuer them.

5 They called vpon thee, and were holpen: they put their trust in thee, and were not confounded.

6 But as for me, I am a worme, and no man: a very scozne of men, and the outcast of the people.

7 All they that see me, laugh mee to scozne: they shoothe out their lips, and shake their head, saying,

8 Hee trusted in God that hee would deliuer him: let him deliuer him if he will haue him.

9 But thou art hee that tooke me out of my mothers wombe: thou wast my hope when I hanged yet vpon my mothers breasts.

10 I haue bene left vnto thee euer since I was borne: thou art my God euen from my mothers wombe.

11 O goe not from me, for trouble is hard at hand: and there is none to helpe me.

12 Many oren are come about me: fat bulles of Basan close me in on euery side.

13 They gape vpon me with their mouthes: as it were a ramping and roaring Lion.

14 I am powzed out like waxe, and all my bones are out of ioint: my heart also in the midst of my body is euen like melting ware.

15 My strength is dried vp like a potheard, and my tongue cleaueth to my gummes: and thou shalt bring me into the dust of death.

16 For (many) dogs are come about mee: and the counsel of the wicked lately siege against mee.

17 They pearced my hands, and my feete, I may tell all my bones: they stand staring and looking vpon me.

18 They part my garments among them: and cast lots vpon my vesture.

19 But be not thou farre from mee, O Lord: thou art my succour, haste thee to helpe me.

20 Deliuer my soule from the sword: my darling from the power of the dog.

21 Saue mee from the Lions mouth: thou hast heard me also from among the hornes of the unicornes.

22 I will declare thy name vnto my brethren: in the middelt of the congregation will I praise thee.

23 O praise the Lord ye that feare him: magnifie him all ye of the seede of Jacob, and feare him all ye seede of Israel.

24 For he hath not despised nor abhorred the lowe estate of the pooze, he hath not hid his face from him: but when he called vnto him, he heard him.

25 My praise is of thee in the great congregation: my bowes will I performe in the sight of them that feare him.

26 The pooze shall eate and be satisfied: they that seeke after the Lord, shall praise thim, your heart shall liue for euer.

27 All the ends of the world shall remember themselves, and bee turned vnto the Lord: and all the kindreds of the nations shall worship before him.

28 For the kingdome is the Lords: and hee is the gouernour among the people.

29 All such as be fat vpon earth: haue eaten and worshipped.

30 All they that goe downe into the dust shall kneele before him: and no man hath quickned his owne soule.

31 My seede shall serue him: they shall be counted vnto the Lord for a generation.

32 They shall declare, and the heauens shall declare his righteousness: vnto a people that shall be borne, whom the Lord hath made.

Dominus regit me. Psal. 23.

The Lord is my sheppard: therefore can I lacke nothing.

2 He shall feede me in a greene pasture: and leade me forth beside the waters of comfort.

3 He shall conuert my soule: and bring mee forth in the paths of righteousness, for his names sake.

4 Yea, though I walke through the valley of the shadowe of death, I will feare no euill: for thou art with me, thy rod and thy staffe comfort me.

5 Thou shalt prepare a table before mee, against them that trouble mee: thou shalt anoint my head with oyle, and my cup shall be full.

6 But thy louing kindnesse and mercie shall comfort mee all the dayes of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for euer.

Domini est terra. Psal. 24.

The earth is the Lords, and all that therein is: the compass of the world, a they that dwell therein.

2 For he hath founded it vpon the seas: and prepared it vpon the floods.

3 Who shall ascend into the hill of Lord: or who shall rise vp in his holy place?

4 Euen he that hath cleane hands, & a pure heart: and that hath not lift by his mind vnto vanitie, nor sworne to deceiue his neighbour.

5 Hee shall receiue the blessing from the Lord: and righteousness from the God of his saluation.

6 This is the generation of them that seeke him: euen of them that seeke thy face, O Jacob.

7 Lift vp your heads, O ye gates, and be ye lift vp ye euerlasting doores: and the king of glorie shall come in.

8 Who is the king of glorie: it is the Lord strong and mighty, euen the Lord mightie in battell.

yming yer.

Morning
prayer.

9 Lift vp your heads, O ye gates, and be ye lift vp ye euerlasting doores: and the King of glory shall come in.

10 Who is the King of glory: euen the Lord of hostes, he is the King of glory.

Adre Domine. Psal. 25.

Vnto thee, O Lord, will I lift vp my soule, my God, I haue put my trust in thee: O let me not be confounded, neither let mine enemies triumph ouer me.

2 For all they that hope in thee shal not be ashamed: but such as transgresse without a cause, shalbe put to confusion.

3 Shew me thy waies, O Lord: and teach me thy paths.

4 Leade me forth in thy trueth, and learne me: for thou art the God of my saluation, in thee hath bene my hope all the day long.

5 Call to remembrance, O Lord, thy tender mercies: and thy louing kindnesse which haue bene euer of old.

6 Oh remember not the finnes and offences of my youth: but according to thy mercie thinke thou vpon mee (O Lorde) for thy goodnesse.

7 Gracious and righteous is the Lorde: therefore will he teach sinners in the way.

8 Them that be meeke shal he guide in iudgement: and such as be gentle, them shal he learne his way.

9 All the pathes of the Lord are mercie and trueth: vnto such as keepe his couenant and his testimonies.

10 For thy names sake, O Lord: be mercifull vnto my sinne, for it is great.

11 What man is hee that feareth the Lord: him shal he teach in the way that he shal choose.

12 His soule shall dwell at ease: and his seede shall inherite the land.

13 The secret of the Lord is among them that feare him: and he will shew them his couenant.

14 Mine eyes are euer looking vnto the Lord: for he shall plucke my feete out of the net.

15 Turne thee vnto me, and haue mercie vpon me: for I am desolate and in miserie.

16 The sorowes of my heart are enlarged: O bring thou me out of my troubles.

17 Look vpon mine aduersitie and miserie: and forgie me all my sinne.

18 Consider mine enemies how many they are: and they beare a tyrannous hate against mee.

19 O keepe my soule and deliuer me: let mee not be confounded, for I haue put my trust in thee.

20 Let perfectnesse and righteous dealing waite vpon mee: for my hope hath bene in thee.

21 Deliuer Israel, O God: out of all his troubles.

Iudica me Domine. Psal. 26.

Be thou my iudge, O Lord, for I haue walked innocently: my trust hath bene also in the Lord, therefore shall I not fall.

2 Examine me, O Lord, and proue me: trie out my reins and my heart.

3 For thy louing kindnesse is euer before mine eyes: and I will walke in thy trueth.

4 I haue not dwelt with vaine persons: neither will I haue fellowship with the deceitfull.

5 I haue hated the congregation of the wicked: and will not sit among the bigodly.

6 I will wash my hands in innocencie, O Lord: and so will I goe to thine altar.

7 That I may shew the voice of thanksgiving: and tel of all thy wonderful woikes.

8 Lord, I haue loued the habitation of thy house: and the place where thine honour dwelleth.

9 O shut not vp my soule with the sinners: nor my life with the bloodthirstie.

10 In whose hands are full of gifts.

11 But as for mee, I will walke innocently: O Lord deliuer me, and be mercifull vnto me.

12 My foote standeth right: I will praise the Lord in the congregations.

Dominus illuminatio. Psal. 27.

The Lord is my light and my saluation, whome then shall I feare: the Lorde is the strength of my life, of whome then shall I bee afraid?

2 When the wicked (euen mine enemies and my foes) came vpon me to eate vp my flesh: they stumbled and fell.

3 Though an hoste of men were laid against me, yet shall not my heart be afraid: and though there rose vp warre against mee, yet will I put my trust in him.

4 One thing haue I desired of the Lord, which I will require: euen that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the dayes of my life, to behold the faire beauty of the Lord, and to visite his temple.

5 For in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his tabernacle: yea, in the secret place of his dwelling shall he hide mee, and set me vpon a rocke of stone.

6 And now shall he lift vp mine head: aboue mine enemies round about me.

7 Therefore will I offer in his dwelling an oblation with great gladnesse: I will sing and speake praises vnto the Lord.

8 Hearken vnto my voice, O Lord, when I cry vnto thee: haue mercie vpon me, and heare mee.

9 My heart hath talked of thee, seeke ye my face: thy face Lord will I seeke.

10 O hide not thou thy face from me: nor cast thy seruant away in displeasure.

11 Thou hast bene my succour: leaue me not, neither forsake me, O God of my saluation.

12 When my father and my mother forsake me: the Lord taketh me vp.

13 Teach me thy way, O Lord: and leade me in the right way, because of mine enemies.

14 Deliuer me not ouer into the will of mine aduersaries: for there are false witnesses risen vp against me, and such as speake wrong.

15 I should verily haue sinned: but that I beleue verily to see the goodnesse of the Lord in the land of the living.

16 O take thou the Lords leisure: be strong, and hee shall comfort thine heart, and put thou thy trust in the Lord.

Adre Domine. Psal. 28.

Vnto thee will I trie, O Lord, my strength: thinke no scozne of me, lest if thou make as though thou hearest not, I become like them that goe downe into the pit.

2 Heare the voice of my humble petitions

Euen
prayer

when I crie vnto thee: when I holde by my hands toward the mercy seat of thy holy temple.

3 O plucke mee not a way (neither destroy me) with the bigodly and wicked doers: which speake friendly to their neighbours, but imagine mischief in their hearts.

4 Reward them according to their deedes: and according to the wickednesse of their owne inventions.

5 Recompense them after the worke of their hands: pay them that they haue deserued.

6 For they regard not in their minde the workes of the Lorde, nor the operation of his hands: therefore shall hee breake them downe, and not build them vp.

7 Praise be the Lorde: for he hath heard the voice of my humble petitions.

8 The Lorde is my strength and my shield, my heart hath trusted in him, and I am helped: therefore my heart danceth for ioy, and in my song will I praise him.

9 The Lorde is my strength: and hee is the wholesome defence of his anointed.

10 O saue thy people, and giue thy blessing vnto thine inheritance: feed them, and set them vp for euer.

Afferte Domino. Psal. 29.

Bring vnto the Lorde (O yee mightie) bring yong rams vnto the Lorde: ascribe vnto the Lorde worship and strength.

2 Gue the Lorde the honour due vnto his name: worship the Lorde with holy worship.

3 It is the Lorde that commandeth the waters: it is the glorious G O D that maketh the thunder.

4 It is the Lorde that ruleth the sea, the voice of the Lorde is mighty in operation: the voice of the Lorde is a glorious voice.

5 The voice of the Lorde breaketh the Cedar trees: yea, the Lorde breaketh the Cedars of Libanus.

6 He made them also to skip like a calfe: Libanus also and Syzion like a yong ranicorne.

7 The voice of the Lorde diuidenth the flames of fire, the voice of the Lorde shaketh the wildernes: yea, the Lorde maketh the wildernes of Cades.

8 The voice of the Lorde maketh the Hindes to bring forth yong, and discovereth the thicke bushes: in his temple doth every man speake of his honour.

9 The Lorde uttereth aboue the water flood: and the Lorde remaineth a King for euer.

10 The Lorde shall giue strength vnto his people: the Lorde shall giue his people the blessing of peace.

Exaltabo te Domine. Psal. 30.

I will magnifie thee, O Lorde, for thou hast set me vp: and not made my foes to triumph ouer me.

2 O Lorde my God, I cried vnto thee: and thou hast healed me.

3 Thou Lorde hast brought my soule out of hell: thou hast kept my life from them that goe downe to the pit.

4 Sing praises vnto the Lorde, O ye saints of his: and giue thanks to him for a remembrance of his holinesse.

5 For his wrath endureth but the twinkling of an eye, and in his pleasure is life: heauinesse may indure for a night, but ioy cometh in the morning.

6 And in my prosperitie I sayd, I shall neuer bee remooued: thou Lorde of thy goodnesse hadst made my hill so strong.

7 Thou didst turne thy face (fro me:) and I was troubled.

8 Then cried I vnto thee, O Lorde: and gate me vnto my Lorde right humbly.

9 What profit is there in my blood: when I goe downe to the pit?

10 Shall the dust giue thanks vnto thee: or shall it declare thy truth?

11 Heare, O Lorde, and haue mercie vpon me: Lorde be thou my helper.

12 Thou hast turned my heauinesse into ioy: thou hast put off my sackcloth, and girded mee with gladnesse.

13 Therefore shal every good man sing of thy praise without ceasing: O my God, I will giue thanks vnto thee for euer.

In te Domine speraui. Psal. 31.

In thee, O Lorde, haue I put my trust: let mee neuer bee put to confusion, deliuer mee in thy righteousnesse.

2 Bow downe thine care to me: make haste to deliuer me.

3 And be thou my strong rocke, and the house of defence: that thou mayest saue me.

4 For thou art my strong rocke, and my castle: be thou also my guide, and leade me for thy names sake.

5 Draw mee out of the net that they haue layd priuily for me: for thou art my strength.

6 Into thy hands I commend my spirit: for thou hast redeemed mee, O Lorde, thou God of truth.

7 I haue hated them that holde of superstitious vanities: and my trust hath bene in the Lorde.

8 I will bee glad, and reioice in thy mercie: for thou hast considered my trouble, and hast knowen my soule in aduersities.

9 Thou hast not shut mee vp into the hand of the enemy: but hast set my fecte in a large rouse.

10 Haue mercie vpon mee, O Lorde, for I am in trouble: and mine eye is consumed for very heauinesse, yea, my soule and my body.

11 For my life is wares old with heauinesse: and my yeeres with mourning.

12 My strength faileth me, because of mine iniquitie: and my bones are consumed.

13 I became a reproofe among all mine enemies, but specially among my neighbours: and they of mine acquaintance were afraid of me, and they that did see mee without, conueied themselves from me.

14 I am cleane forgotten, as a dead man out of minde: I am become like a broken vessell.

15 For I haue heard the blasphemie of the multitude: and feare is on euery side, while they conspire together against mee, & take their counsaile to take away my life.

16 But my hope hath bene in thee, O Lorde: I haue said, Thou art my God.

17 My time is in thy hand, deliuer mee from the hand of mine enemies: and from them that persecute me.

18 Shew thy seruant the light of thy countenance: and saue me for thy mercies sake.

ming
yer.

19 Let mee not be confounded. O Lord, for I haue called vpon thee: let the vngodly be put to confusion, and be put to silence in the graue.

20 Let the tping lips be put to silence: which cruelly, disdainfully, and despitefully speake against the righteous.

21 O how plentifull is thy goodnesse, which thou hast layde by for them that feare thee: and that thou hast prepared for them that put their trust in thee, euen before the soimes of men.

22 Thou shalt hide them priuily by thine owne presence, from the prouoking of all men: thou shalt keepe them secretly in thy tabernacle, from the strife of tongues.

23 Thankes be to the Lord: for he hath shewed mee marueilous great kindenesse in a strong citie.

24 And when I made haste, I said: I am cast out of the sight of thine eyes.

25 Neuerthelesse thou heardest the voyce of my prayer: when I cried vnto thee.

26 O loue the Lord all ye his Saints: for the Lord preferueth them that are faithfull, and plenteously rewardeth the proud doer.

27 Be strong, and he shall stablish your heart: all ye that put your trust in the Lord.

Beati quorum. Psal. 32.

Euening prayer.

Blessed is hee whose vnrightheadnesse is forgiven: and whose sinne is couered.

2 Blessed is the man vnto whom the Lord imputeth no sinne: and in whose spirit there is no guile.

3 For while I helde my tongue: my bones consumed away, throught my dayly complaining.

4 For thy hande is heauy vpon mee day and night: and my moysture is like the drought in Sommer.

5 I will knowledge my sinne vnto thee: and mine vnrightheadnesse haue I not hid.

6 I saide, I will confesse my sinnes vnto the Lord: and so thou forgauest the wickednesse of my sinne.

7 For this shal euery one that is godly make his praier vnto thee in a time when thou mayest be found: but in the great water floods they shal not come nigh him.

8 Thou art a place to hide me in, thou shalt preferue mee from trouble: thou shalt compasse me about with songs of deliuerance.

9 I will enforce thee, and teach thee in the way wherein thou shalt goe: and I will guide thee with mine eye.

10 Bee yee not like to horse and mule, which haue no vnderstanding: whose mouthes must be holden with bit and bridle, least they fall vpon thee.

11 Great plagues remaine for the vngodly: but who so putteth his trust in the Lord, mercie embraceth him on euery side.

12 Bee glad, O yee righteous, and reioyce in the Lord: and be ioyfull all ye that are true of heart.

Exultate iusti. Psal. 33.

Reioyce in the Lord, O yee righteous: for it becommeth well the iust to be thankfull.

2 Praise the Lord with Harpe: sing psalmes vnto him with the Lute, and instrument of ten strings.

3 Sing vnto the Lord a newe song: sing praises lustily (vnto him) with a good courage.

4 For the worde of the Lord is true: and all his workes are faithfull.

5 Hee loueth righteousnes and iudgement: the earth is full of the goodnesse of the Lord.

6 By the word of the Lord were the heauens made: and all the hostes of them by the breath of his mouth.

7 He gathereth the waters of the Sea together, as it were vpon an heape: and layeth by the deepe as in a treasure house.

8 Let all the earth feare the Lord: stand in awe of him, all ye that dwell in the world.

9 For he spake, and it was done: he commanded, and it stood fast.

10 The Lord bringeth the counsel of the heathen to nought: and maketh the deuises of the people to bee of none effect, and casteth out the counsailes of Princes.

11 The counsaile of the Lord shall endure for euer: and the thoughts of his heart from generation to generation.

12 Blessed are the people whose God is the Lord Jehoua: and blessed are the folke that hee hath chosen to him to be his inheritance.

13 The Lord looked downe from heauen, and behelde all the children of men: from the habitation of his dwelling, he considereth al them that dwell in the earth.

14 Hee fashioneth all the hearts of them: and vnderstandeth all their workes.

15 There is no king that can be saued by the multitude of an hoste: neither is any mightie man deliuered by much strength.

16 A horse is counted but a vaine thing to saue a man: neither shall he deliuer any man by his great strength.

17 Beholde, the eye of the Lord is vpon them that feare him: and vpon them that put their trust in his mercy.

18 To deliuer their soules from death: and to feed them in the time of dearth.

19 Our soule hath patiently taried for the Lord: for he is our helpe, and our shield.

20 For our heart shall reioyce in him: because we haue hoped in his holy Name.

21 Let thy mercifull kindenesse (O Lord) bee vpon vs: like as wee doe put our trust in thee.

Benedicam Domino. Psal. 34.

I will alway giue thankes vnto the Lord: his praise shall euer be in my mouth.

2 My soule shal make her boast of the Lord: the humble shall heare thereof, and be glad.

3 O praise the Lord with me: and let vs magnifie his Name together.

4 I sought the Lord, and he heard me: yea, he deliuered me out of all my feare.

5 They had an eye vnto him, & were lightened: and their faces were not ashamed.

6 Loe, the poore crieth, and the Lord heareth him: yea, and saucth him out of all his troubles.

7 The Angel of the Lord tarieth rounde about them that feare him: and deliuereth them.

8 O taste and see how gracious the Lord is: blessed is the man that trusteth in him.

9 O feare the Lord yee that be his Saints: for they that feare him lacke nothing.

10 The Lions doe lache, and suffer hunger.

but they which seeke the Lord, shall want no manner of thing that is good.

11 Come, ye children, and hearken vnto me: I will teach you the feare of the Lord.

12 What man is he that lusteth to liue, and would faine see good dayes: keepe thy tongue from euil, and thy lips that they speake no guile.

13 Eschew euill, and doe good: seeke peace, and ensue it.

14 The eyes of the Lord are ouer the righteous: and his eares are open vnto their prayers.

15 The countenance of the Lord is against them that do euil: to root out the remembrance of them from the earth.

16 The righteous crieth, and the Lord heareth them: and deliuereth them out of all their troubles.

17 The Lord is nigh vnto them that are of a contrite heart: and will saue such as be of an humble spirit.

18 Great are the troubles of the righteous: but the Lord deliuereth him out of all.

19 He keepeth all his bones: so that not one of them is broken.

20 But misfortune shall slay the vngodly: and they that hate the righteous, shall be desolate.

21 The Lord deliuereth the soules of his seruants: and all they that put their trust in him, shall not be destitute.

Iudica Domine. Psal. 35.

Readeth thou my cause, O Lord, with them that strue with mee: and fight thou against them that fight against me.

2 Lay hand vpon the shield and buckler: and stand vp to helpe me.

3 Bring forth the speare, and stop the way against them that persecute mee: say vnto my soule, I am thy saluation.

4 Let them be confounded, and put to shame, that seeke after my soule: let them be turned backe, and brought to confusion, that imagine mischief for me.

5 Let them be as the dust before the winde: and the Angel of the Lord scattering them.

6 Let their way be darke and slippery: and let the Angel of the Lord persecute them.

7 For they haue prauily layed their net to destroy mee without a cause: yea, euen without a cause haue they made a pit for my soule.

8 Let a sudden destruction come vpon him vnawares, and his net that he hath layd prauily catch himselfe: that hee may fall into his owne mischief.

9 And my soule be ioyful in the Lord: it shall reioyce in his saluation.

10 All my bones shall say, Lord, who is like vnto thee, which deliuerest the poore from him that is too strong for him: yea, the poore, & him that is in misery, from him that spoileth him.

11 False witness did rise vp: they layd to my charge things that I knew not.

12 They rewarded mee euill for good: to the great discomfort of my soule.

13 Neuertheless, when they were sicke I put on sackcloth, and humbled my soule with fasting: and my prayer shall turne into mine owne bolome.

14 I behaued my selfe as though it had bene my friend, or my brother: I went heauily, as one that mourneth for his mother.

15 But in mine aduersitie they reioyced, and gathered them together: yea, the very abjects came together against mee vnawares, making motes at me, and ceased not.

16 With the flatterers were busie mockers: which gnashed vpon me with their teeth.

17 Lord, how long wilt thou looke vpon this: O deliuer my soule from the calamities which they bring on mee, and my darling from the lions.

18 So will I giue thee thanks in the great Congregation: I will praise thee among much people.

19 Let not them that are mine enemies triumph ouer me vngodly: neither let them winke with their eyes that hate me without a cause.

20 And why? their communing is not for peace: but they imagine deceitful words against them that are quiet in the land.

21 They gaped on mee with their mouthes, and sayd: see on thee, lie on thee, we saw it with our eyes.

22 This hast thou seene, O Lord: holde not thy tongue then, go not farre from me, O Lord.

23 Awake, and stand vp to iudge my quarrell: auenge thou my cause, my God and my Lord.

24 Iudge me, O Lord my God, according to thy righteousness: and let them not triumph ouer me.

25 Let them not say in their hearts, There, there, so would we haue it: neither let them say, we haue deuoured him.

26 Let them be put to confusion and shame together, that reioyce at my trouble: let them be clothed with rebuke and dishonour, that boast themselves against me.

27 Let them be glad, and reioyce, that fauour my righteous dealing: yea, let them say alway, Blessed be the Lord, which hath pleasure in the prosperity of his seruant.

28 And as for my tongue, it shall be talking of thy righteousness: and of thy praise all the day long.

Dixit iniustus. Psal. 36.

My heart sheweth me the wickednesse of the vngodly: that there is no feare of God before his eyes.

2 For he flattereth himselfe in his owne sight: vntill his abominable sinne be found out.

3 The words of his mouth are vnrightheous, and full of deceit: he hath left off to behaue himselfe wisely, and to do good.

4 He imagineth mischief vpon his bed, and hath set himselfe in no good way: neither doth he abhorre any thing that is euill.

5 Thy mercy O Lord reacheth vnto the heauens: and thy faithfullnesse vnto the clouds.

6 Thy righteousness standeth like the strong mountaines: thy iudgements are like the great deepe.

7 Thou Lord shalt saue both man and beast, how excellent is thy mercy, O God: and the children of men shall put their trust vnder the shadow of thy wings.

8 They shall be satisfied with the plenteousnes of thy house: and thou shalt giue them drinke of thy pleasures, as out of the riuer.

9 For with thee is the well of life: and in thy light shall we see light.

10 O continue forth thy louing kindnesse unto them that know thee : and thy righteousnesse vnto them that are true of heart.

11 O let not the foot of pride come against me: let not the hand of the vngodly cast me downe.

12 There are they fallen (all) that worke wickednesse: they are cast downe, and shall not be able to stand.

Noli æmulari. Psal. 37.

Euening prayer.

Ret not thy selfe, because of the vngodly: neither be thou enuious against the euill doers.

2 For they shall soone bee cut downe like the grasse: and be withered euen as the greene herbe.

3 But thou thy trust in the Lord, and be doing good: dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed.

4 Delight thou in the Lord: and hee shall giue thee thy hearts desire.

5 Commit thy way vnto the Lord, and put thy trust in him: and he shall bring it to passe.

6 He shall make thy righteousness as cleare as the light: and thy iust dealing as the noone day.

7 Holde thee still in the Lord, and abide patiently vpon him: but grieue not thy selfe at him whose way doth prosper, against the man that doth after euill counsels.

8 Leauē off from wrath, and let goe displeasure: fret not thy selfe, els shalt thou be moued to do euill.

9 Wicked doers shall be rooted out: and they that patiently abide the Lord, those shall inherit the land.

10 Yet a litle while, and the vngodly shall be cleane gone: thou shalt looke after his place, and hee shall be away.

11 But the meeke spirited shall possesse the earth: and shall be refreshed in the multitude of peace.

12 The vngodly seeketh counsell against the iust: and gnasheth vpon him with his teeth.

13 The Lord shall laugh him to scorne: for he hath seene that his day is comming.

14 The vngodly haue drawen out the sword, and haue bent their bowe: to cast downe the poore and needy, and to slay such as be of a right conuersation.

15 Their sword shall goe thorow their owne heart: and their bow shall be broken.

16 A small thing that the righteous hath: is better then great riches of the vngodly.

17 For the armes of the vngodly shall be broken: and the Lord vpholdeth the righteous.

18 The Lord knoweth the dayes of the godly: and their inheritance shall endure for euer.

19 They shall not be confounded in the perilous time: and in the dayes of death they shall haue enough.

20 As for the vngodly they shall perish, and the enemies of the Lord shall consume as the fat of lambes: yea, euen as the smoake shall they consume away.

21 The vngodly borroweth, and payeth not againe: but the righteous is mercifull and liberal.

22 Such as be blessed of God, shall possesse the land: and they that be cursed of him, shall be rooted out.

23 The Lord ordereth a good mans going:

and maketh his way acceptable to himselfe.

24 Though he fall, he shall not be cast away: for the Lord vpholdeth him with his hand.

25 I haue bene pong, and now am olde: and yet saw I neither the righteous forsaken, nor his seed begging their bread.

26 The righteous is euer mercifull, and lenient: and his seed is blessed.

27 flee from euill, and doe the thing that is good: and dwell for euermore.

28 For the Lord loueth the thing that is right: hee forsaketh not his that be godly, but they are preserved for euer.

29 The righteous shall be punished: as for the seed of the vngodly it shall be rooted out.

30 The righteous shall inherit the land: and dwell therein for euer.

31 The mouth of the righteous is exercised in wisdom: and his tongue will be talking of iudgement.

32 The law of his God is in his heart: and his goings shall not slide.

33 The vngodly seeth the righteous: and seeketh occasion to slay him.

34 The Lord will not leaue him in his hand: nor condemne him when he is iudged.

35 Hope thou in the Lord, and keepe his way, and he shall promote thee, that thou shalt possesse the land: when the vngodly shall perish, thou shalt see it.

36 I my selfe haue seene the vngodly in great power: and flourishing like a greene bay tree.

37 And I went by, and loe, he was gone: I sought him, but his place could no where be found.

38 Keepe innocencie, and take heed vnto the thing that is right: for that shall bring a man peace at the last.

39 As for the transgressours, they shall perish together: and the end of the vngodly is, they shall be rooted out at the last.

40 But the saluation of the righteous cometh of the Lord: which is also their strength in the time of trouble.

41 And the Lord shall stand by them, and saue them: hee shall deliuer them from the vngodly, and shall saue them, because they put their trust in him.

Domine ne in furore. Psal. 38.

Do not rebuke (O Lord) in thine anger: neither chalen me in thy heary displeasure.

2 For thine arrowes sticke fast in me: and thy hand presseth me sore.

3 There is no health in my flesh, because of thy displeasure: neither is there any rest in my bones, by reason of my sinne.

4 For my wickedneses are gone ouer my head: and are like a sore burden, too heary for me to beare.

5 My wounds stinke, & are corrupt: though my foolishnesse.

6 I am brought into so great trouble & misery: that I go mourning all the day long.

7 For my loines are filled with a sore disease: and there is no whole part in my body.

8 I am feeble, and sore smitten: I haue roared for the very disquietnesse of my heart.

9 Lord, thou knowest all my desire: and my grooming is not hid from thee.

Morning prayer.

10 My heart panteth, my strength hath failed me: as the light of mine eyes is gone from me.
 11 My louers and my neighbours did stand looking vpon my trouble: and my kindemen stood aslarre off.
 12 They also that sought after my life, layed snares for me: and they that went about to doe me euill, talked of wickednesse, and imagined deceit all the day long.
 13 As for mee, I was like a deafe man, and heard not: and as one that is dumbe, which doth not open his mouth.
 14 I became euen as a man that heareth not: and in whose mouth are no reproofs.
 15 For in thee, O Lord, haue I put my trust: thou shalt answere for me, O Lord my God.
 16 I haue required that they (euen mine enemies) should not triumph ouer me: for when my foot slippt, they reioyced greatly against me.
 17 And I cruelly am set in the plague: and my heauinesse is euer in my sight.
 18 For I wil confesse my wickednesse: and be soyr for my sinne.
 19 But mine enemies liue, and are mighty: and they that hate me wrongfully, are many in number.
 20 They also that reward euill for good, are against mee: because I followe the thing that good is.
 21 For sake me not, O Lord my God: be not thou farre from me.
 22 Haste thee to helpe mee: O Lord God my saluation.
 Dixi, Custodiam. Psal. 39.
 I sayd, I will take heed to my wayes: that I offend not in my tongue.
 2 I will keepe my mouth (as it were with a bridle): while the bngodly is in my sight.
 3 I held my tongue, and spake nothing: I kept silence, yea, euen from good wordes, but it was paine and griefe to me.
 4 My heart was hote within me, and while I was thus musing, the fire kindled: and at the last I spake with my tongue.
 5 Lord, let me know mine end, and the number of my dayes: that I may be certified howe long I haue to liue.
 6 Beholde, thou hast made my dayes as it were a span long: and mine age is euen as nothing in respect of thee, and verily euery man liuing is altogether banity.
 7 For man walketh in a vaine shadow, and disquieteth himselfe in vaine: he heapeth by riches, and cannot tell who shall gather them.
 8 And now, Lord, what is my hope: truely my hope is euen in thee.
 9 Deliuer me from all mine offences: and make me not a rebuke vnto the foolish.
 10 I became dumbe, and opened not my mouth: for it was thy doing.
 11 Take thy plague away fro me: I am euen consumed by the meanes of thy heauy hand.
 12 When thou with rebukes doest chasten man for sinne, thou makest his beautie to consume away like as it were a moth fretting a garment: euery man therefore is but banity.
 13 Heare my prayer, O Lord, and with thine eares consider my calling: holde not thy peace at my teares.
 14 For I am a stranger with thee, and a sojourner: as all my fathers were.

15 Oh spare me a litle, that I may recouer my strength: before I goe hence, and be no more seene.

Expectans expectaui. Psal. 40.

I waited patiently for the Lord: and hee enclined vnto me, and heard my calling.
 2 He brought me also out of the horrible pit, out of the mire and clay: and set my feet vpon the rocke, and ordered my goings.
 3 And he hath put a new song in my mouth: euen a thanksgiuing vnto our God.
 4 Many shall see it, and feare: and shall put their trust in the Lord.
 5 Blessed is the man that hath set his hope in the Lord: and turned not vnto the proud, and to such as go about with lies.
 6 O Lord my God, great are thy wondrous woorks which thou hast done: like as be also thy thoughts which are to vsward, and yet there is no man that ordereth them vnto thee.
 7 If I would declare them, & speake of them: they should be more then I am able to expresse.
 8 Sacrifice and meat offering thou wouldest not haue: but mine eares hast thou opened.
 9 Burnt offerings & sacrifice for sinne hast thou not required: then sayd I, Lo, I come.
 10 In the volume of the booke it is written of me, that I should fulfill thy will, O my God: I am content to do it, yea, thy law is within my heart.

11 I haue declared thy righteousnesse in the great congregation: loe, I will not reframe my lips, O Lord, and that thou knowest.
 12 I haue not hid thy righteousnesse within my heart: my talking hath bene of thy trueth, and of thy saluation.
 13 I haue not kept backe thy louing mercie and trueth: from the great congregation.
 14 Withdraw not thou thy mercy from me, O Lord: let thy louing kindnesse and thy trueth alway preferue me.
 15 For innumerable troubles are come about me, my sinnes haue taken such holde vpon mee, that I am not able to looke by: yea, they are more in number then the haire of mine head, and my heart hath failed me.
 16 O Lord, let it be thy pleasure to deliuer me: make haste (O Lord) to helpe me.
 17 Let them be ashamed and confounded together that seeke after my soule to destroy it: let them be diuerted backward, and put to rebuke, that wish me euill.
 18 Let them be desolate, and rewarded with shame, that say vnto me: fie vpon thee, fie vpon thee.
 19 Let all those that seeke thee, be ioyfull and glad in thee: and let such as loue thy saluation, say alway, The Lord be praised.
 20 As for me, I am pooze and needy: but the Lord careth for me.
 21 Thou art my helper and redeemer: make no long tarrying, O my God.

Beatus qui intelligit. Psal. 41.

Blessed is hee that considereth the pooze and needy: the Lord shall deliuer him in the time of trouble.
 2 The Lord preferue him, and keepe him aliue, that hee may be blessed vpon earth: and deliuer not thou him into the will of his enemies.

Euening prayer.

3 The Lord comfort him when hee lieth sicke vpon his bed : make thou all his bed in his sicknesse.

4 I sayd, Lord be mercifull vnto me : heale my soule, for I haue sinned against thee.

5 Mine enemies speake euill of me : when shall he die, and his name perish ?

6 And if he come to see me, he speaketh vanity : and his heart conceiueth falsehood within himselfe, and when he cometh forth, he telleth it.

7 All mine enemies whisper together against me : euen against me do they imagine this euill.

8 Let the sentence of guiltinesse proceed against him : and now that he lieth, let him rise by no more.

9 Yea, euen mine owne familiar friend whom I trusted : which did also eat of my bread, hath layd great wait for me.

10 But be thou mercifull vnto me, O Lord : raise thou me by againe, & I shall reward them.

11 By this I know thou fauoured me : that mine enemy doth not triumph against me.

12 And when I am in my health, thou withholdest me : and shalt set me before thy face for euer.

13 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel : without without end. Amen.

Quemadmodum. Psal. 42.

Like as the Hart desireth the water brooks : so longeth my soule after thee, O God.

2 My soule is athirst for God, yea, euen for the liuing God : when shall I come to appeare before the presence of God ?

3 My teares haue bene my meat day and night : while they daily say vnto me, where is now thy God ?

4 Now when I thinke thereupon, I potoze out my heart by my selfe : for I went with the multitude, and brought them forth into the house of God.

5 In the voice of praise and thanksgiving : among such as keepe holy day.

6 Why art thou so full of heauinesse (O my soule) : & why art thou so disquieted within me ?

7 But thy trust in God : for I will yet giue him thanks for the helpe of his countenance.

8 Why God, my soule is bered within me : therefore will I remember thee, concerning the land of Jordan, and the little hill of Hermon.

9 One deepe calleth another, because of the noise of the water pipes : all thy waues and stormes are gone oster me.

10 The Lord hath granted his louing kindnesse on the day time : and in the night season did I sing of him, and made my prayer vnto the God of my life.

11 I will say vnto the God of my strength, why hast thou forgotten me : why goe I thus heauily, while the enemy oppresseth me ?

12 My bones are smitten asunder as with a sword : while mine enemies (that trouble me) call me in the teeth.

13 Namely, while they say daily vnto me : where is now thy God ?

14 Why art thou so bered, O my soule : and why art thou so disquieted within me ?

15 O put thy trust in God : for I will yet thanke him which is the helpe of my countenance, and my God.

Iudica me Deus. Psal. 43.

Giue sentence with me, O God, and defend my cause against the vngodly people : O deliuer me from the deceitfull and wicked man.

2 For thou art the God of my strength, why hast thou put mee from thee : and why goe I so heauily while the enemy oppresseth me ?

3 O send out thy light and thy truth, that they may leade me : and bring me vnto thy holy hill, and to thy dwelling.

4 And that I may go vnto the altar of God, euen vnto the God of my ioy and gladnesse : and vpon the harpe will I giue thanks vnto thee, O God, my God.

5 Why art thou so heauy, O my soule : and why art thou so disquieted within me ?

6 O put thy trust in God : for I will yet giue him thanks, which is the helpe of my countenance, and my God.

Deus auribus. Psal. 44.

We haue heard with our cares, O God, our fathers haue tolde vs : what thou hast done in their time of olde.

2 How thou hast driuen out the heathen with thy hand, & planted them in : how thou hast destroyed the nations, & call them out.

3 For they gate not the land in possession through their owne sword : neither was it their owne arme that helped them.

4 But thy right hand and thine arme, and the light of thy countenance : because thou hadst a fauour vnto them.

5 Thou art my king (O God) : send helpe vnto Jacob.

6 Through thee will we ouerthrow our enemies : and in thy name will wee tread them vnder that rise by against vs.

7 For I will not trust in my bowe : it is not my sword that shall helpe me.

8 But it is thou that sauest vs from our enemies : and puttell the to confusion that hate vs.

9 We make our boast of God all day long : and will praise thy name for euer.

10 But now thou art farre off, and puttell vs to confusion : and goest not forth with our armes.

11 Thou makest vs to turne our backs vpon our enemies : so that they which hate vs, spoile our goods.

12 Thou lettest vs to be eaten by like sheepe : and hast scattered vs among the heathen.

13 Thou sellest thy people for nought : and takest no money for them.

14 Thou makest vs to bee rebuked of our neighbours : to be laughed to scorne, and had in derision of them that are round about vs.

15 Thou makest vs to be a by-word among the heathen : and that the people shake their heads at vs.

16 My confusion is daily before me : and the shame of my face hath covered me.

17 For the voice of the slanderer and blasphemer : for the enemy and auenger.

18 And though all this be come vpon vs, yet do we not forget thee : no; behaue our selues forwardly in thy covenant.

19 Our heart is not turned backe : neither our steps gone out of thy way.

20 Do not when thou hast smitten vs into the place of dragons : and couered vs with the shadow of death.

21 If wee haue forgotten the Name of our God, and holden by our handes to any strange god : shall not God search it out? for he knoweth the very secrets of the heart.

22 For thy sake also are we killed all the day long : and are counted as sheepe appointed to be slaine.

23 O Lord, why sleepest thou : awake, and be not absent from vs for euer.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face : and forgettest our misery and trouble?

25 For our soule is brought lowe, euen vnto the dust : our belly cleaueth vnto the ground.

26 Arise, and helpe vs : and deliuer vs for thy mercies sake.

Erudauit cor meum. Psal. 45.

My heart is inditing of a good matter : I speake of the things which I haue made vnto the king.

2 Thy tongue is the pen : of a ready writer.

3 Thou art fairer then the children of men : full of grace are thy lips, because God hath blessed thee for euer.

4 Gird thee with thy sword vpon thy thigh, O thou most mighty : according to thy worship and renowne.

5 Good lucke haue thou with thine honour : ride on, because of the word of truth, of meeke- nesse, and righteousnesse, and thy right hand shall teach thee terrible things.

6 Thy arrowes are very sharpe, & the people shall be subdued vnto thee : euen in the middes among the kings enemies.

7 Thy seat (O God) endureth for euer : the scepter of thy kingdome is a right scepter.

8 Thou hast loued righteousnesse, and hated iniquity : wherefore God (euen thy God) hath anointed thee with the oile of gladnesse aboue thy fellows.

9 All thy garments smell of Myrrhe, Aloes, and Cassia : out of the Ivory palaces, whereby they haue made thee glad.

10 Kings daughters were among thy honourable women : vpon thy right hand did stand the Queene in a vesture of golde (wrought about with diuers colours.)

11 Hearken (O daughter) and consider, encline thine eare : forget also thine owne people, and thy fathers house.

12 So shall the king haue pleasure in thy beauty : for hee is thy Lord (God) and worship thou him.

13 And the daughter of Tyre shall be there with a gift : like as the rich also among the people shall make their supplication before thee.

14 The kings daughter is all glorious within : her clothing is of wrought golde.

15 She shall be brought vnto the king in raiment of needle worke : the virgins that be her fellows shall beare her company, and shall be brought vnto thee.

16 With ioy & gladnesse shall they be brought : and shall enter into the kings palace.

17 In stead of thy fathers thou shalt haue children : whom thou mayest make princes in all lands.

18 I will remember thy Name from one generation vnto another : therefore shall the people giue thanks vnto thee, world without end.

Deus noster refugium. Psal. 46.

God is our hope and strength : a very present helpe in trouble.

2 Therefore will wee not feare though the earth be moued : and though the hills be carried into the mids of the sea.

3 Though the waters thereof rage & swell : and though the mountaines shake at the tempest of the same.

4 The riuers of the flood thereof shall make glad the city of God : the holy place of the tabernacle of the most high God.

5 God is in the middes of her, therefore shall she not be remoued : God shall helpe her, and that right early.

6 The heathen make much ado, & the kingdomes are moued : but God hath shewed his voice, and the earth shall melt away.

7 The Lord of hostes is with vs : the God of Jacob is our refuge.

8 Come hither, and beholde the works of the Lord : what destruction he hath brought vpon the earth.

9 He maketh wars to cease in all the world : he breaketh the bow, and knappeth the speare in lumber, and burneth the charrets in the fire.

10 Be still then, and know that I am God : I will be exalted among the heathen, and I will be exalted in the earth.

11 The Lord of hostes is with vs : the God of Jacob is our refuge.

Omnes gentes plaudite. Psal. 47.

Clap your hands together (all ye people) : sing vnto God with the voice of melody.

2 For the Lord is high, and to be feared : hee is the great King vpon all the earth.

3 He shall subdue the people vnder vs : and the nations vnder our feet.

4 He shall chuse out an heritage for vs : euen the worship of Jacob whom he loued.

5 God is gone by with a mery noise : and the Lord with the sound of the trumpe.

6 Sing praises, sing praises vnto our God : sing praises, sing praises vnto our King.

7 For God is the King of all the earth : sing ye praises with vnderstanding.

8 God reigneth ouer the heathen : God sitteth vpon his holy seat.

9 The Princes of the people are ioynd vnto the people of the God of Abraham : for God (which is very hie exalted) doth defend the earth as it were with a shield.

Magnus Dominus. Psal. 48.

Great is the Lord, and highly to be praised : in the citie of our God, euen vpon his holy hill.

2 The hill of Sion is a faire place, and the ioy of the whole earth : vpon the North side lieth the citie of the great King, God is well known in her palaces, as a sure refuge.

3 For loe, the kings of the earth : are gathered and gone by together.

4 They marvelled to see such things : they were astonied, and suddenly cast downe.

5 feare came there vpon them, and for to w : as vpon a woman in her trauell.

6 Thou shalt breake the ships of the Sea : through the East winde.

Euening prayer.

7 Like as we haue heard, so haue we seene in the city of the Lord of hosts, in the city of our God: God vpholdeth the same for euer.

8 We wait for thy louing kindnes (O God:) in the mids of thy temple.

9 O God, according vnto thy Name, so is thy praise vnto the worlds end: thy right hand is full of righteousness.

10 Let the mount Sion reioyce, and the daughters of Iuda be glad: because of thy iudgements.

11 Walke about Sion, and goe round about her: and tell the tow'ers thereof.

12 Marke wel her bulwarhs, set by her houses: that ye may tell them that come after.

13 For this God is our God for euer & euer: he shall be our guide vnto death.

Audite hæc omnes. Psal. 49.

O Heare yee this all ye people: ponder it with your eares all ye that dwell in the world.

2 High and lowe, rich and pooze: one with another.

3 My mouth shall speake of wisdom: and my heart shall muse of vnderstanding.

4 I will incline mine eare vnto the parable: and shew my darke speech vpon the harpe.

5 Wherefore should I feare in the dayes of wickednesse: and when the wickednesse of my heeles compasseth me round about?

6 There be some that put their trust in their goods: and boast themselues in the multitude of their riches.

7 But no man may deliuer his brother: nor make agreement vnto God for him.

8 For it cost moze to redeeme their soules: so that he must let that alone for euer.

9 Yea, though he liue long: and see not the graue.

10 For he seeth that wise men also die, and perish together: as well as the ignorant and foolish, and leaue their riches for other.

11 And yet they thinke that their houses shall continue for euer: and that their dwelling places shall endure from one generation to another, and call the lands after their owne names.

12 Acuer thelesse, man will not abide in honor: seeing he may be compared vnto the beasts that perish, this is the way of them.

13 This is their foolishnesse: and their prosperity praise their saying.

14 They lie in the hell like sheepe, death gnaweth vpon them, and the righteous shall haue domination of them in the morning: their beautie shall consume in the sepulchre out of their dwelling.

15 But God shall deliuer my soule from the place of hell: for he shall receiue me.

16 Be not thou afraid though one be made rich: or if the glory of his house be increased.

17 For he shall carry nothing away with him when he dieth: neither shall his pompe follow him.

18 For while he liued, he counted himselfe an happy man: and so long as thou doest well vnto thy selfe, men will speake good of thee.

19 He shall follow the generation of his fathers: and shall neuer see light.

20 Man being in honour, hath no vnderstanding: but is compared vnto the beasts that perish.

Deus Deorum. Psal. 50.

The Lord, euen the most mightie God, hath spoken: and called the world, from the rising vp of the Sunne, vnto the going downe thereof.

2 Out of Sion hath God appeared: in perfect beauty.

3 Our God shall come, and shall not keepe silence: there shall goe before him a consuming fire, & a mighty tempest shall be stirred by round about him.

4 He shall call the heathen from aboue: and the earth, that he may iudge his people.

5 Gather my saints together vnto me: those that haue made a couenant with me, with sacrifice.

6 And the heauens shall declare his righteousness: for God is iudge himselfe.

7 Heare, O my people, and I will speake: I my selfe will testifie against thee, O Israel, for I am God, euen thy God.

8 I will not reioyce thee, because of thy sacrifices, or for thy burnt offerings: because they were not alway before me.

9 I will take no bullocke out of thy house: nor hee goats out of thy folds.

10 For all the beasts of the forest are mine: and so are the cattels vpon a thousand hills.

11 I know all the fowles vpon the mountaines: and the wilde beasts of the field are in my sight.

12 If I be hungry, I will not tell thee: for the whole world is mine, and all that is therein.

13 Thinkest thou that I will eat bulles flesh: and drinke the blood of goats?

14 Offer vnto God thanksgiving: and pay thy bowes vnto the most high.

15 And call vpon me in the time of trouble: so will I heare thee, and thou shalt praise me.

16 But vnto the vngodly said God: why doest thou preach my lawes, and takest my couenant in thy mouth?

17 Whereas thou hatest to be reformed: and hast cast my words behinde thee.

18 When thou sawest a thicke, thou consentedst vnto him: and hast bene partaker with the adulterers.

19 Thou hast let thy mouth speake wickednesse: and with thy tongue thou hast set foot: th deceit.

20 Thou satest and spakest against thy brother: yea, and hast slandered thine owne mothers sonne.

21 These things hast thou done, and I held my tongue, and thou thoughtest wickedly that I am euen such a one as thy selfe: but I will reprove thee, and set before thee the things that thou hast done.

22 Consider this, ye that forget God: lest I plucke you away, and there be none to deliuer you.

23 Whoso offereth me thanks and praise, he honoureth mee: and to him that ordereth his conuention right, will I shew the saluation of God.

2 Wash me thozowly from my wickednesse: and cleanse me from my sinne.

3 For I knowlege my faults: and my sinne is euer befoze me.

4 Against thee only haue I sinned, and done this euill in thy sight: that thou mightest be iustificed in thy saying, and cleare when thou art iudged.

5 Behold, I was shapen in wickednesse: and in sinne hath my mother conceived me.

6 But loe, thou requiredst trueth in the inward parts: and shalt make mee to vnderstand wisdom secretly.

7 Thou shalt purge me with hyssope, and I shall be cleane: thou shalt wash me, and I shall be whiter then snow.

8 Thou shalt make me heare of ioy and gladnesse: that the bones which thou hast broken may reioyce.

9 Turne thy face from my sinnes: and put out all my misdeeds.

10 Make me a cleane heart, O God: and renew a right spirit within me.

11 Cast nie not a way from thy presence: and take not thy holy spirit from me.

12 O giue me the comfort of thy helpe again: and stablish me with thy free spirit.

13 Then shall I teach thy wayes vnto the wicked: and sinners shall be conuerted vnto thee.

14 Deliuer me from bloodguiltines, O God, thou that art the God of my health: and my tongue shall sing of thy righteousness.

15 Thou shalt open my lips (O Lord:) and my mouth shall shew thy praise.

16 For thou desirest no sacrifice, els would I giue it thee: but thou delightedst not in burnt offerings.

17 The sacrifice of God is a troubled spirit: a broken and contrite heart (O God) shalt thou not despise.

18 O be favourable and gracious vnto Sion: build thou the walles of Hierusalem.

19 Then shalt thou be pleased with the sacrifice of righteousness, with the burnt offerings and oblations: then shall they offer pooung bullocks vpon thine altar.

Quid gloriaris? Psal. 52.

Why boasted thou thy selfe, thou tyrant: that thou canst do mischief?

2 Whereas the goodnesse of God: endureth yet dayly.

3 Thy tongue imagineth wickednesse: and with lies thou cuttest like a sharpe rasor.

4 Thou hast loued vnrightheousnesse moze then goodnesse: and to talke of lies moze then rightheousnesse.

5 Thou hast loued to speake all words that may do hurt: O thou false tongue.

6 Therefore shall God destroy thee for euer: he shall take thee, and plucke thee out of thy dwelling, and root thee out of the land of the liuing.

7 The righteous also shall see this, & feare: and shall laugh him to scorn.

8 Lo, this is the man that tooke not God for his strength: but trusted vnto the multitude of his riches, and strengthened himselfe in his wickednesse.

9 As for me, I am like a greene Oliue tree in the house of God: my trust is in the tender mercy of God for euer and euer.

10 I will alwayes giue thanks vnto thee for that thou hast done: & I will hope in thy Name, for thy saints like it well.

Dixit insipiens, Psal. 53.

The foolish body hath sayd in his heart: There is no God.

2 Corrupt are they, and become abominable in their wickednesse: there is none that doth good.

3 God looked downe from heauen vpon the children of men: to see if there were any that would vnderstand, and seeke after God.

4 But they are all gone out of the way, they are altogether become abominable: there is also none that doth good, no not one.

5 Are not they without vnderstanding that worke wickednesse: eating by my people as if they would eat bread: they haue not called vpon God.

6 They were afrayed where no feare was: for God hath broken the bones of him that besieged thee, thou hast put them to confusion, because God hath despised them.

7 Oh that the saluation were giuen vnto Israel out of Sion: oh that the Lord would deliuer his people out of captivity.

8 Then should Jacob reioyce: and Israel should be right glad.

Deus in nomine. Psal. 54.

2 Heare my prayer, O God: and hearken vnto the words of my mouth.

3 For strangers are risen by against me: and tyrants (which haue not God befoze their eyes) seeke after my soule.

4 Beholde, God is my helper: the Lord is with them that vphold my soule.

5 He shall reward euill vnto mine enemies: destroy thou them in thy trueth.

6 An offering of a free heart will I giue thee, and praise thy Name (O Lord:) because it is so comfortable.

7 For hee hath deliuered mee out of all my trouble: and mine eie hath scene his desire vpon mine enemies.

Exaudi Deus. Psal. 55.

Heare my prayer, O God: and hide not thy selfe from my petition.

2 Take heed vnto mee, and heare me: how I mourne in my prayer, and am bereed.

3 The enemy crieth so, and the vngodly cometh on so fast: for they are minded to do me some mischief, so maliciously are they set against me.

4 My heart is disquieted within mee: and the feare of death is fallen vpon me.

5 Fearefulness and trembling are come vpon mee: and an horrible dread hath overwhelmed me.

6 And I sayd, O that I had wings like a doue: for then would I flee away and be at rest.

7 Loe, then would I gett away farre off: and remaine in the wildernes.

8 I would make haste to scape: because of the stormy winde and tempest.

9 Destroy their towers (O Lord) and diuide them: for I haue sinned vnrightheously and strife in the city.

10 Day and night they goe about within the walles thereof: mischief also and sorrow are in the mids of it.

Evening prayer.

11 Wickednesse is therein: deceit and guile go not out of their streets.

12 For it is not an open enemy that hath done me this dishonour: for then I could haue borne it.

13 Neither was it mine aduersarie that did magnifie himselfe against me: for then (peradventure) I would haue hid my selfe from him.

14 But it was euen thou my companion: my guide, and mine owne familiar friend.

15 Wee tooke sweet counsell together: and walked in the house of God as friends.

16 Let death come hastily vpon them, and let them go downe quicke into hel: for wickednesse is in their dwellings, and among them.

17 As for mee, I will call vpon God: and the Lord shall saue me.

18 In the evening & morning, and at noone day will I pray, and that instantly: and he shall heare my voice.

19 It is hee that hath deliuered my soule in peace, from the battell that was against me: for there were many with me.

20 Yea, euen God that endureth for euer, shall heare me, and bring them downe: for they will not turne, nor feare God.

21 He layd his hands vpon such as be at peace with him: and he brake his couenant.

22 The words of his mouth were softer then butter, hauing warre in his heart: his wordes were smoother then oile, and yet be they very swords.

23 Cast thy burden vpon the Lord, and he shall nourish thee: and shall not suffer the righteous to fall for euer.

24 And as for them: thou, O God, shalt bring them into the pit of destruction.

4 I will praise God because of his word: I haue put my trust in God, & will not feare what he can do vnto me.

5 They dayly mistake my wordes: all that they imagine, is to do me euill.

6 They holde all together, and keepe themselves close: and marke my steps, when they lay wait for my soule.

7 Shall they escape for their wickednesse: thou O God, in thy displeasure shalt call them downe.

8 Thou tellest my sittings, put my teares into thy bottie: as not these things noted in thy booke?

9 Whensoever I call vpon thee, then shall mine enemies be put to flight: this I know, for God is on my side.

10 In Gods word will I reioyce: in the Lords word will I comfort me.

11 Yea, in God haue I put my trust: I will not be afraid what man can do vnto me.

12 Vnto thee (O God) will I pay my bowes: vnto thee will I giue thanks.

13 For thou hast deliuered my soule from death, & my feet from falling: that I may walke before God in the light of the liuing.

3 Hee shall send from heauen: and saue mee from the reprooche of him that would eat me by.

4 God shall send forth his mercy and trueth: my soule is among lions.

5 And I lie euen among the children of men (that are set on fire:) whose teeth are speares and arrowes, and their tongue a sharpe sword.

6 Set by thy selfe, O God, about the heauens: and thy glory about all the earth.

7 They haue layd a net for my feet, and pressed downe my soule: they haue digged a pit before me, and are fallen into the mids of it themselves.

8 My heart is fixed, O God, my heart is fixed: I will sing and giue praise.

9 Awake by my glory, awake lute & harpe: I my selfe will awake right early.

10 I will giue thanks vnto thee, O Lorde, among the people: and I will sing vnto thee among the nations.

11 For the greatnesse of thy mercy reacheth vnto the heauens: and thy trueth vnto the clouds.

12 Set by thy selfe, O God, about the heauens: and thy glory about all the earth.

4 They are as venemous as the poison of a serpent: euen like the deafe adder that stoppeth her eares.

5 Which refuseth to heare the voice of the charmer: charme he neuer so wisely.

6 Speake their teeth (O God) in their mouthes, smite the iaw bones of the lions, O Lorde: let them fall away like water that runneth apace, and when they shoot their arrowes, let them be rooted out.

7 Let them consume away like a snail, and be like the vntinckly fruit of a woman: and let them not see the Summe.

8 O, cur your pots be made hote with thornes: so let indignation bere him, euen as a thing that is raw.

9 The righteous shall reioyce when he seeth the vengeance: he shall wash his footstaps in the blood of the vngodly.

7 Behold, they speake with their mouth, and swoords are in their lips: for who doeth heare?

8 But thou, O Lord, shalt haue them in derision: a thou shalt laugh all the heathen to scoorne.

9 My strength will I ascribe vnto thee: for thou art the god of my refuge.

10 God the weth me his goodnes plentifully:
and God shall let me see my desire vpon mine enemies.

11 Slay them not, least my people forget it:
but scatter them abroad among the people, and put them downe, O Lord, our defence.

12 For the lime of their mouth, and for the wordes of their lips, they shall bee taken in their pride: and why: their preaching is of curling and lies.

13 Consume them in thy wrath, consume them, that they may perish: and know that it is God which ruleth in Jacob, and vnto the endes of the world.

14 And in the evening they wil returne: grin like a dog, and will goe about the citie.

15 They will runne here and there for meat:
and grudge if they be not satisfied.

16 As for mee, I will sing of thy power, and will praise thy mercie betimes in the morning:
for thou hast bene my defence and refuge in the day of my trouble.

17 Vnto thee (O my strength) will I sing:
for thou, O God, art my refuge, and my merci-full God.

Deus repulisti nos. Psal. 60.

O God, thou hast cast vs out, and scattered vs abroade: thou hast also bene displeased, O turne thee vnto vs againe.

2 Thou hast moued the land, and diuided it:
heale the sores thereof, for it maketh.

3 Thou hast shewed thy people heauy things:
thou hast giuen vs a drinke of deadly wine.

4 Thou hast giuen a token for such as feare thee: that they may triumph because of thy truely.

5 Therefore were thy beloued deliuered: help me with thy right hand, and heare me.

6 God hath spoken in his holynesse, I will reioice and diuide Sichem: and mete out the balley of Succoth.

7 Gilead is mine, and Danasses is mine:
Ephraim also is the strength of my head, Iuda is my law giuer.

8 Moab is my wash pot, ouer Edom will I cast out mine shoe: Philistia be thou glad of me.

9 who will leade mee into the strong citie:
who will bring me into Edom?

10 Hast thou not cast vs out, O God: wilt not thou, O God, goe out with our hostes?

11 O be thou our helpe in trouble: for baine is the helpe of man.

12 Through God shall we doe great acts: for it is he that shall trade downe our enemies.

Exaudi Deus. Psal. 61.

Hear my crying, O God: giue eare vnto my prayer.

2 From the endes of the earth will I call vnto thee: when my heart is in beauiuesse.

3 O set mee vpon the rocke that is higher then I: for thou hast bene my hope, and a strong to wze for me against the enemy.

4 I wil dwell in thy tabernacle for euer: and my trust shall be vnder the covering of thy wings

5 for thou, O Lord, hast heard my desires: and hast giuen an heritage vnto those that feare
thy name.

6 Thou shalt grant the king a long life: that his yeres may endure thro'owout all generations.

7 He shall dwell before God for euer: O prepare thy louing mercie and faithfulnessse, that they may preserue him.

8 So will I alwayes sing praise vnto thy Name: that I may dayly performe my vowes.

Nonne Deo. Psal. 62.

My soule truly waiteth still vpon
God: for of him commeth my sal-uation.

2 He verily is my strength and my saluation: he is my defence, so that I shall not greatly fall.

3 How long will yee imagine mischiefes against euery man: yee shall be daine all the sort of you, yea as a tottering wall shall yee be, and like a broken hedge.

4 Their deuce is onely how to put him out whom God will exalt: their delight is in lies, they giue good wordes with their mouth, but curse with their heart.

5 Neuerthelesse, my soule waite thou still vpon God: for my hope is in him.

6 He truly is my strength and my saluation: he is my defence, so that I shall not fall.

7 In God is my health and my glory: the rocke of my might, and in God is my trust.

8 O put your trust in him alway (ye people):
po'we out your hearts before him, for God is our hope.

9 As for the children of men, they are but baine: the children of men are deceitful vpon the weights, they are altogether lighter then vanti-tie it selfe.

10 O trust not in wrong and robbetrie, giue not your selues vnto vanitie: if riches encrease, set not your heart vpon them.

11 God spake once and twise: I haue also heard the same, that power belongeth vnto God.

12 And that thou Lord art mercifull: for thou rewardest euery man according to his worke.

Deus, Deus meus. Psal. 63.

O God, thou art my God: early will I seeke thee.

2 My soule thirsteth for thee, my flesh also longeth after thee: in a barren and drie land, wher no water is.

Morning
prayer.

3 Thus haue I looked for thee in holinesse: that I might behold thy power and glory.
 4 For thy louing kindnesse is better then the life it selfe: my lips shall praise thee.
 5 As long as I liue will I magnifie thee on this maner: and lift vp my hands in thy Name.
 6 My soule shall be satisfied euen as it were with marrow and fatnesse: when my mouth praileth thee with ioyfull lips.
 7 Haue I not remembred thee in my bed: and thought vpon thee when I was waking?
 8 Because thou hast bene my helper: therefore vnder the shadowe of thy wings wil I reioice.
 9 My soule hangeth vpon thee: thy right hand hath vpholden me.
 10 These also that seeke the hurt of my soule: they shall goe vnder the earth.
 11 Let them fall vpon the edge of the sword: that they may be a portion for fores.
 12 But the king shall reioice in God, all they also that sweare by him, shall be commended: for the mouth of the that speake lies, shall be stopped.
 Exaudi Deus. Psal. 64.

Hear my voice, O God, in my prayer: preserve my life from feare of the enemye.
 2 Hide mee from the gathering together of the froward: and from the insurrection of the wicked doers.
 3 Which haue whette their tongue like a sword: and shoot out their arrowes, euen bitter words.
 4 That they may praiusly shoot at him which is perfect: suddenly doe they hit him, and feare not.
 5 They courage themselves in mischief: and commune among themselves how they may lay snares, and say that no man shall see them.
 6 They imagine wickednes, and practise it: that they keepe secret among themselves, euery man in the deepe of his heart.
 7 But God shall suddenly shoot at them with a swift arrowe: that they shall be wounded.
 8 Yea, their owne tongues shall make them fall: insonmuch that who so seeth them, shall laugh them to scorn.
 9 And all men that see it, shall say, This hath God done: for they shall perceiue that it is his worke.
 10 The righteous shall reioice in the Lord, and put his trust in him: and all they that are true of heart, shall be glad.

Te decet hymnus. Psal. 65.

Euening
prayer.

Thou, O God, art praised in Sion: and vnto thee shall the vow be performed in Hierusalem.
 2 Thou that hearest the prayer: vnto thee shall all flesh come.
 3 Thy misdoes presuaile against mee: O be thou mercifull vnto our sinnes.
 4 Blessed is the man whom thou chusest and receiuest vnto thee: hee shall dwell in thy court, and shall be satisfied with the pleasures of thy house, euen of thy holy temple.
 5 Thou shalt shew vs wonderfull things in thy righteousnes, O God of our saluation: thou that art the hope of all the ends of the earth, and of them that remaine in the broad sea.
 6 Which in his strength setteth fast the mountains: and is girded about with power.

7 Which stilleth the raging of the sea: & the noise of his waues, & the madnesse of his people.
 8 They also that dwell in the uttermost parts of the earth, shall be afraid at thy tokens: thou that makest the outgoings of the morning and evening to praise thee.
 9 Thou blessest the earth, and blessest it: thou makest it very plenteous.
 10 The riuier of God is full of water: thou preparest their corne, for so thou prouidest for the earth.
 11 Thou waterest her furrowes, thou sendest raine into the little valleys thereof: thou makest it soft with the drops of raine, and blessest the creature of it.
 12 Thou crownest the yecre with thy goodnesse: and thy cloudes drop fatnesse.
 13 They shall drop vpon the dwellings of the wilderness: and the little hills shall reioice on euery side.
 14 The foldes shall bee full of sheepe: the valleys also shall stand so thicke with corne, that they shall laugh and sing.
 Iubilate Deo. Psal. 66.

O be ioyfull in God all yee lands: sing praises vnto the honour of his Name, make his praise to be glorious.
 2 Say vnto God, O howe wonderfull art thou in thy workes: through the greatnesse of thy power shall thine enemies be found liars vnto thee.
 3 For all the world shall worship thee: sing of thee, and praise thy Name.
 4 O come hither, and behold the workes of God: how wonderful he is in his doing toward the children of men.
 5 Hee turned the sea into drie land: so that they went through the water on foote, there did we reioice thereof.
 6 He ruleth with his power for euer, his eyes behold the people: and such as will not beleue, shall not be able to exalt themselves.
 7 Praise our God (yee people:) and make the voice of his praise to be heard.
 8 Which holdeth our soule in life: and suffereth not our feete to slip.
 9 For thou (O God) hast proued vs: thou also hast tried vs, like as silver is tried.
 10 Thou broughtest vs into the snare: and laydest trouble vpon our loines.
 11 Thou sufferedst men to ride ouer our heads, we went through fire & water: and thou broughtest vs out into a wealthy place.
 12 I will goe into thy house with burnt offerings: and will pay thee my vowes which I promised with my lips, & spake with my mouth when I was in trouble.
 13 I wil offer vnto thee fat burnt sacrifices, with the incense of rams: I will offer bullocks and goates.
 14 O come hither and hearken all yee that feare God: and I wil tel you what he hath done for my soule.
 15 I called vnto him with my mouth: and gaue him praises with my tongue.
 16 If I encline vnto wickednesse with my heart: the Lord will not heare me.
 17 But God hath heard me: and considered the voice of my prayer.
 18 Praised bee God, which hath not cast out my prayer: nor turned his mercie from me.

Deus miseratur. Psal. 67.

God be mercifull vnto vs, and blesse vs: and the w vs the light of his countenance, and be mercifull vnto vs.

2 That thy way may be knowen vpo earth: thy sauing health among all nations.

3 Let the people praise thee, O God: yea, let all the people praise thee.

4 Let the nations reioyce and be glad, for thou shalt iudge the folke righteously: and gouerne the nations vpon earth.

5 Let the people praise thee, O God: let all the people praise thee.

6 Then shall the earth bring forth her increase: and God, euen our owne God, shall giue vs his blessing.

7 God shall blesse vs: and all the ends of the world shall feare him.

Exurgat Deus. Psal. 68.

Et God arise, & let his enemies bee scattered: let them also that hate him, flee before him.

2 Like as the smoke vanissheth, so shalt thou drive them away: and like as ware melteth at the fire, so let the vngodly perish at the presence of God.

3 But let the righteous be glad and reioyce before God: let them also be merry and ioyfull.

4 Sing vnto God, and sing praises vnto his Name: magnifie him that rideth vpon the heauens as it were vpon an horse, praise him in his Name, yea, and reioyce before him.

5 He is a father of the fatherlesse, and defendeth the cause of the widowes: euen God in his holy habitation.

6 Hee is the God that maketh men to bee of one minde in an house, and bringeth the prisoners out of captiuitie: but letteth the runnagates continue in scarcensse.

7 O God, when thou wentest forth before the people: when thou wentest through the wilderness.

8 The earth shooke, and the heauens dropped at the presence of God: euen as Sinai also was moued at the presence of God, which is the God of Israel.

9 Thou, O God, sentest a gracious raine vpon thine inheritance: and refreshedst it when it was wearie.

10 Thy Congregation shall dwell therein: for thou, O God, hast of thy goodnesse prepared for the poore.

11 The Lord gaue the word: great was the company of the preachers.

12 Kings with their armies did flee, and were discomfited: and they of the householde diuided the spoile.

13 Though ye haue iwen among the pots, yet shall ye be as the wings of a Dove: that is couered with silver wings, & her feathers like gold.

14 When the Almighty scattered Kings for their sake: then were they as white as snowe in Salmon.

15 As the hill of Basan, so is Gods hill: euen an high hill, as the hill of Basan.

16 Why hope ye so ye high hills? this is Gods hill, in the which it pleaseth him to dwell: yea, the Lord will abide in it for euer.

17 The charrets of God are twenty thousand, euen thousands of Angels: and the Lord is among them as in the holy place of Sinai.

18 Thou art gone vpon high, thou hast led captiuitie captiue, and receiued gifts for men: yea, euen for thy enemies, that the Lord God might dwell among them.

19 Praise be the Lord dayly: euen the God which helpeth vs, and powreth his benefits vpon vs.

20 Hee is our God, euen the God of whom commeth saluation: God is the Lord, by whom we escape death.

21 God shall wound the head of his enemies: and the hairy scalpe of such a one as goeth on stil in his wickednesse.

22 The Lord hath saide, I wil bring my people againe, as I did from Basan: mine owne will I bring againe, as I did sometime from the deepe of the Sea.

23 That thy foote may be dipped in the blood of thine enemies: and that the tongue of thy dogs may be red through the same.

24 It is well seene, O God, howe thou goest: how thou my God a king goest in the sanctuary.

25 The fingers goe before, the mindreis follow after: in the middell are the damoels playing with the timbrels.

26 Giue thanks, O Israel, vnto God the Lord in the Congregations: from the ground of the heart.

27 There is little Benjamin their ruler, and the Princes of Juda their counsell: the Princes of Zabulon, and the Princes of Ephthali.

28 Thy God hath sent forth strength for thee: stablished thing, O God, that thou hast wrought in vs.

29 For thy Temples sake at Jerusalem: so shall Kings bring presents vnto thee.

30 When the company of the spearmen, and multitude of the nighty, are scattered abroad among the heales of the people (so that they humbly bring pieces of siluer: ) and when hee hath scattered the people that delight in warre.

31 Then shall the princes come out of Egypt: the Moziars lande shall soone stretch out her hands vnto God.

32 Sing vnto God, O yee kingdomes of the earth: O sing praises vnto the Lord.

33 Which sitteth in the heauens ouer al from the beginning: loe, hee doeth send out his voyce, yea, and that a mighty voyce.

34 Ascribe ye the power to God ouer Israel: his worship and strength is in the cloudes.

35 O God, wonderfull art thou in thy holy places: euen the God of Israel, he wil giue strength and power vnto his people, blessed be God.

Saluum me fac. Psal. 69.

Aue mee, O God: for the waters are come in, euen vnto my soule.

2 I like sack in the deepe myze where no ground is: I am come into deep waters, so that the floods runne ouer me.

3 I am weary of crying, my throate is dry: my sight faileth mee for waiting so long vpon my God.

4 They that hate mee without a cause, are moe then the haire of my head: they that are mine enemies, and would destroy me guiltlesse, are mighty.

Euening prayer.

5 I payed them the things that I neuer tooke : God thou knowest my simplenesse, and my faultes are not hid from thee.

6 Let not them that trust in thee, O Lord God of hosts, be ashamed for my cause : let not those that seeke thee, be confounded through me, O Lord God of Israel.

7 And why? for thy sake haue I suffered reproofe : shame hath couered my face.

8 I am become a stranger vnto my brethren: euen an aliant vnto my mothers children.

9 For the zeale of thy house hath euen eaten me : and the rebukes of them that rebuked thee, are fallen vpon me.

10 I wept, and chaffened my selfe with fasting: and that was turned to my reproofe.

11 I put on a sackcloth also : and they iested vpon me.

12 They that sit in the gate speake against me : and the drunkards make songs vpon me.

13 But Lord, I make my prayer vnto thee : in an acceptable time.

14 Heare me, O God, in the multitude of thy mercy : euen in the trueth of thy saluation.

15 Take me out of the mire, that I sink not: Oh let me be deliuered from them that hate me, and out of the deepe waters.

16 Let not the water flood drowne me, neither let the deepe swallow me vp: and let not the pit shut her mouth vpon me.

17 Heare me, O Lord, for thy louing kindnesse is comfortable : turne thee vnto me, according to the multitude of thy mercies.

18 And hide not thy face from thy seruant, for I am in trouble: Oh haste thee, & heare me.

19 Drawe nigh vnto my soule, and saue it: Oh deliuer me, because of mine enemies.

20 Thou hast knowen my reproofe, my shame and my dishonour : mine aduertaries are all in thy sight.

21 Thy rebuke hath broken my heart, I am full of heauinesse : I looked for some to haue pity on me, but there was no man, neither found I any to comfort me.

22 They gaue mee gall to eate : and when I was thirsty, they gaue me binger to drinke.

23 Let their table be made a snare to take themselves withall : and let the things (that should haue bene for their wealth) be vnto them an occasion of falling.

24 Let their eyes be blinded, that they see not: and euer bow downe their backs.

25 Powre out thine indignation vpon them: and let thy wrathfull displeasure take holde of them.

26 Let their habitation be void: and no man to dwell in their tents.

27 For they persecute him whom thou hast smitten: and they talke how they may vex them whom thou hast wounded.

28 Let them fall from one wickednesse to another: and not come into thy righteousnesse.

29 Let them be wiped out of the booke of the liuing : and not be written among the righteous.

30 As for me, when I am poore and in heauinesse: thy helpe (O God) shall lift me vp.

31 I will praise the Name of God with a song: and magnifie it with thanksgiving.

32 This also shall please the Lord: better then a bullocke, that hath hornes and hoofs.

33 The humble shall consider this, & be glad: seeke ye after God, and your soule shall liue.

34 For the Lord heareth the poore: and despiseth not his prisoners.

35 Let heauen and earth praise him : the sea and all that moueth therein.

36 For God will saue Sion, and build the cities of Iuda : that men may dwell there, and haue it in possession.

37 The posteritie also of his seruants shall inherit it : and they that loue his Name shall dwell therein.

Deus in adiutorium. Psal. 70.

Haste thee, O God, to deliuer me: make haste to helpe me, O Lord.

2 Let them be ashamed and confounded that seeke after my soule : let them be turned backward and put to confusion that wish me euill.

3 Let the (for their reward) be soone brought to shame: that crie ouer me. There, there.

4 But let all those that seeke thee, be ioyfull and glad in thee : and let all such as delight in thy saluation, say alway, The Lord be praised.

5 As for me, I am poore, and in misery: haste thee vnto me (O God.)

6 Thou art my helper and my redeemer: O Lord make no long tarryng.

In te Domine speraui. Psal. 71.

Hear me, O Lord, haue I put my trust, let me neuer be put to confusion: but rid me, and deliuer me in thy righteousnesse, encline thine eare vnto me, and saue me.

2 Be thou my strong hold, wherunto I may alway resort: thou hast promised to helpe me, for thou art my house of defence, and my castle.

3 Deliuer me, O my God, out of the hand of the vngodly: out of the hand of the vnrighteous and cruell man.

4 For thou, O Lord God, art the thing that I long for: thou art my hope, euen fro my youth.

5 Through thee haue I bene holden vp euer since I was borne: thou art hee that tooke mee out of my mothers wombe, my praise shall be alway of thee.

6 I am become as it were a monster vnto many: but my sure trust is in thee.

7 O let my mouth be filled with thy praise: (that I may sing of thy glory) and honour all the day long.

8 Cast me not away in the time of age: for sake me not when my strength faileth me.

9 For mine enemies speake against me, and they that lay wait for my soule, take their counsel together, saying: God hath forsaken him, persecute him, and take him, for there is none to deliuer him.

10 Goe not farre from me, O God: my God, haste thee to helpe me.

11 Let them be confounded and perish, that are against my soule: let them be covered with shame and dishonour, that seeke to do me euill.

12 As for me, I will patiently abide alway: and will praise thee more and more.

13 My mouth shall daily speake of thy righteousnesse and saluation: for I know no end thereof.

14 I will go forth in the strength of the Lord God: and will make mention of thy righteousnesse onely.

Morni
prayer.

15 Thou, O God, hast taught mee from my youth by vntill now: therefore will I tell of thy wonderous workes.

16 Forsake me not, O God, in mine olde age, when I am gray headed: vntill I haue shewed thy strength vnto this generation, and thy power to all them that are yet for to come.

17 Thy rightousnesse, O God, is very high: and great things are they that thou hast done, O God, who is like vnto thee?

18 What great troubles and aduersities hast thou shewed me, and yet diddest thou turne and refresh me: yea, and broughtest me from the deepe of the earth againe.

19 Thou hast brought mee to great honour: and comforted me on euery side.

20 Therefore wil I praise thee and thy faithfulness (O God) playing vpon an instrument of musick: vnto thee wil I sing vpon the harpe, O thou holy One of Israel.

21 Thy lippes will bee faire when I sing vnto thee: and so wil my soule whom thou hast deliuered.

22 My tongue also shall talke of thy rightousnesse all the day long: for they are confounded and brought vnto shame that seeke to doe me euill.

Deus iudicium. Psal. 72.

Give the King thy iudgements (O God:) and thy rightousnesse vnto the Kings sonne.

2 Then shall hee iudge the people according vnto right: and defend the poore.

3 The mountaines also shall bring peace: and the little hilles rightousnesse vnto the people.

4 Hee shall keepe the simple folke by their right: defende the children of the poore, and punish the wrong doer.

5 They shall feare thee as long as the Sunne and Moone endureth: from one generation to another.

6 Hee shall come downe like the raine into a fleece of wooll: euen as the droppes that water the earth.

7 In his time shall the righteous flourish: yea, and abundance of peace, so long as the Moone endureth.

8 His dominion shall bee also from the one Sea to the other: and from the flood vnto the world's end.

9 They that dwell in the wilderness shall kneele before him: his enemies shall lick the dust.

10 The Kings of Charis and of the Isles shall giue presents: the Kings of Arabia and Saba shall bring gifts.

11 All Kings shall fall downe before him: all nations shall do him seruice.

12 For he shall deliuer the poore when he crieth: the needy also, and him that hath no helper.

13 Hee shall bee fauourable to the simple and needie: and shall preserue the soules of the poore.

14 He shall deliuer their soules from falshood and wrong: and deare shall their blood be in his sight.

15 Hee shall liue, and vnto him shall be giuen of the golde of Arabia: prayer shall be made euer vnto him, and dayly shall he be praised.

16 There shall bee an heape of corne in the earth high vpon the hilles: his fruite shall shake like Libanus, and shall be greene in the citie, like grasse vpon the earth.

17 His Name shall endure for euer, his Name shall remaine vnder the Sunne among the posterities: which shall be blessed through him, and all the heathen shall praise him.

18 Blessed be the Lord God, euen the God of Israel: which onely doeth wonderous things.

19 And blessed bee the Name of his Maiestie for euer: and all the earth shall be filled with his Maiestie, Amen, Amen.

Quam bonus Israel. Psal. 73.

Faithfully God is louing vnto Israel: euen vnto such as are of a cleane heart.

2 Neuerthelesse, my feete were almost gone: my treadings had welnigh slipt.

3 And why? I was grieued at the wicked: I doe also see the vngodly in such prosperitie.

4 For they are in no perill of death: but are lustie and strong.

5 They come in no misfortune like other folke: neither are they plagued like other men.

6 And this is the cause that they bee so holden with pride: and ouerwhelmed with cruicity.

7 Their eyes swell with fatnesse: and they do euen what they lust.

8 They corrupt other, and speake of wicked blasphemie: their talking is against the most highell.

9 For they stretch forth their mouth vnto the heauen: and their tonguc goeth thorow the world.

10 Therefore fall the people vnto them: and therout sucke they no small aduantage.

11 Tush (say they) how should God pertaine it: is there knowledge in the most highell?

12 Loe, these are the vngodly, these prosper in the world, and these haue riches in possession: and I saide, Then haue I cleansed my heart in vaine, and washed my hands in innocencie.

13 All the day long haue I bene punished: and chastened euery morning.

14 Yea, and I had almost saide euen as they: but loe, then should I haue condemned the generation of thy children.

15 Then thought I to vnderstand this: but it was too hard for me.

16 Vntill I went into the Sanctuary of God: then vnderstood I the ende of these men.

17 Namely, howe thou doest set them in slippery places: and castest them downe, and destroyst them.

18 Oh how suddenly doe they consume: perish, and come to a fearefull ende?

19 Yea, euen like as a dreame when one awaketh: so shalt thou make their image to vanish out of the citie.

20 Thus my heart was grieued: and it went euen through my reines.

21 So foolish was I and ignorant: euen as it were a beast before thee.

22 Neuerthelesse, I am alway by thee: for thou hast holden me by my right hand.

23 Thou shalt guide mee with thy counsell: and after that receiue me with glory.

24 Whom haue I in heauen but thee: and there is none vpon earth that I desire in comparison of thee.

25 My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever.

26 For loe, they that forsake thee shall perish: thou hast destroyed all them that commit fornication against thee.

27 But it is good for mee to holde mee fast by God, to put my trust in the Lord God: and to speake of all thy woorthes (in the gates of the daughter of Sion.)

Vt quid Deus. Psal. 74.

O God, wherefore art thou absent from vs so long: why is thy wrath so hote against the sheepe of thy pasture?

2 O thinke vpon thy Congregation: whom thou hast purchased and redeemed of olde.

3 Thinke vpon the tribe of thine inheritance: and mount Sion wherein thou hast dwelt.

4 Lift vp thy feete, that thou mayest bitterly destroy euery enemy: which hath done euill in thy Sanctuary.

5 Thine aduersaries roare in the middelt of thy Congregations: and set vp their banners for tokens.

6 Hee that hewed timber afoze out of the thicke trees: was knowen to bring it to an excellent worke.

7 But nowe they brake downe all the carued worke thereof: with axes and hammers.

8 They haue set fire vpon thy holy places: and haue defiled the dwelling place of thy Name, euert to the ground.

9 Yea, they said in their hearts, Let vs make hauocke of them altogether: thus haue they burnt vp all the houses of God in the land.

10 Wee see not our tokens, there is not one Prophet moze: no not one is there among vs that vnderstandeth any moze.

11 O God, how long shall the aduersary doe this dishonour: how long shall the enemy blaspheme thy Name, for euer?

12 Why withdrawest thou thy hande: why pluckest not thou thy right hande out of thy bosome to consume the enemy?

13 For God is my King of olde: the helpe that is done vpon earth, he doeth it himselfe.

14 Thou diddest diuise the Sea through thy power: thou brakest the heads of the dragons in the waters.

15 Thou smotest the heads of Leuiathan in pieces: and gaucst him to be meat for the people in the wilderness.

16 Thou broughtest out fountains and waters out of the hard rocks: thou driedst vp mighty waters.

17 The day is thine, and the night is thine: thou hast prepared the light and the Sunne.

18 Thou hast let all the borders of the earth: thou hast made Sommer and Winter.

19 Remember this, O Lord, how the enemy hath rebuked: and howe the foolish people hath blasphemed thy Name.

20 O deliuer not the soule of thy turtle doue vnto the multitude of the enemies: and forget not the Congregation of the pooze for euer.

21 Looke vpon the Couenant: for all the earth is full of darkenesse and cruell habitations.

22 Oh let not the simple goe away ashamed: but let the pooze and needy giue praise vnto thy Name.

23 Arise, O God, maintaine thine own cause: remember howe the foolish man blasphemeth thee daily.

24 Forget not the voyce of thine enemies: the presumption of them that hate thee, encrease they euer moze and moze.

Confitebimur tibi. Psal. 75.

Vnto thee (O God) doe wee giue thanks: yea vnto thee doe wee giue thanks.

2 Thy Name also is so nigh: and that doe thy wonderous woorthes declare.

3 When I receiue the Congregation: I shall iudge according vnto right.

4 The earth is weake, and all the inhabitants thereof: I beare vp the pillars of it.

5 I said vnto the fooles, Deale not so madly: and to the vngodly, Set not vp your horne.

6 Set not vp your horne on high: and speake not with a stiffe necke.

7 For promotion cometh neither from the East nor from the West: nor yet from the South.

8 And why? God is the Judge: he putteth downe one, and setteth vp another.

9 For in the hand of the Lord there is a cup, and the wine is red: it is full of mirt, and he poureth out of the same.

10 As for the dregs thereof: all the vngodly of the earth shall drinke them, and sucke them out.

11 But I wil talke of the God of Jacob: and praise him for euer.

12 All the hornes of the vngodly also will I brake: and the hornes of the righteous shall be exalted.

Notus in Iudea. Psal. 76.

I knowe that God is knowne: his Name is great in Israel.

2 At Salem is his Tabernacle: and his dwelling in Sion.

3 There brake he the arrowes of the bow: the shield, the sword, and the battell.

4 Thou art of moze honour & might: then the hilles of the robbers.

5 The proud are robbed, they haue slept their sleepe: and all the men (whose hands were mighty) haue found nothing.

6 At thy rebuke (O God of Jacob) both the charet and horse are fallen.

7 Thou, euen thou art to be feared: and who may stand in thy sight when thou art angry?

8 Thou diddest cause thy iudgement to be heard from heauen: the earth trembled and was still.

9 When God arose to iudgement: and to helpe all the mecke vpon earth.

10 The fiercenesse of man shall turne to thy praise: and the fiercenesse of them shalt thou re-fraine.

11 Promise vnto the Lord your God, and keepe it, all yee that bee round about him: bring presents vnto him that ought to be feared.

12 He shall re-fraine the spirit of princes: and is wonderfull among the Kings of the earth.

Voce mea ad Dominum. Psal. 77.

I will cry vnto God with my voyce: euen vnto God will I cry with my voyce, and hee shall hearken vnto me.

Morn
Praye

2 In the time of my trouble I sought the Lord: my sore ranne and ceased not, in the night season my soule refused comfort.

3 When I am in beauietie I will thinke vpon God: when my heart is vexed, I will complaine.

4 Thou holdest mine eyes waking: I am so feeble that I cannot speake.

5 I haue considered the dayes of old: and the yeeres that are past.

6 I cal to remembrance my song: and in the night I commune with mine owne heart, and search out my spirits.

7 Will the Lord absent himselfe for euer: and will he be no more intreated?

8 Is his mercy cleane gone for euer: and is his promise come viterly to an ende for euer more?

9 Hath God forgotten to bee gracious: and will hee shut vp by his louing kindenesse in displeasure?

10 And I saide, It is mine owne infirmitie: but I will remember the percs of the right hand of the most Highest.

11 I will remember the workes of the Lord: and call to minde thy wonders of old time.

12 I will thinke also of all thy workes: and my talking shall be of thy doings.

13 Thy way, O God, is holy: who is so great a God (as our God?)

14 Thou art the God that doeth wonders: and hast declared thy power among the people.

15 Thou hast mightily deliuered thy people: euen the sonnes of Jacob and Joseph.

16 The waters saw thee, O God, the waters saw thee, and were afraid: the depthes also were troubled.

17 The cloudes poured out water, the aire thundered: and thine arrows went abroad.

18 The voice of thy thunder was heard round about: the lightnings shone vpon the ground, the carth was moued, and shooke withall.

19 Thy way is in the Sea, and thy paths in the great waters: and thy footesteps are not known.

20 Thou leddest thy people like sheepe: by the hand of Moses and Aaron.

Attendite popule. Psal. 78.

Care my Law, O my people: encline your eares vnto the words of my mouth.

2 I will open my mouth in a parable: I will declare hard sentences of old.

3 Which wee haue heard and known: and such as our fathers haue told vs.

4 That wee should not hide them from the children of the generations to come: but to shew the honour of the Lord, his mighty and wonderfull workes that he hath done.

5 He made a covenant with Jacob, and gaue Israel a Law: which he commanded our forefathers to teach their children.

6 That their posteritie might knowe it: and the children which were yet vnborne.

7 To the intent that when they came vp: they might shew their children the same.

8 That they might put their trust in God: and not to forget the workes of God, but to keepe his Commandements.

9 And not to be as their forefathers, a faithlesse and stubburne generacion: a generation that set not their heart aright, and whose spirit cleauech not stedfastly vnto God.

10 Like as the children of Ephraim: which being harnessed & carrying bowes, turned themselves backe in the day of battell.

11 They kept not the Couenant of God: and would not walke in his Law.

12 But forgate what hee had done: and the wonderfull worke that he had shewed for them.

13 Marueilous things did hee in the sight of our forefathers in the land of Egypt: euen in the field of Zoan.

14 He diuided the sea, & let them go through: he made the waters to stand on an heape.

15 In the day time also he ledde them with a cloude: and all the night through with a light of fire.

16 He claue the hard rocks in the wildernesse: and gaue them drinke thereof, as it had bene out of the great depth.

17 He brought waters out of the stony rocke: so that it gushed out like the riuers.

18 Yet for all this they sinned more against him: and prouoked the most Highest in the wildernesse.

19 They tempted God in their hearts: and required meate for their lust.

20 They spake against God also, saying: Shal God prepare a table in the wildernesse?

21 He smote the stony rocke in deede, that the water gushed out, and the streames flowed withall: but can he giue bread also, or prouide flesh for his people?

22 When the Lord heard this, he was wroth: so the fire was kindled in Jacob, and there came vp heavy displeasure against Israel.

23 Because they beleued not in God: and put not their trust in his helpe.

24 So hee commanded the cloudes aboue: and opened the doores of heauen.

25 He rained downe Hanna also vpon them for to eat: and gaue them food from heauen.

26 So man did eate Angels food: and he sent them meate ynough.

27 Hee caused the East winde to blow vnder heauen: and through his power hee brought in the South west winde.

28 Hee rained flesh vpon them as thicke as dust: and feathered fowles like as the sand of the Sea.

29 Hee let it fall among their tentes: euen round about their habitation.

30 So they did eate and were well filled, for hee gaue them their owne desire: they were not disappointed of their lust.

31 But while the meate was yet in their mouthes, the heavy wrath of God came vpon them, & slue the wealthiest of them: yea & smote downe the chosen men that were in Israel.

32 But for all this they sinned yet more: and beleued not his wonderous workes.

33 Therefore their dayes did hee consume in vanitie: and their yeeres in trouble.

34 When he slew them, they sought him: and turned them early, and enquired after God.

35 And they remembered that God was their strength: and that the high God was their redeemer.

36 Neuerthelesse, they did but flatter him

ening
eyer.

with their mouth : and dissembled with him in their tongue.

37 For their heart was not whole with him: neither continued they stedfast in his Covenant.

38 But hee was so mercifull that he forgave their misdoes: and destroyed them not.

39 For many a time turned hee his wrath away: and would not suffer his whole displeasure to arise.

40 For he considered that they were but flesh: and that they were euen a winde that passeth away, and commeth not againe.

41 Many a time did they provoke him in the wilderness: and grieved him in the desert.

42 They turned backe and tempted God: and moued the holy One in Israel.

43 They thought not of his hand: and of the day when hee deliuered them from the hand of the enemye.

44 How hee had wrought his miracles in Egypt: and his wonders in the field of Zoan.

45 He turned their waters into blood: so that they might not drinke of the riuers.

46 Hee sent lice among them, and deuoured them by: and frogs to destroy them.

47 Hee gaue their fruit vnto the Caterpillar: and their labour vnto the Grasshopper.

48 He destroyed their vines with hailestones: and their Mulberrie trees with the frost.

49 Hee smote their cattell also with hailestones: and their flocks with hot thunder bolts.

50 Hee call vpon them the furiousnesse of his wrath, a ieger, displeasure, and trouble: and sent euil angels among them.

51 Hee made a way to his indignation, and spared not their soule from death: but gaue their life ouer to the pestilence.

52 And smote all the first borne in Egypt: the most principall and mightiest in the dwellings of Ham.

53 But as for his owne people, hee led them forth like sheepe: and caried them in the wilderness like a flocke.

54 Hee brought them out safely that they should not feare: and ouerwhelmed their enemies with the Sea.

55 And brought them within the borders of his Sanctuary: euen to his mountaine which he purchased with his right hand.

56 Hee cast out the heathen also before them: caused their land to bee diuided among them for an heritage, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents.

57 So they tempted and displeased the most high God: and kept not his testimonies.

58 But turned their backs, and fell away like their forefathers: starting aside like a broken bowe.

59 For they grieved him with their hill altars: and provoked him to displeasure with their images.

60 When God heard this, he was wroth: and tooke sore displeasure at Israel.

61 So that hee forsooke the Tabernacle in Shilo: euen the tent that hee had pitched among them.

62 He deliuered their power into captiuitie: and their beautie into the enemies hand.

63 Hee gaue his people ouer also vnto the sword: and was wroth with his inheritance.

64 The fire consumed their yong men: and their maydens were not giuen to marriage.

65 Their priestes were slaine with the sword: and there were no widowes to make lamentation.

66 So the Lord a waked as one out of sleepe: and like a giant refreshed with wine.

67 He smote his enemies in the hinder parts: and put them to a perpetuall shame.

68 He refused the Tabernacle of Joseph: and chose not the tribe of Ephraim.

69 But chose the tribe of Juda: euen the hill of Sion, which hee loued.

70 And there hee builded his Temple on high: and layde the foundation of it like the ground which hee hath made continually.

71 Hee chose Dauid also his seruant: and tooke him away from the shepefolds.

72 As hee was following the ewes great with yong ones, hee tooke him: that hee might feed Jacob his people, and Israel his inheritance.

73 So hee fed them with a faithfull and true heart: and ruled them prudently with all his power.

Deus, venerunt. Psal. 79.

God, the Heathen are come into thine inheritance: thy holy Temple haue they defiled, and made Hierusalem an heape of stones.

2 The dead bodies of thy seruants haue they giuen to bee meate vnto the foules of the aire: and the flesh of thy Saints vnto the beasts of the land.

3 Their blood haue they shed like water on euery side of Hierusalem: and there was no man to bury them.

4 We are become an open shame to our enemies: a very scoone and derision vnto them that are round about vs.

5 Lord, how long wilt thou be angry: shall thy ielouie burne like fire for euer?

6 Pour out thine indignation vpon the heathen that haue not knowen thee: and vpon the kingdomes that haue not called vpon thy Name.

7 For they haue deuoured Jacob: and layd waste his dwelling place.

8 Remember not our old times, but haue mercy vpon vs, and that soone: for we are come to great misery.

9 Helpe vs, O God of our saluation, for the glory of thy Name: O deliuer vs, and bee mercifull vnto our sinnes for thy Names sake.

10 Wherefore doe the heathen say: where is now their God?

11 O let the vengeance of thy seruants blood that is shed: be openly shewed vpon the heathen in our sight.

12 O let the sorrowfull sighing of the prisoners come before thee: according to the greatness of thy power preserue thou those that are appointed to die.

13 And for the blasphemie wherewith our neighbors haue blasphemed thee: reward thou them, O Lord, seuen fold into their bosome.

14 So wee that bee thy people and sheepe of thy pasture, shall giue thee thanks for euer: and will alway be shewing forth thy praise from generation to generation.

Morn: prayer.

Qui regis Israel. Psal. 80.

HEARE, O thou shepheard of Israel, thou that leadest Joseph like a sheepe: shewe thy selfe also thou that sittest upon the Cherubims.

2 Before Ephraim, Benjamin, and Manasses: stirre by thy strength and come and helpe vs.

3 Turne vs againe, O God: shew the light of thy countenance, and we shalbe whole.

4 O Lorde God of hostes: howe long wilt thou be angrie with thy people that prayeth?

5 Thou feedest them with the bread of teares: and giuest them plenteousnesse of teares to drinke.

6 Thou hast made vs a very strife vnto our neighbors: and our enemies laugh vs to scozne.

7 Turne vs againe, thou God of hostes: shewe the light of thy countenance, and we shall be whole.

8 Thou hast brought a vine out of Egypt: thou hast cast out the heathen, and planted it.

9 Thou madest roome for it: and when it had taken root, it filled the land.

10 The hills are covered with the shadowe of it: and the boughes thereof were like the goodly Cedar trees.

11 Shee stretched out her bzaunches vnto the sea: and her boughes vnto the riuer.

12 Why hast thou then broken downe her hedge: that all they which goe by plucke off her grapes?

13 The wilde Boze out of the wood doeth root it vp: and the wilde beastes of the field deuoure it.

14 Turne thee againe, thou God of hostes, looke downe from heauen: beholde, and visite this vine.

15 And the place of the vineyarde that thy right hand hath planted: and the bzaunch that thou madest so strong for thy selfe.

16 It is burnt with fire, and cut downe: and they shall perish at the rebuke of thy countenance.

17 Let thy hand be vpon the man of thy right hand: and vpon the sonne of man whome thou madest so strong for thine owne selfe.

18 And so will not wee goe backe from thee: O let vs liue, and we shall call vpon thy name.

19 Turne vs againe, O Lord God of hostes: shew the light of thy countenance, and we shall be whole.

Exultate Deo. Psal. 81.

SING wee merrily vnto God our strength: make a cheerefull noyse vnto the God of Jacob.

2 Take the Psalmes, bring hither the Tabret: the mery Harpe with the Lute.

3 Blow by the trumpet in the new moone: euen in the time appointed, and vpon our solenne feast day.

4 For this was made a statute for Israel: and a law of the God of Jacob.

5 This he ordained in Joseph for a testimonie: when he came out of the land of Egypt, and had heard a straunge language.

6 He eased his shoulder from the burden: and his hands were deliuered from making the pottes.

7 Thou calledst vpon me in troubles, and I deliuered thee: and heard thee what time as the storme fell vpon thee.

8 I proued thee also: at the waters of strife.

9 Heare, O my people, & I will assure thee, O Israel: if thou wilt hearken vnto me.

10 There shall no strange God be in thee: neither shalt thou worship any other God.

11 I am the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt: open thy mouth wide, and I shall fill it.

12 But my people would not heare my voice: and Israel would not obey me.

13 So I gaue them vp vnto their owne hearts lust: and let them folow their owne imaginations.

14 O that my people would haue hearkened vnto mee: for if Israel had walked in my wayes.

15 I should soone haue put downe their enemies: and turned my hand against their aduersaries.

16 The haters of the Lord should haue bene found liars: but their time should haue endured for ever.

17 He should haue fed them also with the finest wheate floure: and with hony out of the stonie rocke should I haue satisfied thee.

Deus stetit. Psal. 82.

GOD standeth in the Congregation of princes: he is a iudge among gods.

2 How long wil ye giue wrong iudgement: and accept the persons of the vngodly?

3 Defend the poore and fatherlesse: see that such as be in neede and necessitie haue right.

4 Restuer the out cast and poore: saue them from the hand of the vngodly.

5 They wil not be learned, nor vnderstand, but walke on still in darkenesse: all the foundations of the earth be out of course.

6 I haue said, Ye are Gods: and ye all are children of the most highest.

7 But ye shall die like men: and fall like one of the princes.

8 Arise, O God, and iudge thou the earth: for thou shalt take all heathen to thine inheritance.

Deus quis similis. Psal. 83.

HOLD not thy tongue, O God, keepe not still silence: retrain not thy selfe, O God.

2 For loe, thine enemies make a murmuring: and they that hate thee haue list by their head.

3 They haue imagined craftily against thy people: and taken counsaile against thy secret ones.

4 They haue sayde, Come, and let vs roote them out, that they be no moze a people: and that the name of Israel may be no moze in remembrance.

5 For they haue cast their heads together with one consent: and are confederate against thee.

6 The Tabernacles of the Edomites & the Ismaelites: the Moabites, and Hagarenes.

7 Gebal, and Ammon, and Amelech: the philistines, with them that dwell at Egypt.

8 Allur also is ioynd vnto them: and haue holpen the children of Lot.

9 But doe thou to them as vnto the Pa-dianites: vnto Sitera, and vnto Jabin, at the brooke of Biron.

10 Which perished at Endo: and became as the douring of the earth.

11 Make them and their princes like Oreb and Zeb: yea, make all their princes like as Zeba and Salmāna.

12 Which say, Let vs take to our selues: the houses of God in possession.

13 O my God, make them like vnto a wheele: and as the stubble before the winde.

14 Like as the fire that burneth by the wood: and as the flame that consumeth the mountaines.

15 Persecute them even so with thy tempest: and make them afraid with thy storme.

16 Make their faces ashamed, O Lord: that they may seeke thy name.

17 Let them be confounded and bered euer more and more: let them bee put to shame and perish.

18 And they shall knowe, that thou (whose name is Jehouah:) art onely the most highest ouer all the earth.

Quam dilecta. Psal. 84.

O How amiable are thy dwellings: thou Lord of hostes?

2 My soule hath a desire and longing to enter into the courts of the Lord: my heart and my flesh reioyce in the liuing God.

3 Yea, the sparrow hath found her an house, and the swallowe a nest, where she may laye her young: euen thy altars, O Lord of hostes, my King and my God.

4 Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be alway praising thee.

5 Blessed is the man whose strength is in thee: in whose heart are thy wayes.

6 Which going through the vale of miserie, ble it for a well: and the pooles are filled with water.

7 They will goe from strength to strength: and vnto the God of gods appeareth euery one of them in Sion.

8 O Lord, God of hostes, heare my prayer: hearken, O God of Jacob.

9 Beholde, O God, our defender: and looke vpon the face of thine anointed.

10 For one day in thy courts: is better then a thousand.

11 I had rather be a doore keeper in the house of my God: then to dwell in the tents of vngodlinesse.

12 For the Lord God is a light and defence: the Lord will giue grace and worship, and no good thing shall hee withhold from them that liue a godly life.

13 O Lord God of hostes: blessed is the man that putteth his trust in thee.

Benedixisti Domine. Psal. 85.

Lord, thou art become gracious vnto thy land: thou hast turned away the captiuitie of Jacob.

2 Thou hast forgiven the offence of thy people: and covered all their sinnes.

3 Thou hast taken away all thy displeasure: and turned thy selfe from thy wrathfull indignation.

4 Turne vs then, O God our Saviour: and let thine anger cease from vs.

5 Wilt thou be displeas'd at vs for euer: and wilt thou stretch out thy wrath from one generation to another?

6 Wilt thou not turne againe and quicken vs: that thy people reioyce in thee?

7 Shew vs thy mercie, O Lord: and grant vs thy saluation.

8 I will hearken what the Lord God will say concerning me: for he shall speake peace vnto his people, and to his saints, that they turne not againe.

9 For his saluation is nigh them that feare him: that glory may dwell in our land.

10 Mercie and truth are met together: righteousness and peace haue kissed each other.

11 Truth shall flourish out of the earth: and righteousness hath looked down from heauen.

12 Yea, the Lord shall shew louing kindnesse: and our land shall giue her increase.

13 Righteousnesse shall goe before him: and he shall direct his going in the way.

Inclina Domine. Psal. 86.

Bow downe thine eare, O Lord, and heare me: for I am poore and in miserie.

2 Preserue thou my soule, for I am holy: my God saue thy seruant that putteth his trust in thee.

3 Be mercifull vnto me, O Lord: for I will call daily vpon thee.

4 Comfort the soule of thy seruant: for vnto thee (O Lord) doe I lift vp my soule.

5 For thou Lord art good and gracious: and of great mercie vnto all them that call vpon thee.

6 Giue eare Lord vnto my prayer: and ponder the voice of my humble desires.

7 In the time of my trouble I will call vpon thee: for thou hearest me.

8 Among the gods there is none like vnto thee (O Lord:) there is not one that can doe as thou doest.

9 All nations whome thou hast made, shall come and worship thee, O Lord: and shall glorifie thy name.

10 For thou art great, and doest wonderful things: thou art God alone.

11 Teach mee thy way (O Lord) and I will walke in thy truth: O knit my heart vnto thee, that I may feare thy name.

12 I will thanke thee, O Lord my God, with all my heart: and will praise thy name for euer more.

13 For great is thy mercie toward mee: and thou hast deliuered my soule from the nethermost hell.

14 O God, the proude are risen against mee: and the congregations of naughtie men haue sought after my soule, and haue not set thee before their eyes.

15 But thou (O Lord God) art full of compassion and mercie: long suffering, plenteous in goodnesse and truth.

16 O turne thee then vnto mee, and haue mercie vpon mee: giue thy strength vnto thy seruant, and helpe the sonne of thine hand-mayd.

17 Shew some good token vpon me, for good, that they which hate me may see it, and be ashamed: because thou Lord hast holpen mee, and comforted me.

Mon

Fundamenta eius. Psal. 87.

Her foundations are upon the holy hills: the Lord loveth the gates of Sion, more then all the dwellings of Jacob.

2 Very excellent things are spoken of thee: thou cite of God.

3 I will thinke upon Rahab and Babylon: with them that know me.

4 Behold see the Philistines also: and they of Tyre, with the Moziars, loe, there was hee borne.

5 And of Sion it shalbe reported, that hee was borne in her: and the most highest shall stablish her.

6 The Lord shall heare it when hee writeth by the people: that hee was borne there.

7 The singers also and trumpeters shall hee heare: all my fresh springs shall bee in thee.

Domine Deus. Psal. 88.

O Lord God of my saluation, I have cryed day and night before thee: Let my prayer enter into thy presence, encline thine eare vnto my calling.

2 For my soule is full of trouble: and my life draweth nigh vnto hell.

3 I am counted as one of them that goe downe into the pit: and I have bene euen as a man that hath no strength.

4 Free among the dead, like vnto them that be wounded and lye in the graue: which be out of remembrance, and are cut away from thy hand.

5 Thou hast layd me in the lowest pit: in a place of darkenesse, and in the deepe.

6 Thine indignation lyeth hard vpon me: and thou hast bered me with all thy stormes.

7 Thou hast put away mine acquaintance farre from me: and made me to be abhorred of them.

8 I am so fast in prison: that I cannot get forth.

9 My sight faileth for very trouble: Lord, I haue called daily vpon thee, I haue stretched out my hands vnto thee.

10 Woeke thou the we wonders among the dead: or shall the dead rise by againe and praise thee?

11 Shall thy louing kindenesse bee shewed in the graue: or thy faithfullnesse in destruction?

12 Shall thy wondrous workes be knowne in the darke: and thy righteousnesse in the land where all things are forgotten?

13 Vnto thee haue I cryed, O Lord: and early shall my prayer come before thee.

14 Lord, why abhorrest thou my soule: and hidest thou thy face from me?

15 I am in miserie, and like vnto him that is at the poynt to die: (euen from my youth by) thy terrours haue I suffered with a troubled minde.

16 Thy wrathful displeasure goeth ouer me: and the feare of thee hath vndone me.

17 They came rounde about mee dayly like water: and compassed mee together on euerie side.

18 My louers and friendes hast thou put away from mee: and hid mine acquaintance out of my sight.

Misericordias Domini. Psal. 89.

M song shall be alway of the louing kindenesse of the Lord: with my mouth will I euer be shewing thy trueth from one generation to another.

2 For I haue sayde, Mercie shall be set vp for euer: thy trueth shall thou stablish in the heauens.

3 I haue made a covenant with my chosen: I haue sworne vnto Dauid my seruant.

4 Thy seede will I stablish for euer: and set by thy throne from one generation to another.

5 O Lord, the very heauens shall praise thy wonderful workes: and thy trueth in the congregation of the saints.

6 For who is he among the clouds: that shall be compared vnto the Lord?

7 And what is he among the gods: that shall be like vnto the Lord?

8 God is very greatly to be feared in the counsaile of the saints: and to be had in reuerence of all them that are about him.

9 O Lord God of hostes, who is like vnto thee: thy trueth (most mightie Lord) is on euerie side.

10 Thou rulest the raging of the sea: thou stillest the waues thereof when they arise.

11 Thou hast subdued Egypt, and destroyed it: thou hast scattered thine enemies abroad with thy mightie arme.

12 The heauens are thine, the earth also is thine: thou hast laid the foundation of the round world, and all that therein is.

13 Thou hast made the North & the South: Caboz and Hermon shall reioyce in thy name.

14 Thou hast a mightie arme: strong is thy hand, and high is thy right hand.

15 Righteousnesse and equitie is the habitation of thy seat: mercie and trueth shall goe before thy face.

16 Blessed is the people (O Lord) that can reioyce in thee: they shall walke in the light of thy countenance.

17 Their delight shall bee daily in thy name: and in thy righteousnesse shall they make their boast.

18 For thou art the glorie of their strength: and in thy louing kindnesse thou shalt lift vp our hornes.

19 For the Lord is our defence: the holy one of Israel is our king.

20 Thou spakest sometime in visions vnto thy saints, and saidest: I haue sayde helpe vpon one that is mightie, I haue exalted one chosen out of the people.

21 I haue found Dauid my seruant: with my holy oyle haue I anoynted him.

22 My hand shall hold him fast: and my arme shall strengthen him.

23 The enemies shall not bee able to doe him violence: the some of wickednesse shal not hurt him.

24 I shall smite down his foes before his face: and plague them that hate him.

25 My trueth also and my mercie shall bee with him: and in my name shall his house be exalted.

26 I will set his dominion also in the Sea: and his right hand in the floods.

Morning praycr.

27 He shall call mee, Thou art my father : my God, and my strong faluation.
 28 And I wil make him my first borne : higher then the kings of the earth.
 29 My mercie will I keepe for him for evermore : & my covenant shall stand fast with him.
 30 His seed also will I make to endure for ever : and his throne as the dayes of heauen.
 31 But if his children forsake my lawe : and walke not in my iudgements.
 32 If they breake my statutes, and keepe not my commaundements : I will visite their offences with the rod, and their sinne with scourges.
 33 Neuerthelesse, my louing kindnesse will I not utterly take from him: nor suffer my truth to faile.
 34 My covenant wil I not breake, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lippes : I haue sware once by my holinesse that I would not faile Dauid.
 35 His seede shall endure for ever : and his seate is like as the sunne before me.
 36 Hee shall stand fast for evermore as the moone : and as the faithfull witness in heauen.
 37 But thou hast abhored and forsaken thine anointed : and art displeas'd at him.
 38 Thou hast broken the covenant of thy seruant : and cast his crowne to the ground.
 39 Thou hast ouerthrowen all his hedges : and broken downe his strong holds.
 40 All they that goe by, spoile him : and he is become a rebuke to his neighbours.
 41 Thou hast set by the right hand of his enemies : & made all his adueraries to reioyce.
 42 Thou hast taken away the edge of his sword: and giuest not him victorie in the battell.
 43 Thou hast put out his glorie : and cast his throne downe to the ground.
 44 The dayes of his youth hast thou shortened : and couered him with dishonour.
 45 Lorde, how long wilt thou hide thy selfe, for ever : and shall thy wrath burne like fire?
 46 Oh remember howe short my time is : wherefore hast thou made all men, for nought?
 47 What man is he that liueth, and shall not see death : and shall he deliuer his soule from the hand of hell?
 48 Lorde, where are thy olde louing kindneses : which thou swarest vnto Dauid in thy trueth?
 49 Remember (Lord) the rebuke that thy seruants haue : and how I do beare in my bosome the rebukes of many people.
 50 Wherewith thine enemies haue blasphemed thee, and sauandred the footsteps of thine anointed : praised be the Lord for euermore. Amen.

Domine, refugium. Psal. 90.

Morning prayer.

Did, thou hast bene our refuge : from one generation to another.
 2 Before the mountaines were brought forth, or euer the earth and the world were made : thou art God from euerslasting, and world without end.
 3 Thou turnest man to destruction : againe thou sayest, Come againe ye children of men.
 4 For a thousand yeeres in thy sight, are but as yesterday : seeing that is past as a watch in the night.

5 As soone as thou scatterest them, they are euen as a sleepe : and fade away suddenly like the grasse.
 6 In the morning it is greene, and groweth vp : but in the evening it is cut downe, dryed vp, and withered.
 7 For we continue away in thy displeasure : and are afraid at thy wrathfull indignation.
 8 Thou hast set our misdeedes before thee : and our secret sinnes in the sight of thy countenance.
 9 For when thou art angrie, all our dayes are gone : wee bring our yeeres to an ende, as it were a tale that is told.
 10 The dayes of our age are threescore yeeres and ten, and though men be so strong that they come to fourescore yeeres : yet is their strength then but labour and sorow, so soone passeth it away and we are gone.
 11 But who regardeth the power of thy wrath : for euen thereafter as a man feareth, so is thy displeasure.
 12 Teach vs to number our dayes: that we may apply our hearts vnto wisdome.
 13 Turne thee againe (O Lorde) at the last : and be gracious vnto thy seruants.
 14 Satisfie vs with thy mercie, and that soone : so shall we reioyce & be glad all the dayes of our life.
 15 Comfort vs againe nowe after the time that thou hast plagued vs : and for the yeeres wherein we haue suffered aduersitie.
 16 Shew thy seruants thy worke : and their children thy glorie.
 17 And the glorious maiestie of the Lorde our God be vpon vs : prosper thou the worke of our hands vpon vs, O prosper thou our handie worke.

Qui habitat. Psal. 91.

Who so dwelleth vnder the defence of the most high : shall abide vnder the shadowe of the Almighty.
 2 I will say vnto the Lorde, Thou art my hope and my strong holde : my God, in him will I trust.
 3 For he shall deliuer thee from the snare of the Hunter, and from the noyesome pestilence.
 4 He shall defend thee vnder his wings, and thou shalt be safe vnder his feathers : his faithfulness and trueth shall be thy shield and buckler.
 5 Thou shalt not be afraid for any terrour by night : nor for the arrow that flyeth by day.
 6 For the pestilence that walketh in the darkenesse : nor for the licknesse that destroyeth in the noone day.
 7 A thousand shall fall beside thee, and ten thousand at thy right hande : but it shall not come nigh thee.
 8 Yea, with thine eyes shalt thou beholde : and see the reward of the vngodly.
 9 For thou Lord art my hope : thou hast set thine house of defence very high.
 10 There shall no euill happen vnto thee : neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.
 11 For hee shall give his angels charge ouer thee : to keepe thee in all thy wayes.
 12 They shall beare thee in their hands : that thou hurt not thy foot against a stone.
 13 Thou shalt goe vpon the Lyon and Adder : the young Lyon and the Dragon shalt thou trede vnder thy foote.

14 Because hee hath set his loue vpon mee, therefore shall I deliuer him: I shall set him vp, because he hath knowen my name.

15 Hee shall call vpon mee, and I will heare him: yea, I am with him in trouble, I will deliuer him, and bring him to honour.

16 With long life wil I satisfie him: and thew him my saluation.

Bonum est confiteri. Psal.92.

It is a good thing to giue thanks vnto the Lord: and to sing praises vnto thy name, O most highest.

2 To tell of thy louing kindnesse early in the morning: and of thy truth in the night season.

3 vpon an instrument of ten strings, and vpon the Lute: vpon a loud instrument, and vpon the Harpe.

4 For thou Lord hast made me glad through thy workes: and I will reioice in giuing praise for the operations of thy hands.

5 O Lord, howe glorious are thy workes: and thy thoughts are very deepe.

6 An vnwise man doeth not well consider this: and a foole doeth not vnderstand it.

7 When the vngodly are green as the grasse, and when all the workers of wickednesse doe flourish: they shall be destroyed for euer, but thou Lord art the most highest for euermore.

8 For loe, thine enemies (O Lord) loe thine enemies shall perish: and all the workers of wickednes shall be destroyed.

9 But my home shall be exalted like the home of an vnicorne: for I am anointed with fresh oyle.

10 Mine eye also shall see his lust of mine enemies: and mine eare shall heare his desire of the wicked that rise vp against me.

11 The righteous shall flourish like a palme tree: and shall spread abroad like a Cedar in Libanus.

12 Such as hee planted in the house of the Lord: shall flourish in the courts (of the house) of our God.

13 They also shall bring forth moze fruit in their age: and shall be fat and well liking.

14 That they may shew howe true the Lord my strength is: and that there is no vnrighteousnesse in him.

Dominus regnauit. Psal.93.

The Lord is King, and hath put on glorious apparell: the Lord hath put on his apparell, & girded himselfe with strength.

2 Hee hath made the round world so sure: that it cannot be moued.

3 Euer since the world began hath thy seat bene prepared: thou art from euerlasting.

4 The floods are risen (O Lord) the floods haue lift vp their voice: the floods lift vp their waues.

5 The waues of the sea are mighty, and rage horribly: but yet the Lord that dwelleth on high is mightier.

6 Thy testimonies, O Lord, are very sure: holinesse becommeth thine house for euer.

Deus vltionum. Psal.94.

O Lord God to whom vengeance belongeth: thou God to whom vengeance belongeth, shew thy selfe.

2 Arise thou iudge of the world: and reward the proud after their deseruing.

3 Lord how long shall the vngodly: howe long shall the vngodly triumph?

4 How long shall all wicked doers speake so disdainefully: and make such proud boasting?

5 They smite downe thy people, O Lord: and trouble thine heritage.

6 They murder the widow and the stranger: and put the fatherlesse to death.

7 And yet they say, Cusch, the Lord shall not see: neither shall the God of Jacob regard it.

8 Take heede ye vnwise among the people: O ye fooles, when will ye vnderstand?

9 He that planted the eare, shall he not heare: or he that made the eye, shall he not see?

10 O hee that nurtureth the heathen: it is hee that teacheth man knowledge, shall hee punish?

11 The Lord knoweth the thoughts of man: that they are but vaine.

12 Blessed is the man whom thou chastenest (O Lord): and teachest him in thy lawe.

13 That thou mayest giue him patience in time of aduersitie: vntill the pit be digged vp for the vngodly.

14 For the Lord wil not faile his people: neither will he forsake his inheritance.

15 Vntill righteousnesse turne againe vnto iudgement: all such as be true of heart shall follow it.

16 Who will rise vp with me against the wicked: or who will take my part against the euill doers?

17 If the Lord had not helped me: it had not failed but my soule had bene put to silence.

18 But when I said, My foote hath slipped: thy mercie (O Lord) held me vp.

19 In the multitude of the sorowes that I had in mine heart: thy comforts haue reioiced my soule.

20 Wilt thou haue any thing to doe with the scoole of wickednes: which imagineth mischief as a law?

21 They gather them together against the soule of the righteous: and condemne the innocent blood.

22 But the Lord is my refuge: and my God is the strength of my confidence.

23 Hee shall recompense them their wickednesse, and destroy them in their owne malice: yea, the Lord our God shall destroy them.

Venite exultemus. Psal.95.

Come, let vs sing vnto the Lord: let vs heartily reioice in the strength of our saluation.

2 Let vs come before his presence with thanksgiving: and shew our selues glad in him with psalmes.

3 For the Lord is a great God: and a great King about all gods.

4 In his handes are all the corners of the earth: and strength of the hills is his also.

5 The sea is his, and hee made it: and his hands prepared the drie land.

6 O come, let vs worship and fall downe: and kneele before the Lord our maker.

7 For he is (the Lord) our God: and wee are the people of his pasture, and the sheepe of his hands.

Morning prayer.

uening prayer.

8 To day if yee will heare his voice, harden not your hearts: as in the pꝛouocation, and as in the day of temptation in the wildernesse.

9 When your fathers tempted me: pꝛoued me, and saw my woꝛkes.

10 fouertie yeeres long was I grieved with this generation, and sayd: it is a people that do erre in their hearts, foꝛ they haue not knowen my wayes.

11 vnto whom I sware in my wꝛath: that they should not enter into my rest.

Cantate Domino. Psal. 96.

O Sing vnto the Lord a new song: sing vnto the Lord all the whole earth.

2 Sing vnto the Lord and praise his Name: be telling of his saluation from day to day.

3 Declare his honour vnto the Heathen: and his wonders vnto all people.

4 foꝛ the Lord is great, and cannot woꝛthily bee prayed: hee is moꝛe to bee feared then all gods.

5 As foꝛ all the gods of the heathen, they bee but idoles: but it is the Lord that made the heauens.

6 Gloꝛy and woꝛship are before him: power and honour are in his sanctuarie.

7 Ascribe vnto the Lord, (yee hundreds of the people:) ascribe vnto the Lord woꝛship and powꝛ.

8 Ascribe vnto the Lord the honour due vnto his Name: bꝛing presents, and come into his courts.

9 O woꝛship the Lord in the beautie of holinesse: let the whole earth stand in awe of him.

10 Tell it out among the Heathen, that the Lord is King: and that it is he which hath made the round world so fast that it cannot be moued, and howe that hee shall iudge the people righteously.

11 Let the heauens reioice, and let the earth bee glad: let the sea make a noise, and all that therein is.

12 Let the field be ioyfull, and all that is in it: then shall all the trees of the wood reioice before the Lord.

13 foꝛ he commeth, foꝛ he commeth to iudge the earth: and with righteousnesse to iudge the world, and the people with his trueth.

Dominus regnauit. Psal. 97.

The Lord is King, the earth may be glad thereof: yea, the multitude of the Isles may bee glad thereof.

2 Cloudes and darkenesse are round about him: righteousnesse and iudgement are the habitation of his seate.

3 There shall go a fire before him: and burne vp his enemies on every side.

4 His lightnings gaue shine vnto the world: the earth saw it, and was afraid.

5 The hills melted like waꝛe at the presence of the Lord: at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.

6 The heauens haue declared his righteousnesse: and all the people haue seene his gloꝛy.

7 Confounded bee all they that woꝛship carued images, and that delight in vaine gods: woꝛship him all yee gods.

8 Sion heard of it, and reioiced: and the daughters of Iuda were glad, because of thy iudgements, O Lord.

9 foꝛ thou Lord art higher then all that are in the earth: thou art exalted farre above all gods.

10 O yee that loue the Lord, see that yee hate the thing which is euill: the Lord pꝛeseruethe the soules of his saines, he shall deliuer them from the hand of the vngodly.

11 There is spꝛing by a light foꝛ the righteous: and ioyfull gladnesse foꝛ such as bee true hearted.

12 Reioice in the Lord ye righteous: and giue thanks foꝛ a remembrance of his holinesse.

Cantate Domino. Psal. 98.

Sing vnto the Lord a new song: foꝛ hee hath done marueilous things.

2 With his owne right hand, and with his holy arme: hath he gotten himselte the victorie.

3 The Lord declared his saluation: his righteousnesse hath hee openly shewed in the sight of the Heathen.

4 He hath remembered his mercie and trueth toward the house of Israel: and all the endes of the worlde haue seene the saluation of our God.

5 Shew your selues ioyfull vnto the Lord all ye lands: sing, reioice, and giue thanks.

6 Praise the Lord vpon the harpe: sing to the harpe with a Psalme of thanksgiving.

7 With trumpets also and shawmes: O shewe your selues ioyfull before the Lord the King.

8 Let the sea make a noise, and all that therein is: the round worlde, and they that dwell therein.

9 Let the floods clap their hands, and let the hills be ioyfull together before the Lord: foꝛ he is come to iudge the earth.

10 With righteousnesse shall hee iudge the world: and the people with equitie.

Dominus regnauit. Psal. 99.

The Lord is King, bee the people neuer so impatient: he sitteth between the Cherubims, be the earth neuer so vnquiet.

2 The Lord is great in Sion: and high aboue all people.

3 They shall giue thanks vnto thy Name: which is great, wonderfull, and holy.

4 The Kings power loueth iudgement, thou hast prepared equitie: thou hast executed iudgement, and righteousnesse in Jacob.

5 O magnifie the Lord our God: and fall downe before his footstool, foꝛ he is holy.

6 Moses and Aaron among his pꝛiests, and Samuel among such as call vpon his name: these called vpon the Lord, and he heard them.

7 He spake vnto them out of the cloudie pillar: foꝛ they kept his testimonies, and the lawe that he gaue them.

8 Thou heardest them (O Lord our God:) thou forgavest them, O God, and punishedst their owne inuentiones.

9 O magnifie the Lord our God, and woꝛship him vpon his holy hill: foꝛ the Lord our God is holy.

Iubilate Deo. Psal. 100.

3 Woe your wayes into his gates with thanksgiving, & into his courts with praise: be thankfull vnto him, and speak good of his name.

4 For the Lord is gracious, his mercie is euertlasting: and his trueth endureth from generation to generation.

Misericordiam & iudicium. Psal. 101.

Mercy shall be of mercie and iudgement: bnto thee, O Lord, will I sing.

2 Let me haue vnderstanding: in the way of godlinesse.

3 When wilt thou come vnto mee: I will walke in my house with a perfect heart.

4 I will take no wicked thing in hande, I hate the finnes of vnfaithfulnesse: there shall no such cleaue vnto me.

5 A froward heart shall depart from me: I will not knowe a wicked person.

6 Who so priuily slandereth his neighbour: him will I destroy.

7 Who so hath also a proud locke, and high stomacke: I will not suffer him.

8 Myne eyes looke vnto such as be faithfull in the land: that they may dwell with me.

9 Who so leadeth a godly life: he shall be my seruant.

10 There shall no deceitfull person dwell in my house: he that telleth lies shall not tary in my sight.

11 I shall soone destroye all the vngodly that are in the land: that I may roote out all wicked doers from the cite of the Lord.

Domine exaudi. Psal. 102.

Hear my prayer, O Lord: and let my crying come vnto thee.

2 Hide not thy face from me in the time of my trouble: encline thine eares vnto me when I call, O heare me, and that right soone.

3 For my dayes are consumed away like smoke: and my bones are burnt vp as it were a firebrand.

4 My heart is smitten downe, and withered like grasse: so that I forget to eate my bread.

5 For the voice of my groning: my bones will scarce cleaue to my flesh.

6 I am become like a pellicane in the wilderness: and like an owle that is in the desert.

7 I haue watched, and am euen as it were a sparrow: that sitteth alone vpon the house top.

8 Myne enemies reuile me all the day long: and they that are mad vpon me, are sworn together against me.

9 For I haue eaten ashes, as it were bread: and mingled my drinke with weeping.

10 And that because of thine indignation and wrath: for thou hast taken me vp, and cast me downe.

11 My dayes are gone like a shadowe: and I am withered like grasse.

12 But thou (O Lord) shalt endure for euer: and thy remembrance throughout all generations.

13 Thou shalt arise and haue mercie vpon Sion: for it is time that thou haue mercie vpon her, yea, the time is come.

14 And why? thy seruants thinke vpon her bones: and thy pittie them to see her in the dust.

15 The heathen shall feare thy name, O Lord: & all the kings of the earth thy maistie.

16 When the Lord shall build vp Sion: and when his glory shall appeare.

17 When he turneth him vnto the prayer of the poore destitute: and despiseth not their desire.

18 This shall be written for those that come after: and the people which shall be borne, shall praise the Lord.

19 For he hath looked downe from his sanctuarie: out of the heauen did the Lord beholde the earth.

20 That he might heare the mournings of such as be in captiuitie: and deliuer the child: appointed vnto death.

21 That they may declare the name of the Lord in Sion: and his worship at Hierusalem.

22 When the people are gathered together: and the kingdomes also to serue the Lord.

23 He brought down my strength in my iourney: and shortned my dayes.

24 But I said, O my God, take me not away in the mids of mine age: as for thy yeeres, they endure throughout all generations.

25 Thou Lord in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth: and the heauens are the worke of thy hands.

26 They shall perish, but thou shalt endure: they all shall waite vnder as dect as a garment.

27 And as a beature shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed: but thou art the same, and thy yeeres shall not faile.

28 The children of thy seruants shall continue: and their seede shall stand fast in thy sight.

Benedic anima. Psal. 103.

Praise the Lord, O my soule: and all that is within me, praise his holy name.

2 Praise the Lord, O my soule: and forget not all his benefites.

3 Which forgaueth all thy sinne: and healeth all thine infirmities.

4 Which saucth thy life from destruction: & crowneeth thee with mercy and louing kindnes.

5 Which satisfieth thy mouth with good things: making thee young and lustie as an Eagle.

6 The Lord executeth rightcoustnesse and iudgement: for all them that are oppressed with wrong.

7 He shewed his wayes vnto Moses: his workes vnto the children of Israel.

8 The Lord is full of compassion and mercy: long suffering and of great goodnesse.

9 He wil not alway be chiding: neither keepeth he his anger for euer.

10 Hee hath not dealt with vs after our finnes: nor rewarded vs according to our wickednesse.

11 For looke how high the heauen is in comparison of the earth: so great is his mercie also toward them that feare him.

12 Looke how wide also the East is from the west: so farre hath he set our finnes from vs.

13 Pea, like as a father pittiech his owne children: euen so is the Lord merciful vnto them that feare him.

14 For he knoweth wherof we be made: he remembereth that we are but dust.

15 The dayes of man are but as grasse: for he flourisheth as a flower of the field.

16 For as soone as the winde goeth ouer it, it is gone : amn the place thereof shall knowe it no moze.

17 But the mercifull goodnesse of the Lorde endureth for euer and euer, vpon them that feare him : and his righteousnes vpon childrens children.

18 Euen vpon such as keepe his couenant : and thinke vpon his commaundements to doe them.

19 The Lord hath prepared his seate in heauen : and his kingdome ruleth ouer all.

20 O praise the Lorde, yee angels of his, yee that excell in strength : yee that fulfill his commaundement, and hearken vnto the voice of his wordes.

21 O praise the Lord, all ye his hostes : ye seruants of his that doe his pleasure.

22 O speake good of the Lorde, all ye workes of his, in all places of his dominion : praise thou the Lord, O my soule.

Benedic anima mea, Psal. 104.

Praise the Lorde, O my soule : O Lord my God, thou art become exceeding glorious, thou art clothed with maiestie and honour.

2 Thou deckest thy selfe with light as it were with a garment : and spreadest out the heauens like a curtaine.

3 Which layeth the beames of his chamber in the waters : and maketh the cloudes his charret, and walketh vpon the wings of the winde.

4 He maketh his angels spirits : and his ministers a flaming fire.

5 He laid the foundations of the earth : that it neuer should moue at any time.

6 Thou coueredst it with the deepe like as with a garment : the waters stand in the hills.

7 At thy rebuke they flee : at the voice of thy thunder they are afraid.

8 They goe by as high as the hills, & downe to the halleyes beneath : euen vnto the place which thou hast appointed for them.

9 Thou hast set them their boundes, which they shall not passe : neither turne againe to come the earth.

10 Hee sendeth the springs into the riuers : which run among the hills.

11 All beastes of the felde drinke thereof : and the wild asses quench their thirst.

12 Beside them shall the foules of the ayre haue their habitation : and sing among the branches.

13 He watereth the hills from aboue : the earth is filled with the fruit of thy workes.

14 Hee bringeth forth grasse for the cattell : and greene hearbe for the seruice of men.

15 That hee may bring food out of the earth, and wine that maketh glad the heart of man : and oyle to make him a cheerefull countenance, and bread to strength mans heart.

16 The trees of the Lord also are full of sap : euen the Cedars of Libanus, which hee hath planted.

17 Wherein the birds make their nestes : and the firc trees are a dwelling for the Storke.

18 The high hills are a refuge for the wilde goates : and so are the stonie rocks for the conies.

19 Hee appointed the moone for certaine seasons : and the sunne knoweth his going downe.

20 Thou makest darkenesse, that it may bee night : wherein all the beastes of the forest doe moue.

21 The Lions roaring after their pray : doe seeke their meate at God.

22 The sunne ariseth, and they get them a way together : and laye them downe in their denues.

23 Man goeth forth to his worke, and to his labour : vntill the euening.

24 O Lorde, how manifolde are thy workes : in wisdom hast thou made them all, the earth is full of thy riches.

25 So is the great and wide sea also : wherein are things creeping innumerable, both small and great beastes.

26 There goe the ships, and there is that Leuiathan : whome thou hast made to take his pasture therein.

27 These wait all vpon thee : that thou mayest giue them meat in due season.

28 When thou giuest it them, they gather it : and when thou openest thy hand, they are filled with good.

29 When thou hidest thy face, they are troubled : when thou takest away their breath they die, and are turned againe to their dust.

30 When thou lettest thy breath goe forth, they shall be made : and thou shalt reuew the face of the earth.

31 The glorious maiestie of the Lorde shall endure for euer : the Lorde shall reioyce in his workes.

32 The earth shall tremble at the looke of him : if he doe but touch the hills they shall smoke.

33 I will sing vnto the Lorde as long as I liue : I will praise my God while I haue my being.

34 And so shall my words please him : my voyce shall be in the Lorde.

35 As for sinners, they shall be consumed out of the earth, and the vngodly shall come to an end : praise thou the Lord, O my soule, praise the Lorde.

Confitemini Domino, Psal. 105.

Give thanks vnto the Lord, and call vpon his name : tell the people what things he hath done.

2 O let your songs be of him, and praise him : and let your talking be of all his wondrous workes.

3 Reioyce in his holy name : let the heart of them reioyce that seeke the Lord.

4 Seeke the Lorde and his strength : seeke his face euer moze.

5 Remember the marueilous workes that he hath done : his wonders, and the iudgements of his mouth.

6 O ye seed of Abraham his seruant : ye children of Jacob his chosen.

7 He is the Lord our God : his iudgements are in all the world.

8 He hath bene alway mindful of his couenant and promise : that hee made to a thousand generations.

9 Euen the couenant that he made with Abraham : & the othe that he sware vnto Isaac.

10 And appointed the same vnto Jacob for a law : and to Israel for an euertlasting testament.

11 Saying, vnto thee will I giue the lande of Chanaan : the lot of your inheritance.

Euening prayer.

Mornig prayer.

12 When there were yet but a few of them: and they strangers in the land.

13 What time as they went from one nation to another: from one kingdome to another people.

14 He suffered no man to doe them wrong: but reprov'd even kings for their sakes.

15 Touch not mine anointed: and doe my prophets no haine.

16 Whocouer he called for a death vpon the land: and destroyed all the prouision of bread.

17 But he had sent a man befoze them: euen Joseph which was sold to be a bond seruant.

18 Whose feete they hurt in the stocks: the iron entred into his soule.

19 Untill the time came that his cause was knowne: the word of the Lord tried him.

20 The king sent a deliuered him: the prince of the people let him goe free.

21 He made him Lord also of his house: and ruler of all his substance.

22 That he might enforme his princes after his will: and teach his Senators wisdom.

23 Israel also came into Egypt: and Jacob was a stranger in the land of Ham.

24 And he increased his people exceedingly: and made them stronger then their enemies.

25 Whose heart turned, so that they hated his people: and dealt brutruly with his seruants.

26 Then sent he Moses his seruant: and Aaron whom he had chosen.

27 And these he wold his tokens among them: and wonders in the land of Ham.

28 He sent darkenesse, and it was darke: and they were not obedient vnto his word.

29 He turned their waters into blood: and slew their fish.

30 Their land brought forth frogs: yea, euen in their kings chambers.

31 He spake the word, and there came all manner of flies: and lice in all their quarters.

32 He gaue them hailestones for raine: and flames of fire in their land.

33 He smote their vines also and figge trees: and destroyed the trees that were in their coasts.

34 He spake the worde, and the grashoppers came, and caterpillers innumerable: and did eate vp all the grasse in their land, and deuoured the fruit of their ground.

35 He smote all the first borne in their land: euen the chiefe of all their strength.

36 He brought them forth also with siluer and gold: there was not one feeble person among their tribes.

37 Egypt was glad at their departing: so they were afraid of them.

38 He spread out a cloud to be a couering: and fire to giue light in the night season.

39 At their desire he brought quailles: and he filled them with the bread of heauen.

40 He opened the rocke of stone, and the waters flowed out: so that riuers ran in dry places.

41 For why? he remembred his holy promise: and Abraham his seruant.

42 And he brought forth his people with joy: and his chosen with gladnesse.

43 And gaue them the lands of the Heathen: and they tooke the labours of the people in possession.

44 That they might keepe his statutes: and obserue his lawes.

Confitemini Domino, Psal. 106

Giue thanks vnto the Lorde, for he is gracious: and his mercy endureth for euer.

2 Who can expelle the noble actes of the Lord, or shew forth all his praise?

3 Blessed are they that alway keepe iudgement: and doe righteousness.

4 Remember me, O Lord, according to the fauour that thou bearest vnto thy people: O visite me with thy saluation.

5 That I may see the felicity of thy chosen: and reioyce in the gladnesse of thy people, & giue thanks with thine inheritance.

6 We haue sinned with our fathers: wee haue done amisse, and dealt wickedly.

7 Our fathers regarded not thy wonders in Egypt, neither kept they thy great goodnesse in remembrance: but were disobedient at the sea, euen at the red sea.

8 Neuerthelesse, hee helped them for his names sake: that he might make his power to be knowne.

9 He rebuked the red sea also, and it was dried by: so he led them through the deepe, as through a wildernesse.

10 And he saued them from the aduersaries hand: and deliuered them from the hand of the enemy.

11 As for those that troubled them, the waters ouerwhelmed them: there was not one of them left.

12 Then beleued they his words: and sang praise vnto him.

13 But within a while they forgate his wordes: and would not abide his counsell.

14 But lust came vpon them in the wildernesse: and they tempted God in the desert.

15 And he gaue them their desire: and sent leannesse withall into their soule.

16 They angered Moses also in the tents: and Aaron the saint of the Lord.

17 So the earth opened, and swallowed by Dathan: and couered the congregation of Abiram.

18 And the fire was kindled in their company: the flame burnt by the ingobly.

19 They made a calse in Horeb: and worshipped the molten image.

20 Thus they turned their glory: into the similitude of a calse that eateth hay.

21 And they forgate God their saviour: which had done so great things in Egypt.

22 Wondrous wordes in the land of Ham: and fearefull things by the red sea.

23 So he said he would haue destroyed them: had not Moses his chosen stande befoze him in the gappe: to turne away his wrathfull indignation, lest he should destroy them.

24 Yea, they thought scozne of that pleasant land: and gaue no credence vnto his word.

25 But murmured in their tents: and hearkened not vnto the voice of the Lord.

26 Then list he by his hand against them: to ouerthrow them in the wildernesse.

27 To cast out their seed among the nations: and to scatter them in the lands.

28 They ioined themselves vnto Baal Peor: and ate the offerings of the dead.

Euening
prayer.

29 Thus they prouoked him vnto anger with their owne inuentions: and the plague was great among them.

30 Then stood by Phinces, and prayed: and so the plague ceased.

31 And that was counted vnto him for righteousnesse: among all posterities for euermore.

32 They augred him also at the waters of strife: so that he punished Moses for their sakes.

33 Because they prouoked his spirit: so that he spake vnadvisedly with his lips.

34 Neither destroyed they the heathen: as the Lord commanded them.

35 But were mingled among the heathen: and learned their workes.

36 Insomuch that they worshipped their idoles, which turned to their owne decay: yea, they offered their sonnes and daughters vnto deuils.

37 And shed innocent blood, euen the blood of their sonnes, and of their daughters: whom they offered vnto the idols of Chanaan, and the land was defiled with blood.

38 Thus were they slayned with their owne workes: and went a whooring with their owne inuentions.

39 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people: insomuch that he abhorred his owne inheritance.

40 And he gaue them ouer into the hand of the heathen: & they that hated them were lords ouer them.

41 Their enemies oppressed them: and had them in subiection.

42 Many a time did he deliuer them: but they rebelled against him with their owne inuentions, and were brought downe in their wickednesse.

43 Neuertheless, when he saw their aduersitie: he heard their complaint.

44 He thought vpon his covenant, and pitied them according vnto the multitude of his mercies: yea, he made all those that had led them away captiue to pitie them.

45 Deliuer vs O Lord our God) and gather vs from among the heathen: that we may giue thanks vnto thy holy name, and make our boast of thy prayse.

46 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, from euerlasting, and world without end: and let all the people say, Amen.

Confitemini Domino, Psal. 107.

Morning prayer.

Give thanks vnto the Lorde, for he is gracious: and his mercie endureth for ever.

2 Let them giue thanks whom the Lord hath redeemed: and deliuered from the hand of the enemy.

3 And gathered them out of the lands, from the East and from the West: from the North and from the South.

4 They went astray in the wilderness out of the way: and found no citie to dwell in.

5 Hunger and thirstie: their soule fainted in them.

6 So they cryed vnto the Lorde in their trouble: and hee deliuered them from their distresse.

7 He led them forth by the right way: that they might goe to the citie where they dwell.

8 O that men would therefore praise the Lord for his goodnesse: and declare the wonders that he doeth for the children of men.

9 For he satisfieth the emptie soule: and filleth the hungry soule with goodnesse.

10 Such as sit in darkenesse and in the shadow of death: being fast bound in miserie and pzon.

11 Because they rebelled against the word of the Lord: and lightly regarded the counsell of the most high.

12 He also brought downe their heart thorough heauinesse: they fell downe, and there was none to helpe them by.

13 So when they cryed vnto the Lorde in their trouble: he deliuered them out of their distresse.

14 For he brought them out of darkenesse, and out of the shadow of death: and brake their bonds in sunder.

15 O that men would therefore praise the Lord for his goodnesse: and declare the wonders that he doth for the children of men.

16 For he hath broken the gates of brass: and smitten the barres of iron in sunder.

17 Foolish men are plagued for their offence: and because of their wickednesse.

18 Their soule abhorred all manner of meat: and they were euen hard at deaths dooze.

19 So when they cried vnto the Lord in their trouble: he deliuered them out of their distresse.

20 He sent his worde and healed them: and they were saued from their destruction.

21 O that men would therefore praise the Lord for his goodnesse: and declare the wonders that he doth for the children of men.

22 That they would offer vnto him the sacrifice of thanksgiving: and tell out his workes with gladnesse.

23 They that goe downe to the sea in ships: and occupie their businesse in great waters.

24 These men see the workes of the Lord: and his wonders in the deepe.

25 For at his word the stormie winde ariseth: which listeth by the waues thereof.

26 They are caried by to the heauen, & downe againe to the deepe: their soule melteth away because of the trouble.

27 They reele to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man: and are at their wits end.

28 So when they cry vnto the Lord in their trouble: he deliuereth them out of their distresse.

29 For he maketh the storme to cease: so that the waues thereof are still.

30 Then are they glad, because they be at rest: and so he bringeth them vnto the haven where they would be.

31 O that men would therefore praise the Lord for his goodnesse: and declare the wonders that he doeth for the children of men.

32 That they would exalt him also in the congregation of the people: and praise him in the seat of the elders.

33 Which turneth the floods into a wilderness: and drieth by the water springs.

34 A fruitfull land maketh he barren: for the wickednesse of them that dwell therein.

35 Againe he maketh the wilderness a standing water: and water springs of a dry ground.

36 And there he setteth the hungry: that they may build them a citie to dwell in.

37 That they may sow their land, and plant vineyards: to seele them fruits of increase.

38 See blesteth them, so that they multiply exceedingly: and suffereth not their cattell to decrease.

39 And againe, when they are minished and brought low: through oppression, through any plague or trouble.

40 Though he suffer them to be euill intreated through tyrants: and let them wander out of the way in the wilderness.

41 Yet helpeth he the poore out of miserie: and maketh him households like a flock of sheepe.

42 The righteous will consider this, and reioyce: and the mouth of all wickednesse shall be stopped.

43 Who so is wise, will ponder these things: and they shall vnderstand the louing kindnesse of the Lord.

Paratum cor meum. Psal. 108.

GOD, my heart is readie (my heart is ready): I will sing and giue prayse with the best member that I haue.

2 Awake thou lute and harpe: I my selfe will awake right early.

3 I will giue thanks vnto thee, O Lord, among the people: I will sing prayes vnto thee among the nations.

4 For thy mercy is greater then the heauens: and thy trueth reacheth vnto the cloudes.

5 Set vp thy selfe (O God) aboue the heauens: and thy glory aboue all the earth.

6 That thy beloued may be deliuered: let thy right hand saue them, and heare thou me.

7 God hath spoken in his holinesse: I will reioyce therfore and deuide Sichem, and mete out the valley of Succoth.

8 Elead is mine, and Manasses is mine: Ephraim also is the strength of my head.

9 Juda is my lawgiuer, Moab is my washpot: ouer Edom will I cast out my shoe, vpon the philistines will I triumph.

10 Who will leade me into the strong citie: and who will bring me into Edom?

11 Hast not thou forsaken vs, O God: and wilt not thou God go forth with our hostes?

12 O helpe vs against the enemye: for baine is the helpe of man.

13 Through God we shall doe great acts: and it is he that shall tread downe our enemies.

Deus laudem. Psal. 109.

Hold not thy tongue, O God of my prayse: for the mouth of the vngodly, yea, and the mouth of the deceitfull is opened vpon me.

2 And they haue spoken against mee with false tongues: they compassed mee about also with wordes of hatred, and sought against me without a cause.

3 For the loue that I had vnto them, loe, they take now my contrary part: but I giue my selfe vnto prayer.

4 Thus haue they rewarded mee euill for good: and hatred for my good will.

5 Set thou an vngodly man to bee ruler ouer him: and let Satan stande at his right hand.

6 When sentence is giuen vpon him, let him be condemned: and let his prayer be turned into sinne.

7 Let his daies be few: and let another take his office.

8 Let his children be fatherlesse: and his wife a widowe.

9 Let his children be bagabonds, and begge their bread: let them seeke it also out of desolate places.

10 Let the extortioner consume all that hee hath: and let the stranger spoele his labour.

11 Let there be no man to picke him: nor to haue compassion vpon his fatherlesse children.

12 Let his posteritie bee destroyed: and in the next generation let his name be cleane put out.

13 Let the wickednesse of his fathers be had in remembrance in the sight of the Lord: and let not the sinne of his mother be done away.

14 Let them alway be before the Lord: that he may roote out the memoriall of them from off the earth.

15 And that because his minde was not to doe good: but persecuted the poore helpelesse man, that he nught slay him that was vcred at the heart.

16 His delight was in cursing, and it shall happen vnto him: he loued not blessing, therfore shall it be farre from him.

17 He clothed himselfe with cursing like as with a rayment: & it shall come into his bowels like water, and like oyle into his bones.

18 Let it be vnto him as the clothe that he hath vpon him: and as the girdle that hee is alway girded withall.

19 Let it thus happen from the Lord vnto mine enemies: and to those that speake euill against my soule.

20 But deale thou with mee (O Lord God) according vnto thy name: for sweete is thy mercie.

21 O deliuer me, for I am helpelesse & poore: and my heart is wounded within me.

22 I go hence like the shadow that departeth: and am driuen away as the grasshopper.

23 My knees are weake through fasting: my flesh is dried vp for want of fatnesse.

24 I became also a rebuke vnto them: they that looked vpon me, shaked their heads.

25 Helpe me (O Lord my God:) oh saue me according to thy mercie.

26 And they shall know how that this is thy hand: and that thou Lord hast done it.

27 Though they curse, yet blesse thou: and let them be confounded that rise vp against me, but let thy seruant reioyce.

28 Let mine aduersaries bee clothed with shame: and let them couer themselves with their owne confusion, as with a cloke.

29 As for me, I will giue great thanks vnto the Lord with my mouth: and praise him among the multitude.

30 For he shall stand at the right hand of the poore: to saue his soule fro vnrightrous iudges.

Dixit Dominus. Psal. 110.

The Lord sayde vnto my Lord: Sit thou on my right hand, vntil I make thine enemies thy footstool.

2 The Lord shall send the rod of thy power out of Sion: be thou ruler ouer in the mids among thine enemies.

Morning prayer.

3 In the day of thy power shall the people offer thee free will offerings with an holy worship: the dew of thy birth is of the wombe of the morning.

4 The Lord swaere, and wil not repent: thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedech.

5 The Lorde vpon thy right hande: shall wound euery king in the day of his wrath.

6 He shall iudge among the heathen, he shall fill the places with the dead bodie: and smite in sunder the heads ouer diuers countries.

7 Hee shall drinke of the brooke in the way: therefore shall he lift vp his head.

Confitebor tibi. Psal. 111.

I will giue thanks vnto the Lorde with my whole heart: secretly among the faithfull, and in the congregation.

2 The workes of the Lord are great: sought out of all them that haue pleasure therein.

3 His worke is worthy to be praised and had in honour: and his righteousnesse endureth for euer.

4 The mercifull and gracious Lord hath so done his marueilous workes: that they ought to be had in remembrance.

5 Hee hath giuen meate vnto them that feare him: he shall euer be mindfull of his covenant.

6 He hath shewed his people the power of his workes: that he may giue them the heritage of the heathen.

7 The workes of his hands are veritie and iudgement: all his commandments are true.

8 They stand fast for euer and euer: and are done in truth and equitie.

9 He sent redemption vnto his people: hee hath commanded his covenant for euer, holy and reuerent is his name.

10 The feare of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom: a good vnderstanding haue all they that doe thereafter, the prayse of it endureth for euer.

Beatus vir. Psal. 112.

Blessed is the man that feareth the Lorde: hee hath great delight in his commandments.

2 His seede shall be mightie vpon earth: the generation of the faithfull shall be blessed.

3 Riches and plenteousnesse shall be in his house: and his righteousnesse endureth for euer.

4 Vnto the godly there ariseth vp light in the darkenesse: he is mercifull, louing, and righteous.

5 A good man is mercifull and lendeth: and will guide his words with discretion.

6 For he shall neuer be moued: and the righteous shall be had in an euerlasting remembrance.

7 He will not be afraid for any euil tidings: for his heart standeth fast and beleueth in the Lord.

8 His heart is stablished and wil not shrinke: vntill he see his desire vpon his enemies.

9 He hath dispersed abroad and giuen to the poore: and his righteousnesse remaineth for euer, his home shall be exalted with honour.

10 The vngodly shall see it, and it shall grieue him: he shall gnash with his teeth, and consume a way, the desire of the vngodly shall perish.

Laudate pueri. Psal. 113.

Praise the Lord (O ye seruants:) O praise the Name of the Lord.

2 Blessed be the Name of the Lorde: from this time forth for evermore.

3 The Lords name is prayed: from the rising vp of the sunne, vnto the going downe of the same.

4 The Lord is high aboue all heathen: and his glory about the heauens.

5 Who is like vnto the Lord our God, that hath his dwelling so high: and yet humbleth himselfe to behold the things that are in heauen and earth?

6 He taketh vp the simple out of the dust: and listeth the poore out of the mire.

7 That he may set him with the princes: euen with the princes of his people.

8 He maketh the barren woman to keepe house: and to be a ioyfull mother of children.

In exitu Israel. Psal. 114.

When Israel came out of Egypt: and the house of Jacob from among the strange people.

2 Juda was his sanctuarie: and Israel his dominion.

3 The sea saw that, and fled: Iordane was diuened backe.

4 The mountaines skipped like rammes: and the little hills like yong sheepe.

5 What ayleth thee, O thou sea, that thou fleddest: and thou Iordane, that thou wast diuened backe?

6 Ye mountaines that ye skipped like rams: and ye little hills like yong sheepe?

7 Tremble thou earth at the presence of the Lord: at the presence of the God of Jacob.

8 Which turned the hard rocke into a standing water: and the flint stone into a springing well.

Non nobis Domine. Psal. 115.

Not vnto vs, O Lord, not vnto vs, but vnto thy Name giue the praise: for thy louing mercie, and for thy truthes sake.

2 Wherefore shall the heathen say: where is now their God?

3 As for our God, he is in heauen: he hath done whatsoever pleased him.

4 Their idoles are siluer and gold: euen the worke of mens hands.

5 They haue mouthes and speake not: eyes haue they, and see not.

6 They haue eares, and heare not: noses haue they, and smell not.

7 They haue hands, and handle not, feete haue they, and walke not: neither speake they thoro their throte.

8 They that make them, are like vnto them: and so are all such as put their trust in them.

9 But thou house of Israel, trust thou in the Lord: he is their succour and defender.

10 Ye house of Aaron, put your trust in the Lord: he is their helper and defender.

11 Ye that feare the Lord, put your trust in the Lord: he is their helper and defender.

12 The Lord hath bene mindfull of vs, and he shall blesse vs: euen he shall blesse the house of Israel, he shall blesse the house of Aaron.

13 He shall blesse them that feare the Lord: both small and great.

14 The Lord shall encrease you more & more: you and your children.
 15 Ye are the blessed of the Lord: which made heaven and earth.
 16 All the whole heavens are the Lords: the earth hath he giuen to the children of men.
 17 The dead praise not thee, O Lord: neither all they that goe downe into the silence.
 18 But we will praise the Lord: from this time forth for euermore. Praise the Lord.

Dilexi quoniam. Psal. 116.

Am well pleased: that the Lord hath heard the voice of my prayer.

2 That he hath inclined his care vnto me: therefore wil I call vpon him as long as I liue.

3 The snares of death compassed me round about: and the paines of hell gat hold vpon me.
 4 I shall find trouble and heauinesse, and I shall call vpon the name of the Lord: O Lord I beseech thee deliuer my soule.

5 Gracious is the Lord and righteous: yea our God is mercifull.

6 The Lord preserueth the simple: I was in miserie, and he helped me.

7 Turne againe then vnto thy rest, O my soule: for the Lord hath rewarded me.

8 And why? thou hast deliuered my soule from death: mine eyes from teares, and my feet from falling.

9 I will walke before the Lord: in the land of the liuing.

10 I belceued, and therefore will I speake, but I was sore troubled: I said in my haste, All men are liars.

11 What rewarde shall I giue vnto the Lord: for all the benefits that he hath done vnto me?

12 I will receiue the cup of saluation: and call vpon the Name of the Lord.

13 I will pay my bowes now in the presence of all his people: right deare in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints.

14 Beholde (O Lord) how that I am thy seruant: I am thy seruant, and the sonne of thine handmaide, thou hast broken my bones in sunder.

15 I will offer to thee the sacrifice of thanksgiving: and will call vpon the Name of the Lord.

16 I wil pay my bowes vnto the Lord, in the sight of all his people: in the courts of the Lords house, euen in the mids of thee, O Hierusalem, Praise the Lord.

Laudate Dominum. Psal. 117.

○ Praise the Lord all ye heathen: praise him all ye nations.

2 For his mercifull kindnesse is euer more and more toward vs: and the trueth of the Lord endureth for euer. Praise the Lord.

Confitemini Domino. Psal. 118.

○ Giue thanks vnto the Lord, for hee is gracious: because his mercie endureth for euer.

2 Let Israel now confesse, that he is gracious: and that his mercie endureth for euer.

3 Let the house of Aaron now confesse: that his mercie endureth for euer.

4 Yea, let them now that feare the Lord confesse: that his mercie endureth for euer.

5 I called vpon the Lord in trouble: and the Lord heard me at large.

6 The Lord is on my side: I will not feare what man doth vnto me.

7 The Lord taketh my part with them that helpe mee: therefore shall I see my desire vpon mine enemies.

8 It is better to trust in the Lord: then to put any confidence in man.

9 It is better to trust in the Lord: then to put any confidence in princes.

10 All nations compassed me round about: but in the Name of the Lord will I destroy them:

11 They kept me in on euery side, they kept me in (I say) on euery side: but in the name of the Lord will I destroy them.

12 They came about me like Bees, and are extinct euen as the fire among the thornes: for in the name of the Lord will I destroy them.

13 Thou hast thrust sore at me, that I might fall: but the Lord was my helpe.

14 The Lord is my strength & my song: and is become my saluation.

15 The voice of ioy and health is in the dwellings of the righteous: the right hande of the Lord bringeth mightie things to passe.

16 The right hand of the Lord hath the preeminence: the right hand of the Lord bringeth mightie thing to passe.

17 I will not die, but liue: and declare the workes of the Lord.

18 The Lord hath chaffened and corrected me: but he hath not giuen me ouer vnto death.

19 Open me the gates of righteousnesse: that I may goe into them, and giue thanks vnto the Lord.

20 This is the gate of the Lord: the righteous shall enter into it.

21 I will thanke thee, for thou hast heard me: and art become my saluation.

22 The same stone which the builders refused: is become the head stone in the corner.

23 This is the Lords doing: and it is marueilous in our eyes.

24 This is the day which the Lord hath made: we will reioyce and be glad in it.

25 Helpe me now, O Lord: O Lord send vs now prosperitie.

26 Blessed be he that commeth in the name of the Lord: we haue wished you good lucke, ye that be of the house of the Lord.

27 God is the Lord which hath shewed vs light: binde the sacrifice with cordes, yea euen vnto the hornes of the altar.

28 Thou art my God, and I wil thanke thee: thou art my God, and I will praise thee.

29 O giue thanks vnto the Lord, for he is gracious: and his mercie endureth for euer.

Beati immaculati. Psal. 119.

Blessed are those that are vndefiled in the way: and walke in the Law of the Lord.

2 Blessed are they that keepe his testimonies: and seeke him with their whole heart.

3 For they which doe no wickednesse: walke in his wayes.

4 Thou hast charged: that we shal diligently keepe thy commandements.

Evening prayer.

5 That my wayes were made so direct: that I might keepe thy statutes.

6 So shall I not be confounded: while I haue respect vnto all thy commandements.

7 I will thanke thee with an vnsatined heart: when I shall haue learned the iudgements of thy righteousness.

8 I will keepe thy ceremonies: for sake me not bitterly.

In quo corrigit.

Wherewithall shall a young man cleanse his way: euen by ruling himselfe after thy word.

2 With my whole heart haue I sought thee: let me not goe wrong out of thy commandements.

3 Thy words haue I hid within mine heart: that I should not sinne against thee.

4 Blessed art thou, O Lord: O teach me thy statutes.

5 With my lips haue I bene telling: of all the iudgements of thy mouth.

6 I haue had as great delight in the way of thy testimonies: as in all maner of riches.

7 I will talke of thy commandements: and haue respect vnto thy wayes.

8 My delight shall be in thy statutes: and I will not forget thy word.

Retribue seruo tuo.

O Do well vnto thy seruant: that I may liue, and keepe thy word.

2 Open thou mine eyes: that I may see thy wonderous things of thy Law.

3 I am a stranger vpon earth: O hide not thy commandements from me.

4 My soule breatheth out for the very seruent desire: that it hath alway vnto thy iudgements.

5 Thou hast rebuked the proud: & cursed are they that doe erre from thy commandements.

6 O turne from me shame and rebuke: for I haue kept thy testimonies.

7 Princes also did sit and speake against me: but thy seruant is occupied in thy statutes.

8 For thy testimonies are my delight: and my counsellors.

Adhære pavimento.

My soule cleaueth to the dust: O quicken thou me according to thy word.

2 I haue knowledged my wayes, and thou heardest me: O teach me thy statutes.

3 Make me to vnderstande the way of thy commandements: and so shall I talke of thy wonderous workes.

4 My soule melteth away for very heavines: comfort thou me according vnto thy word.

5 Take from me the way of lying: and cause thou me to make much of thy Law.

6 I haue cholen the way of trueth: and thy iudgements haue I laid before me.

7 I haue sicken vnto thy testimonies: O Lord confound me not.

8 I will runne the way of thy commandements: when thou shalt set my heart at libertie.

Legem pone.

Teach me, O Lord, the way of thy statutes: and I shall keepe it vnto the end.

2 Give me vnderstanding, and I shall keepe thy law: yea, I shall keepe it with my whole heart.

Morning prayer.

3 Make me to goe in the path of thy commandements: for therein is my desire.

4 Encline my heart vnto thy testimonies: and not to couetousnesse.

5 O turne away mine eyes, least they behold vanitie: and quicken thou me in the way.

6 O stablish thy word in thy seruant: that I may feare thee.

7 Take away the rebuke that I am afraid of: for thy iudgements are good.

8 Beholde, my delight is in thy commandements: O quicken me in thy righteousness.

Et veniat super me.

Let thy louing mercie come also vnto mee, O Lord: euen thy saluation, according vnto thy word.

2 So shall I make answer vnto my blasphemers: for my trust is in thy word.

3 O take not the word of thy trueth bitterly out of my mouth: for my hope is in thy iudgements.

4 So shall I alway keepe thy Law: yea, for euer and euer.

5 And I will walke at libertie: for I seeke thy commandements.

6 I will speake of thy testimonies also, euen before kings: and will not be ashamed.

7 And my delight shall be in thy commandements: which I haue loued.

8 My hands also will I lift vp vnto thy commandements, which I haue loued: and my studie shall be in thy statutes.

Memor esto verbi tui.

O Thinke vpon thy seruant, as concerning thy word: wherein thou hast caused mee to put my trust.

2 The same is my comfort in my trouble: for thy word hath quickened me.

3 The proud haue had me exceedingly in derision: yet haue I not shrunked from thy Law.

4 For I remembred thine everlasting iudgements, O Lord: and receiued comfort.

5 I am horribly afraid: for the vngodly that forsake thy Law.

6 Thy statutes haue bene my songs: in the house of my pilgrimage.

7 I haue thought vpon thy Name, O Lord, in the night season: and haue kept thy Law.

8 This I had: because I kept thy commandements.

Portio mea Domine.

Thou art my portion, O Lord: I haue promised to keepe thy Law.

2 I made my humble petition in thy presence with my whole heart: O be mercifull vnto me according vnto thy word.

3 I called mine own wayes to remembrance: and turned my feete vnto thy testimonies.

4 I made haste, and prolonged not the time: to keepe thy commandements.

5 The congregation of the vngodly haue robbed me: but I haue not forgotten thy law.

6 At midnight I will rise to giue thanks vnto thee: because of thy righteous iudgements.

7 I am a companion of all them that feare thee: and keepe thy commandements.

8 The earth, O Lord, is full of thy mercie: O teach me thy statutes.

Bonitatem fecisti.

O Lord, thou hast dealt graciously with thy seruant: according vnto thy word.

- 2 Learne me true vnderstanding & knowledge: for I haue beleueed thy commandements.
- 3 Before I was troubled, I went wrong: but now haue I kept thy word.
- 4 Thou art good and gracious: D teach me thy statutes.
- 5 The proud haue imagined a lie against me: but I will keepe thy commandements with my whole heart.
- 6 Their heart is as fat as brayne: but my delight hath bene in thy Law.
- 7 It is good for me that I haue bene in trouble: that I may learne thy statutes.
- 8 The Law of thy mouth is dearer vnto me: then thousands of gold and silver.

Manus tuae fecerunt me.

Thy hands haue made mee, and fashioned me: D giue me vnderstanding, that I may learne thy commandements.

2 They that feare thee, will be glad when they see me: because I haue put my trust in thy word.

3 I know (D Lord) that thy iudgements are right: and that thou of very faithfulness hast caused me to be troubled.

4 D let thy mercifull kindnesse be my comfort: according to thy word vnto thy seruant.

5 D let thy louing mercies come vnto mee, that I may liue: for thy Law is my delight.

6 Let the proud be confounded, for they goe wickedly about to destroy me: but I will be occupied in thy commandements.

7 Let such as feare thee, and haue knowen thy testimonies: be turned vnto me.

8 D let my heart be found in thy statutes: that I be not ashamed.

Defecit anima mea.

My soule hath longed for thy saluation: and I haue a good hope because of thy word.

2 D mine eyes long for thy word: saying, D when wilt thou comfort me?

3 For I am become like a bottle in the smoke: yet doe I not forget thy statutes.

4 D how many are the dayes of thy seruant: when wilt thou be auenged of them that persecute me?

5 The proud haue digged pits for me: which are not after thy Law.

6 All thy commandements are true: they persecute me falsely, D be thou my helpe.

7 They had almost made an ende of me vpon earth: but I forsooke not thy commandements.

8 D quicken me after thy louing kindnesse: and so shall I keep the testimonies of thy mouth.

In aeternum Domine.

O Lord, thy worde: endureth for euer in heauen.

2 Thy trueth also remaineth from one generation to another: thou hast laid the foundation of the earth, and it abideth.

3 They continue this day according to thine ordinance: for all things serue thee.

4 If my delight had not bene in thy Law: I should haue perished in my trouble.

5 I will neuer forget thy commandements: for with them thou hast quickened me.

6 I am thine, Dh saue mee: for I haue sought thy commandements.

7 The bngodly laide waite for me to destroy me: but I will consider thy testimonies.

8 I see that all things come to an end: but thy commandement is exceeding broad.

Quomodo dilexi.

Lord, what loue haue I vnto thy Law: all the day long is my studie in it.

2 Thou through thy commandements hast made me wiser then mine enemies: for they are euer with me.

3 I haue more vnderstanding then my teachers: for thy testimonies are my studie.

4 I am wiser then the aged: because I keepe thy commandements.

5 I haue restrained my feete from euery euil way: that I may keepe thy word.

6 I haue not drunk from thy iudgements: for thou teachest me.

7 D how sweete are thy wordes vnto my throte: yea, sweeter then honie vnto my mouth.

8 Through thy commandements I get vnderstanding: therefore I hate all wicked wayes.

Lucerna pedibus meis.

Thy worde is a lanterne vnto my feete: and a light vnto my pathes.

2 I haue sowne, and am steadfastly purposed: to keepe thy righteous iudgements.

3 I am troubled about measure: quicken me (D Lord) according to thy word.

4 Let the free will offerings of my mouth please thee, D Lord: and teach mee thy iudgements.

5 My soule is alway in my hand: yet doe I not forget thy Law.

6 The bngodly haue laid a snare for me: but yet I swarued not from thy commandements.

7 Thy testimonies haue I claimed as mine heritage for euer: and why? they are the very ioy of my heart.

8 I haue applied my heart to fulfill thy statutes alway: euen vnto the end.

Iniquos odio habui.

I hate them that imagine euil things: but thy Law doe I loue.

2 Thou art my defence and shield: and my trust is in thy word.

3 Away from me ye wicked: I will keepe the commandements of my God.

4 D stablish me according vnto thy worde, that I may liue: and let me not be disappointed of my hope.

5 Hold thou me vp, and I shall be safe: yea, my delight shall be euer in thy statutes.

6 Thou hast troden downe all them that depart from thy statutes: for they imagine but deceite.

7 Thou puttest away all the bngodly of the earth like drasse: therefore I loue thy testimonies.

8 My flesh trembleth for feare of thee: and I am afraid of thy iudgements.

Feci iudicium.

I deale with the thing that is lawfull and right: D giue me not ouer vnto mine oppressors.

2 Make thou thy seruante to delight in that which is good: that the proude doe me no wrong.

3 Mine eyes are wasted away with looking

Morning Prayer.

for thy health: and for the worde of thy righte-ousnesse.

4 O deale with thy seruant according vnto thy louing mercie: and teach me thy statutes.

5 I am thy seruant, O grant me vnderstanding: that I may know thy testimonies.

6 It is time for thee Lord to lay to thine hand: for they haue destroyed thy Law.

7 For I loue thy commandements: aboue gold and precious stone.

8 Therefore hold I strait all thy commandements: and all false wayes I vtterly abhorre.

Mirabilia.

Thy testimonies are wonderfull: therefore doeth my soule keepe them.

2 When thy word goeth forth: it giueth light and vnderstanding vnto the simple.

3 I opened my mouth, & drew in my breath:
for my delight was in thy commandements.

4 O looke thou vpon me, and be mercifull vnto me: as thou blest to do vnto those that loue
thy Name.

5 Order my steps in thy word, and so shal no wickednesse haue dominion ouer me.

6 O deliuer mee from the wrongfull delings of men: and so shall I keepe thy com-mandements.

7 Shew the light of thy countenance vpon thy seruant: and teach me thy statutes.

8 Mine eyes gush out with water: because men keepe not thy Law.

Iustus es Domine.

Righteous art thou, O Lord: and true is thy iudgement.

2 The testimonies that thou hast commanded: are exceeding righteous and true.

3 My zeale hath euen consumed me: because mine enemies haue forgotten thy words.

4 Thy word is tried to the vttermost: and thy seruant loueth it.

5 I am small, and of no reputation: yet doe
I not forget thy commandements.

6 Thy righteousnesse is an euerlasting righteousnesse: and the Law is the truth.

7 Trouble & heauinesse haue taken hold vpon me: yet is my delight in thy commandements.

8 The righteousnesse of thy testimonies is euerlasting: O grant me vnderstanding, and I shall liue.

Clamau in toto corde meo.

Call with my whole heart: heare me, O Lord, I will keepe thy statutes.

2 Yea, euen vpon thee doe I call: helpe me, and I shall keepe thy testimonies.

3 Carely in the morning do I cry vnto thee:
for in thy word is my trust.

4 Mine eyes preuent the night watches:
that I might be occupied in thy words.

5 Heare my voyce (O Lord) according vnto thy louing kindnesse: quicken mee according as thou art wont.

6 They draw nigh that of malice persecute me: and are farre from thy Law.

7 Be thou nigh at hand, O Lord: for all thy commandements are true.

8 As concerning thy testimonies, I haue known long since: that thou hast grounded them for euer.

Euening
prayer.

Vide humilitatem.

O Consider mine abuersite, and deliuer mee:
for I doe not forget thy Law.

2 Attiende thou my cause and deliuer mee:
quicken me according vnto thy word.

3 Health is farre from the vngodly: for they regard not thy statutes.

4 Great is thy mercie, O Lord: quicken me
as thou art wont.

5 Many there are that trouble me, and persecute me: yet doe I not swarue from thy testimonies.

6 It grieueth me when I see the transgressors: because they keepe not thy Law.

7 Consider, O Lord, how I loue thy com-mandements: O quicken me according to thy louing kindnesse.

8 Thy word is true from euerlasting: all the iudgements of thy righteousnesse endure for euermore.

Principes persecuti sunt.

Princes haue persecuted me without a cause:
but my heart standeth in awe of thy words.

2 I am as glad of thy word: as one that findeth great spoyle.

3 As for lies, I hate and abhorre them: but thy Law doe I loue.

4 Seuen times a day doe I praise thee: because of thy righteous iudgements.

5 Great is the peace that they haue which loue thy law: and they are not offended at it.

6 Lord, I haue looked for thy sauing health:
and done after thy commandements.

7 My soule hath kept thy testimonies: and loued them exceedingly.

8 I haue kept thy commandements and testimonies: for all my wayes are before thee.

Appropinquet deprecatio.

Let my complaint come before thee, O Lord:
giue mee vnderstanding according to thy word.

2 Let my supplication come before thee: de-liuer me according to thy word.

3 My lips shall speake of thy praise: when thou shalt taught me thy statutes.

4 Yea, my tongue shall sing of thy word: for all thy commandements are righteous.

5 Let thine hand helpe me: for I haue chosen thy commandements.

6 I haue longed for thy sauing health, O
Lord: and in thy Law is my delight.

7 Oh let my soule liue, and it shall praise thee:
and thy iudgements shall helpe me.

8 I haue gone astray like a sheepe that is lost: O seeke thy seruant, for I doe not forget thy commandements.

Ad Dominum. Psal. 120.

Vhen I was in trouble, I called vpon
the Lord: and he heard me.

2 Deliuer my soule, O Lord, from lying lips: and from a deceitfull tongue.

3 What reward shall be giuen or done vnto thee thou false tongue: euen mighty and sharpe arrows, with hate burning coles.

4 Woe is me, that I am constrained to dwell with Deceit: and to haue mine habitation among the tents of Cedar.

5 My soule hath long dwelt among them:
that be enemies vnto peace.

Morning praye

6 I labour for peace, but when I speake vnto them thereof: they make them ready to battell.

Leuani oculos. Psal. 121.

I will lift vp mine eyes vnto the hillies: from whence commeth my helpe.

2 My helpe cometh euen from the Lord: which hath made heauen and earth.

3 Hee wil not suffer thy foote to be moued: and he that keepeth thee, will not sleepe.

4 Behold, he that keepeth Israel: shall neither slumber nor sleepe.

5 The Lord himselfe is thy keeper: the Lord is thy defence vpon thy right hand.

6 So that the Sunne shall not burne thee by day: neither the Moone by night.

7 The Lord shall preserue thee from all euil: yea, it is euen he that shall keepe thy soule.

8 The Lord shall preserue thy going out and thy comming in: from this time forth for euermore.

Latus sum. Psal. 122.

I was glad when they sayd vnto mee: wee will go into the house of the Lord.

2 Our feete shall stand in thy gates: O Hierusalem.

3 Hierusalem is builded as a citie: that is at buildic in it selfe.

4 For thither the tribes goe by, euen the tribes of the Lord: to testifie vnto Israel, to giue thanks vnto the Name of the Lord.

5 For there is the seate of iudgement: euen the seate of the house of Dauid.

6 O pray for the peace of Hierusalem: they shal prosper that loue thee.

7 Peace be within thy walles: and plenteousnesse within thy Palaces.

8 For my brethren and companions sakes: I will wish the prosperitie.

9 Yea, because of the house of the Lord our God: I will seeke to doe thee good.

Ad te leuani oculos meos. Psal. 123.

Vnto thee lift I vp mine eyes: O thou that dweldest in the heauens.

2 Behold, euen as the eyes of seruants looke vnto the hand of their masters, and as the eyes of a maiden vnto the hand of her mistres: euen so our eyes waite vpon the Lord our God, vntill he haue mercie vpon vs.

3 Haue mercie vpon vs, O Lord, haue mercie vpon vs: for we are bitterly despised.

4 Our soule is filled with the scornfull reproofe of the wealthy: and with the deceitfulness of the proud.

Nisi quia Dominus. Psal. 124.

If the Lord himselfe had not bene on our side (now may Israel say): if the Lord him selfe had not bin on our side when men rose vp against vs.

2 They had swallowed vs by quicke: when they were so wrathfully displeas'd at vs.

3 Yea, the waters had drowned vs: and the streame had gone ouer our soule.

4 The deepe waters of the proud: had gone euen ouer our soule.

5 But praised be the Lord: which hath not giuen vs ouer for a pray vnto their teeth.

6 Our soule is escaped, euen as a bird out of the snare of the fowler: the snare is broken, and we are deliuered.

7 Our help standeth in the name of the Lord: which hath made heauen and earth.

Qui confidunt. Psal. 125.

They that put their trust in the Lord, shall be euen as the mount Sion: which may not be remooued, but standeth fast for euer.

2 The hillies stand about Hierusalem: euen so standeth the Lord round about his people, from this time forth for euermore.

3 For the rod of the vngodly commeth not into the lot of the righteous: least the righteous put their hand vnto wickednesse.

4 Doe well, O Lord: vnto those that be good and true of heart.

5 As for such as turne backe vnto their own wickednesse: the Lord shall leade them forth with the euill doers, but peace shall be vpon Israel.

In conuertendo. Psal. 126.

When the Lord turned againe the captiuitie of Sion: then were we like vnto them that dreame.

2 Then was our mouth filled with laughter: and our tongue with ioy.

3 Then sayd they among the heathen: The Lord hath done great things for them.

4 Yea, the Lord hath done great things for vs already: whereof we reioice.

5 Turne our captiuitie, O Lord: as the riuers in the South.

6 They that sowe in teares: shall reape in ioy.

7 Hee that now goeth on his way weeping, and beareth forth good seede: shall doubtlesse come againe with ioy, and bring his sheaues with him.

Nisi Dominus. Psal. 127.

Except the Lord build the house: their labour is but lost that build it.

2 Except the Lord keepe the citie: the watchman waketh but in vaine.

3 It is but lost labour that ye haste to rise vp early, and so late take rest, and eate the bread of carefulnesse: for so he giueth his beloued sleepe.

4 Loe, children and the fruit of the wombe: are an heritage and gift that commeth of the Lord.

5 Like as the arrowes in the hand of the Gyant: euen so are the yong children.

6 Happy is the man that hath his quier full of them: they shall not be ashamed when they speake with their enemies in the gate.

Beati omnes. Psal. 128.

Blessed are all they that feare the Lord: and walke in his wayes.

2 For thou shalt eate the labours of thine hands: O well is thee, and happie shalt thou be.

3 Thy wife shall be as the fruitful vine: vpon the walles of thine house.

4 Thy children like the Oliue banches: round about thy table.

5 Loe, thus shall the man be blessed: that feareth the Lord.

6 The Lord from out of Sion shall so blesse thee: that thou shalt see Hierusalem in prosperitie all thy life long.

7 Yea, that thou shalt see thy childrens children: and peace vpon Israel.

Sape expugnauerunt. Psal. 129.

Many a time haue they fought against mee from my youth vp: (may Israel now say.)

Euening prayer.

2 Yea, many a time haue they bered me from my youth vp: but they haue not preuailed against me.

3 The plover's ploverd vpon my backe: and made long furrowes.

4 But the righteous Lord: hath heuen the snares of the vngodly in pieces.

5 Let them be confounded and turned backward: as many as haue euill will at Sion.

6 Let them be euen as the grasle growing vpon the house tops: which withereth afore it be plucked vp.

7 Whereof the mower filleth not his hand: neither he that bindeth vp the sheaves, his bo-some.

8 So that they which go by, say not so much as the Lord prosper you: we wish you good lucke in the name of the Lord.

De profundis. Psal. 130.

Out of the deepe haue I called vnto thee (O Lord:) Lord heare my voice.

2 Wh let thine eares consider wel: the voice of my complaint.

3 If thou Lord, wilt bee extreme to marke what is done amisse: oh Lord, who may abide it?

4 For there is mercie with thee: therefore shalt thou be feared.

5 I looke for the Lord, my soule doth waite for him: in his word is my trust.

6 My soule fleeth vnto the Lord: before the morning watch, I say, before the morning watch.

7 O Israel trust in the Lord, for with the Lord there is mercie: and with him is plente-ous redemption.

8 And hee shall redeeme Israel: from all his sinnes.

Domine, non est. Psal. 131.

Lord, I am not high minded: I haue no proud lookes.

2 I doe not exercise my selfe in great mat-ers: which are too high for me.

3 But I refraine my soule, and keepe it lowe, like as a child that is weaned from his mother: yea, my soule is euen as a weaned child.

4 O Israel trust in the Lord: from this time forth for euermore.

Memento Domine. Psal. 132.

Remember Dauid: and all his trouble.

2 How he sware vnto the Lord: and bowed a bowe vnto the al-mighty God of Jacob.

3 I will not come within the tabernacle of my house: nor clime vp into my bed.

4 I will not suffer mine eyes to sleepe, nor mine eye lids to slumber: neither the temples of my head to take any rest.

5 Untill I find out a place for the temple of the Lord: an habitation for the mighty God of Jacob.

6 Loe, we heard of the same at Ephrata: and found it in the wood.

7 Wee will goe into his tabernacle: and fall lowe on our knees before his footstool.

8 Arise, O Lord, into thy resting place: thou and the atke of thy strength.

9 Let thy priests be clothed with righteous-ness: and let thy saints sing with ioyfulness.

10 For thy seruant Dauids sake: turne not away the presence of thine anointed.

11 The Lord hath made a faithfull othe vnto Dauid: and he shall not shrinke from it.

12 Of the fruit of thy bodie: shall I set vpon thy seat.

13 If thy children will keepe my covenant & my testimones that I shall learne them: their children also shall sit vpon thy seat for euermore.

14 For the Lord hath chosen Sion to bee an habitation for himselfe: he hath longed for her.

15 This shall be my rest for ever: here will I dwell, for I haue a delight therein.

16 I will blesse her victuals with increase: and will sacrifice her pooze with bread.

17 I will decke her Priests with health: and her saints shall reioice and sing.

18 There shall I make the home of Dauid to flourish: I haue ordained a lanterne for mine anointed.

19 As for his enemies, I shall clothe them with shame: but vpon himselfe shall his crowne flourish.

Ecce quam bonum. Psal. 133.

Behold howe good and ioyfull a thing it is: brethren to dwell together in vnitie.

2 It is like the precious ointment vpon the head, that ran downe vnto the beard: euen vnto Aarons beard, and went downe to the skirts of his clothing.

3 Like as the Dewe of Hermon: which fell vpon the hill of Sion.

4 For there the Lord promised his blessing: and life for euermore.

Ecce nunc. Psal. 134.

Behold (now) praise the Lord: all ye seruants of the Lord.

2 Pe that by night stand in the house of the Lord: euen in the courts of the house of our God.

3 Lift vp your hands in the sanctuarie: and praise the Lord.

4 The Lord that made heauen and earth: giue thee blessing out of Sion.

Laudate nomen. Psal. 135.

O praise the Lord, laude yee the name of the Lord: praise it, O yee seruants of the Lord.

2 Pee that stand in the house of the Lord: in the courts of the house of our God.

3 O praise the Lord, for the Lord is gracious: O sing praises vnto his name for it is ioyful.

4 For why? the Lord hath chosen Jacob vnto himselfe: and Israel for his owne possession.

5 For I knowe that the Lord is great: and that our Lord is aboue all gods.

6 Whatsoever the Lord pleased, that did hee in heauen and in earth: and in the sea, and in all deepe places.

7 Hee bringeth forth the cloudes from the ends of the world: and sendeth forth lightnings with the raine, bringing the windes out of his treasures.

8 He smote the first borne of Egypt: both of man and beast.

9 He hath sent tokens and wonders into the midst of thee, O thou land of Egypt: vpon Pharao and all his seruants.

10 He smote diuers nations: and slew mighty kings.

11 Sehon King of the Amorites, and Og the King of Basan: and all the Kingdomes of Chanaan.

12 And gaue their land to bee an heritage:

Morning Praycr.

euē an heritage vnto Israel his people.

13 Egypt name, O Lord, endureth for euer: so doeth thy memoriall, O Lord, from one generation to another.

14 For the Lord will auenge his people: and be gracious vnto his seruants.

15 As for the images of the heathen, they are but siluer and gold: the worke of mens hands.

16 They haue mouthes, and speake not: eyes haue they, but they see not.

17 They haue eares, and yet they heare not: neither is there any breath in their mouthes.

18 They that make them, are like vnto them: and so are all they that put their trust in them.

19 Praise the Lord ye house of Israel: praise the Lord ye house of Aaron.

20 Praise the Lord ye house of Levi: ye that feare the Lord, praise the Lord.

21 Praised be the Lord out of Sion: which dwelleth at Hierusalem.

Confitemini. Psal. 136.

Giuē thanks vnto the Lord, for he is gracious: and his mercie endureth for euer.

2 O giuē thanks vnto the God of all gods: for his mercie endureth for euer.

3 O thanke the Lord of all lordes: for his mercie endureth for euer.

4 Which onely doth great wonders: for his mercie endureth for euer.

5 Which by his excellent wisdom made the heauens: for his mercie endureth for euer.

6 Which laide out the earth about the waters: for his mercie endureth for euer.

7 Which hath made great lightes: for his mercie endureth for euer.

8 The Sunne to rule the day: for his mercie endureth for euer.

9 The Moone and the Starres to gouerne the night: for his mercie endureth for euer.

10 Which smote Egypt with their first born: for his mercie endureth for euer.

11 And brought out Israel fro among them: for his mercie endureth for euer.

12 With a mightie hand, and stretched out arme: for his mercie endureth for euer.

13 Which diuided the red sea in two partes: for his mercie endureth for euer.

14 And made Israel to goe thoro the midd of it: for his mercie endureth for euer.

15 But as for Pharao and his hoste, he ouerthrew them in the red sea: for his mercie endureth for euer.

16 Which led his people throug the wilderness: for his mercie endureth for euer.

17 Which smote great kings: for his mercie endureth for euer.

18 Yea, and slew mighty kings: for his mercie endureth for euer.

19 Schon king of the Amozites: for his mercie endureth for euer.

20 And Og the king of Basan: for his mercie endureth for euer.

21 And gaue away their land for an heritage: for his mercie endureth for euer.

22 Euē for an heritage vnto Israel his seruants: for his mercie endureth for euer.

23 Which remembered vs when wee were in trouble: for his mercie endureth for euer.

24 And hath deliuered vs from our enemies: for his mercie endureth for euer.

25 Which giueth food to all flesh: for his mercie endureth for euer.

26 O giue thanks vnto the God of heauen: for his mercie endureth for euer.

27 O giue thanks vnto the Lord of lordes: for his mercie endureth for euer.

Super flumina. Psal. 137.

By the waters of Babylon we sate downe and wept: when we remembered thee O Sion.

2 As for our harpes, wee hanged them by: vpon the trees that are therein.

3 For they that led vs away captiue, required of vs then a song and melodie in our beautie: sing vs one of the songs of Sion.

4 How shall wee sing the Lordes song: in a strange land?

5 If I forget thee, O Hierusalem: let my right hand forget her cunning.

6 If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleaue to the roofof my mouth: yea, if I preferre not Hierusalem in my mirth.

7 Remember the children of Edom, O Lord, in the day of Hierusalem: howe they sayd, Downe with it, downe with it, euē to the ground.

8 O daughter of Babylon, wasted with miserie: yea, happy shall he be that re wardeth thee as thou hast serued vs.

9 Blessed shall hee be that taketh thy children: and throweth them against the stones.

Confitebor tibi. Psal. 138.

I will giue thanks vnto thee, O Lord, with my whole heart: euē before the gods will I sing praise vnto thee.

2 I will worship toward thy holy temple, and praise thy name, because of thy louing kindnesse and truethe: for thou hast magnified thy name, and thy word about all things.

3 When I called vpon thee, thou heardest me: and enduedst my soule with much strength.

4 All the kings of the earth shall praise thee, O Lord: for they haue heard the words of thy mouth.

5 Yea, they shall sing in the wayes of the Lord: that great is the glory of the Lord.

6 For though the Lord be high, yet hath hee respect vnto the lowly: as for the proud, hee beholdeth them afarre off.

7 Though I walke in the middes of trouble, yet shalt thou refresh me: thou shalt stretch forth thine hand vpon the furiousnesse of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall saue me.

8 The Lord shall make good his louing kindnesse toward me: yea, thy mercie, O Lord, endureth for euer, despite not then the workes of thine owne hands.

Domine, probasti. Psal. 139.

Lorde, thou hast searched me out, and known me: thou knowest my downe sitting, and mine bysitting, thou understandest my thoughts long before.

2 Thou art about my path, and about my bed: and speest out all my wayes.

3 For loe, there is not a worde in my tongue: but thou, O Lord, knowest it altogether.

4 Thou hast fashioned me behind & before:

2 Thou art about my path, and about my bed: and speest out all my wayes.

3 For loe, there is not a worde in my tongue: but thou, O Lord, knowest it altogether.

4 Thou hast fashioned me behind & before:

Morning prayer.

and layd thine hand vpon me.

5 Such knowledge is too wonderfull and excellent for me: I cannot attaine vnto it.

6 Whither shall I goe then from thy spirit: or whither shall I goe then from thy presence?

7 If I clime vp into heauen, thou art there: if I goe downe to hell, thou art there also.

8 If I take the wings of the morning: and remaine in the bittermost parts of the sea.

9 Euen there also shall thy hand leade mee: and thy right hand shall hold me.

10 If I say, Peraduenture the darknesse shall couer mee: then shall my night bee turned to day.

11 Yea, the darknesse is no darknesse with thee, but the night is as cleere as the day: the darknesse and light (to thee) are both alike.

12 For my reins are thine: thou hast couered me in my mothers wombe.

13 I will giue thanks vnto thee, for I am fearefully and wonderfully made: maruelous are thy works, and that my soule knoweth right well.

14 My bones are not hid from thee: though I be made secretly, and fashioned beneath in the earth.

15 Thine eyes did see my substance, yet being vnperfect: and in thy booke were all my members written.

16 Which day by day were fashioned: when as yet there was none of them.

17 How deare are thy counsels vnto mee, O God: O how great is the summe of them?

18 If I tell them, they are moe in number then the sand: when I wake vp, I am present with thee.

19 Wilt not thou slay the wicked, O God: depart from me ye bloodthirstie men.

20 For they speake vnrightheously against thee: and thine enemies take thy name in baine.

21 Doe not I hate them, O Lord, that hate thee: and am not I grieued with those that rise vp against thee?

22 Yea, I hate them right sore: euen as though they were mine enemies.

23 Tria mee, O God, and seeke the ground of my heart: pzooue mee, and examine my thoughts.

23 Looke well if there bee any way of wickednesse in mee: and leade mee in the way euerlasting.

Eripe me Domine. Psal. 140.

Deliver me, O Lord, from the euill man: and preferue me from the wicked man.

2 Which imagine mischief in their hearts: and stirre vp strife all the day long.

3 They haue sharpened their tongues like a serpent: Adders poison is vnder their lips.

4 Keepe me, O Lord, from the hands of the vngodly: preferue mee from the wicked men which are purposed to ouerthrow my goings.

5 The proud hath layd a snare for me, and spread a nette abroad with cordes: yea, and set traps in my way.

6 I layd vnto the Lord, Thou art my God: heare the voice of my prayers, O Lord.

7 O Lord God, thou strength of my health: thou hast couered my head in the day of battel.

8 Let not the vngodly haue his desire, O Lord: let not his mischievous imagination prosper, lest they be too proud.

9 Let the mischief of their owne lips fall vpon the head of them: that compass me about.

10 Let hot burning coales fall vpon them: let them be cast into the fire, and into the pit, that they neuer rise vp againe.

11 A man full of words shall not prosper vpon the earth: euill shall hunt the wicked person to ouerthrowe him.

12 Sure I am that the Lord will auenge the pooze: and maintaine the cause of the helpelesse.

13 The righteous also shall giue thanks vnto thy name: and the iust shall continue in thy sight.

Domine, clamau. Psal. 141.

Lord, I call vpon thee, haste thee vnto mee: and consider my voice when I crie vnto thee.

2 Let my prayer bee set forth in thy sight as the incense: and let the lifting vp of my hands be an euening sacrifice.

3 Set a watch (O Lord) before my mouth: and keepe the doore of my lips.

4 Let not mine heart be enclined in vngodly workes, with the men that worke wickednesse, lest I eate of such things as please them.

5 Let the righteous rather smite me friendly: and reprove me.

6 But let not their precious balmes breake mine head: yea, I will pray yet against their wickednesse.

7 Let their iudges be ouerthrowen in some places: that they may heare my words, for they are sweete.

8 Our bones lie scattered before the pit: like as when one breaketh and heweth wood vpon the earth.

9 But mine eyes looke vnto thee, O Lord God: in thee is my trust, O cast not out my soule.

10 Keepe me from the snare which they haue layd for me: and from the trappes of the wicked doers.

11 Let the vngodly fall into their owne nets together: and let me euer escape them.

Voce mea ad Dominum. Psal. 142.

I cried vnto the Lord with my voice: yea, euen vnto the Lord did I make my supplication.

2 I powred out my complaints before him: and shewed him of my trouble.

3 When my spirit was in heavinesse, thou knewest my path: in the way wherein I walked, haue they pynnyly layd a snare for me.

4 I looked also vpon my right hand: and saw there was no man that would know me.

5 I had no place to flee vnto: and no man cared for my soule.

6 I cried vnto thee, O Lord, and said: Thou art my hope, and my portion in the land of the liuing.

7 Consider my complaint: for I am brought very lowe.

8 Deliver mee from my persecutors: for they are too strong for me.

9 Bring my soule out of prison, that I may giue thanks vnto thy name: which thing if thou wilt grant me, then shall the righteous resort vnto my companie.

Euen pray

Domine, exaudi. Psal. 143.

Heare my prayer, O Lord, and consider my desire: hearken vnto mee for thy truethe and righteousnesse sake.

2 And enter not into iudgement with thy seruant: for in thy sight shall no man liuing be iustificed.

3 For the enemy hath persecuted my soule, he hath smitten my life downe to the ground: he hath layd me in the darkenesse, as the men that haue bene long dead.

4 Therefore is my spirit bered within mee: and my heart within me is desolate.

5 Yet do I remember the time past, I muse vpon all thy workes: yea, I exercise my selfe in the workes of thy hands.

6 I stretch forth my handes vnto thee: my soule gaspeth vnto thee, as a thurstie land.

7 Heare me, O Lord, and that soone, for my spirit wareth faint: hide not thy face from mee: least I bee like vnto them that goe downe into the pit.

8 Let mee heare thy louing kindnesse betimes in the morning, for in thee is my trust: shewe thou me the way that I should walke in, for I lift vp my soule vnto thee.

9 Deliuer me, O Lord, from mine enemies: for I flee vnto thee to hide me.

10 Teach mee to doe the thing that pleaseth thee, for thou art my God: let thy louing spirit leade me forth into the land of righteousnesse.

11 Quicken me, O Lord, for thy names sake: and for thy righteousnesse sake bring my soule out of trouble.

12 And of thy goodnesse slay mine enemies: and destroy all them that bere my soule, for I am thy seruant.

Benedictus Dominus. Psal. 144.

Blessed be the Lord my strength: which teacheth my handes to warre, and my fingers to fight.

2 My hope and my fortresse, my castle and deliuerer, my defender, in whome I trust: which subdueth my people that is vnder me.

3 Lord, what is man that thou hast such respect vnto him: or the sonne of man that thou lookest vnto him?

4 Man is like a thing of nought: his time passeth a way like a shadow.

5 Bowe thy heauens, O Lord, and come down: touch the mountains, & they shall smoke.

6 Call forth thy lightning, and teare them: shoot out thine arrowes, and consume them.

7 Send downe thine hand from aboue: deliuer me, and take me out of the great waters, from the hand of strange children.

8 Whose mouth talketh of vanitie: & their right hand is a right hand of wickednesse.

9 I will sing a new song vnto thee, O God: and sing praises vnto thee vpon a ten stringed Lute.

10 Thou hast giuen victorie vnto kings: and hast deliuered Dauid thy seruant from the perill of the sword.

11 Saue me and deliuer me from the hand of strange children: whose mouth talketh of vanitie, and their right hand is a right hand of iniquitie.

12 That our sonnes may growe by as the young plants: and that our daughters may be as the polished corners of the temple.

13 That our garners may be full and plenteous with all manner of store: that our sheepe may bring forth thousands, and ten thousands in our streets.

14 That our oxen may be strong to labour, that there be no decay: no leading into captiuitie, and no complaining in our streets.

15 Happie are the people that bee in such a case: yea, blessed are the people which haue the Lord for their God.

Exaltabo te Deus. Psal. 145.

I will magnifie thee, O God, my king: and I will praise thy name for euer and euer.

2 Every day will I giue thanks vnto thee: and praise thy name for euer and euer.

3 Great is the Lord, and marueilous worthe to be praised: there is no ende of his greatnesse.

4 One generation shall praise thy workes vnto another: and declare thy power.

5 As for me, I will be talking of thy worship: thy glory, thy praise, and wondrous workes.

6 So that men shall speake of the might of thy marueilous actes: and I will also tell of thy greatnesse.

7 The memoziell of thine abundant kindnesse shall bee shewed: and men shall sing of thy righteousnesse.

8 The Lord is gracious and mercifull: long suffering, and of great goodnesse.

9 The Lord is louing vnto every man: and his mercie is ouer all his workes.

10 All thy workes praise thee, O Lord: and thy saines giue thanks vnto thee.

11 They shewe the glory of thy kingdome: and talke of thy power.

12 That thy power, thy glory, and mightnesse of thy kingdome: might bee knowne vnto men.

13 Thy kingdome is an euerlasting kingdome: and thy dominion endureth throughout all ages.

14 The Lord upholdeth all such as fall: and lifteth vp all those that be downe.

15 The eyes of all wait vpon thee, O Lord: and thou giuest them their meat in due season.

16 Thou openest thine hand: and fillest all things liuing with plenteousnesse.

17 The Lord is righteous in all his wayes: and holy in all his workes.

18 The Lord is nigh vnto all them that call vpon him: yea, all such as call vpon him faithfully.

19 He will fulfill the desire of them that feare him: he also will heare their cry, and will helpe them.

20 The Lord preserveth all them that loue him: but scattereth abroad all the vngodly.

21 My mouth shall speake the praise of the Lord: and let all flesh giue thanks vnto his holy name for euer and euer.

Lauda anima mea. Psal. 146.

Praise the Lord, O my soule, while I liue will I praise the Lord: yea, as long as I haue any being, I will sing praises vnto my God.

2 O put not your trust in princes, nor in any child of man: for there is no helpe in them.

3 For when the breath of man goeth forth, he shall turne againe to his earth: and then all his thoughts perish.

8

4 Blessed is hee that hath the God of Jacob for his helpe: and whose hope is in the Lord his God.

5 which made heauen and earth, the sea and all that therein is: which keepeth his promise for euer.

6 which helpeth them to right that suffer wrong: which feedeth the hungrie.

7 The Lord looseth men out of prison: the Lord giueth sight to the blind.

8 The Lord helpeth them that are fallen: the Lord careth for the righteous.

9 The Lord careth for the strangers: he defendeth the fatherlesse and widome: as for the way of the vngodly, he turneth it vpside downe.

10 The Lord thy God, O Sion, shall bee king for euermore: and throughout all generations.

Laudate Dominum. Psal. 147.

Praise the Lord, for it is a good thing to sing praises vnto our God: yea, a ioyfull and pleasant thing it is to be thankfull.

2 The Lord doth build vp Ierusalem: and gather together the outcastes of Israel.

3 He healeth those that are broken in heart: and giueth medicine to heale their sicknesse.

4 He telleth the number of the starres: and calleth them all by their names.

5 Great is our Lord, and great is his power: yea, and his wisdom is infinite.

6 The Lord setteth vp the meeke: and bringeth the vngodly downe to the ground.

7 Sing vnto the Lord with thanksgiving: sing praises vpon the harpe vnto our God.

8 which couereth the heauen with clouds, and prepareth raine for the earth: and maketh the grasse to growe vpon the mountaines, and hearde for the ble of men.

9 which giueth fodder vnto the cattell: and feedeth the young rauens that call vpon him.

10 Hee hath no pleasure in the strength of an horse: neither delighteth hee in any mans legges.

11 But the Lordes delight is in them that feare him: and put their trust in his mercie.

12 Praise the Lord, O Hierusalem: praise thy God, O Sion.

13 For hee hath made fast the barres of thy gates: and hath blessed thy children within thee.

14 Hee maketh peace in thy borders: and filleth thee with the flour of wheate.

15 He sendeth forth his commandement vpon earth: and his word runneth very swiftly.

16 He giueth snow like wool: and scattereth the hoare frost like ashes.

17 He casteth forth his yce like morsels: who is able to abide his frost?

18 Hee sendeth out his worde, and melteth them: hee bloweth with his wind, and the waters flowe.

19 He beareth his word vnto Jacob: his statutes and ordinances vnto Israel.

20 He hath not dealt so with any nation: neither haue the heathen knowledge of his lawes.

Laudate Dominum. Psal. 148.

Praise the Lord of heauen: praise him in the height.

2 Praise him all ye angels of his: praise him all his hoste.

3 Praise him Sonne and Moone: praise him all ye starres and light.

4 Praise him all ye heauens: and ye waters that be aboue the heauens.

5 Let them praise the name of the Lord: for he spake the word, and they were made, hee commaunded, and they were created.

6 He hath made them fast for euer and euer: hee hath giuen them a lawe which shall not be broken.

7 Praise the Lord vpon earth: ye Dragons and all deepes.

8 fire and haile, snow and vapours: winde and storme, fulfilling his word.

9 Mountaines and all hills: fruitfull trees, and all Cedars.

10 Beastes and all cattell: wormes, and feathered foules.

11 Kings of the earth, and all people: princes, and all iudges of the world.

12 Young men and maydens, olde men and children, praise the name of the Lord: for his name onely is excellent, and his praise aboue heauen and earth.

13 He shall exalt the borne of his people, all his sauius shall praise him: euen the children of Israel, euen the people that serueth him.

Cantate Domino. Psal. 149.

Sing vnto the Lord a newe song: let the congregation of saints praise him.

2 Let Israel reioyce in him that made him: and let the children of Sion be ioyfull in their king.

3 Let them praise his name in the dance: let them sing praises vnto him with Cypret and Harpe.

4 For the Lord hath pleasure in his people: and helpeth the meeke hearted.

5 Let the saintes be ioyfull with glory: let them reioyce in their beds.

6 Let the praises of God be in their mouth: and a two edged sword in their hands.

7 To be auenged of the heathen: and to rebuke the people.

8 To bind their kings in chaines: and their nobles with linkes of yron.

9 That they may be auenged of them, as it is written: such honour haue all his saintes.

Laudate Dominum. Psal. 150.

Praise God in his holinesse: praise him in the firmament of his power.

2 Praise him in his noble actes: praise him according to his excellent greatnesse.

3 Praise him in the sound of the trumpet: praise him vpon the Lute and Harpe.

4 Praise him in the Cimballes and dances: praise him vpon the strings and pipe.

5 Praise him vpon the well tuned Cimbal: praise him vpon the loud Cimbal.

6 Let euery thing that hath breath: praise the Lord.

Euening prayer.

Here end the Psalmes of Dauid,

The Prouerbes of Solomon.

The first Chapter.

1 The power of the word of God. 7 Of the feare of God, and knowledge of his word. 10 Wee may not consent to the entisings of sinners. 20 Wisdome complaineth that shee is contemned. 24 The punishment of them that contemne her.

Prouerbes of Solomon the sonne of Dauid king of Israel:

2 To learne wisdome and instruction, and to perceiue the wordes of vnderstanding.

3 To receiue the instruction of wisdome, iustice, iudgement, & equitie:

4 To giue wit vnto the simple, and that the young men might haue knowledge and vnderstanding.

5 The wise man will giue eare, and will come by moze wisdome, and hee that is endued with vnderstanding, shall attaine vnto wise counsels.

6 To vnderstand a parable, and the interpretation thereof, the wordes of the wise, and their darke speeches.

7 The feare of the Lorde is the beginning of knowledge: but fooles despise wisdome and instruction.

8 My sonne, heare thy fathers doctrine, and forsake not the law of thy mother:

9 For they shall be an increase of grace vnto thy head, and as a chaine about thy necke.

10 My sonne, if sinners entice thee, consent not vnto them.

11 If they say, Come with vs let vs lay wast for blood, and lurke priuily for the innocent without a cause:

12 Let vs swallowe them by like the graue quicke and whole, as those that goe downe into the pit:

13 So shall we finde all manner of costly riches, and fill our houses with spoiles:

14 Call in thy lot among vs, and let vs all haue one parte.

15 My sonne, walke not thou with them, re-fraine thy foot from their wayes.

16 For their feete runne to euill, and are hable to shed blood.

17 But as in vaine the nette is layd forth before the birds eyes:

18 So they laye wait for the blood of them, and lay priuily for their liues.

19 Such are the wayes of euery one that is greedy of gaine, who taketh away the life of the owner thereof.

20 Wisdome cryeth without, and putteth forth her voice in the streets:

21 She calleth before the congregation in the open gates, and sheweth her wordes thoro we the cite, saying,

22 O ye children, how long will ye loue chishdnesse: how long will the scooners delight in scoorning, and the brwise hate knowledge?

23 Turne you at my correction: loe, I will expresse my minde vnto you, and make you vnderstand my wordes.

24 Because I haue called, and ye refused, I haue stretched out my hand, & no man regarded.

25 But all my counsels haue ye despised, and set my correction at nought:

26 Therefore will I also laugh at your destruction, and mocke you, when the thing that ye feare commeth vpon you,

27 Euen when the thing that ye be afraid of, falleth in suddenly like a storme, and your miserie like a tempest, yea when trouble and heauynesse commeth vpon you.

28 Then shall they call vpon me, but I will not answere: they shall seeke me early, but they shall not finde me:

29 And that because they hated knowledge, and did not choose the feare of the Lorde, 30 They would none of my counsell, but despised all my correction.

31 Therefore shall they eate of the fruite of their owne way, and be filled with their owne inuentions.

32 For the turning away of the brwise shall slay them, and the prosperitie of fooles shall destroy them.

33 But who so hearkeneth vnto mee, shall dwell safely, and be sure from any feare of euill.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Wisdome exhorteth to obey her. 5 Shee teacheth the feare of God. 6 Shee is giuen of God. 10 Shee preferueth from wickednesse.

My sonne, if thou wilt receiue my wordes, and lay by my commandments within thee,

2 That thou wilt encline thine eares vnto wisdome, apply thine heart then to vnderstanding.

3 For if thou criest after wisdome, and cryest for knowledge:

4 If thou seekest for her as for siluer, and searchest for her as for treasures,

5 Then shalt thou vnderstand the feare of the Lorde, and finde the knowledge of God.

6 For the Lord giueth wisdome, out of his mouth commeth knowledge and vnderstanding.

7 Hee stirreth by health for the righteous: and defendeth them that walke byrightly,

8 That they may keepe the right path: and he preferueth the way of such as doe serue him with godlinesse.

9 Then shalt thou vnderstand righteoufnesse, and iudgement, and equitie, yea, and euery good path.

10 When wisdome entreth into thine heart, and thy soule delighteth in knowledge:

11 Then shall counsell preferue thee, and vnderstanding shall keepe thee,

Esa. 65. 12. ierem. 7. 13

12 That thou mayeſt be deliuered from the euill way, and from the man that ſpeaketh forward things:

13 From ſuch as leaue the wayes of righteouſneſſe, to walke in the wayes of darkeneſſe:

14 Which crioe in doing naught, and delight in the wickedneſſe of the euill:

15 whole wayes are crooked, and they forward in their pathes.

16 That thou mayeſt be deliuered alſo from the ſtraunge woman, and from her that is not thine owne, which giueth ſweet words, 17 forſaketh the husband of her youth, and forgetteth the covenant of her God.

18 for her houſe is enclined vnto death, and her pathes vnto hell, 19 All they that goe in vnto her, come not againe, neither take they hold of the way of life.

20 Therefore walke thou in the way of ſuch as be vertuous, and keepe the pathes of the righteous.

21 for the iuſt ſhall dwell in the land, and they that be perfect, ſhall remaine in it.

22 * But the bngodly ſhall be cut off from the earth: and the wicked doers ſhall be rooted out of it.

Ioh. 19. 17.

The iij. Chapter.

2 The worde of God giueth life. 5 Trust in God. 7 Feare him. 9 Honour him. 11 Suffer his correction. 22 To them that follow the word of God, all things ſhall ſucceed well.

Deut. 8. 1. and 30. 16.

M ſonne, forget not thou my lawe, but ſee that thine heart keepe my commaundements.

2 * for they ſhall prolong the dayes and yeeres of thy life, and bring thee peace.

3 Let mercie and faithfullneſſe neuer goe from thee: bind them about thy necke, and write them in the tables of thine heart:

4 So ſhalt thou finde fauour and good vnderſtanding in the ſight of God and men.

5 Put thy truſt in God with all thine heart: and leane not vnto thine owne wit.

6 In all thy wayes acknowledge him, and he ſhall order thy goings.

Rom. 1. 2. 16

* That is, thy whole body.

Tob. 4. 7. luke 1. 4. 13.

7 * Be not wiſe in thine owne conceit: but feare the Lord, and depart from euill:

8 So ſhall thy nauill bee whole, and thy bones ſtrong.

9 * Honour the Lorde with thy ſubſtance, and with the firſtings of thine increaſe:

10 So ſhall thy barnes be filled with plenteouſneſſe, and thy preſſes ſhall flowe ouer with ſweete wine.

Heb. 12. 5. apoc. 3. 17.

11 * My ſonne, reſuſe not the chaſtning of the Lord, neither ſaunt when thou art corrected of him.

12 for whom the Lord loueth, him hee chaſtenth, and yet delighteth in him, euen as a father in his owne ſonne.

13 Well is him that findeth wiſedome, and getteth vnderſtanding:

14 for the marchandize of it is better then the marchandize of ſiluer, and the gaine thereof is better then golde.

15 Shee is more worthy then precious ſtones: and all the things that thou canſt deſire, are not to be compared vnto her.

16 In her right hand is long life, and in her left hand riches and honour.

17 Her wayes are pleaſant wayes, and all her pathes are peaceable.

18 Shee is a tree of life to them that lay hold vpon her: and bleſſed is he that keepeth her ſa.

19 With wiſedome hath the Lorde layde the foundation of the earth, and through vnderſtanding hath he ſtabliſhed the heauens.

20 Through his knowledge the depths are broken by, and the clouds drop downe the dewe.

21 My ſonne, let not theſe things depart from thine eyes, but keepe wiſedome and vnderſtanding:

22 So they ſhall bee life vnto thy ſoule, and grace vnto thy mouth.

23 When ſhalt thou walke ſafeſy in thy way, and thy foot ſhall not ſtumble.

24 If thou ſleepeſt, thou ſhalt not be afraid: but ſhalt take reſt, and ſleepe ſweetly.

25 Thou ſhalt not be afraid of any ſuddaine feare, neither for the violent ruſhing in of the bngodly when it commeth.

26 for the Lorde ſhall ſtand by thy ſide, and keepe thy foot that thou be not taken.

27 Withdraue no good thing from them that haue neede, ſo long as thine hand is able to doe it.

28 Say not to thy neighbour, Goe thy way, and come againe, and to morrowe will I giue thee: whereas thou haſt now to giue him.

29 Intend no hurt againſt thy neighbour, ſeeing he hopeth to dwell in reſt by thee.

30 Striue not with any man without a cauſe, whereas he hath done thee no harme.

31 * Followe not a wicked man, and chooſe none of his wayes:

32 for the Lord abhorreth the ſroward: but his counſell is among the righteous.

33 The curſe of the Lorde is in the houſe of the bngodly: but he bleſseth the dwellings of the righteous.

34 As for the ſcornfull, doeth hee not laugh them to ſcorne: but hee giueth grace vnto the lowly.

35 The wiſe ſhall haue honour in poſſeſſion: but ſhame is the promotiõ that fooles ſhall haue.

The iiij. Chapter.

Wiſedome and her fruits ought to be ſearched. 14 The way of the wicked muſt be reſuſed. 20 By the word of God, the heart, eyes, and courſe of life muſt be guided.

H Children, a fatherly inſtruction, take good heed, that ye may learne vnderſtanding.

2 for I haue giuen you a good doctrine, forſake not ye my lawe.

3 for when I my ſelfe was my fathers deare ſonne, and tenderly beloved of my mother:

4 He taught me alſo, and ſayd vnto me, Let thine heart receiue my wordes, keepe my commaundements, and thou ſhalt liue.

5 Get thee wiſedome, and get thee vnderſtanding: forget not the wordes of my mouth, and thinke not from them.

6 Forſake her not, and ſhee ſhall preſerue thee, loue her, and ſhee ſhall keepe thee.

7 The chiefe point of wiſedome, is to poſſeſſe wiſedome, and beſoze all thy goods, to get thee vnderſtanding.

8 Make much of her, and shee shall promote thee, yea, if thou embrace her, she shall bring thee vnto honour:
 9 Shee shall beautifie thy head with manifold graces, and garnish thee with a crowne of glory.
 10 Heare, my sonne, and receiue my wordes, and the yeeres of thy life shall be many.
 11 I haue the way the way of wisdom, and leade thee in the right path.
 12 So that if thou goest in them, there shall no straitnesse hinder thee: and when thou runnest, thou shalt not fall.
 13 Take fast holde of doctrine, and let her not goe: keepe her, for she is thy life.
 14 Come not in the path of the brigodly, and walke not in the way of the wicked.
 15 Abhorre it, and goe not therein, depart aside, and passe ouer by it.
 16 For they sleepe not except they haue done mischief: and sleepe is taken from them, vntill they haue done harme.
 17 For they eate the bread of wickednesse, and drinke the wine of robbery.
 18 The path of the righteous shineth, as the light that is euer brighter and brighter vnto the perfect day.
 19 But the way of the brigodly is as the darknesse, they know not where they fall.
 20 My sonne, marke my wordes, and encline thine eare vnto my sayings:
 21 Let them not depart from thine eyes, but keepe them euen in the middes of thine heart.
 22 For they are life vnto those that find them, and health vnto all their bodies.
 23 Keepe thine heart with all diligence: for out of it issueth life.
 24 Put away from thee a froward mouth: and let the lips of slander be farre from thee.
 25 Let thine eyes beholde that thing that is right: and let thine eye lids looke straight befoze thee.
 26 Ponder the path of thy feete, and let all thy wayes be ordered aright.
 27 Turne not aside neither to the right hand nor to the left: but withholde thy foote from euill.

The v. Chapter.

3 Whoredome forbidden, 9 and prodigalitie. 13 He willetch a man to liue on his labour, and to helpe others. 18 To loue his wife. 22 The wicked taken in their owne wickednesse.

My sonne, giue heed vnto my wisdom, and bowe thine eare vnto my prudence:
 2 That thou mayest regard good counsell, and that thy lips may keepe knowledge.
 3 For the lippes of a strange woman are a dropping honny combe, and her throate is more glittering then oyle:
 4 But at the last shee is as bitter as worme-wood, and as sharpe as a two edged sword.
 5 Her feete goe downe vnto death, and her steps pearce thozow vnto hell.
 6 Perchance thou wilt ponder the path of her life: so blindedfast are her wayes, that thou canst not know them.
 7 Heare me now therefore, O ye children, and depart not from the words of my mouth.

8 Keepe thy way farre from her, and come not nigh the doozes of her house.
 9 That thou giue not thine honour vnto ocher, and thy yeeres vnto the cruel.
 10 That other men be not filled with thy vertues, and that thy labours come not in a strange house:
 11 Yea, that thou mourne not at the last, when thou hast spent thy body and lustie youth, and then say, 12 Alas, why hated I nourture? why did my heart despise correction?
 13 Wherefoze was I not obedient vnto the boyce of my teachers, and hearkened not vnto them that enfourmed me?
 14 I was come almost into all misfortune, in the middes of the multitude and Congregation.
 15 Drink of the water of thine owne well, and of the riuers that runne out of thine owne spring.
 16 Let thy welles flow out abroad, that there may be riuers of waters in the streets:
 17 But let them be only thine owne, and not strangers with thee.
 18 Let thy well be blessed, and bee glad with the wife of thy youth.
 19 Let her bee as the louing Vinde and pleasant Roe: let her breasts alwaye satisfie thee, and holde thee euer content with her loue.
 20 Why wilt thou my sonne, haue pleasure in a strange woman? and embrace the bosome of a stranger?
 21 For euery mans wayes are open in the sight of the Lord, and hee pondereth all their goings.
 22 The wickednesse of the brigodly shall catch himselfe, & with the snares of his owne sinnes shall he be trapped.
 23 Hee shall die without amendement, and for his great foolishnesse he shall goe astray.

The vj. Chapter.

1 Instructions for sureties. 6 The slothful and sluggish stirred to worke. 12 He describeth the nature of the wicked. 16 The things that God hateth. 20 To obserue the worde of God. 24 To flee adulterie.

My sonne, if thou be suretie for thy neighbour, and hast fastened thine hand for another man,
 2 Thou art bound with thine owne wordes, and taken with thine owne speech.
 3 Therefore, my sonne, doe this, and thou shalt bee discharged: when thou art come into thy neighbors danger, go thy wayes then soone, humble thy selfe, and with thy friends intreat (thy creditour).
 4 Let not thine eyes sleepe, nor thine eye lids slumber.
 5 Saue thy selfe as a Doe from the hande of the hunter, and as a birde from the hand of the fowler.
 6 Goe to the Emmet, thou sluggard, consider her wayes, and learne to be wise:
 7 Shee hath no guide, nor overseer, nor ruler:
 8 Yet in the Sommer shee prouideth her meate, and gathereth her soode together in the harvest.

Content thy selfe with thine owne wit, and desire not of ocher.

Iob 34. 21.

Or, instruction.

Or, snared.

Or, neighbour.

Pro. 24. 32.

9 How long wilt thou sleepe, thou sluggish man? when wilt thou arise out of thy sleepe?
 10 Yea sleepe on still a little, slumber a little, fold thine handes together yet a little, that thou mayest sleepe:
 11 So shall pouertie come vnto thee as one that trauaileth by the way, and necessitie like a weaponed man.
 12 An vngodly person, a wicked man, goeth with a forward mouth.
 13 Hee winketh with his eyes, hee tokeneth with his secte, he teacheth with his fingers, 14 Hee is euer imagining mischief, and forwardnesse in his heart, and causeth discord.
 15 Therefore shall his destruction come hastily vpon him, suddenly shall hee be all to broken, and not to be healed.
 16 These sixe things doth the Lord hate, and the seuenth hee bitterly abhorreth:
 17 A proud looke, a lying tongue, hands that shed innocent blood,
 18 An heart that goeth about wicked imaginations, secte that are swift in running to mischief,
 19 A false witness that bringeth by lies, and him that soweth discord among biethren.
 20 Oh Sonne, keepe thy fathers commandement, and forsake not the law of thy mother.
 21 Tie them continually in thine heart, and binde them about thy necke.
 22 That shal leade thee when thou goest, preserve thee when thou art asleepe, and when thou awakest, talke with thee.
 23 For the Commandement is a lanterne, and the Law a light, yea chastening and nurture is the way of life:
 24 That they may keepe thee from the euill woman, and from the flattering tongue of the strange woman.
 25 Lust not after her beautie in thine heart, lest thou be taken with her faire lookes.
 26 By an harlot a man is brought to begge his bread, and a woman will hunt for the precious life of man.
 27 Wap a man take fire in his bosome, and not be burnt?
 28 Or can one goe vpon hote coales, and his feete not be burnt?
 29 Euen so, whosoever goeth in to his neighbours wife, and toucheth her, cannot bee vnguiltie.
 30 Men doe not bitterly despise a chiefe that stealeth to satisfie his soule when he is hungry:
 31 But if hee may bee gotten, hee reioiceth againe seuen times as much, or els he maketh recompence with all the good of his house.
 32 But who so committeth adultery with a woman, lacketh vnderstanding: and hee that doeth it, destroyeth his owne soule.
 33 Hee getteth himselfe a plague, and dishonour, and his reproch shall neuer be put out:
 34 For the ielousie and wrath of the man wil not be entreated,
 35 No though thou wouldest offer him great giftes to make amendes, hee will not receiue them.

The vij. Chapter.

1 An exhortation to wisdome, and to the word of God, 5 which will preserve vs from the harlot, 6 whose maners are described.

M

1 Sonne, keepe my wordes, and lay vp my commandements by thee.
 2 Keepe my commandements and my Law, euen as the apple of thine eye, and thou shalt liue.
 3 Binde them vpon thy fingers, and write them in the table of thine heart.
 4 Say vnto wisdome, Thou art my sister, and call vnderstanding thy kind woman:
 5 That they may keepe thee from the strange woman, and from the foraine woman, which giueth sweet words.
 6 For at the window of my house, I looked thow the window,
 7 And beheld among the simple people, and among the children, a young man void of wit,
 8 Going ouer the street by the corner in the way to ward her house,
 9 In the twilight of the euening, when it began now to be night and darke:
 10 And beholde, there mette him a woman, with open tokens of an harlot, onely her heart was hid:
 11 She was full of loud words, and ready to dally, whose secte could not abide in the house:
 12 Now is shee without, now in the streets, and lieth in waite at euery corner.
 13 Shee caught him, and killed him, and was not ashamed, saying,
 14 I had a boone of peace offerings to pay, and this day I performe it:
 15 Therefore came I forth to meete thee, that I might seeke thy face, and so haue I found thee.
 16 I haue deckt my bed with coverings of tapestrie, and clothes of Egypt.
 17 My bed haue I made to smell of myrrour, aloes, and cynamon.
 18 Come, let vs take our fill of loue vntill the morning, and let vs solace our selues with the pleasures of loue.
 19 For the good man is not at home, hee is gone farre off.
 20 Hee hath taken the bagge of money with him, and will returne at the appointed solemne feast.
 21 Thus with many sweete words shee ouercame him, and with her flattering lippes she enticed him.
 22 Suddenly hee followed her, as it were an ore led to the daughter, & like as it were a foole that laugheth when hee goeth to the stocks to bee punished,
 23 So long till shee had wounded his liuer with her dart: like as if a bird halst to the snare, not knowing that the perill of his life lieth thereupon.
 24 Heare me now therefore, O my childe, and marke the wordes of my mouth:
 25 Let not thine heart wander in her waies, and bee not thou deceiued in her paths.
 26 For many one hath hee wounded and cast downe, yea many a strong man hath bene slaine by the meanes of her.
 27 Her house is the way vnto hell, and bringeth men downe into the chambers of death.

The viij. Chapter.

1 Wisdome declareth her excellencie, 11 riches, 15 power, 22 eternitie. 32 Shee exhorteth all to loue and follow her.

Doeth not wisdomes cry: doeth not understanding put forth her voice?
 2 She standeth in the toppe of high places by the way, in the place of the paths:
 3 She crieth at the gates of the citie, at the entry of the doozes.
 4 It is you, O ye men, saith she, whom I call, into the children of men do I lift by my voyce.
 5 Take heede vnto knowledge, O ye ignorant, be ye wise in heart, O ye fooles.
 6 Giue eare for I will speake of great matters, and open my lippes to tell things that bee right:
 7 For my mouth shalbe talking of the truth, and my lips abhorre vngodlinesse.
 8 All the wordes of my mouth are righteous, there is no forwardnesse nor fals hood in them.
 9 They are all plaine to such as will understand, and right to them that finde knowledge.
 10 Receiue my doctrine, and not siluer, and knowledge rather then fine gold:
 11 * For wisdomes is moze worth then precious stones, yea all things that thou canst desire may not be compared vnto it.
 12 I wisdomes dwell with counsell, and finde out knowledge and understanding.
 13 The feare of the Lord abhorreth wickednesse, pride, disdain, and the euill way, and a mouth that speaketh wicked things, I utterly abhorre.
 14 Counsell is mine, and direction, I am understanding, and I haue strength.
 15 Through mee kings reigne, and princes, make iust lawes.
 16 By me princes beare rule, and noble men doe iudge the earth.
 17 I am louing vnto those that loue me: and they that seeke me earnestly, shall finde me.
 18 Riches and honour are with mee, yea, durable riches and righteousness.
 19 My fruite is better then golde and precious stones, and mine increase moze worth then fine siluer.
 20 I will guide thee in the way of righteousness, and in the middell of the paths of iudgement:
 21 That I may stablish the inheritance of them that loue me, and increase their treasure.
 22 * The Lord himselfe had mee in possession in the beginning of his wayes, or euer he began his workes afozetime.
 23 * I haue bene ordeined from euerlasting, and from the beginning, or euer the earth was made.
 24 When I was borne, there were neither depths, nor springs of water.
 25 Before the foundations of the mountaines were layd, yea, before all hills was I borne.
 26 The earth, and all that is vpon the earth was not yet made, no not the dust it selfe.
 27 For when hee made the heauens, I was present, when hee compassed the depths about:
 28 When he hanged the cloudes aboue, when he fastened the springs of the deepe,
 29 When hee shut the Sea within certaine bounds, that the waters should not go oter their markes that hee commanded, when hee layd the foundation of the earth.
 30 I was with him || ordering all things, delighting dayly, and reioycing alway before him.

 31 As for the round compasse of this world, I make it ioyfull: for my delight is to bee among the children of men.
 32 Therefore hearken vnto mee, O ye children: blessed are they that keepe my wayes.
 33 O giue eare vnto nourture, bee wise, and refuse it not: Blessed is the man that heareth mee, watching dayly at my gates, and giuing attendance at the posts of my doozes.
 34 For who so findeth mee, findeth life, and shall obtaine fauour of the Lord.
 35 But who so offendeth against me, hurteth his owne soule: and they that hate mee, are the louers of death.

The ix. Chapter.

2 Wisdomes calleth all to her feast. 7 The scorner wil not be corrected. 10 The feare of God. 13 The conditions of an harlot.

Wisdomes hath builded her house, and heuen out seuen pillars.
 2 Shee hath killed her victuals, potwred out her wine, and prepared her table.
 3 Shee hath sent forth her maydens to cry vpon the highest place of the citie,
 4 who so is without knowledge, let him come hither: And to the vnwise shee said,
 5 O come on your way, eate my bread, and drinke my wine which I haue potwred out for you.
 6 Forsake foolishnesse, and ye shall liue: and see that ye goe in the way of understanding.
 7 Who so reproveth a scoznerfull person, getteth himselfe dishonour: and hee that rebuketh the vngodly, staineth himselfe.
 8 Reproue not a scozner, lest hee owe thee euill will: but rebuke a wise man, and hee will loue thee.
 9 Giue a discret man but an occasion, and he will be the wiser: teach a righteous man, and he will increase in knowledge.
 10 * The feare of the Lord is the beginning of wisdomes: and the knowledge of holy things is understanding.
 11 For through mee thy daies shalbe prolonged, and the yeeres of thy life shalbe many.
 12 If thou be wise, thy wisdomes shall do thy selfe good: but if thou thinkest scozner thereof, it shalbe thine owne harme.
 13 A foolish rechelesse woman full of wordes, and such a one as hath no knowledge, 14 Sitteth at the dooze of her house, and in the high places of the citie,
 15 To call such as goe by, and that walke straight in her wayes.
 16 Who so is ignorant saith she, let him come hither: and to the vnwise shee saith, 17 Stolen waters are sweete, and the bread that is priniely eaten hath a good taste.
 18 And hee doeth not consider that they are but dead which be there, and that her ghests are in the deepe of hell.

The x. Chapter.

In this Chapter, and all that follow vnto the thirtie, the wise man exhorteth by diuers sentences, which hee calleth Parables, to followe vertue and flee vice, and sheweth also what profite commeth of wisdom, and what hinderance proceedeth of foolishnesse.

A wise sonne maketh a glad father: but an indiscreet sonne is an heauinesse vnto his mother.

2 Treasures that are wickedly gotten, profit nothing: but righteousness deliuereth from death.

3 The Lord will not let the soule of the righteous suffer hunger: but he taketh away the riches of the vngodly.

4 An idle hand maketh poore: but a quicke labouring hand maketh rich.

5 Who so gathereth in Sommer, is wise: but he that is sluggish in haruest, bringeth himselfe to confusion.

6 Blessings are vpon the head of the righteous: and the mouth of the vngodly keepeth mischief in secret.

7 The memorial of the iust that haue a good report: but the name of the vngodly shall sinke.

8 A wise man wil receiue warning: but a prating foole shall be punished.

9 He that walketh by rightly, walketh surely: but who so goeth a wrong way, shall be knowen.

10 *He that winketh with his eye, will cause sorrow: but he that hath a foolish mouth, shall be beaten.

11 The mouth of a righteous man is a well of life: but the mouth of the vngodly keepeth mischief in secret.

12 *Hatred stirreth by strifes: but loue couereth the multitude of sinnes.

13 In the lippen of him that hath vnderstanding, a man shall finde wisdom: but the rod belongeth to the backe of the foolish.

14 Wise men lay by knowledge: but the mouth of the foolish is migh destruction.

15 The rich mans goods are his strong hold: but the need of the poore is their porterie.

16 The labour of the righteous tendeth to life: but the fruits of the vngodly to sinne.

17 Nourture keepeth the way of life: but hee that refuseth to bee nourted, deceiueth himselfe.

18 He that hideth hatred with lying lips, and he that speaketh slander, is a foole.

19 Where much babling is, there must needs bee offence: and hee that refraineth his lips, is wise.

20 || The tongue of the iust man is as tried silver: but the heart of the vngodly is a thing of nougth.

21 The lips of the righteous feede a whole multitude: but fooles shall die in their owne folly.

22 The blessing of the Lord maketh rich: and bringeth no sorrow of heart with it.

23 A foole doeth wickedly, and maketh but a sport of it: but wisdom ruleth the man that hath vnderstanding.

24 The thing that the vngodly is afraid of, shall come vpon him: but the righteous shall haue their desire.

25 As the tempest, so passeth away the vngodly, and is not: but the righteous remaineth sure for euer.

26 As vinegar is to the teeth, and as smoke is vnto the eyes: euen so is a sluggish person to them that send him forth.

27 The feare of the Lord maketh a long life: but the pecces of the vngodly shall be shortned.

28 The patient abiding of the righteous shall bee turned to gladnesse: but the hope of the vngodly shall perish.

29 The way of the Lord giveth courage vnto the godly: but it is a feare for wicked doers.

30 The righteous shall neuer bee ouerthrowen: but the vngodly shall not remaine in the land.

31 The mouth of the iust will bee talking of wisdom: but the tongue of the froward shall be cut out.

32 The lips of the righteous better that which is acceptable: but the mouth of the vngodly speaketh froward things.

The xj. Chapter.

A false ballance is an abomination vnto the Lord: but a true weight pleaseh him.

2 Where pride is, there is shame also and confusion: but where as is lowlinesse, there is wisdom.

3 The innocent dealing of the iust shall leade them: but the wickednesse of the offenders shall be their owne destruction.

4 * Riches helpe not in the day of vengeance: but righteousness deliuereth from death.

5 The righteousness of the innocent ordereth his way: but the vngodly shall fall in his owne wickednesse.

6 The righteousness of the iust shall deliuer them: but the wicked shall be taken in their owne vngodlinesse.

7 * When an vngodly man dicth, his hope is gone: the confidence || of riches shall perish.

8 The righteous shall bee deliuered out of trouble: and the vngodly shall come in his stead.

9 The dissembler with his mouth hurteth his neighbour: but through knowledge shall the iust be deliuered.

10 When it goeth well with the righteous, the cite is mery: and when the vngodly perish, there is gladnesse.

11 In the blessing of the righteous, the cite is exalted: but it is ouerthrowen by the mouth of the wicked.

12 A foole slandereth his neighbour: but a wise man holdeth his peace.

13 A dissembling person will discover priuie things: but hee that is of a faithfull heart, will keepe counsell.

22 A faire woman without discreet manners, is like a ring of gold in a swines snout.

23 The desire of the righteous is acceptable: but the hope of the vngodly is indignation.

24 Some man giueth out his goods, and is the richer, but the niggard hauing enough, will depart from nothing, and yet is euer in pouerty.

25 Hee that is libe rall in giuing, shall haue plentie: and hee that watereth, shall be watered also himselfe.

26 Who so hoodweth by his come, shall be curled among the people: but blessing shall light vpon his head that giueth foode.

27 He that searcheth for good things, findeth fauour: but who so seeketh after mischief, it shall happen vnto him.

28 He that trusteth in his riches, shall haue a fall: but the righteous shall flourish as a greene leafe.

29 Who so maketh disquietnesse in his owne house, he shall haue a wind for his heritage: and the foole shall be seruant to the wise.

30 The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life: and he that winneth mens soules is wise.

The xij. Chapter.

Who so loueth correction, loueth knowledge: but he that hateth to be repproued, is a foole.

2 A good man is acceptable vnto the Lord: but the wicked imaginer will be condemne.

3 A man cannot endure in vngodlinesse: but the roote of the righteous shall not be moued.

4 A house wisely woman is a crowne vnto her husband: but she that behaueth her selfe vn-honestly, is as corruption in his bones.

5 The thoughts of the righteous are right: but the imaginations of the vngodly are deceitfull.

6 The talking of the vngodly is, how they may lay wait for blood: but the mouth of the righteous wil deliuer them.

7 God ouerturneth the estate of the wicked, and they stand not: but the house of the righteous shall stand.

8 A man shall be commended for his wisdom: but a foole shall be despised.

9 * He that is despised, and is yet his owne man, is better then the glorious that lacketh bread.

10 A righteous man regardeth the life of his cattell: but the vngodly haue cruel hearts.

11 * He that tilleth his land, shall haue plentiousnesse of bread: but he that followeth idle-nesse, is a very foole.

12 The desire of the vngodly is a net of euils: but the roote of the righteous bringeth forth fruit.

13 The wicked falleth into the snare through the malice of his owne mouth: but the iust shall escape out of all perill.

14 Man shall be satisfied with good things by the fruit of his mouth: and after the workes of his hands shall he be rewarded.

15 The way of a foole is straight in his owne eyes, but hee that hearkeneth vnto counsell, is wise.

16 A foole vttereth his wrath in all the haste: but a discrete man couereth his owne shame.

17 * A iust man will tell the crueth, and shew the thing that is right: but false witness deceiueth.

18 A slanderous person pricketh like a sword: but a mans tongue is wholesome.

19 The lip of truth shall be stable for euer: but a dissembling tongue is soone changed.

20 Deceit is in the heart of them that imagine euil: but to the counsellors of peace shall be toy.

21 There shall no aduersitie happen vnto the iust: but the vngodly shall be filled with miserie.

22 The Lord abhorreth lying lips: but they that deale truly please him.

23 A discrete man doth hide knowledge: but the heart of fooles babbleth out foolishnesse.

24 A diligent hand shall beare rule: but the idle shall be vnder tribute.

25 Meauinesse discourageth the heart of man: but a good word maketh it glad againe.

26 The righteous excelleth his neighbour: but the way of the vngodly will deceiue themselves.

27 The deceitfull man shall not roste that hee tooke in hunting: but the riches of the iust man is of great value.

28 In the way of righteousness there is life: and in the same way there is no death.

The xij. Chapter.

A wise sonne will hearken to his fathers warning: but hee that is scornfull will not heare when hee is repproued.

2 Of the fruit of a wise mans mouth shall each man eate good things: but the wicked shall eate of the fruit of the transgressors.

3 Hee that keepeth his mouth, keepeth his life: but who so rashly openeth his lips, destro- eth himselfe.

4 The niggard would faine haue, and cannot get his desire: but the soule of the diligent shall haue plenty.

5 A righteous man abhorreth lies: but the vngodly shameth himselfe, and is put to silence.

6 Righteousnesse keepeth the innocent in the way: but vngodlinesse doeth ouerthrow the sinner.

7 Get thee from a foolish man, when thou perceiuest not in him the lips of knowledge.

8 The wisdom of the circumspect man, is to vnderstand his way: but the foolishnes of the bwise deceiueth.

9 Fooles make but a spoyle of sin: but there is a fauourable loue among the righteous.

10 The heart knoweth his owne soules bit- terness: and the stranger shall not bee partaker of his ioy.

11 *The house of the vngodly shall bee over- thrown: but the tabernacle of the righteous shall flourish.

12 There is a way which seemeth right vnto a man: but the end thereof are the wayes of death.

15 The chearefull countenance of the King, is life: and his louing fauour is as a cloud of the latter raine.

16 To haue wisdom in possession, is better then to haue golde: and to get vnderstanding, is rather to be chosen then to haue siluer.

17 The path of the righteous is to eschew euill: and who so looketh well to his waies, hee peth his owne soule.

18 Pride goeth before destruction: and an high minde before the fall.

19 Better it is to bee of humble minde with the lowly, then to deuide the spoiles with the proude.

20 Hee that handleth a matter wisely, obtineth good: and blessed is hee that putteth his trust in the Lord.

4 A wicked body giueth heed to false lippes: and a liar giueth heed to a deceitfull tongue.

5 Whoso scorneth the poore, blasphemeth his maker: and hee that is glad at another mans hurt, shall not be unpunished.

6 Childzens children are a crowne of the aged: and the fathers are the honour of the children.

7 Speech of authoritie becommeth not a foole: much lesse a lying mouth then becometh a prince.

8 A gift is as a precious stone vnto him that hath it: but vnto whomsoeuer it turneth, it maketh him vnto wise.

9 Whoso couereth a fault, procureth loue: but he that discloseth it, diuideth very friends.

10 One reproue more feareth a wise man, then an hundred stripes doth a foole.

11 A seditious person seeketh mischief, and a cruell messenger shall be sent against him.

12 It were better to meet a shee beare robbed of her whelps, then a foole trusting in his foolishnesse.

13 Whoso rewardeth euill for good, euill shall not depart from his house.

14 The beginning of strife is as when a man maketh an issue of water: therefore leaue off before the contention be medleth with.

15 The Lord hateth as well him that iustifieth the vngodly, as him that condemneth the innocent.

16 Whereto hath a foole treasure in his hand to buy wisdome, seeing hee hath no minde thereto?

17 He is a friend that alway loueth: and in aduersity a man shall know who is his brother.

18 Whoso promitteth by the hand, and is surety for his neighbour, he is a foole.

19 He that delighteth in strife, loueth strife: and who seareth his doore too high, seeketh destruction.

20 Whoso hath a fro ward heart, obtineth no good: and he that hath a double tongue, shall fall into mischief.

21 He that begetteth a foole, begetteth his sorrow: and the father of a foole can haue no ioy.

22 A merry heart maketh a lusty age: but a sorrowfull minde drieth by the bones.

23 The vngodly taketh gifts out of the bosome, to wrest the wayes of iudgement.

24 Wisdome shineth in the face of him that hath vnderstanding: but the eyes of foolles wander thowout all lands.

25 An vndiscreet sonne is a griefe vnto his father, and an heauinesse vnto his mother.

26 Certainly, to condemne the iust, is not good: nor to strike the gouernours which iudge rightly.

27 A wise man useth few words: and a man of vnderstanding is of a patient spirit.

29 Pca, a very foole, when hee holdeth his tongue, is counted wise: and he that stoppeth his lips, is counted prudent.

The xvij. Chapter.

Verso hath an earnest desire to wisdome, he will sequester himselfe to seeke it, and occupy himselfe in all stedfastnesse and sound doctrine.

2 A foole hath no delight in vnderstanding: but only to vtter the fantasies of his owne heart.

3 When the vngodly commeth, then commeth also disdain: and with the dishonest person commeth shame and dishonour.

4 The words of a wise mans mouth are like deepe waters: and the well of wisdome is a full streame.

5 It is not good to regard the person of the vngodly, to ouerthrow the righteous in iudgement.

6 A foolles lips come with bratwling, and his mouth prouoketh vnto stripes.

7 A foolles mouth is his owne destruction, and his lips are the snare for his owne soule.

8 The wordes of a slanderer are verie wounds, and go thowout the innermost parts of the body.

9 Whoso is slothfull in his labour, is the brother of him that is a waster.

10 The name of the Lord is a strong castle, the righteous runneth into it, and is in safeguard.

11 The rich mans goods are his strong citie, and as an high wall in his owne conceit.

12 Before destruction, the heart of man is proud: and before honour goeth humility.

13 Hee that giueth sentence in a matter before he heare it, the same to him is folly and shame.

14 A good stomacke beareth out sickness: but the minde being sicke, who shall heale it?

15 A wise heart possesseth knowledge, and a prudent eare seeketh vnderstanding.

16 A mans gift maketh an open way to bring him before great men.

17 The righteous declareth his owne cause first himselfe, and his neighbour commeth and trieth him.

18 The lot cauleth variance to cease, and parteth the mighty asunder.

15 Slouthfulnesse bringeth sleepe, & a soule accustomed with craft, shall suffer hunger.

16 Whoso keepeth the commandment, keepeth his owne soule: but he that regardeth not his wayes, shall die.

17 He that hath pity vpon the poore, lendeth vnto the Lord: and looke what hee layeth out, || it shall be payed him againe.

18 Chasten thy sonne while there is hope: and let not thy soule spare for his crying.

19 A man of great wrath shall suffer punishment: and though thou once deliuer him, thou must do it againe.

20 D giue eare vnto good counsell, and be content to be reformed: that thou maiest be wise in thy latter dayes.

21 There are many detrices in a mans heart: neuertheless, the counsell of the Lord shall stand.

22 It is a mans worship to doe good: and a poore man is better then a liar.

23 The feare of the Lord bringeth a man to life: and he shall rest the whole night in plenteousnes without visitation of || any plague.

24 * A slouthfull man shutteth his hand into his bosome: and will not take paine to put it to his mouth.

25 * If thou smitest a scozfull person, the ignorant shall take better heed: and if thou reprovest one that hath vnderstanding, he will be the wiser.

26 He that || hurteth his father, or shutteth out his mother, is a shamefull and an vnworthy sonne.

27 By some, heare no more the doctrine that leadeh thee vnto errors from the words of vnderstanding.

28 A wicked witness mocketh iudgement: and the mouth of the vngodly || deuoureth wickednesse.

29 Iudgements are ordeined for the scozful, and stripes for the fooles backs.

The xx. Chapter.

Wine maketh a man to be scozefull, and strong drinke causeth a man to be briguiet: || whoso delighteth therein, shall not be wise.

2 The feare of the hing is as the roaring of a lion, whoso pro-uoketh him to anger, || offendeth against his owne soule.

3 It is a mans honour to keepe himselfe from strife: but euery foole will be meddling.

4 A slouthfull body will not go to plow, for cold of the winter, therefore shall he beg in summer, and haue nothing.

5 Counsell in the heart of man, is like deepe water: but a man of vnderstanding will draw it out.

6 Many there be that would be called good doers: but where shall one find a faithfull man?

7 The children of the iust man which walketh brightly, shall be blessed after him.

8 A king that sitteth in the throne of iudgement, chaseth a way all euill with his looke.

9 * Who can say, I haue made my heart cleane, I am pure from my sinne?

10 Two maner of weights, or two maner of measures, both these are abomination vnto the Lord.

11 A childe is knowne by his conuersation, whether his works be pure and right.

15 There is golde, and a multitude of precious stones: but the lips of knowlege are a precious iewel.

16 * Take his garment that is suretie for a stranger: and take a pledge of him for the vnknown sake.

17 A man liketh the bread that is gotten with deceit: but at the last his mouth shall be filled with grauell.

Eccle. 7.

Eccle. 34.

16 Whoso doth a pooze man wrong, to increase his owne riches, and giueth vnto the rich, at last commeth to pouerty himselfe.

17 Bowe downe thine eare and heare the words of the wise, apply thy minde vnto my doctrine:

18 For it is a pleasant thing if thou keepe them in thine heart, and order them in thy lips.

19 That thou mayst put thy trust in the Lord, I haue shewed thee this day: the thing that thou knowest.

20 Haue not I warned thee very oft with counsell and learning, 21 That I might make thee know the truth, that thou with the verity mightest answer them that lend vnto thee?

22 Robbe not the pooze, because he is pooze, and oppresse not the simple in iudgement.

23 For the Lord himselfe will defend their cause, and do violence vnto them that haue bled violence.

24 Make no friendship with an angry willfull man, and walke not with the furious, 25 Lest thou learne his wayes, and receiue hurt to thy soule.

26 Be not thou one of them that binde their hand vpon promise, and are sitrety for weighty causes.

27 For if thou hast nothing to pay, they shall take away thy bed from vnder thee.

28 Thou shalt not remooue the ancient land marke, which thy fore-elders haue set.

29 Seeke thou not that they which be diligent in their businesse, stand before kings, and not among the simple people?

The xxiiij. Chapter.

When thou sittest to eate with a noble man, consider diligently what is set before thee.

2 Measure thine appetite, if it be greedily set.

3 Be not desirous of his dainty meates, for meat beguileth and deceueth.

4 Take not ouer great trauell to be rich, beware of such a purpose.

5 Wilt thou set thine eyes vpon the thing which suddenly banisheth away? For riches make themselves wings like an eagle, and flee into the aire.

6 Eat thou not the bread of him that hath an euill eye: neither desire thou his dainty meat.

7 For as though he thought it in his heart, he sayth, Eat and drinke: whereas his heart is not with thee.

8 The morsels that thou hast eaten, shalt thou parbrace, and lose those sweet words.

9 Tell nothing into the eares of a foole: for he will despise the wisdom of thy words.

10 Remooue not the olde land marke, and come not within the field of the fatherlesse:

11 For their redeemer is mighty, euen he shall defend their cause against thee.

12 Apply thine heart vnto correction, & thine eares to the words of knowlege.

13 * Withhold not correction from the child: for if thou beatest him with the rod, he shall not die thereof:

14 If thou smite him with the rod, thou shalt deliuer his soule from hell.

15 My sonne, if thine heart receiue wisdom, my heart also shall reioyce:

16 Yea, my reins shall be very glad, & thy lips speake the thing that is right.

17 * Let not thine heart be zealous to offe to sinners, but keepe thee still in the feare of the Lord all the day long:

18 For verity there is an ende, and thy pretent abiding shall not be cut off.

19 My sonne, giue eare, and be wise, and se: straight thine heart in the way of the Lord.

20 Keepe not company with wine bibbers, and riotous eaters of flesh:

21 For such as be drunkards and riotous, shall come to pouerty: and hee that is giuen to much sleepe, shall go with a ragged coat.

22 Giue eare vnto thy father that begate thee, and despise not thy mother when she is old.

23 Purchase trueth, wisdom, nurture, and vnderstanding, and sell them not.

24 The father of the righteous shall greatly reioyce: and he that begetteth a wise child, shall haue ioy of him.

25 Doe so that thy father and mother may be glad of thee, and that she that bare thee may reioyce.

26 My sonne, giue me thine heart, & let thine eyes haue pleasure in my wayes:

27 For an whoze is a deepe graue, & a strange woman is a narrow pit.

28 Shee lieth in wait as for a pray, and increaseth the transgressours amongst men.

29 Who hath woe? who hath sorrow? who hath strife? who hath bawling? and who hath wounds without a cause?

30 Who hath red eyes? euen they that be euer at the wine, and seeke excess.

31 Looke not thou vpon the wine, how red it is, and what a colour it giueth in the glasse.

32 It goeth downe sweetly, but at the last it bitech like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder.

33 Thine eyes shall behold strange women, and thine heart shall utter lewd things:

34 Yea, thou shalt be as though thou layest in the midst of the sea, or sleepest vpon the top of the mast of a ship.

35 They haue beaten me, shalt thou say, and I was not sicke: they haue stricken me, and I felt it not: when I am well wakened, I will goe to the drinke againe.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

Be not thou enuious to followe wicked men, and desire not to be among them:

2 For their heart imagineth to doe hurt, and their lips talke mischief.

3 Through wisdom is an house builded, and with vnderstanding is it set by.

4 Through discretion shall the chambers be filled with all costly and pleasant riches.

5 A wise man is euer strong: yea, a man of vnderstanding increaseth strength.

6 For with discretion must warres be taken in hand: and whereas are many that can giue counsell, there is health.

7 Wisdom is too high a thing for a foole: for he dare not open his mouth in the gate.

8 He that imagineth mischief, may well be called an vngracious person.

and the scornfull is an abomination vnto men.

10 If thou faint in the day of aduersity, thy strength is small.

11 Welouer them that are drawn vnto death, and cease not to preferue them that are led to be slaine.

12 If thou wilt say, Behold, I knew not of it: doth not hee that pondereth the heart, consider it? And he that keepeth thy soule, knoweth he it not? Shall not hee also recompense euery man according to his works?

13 My sonne, eate thou hony, because it is good, and the hony combe, for it is sweet vnto thy mouth:

14 So sweet shall the knowledge of wisdome be vnto thy soule when thou hast found it: and there shall be hope, & thy hope shall not be cut off.

15 Lay not priuy wait (O wicked man) against the house of the righteous, and spoile not his resting place.

16 For a iust man falleth seuen times, and riseth by againe: but the vngodly fall into mischief.

17 Reioyce not thou at the fall of thine enemy, and let not thine heart be glad when hee stumbleth:

18 Lest the Lord when he seeth it, be angrie, and turne his wrath from him vnto thee.

19 fret not thy selfe because of the malicious, neither be enuious at the wicked:

20 For there shall be no ende of plagues to the wicked man, and the candle of the vngodly shall be put out.

21 My sonne, feare thou the Lord and the King, and keepe no companie with them that stande backe from his feare:

22 For their destruction shall rise suddenly: and who knoweth the aduersity that may come from them both?

THESE ARE ALSO THE SAYINGS OF THE WISE.

23 *It is not good to haue respect of any person in iudgement.

24 Hee that sayth to the vngodly, Thou art righteous: him shall the people curse, yea, the countinallty shall abhorre him.

25 But they that rebuke the vngodly, in them doeth God delight, and rich blessing shall come vpon them.

26 Euery man shall kisse his lips that giueth a good answer.

27 Make ready thy worke that is without, and looke well vnto that which thou hast in the field, and then build thine house.

28 Be not a false witness against thy neighbour, and speake no falshood with thy lips.

29 *Say not, I will handle him euen as he hath dealt with me, & will reward euery man according to his deeds.

30 I went by the field of the sloothfull, and by the vineyard of the foolish man:

31 And loe, it was all covered with nettles, and stood full of thornes, and the stone wall was broken downe.

32 This I saw, and considered it well: I looked vpon it, and tooke it for a warning.

33 Pea sleepe on thill I say, a little, vnto a little, folde thy hands together yet a little:

34 So shall pouerty come vnto thee as one that trauellet by the way, and necessitie like a weaponed man.

These are also parables of Solomon, which the men of Hezekia king of Iuda copied out.

It is the glory of God to keepe a thing secret: but the kings honour is to search out a thing.

2 The heauen is high, the earth is deepe: and the kings heart is vnsearchable.

3 Take the dross from the siluer, and there shall be a vessel for the finer.

4 Take away the vngodly from the king, and his sea shall be stablished with righteousness.

5 Put not forth thy selfe in the presence of the king, and presse not into the place of great men:

6 *For better is it that it be sayd vnto thee, Come by hither: then thou to be put lower in the presence of the prince whom thou seest with thine eyes.

7 Be not hasty to goe to law: lest happily thou knowest not what to doe when thy neighbour hath confounded thee.

8 Handle thy matter with thy neighbour himselfe, and discouer not thy secret to another:

9 Lest he that heareth it, put thee to shame, and thine infamy do not cease.

10 A word spoken in due season, is like apples of golde in a grained worke of siluer.

11 Whoso reprooueth a wise man that hath an obedient eare, is as a golden eartering, and an ornament of fine golde.

12 As the cold of know in the time of harvest: so is a faithful messenger to them that send him, for he refresheth his masters minde.

18 The confidence that is put in an vnfaithfull man in time of trouble, is like a broken tooth and a sliding foot.

19 Whoso taketh away a mans garment in the colde weather, is like vineger vpon lime, or like him that singeth songs to an heauy heart.

20 *If thine enemy hunger, feed him, if hee thirst, giue him drinke:

21 For so shalt thou heape coales of fire vpon his head, and the Lord shall reward thee.

22 The North wind driueth away the raine: euen so doth an angry countenance a backbiters tongue.

23 *It is better to sit in a corner vpon the house toppe, then with a brawling woman in a wide house.

25 But when he speaketh faire, beleue him not, for there are seuen abominations in his heart.

26 Hatred may be covered by deceit: but the malice thereof shall be shewed before the whole congregation.

6 Faithfull are the wounds of a louer: but the kisses of an enemy are cruell.

7 * He that is full, abhorreth an hony combe: but vnto him that is hungry, euery souer tyng is sweet.

8 He that oft times sitteth, is like a bird that forsaketh her nest.

9 Balme and sweet incense make the heart merry: so, sweet is that friend that giueth counsell from the heart.

10 Thine owne friend and thy fathers friend see thou forsake not, and goe not into thy brothers house in time of thy trouble: for better is a friend at hand then a brother farr off.

11 Thy sonne, be wise, and make me a glad heart, that I may make answer vnto my rebuffers.

12 A wise man seeing the plague, will hide himselfe: as for fooles, they go on still and suffer harme.

13 * Take his garment that is suretie for a stranger, and take a pledge of him for the vnknown sake.

14 * Hee that is too hasty to praise his neighbour about measure, shall be taken as one that giueth him an euill report.

15 A brawling woman and the rooffe of the house dropping in a rainy day, may well be compared together:

16 He that stilleth her, stilleth the winde, and stoppeth the smell of ointment in his hand.

17 Like as one vpon whereth another, so doth one man comfort another.

18 Whoso keepeth his figge tree, shall eat the fruits thereof, so he that waiteth vpon his master, shall come to honour.

19 * Like as in one water there appeare diuers faces: euen so diuers men haue diuers hearts.

20 Hell and destruction are neuer full: euen so the eyes of men can neuer be satisfied.

21 * As is the lining pot for the siluer, and the furnace for gold: so is a man tried by the mouth of him that praisech him.

22 Though thou wouldest buy a foole with a peeble in a mortar like firmity corne: yet will not his foolishnesse go from him.

23 Be thou diligent to know the state of thy cattell thy selfe, and looke well to thy flockes.

24 For riches abideth not alway, and the crowne endureth not for euer.

The xxviiij. Chapter.

He vngodly fleeth when no man pursueth him : but the righteous are bolde as a lion.

2 For the wickednesse of the land, the prince is oft changed : but through a man of vnderstanding & wisdom, a realme endureth long.

3 One pooze man oppressing another by violence, is like a raging raine that destroyeth the fruit.

4 They that forsake the law, praise the vngodly : but such as keepe the law, are grieved at them.

5 Wicked men vnderstand not iudgement : but they that seeke the Loyde, vnderstand all things.

6 * Better is the pooze that walketh in his byrightnes, then he that peruerteth his wayes, and is rich.

7 Whoso keepeth the law, is a childe of vnderstanding : but he that is a companion of riotous men, shameth his father.

8 He that by vsury and vnjust gaines gathereth riches : hec shall lay them in store for a man that will pite the pooze.

9 He that turneth away his eare from hearing the law, his prayer shall be abominable.

10 Whoso causeth the righteous to go astray by an euill way, shall fall into his owne pit : but the iust shall haue good things in possession.

11 The rich man thinketh himselfe to be wise : but the pooze that hath vnderstanding, can perceiue him well enough.

12 When righteous men doe reioyce, there is great gloyp : but when the wicked come vp, the man is tried.

13 He that hideth his sinnes, shall not prosper : but whoso knowledgeth them, and forsaketh them, shall haue mercy.

14 Well is him that standeth alway in awe : as for him that hardeneth his heart, he shall fall into mischief.

15 As a roaring lion and an hungry beare, so is an vngodly prince ouer the pooze people.

16 Where the prince is without vnderstanding, there is great oppression and wrong : but if he hateth couetousnesse, he shall long reigne.

17 Hee that by violence sheddeth any mans blood, shall be a runnagate vnto his graue, and no man shall be able to succour him.

18 Whoso leabeth an innocent life, shall be saued : but he that goeth fro ward waies, shall once haue a fall.

19 * He that tilleth his land, shall haue plenteousnesse of bread : but hee that followeth idle persons, shall haue pouerty enough.

20 A faithfull man shall be filled with blessings : * and he that maketh haste to be rich, shall not be vnguilty.

21 To haue respect of persons in iudgement, is not good, for that man will do wrong, yea, euen for a peece of bread.

22 He that will be rich all too soone, hath an euill eye, and considereth not that pouerty shall come vpon him.

23 He that following my precepts, rebuketh a man, shall find more fauour at the last, then he that flattereth him.

24 Whoso robbeth his father and mother, and sayth it is no sinne : the same is the companion of a destroyer.

25 He that is of a proud stomache, stirreth vp strife : but he that putteth his trust in the Loyd, shall be well fed.

26 Hee that trusteth in his owne heart, is a foole : but he that dealeth wisely, shall be safe.

27 Hee that giueth vnto the pooze, shall not lacke : but hee that hideth his eyes from them, shall haue many a curse.

28 When the vngodly are come vp, men are faine to hide themselues : but when they perish, the righteous increafe.

The xxix. Chapter.

He that is stifnecked, and will not be reformed, shall suddenly be destroyed without any helpe.

2 When the righteous are in authority, the people do reioyce : but when the wicked beare rule, the people mourne.

3 Whoso loueth wisdom, maketh his father a glad man : * but he that keepeth companie with harlots, spendeth away that he hath.

4 With true iudgement the king stablisheth the land : but if he be a man that oppresseth the people with gatherings, hee turneth it vpside downe.

5 Whoso flattereth his neighbour, layeth a net for his feet.

6 The sinne of the wicked is his owne snare : but the righteous doth sing and reioyce.

7 The righteous considereth the cause of the pooze : but the vngodly regardeth no vnderstanding.

8 Scozefull men bring a city into a snare : but wise men turne away wrath.

9 If a wise man contendeth with a foole : whether he be angry or laugh, there is no rest.

10 The bloodthirsty hate the righteous : but the iust seeke his soule.

11 A foole vttereth all his minde at once : but a wise man keepeth it in till after ward.

12 If a prince delight in lies, all his seruants are vngodly.

13 The pooze and the lender meet together, and the Loyd lightneth both their eyes.

14 The feare of the king that faithfully iudgeth the pooze, shall continue sure for euermore.

15 The rod and correction giueth wisdom, but a childe left to his owne will, bringeth his mother to shame.

16 When the vngodly are multiplied, wickednesse increaseth : but the righteous shall see their fall.

17 Purture thy sonne with correction, and thou shalt be at rest : yea, he shall do thee good at thine heart.

18 When the word of God is not preached, the people perish : but well is him that keepeth the law.

26 Many there be that seeke the Princes fauour: but euery mans iudgement commeth from the Lorde.

27 The righteous abhorreth the vngodly: and the wicked hateth him that is in the right way.

The xxx. Chapter.

The purenesse of the word of God, & what we ought to require of God, with certeine wonderful things that are in this world.

¶ THE WORDS OF AGUR THE SONNE OF IAKE,

1 And the prophesie that the same man spake vnto Jthiel, euen vnto Jthiel and Jthal.

2 Surely I am more foolish then any man, and haue no mans vnderstanding.

3 I neuer learned wisdom, nor had knowledge of holy things.

4 Who hath climed vnto heauen, and come downe from thence? who hath holden the winde fast in his hand? who hath gathered together the waters in a garment: who hath established all the endes of the world? what is his name, and what is his sonnes name, if thou canst tell?

5 * Every word of God is pure: he is a shield vnto all them that put their trust in him.

6 * Put thou nothing vnto his words, lest he reprove thee, and thou be found a liar.

7 Two things haue I required of thee, O Lord: denie me them not before I die.

8 Remouie farre from me vanity and lies, giue me neither pouerty nor riches, only grant me a necessary liuing.

9 Lest peradventure I being full should denie thee, and say, who is the Lord? or being oppressed with pouerty, fall to stealing, and forsweare the name of my God.

10 Accuse not a seruant vnto his master, lest he speake euill of thee, and thou be hurt.

11 There is a generation that curseth their father, and doth not blesse their mother.

12 There is a generation that thinke themselves cleane, and yet is not cleansed from their filthinesse.

13 There is a generation that hath a proud looke, and doth cast by their eye lids.

14 There is a generation whose teeth are as swords, and their iawes as limies to deuoure the pooze from off the earth, and the needie from among men.

15 The horse leach hath two daughters, crying, Bring hither, bring hither. There be three things that are neuer satisfied, yea, foure things say neuer, Ho:

16 The graue, the barren wombe, and the earth that hath neuer water enough: as for fire, it saith neuer, Ho.

17 Whoso laugheth his father to scoorne, and setteth his mothers commandement at nought, the rauens of the balley picke out his eyes, and deuoured be he of the pong egles.

18 There be three things which are wonderful to me, yea, foure which passe my vnderstanding:

19 The way of an eagle in the aire, the way of a serpent vpon a stone, the way of a ship in the muddes of the sea, and the way of a man with a pong woman.

20 Such is the way also of a wise that breaketh wedlocke, which wipeth her mouth like as when she hath eaten, and saith, As for me, I haue done no wickednesse.

21 For three things the earth is disquieted, and the fourth may it not abide.

22 A seruant that beareth rule, a foole that is full fed.

23 A spightfull woman when shee is married, and an handmaid that is heire to her mistress.

24 There be foure things in the earth the which are very little, but in wisdom they exceed the wife:

25 The emnets are but a weake people, which yet gather their meat in the Summer:

26 The comies are but a feeble folke, yet make their borroughs among the rocks:

27 The grasshoppers haue not a guide, yet go they forth together by heaps:

28 The spider laboureth with her hands, and is in kings palaces.

29 There be three things that goe well, yea, foure are comely in going.

30 A lion which is strongest among beasts, and thurneth not at the sight of any.

31 A grayhound strong in the hinder parts, a ram also, and a hing against whom no man ariseth vp.

32 If thou hast done foolishly when thou wast in high estate, or if thou hast taken euill counsell, then lay thine hand vpon thy mouth.

33 Whoso churneth milke, bringeth forth butter, and he that rubbeth his nose, maketh it bleed: euen so hee that forreth wrath, bringeth forth strife.

14 She is like a merchants ship, that bringeth her victuals from afarre.
15 She is vp in the night season, to provide meat for her householde, and food for her maidens.
16 She considereth land, and buyeth it: and with the fruit of her hands she planteth a vineyard:

19 She layeth her fingers to the spindle, and her hand taketh holde of the distaffe.
20 She openeth her handes to the poore, yea, shee stretcheth forth her handes to such as haue need.
21 Shee feareth not that the colde of winter shall hurt her householde, for all her householde folks are clothed with scarlet.
22 She maketh herselfe faire ornaments, her clothing is white like and purple.
23 Her husband is much set by in the gates, when he sitteth among the rulers of the land.
24 She maketh cloth of lilke, and selleth it, and deliuereth girdles vnto the merchant.
25 Strength and honour is her clothing, and in the latter dayes she shall reioyce.
26 She openeth her mouth with wisdom, and in her tongue is the law of grace.
27 She looketh wel to the waies of her householde, and eateth not her bread with idleness.
28 Her children arise by, and call her blessed, and her husband shall make much of her.
29 Many daughters there bee that gather riches together: but thou goest aboute them all.
30 As for fauour it is deceitfull, and beautie is a vaine thing: but a woman that feareth the Lord, shall be praised.
31 Sure her of the fruit of her hands: and let her owne woorks praise her in the gates.

The end of the Prouerbs of Solomon.

The Booke of the Preacher, otherwise called Ecclesiastes, which is Solomon the King.

FOR Solomon is called in Scripture by three sundry names. The one, Solomon, that is, The maker of peace. The second, Idida, that is, Beloued of God. The third, Ecclesiastes, that is, A Preacher, teaching that true & eternall felicity consisteth not in any worldly wisdom, or abundance of riches, or in carnall pleasure, which all be but vaine and transitory: but he proueth that true felicity consisteth in a whole ioyning our selues to God by pure religion, that is, with a syncere faith and the feare of God, obseruing his commandements.

The first Chapter.

2 All things in this world are full of vanitie, and of none endurance. 13 All mans wisdom is but folly and griefe.

In the wordes of the Preacher the sonne of Dauid king of Hierusalem.

2 All is but most vaine vanitie, sayth the Preacher, and all is most vaine, I say, and but plaine vanitie.

3 For what els hath a man of all the labour that he taketh vnder the sunne?

4 One generation passeth away, another cometh: but the earth abideth still.

5 The sunne ariseth, the sunne goeth down, and returneth to his place, that hee may there rise againe.

6 The wind goeth toward the South, and turneth vnto the North, fetcheth his compasse, whirlith about, and goeth forth, and returneth againe to his circuits from whence he did come.

7 All floods runne into the sea, and yet is the sea it selfe not filled: for looke vnto what place the waters runne, thence they come to flow againe.

8 All things are so hard to be knowen, that no man can expresse them: the eye is not satisfi- ed with sight, the eare is not filled with hearing.

9 The thing that hath bene, cometh to passe againe, and the thing that hath bene done, shall be done againe: there is no new thing vnder the sunne.

Ecl. 1

a He doth not condemne the creatures and gifts of God as euill: but for euill, seeming delictus, and the vnto and that that man hath in world. 12 13 14 15

10 Is there any thing whereof it may be sayd, Loe, this is newe? for it was long agoe in the times that haue bene before vs.

11 The thing that is past is out of remembrance: euen so the things that are for to come, shall no moze bee thought vpon among them that come after.

12 I my selfe the Preacher was king of Iherusalem.

13 And did applie my minde to seeke out and search for the knowledge of all things that are done vnder heauen: (Such trauaile and labour hath God giuen vnto the children of men, to exercise themselues therein.)

14 Thus haue I considered all these things that come to passe vnder the sunne: and loe, they are all but banitie and vberation of minde.

15 The crooked cannot be made straight, nor the imperfection of things can be numbred.

16 I communed with mine owne heart, saying, Loe, I am come to great estate, and haue gotten moze wisdom than all they that haue bene before me in Iherusalem.

17 Yea, my heart had great experience of wisdom and knowledge: for therunto I applied my minde, that I might know what were wisdom and vnderstanding, what were error and foolishnes: and I perceiued that this was also but a vberation of mind.

18 For where much wisdom is, there is also great trauaile and disquietnesse: and the moze knowledge a man hath, the moze is his care.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Pleasure, sumptuous buildings, riches, and possessions are but vanity. 14 The wife and the foole haue both one end touching the bodily death.

Then said I thus in my heart, Now goe to, I will take mine ease, and haue good dayes: but loe, that is banitie also.

2 Insomuch that I sayd vnto the man giuen to laughter, Thou art mad: and to mirth, What doest thou?

3 So I thought in my heart to giue my flesh vnto wine, and againe to applie my minde vnto wisdom, and to comprehend foolishnesse: vntill the time that among all the things which are vnder the Sunne, I might see what were best for men to doe so long as they liue vnder heauen.

4 I made gorgeous faire workes: I builded my house, and planted vineyards.

5 I made mee Orchards and Gardens of pleasure, planted trees in them of all maner of fruits.

6 I made pooles of water, to water the green and fruitfull trees withall.

7 I bought seruants and maidens, and had a great household: as for cattell and sheepe I had moze substance of them, then all they that were before me in Iherusalem.

8 I gathered together siluer and gold, and the chiefe treasures of kings and lands: I haue prouided mee men singers and women singers, and the delights of the sonnes of men, as a woman taken captiue, and women taken captiues.

9 And I was greater and in moze worship then all my predecesors in Iherusalem, for wisdom remained with me.

10 And looke whatsoeuer my eyes desired, I let them haue it: and wherein soeuer my heart delighted or had any pleasure, I withheld it not from it: Thus my heart reioiced in all that I did, and this was my portion of all my trauaile.

11 But when I considered all the workes that my hands had wrought, and all the labour that I had taken therein: loe, all was but banitie and vberation of minde, and nothing of any value vnder the Sunne.

12 Then turned I me to consider wisdom, error, and foolishnesse (for what is hee among men that might be compared to mee the king in in such workes?)

13 And I sawe that wisdom excelleth foolishnesse, as farre as light doth darkenesse.

14 For a wife man hath his eyes in his head, but the foole goeth in darkenesse: I perceiued also that they both had one end.

15 Then thought I in my minde, If it happen vnto the foole as it doth vnto me, what needeth me then to labour any moze for wisdom? So I confessed within my heart that this also was but banitie.

16 For the wise are euer as little in remembrance as the foolish: for the dayes shall come, when all shall be forgotten: yea, the wife man dieth as well as the foole.

17 Thus began I to bee weary of my life, in somuch that I could away with nothing that is done vnder the Sunne: for all was but banitie and vberation of minde.

18 Yea, I was wearie of my labour which I had taken vnder the Sunne, because I should bee faine to leaue them vnto another man that cometh after me.

19 And who knoweth whether hee shall be a wife man or a foole? and yet shall hee bee lord of all my labours, which I with such wisdom haue taken vnder the Sunne: This is also a vaine thing.

20 So I turned mee to refraine my minde from all such trauaile as I tooke vnder the Sunne.

21 For asmuch as a man should weary himselfe with wisdom, with vnderstanding and opportunitie, and yet bee faine to leaue his labours vnto another that neuer sweate for them: This is also a vaine thing, and great miserie.

22 For what getteth a man of all the labour and trauaile of his minde, that he taketh vnder the Sunne.

23 But heauinesse, sorrow, and disquietnesse all the dayes of his life: in somuch that his heart can not rest in the night? This is also a vaine thing.

24 Is it not better then for a man to eate and drinke, and his soule to bee merie in his labour? yea, I sawe that this also is a gift of God.

25 For who will eate, or goe moze lustily to his worke then I.

26 And why? God giueth to the man that is good before him, wisdom, vnderstanding, and gladnesse: but vnto the sinner hee giueth wearinesse, that he may gather and heape together the thing that after ward shall be giuen vnto him whom it pleaseth God: This is not a vaine thing, yea, a verie disquietnesse and vberation of minde.

God hath appointed that men should be obedient to godlikeness, as to his king: and not to be led with carnal affection.

Pro. 17. 24.

They both suffer like accidents in this world, as regarding the corruption of the body, they be both alike.

Meaning, in this way.

That he might seeke the true felicitie which is in God.

Ye rebeth men that make careful provision to enrich their houses by dishonest means, to their own damnation, not knowing who or what they shall be after good or bad.

is not this power that is in the heart of God.

proueth our sins, true felicitie consisteth not in worldly pleasure, where is no contentment in a mans life. The more of worldly pleasure and length of life. For that which is the fruit of goodnesse, may be had too much pleasure in the world: and all the time banitie comparison good felicitie. An affirmeth to come to the end.

The iij. Chapter.

1 All things have their time. 14 The workes of God are perfect, and cause vs to feare him. 17 God shall iudge both the iust and vniust.

Every thing hath a time, yea, all that is vnder the heauen hath his conuenient season.

2 There is a time to be borne, and a time to die: there is a time to plant, and a time to plucke by the thing that is planted.

3 A time to slay, and a time to make whole: a time to breake downe, and a time to build vp.

4 A time to weepe, and a time to laugh: a time to mourne, and a time to daunce.

5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together: a time to embrace, and a time to refraine from embracing.

6 A time to win, and a time to lose: a time to spare, and a time to spend.

7 A time to cut in pieces, and a time to sowe together: a time to keepe silence, and a time to speake.

8 A time to loue, and a time to hate: a time of waite, and a time of peace.

9 What hath a man els that doth any thing, but wearinesse and labour?

10 For as touching the trauaile and carefulnes which God hath giuen vnto men, I see that he hath giuen it them to be exercised in it.

11 All things hath he made beautiful in their time, yea, further then this, hee hath planted the woord in their hearts, that man may not comparend the woorkes that God maketh from the beginning to the end.

12 So I perceiued that in those things there is nothing better for a man then to bee merrie, and to doe well as long as he liueth.

13 For all that a man eateth and drinketh, yea, whatsoeuer a man enioyeth of all his labour, that same is a gift of God.

14 I considered also, that whatsoeuer God doeth, it continueth for euer, and that nothing can be put vnto it, nor taken from it, and that God doeth it, to the intent that men should feare him.

15 The thing that hath bene, is now: and the thing that is for to come, hath bene afozetime: for God reclozeth againe the thing that was past.

16 Moreover, I sawe vnder the Sunne vngodlinesse in the stead of iudgement, and iniquitie in the stead of righteousnesse.

17 Then thought I in my mind, God shall separate the righteous from the vngodly: and then shall be the time and iudgement of all counsels and workes.

18 I conunured with mine owne heart also concerning the children of men, howe God hath chosen them, and yet letteth them appeare as though they were beasts.

19 For it happeneth vnto men, as it doeth vnto beasts, euen one condition vnto them both: as the one dieth, so dieth the other: yea, they haue both one maner of breath: so that in this, a man hath no preeminence aboue a beast, but are all subdued vnto vanitie.

20 They go all vnto one place: for as they be all of dust, so shal they all turne vnto dust againe.

21 Who knoweth the spirit of man that goeth vpward, and the breath of the beast that goeth downe to the earth?

22 Wherefore I perceiue that there is nothing better for a man, then to be ioyfull in his labour, for that is his portion: but who will bring him to see the thing that shall come after him?

The iij. Chapter.

1 The innocent are oppressed. 4 Mens labours are full of abuse and vanitie. 9 Mans society is necessarie. 13 A yong man poore and wise, is to be preferred before an old king that is a foole.

SO I turned me, and considered all the violent wrong that is vnder the Sunne: and behold, the teares of such as were oppressed, a there was no man to comfort them, or that would deliuer and defend them from the violence of their oppressours.

2 Wherefore I iudged those that are dead, to be more happie then those that be aliue:

3 Yea, him that is yet vnborne, to be better at ease then they both: because hee seeth not the miserable workes that are done vnder the Sun.

4 Againe, I saw that all trauaile and diligence of labour that euery man taketh in hand, was done of enuie against his neighbour: this is also a baine thing, and a deration of minde.

5 The foole foldeth his hands together, and eateth by his owne flesh.

6 One handfull (saith hee) is better with rest, then both the handes full with labour and trauaile of minde.

7 Moreover, I turned me, and beholde yet another vanitie vnder the Sunne:

8 There is one man, no more but himselfe alone, hauing neither childe nor brother, yet is there no end of his careful trauaile, his eyes can not be satisfied with riches: yet sayth he not, for whom doe I take such trauaile? for whose pleasure doe I thus consume away my life? This is also a baine and miserable thing.

9 Therefore two are better then one, for they may well enioy the profite of their labour: for if one of them fall his companion helpeth him vp againe.

10 But woe is him that is alone, for if he fall, he hath not another to helpe him vp.

11 Againe, when two sleep together they are warme: but howe can a bodie be warme alone?

12 One may bee overcome, but two may make resistance: a three fold gable is not lightly broken.

13 A poore child being wise, is better then an olde king that doteth, and cannot beware in time to come.

14 Some one commeth out of prison, and is made a king, and another which is borne in the kingdome, commeth vnto povertie.

15 And I perceiued that all men liuing vnder the Sunne: goe with the second childe, that shall stand vp in the stead of the other.

16 As for the people that haue bene before him, and that come after him, they are innumerable, and they that come after him shall not reioice of him: this is also a baine thing, and deration of minde.

17 When thou comest into the house of God, keepe thy foot, and drawe nigh, that God which is at hand may heare, that thou giue not the offerings of foolles: for they know nought, but to doe euill.

a Although true felicitie is not to be put in any worldly thing: yet God hath appointed all necessarie things to be done in due time, order, and measure.

b God hath appointed that euery man should diligently translate the paines in his vocacion, to the end he would thank him humble and feare God.

c There is no difference betwixt a man and a beast as touching the lawes, which of them both dyeth: but the fault of man liueth immortally, and the body of man liueth vp againe by the mightie power of the spirit of God. d The immortalitye of the soule is not knowne by carnall reason or sense: but by the word and spirit of God. Or, of the children of men.

Or,

a The things of the world are vanity, and the heart is weary of them. b The man that is wise, shall be hated of the multitude. c The man that is rich, shall be hated of the multitude. d The man that is poor, shall be hated of the multitude.

e Or,

Or, will receive a monition. f The man that is rich, shall be hated of the multitude. g The man that is poor, shall be hated of the multitude. h The man that is wise, shall be hated of the multitude.

The v. Chapter.

1 Not to speake lightly, chiefly in Gods matters, 9 The couetous can neuer haue enough,

Be not hasty with thy mouth, and let not thine heart speake any thing rashly before God, for God is in heauen, & thou vpon earth: therefore let thy words be few.

2 For where much carefulnesse is, there are many dreames: and where many wordes are, there men may heare foolcs.

3 If thou make a vowe vnto God, be not slacke to performe it: as for foolish vowes, hee hath no pleasure in them: if thou promise any thing, pay it.

4 For better is it that thou make no vowe, then that thou shouldest promise, and not pay.

5 Suffer not thy mouth to cause thy flesh for to sinne, neither say thou before the Angel, that it is thy ignorance: for then God will be angry at thy voice, & destroy all the worke of thine hands.

6 And why? whereas are many dreames, and many wordes, there are also diuers vanities, but looke that thou feare God.

7 If thou feele the poore to be oppressed, and wrongfully dealt withall, so that equitie and right of the law is wrested in the land, maruell not thou at such a thing: for he that is higher then the highest, regardeth, and there be higher then they.

8 The increase of the earth byholdeth all things: yea, the king himselfe is mainteined by husbandry.

9 He that loueth money, will neuer be satisfied with money: and he that loueth riches shall be without the fruit therof: This is also a vaine thing.

10 Whereas much riches is, there are many also that spend them away: and what pleasure moze hath he that possesseth them, sauing that he may looke vpon them with his eyes?

11 A labouring man slepeth sweetly, whether it be little or much that he eateth: but the abundance of the rich will not suffer him to sleepe.

12 Yet there is a sore plague which I haue seene vnder the sunne, namely, riches kept to the hurt of him that hath them in possession:

13 For often times they perish with his great misery and trouble: and if he haue a child, it getteth nothing.

14 Like as he came naked out of his mothers wombe, so goeth he thither againe, and carrieth nothing away with him of all his labour.

15 This is a miserable plague, that he shall go euen as he came away: what helpeth it him then that he hath laboured in the winde?

16 All the dayes also of his life hee did eat in the darke with great carefulnesse, sicknesse, and sorrow.

17 Therefore me thinketh it a better and a fairer thing a man to eat and drinke, and to be refreshed of all his labour that he taketh vnder the sunne, all the dayes of his life which God giueth him: for this is his portion.

18 For vnto whomsoeuer God giueth riches, goods, and power, he giueth it him to enioy it, to take it for his portion, and to be refreshed of his labour: this is the gift of God.

19 For hee thinketh not much how long hee shall liue, forasmuch as God filleth his heart with gladnesse.

The vj. Chapter.

The miserable estate of him to whom God hath giuen riches, and not the grace to vse them.

Here is yet a plague vnder the sun, and it is a generall thing among men: when God giueth a man riches, goods and honour, so that he wanteth nothing of all that his heart can desire, and yet God giueth him not leaue to enioy the same, but another man spendeth them: This is a vaine thing, and a miserable plague.

2 If a man beget an hundred children, and liue many yeeres, so that his dayes are many in number, and yet cannot enioy his good, neither be buried, as for him, I say, that vntimely birth is better then he.

3 For he commeth to nought, & spendeth his time in darknesse, and his name is forgotten.

4 Moreover, he seeth not the Sunne, and knoweth not of it: and yet hath he moze rest then the other.

5 Yea, though he liued two thousand yeeres, yet hath he no good life: Come not all to one place?

6 All the labour that a man taketh, is for him selfe, and yet his desire is neuer filled after his minde.

7 For what hath the wise moze then the foole? what helpeth it the poore, that he knoweth to walke with foolcs before the liuing?

8 The cleare sight of the eye is better then that the soule should walke after desires of the lust: Howbett, this is also a vaine thing, and a disquietnesse of minde.

9 The thing that hath beene, is named already, and knowen that it is euen man himselfe: neither may hee goe to laue with him that is mightier then he.

10 Many things there be that increase vanity, and what hath a man els?

11 For who knoweth what is good for man, liuing in the daies of his vaine life, which is but a shadow? Or who will tel a man what shall happen after him vnder the sunne?

The vij. Chapter.

Diuers precepts to follow that which is good, and to auoid the contrary.

Good name is moze woorth then precious oinment: and the day of death, is better then the day of birth.

2 It is better to go into an house of mourning, then into a banquetting house: for there is the end of all men, and hee that is liuing, taketh it to heart.

3 Grauitie is better then to laugh: for when the countenance is heavy, the heart is reformed.

4 The heart of the wise is in the mourning house: but the heart of the foolish is in the house of mirth.

5 It is better to giue care to the chastening of a wise man, then to heare the song of foolcs.

6 For the laughing of foolcs is like the 8 Better it is to consider the end of a thing, then the beginning: the patient spirit is better then the high minded.

9 Bee not hastily angry in thy minde: for wrath reflecteth in the bosome of fooles.

10 Say not thou, what is the cause that the dayes of the old time were better then they that be now? for that were no wise question.

11 Wisdome with inheritance is good, yet better is it with them that without care may behold the Sunne:

12 For wisdom defendeth as well as money, and the excellent knowledge and wisdom giueth life vnto him that hath it in possession.

13 Consider the worke of God, howe that no man can make the thing straight, which he maketh crooked.

14 Wise well the time of prosperitie, and remember the time of misfortune: for God doeth so temper the one and the other, that a man can find nothing els.

15 All things haue I considered in the time of my vanitie: that the iust man perisheth for his rightousnesse sake, and the vngodly liueth in his wickednesse.

16 Therefore be thou neither too righteous, nor ouerwise, that thou perish not.

17 Be neither too vnrightheous also, nor too foolish, lest thou die before thy time.

18 It is good for thee to take holde of this, and not to let that go out of thy hand: for he that feareth God, commeth fourth with them all.

19 Wisdome giueth more courage vnto the wise, then ten mighty men of the citie.

20 For there is not one iust vpon earth that doeth good, and sinneth not.

21 Take no heede vnto euery worde that is spoken, lest thou heare thy seruant curse thee: for thine owne heart knoweth that thou thy selfe also hast oft time spoken euill by other men.

22 All these things haue I prooued in wisdom, for I thought to be wise, but she went farther from mee then shee was before: yea, and so deepe, that I might not reach vnto her.

23 I applied my mind also vnto knowledge, and to seeke and searcho vnto science, wisdom, and vnderstanding, to know the foolishnesse of the vngodly, and the error of doting fooles.

24 And I found that a woman is bitterer then death, the which hath cast abroad her heart as a net that men fish with, and her hands are charmes. Who so pleaseth God, shall escape from her, but the sinner will be taken with her.

25 Behold (saith the preacher) this haue I diligently searched out and prooued. One thing must be considered with another, that a man may come by knowledge: which as yet I seeke, and find it not.

26 Among a thousand men I haue found one: but not one woman among all.

27 Loe, this onely haue I found, that God made man iust and right: but they fought many inuentions.

The viij. Chapter.

2 To obey princes and magistrates. 27 The workes of God passe mans knowledge.

Who is wise? who hath knowledge to make an answer? A mans wisdom maketh his face to shine: but || vnshamefastnes putteth it out of fauour.

2 * Keepe the kings commandement, namely, for the oth that thou hast made vnto God for the same.

3 Be not hastie to goe out of his sight, and see thou continue in no euill thing: for whatsoeuer it pleaseth him, that doeth he.

4 Like as when a king giueth a charge, his commandement is mighty: euen so, who may say vnto him, what dost thou?

5 Who so keepeth the commandement, shall seele no harme: but a wise mans heart discerneth the time and iudgement.

6 For euery thing will haue opportunitie and iudgement: and this is the thing that maketh men full of carefulnesse and sorrow.

7 And why? a man knoweth not what is for to come: for who can tell when it shall be?

8 Neither is there any man that hath power ouer the spirit, to keepe still the spirit, nor to haue any power in the time of death, nor that can make an end of the battell, neither may vngodlinesse deliuer them that meddle withall.

9 All these things haue I considered, and applied my minde vnto euery worke that is vnder the Sunne, howe one man hath lordship vpon another to his owne harme.

10 For I haue seen often the vngodly brought to their graues, and yet they haue returned into the citie againe, and came from the place of holy men, which in the citie were growen out of memoire, as were those also that liued well: This is also a vaine thing.

11 Because now that euill workes are not hastily punished, the heart of man giueth himselfe ouer vnto wickednesse.

12 Because an euill person offendeth an hundred times, and God deferreth, giuing him long life: therefore am I sure that it shall goe well with them that feare God, which haue him before their eyes.

13 Againe, as for the vngodly, it shall not be well with him, neither shall he prolong his daies, but euen as a shadow, so shall he be that feareth not God.

14 Yet is there a vanitie vpon earth: There be iust men, vnto whome it happeneth as though they had the workes of the vngodly: Againe, there be vngodly, with whom it goeth as though they had the workes of the righteous: This haue I called also a vaine thing.

15 Therefore I commend gladnesse, because a man hath no better thing vnder the Sun, then to eate and drinke, and to be merrie: for that shall hee haue of his labour all the dayes of his life, which God giueth him vnder the Sunne.

16 And so I applied my minde to learne wisdom, and to know the trauell that is in the world, and that of such a fashion, that I suffered not mine eyes to sleepe, neither day nor night.

17 I vnderstood of all the workes of God, but it is not possible for a man to attaine vnto the workes that are done vnder the Sun: a though he bestow his labour to seeke them out, yet can he not reach vnto them: yea, though a wise man would undertake to know them, yet shall he not finde them.

e Good dayes are not to be esteemed by prosperitie, but by vertue of their religion, as the daies of Christ are better then the former dayes of Solis.

The ix. Chapter.

1 By no outward thing can man know whom God loueth or hateth. 11 No man knoweth his ende. 19 Wiidome excelleth strength.

Wh all these things purposed I in my minde to seke out: The righteous and wise, yea, and their seruants also are in the hand of God, and there is no man that knoweth either loue or hate, but all things are before them.

2 It happeneth vnto one, as vnto another, it goeth with the righteous, as with the vngodly, with the good and cleane, as with the vncleane: with him that offereth, as with him that offereth not: like as it goeth with the vertuous, so goeth it also with the sinner: as it happeneth vnto the periured, so happeneth it also to him that is afraide to be forsworne.

3 Among all things that come to passe vnder the Sunne, this is a misery, that it happeneth vnto all alike: This is the cause also, that the hearts of men are full of wickednesse, and madde foolishnesse is in their hearts, as long as they liue, vntill they die.

4 And why? as long as a man liueth, he hath an hope: for a quicke dogge say they is better then a dead Lion.

5 For they that be liuing, knowe that they shall die: but they that be dead, know nothing, neither deserue they any more, for their memoriall is forgotten:

6 Also their loue and their hatred, and their enmie is nowe perished, neither haue they any more part in the world in all that is done vnder the Sunne.

7 Goe thou thy way then, eate thy bread with ioy, and drinke thy wine with a glad heart, for thy woorkes please God: Let thy garments be alwayes white, and let thy head lacke no ointment.

8 Use thy selfe to liue ioyfully with thy wife whom thou louest, al the dayes of thy life, which is but vaine, that God giueth thee vnder the Sunne all the dayes of thy banitie: for that is thy portion in this life of all thy labour and trauaile that thou takest vnder the Sunne.

9 Whatsoeuer thou takest in hand to do, that do with al thy power: for in the graue that thou goest vnto, there is neither woork, counsell, knowledge, nor wisdom.

10 So I turned mee vnto other things vnder the Sunne, and I sawe that in running it helpeth not to bee swift, in battell it helpeth not to be strong, to feeding it helpeth not to be wise, to riches it helpeth not to be a man of much vnderstanding, to bee had in fauour it helpeth not to bee cunning: s but that all lieth in time and fortune.

11 For a man knoweth not his time: but like as the fishes are taken with the angle, and as the birds are caught with the snare: euen so are men taken in the perillous time, when it commeth suddenly vpon them.

12 This wisdom haue I seene also vnder the Sunne, and me thought it a great thing.

13 There was a little citie, and a fewe men within it: so there came a great King and beleeged it, and made great bulwarks against it.

14 And in the citie there was founde a poore man, but he was wise, which with his wisdom: deliuered the citie, yet was there no body that had any respect to such a simple man.

15 Then saide I, wisdom is better then strength: neuerthelesse, a simple mans wisdom is despised, and his wordes are not heard.

16 A wise mans counsell that is folowed in silence, is farre aboute the crying of a captaine among fooles.

17 For wisdom is better then harnesse: but one sinner alone destroyeth much goodnesse.

The x. Chapter.

1 The difference of foolishnesse and wisdom. 10 A slanderer is like a Serpent that cannot be charmed

15 Of foolish Kings and riotous Princes. 16 And of good Kings and Princes.

A Dead flye doeth corrupt sweete oymntment, and maketh it to stinke: euen so oft times, hee that hath bene had in estimation for wisdom and honour, is abhoyred because of a little foolishnesse.

2 A wise mans heart is vpon his right hand, but a fooles heart vpon his left.

3 A foole will shew himselfe when hee goeth by the way, yet thinketh hee that euery man doeth as foolishly as himselfe.

4 If a principal spirit be giuen thee to beare rule, be not negligent then in thine office: for he that can take cure of himselfe, auoydeth great offences.

5 Another plague is there which I haue seene vnder the Sunne, namely, the ignorance that is comonly among princes: in that a foole sitteth in great dignitie, and the riche are set downe beneath.

6 I haue seene seruants ride vpon horses, and Princes going vpon their feete, as it were seruants.

7 But hee that diggeth by a pit, shall fall therein him selfe: and who so breaketh downe the hedge, a serpent shall bite him.

8 Who so remoueth stones, shall haue trauaile withall: and he that heweth wood, shall be hurt therewith.

9 When an yron is blunt, and the point not sharpened, it must bee whet againe, and that with might: euen so doeth wisdom follow diligence.

10 A backbiter is no better then a serpent that stingeth without hissing.

11 The wordes out of a wise mans mouth are gracious: but the lippes of a foole will destroy himselfe.

12 The beginning of his talking is foolishnesse: and the last worde of his mouth is sharke madnesse.

13 A foole is full of wordes, and a man can not tell what shall come to passe: who will then warne him of it that shall follow after him?

14 The labour of the foolish is grieuous vnto them, while they know not howe to goe into the cite.

6 When men shall feare in high places, and be afraid in the streets, when the Almond tree shall flourish and be laden with the Grashopper, and when all lust shall passe: because man goeth to his long home, and the mourners goe about the streetes:

7 When euer the siluer lace bee taken away, and of the golden well be broken: when the pot bee broken at the well, and the wheele broken vpon the cesterne.

8 Then shall the dust be turned againe vnto earth from whence it came, and the spirit shall returne vnto God who gaue it.

9 All is but banitic (saith the Preacher) all is but plaine banitic.

10 The Preacher was yet more wise, and taught the people knowledge, hec gaue good heed, sought out the ground, and set forth many Parables: His diligence was to finde out acceptable woordes, right Scripture, and the woordes of truethe.

11 For the woordes of the wise are like pyckes and nailcs that goe thoro we, of the gatherings, which are giuen of one Shepheard.

12 Therefore beware my some of that doctrine that is beside this: for to make many bookes, it is an endlesse woork: and too much study wearieth the body.

13 Let vs heare the conclusion of all things: feare God, and keepe his Commandements: for that toucheth all men. For God shall iudge all woorkes and secret things, whether they bee good or euil.

That shee would kisse mee with þ kisses of his mouth: for thy loue is moze pleasant then wine, and that because of the good and pleasant sauaour of thy most precious baulmes.

2 Thy Name is a sweet smelling oymntment when it is shed forth, therefore do the maydens loue thee.

3 Draw thou me vnto thee, wee will runne after thee. The King hath brought mee into his priuie chambers: we will be glad and reioyce in thee, we thinke moze of thy loue, then of wine: they that be righteous loue thee.

4 I am blache (O ye daughters of Hierusalem) but yet faire and well sauoured, like as the tents of the Cedarenes, and as the hangings of Solomon.

5 Maruaile not at mee that I am so blache, for why: the Sunne hath shined vpon mee: my mothers children haue euill will at mee: they made mee the keeper of the vineyards, but mine owne vineyard haue I not kept.

6 Tell me, O thou, whom my soule loueth, where thou feedest the sheepe, where thou makest them rest at the noone day: for why shall I be like him that goeth wrong about the flocks of thy companions?

7 If thou know not thy selfe (O thou fairest among women) then goe thy way forth after the footsteps of the sheepe, and feede thy goates beside the shepheards tents.

8 Vnto the hosse of Pharaos charets haue I compared thee, O my loue.

9 Thy checks and thy necke is beautifull as the Curtles, and hanged with spangs and goodly iewels, a neckband of gold will we make thee, with siluer buttons.

10 When the King sitteth at the table, hee shall smell my Nardus: a bundle of Myrthe is my loue vnto me, he will lie betwixt my breasts: a cluster of Camphire in the vineyards of Engaddi is my loue vnto me.

11 Oh how faire art thou my loue, Oh how faire art thou: thou hast doues eyes, O howe faire art thou my beloued, howe well sauoured thou art?

12 Our bed is deckt with flowres, the seelings of our house are of Cedar tree, and our colles toynets of Cypresse.

The ij. Chapter.

3 The Church desireth to rest vnder the shadow of Christ. 8 She heareth his voyce. 14 She is compared to the doue. 15 And the enemies to the foxes.

I Am the Rose of the fiede, and Lie of the balleyes.

2 As the Lillie among the thornes: so is my loue among the daughters.

3 Like as the apple tree among the trees of the wood: so is my beloued among the somes.

4 My delight is to sit vnder the shadow, for his fruit is sweet vnto my throte.

5 Hee bringeth me into his owne celler, his banner spred ouer me, which is his loue.

6 Set about me cups of wine, comfort mee with apples, for I am sicke of loue.

7 His left hand lieth vnder my head, and his right hand shall embrace me.

8 I charge you (O ye daughters of Hierusalem) by the Roses and Hindes of the fiede, that ye wake not by my loue, nor touch her, till she be content her selfe.

9 Wee thinke I heare the voyce of my beloued: loe, there commeth he hopping vpon the mountaines, and leaping ouer the litle hills.

10 My beloued is like a Roe or a young Hart: beholde, he standeth behinde our wall, hee looketh in at the window, and peepeth thow the grate.

11 My beloued answered, and said vnto me, O stand by, my loue, my beautifull, and goe to thine owne: for loe, the winter is now past, the raine is away and gone.

12 The flowres are come by in the fiede, the time of the birds singing is come, and the voyce of the turtle doue is heard in our land.

13 The figge tree bringeth forth her figges, and the vines beare blossomes, and haue a good smell.

14 O stande by then, and come, my loue, my beautifull, and come, I say, O my Doue, out of the caues of the rockes, out of the holes of the wall. O let mee see thy countenance, and heare thy voyce: for sweete is thy voyce, and faire is thy face.

15 Get vs the fores, yea the litle fores that hurt the vines: for our vines beare blossomes.

16 My loue is mine, and I am his, which seeth among the Lillies vntill the day breake, and till the shadowes be gone:

17 Come againe, O my beloued, and bee like a Roe or a young Hart vpon the wide mountaines.

The iij. Chapter.

1 The Church desired to bee ioyned inseparably to Christ her husband. 6 Her deliuerance out of the wilderness.

By night in my bed I sought him whom my soule loueth: yea, diligently sought I him, but I found him not.

2 I will get by, thought I, and goe about the city, in the wayes in all the streets will I seeke him whom my soule loueth: but when I sought him, I found him not.

3 The watchmen also that goe about the citie, found mee, to whom I said, Saw yee not him whom my soule loueth?

4 So when I was a litle past them, I found him whom my soule loueth, I haue gotten hold vpon him, and wil not let him goe, until I bring him into my mothers house, and into her chamber that bare me.

5 I charge you, O ye daughters of Hierusalem, by the Roes and Hindes of the field, that ye wake not by my loue, nor touch her, till shee be content her selfe.

6 Who is this that commeth by out of the wilderness like vapours of smoke, as it were a smell of Myrrhe, Frankincense, and all powder of the Apotecarie?

7 Behold, about Solomons bedstead there stand threescore valiant, of the most mightie in Israel: they holde swords euery one, and are expert in warre.

8 Euery man also hath his sword vpon his thigh, because of feare in the night.

9 King Solomon had made himselfe a palace of the wood of Libanus, the pillars are of silver, the covering of golde, the seate of purple, the ground is pleasantly pauered with loue for the daughters of Hierusalem.

10 Goe forth (O yee daughters of Sion) and beholde King Solomon in the crowne wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of his marriage, and in the day of the gladnesse of his heart.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 The praises of the Church. 7 Shee is without blemish in his sight. 9 The loue of Christ toward her.

How faire art thou, my loue, how faire art thou? thou hast <sup>b</sup> Doves eyes, beside that which lieth hid within: thy hairie lockes are like the wooll of a flocke of Goates that be thome vpon mount Silcad.

2 Thy teeth are like a flocke of sheepe of the same bignesse which went by from the washing place, where euery one beareth two twinnes, and not one vnfruitfull among them.

3 Thy lips are like a Rose coloured ryband, thy words are loulty, thy cheekes are like a peece of a Pomegranate within thine haire.

4 Thy necke is like the towpe of Dauid, builded with colly stones lying out on the sides, wherupon there hang a thousand sheldes, yea all the weapons of the Giants.

5 Thy two breasts are like two twinnes of yong Roes, which feed among Roses.

6 O that I might goe to the mountaine of Myrrhe, and to the hill of Frankincense, til the day breake, and till the shadowes be past away.

7 Thou art all faire, (O my loue) and no spot is there in thee.

8 Come to me from Libanus (O my spouse) come to mee from Libanus: looke from the top of Amara, from the top of Sanir and Hermon, from the Lions dennes, and from the mountaines of the Leopards.

9 Thou hast with loue bewitched my heart, O my suster, my spouse, thou hast bewitched my heart with one of thine eyes, & with one chaine of thy necke.

10 O howe faire are thy breastes, my suster, my spouse: Thy breastes are moze pleasant then wine, and the smell of thy oymments palleth all spices.

11 Thy lippes, O my spouse, drop as the honie combe, yea milke and hony is vnder thy tongue, and the smell of thy garments is like the smell of Libanus.

12 A garden well locked is my suster, my spouse: a garden well locked, and a sealed well.

13 The fruites that are planted in thee, are very like a Paradise of Pomegranates with sweete fruits, as Camphire, Cardus, and Saffron, Calamus, Cynamom, with all sweet smelling trees, Myrrhe, Aloes, and all the best spices, a well of gardens, a wel of litting waters which runne downe from Libanus.

14 O thou Northwind, come thou Southwinde, and blow vpon my garden, that the smell thereof may be caried on euery side: yea, that my beloued may come into his garden, and eate of the sweet fruits that grow therein.

The v. Chapter.

1 Christ calleth his Church to the participation of all his treasures. 2 She heareth his voyce. 6 She confesseth hernakednesse. 10 She praiseth Christ her husband.

Am come into my garden, O my suster, my spouse, I haue gathered my Myrrhe with my spice: I haue eaten honie with my honie combe, I haue drunken my wine with milke: Eat, O yee friendes, drinke, and be mery, O yee beloued.

2 I am asleepe, but my heart is waking: I heare the voyce of my beloued when hee knocketh, saying, Open to me, O my suster my loue, my doue, my darling: for my head is full of deawe, and the lockes of my haire are full of the night droppes.

3 I haue put off my coate, how can I doe it on againe: I haue washed my feete, how shall I kisse them againe?

4 My loue put in his hande at the holc, and my heart was moued within me.

5 I stood by to open into my beloued, and my hands dropped with Myrrhe, & the Myrrhe ranne downe my fingers vpon the locke.

6 I opened vnto my beloued, but he was departed and gone his way: Now when he wake, my heart was gone: I sought him, but I could not finde him: I cried vpon him, neuerthelesse he gaue me no answer.

7 So the watchmen that went about the citie, found me, smote me, and wounded me: yea they that kept the walles, took away my herchiefe from me.

of Hierusalem, if ye find my beloved, that ye tell him how that I am like for loue.

9 What manner of man is thy loue about other louers, O thou fairest among women? O what can thy loue doe more then other louers, that thou chargest vs so faithfully?

10 As for my loue, he is white and red colour'd, a goodly person among ten thousand.

11 His head is as the most fine gold, the locks of his haire are bushed, and blacke as a Crowe.

12 His eyes are as the eyes of Doves by the water brookes, as though they were washed with milke, and are set like pearles in golde.

13 His cheekes are like a garden bed wherein the Apothecaries plant all manner of sweete things.

14 His lips are like Lilies that droppe sweet smelling Myrre: his handes are like golde rings, hauing enclosed the precious Stone of Charlis.

15 His body is as the pure Iuorie, deckt ouer with Saphyres: his legges are as the pillars of Marble set vpon sockets of gold.

16 His face is as Libanus, and as the beauty of the Cedar trees.

17 The words of his mouth are sweet, yea he is altogether louely: Such a one is my loue, O yee daughters of Hierusalem, such a one is my loue.

The vj. Chapter.

3 The Church assureth her selfe of the loue of Christ. 4 The praise of the Church. 8 Shee is but one and vndefiled.

Whither is thy loue gone then, O thou fairest among women? whither is thy loue departed, and wee will seeke him with thee?

2 My loue is gone downe into his garden vnto the sweet smelling beds, that hee may refresh himselfe in the garden and gather Lilies.

3 My loue is mine, and I am his, which feedeth among the Lilies.

4 Thou art beautiful, O my loue, as is the place Thirza, thou art faire as Hierusalem, fearefull as an armie of men with their banners.

5 Turne away thine eyes from me, for they haue set me on fire: thy hairie lockes are like a flocke of Goates shorne vpon the mount of Silead.

6 Thy teeth are like a flocke of shorne sheepe, which goe out of the washing place, where euery one beareth t'winnes, and not one vnfruitfull among them.

7 Thy cheekes are like a piece of a pomegranate within thy lockes of haire.

8 There are threelcoze Querns, fourecoze wines, and damosels without number.

9 One is my doue, one is my darling, shee is the only beloved of her mother, and deare vnto her that bare her: when the daughters sawe her, they sayd shee was blessed, yea the queenes and wiues praised her.

10 What is the this that looke th forth as the morning, faire as the moon, cleare as the sunne, and fearefull as an armie of men with their banners?

11 I went downe into the nut garden, to see what grewe by the brookes, and to looke if the binyard flourished, or if the Pomegranates were not forth.

12 I knewe not that my soule had made mee the chariot of the people that be vnder tribute.

13 Turne againe, turne againe, O thou perfect one, turne againe, turne againe, and wee will looke vpon thee: what will ye see in the Sulamite? Shee is like men of warre singing in a company.

The vij. Chapter.

1 The beautie of the Church in allher members. 10 Shee is assured of Christs loue towards her.

How pleasant are thy treadings with thy shooes, thou princes daughter: the ioints of thy thighes are like a faire itewell, which is wrought by a cunning worke-maister.

3 Thy wombe is like a heape of wheate that is set about with Lilies.

4 Thy two breasts are like two t'winnes of young Koes.

5 Thy necke is as it were a tower of Iuorie: thine eyes also are like the water pooles that are in Hesebon, beside the port of Bachabim: thy nose is like the tower of Libanus, which looketh toward Damafcus.

6 That head that standeth vpon thee is like Carmel: and the haire of thy head is like purple, and like a king dwelling among many water conduites.

7 How faire and louely art thou my darling in pleasures?

8 Thy stature is like a Palme tree, and thy breasts like the grapes.

9 I sayde, I will dine by into the Palme tree, and take hold of his high branches.

10 Thy breasts also shall be as the wine clusters, the smell of thy nostrils like as the smell of apples.

11 And the roofof thy mouth like the best wine, which is meete for my best beloved, pleasant for his lips, and for his teeth to chaw.

12 I am my beloveds, and hee shall returne him vnto me.

13 Come on, my loue, wee will goe forth into the felde, and take our lodging in the villages.

14 In the morning will we go see the binyard, wee will see if the vine be sprung forth, if the grapes be growen, and if the Pomegranats be shoot out.

15 There will I giue thee my breasts: the Mandragoras giue their sweet smell, and beside our doores are all manner of pleasant frutes both newe and old, which I haue kept for thee, O my beloved.

15 When ye hold out your hands, I will turne mine eyes from you: and though ye make many prayers, yet will I heare nothing at all, * seeing your hands are full of blood.

16 * Wash you, make you cleane, put away your euill thoughts out of my sight: cease from doing of euill.

17 Learne to doe well, applie your selues to equitie, deliuer the oppressed, help the fatherlesse to his right, let the widowes complaint come before you:

18 And then goe to, saith the Lord, let vs talke together: though your finnes be as red as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow: & though they were like purple, they shall bee as white as wooll.

19 If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eate the good of the land:

The ij. Chapter.

1 A prophesie of Christ and his kingdom. 11 Pride, couetousnesse, superstition, and idolatrie are reproued. 17 Gods terrible iudgement against them.

The selfe same word that Clay the sonne of Amos saue vpon Iuda and Hierusalem.

2 * And this shall come to pass in the latter dayes, The hill of the Lordes house shall be prepared in the height of the mountaines, and shall be higher then the hills, and all nations shall presse vnto him.

3 And a multitude of people shall goe, speaking thus one to another, Come, let vs ascend to the hill of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob, and he will instruct vs of his wayes, and we will walke in his paths: for out of Sion shall come a law, and the word of the Lord from Hierusalem:

4 And shall giue sentence among the heathen, and shall reforme the multitude of people: they shall break their swordes also into mattocks, and their speares to make sickes: And one people shall not lift vp a weapon against another, neither shall they learne to fight from thenceforth.

5 Come, O ye house of Jacob, and let vs walke in the light of the Lord:

6 For thou hast forsaken thy people the house of Jacob, because they bee replenished with euils from the East, and with forcerers like the Philistines, and in straunge children they thinke themselves to haue ynough.

7 Their land is full of siluer and golde, neither is there any end of their treasure: their land is also full of horses, and no end is there of their charrets.

8 Their land is also full of vaine gods, and before the workes of their owne handes they haue bowed themselves, yea euen before the thing that their owne fingers haue made.

9 There kneeleth the man, there falleth the man downe before them: therefore forgaiue them not.

10 Get thee into the rocke, and hide thee in the ground, for feare of the Lord, and for the glorie of his maiestie.

11 The high lookes of man shall be brought lowe, and the haughtinesse of men shall be bowed downe: and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day.

12 For the day of the Lord of hostes shall be vpon all the proud, losse, and vpon all that is exalted, and he shall be brought low.

13 And vpon all high and stout Cedar trees of Libanus, and vpon all the Oakes of Basan,

14 And vpon all the high mountaines, and vpon all the high hills,

15 And vpon euery high towre, and vpon euery fenced wall,

16 And vpon all the ships of Charis, and vpon all pictures of pleasure.

17 And the pride of man shall bee brought downe, and the loftinesse of men shall bee made lowe, and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day.

18 As for the idoles, he shall utterly abolish:

19 * And they shall creepe into holes of stone, and into caues of the earth, for feare of the Lord, and for the glory of his maiestie, when he ariseth to destroy the wicked ones of the earth.

20 In the selfe same day shall man cast away his gods of silver, and his gods of golde, into the holes of Howles and Baches, which hee neuertheless had made to himselfe to honour them.

21 And they shall creepe into the clefts of the rockes, and into the tops of the hard stones, for feare of the Lord, and for the glory of his maiestie, when he ariseth to destroy the wicked ones of the earth.

The causes why God forsaketh his people: reprobation, hardness of heart, superstition, and ungodlinesse, and other things therein was alone.

22 Cease therefore from man, in whose nostrils there is wrath: for wherein is he to be accounted of?

The iij. Chapter.

1 The mischief that God sendeth on commonweales for the contempt of his worde. 14 The couetousnesse of rulers reprobred. 16 The proudnicenesse of women punished to their shame.

Woe, the Lord God of hostes doth take away from Hierusalem and Juda all manner of stay, all stay of meat and drinke.

2 The captaine and the souldier, the Judge and the Prophet, the prudent and the aged man,

3 The captaine of fittie, and the honourable, the senatour, the cunning artificer, and the eloquent oratour.

4 And I shall giue children to be their princes, and babes shall rule ouer them.

5 And the people shall each one of them violently oppresse another, and euery one against his neighbour: The boy shall presume against the elder, and the person of low degree against the honourable.

6 Yea one shall take a friend of his owne kinred by the bosome, and say, Thou hast cloathing, thou shalt be our head, and say this ruine with thy hand.

7 Then shall he sweare, and say, I cannot helpe you: there is neither meat nor clothing in my house. make me no ruler of the people.

8 For Hierusalem and Juda must decay: because that both their wordes and counsels are against the Lorde, to prouoke the presence of his maiestie to anger.

9 Their very countenance be wraiyeth them, yea they declare their owne sinnes themselues as Sodome, they hide it not: woe be to their owne soules, for they haue rewarded euill vnto themselues.

10 Say to the righteous that it shall go well with them: for they shall eate the fruite of their owne studies.

11 But woe be vnto the wicked, for it shall be euill with him: for hee shall be rewarded after his owne workes.

12 Children are extortioners of my people, and women rule ouer them: O my people, thy leaders deceiue thee, and corrupt the way of thy footsteps.

13 The Lord is here to commune of the matter, and standeth to iudge the people.

14 The Lord shall enter into iudgement with the elders and princes of his people, and shall say to them, It is yee that haue burnt by my vineyard, the spoile of the poore is in your houses.

15 What meane yee that ye pray as in a mortar my people, and grind the faces of the poore, saith the Lord God of hostes?

16 Moreover, the Lorde hath sayde, Seeing the daughters of Sion are wared proude, and walke with stretched forth neckes, and wanton looke, going and tripping nicely, and cincting with their feet:

17 Therefore shall the Lord haue the heads of the daughters of Sion, and shall discover their filchinesse.

18 In that day shall the Lord take away the gorgeusnesse of the attire about their feede, and the cables, and the round tyres after the fashion of the moone,

19 The sweete perfumes, and the bracelets, and the musslers,

20 The bonnets, and the slops, and the headbands, and the tablets, and the earrings,

21 And rings, and nose iewels,

22 The costly apparell, and the bailes, and the wimples, and the crisping pins,

23 And the glasses, and the fine linnen, and the hoods, and the lawnes, 24 And in stead of good smell, there shall bee stinke, and in stead of their girde, a rent, and for well set haire, there shall be baldnesse, in stead of a stomacher, a sackcloth, and sunne burning for beaultie.

25 Thy men shall perish with the sword, and thy haliant souldiours in the battaile, O Hierusalem.

26 And her gates shall mourne and bewaile: and shee being desolate, shall sit vpon the ground.

The iij. Chapter.

1 The miserie of the stubburne. 3 A promise of Gods fauour to the residue.

In that day seuen women shall take hold of one man, saying, We will finde our selues meat and apparel: onely let vs be called by thy name, to take our shameful reproofe from vs.

2 In that day shall the bird of the Lorde be beautifull and glorious, and the fruite of the earth shall bee excellent and pleasant for them that are escaped of Israel.

3 Then shall the remnant in Sion, and the remnant at Hierusalem be called holy: namely, all such as are written among the liuing in Hierusalem.

4 After that the Lorde hath washt away the filchinesse of the daughters of Sion, he hath purged the blood out from Hierusalem in the spirit of iudgement, and in the spirit of fire.

5 And vpon all the dwellings of the hillies of Sion, and vpon her congregations, the Lord shall create a cloude, and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for all the glory shall be preserved.

6 And there shall bee a tabernacle for a shadowe in the day time from the heat, and a safe place and refuge from weather and rafine.

The v. Chapter.

1 Of Christ and his vineyard, 8 with an execration of couetousnesse, 11 drunkennesse, 19 and contempt of Gods word.

Who will I sing, my beloved friend, a song of my friend touching his vineyard: My beloved friend had a vineyard in a very fruitfull plentiful ground.

2 This hee hedged, and gathered out the stones from it, and planted it with the choicest vine: In the middes of it builded he a towre, also made a winepresse therein: and hee looked that it should bring him grapes, and it brought forth wild grapes.

3 Now, O ciuizen of Hierusalem, and man of Juda, iudge, I pray thee, her wirt me and my vineyard.

4 What might could haue bene done for it, that I haue not done? wherefore then hath it giuen wild grapes, where I looked to haue had grapes of it?

5 Well, now I shall tell you how I will doe with my vineyard: I will take the hedges from it, that it may perish, and breake downe the wall thereof, that it may be troden under foote.

6 I will lay it waste, it shall neuer be digged nor cut, but beare thornes and briers: I will also forbid the cloudes that they shall not raine vpon it.

7 As for the vineyard of the Lord of hostes, it is the house of Israel: and the man of Juda, the plant of his pleasure: of these he looked for equitie, but see, there is oppression: for righteousnes, and loe, it is a crying.

8 Woe vnto them that ioyne one house to another, and bring one land to nigh vnto another, that there is no more place: will ye be placed alone in the midst of the earth?

9 These things are in the eares of the Lord of hostes: of a truely great and faire houses shall be without any dweller in them.

10 And tenne acres of vines shall giue but a quart, and thirtie bushels of seede shall giue but an Epha.

11 Woe be vnto them that rise by early to followe drunkennesse, continuing vntill night, till they be set on fire with wine.

12 In their feasts are Harps and Lutes, Tabrets and Pipes, and wine: but they regard not the worke of the Lord, and consider not the operation of his hands.

13 Therefore commeth my folke into captiuitie, because they haue no vnderstanding: their glorie is famished with hunger, and their multitude dyed by with thirst.

14 Wherefore gapeth hell, and openeth her mouth maruelously wide, that their glorie, multitude, and wealth, with such as reioice in her, may descend into it.

15 Thus hath man a fall, and is brought lowe, and the high looke of the proud shall be layed downe.

16 But the Lord of hostes shall be exalted in iudgement, and God that is holy, is sanctified in righteousnesse.

17 Then shall the sheepe eate as they were wont, and the rich mens wailes shall strangers deuoure.

18 Woe be vnto them that drawe wickednesse with cords of banitie, and sinne as it were with a cart rope.

19 Which vse to speake on this maner, Let him make speede, and hasten his worke, that we may see it: let the counsell of the holy one of Israel come and drawe nigh, that wee may knowe it.

20 Woe be vnto them that call euil good, and good euil, which make darkenesse light, and light darkenesse, that make sowes sweete, and sweete sowes.

21 Woe be vnto them that are wise in their owne sight, and thinke themselves to haue vnderstanding.

22 Woe be vnto them that are strong to sup out wine, & expert men to set by drunkennesse.

23 Woe be vnto them that giue sentence with the vngodly for rewards, but condemne the iust cause of the righteous.

24 Therefore like as fire licketh by the strawe, and as the flame consumeth the stubble: euen so their roote shall be as corruption, & their blossome shall vanish away like dust: for they haue cast away the Law of the Lord of hostes, and despised the word of the holy one of Israel.

25 Therefore is the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, and hath stretched forth his hand vpon them, yea, he hath smitten them: and the hills did tremble, and their carkeises did lie come in the open streetes: & in all this the wrath of God hath not ceased, but his hand stretched out still.

26 And hee shall giue a token to a people of a farre country, and shall hide vnto them from the end of the earth: and behold, they shall come hastily with speede.

27 There shall not be one faint nor feeble among them, no not a sluggish or sleepe person: there shall not one of them put off his girdle from his loines, nor loose the latchet of his shooe.

28 His arrowes are sharpe, and all his bowes bent: his horse hooves are as flint, and his cart wheeles like a whirlewind.

29 His crie is as it were a lion, and he roareth like lions whelpes: they shall roare and hanch by the pray, and no man shall recover it, nor get it from them.

30 In that day he shall be so fierce vpon him, as the raging of the sea: then one shall beholde the land, and loe, darkenesse and sorrow, and the light is darkened in the heauens thereof.

Thevj. Chapter.

1 Esay sawe the glory of the Lord, 9 And was sent to prophesie the desolation of Iurie.

In the yeere that king Driah dyed, I saw also the Lorde sitting vpon an high and glorious seat, and his traine filled the temple.

2 And about him stood Seraphims, wherof one had sixe wings, with twaine each covered his face, with twaine his feete, and with twaine did he flye.

3 They cryed also each one to another on this manner, Holy, holy, holy is the Lorde of hostes, the whole earth is full of his glory.

4 And the lyntiles of the doore checks moued at his crying, and the house was full of smoke.

5 Then sayd I, woe is me, for I am lost, in as much as I am a man of vncleane lippes, and dwell among people that hath vncleane lippes also: for mine eyes haue scene the king the Lord of hostes.

6 Then flew one of the Seraphims vnto me, hauing a hot cole in his hand, which he had taken from the altar with the tongs,

7 And layde it vpon my mouth, and sayde, Loe, this hath touched thy lippes, and thine bright countnesse shall be taken away, and thy sinne forgiven.

8 Also I heard the voyce of the Lorde on this manner, whome shall I send, and who will be our messenger? Then I sayde, Here am I, send me.

9 And hee saide, Goe and tell this people, Heare in deed, yet vnderstand not: see plainly, and yet perceiue not.

10 Harden the heart of this people, stop their eares, and shut their eyes: least they see with their eyes, heare with their eares, & vnderstand d The land of Iuda shall bece ourwhelmed with multieable affliction.

with their hearts, and conuert, and be healed.
 11 Then spake I, Lord, how long? He answered, vntill the cities be utterly wasted without inhabitants, and the houses without men, and till the land be utterly desolate.
 12 For the Lord shall put the men farre away, and there shall be great waste in the middle of the land.
 13 Yet in it shall succeed ten kings, and it shall returne, and bee afterward wasted: but as the Cypre tree, & the Olive in the fall of their leaues, haue yet the sap remaining in them, euen so, the holy seede shall be the stay thereof.

The vij. Chapter.

The Syrians moue battell against Hierusalem. 14 A virgin shall beare a childe.

h Child broung by faith in his etern, who seeme as dead in the stoune time of this world, is to them life and stay that they perch not.

4 Kin. 16. 5.

The happened in the time of Ahaz the sonne of Iotham, which was the sonne of Azariah king of Iuda, that Razin the king of Syria, and Pekai the sonne of Romeliah king of Israel, went vp toward Hierusalem to besiege it: but Razin was not able to win it.

2 Howe when the house of Dauid heard word therof, that Syria and Ephraim was confederate together, his heart quaked, yea, and the hearts also of his people, like as when the trees of the wood are moued with the winde.

3 Then sayd God vnto Esay, Goe meete Ahaz, thou, and thy sonne Scar Iasub, at the head of the ouerpoole, in the footpath by the fullers ground.

4 And say vnto him, Take heede vnto thy selie, and bee still, feare not, neither bee faint hearted, for these two tailes, that is, for these two smoking firebrands, the wrath and furiousnes of Razin the Syrian and Romelies sonne:

5 Because that the Syrian, Ephraim, and Romelies sonne, haue wickedly conspired against thee,

6 Saying, wee will goe by against Iuda, bere them, and bring them vnder vs, and set a king there, euen the sonne of Tabei:

7 Thus sayth the Lord God thereto, It shal not so goe forth, neither so come to passe.

8 For the head cite of the Syrians, is Damascus, but the head of Damascus, is Razin: and after threescore and five yeeres, shall Ephraim be no more a people.

9 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, but the head of Samaria is Romelies sonne: if yee beleue not, surely yee shall not be established.

10 Howeouer, God spake againe vnto Ahaz, saying,

11 Require to thy selte a token of the Lord thy God, whether it be toward the depth beneath, or toward the height aboue.

12 Then sayd Ahaz, I will require none, neither will I tempt the Lord.

13 The Prophet answered, Then heare ye of the house of Dauid: Is it not enough for you that yee bee greiuous vnto men, but yee must grieue my God also?

14 Therefore the Lord himselfe shall giue you a token: Beholde, a virgine shall conceiue and beare a sonne, and shall call his name Emmanuel.

15 Butter and homie shall hee eat, vntill hee knowe to refuse the euill, and choose the good.

* The Epistle on the Annunciation of Maric.

Mar. 1. 23. Iuke 1. 31.

16 For or euer the childe come to knowledge to escheue the euill, and choose the good, the land that thou so abhorrest, shall bee desolate of both her kings.

17 The Lord also shall send a time vpon thee, vpon thy people, & vpon thy fathers house, such as neuer came, since the time that Ephraim departed from Iuda, namely thoroze the king of the Assyrians.

18 For at the same time shall the Lord brise for the flies that are about the water of Egypt, and for the Bees in the Assyrians land.

19 These shall come, and shall light all in the desolate baileys, in the holes of stones, and vpon all thornie and bushie places.

20 At the same time shall the Lord haue the haire of the head, and the scete, and the beard cleane off, with the razor that he shall hire beyond the waters: namely, with the king of the Assyrians.

21 At the same time shall a man nourish a yong cow, and two sheepe.

22 Then because of the abundance of milke that they giue, he shall eat butter: so that every one which remaineth in the land, shall eat butter and homie.

23 At the same time all vineyards wherein there shall bee a thousand vines, worth a thousand siluerlings, shall bee turned to byers and thornes.

24 They shall come into the land with arrows and bowes, because all the land shall become byers and thornes.

25 As for all hills they shall be digged with the mattocke, there shall not come vpon them any feare of byers and thornes: but the cattel shall be diuen thither, and the sheepe shall feede there.

The viij. Chapter.

The deliuerance of the land by Emmanuel. 14 The stone of offence, at which many stumble.

Moreouer, the Lord said vnto me, Take thee a great route, and write in it, as men doe with a pen, Make hastie speede to rob, and haste to the spoile.

2 And I called vnto me faithful witness to record, Uriah the priest, and Jachariah the sonne of Barachiah.

3 After that went I vnto the prophetesse, and she conceiued, and bare a sonne: Then sayd the Lord to mee, Giue him his name, A speddie robber, An hastie spoiler.

4 For why? or euer the childe shall haue knowledge to crie, My father and mother, shall the riches of Damascus, and the spoile of Samaria be taken away befoze the king of Assyrians.

5 The Lorde spake also vnto mee againe, saying,

6 For so much as this people refused the still running water of Sidon, and put their delight in Razin and Romelies sonne:

7 Behold, the Lord shall bring mighty and great floods of water vpon them, namely, the king of the Assyrians, with all his power, which shall cume vp vpon all his floods, and run ouer all his bankes.

8 And shall breake in vpon Iuda, he shal flow and passe thoroze till hee come by to the necke thereof: hee shall fill also the wilderness of thy land with his wings, O Emmanuel.

b He that by the blessing of grace, is of another communion of people.

4 Reg. 2. 35.

9 Breake

9 Breake downe, O ye people, and ye shall be broken downe, hearken to, all yee of farre countries, muster you, and you shall be broken downe, prepare you, and you shall be tozned in pieces.

10 Take your counsell together, yet shal your counsell come to nought: determine the matter, yett shall it not prosper: for God is with vs.

11 For the Lord spake thus to me in a mighty prophesie, and warned me that I should not walke in the way of this people, saying, 12 Ye shall not speake words of conspiracie, in all things when this people shall say, Conspiracie: feare them not, neither be afraid of them.

13 But sanctifie the Lorde of hostes, let him be your feare and dread.

14 For hee shall be the holy place to flee to, and a stone to stumble at, the rocke to fall vpon, and a snare and net to both the houses of Israel, and the inhabitants of Hierusalem.

15 And many among them shall stumble and fall, and be broken, yea they shall be snared and taken.

16 Winde vp the testimonie, seale the law in my disciples.

17 And I will waite vpon the Lorde that hideth his face from the house of Jacob, and I will looke for him.

18 But loe, as for me and the children which the Lorde hath giuen me, wee are to be a token and a wonder in Israel from the Lorde of hostes, which dwelleth vpon the hill of Sion.

19 And if they say vnto you, Alke counsell at the Soothsayers, witches, Charmers, & Coniurers: then make them this answer, Is there a people any where that asketh not counsell at his God: should men runne vnto the dead for the liuing?

20 Get thee to the Lawe, the testimonie: and if they speake not after this worde, there is no light in them.

21 And they shall wander thozowe this land hardly bestead and hungrie, and when they suffer hunger, they will be out of patience, & curse their king and their God, and shall looke vponward and downward to the earth.

22 And beholde, there is trouble and darkenesse, dimnesse is round about him, and he shall be diuened into darkenesse.

23 Reuerchelesse, the darkenesse shall not be such as was in her beation, when at the first he lightly afflicted the lande of Babulon, and the land of Mephthah, and after ward did more grievously afflict her by the way of the sea beyond Iordane in Galilee of the Heathen.

The ix. Chapter.

Hee prophesieth of Christs natiuitie and dominion.

He people that walked in darkenesse haue seene a great light: As for them that dwelt in the land of the shadowe of death, vpon them hath the light shined.

2 Thou hast multiplied the people, and not encreased their ioye: they reioyce before thee, euen as men make merrie in haruelt, and they be ioyfull, as men that doe diuide the spoyle after the victorie.

3 For thou hast broken the yoke of his burden, the staffe of his shoulder, and the rod of his oppressour, in the day of Madiam.

4 And truly every battaile that the warrior maketh, is done with confused noyse, & deliuing their garments with blood, but this battaile shall be with burning and consuming of fire.

5 For vnto vs a Child is borne, and vnto vs a Sonne is giuen, vpon his shoulder doeth the rule lie, and hee is called with his owne name, wonderfull, The giuer of Counsell, The mighty God, The euerlasting father, The prince of peace.

6 He shall make no end to encrease the rule and peace, and shall sit vpon the seate of Dauid, and in his kingdome, to order the same, and to stablish it with equitie and righteousnesse from henceforth for euermore: This shall the zeale of the Lord of hostes bring to passe.

7 The Lorde sent a worde into Jacob, the same is come into Israel.

8 And all the people of Ephraim shal know, and they that dwell in Samaria, that say with pride and high stomaches on this manner.

9 The stile worke is fallen downe, but wee will builde it vp with squared stones: the Hulherie timber is broken, but wee will set it vp againe with Cedar.

10 But the Lorde shall strengthen the enemies of Bazin, and ioyne his aduersaries together against him.

11 The Syrians before, and the Philistines behinde, and shall deuoure Israel with open mouth: After all this is not the wrath of the Lorde ceased, but yet his hand is stretched out still.

12 For the people turneth not vnto him that chastiseth them, neither doe they seeke the Lord of hostes.

13 Therefore hath the Lorde rooted out of Israel both head and taile, bough and reede in one day.

14 By the head is vnderstood the Senatour and honourable man, and by the taile, the prophet that preached lies.

15 For the guides of this people are deceiuers, & those that be gouerned, are vtterly lost.

16 Therefore shall the Lorde haue no pleasure in their young men, neither haue pitie of their fatherlesse and widowes: for they are altogether hypocrites and wicked, and all their mouthes speake folly: After all this, is not the Lordes wrath ceased, but yet his hand is stretched out still.

17 For vngodlinesse burneth as a fire, and it shall deuoure byers and thorns, and shall burne as in the thicket of wood, and the wicked aduance themselves, as the smoke is carried by.

18 Through the wrath of the Lord of hostes is the land full of darkenesse, and the people be consumed as it were with fire: no man doeth spare his brother.

19 But he robbeth on the right hand, & doth family, hee eateth on the left hand, and hee shall not haue ynough: euery man shall eate the flesh of his owne arme.

20 Manasses shall eate Ephraim, & Ephraim Manasses, and they both together shall eate Iuda: After all this is not the Lordes wrath ceased, but yet his hand is stretched out still.

The x. Chapter.

1 He threatneth against the oppressors of the poore, 12 and prophesieth against Sennacherib.

Christ his kingdome and his name, Ioh. 3. 16. Or, and his name shall be called, Or, and the holy ghost, shall call his name.

Handwritten marginal notes in the left margin, including 'Hee prophesieth of Christs natiuitie and dominion' and other commentary.

Ve be vnto them that make bnr- righteous lawes, and that cause their acturaries to write grieuout- nesse.

2 wherethrough the poore are put from their right, and my feely people robbed of iudgement, that widoes may be their pray, and that they may rob the fatherlesse.

3 what will ye doe in the time of uisitacion, and when destruction shall come from farre? to whom will ye runne for helpe? and where will ye leaue your glory?

4 That when I withdraue my hand, ye come not among the prisoners, nor lie amog the dead? After all this doeth not the wraoth of the Lorde cease, but yet is his hand stretched out still.

5 O Affur which art the staffe of my wraoth, in whose hand is the rod of mine indignacion.

6 I will send him among these hypocritish people: among the people that haue deserued my disfauour will I send him: that he vtterly rob them, spoyle them, and tread them downe like the mire in the streete.

7 Howbeit, his meaning is not so, neither thinketh his heart on this fashion: but he imagineth how he may roote out and destroy much people.

8 For he saith, Are not my Princes al kings?

9 Is not Chalno as easie to winne, as Char- chamis? Is it harder to conquere Hamath then Arphad? or is it lighter to ouercome Damascus then Samaria?

10 As who say, I were able to win the king- domes of the idolaters and their gods, but not Hierusalem and Samaria.

11 Shall I not doe vnto Hierusalem and her images, as I did vnto Samaria and her idoles?

12 wherfore it shall come to passe, that as soone as the Lorde hath perfourmed his whole worke vpon the hill of Sion and Hierusalem, then will I uisite the fruite of the stout heart of the king of Syria, with his proud looke.

13 For he standeth thus in his owne conceit, This do I through my wisdom: for I am wise, I am he that remoueth the lands of the people, I rob their treasure, and haue pulled downe the inhabitants like a valiant man.

14 My hand hath found out the strength of the people as it were a nest: and like as egges that were laid here and there are gathered toge- ther, so do I gather all countries, and there was none so bolde as to moue the wing, that dare o- pen his mouth, or once whispe.

15 Shall the arc boast it selfe against him that he weth there with? or shall the sawe make any bragging against him that ruleth it? That were euen like as if the rodde did exalt it selfe a- gainst him that beareth it, or as though the staffe should magnifie it selfe, as who say, it were no wood.

16 Therefore shall the Lorde God of hostes send among his satlings leannesse, and burne vp his glory as it were with a fire.

17 And the light of Israel shall bee that fire, and his holy one shall be the flame: and it shall kindle and burne vp as thornes and briars in one day.

18 Pca all the glory of his woods and feldes shall be consumed with body and soule, and they shall be as an hoste of men, whose standerd bea- rer faileth.

19 The trees also of his wood which remaine, shall be of such a number, that a childe may tell them.

20 After that day, shall the remnant of Isra- el, and such as are escaped out of the house of Ja- cob, seeke no more comfort at him that smote them: but vnfaignedly shall they trust vnto the Lorde, the holy one of Israel.

21 The remnant, euen the posteritie of Ja- cob, shall conuert vnto God the mightie one.

22 For though thy people, O Israel, be as the sand of the sea, yet shall the remnant of them con- uert vnto him: the decreed consumption ouer- floweth with righteousnesse.

23 And therefore the Lorde of hostes shall per- fectly fulfill the thing that he hath determined in the midst of the whole world.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lorde God of hostes, Thou my people that dwellest in Sion, be not afraid for the king of the Assyrians, he shall smite thee with a rod, and shall lift vp his staffe against thee, as the Egyptians did sometime.

25 But soone after shall my wraoth and indig- nation be fulfilled in the destruction of them:

26 Moreouer, the Lorde of hostes shall stirre vp a scourge for him, like as was the slaughter of Hadan vpon the rocke Dreb, and as the de- struction of the Egyptians, when he lifted vp his rod vpon the sea.

27 Then shall his burden be taken from thy shoulders, and his yoke from thy necke, and the same yoke shall be destroyed because of the bnrctio.

28 He shall come to Riath, and goe thoro' to- ward Migron, at Michmas shall he lay vp his harne.

29 They shall goe ouer the foord: Geba shall be their resting place, Rhama shall be afraid, Giben Saut shall lye away.

30 Litt vp thy voyce, O daughter Gallan, giue eare to Laifa, thou poore Anathoth.

31 Hadmena shall tremble for feare: but the citizens of Gabim are manly.

32 Yet shall hee remaine at Rob that day: after that, shall hee lift vp his hand against the mount of the daughter of Sion, the hill of Hierusalem.

33 But see, the Lorde God of hostes shall brea- ke downe the bough with feare, hee shall he'w downe the proud, and fell the high minded.

34 The thickets also of the wood shall hee roote out with yron, and Libanus shall haue a fall through the mightie.

The xj. Chapter.

1 He prophesieth of the natiuie of Christ, and of his people. 6 Of the remnant of Israel. 10 And of the faith of the Heathen and Gentiles.

And there shall come a * Spring forth of the * Remne of Jesse, and a young shoot shall growe out of his roote.

2 The Spirit of the Lorde shall rest vpon him, the spirit of wisdom and vnderstanding, the spirit of counsaile and strength, the spirit of knowledge, and of the feare of the Lorde.

3 And shall make him of deepe iudgement in the feare of God: for hee shall not grie- uence after the things that shall be brought before his eyes, neither reprocute after the hearing of his eares:

4 But with righteouſneſſe ſhall he iudge the poore, and with equitie ſhall he reforme the ſinners of the worlde, * and he ſhall ſmite the world with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his mouth ſhall he ſlay the vngodly.

5 Righteouſneſſe ſhall bee the girdle of his loynes, and faithfullneſſe the girding vp of his reins.

6 The woolfe ſhall dwell with the lambe, and the Leopard ſhall lie downe by the Goate, Bullockes, Lions, and cattell ſhall keepe companie together, ſo that a little childe ſhall leade them.

7 The Cow and the beare ſhall feede together, and their young ones ſhall lie together: the Lyon ſhall eate ſtrawe like the Oxe or the Cow.

8 The childe while hee ſucketh, ſhall haue a deſire to the Serpents neſt, and when hee is weaned, he ſhall put his hand into the Cocharice denne.

9 No man ſhall doe euill vnto another, no man ſhall deſtroy another in all the hill of my holineſſe: for the earth ſhall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, euen as the ſea ſtoweth ouer with water.

10 * And in that day ſhall the Gentiles enquire after the roote of Jeſſe, which ſhall be ſet vp for a token vnto the people, and his reſt ſhall be glorious.

11 At the ſame time ſhall the Lorde take in hand againe to recover the remnant of his people, which ſhall be left aliuē from the Aſſyrians, Egyptians, Arabians, Moſians, Elamites, Chaldees, Antiochians, and from the Iſlands of the ſea.

12 And he ſhal ſet vp a token among the Gentiles, and gather together the diſperſed of Iſrael, yea, and the outcaſts of Iuda, from the ſoure corners of the world.

13 The hatred of Ephraim alſo, and enemies of Iuda ſhal be cleane rooted out: Ephraim ſhall beare none euill will to Iuda, and Iuda ſhal not bere Ephraim.

14 But they both together ſhall ſie vpon the ſhoulders of the Philiftines towarde the weſt, and ſpoyle them together that dwell toward the Eaſt: the Iouuites & the Moabites ſhall come vnder their hands, and the Ammonites ſhall be obedient vnto them.

15 The Lord alſo ſhal cleane the tongues of the Egyptians ſea, and with his mightie winde ſhall he liſt vp his hand ouer Nilus, and ſhall ſmite his ſeuē ſtreames, and make men go ouer drye ſhod.

16 And thus ſhall there be a way for his people that remaine th from the Aſſyrians, like as it happened to the Iſraelites, what time they departed out of the land of Egypt.

The xij. Chapter.

The ſong of the Church for the obtaining of the victorie, and ouercomming of the world.

Ad in that day thou ſhalt ſay, O Lord, I will praiſe thee, for thou waſt displeaſed at me: but reſtaine thou from thy wrath, and conſort me.

2 Beholde, God is my ſaluation, in whom I will truſt, and not be afraid: for the Lord God is my ſtrength and my ſong, hee alſo is become my ſaluation.

3 Therefore with ioy ſhall yee draw water out of the welles of ſaluation:

4 And then ſhall ye ſay, * Giue thanks vnto the Lord, call vpon his name, declare his works among the people, keepe them in remembrance, for his name is excellent.

5 Sing prayſes vnto the Lord, for he hath done great things, as it is knowne in all the world.

6 Crie out, and ſing, thou that dwelleſt in Sion: for great is the holy One of Iſrael in the middeſt of thee.

The xij. Chapter.

He prophesieth the deſtruction of Babylon, the captiuitie and the coming againe of the people.

Bis is the burden of Babylon, which ſay the ſonne of Amos did ſee.

2 Liſt vp the banner vpon the high hill, call vnto them, wagge your hand, that they may goe into the gates of the pinnaces.

3 I haue commanded my ſanctified, I haue alſo called my valiant ones, toyng in my honour to execute my wrath.

4 There is a noyſe of a multitude in the mountaines, like as of a great people, a ruſhing as though the kingdomes of the nations came together: the Lord of hoſtes muſteth his armie to batle.

5 They come out of a farre countrey from the end of the heauen, euen the Lord himſelfe, with the miniſters of his wrath, to deſtroy the whole land.

6 Moorne ye, for the day of the Lord is at hand, and ſhall come as a deſtroyer from the Almighty.

7 Therefore ſhall all hands be letten downe, and all mens hearts ſhall melt away.

8 They ſhall ſtand in feare, carefulneſſe, and ſorrow ſhall come vpon them, and they ſhall haue paine as a woman that trauaileth with childe: one ſhall be aſhamed of another, and their faces ſhall burne like the flame of fire.

9 Beholde, the day of the Lord ſhall come terribly, and full of indignation, furie, & wrath, to make the land waſte, and to roote out the ſinners thereof.

10 For the ſtarrs and planets of heauen ſhall not giue their light, the Sunne ſhall be darkened in the riſing, and the Moone ſhall not ſhine with her light.

11 And I will biſt the wickedneſſe of the world, and the finnes of the vngodly. The high ſtomaches of the proud will I take away, and will lay downe the boaiſting of the tyrant.

12 I will make a man dearer then ſine golde, & a man to be more worth then a golden wedg of Ophir.

13 Therefore I will ſhake the heauens, and the earth ſhall remouue out of her place, in the wrath of the Lord of hoſtes, and in the day of his fearefull indignation.

14 And Babylon ſhal be as an hunted or chafed Doe, and as a ſheepe that no man taketh by: euerie man ſhall turne to his owne people, and ſeech one into his owne land.

15 Who ſo is found, ſhal be ſhot thow: & who ſo take th their part, ſhal be deſtroyed with ſword.

19 And Babylon, that glory of kingdoms, and beautie of the Chaldees honour, shall be destroyed, * euen as God destroyed Sodome and Gomoz.

20 It shall not endure for euer, neither shall there be any more dwelling there, from generation to generation: the Arabians shall pitch no tents there, neither shall the shepherds make their foldes there any more.

21 But fearefull wilde beastes shall lie there, and the houses shall be full of great Owles, & Striches shall dwell there, and Apes shall daunce there.

22 Wilde Cats shall crie in the palaces, and Dragons shall be in the pleasant houses: and as for Babilons time, it is at hand, and her dayes shall not be prolonged.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 The returne of the people from captiuitie, the prosperitie of the people of God, and affliction of their euemies. 13 The pride of Babylon.

ut the Lord will be mercifull vnto Jacob, and will yet choose Israel againe, and set them in their owne land, strangers shall cleaue and get them to the house of Jacob.

2 The people shall take them and carry them home to their owne land: and the house of Israel shall possesse them in the land of the Lord, that they may be seruants & handmaidens: and they shall take those prisoners, whose captiues they had bene before, and rule those that had oppressed them.

3 When the Lord now shall bring thee to rest from thy trauaile, feare, and hard bondage that thou wast laden withall:

4 Then shalt thou be this mockage vpon the king of Babylon, and say, How happeneth it that the opprellour leaueh off? Is the golden tribute come to an end?

5 The Lord hath broken the scepter of the bigodly, and the rod of the lordly.

6 Which rod in anger smiteth the people with continuall strokes, and in wrath reigneth ouer the nations persecuted without compassion.

7 And therefore the whole world is now at rest and quietnesse, and men sing for ioy.

8 Pea euen the firre trees, and Cedars of Libanus reioyce at thy fall, saying, Now that thou art layd downe, there come no more by to hew downe vs.

9 Well also beneath trembleth to meete thee at thy comming, and for thy sake hath raised his dead, all mightie men, and princes of the earth, all kings of the earth stand by from their seates.

10 That they may all answer and speake vnto thee, Art thou become weak also as we? Art thou become like vnto vs?

11 Thy pompe and thy pride is layd downe into the pit, and so is the melody of thy instruments. Wormes be laid vnder thee, and wormes be thy covering.

12 How art thou fallen from heauen, O Lucifer, thou faire morning child? How hast thou gotten a fall, euen to the ground, which didest weaken the nations?

13 For thou saidst in thine heart, I will clime by into heauen, and exalt my throne about beside the starres of God, I will sit also vpon the mount of the congregation toward the North.

14 I will clime by about the cloudes, and will be like the highest of all.

15 Yet thou shalt be brought downe to the deepe of hell, to the sides of the lake.

16 They that see thee, shall narrowly looke vpon thee, and thinke in themselves, saying, Is this the man that brought all lands in feare, and made the kingdomes afraid?

17 Is this he that made the world in a maner waste, and laide the cities to the ground, which let not his prisoners goe out?

18 The kings of the nations lie euery one in his owne house with worship.

19 And thou art cast out of thy graue like a filthy abominable branch, like as dead mens raiment that are shot thorow with the sword, and goe downe to the stones of the deepe, as a dead carke that is troden vnder feete.

20 Thou art not buried with them, euen because that thou hast wasted thy land, & destroyed thy people: the generation of the wicked shall be out of memorie for euer.

21 Let there a way be sought to destroy their children that be in their fathers wickednes, that they come not by againe to possesse the land, and fill the world full of enemies.

22 I will stande by against them, sayth the Lord of hostes, and roote out the name and remnant, sonne, and sonnes sonne of Babylon, saith the Lord.

23 I will giue it to the Otters, and will make water puddles of it, and I will sweepe them out with the besome of destruction, saith the Lord of hostes.

24 The Lord of hostes hath sworn an othe, saying, It shall come to passe as I haue determined, and shall be fulfilled as I haue deuised.

25 So that the Assyrian shall I destroy in my land, and vpon my mountaines will I tread him vnder foote, wherethrough his yoke shall come from them, and his burden shall be taken from their shoulder.

26 This deuice hath God taken thorow the whole world, and this his hand is stretched out ouer all people.

27 For if the Lord of hostes determine a thing, who is able to disannull it? And if he stretch forth his hand, who may turne it againe?

28 * The same yere that king Ahas died, was this burden:

29 Reioyce not thou whole Palestina, because the rodde of him that beateth thee is broken: for out of the Serpents roote there shall come an Adder, and his fruit shall be a seric flying worme.

30 But the first borne of the poore shall be fed, and the simple shall dwell in safetie: thy roote also will I destroy with hunger, and it shall slay the remnant.

31 Mourne thou port, wepe thou citie, for, O whole land of Palestina, thou art laid waste:

for there shall come from the North a smoke, that not one alone may abide at home in his times.
32 What shall one then answer the messengers of the Gentiles: for the Lord hath stablished Sion, and the pooze of his people that be therein, shall put their trust in it.

The xv. Chapter.
A prophetic against Moab.

His is the burden upon Moab: Ar of Moab was destroyed and overthrown in the night season, for also in Moab was destroyed and perished in the night.

2 Moab went by to the idoles house, even to Dibon to the high places to weep: for Peba and Moab shall mourne for Medba. All their heades were balde, and all their bearded shaven.

3 In her streetes are they girded about with sackcloth: in all the toppes of her houses and streetes shall be nothing but mourning and weeping.

4 Helbon and Geale shall cry, that their voice shall be heard unto Jahaz: and therefore the armed souldiers also of Moab shall bleate out and cry for very sorow of their minds.

5 Woe shall my heart be for Moabs sake, they shall see into the citie of Zoar, which is like a faire yong bulloche of three yeeres old, for they shall all goe by to Luth with weeping: even so by the way toward Horonaim they shall make lamentation for their better destruction.

6 For the waters of Nimrim shall be dried by, by reason wherof the grasse is withered, the herbes destroyed, and the greene things gone.

7 Therefore the goods that remaine in Moab, and the riches thereof, they shall carry to the hooke of willowes.

8 For the cry went ouer the whole land of Moab, unto Eglaïm, and unto Beer-Elim was there nothing but mourning.

9 Because the waters of Dimon were full of blood, I will adde more upon Dimon: and Lions upon the remnant of the lande, and on them that are escaped from Moab.

The xvj. Chapter.
The destruction of Moab.

Sende the Lorde of the worlde a Lambe from the rocke that lyeth toward the desert, unto the hill of the daughter Sion.

2 For as for the daughters of Moab, they shall be as a trembling bird that is put out of her nest: for they shall carrie them unto Arnon.

3 Gather your counsaile, come together in iudgement, cover vs with your shadow in the midday, as the night doeth hide the chaced, and bewray not them that are fled.

4 Let my persecuted people dwell among you: Moab, be thou their refuge against the destroyer: for the aduerlarie is brought to nought, the robber is vndone, the tyrant is wasted out of the land.

5 And in mercy shall the seat be prepared and he shall sit upon it in the trueth in the tabernacle of David, iudging and seeking iudgement, and making haste unto righteousnesse.

6 We haue heard of the pride of Moab, he is very proud, presumptuous, arrogant, and full of indignation, and baine are his lies.

7 Therefore shall Moab make lamentation, because of the Moabites that shall be slaine, yea they shall wayle together: because of the foundations of the citie that was made of bricke shall ye complaine, euen ye same people that are left onely behinde.

8 For the vines of Helbon are cut downe: as for the vine of Sibma, the lordes of the heathen haue broken downe her principal branches, they are come euen unto Jazer, they went on wandring vnto the wildernesse, her goodly branches were thowen downe as they went ouer the sea.

9 Therefore will I mourne for Jazer, and for the vine of Sibma, I will powze my teares upon thee, O Helbon and Geale: for the cry of thine enemies is fallen upon thy Sommer fruits, and upon thy haruel.

10 The mirth and cheare is taken away out of the plentifull field, and in the vineyards there shall be no ioy nor gladnesse: the treader shall tread out no wine in their presses, the song of their merrie cheare haue I laid downe.

11 Wherefore my bowels shall rumble like an harpe for Moabs sake, and mine inward partes for the cities sake that is made of bricke.

12 And it shall come to passe, that when it is seene that Moab shall be made wearie of his hill Chappels, he shall come to his temple to pray, but he shall not be able.

13 So then, this is the saying that the Lord hath spoken concerning Moab since that time.

14 But now the Lord hath spoken, saying, In thye yeeres, which shall be as the yeeres of an hyred seruant, shall the glory of Moab be turned into contempt throughout all his multitude, which is very great: and that which remaineth, shall be very small and feeble.

The xvij. Chapter.
A prophetic against Damascus.

His is the burden upon Damascus: behold, Damascus is taken away to be no more a city, but shall be an heape of broken stones.

2 The waste cities of Aroer shall be folds for cattel which shall lie there, and there shall be none to fray them away.

3 Ephraim also shall no more be strong, and Damascus shall no longer be a kingdome, and the remnant of Syria shall be as the glorie of the children of Israel, sayeth the Lord of hostes.

4 And in that day it shall come to passe, that the glory of Jacob shall be made very thin, and the fatnesse of his flesh shall ware leane.

5 And he shall be as one that gathereth by corne in haruel, euen like him whose arme reapeth the eares of corne: he shall be also like him that gathereth eares of corne in the valley of Rephaim.

6 Some gathering in deede shall there be left in it, euen as in the shaking of an Olive tree there remaine two or thye berries in the toppe of the hypermost bough, and foure or fve in the broad fruitfull branches thereof, saith the Lord God of Israel.

7 Then shall man turne againe to his maker, and his eyes shall haue respect to the holy one of Israel.

8 As for the altars, which are his owne handie worke, hee shall not regarde them, and the things that his fingers haue made, as groues and images, those shall hee not cast his eyes vnto.

9 In that day shall their strong cities be as the forsaken shrubbes and branches, which they left because of the children of Israel, and the land shall be desolate.

10 Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy saluation, and hast not bene mindfull of thy strong rocke: therefore shalt thou set pleasant plants, and shalt graffe the branch of another mans vine.

11 In that day shalt thou make thy plant to grow, and early in the morning shalt thou make thy freede to flourish: the haruett shall be gone in the day of inheritance, and there shall be sorrow without hope of comfort.

12 Woe shall be to the multitude of much people, which shall make a sound like to the noyse of the sea, and the violence of the nations, which shall rage like the rushing in of many waters.

13 Euen like many waters shall the people rage: God shall rebuke him, and he shall flee farre off, he shall be chased a way like as dry straw vpon the mountaines before the winde, and like a thing that turneth before the storme.

14 At euen behold there is trouble, and ouer it be morning, loe, it is gone: this is the portion of them that oppresse vs, and the lot of them that rob vs.

The xviii. Chapter.

1 An exhortation to the Ethiopians, and the countries nigh adioyning to them. 7 The vocation of the Gentiles.

That lande that trusteth vnder the shadowe of wings, that land which is beyonde the waters of Ethiopia.

2 Sending messengers by the sea, euen in vessels of reedes ouer the water: Get you hence ye speedy messengers, to a nation that is scattered abroad, and robbed of that they had, a fearefull people from their beginning hitherto, a nation troden downe by litle and litle, whose land the floods haue spoiled.

3 All the inhabitants of the worlde, and indwellers of the earth, looke by when he letteth vp a token in the mountaines, & hearken when he bloweth with the Trumpe.

4 For so the Lord sayd vnto me, as for me I will take my rest, and looke vpon the matter in my habitations, like a faire heate after the raine, and like a cloud of dewe in the heate of haruett.

5 For afore the haruett when the branch is grown, there shall come ripe fruit of the soure: and he shall cut downe the increase with scythes: and the branches shall he take a way with hooks.

6 Thus shall they be left together vnto the foules of the mountaines, and to the beastes of the earth: for in Sommer the birdes shall remaine vpon it, and euery beast of the land shall beon it in winter.

7 In that time shall there a present bee brought vnto the Lord of hostes, euen a people that is scattered abroad and robbed of that they had, that same people which haue bene feareful from their beginning hitherto, a nation troden downe by litle and litle, whose land the floods haue spoiled, to the place of the name of the Lord of hostes, euen to the mount Sion.

The xix. Chapter.

1 He prophesith against Egypt: 18 and the vocation of the Gentiles to Christ.

The burden of Egypt. Behold, the Lord rideth vpon a swift cloude, and shall come into Egypt, and the idoles of Egypt shall tremble at the presence of him, and the heart of Egypt shall quake in the middell of her.

2 And I will set the Egyptians one against another, so that one brother shall fight against another, and one neighbour against another, citie against citie, and realme against realme.

3 The mind also of Egypt shall cleane without counsell within it lesse, and the deuise that they take wil I destroy: and they shall seeke counsell at idoles, and at sozcerers, at workes with spirites, and at soothsayers.

4 And the Egyptians will I giue ouer into the hand of a maruelous cruel lord, and a mighty king shall haue dominion ouer them, saith the Lord God of hostes.

5 The waters of the sea shall faile, and the riuers shall decrease and be dryed vp.

6 The waters shall be drawen out, the riuers of Egypt shall be emptied and dryed vp, the reedes and flagges shall be cut downe.

7 The grasse in the riuier and by the riuers banke, and all that groweth by the riuier, shall wither away and be brought to nought.

8 The fishers also shall mourne, and all they that cast angle into the water shall make lamentation, and they that lay sooth their net besides the waters, shall be rooted out.

9 Moreover, they that worke in flare, and make fine workes, shall be confounded, and so shall they that weaue open workes.

10 For their open workes shall euen be destroyed, and all they that make ponds and flues sooth, shall come to nought.

11 But you foolish princes of Soan, ye wise counsellors of Pharaos, whose wit is turned to foolishnesse, how say ye vnto Pharaos, I am come of wise men, and of ancient kings?

12 Where are thy wise men? Let them tell thee if they can, what the Lord of hostes hath deused vpon Egypt.

13 The princes of Soan are become fooles, the princes of Soan are deceiued, they haue deceiued Egypt, euen they that were taken for the chiefe say thereof.

14 In the middell of it hath the Lord poured the spirit of wickednesse: and they haue deceiued Egypt in euery worke thereof, euen as a drunken man staggereth in his vomite.

15 Neither shall the head of taylor, the branch of reede, be able to doe any worke in Egypt.

16 In that day shall Egypt bee like vnto women: it shall be afraid, and stand in feare at the motion of the hand of the Lord of hostes which he shaketh ouer it.

17 And Egypt shall be afraid of the land of Iuda: so that euery one that maketh mention of it shalbe afraine therest, because of the counsel of the Lord of hostes, which he deuised for it.

18 In that day shal five cities in the land of Egypt speake the language of Chanaan, and sweare by the Lord of hostes: the citie of desolation shal be called one of them.

19 In that day shall the altar of the Lord be in the middl of the land of Egypt, and this title beside it, vnto the Lord.

20 And it shalbe a token and a witnesse vnto the Lord of hostes in the land of Egypt: for they shall cry vnto the Lord, because of such as trouble them, and he shal send them a sauibour, and a great man to deliuer them.

21 And the Lord shalbe knowne in Egypt, and the Egyptians shall knowe the Lord in that day, and doe sacrifice and oblation, yea, they shal bow a bow vnto the Lord, and performe it.

22 The Lord also shall smite Egypt sore, and heale them againe: and they shall be conuerted vnto the Lord, and he shalbe entreated of them, and shal heale them.

23 In that day shall there be a common way out of Egypt into Assyria, and Assyria shal come into Egypt, and Egypt into Assyria: so that the Egyptians and the Assyrians shall serue the Lord together.

24 In that day shall the nation of Israel be the third with Egypt and Assyria: and they shal be blessed in the midst of the land.

25 Which land the Lord of hostes hath blessed, saying, Blessed is my people of Egypt, Assur also is the worke of my handes, and Israel is mine inheritance.

The xx. Chapter. Against Egypt and Ethiopia.

In the yere that Charthā came vnto Alood, when Sargon the king of Assyria had sent him, and had fought againt Alood, & taken it:

2 At the same time spake the Lord by the hand of Esay the sonne of Amos, saying, Goe and take off the sackcloth from thy loynes, and put off thy shoe from thy foote. And he did so, walking naked and barefoote.

3 And the Lord sayde, Like as my seruant Esay hath walked naked and barefoote, for a signe and wonder thre yeres vpon Egypt and Ethiopia:

4 Euen so shal the king of Assyria take a way out of Egypt and Ethiopia, children and olde men naked and barefoote, with their loynes vncouered, to the great shame of Egypt.

5 They shalbe brought in feare also, and be ashamed of Ethiopia their hope, and of Egypt, wherein they are wont to glory.

6 And they that dwell in the same Isle, shall say in that day, Behold, such is our hope: whither shall we flee for helpe, that we may be deliuered from the king of Assyria? and howe shal we escape?

The xxj. Chapter.

Against Babylon, Idumea, and Arabia.

The burden of the walle sea. Euen as the stormie weather passeth thorow at the noone day from the wilderness, so shall it come from the terrible land.

2 A grievous vision was shewed vnto me:

let one deceitfull offender come againt another, and one destroyer againt another: vpon Ham, lay siege thou of Media, all their groning haue I laid downe.

3 Therefore are my loynes filled with sorrow, heauynesse haue taken hold vpon me, as the pangis of a woman that is trauailing: it made me sounge when I heard it; and it bered mee when I saw it.

4 My heart panted, fearfulness came vpon me: the night of my voluptuousnesse hath been turned againt me into feare.

5 While they garnished the table, the watchman looked: and while I was eating and drinking, it was said, vpon yee captaines, take you to your shield.

6 For thus hath the Lord said vnto me, Go, and set a watchman to tell what he seeth.

7 And he saw a charet which two horsemen sate vpon, with the cariage of an asse, and the cariage of a camell: so he looked, and tooke diligent heede.

8 And he cried, A lion, my lord, I stand continually vpon the watch tower in the day time, and am appointed to keepe my watch euery night.

9 And beholde, here commeth a charet of men, with two horsemen: and he answered and said, * Babylon is fallen, it is fallen, and all the images of her gods hath he smitten downe vnto the ground.

10 Thou art he whom I must threse, and thou belongest to my corne flooze: this that I heard of the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, haue I shewed vnto you.

11 The burden of Duma. He calleth to me out of Seir: watchman, what hast thou espied by night? watchman, what hast thou espied by night?

12 The watchman said, The morning commeth, and so doeth the night: if yee will aske me any question, then aske it, returne and come againe.

13 The burden concerning Arabia. In the woods of Arabia shall ye tarie all night, euen in the strectes of Dedanim.

14 The inhabitants of the lande of Thema brought forth water to him that was thirstie, they prevented him that was fled away with their bread.

15 For because of swordes they are become fugitiue, euen for the drawn sword, and for the bent bowe, and because of the grievousnesse of warre.

16 For thus hath the Lord sayde vnto mee, There is yet a yere, according to the yeres of an hyred seruant, & all the glory of Cedar shal faile.

17 And the number of them that shall escape from the bowes, shal be diminished by the mighty children of Cedar: for the Lord God of Israel hath spoken it.

The xxij. Chapter.

A prophecie againt Hierusalem.

The burden of the walle of babilon. what hast thou to doe here, that thou climest to the house tops?

2 Thou that art full of tumultuousnesse, thou troublesome and proude citie: thy staine men are neither put to death with the sword, nor dead in battell.

Habac. 2. 1.

* Hierusalem is smitten by the walle of wale

3 All thy captiues are fugitiue together, the archers haue taken them prisoners: all they I say that are found in thee, are in captiuitie together, and they also that fled farre off.

4 Therfore said I, Let mee alone, and I will make lamentation: ye shall not be able to comfort mee, because of the destruction of the daughter of my people.

5 For this is a day of trouble, of ruine, and of destruction, that the Lord the God of hostes will bring to passe in the balley of bision, breaking downe the cite, and crying vnto mountaynes.

6 Clam bare the quiuer with a charret of footmen and horsemen, and the cite of Cir shewed the shield open.

7 The chiefe balley also was ful of charets, and the horsemen set their faces directly toward the gate.

8 And in that day did the enemy take away the couer of Iuda, and then didst thou looke toward the <sup>b</sup> armour of the house of the forest.

9 Yee haue seene also the broken places of the cite of Dauid, how that they are many, and yee gathered together the waters of the lower poole.

10 As for the houses of Hierusalem, ye haue numbred them, and the houses haue ye broken downe, to make the wall strong.

11 A pit also haue ye made betweene the two walke for the waters of the old poole, and haue not regarded the maker thereof, neither had respect vnto him that fashioned it long agoe.

12 And in that day did the Lord God of hostes call men vnto weeping and mourning, to baldnesse and girding about with sackcloth.

13 And behold, they haue ioy and gladnesse, slaying oren, and killing sheepe, eating flesh, and drinking wine: * let vs eate and drinke, for to morrow we shall die.

14 And it came to the eares of the Lord of hostes. This iniquitie shall not be purged from you till ye die, saith the Lord God of hostes.

15 Thus saith the Lord God of hostes, Get ye vnto ponder treasurer, etien vnto Sebus, which is the ruler of the house.

16 What hast thou to do here? and whom hast thou here, that thou shouldst here hew thee out a sepulchre, as it were one that heweth him out a sepulchre on high, or that graueth an habitation for himselfe on an hard rocke?

17 Behold, O thou man, the Lord shall carie thee away into captiuitie, and shall surely couer thee with confusion.

18 The Lord shall turne thee ouer like a ball with his hands, and shall send thee into a farre countrey: there shalt thou die, and there in stead of the charets of thy pompe, shall the house of the Lord haue confusion.

19 I will driue thee from thy place, and out of thy dwelling shall he ouerthrow thee.

20 And in that day shall I call my seruant Eliacim the sonne of Helcia:

21 And with thy garments will I cloth him, and with thy girdle will I strengthen him: thy power will I also commit into his hand, and he shall be a father of such as dwell in Hierusalem, and in the house of Iuda.

22 *And the key of the house of Dauid will I lay vpon his shoulder: so that he shall open, and no man shut, he shall shut, and no man open.

23 And I will fasten him as a nail in a sure place, and he shall be the glorious seate of his fathers house.

24 Howeouer, all generations and posterities shall hang vpon him all the glory of their fathers house, all vessels both great and small, and all instruments of measure and musicke.

25 In that day, saith the Lord of hostes, shall the nail that is fastened in the sure place, depart and be broken, and fall: and the burden that was vpon it shall be pluckt away, for so the Lord hath spoken.

The xxiii. Chapter.

1 A prophecie against Tyrus: 17 and a promise that it shall be restored againe.

The burden of Tyre. Mourne ye ships of Charis, for there commeth such destruction, that ye shall not haue an house to enter into, and that there shall be no traffike out of the lande of Cittim, they haue knowledge of this plague.

2 We still ye that dwell in the Ile, the marchants of Sidon, and such as passe our the sea, haue made thee plenteous.

3 The corne that groweth by the great waters of Pilus, and the frutes of the riuer, were her victuals, so that it became a common mart of nations.

4 Bee ashamed thou Sidon: for the sea, euen the strength of the sea hath spoken, saying, I haue not traualled nor brought forth children, nor nourished by young men, or brought by birgins.

5 When tidings come to the Egyptians, they shall be loy for the rumour of Tyre.

6 Get you to Charis, mourne you that dwell in the Ile.

7 Is not this that glorious cite of yours, which hath bene of olde antiquitie? her owne feete shall carie her forth, to be a sojourner into a farre countrey.

8 Who hath deuised this against Tyre that crowne her selfe? whose marchants are princes, and whose factours are honourable in the world.

9 Euen the Lord of hostes hath deuised this, to put downe the pride of all such as be glorious, and to minish all them that be proud vpon the earth.

10 Get thee out of thy land like a flood vnto the daughter of Charis, for thou hast no more strength.

11 He that smote the kingdomes together, holdeth out his hand ouer the sea: euen the Lord himselfe hath giuen a commandment against the same common place of merchandise, that they shall utterly destroy the might thereof.

12 And he said, Make no more thy boast, O birgin, thou daughter Sidon, thou shalt be brought downe: yep, get thee ouer vnto Cittim, where neuertheless thou shalt haue no rest.

13 Beholde, this people came not of the Chalbees, but Assur made them strong with great ships: they set vp the strong holdes thereof, and destroyed his palaces: and he brought it in decay.

14 Mourne yee ships of Charis, for your strength is brought downe.

15 And in that day shall Tyre be forgotten

b The armour that Solomon made and furnished with munition, 1 Kings 7.

c The Lord will not forbid to make proud, them of sure the fence against the enemies, so that our trust be put in him, and not in our posterities and strong holds.

1. Cor. 15. 12.

Ioh. 12. 14. apoc. 3. 7.

d There is the sea of the sea in the west.

e That is the sea of the sea in the west.

seuentie yeeres, according to the yeeres of one king, and after the end of seuentie yeeres, shall Cye sing as doth an harlot.

16 Take an harpe, and goe about the citie, thou harlot that hast bene forgotten, make sweet melodie, sing mee songs, that thou maiest be had in remembrance.

17 And after the end of the seuentie yeeres, shall the Lord visite Cye, and she shall conuert vnto her reward, and shall commit fornication with all the kingdomes of the earth that are in the world.

18 Their occupying also and their reward shall be holy vnto the Lord: their gaines shall not be laid by nor kept in store, but it shall be theirs that dwell before the Lord, that they may eate ynough, and haue clothing sufficient.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

A prophetic of tribulation to come vpon the world, because of sinne.

Behold, the Lord maketh the earth waste and emptie, hee turneth it upside downe, and scattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof.

1 And the Prick shall be as the people, & the master as the seruant, the mistresse like the maide, the seller like the buyer, he that lendeth vpon vsurie, like him that borroweth vpon vsurie, the creditor as the debtor.

2 The land shall be cleane wasted, and utterly spoiled: for so the Lord hath spoken.

3 The earth is soze and consumeth away, the world is feeble and perisheth, the proud people of the earth are come to nought.

4 The earth also is become vnpromisable vnder the inhabitants thereof, which haue transgressed the lawes, changed the ordinance, broken the euertlasting covenant.

5 Therefore hath the curse consumed the earth, and they that dwell therein are fallen into trespass: wherefore the inhabitants of the earth are perished with drought, and fewe men are left behind.

6 The wine faileth, the vine hath no might, all they that haue bene merry in heart are come to mourning.

7 The mirth of Tabrets is laid downe, the noyse of such as haue made mery is ceased, the top of the harpe is at an end.

8 They shall drinke no more wine with mirth, strong drinke shall be bitter to them that drinke it.

9 The citie of vanitie is broken downe, every house is shut vp, that no man may come in.

10 In the streetes is there a crying, because of wine, all cheere is banished away, the mirth of the land is gone.

11 In the citie is left desolation, and the gate is smitten with destruction.

12 For in the midst of the land, euen among the people, it shall come to passe as at the shaking of Oliues, and as the grapes are when the wine harvest is done.

13 They shall lift by their voice, and make a mery noyse, and in magnifying of the Lord shall they cry out of the weel.

14 Wherefore praise ye the Lord in the balleys, euen the name of the Lord God of Israel in the Isles of the sea.

15 From the uttermost part of the earth haue we heard praises and mirth, because of the righteous: and I said, I know a thing in secret, I knowe a thing in secret, wo is me: the transgressors haue offended, the transgressors haue grieuously offended.

16 Fearefulnesse, the pit, and the snare are by on thee, O thou that dwellest on the earth.

17 * It will come to passe that whosoever escapeth the fearefull noyse, shall fall into the pit, and he that cometh by out of the pit, shall be taken with the snare: for the windowes from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth are moued.

18 The earth is utterly broken downe, the earth hath a soze ruine, the earth quaketh exceedingly.

19 The earth shall reele to and fro like a dzunhard, and shall be remoued like a tent, and the iniquitie thereof shall be heauie vpon it, it shall fall, and not rise againe.

20 And in that day shall the Lord visite the host about that is on high, and the sitings of the world that are vpon the earth.

21 And they shall be gathered together as they that be in prison, and they shall be shut by inward, and after many daies shall they be visited.

22 The moone shall be abashed, and the sunne ashamed, when the Lord of hostes shall reigne in mount Sion and in Hierusalem with worship, and in the sight of such as shall be of his counsell.

The xxv. Chapter.

A thanksgiuing to God for his workes.

Thou art my Lord my God, I will magnifie thee, I will giue thanks vnto thy name, for thou hast brought woonderfull thinges to passe, according to thine old counsell, truly and faithfully.

1 Thou hast made a citie an heape of stones, and brought a strong towne into decay: the habitation of strangers hast thou made to be no citie, neither shall it be builded any more.

2 Therefore shall the mightie people giue glory vnto thee, the citie of the valiant heathen shall feare thee.

3 For thou hast bene a strength vnto the poore, and a succour for the needie in his trouble, a refuge against euill weather, a shadow against the heate: for the blast of raging men is like a storme that casteth downe a wall.

4 Like as the heate in a dry place wasteth all things: so shalt thou suppress the noyse of aliants, the heate is abated with the shadow of the cloud, euen so shall God awage the noyse of the cruell tyrants.

5 And in this mountaine shall the Lord of hostes make vnto all people a feast of plentious and delicate things, euen of most pleasant and daintie dishes.

6 And in this mountaine shall the Lord destroy the couering that all people are wrapped in, and the hanging that is spread vpon all nations.

7 As for death he hath destroyed it for euer, and the * Lord God shall wipe away teares from all faces, and the rebuke of his people shall he take away out of all the earth, for so the Lord hath said.

Iere. 48.44.

Apo. 1.7. and 21.4

9 And in that day it shalbe said, Lo, this is our God, we haue waited for him, and he shall saue vs, this is the Lord in whom we haue hoped, we will be mercie, and reioyce in the saluation on that commeth of him.

10 For in this mountaine shall the hand of the Lord create, and Moab shall be cherehed vnder him, euen as strawe is troden to doung on the dourghill.

11 And he shall stretch out his hand in the midd of them, as he that swimmeth casteth out his hands to swim: and with the strength of his hands shall he bring downe their pride.

12 The strong holde also, and defence of thy walles hath hee ouerthrowen and cast downe, and brought them to the ground, euen vnto dust.

The xxvj. Chapter.

A song of deliuerance of the people.

In that day shall this song bee sung in the land of Iuda, we haue a strong citie, saluation shall God appoint in stead of wals and bulwarikes.

2 Open ye the gates, that the righteous people which keepeth the trueth may enter in.

3 By an assured purpose wilt thou preferue perfect peace, because they put their trust in thee.

4 Put yee your trust alway in the Lorde: for in the Lorde God there is strength for euermore.

5 For he hath brought downe the high minded citizens: as for the proude citie, hee hath brought it low, euen to the ground shall he cast it downe, and bring it vnto dust.

6 The foote, euen the foote of the poore, and the steps of such as be in necessitie shall tread it downe.

7 The path of equitie wilt thou grant vnto the iust, O thou most righteous, thou shalt order the path of him that is righteous.

8 Pea in the way of thy iudgements, O Lord, haue we put our trust in thee: thy name also, and the remembrance of thee, is the thing that our soule longeth for.

9 My soule hath longed for thee al the night, and with my spirit which is within me, will I seeke thee earlie in the morning: for when thy iudgements are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world shall learne righteousness.

10 Shall the vngodly man bee fattoured, which hath not learned righteousness, but doth wickedly in the earth, where nothing ought to be done, but that which is righteous? hee shall not see the glory of the Lord.

11 Lord, when thy hand is lift vp to strike, they see it not, but they shall see it, & be confounded with the zeale of the people, and the fire that consumeth thine enemies shall deuoure them.

12 Lord, vnto vs thou shalt prouide peace: for thou also hast wrought all our workes in vs.

13 O Lord our God, other lords besides thee haue subdued vs: but we will be mindfull onely of thee, and of thy name.

14 The dead will not liue, they that be out of life will not rise againe, therefore hast thou visited and rooted them out, and destroyed all the memoire of them.

15 Thou hast increased the people, O Lord, thou hast increased the people, thou art glorious, thou hast sent them farre off vnto all the coasts of the earth.

16 Lord, in trouble haue they visited thee, they powred out their prayer, when thy chastening was vpon them.

17 Like as a woman with child that dyaweth nigh to wards her trauaile, is sorie and crieth in her paines: euen so haue we bene in thy sight, O Lord.

18 We haue bene with child & suffered paine, as though we had brought forth wind: for there is no saluation in the earth, neither do the inhabitants of the world submit themselves.

19 Thy dead men shall liue, euen as my body shall they rise againe: awake and sing yee that dwell in dust, for thy deaw is euen as the deaw of herbes, and the earth shall cast out them that be vnder her.

20 Come my people, enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doores about thee, hide thy selfe for a litle while, vntill the indignation ce ouerpass.

21 For beholde, the Lord is comming out of his place, to visite the wickednesse of such as dwell vpon earth: the earth also shall disclose her bloods, and shall no more hide them that are slaine in her.

The xxvij. Chapter.

A prophesie of the comming of Christ, and destruction of idolatrie.

In that day the Lorde with his soze, great, and mightie sword shall visite Lewiathan the fugitiue serpent, euen Lewiathan that crooked dragon that is in the sea.

2 In that day see that ye sing of the congregation, which is the vineyarde that bringeth forth the best wine:

3 Euen I the Lord do keepe it, in due seasons shall I water it: and least the enemy doe it any harme, I will both night and day preferue it.

4 There is no displeasure in me, esse when the vineyard bringeth mee forth briers and thornes, I would goe thow it by warre, and burne it by together.

5 Let it take holde of my strength, and it shall be at one with mee, euen at one shall it be with me.

6 The dayes are comming that Jacob shall take roote, Israel shall be greene and flourish, and the world shalbe filled with fruite.

7 Hath he smitten him as soze as he did the other that smote him? Or is he slaine with soze a slaughter as they slew him?

8 Thou wilt punish it in the branches, yet not beyond measure: for in the day that the East winde bloweth soze, it taketh away the fruites.

9 By this meanes therefore shal the iniquitie of Jacob be purged, and this is all the fruite, namely the taking away of his sinne, if he make all the stones of the altar of idoles, as challee stones that are beaten in sunder, that their groues and images rise not by againe.

10 Els shal the strong citie be desolate, and the habitation forsaken and left like a wilderness: there shall the calfe feed, and there shall he lie, and eat by the grasses thereof.

Mich. 12

By Lewiathan the serpent, the dragon that is in the sea.

By the East winde, the East winde that bloweth away the fruites.

By the stones of the altar of idoles, the stones that are beaten in sunder.

11 when the branches of it are drie, they are broken off, and the women come and set them on fire: for it is a people of no vnderstanding, and therefore hee that made them, shall not fauour them, and hee that created them shall giue them no grace.

12 And in that day shall the Lord make a chre-thing from the mids of the riuer Euphrates, vnto the riuer of Egypt, and ye children of Israell shall be gathered together one to another.

13 In that day shall the great trumpe bee blown, so that they which were lost in the land of Assyria, and they that were banished in the land of Egypt, shall come and worship the Lord in the holy mount of Hierusalem.

The xxviiij. Chapter.

1 Against the pride of Ephraim, 9 and against false priests and preachers.

Voe bee vnto the crowne of pride, even vnto the drunken people of Ephraim, whose great pompe is as a flower that fadeth away vpon the head of the balley of such as be in wealth, and are ouerladen with wine.

2 Beholde, there cometh a vehement and sore day from the Lorde, like an vmeasurable haile and perillous tempest, even like the force of mighty and horrible waters that violently beareth downe all thinge.

3 The crowne of the pride of the drunken Ephraimites shall be troden vnder foote.

4 So that the flowre of his fairenesse and beauty, which is in the head of the balley of fairenesse, shall fade away as doeth an vntimely ripe figge before haruest: which when a man espieth, hee looketh vpon it, and while it is yet in his hand he eateth it vp.

5 In that day shall the Lord of hostes be the crowne of glorie and diamond of beauty vnto the residue of his people.

6 He wil be also a spirit of perfect knowledge to him that sitteth in iudgement, and strength vnto them that turne away the battell to the gate of the enemies.

7 But they are out of the way by reason of wine, yea, farre out of the way are they through strong drinke: the priest also and the prophet are gone astray by the meanes of strong drinke, they are drunken with wine, they go amisse through strong drinke, they fall in prophesying, and stumble in iudgement.

8 For all tables are full of vomite and filthinesse, that no man is cleane.

9 Whome then shall such one teach knowledge: and whom shall he make to vnderstand the thing that he heareth: for they are as ignorant as yong children that are taken from the milke, and are weaned.

10 For they that be such, must take after one lesson, another lesson, after one commandement, another commandement, for one rule, another rule, after one instruction, another instruction, there a little, and there a little.

11 * For he that speaketh vnto this people, is euen as one that bleseth rudenesse of speech, or a strange language.

12 If any man say vnto them, Loe, this is the rest where with yee may ease him that is wearie, this is the refreshing: they will not hearken.

vnto them lesson vpon lesson, commandement vpon commandement, rule vpon rule, instruction vpon instruction, there a little, and there a little: that they may goe on, and fall backward, be iusted, tangled, and snared.

14 Wherefore heare the word of the Lord yee mockers, yee that haue rule of this people which is at Hierusalem.

15 Because ye haue sayd, we haue made a couenant with death, and with hell are wee at a greement: and though there goe foorth a soze plague, it shall not come vnto vs, for wee haue made fallhood our refuge, and vnder vanitie are we hid:

16 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, * Beholde, I lay in Sion for a foundation a stone, euen a tried stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation: who so beleueth, let him not bee too haile.

17 Iudgement also will I lay to the rule, and rightousnesse to the balance, so that the haile shall sweepe away as a byome your baime confidence, and the pituie place of your refuge shall the waters run ouer.

18 And thus the couenant that ye made with death, shall be disanulled, and your agreement that ye made with hell, shall not stand, yea when the soze plague goeth foorth, yee shall bee troden downe vnder it.

19 From the time that it goeth forth, it shall take you away: for early in the morning euerie day, yea both day and night, shall it goe thozow, and when the noise thereof is perceued, it shall gender beration.

20 For the bed is narrow, and not large, and the couering so smal, that a man can not wind himselfe vnder it.

21 * For the Lord shall stand as in mount Perazim, and shall be wroth like as in the balley of Gibcon, that hee may doe his worke, his strange worke, and bring to passe his act, his strange act.

22 Now therefore see that ye be no mockers, lest your punishment encrease: for I heard the Lord of hostes, that there shall come a hozt ende vpon the whole earth.

23 Heare ye then, and hearken vnto my voice, consider and ponder my speech.

24 Doeth not the husbandman plowe all the day, and openeth and breaketh the clots of his ground, that he may sowe?

25 When hee hath made it plaine, wil hee not spread abroad the sitches, and sowe cummin, and cast in wheate by measure, and the appointed barley and rie in their place?

26 God wil instruct him to haue discretion, euen his God wil teach him.

27 For sitches shall not bee threshed with an harrowe, neither shall a cart wheele bee brought thozow the cummin: but the sitches are beaten out with a staffe, and cummin with a rod.

28 But the seede that bread is made of, is threshed, though it be not alway a threshing, and a cart wheele must bee brought ouer it, lest hee grind it with his teeth.

29 This also commeth of the Lord of hostes, which worketh with wonderful wisdom, and bringeth excellent workes to passe.

We vnto thee, O Ariel, Ariel, thou cite that Dauid dwelt in: Goe on from yeere to yeere, and let the lambes be slaine.

2 I wil lay siege vnto Ariel, so that there shall bee heuynesse and sorow in it: and it shalbe vnto me euen an altar of slaughter.

3 I will besiege thee round about, and will fight against thee thoro' a bulwarke, and will reare vp ditches against thee.

4 Thou shalt bee brought downe, and shalt speake out of the ground, and thy speech shal goe lowe out of the dust:

5 Thy voice also shall come by out of the ground, like the voice of a witch, and thy talking shall whisper out of the dust.

6 Moreover, the noise of the strange enemies shall be like thin dust, and the multitude of tyrants shall be as drie strawe that cannot tarie: euen suddenly and in haste shal their blast goe.

7 Thou shalt be visited of the Lord of hostes, with thunder, earthquake, and with a great noise, with storme and tempest, and with the flame of a consuming fire.

8 And the multitude of all nations that fight against Ariel, shall be as a dreame seen by night: euen so shall they be that make warre against it, and strong holds to ouercome it, and that lay any siege vnto it.

9 In conclusion, it shalbe euen as when an hungry man dreameth that hee is eating, and when he awaketh, his soule is empty, or as when a thirstie man dreameth that hee is drinking, when he awaketh, he is yet faint, and his soule hath appetite: euen so shall the multitude of all nations be that fight against mount Sion.

10 Ponder these things once in your minds, and wonder: Blinded are they themselves, and the blind guides of other, they are drunken, but not with wine: they are vnsatable, but not through strong drinke:

11 For the Lord hath covered you with a stumbling spirit, and hath closed your eyes: your prophets also and rulers that should see, them hath he covered.

12 And the vision of all the prophets, is become vnto you as the wordes of a booke that is sealed by, which men deliuer to one that is learned, saying, Reade thou in it: and he saith, I can not, for it is sealed.

13 And the booke is giuen to him that is not learned, saying, Reade thou in it: and he saith, I am not learned.

14 Therefore thus hath the Lord said, * For as much as this people, when they be in trouble, do honour me with their mouth, and with their lips, but their heart is farre from mee, and the feare which they haue vnto mee, proceedeth of a commandement that is taught of men.

15 Therefore will I doe marueilles among this people, euen marueilous things I say and a wonder: * for the wisdomes of their wise men shall perish, and the vnderstanding of their witty men shall hide it selfe.

16 * Doe vnto them that keepe secret their thoughts, to hide their counsell from the Lord, and to doe their workes in darknesse, saying, * Who seeth vs? and who knoweth vs?

17 Doubtlesse your destruction is in reputation as the Potters clay: and doeth the worke say of him that made it. He made not mee: And doeth an earthen vessel say of him that fashioned it, He had no vnderstanding?

18 Is it not hard at hand that Libanus shall bee turned into a lowe ficke, and that the lowe ficke shalbe taken as the wood?

19 And in that day shall deafe men heare the wordes of the booke, and the eyes of the blinde shal see euen out of the cloude, and out of darknesse.

20 The meeke spirited also shalbe merie in the Lord, and the pooze among them that bee lowly shall reioice in the holy one of Israel:

21 For hee that did violence is brought to nought, and the scornful man is confounded, and they rooted out that made haste early to vnrigh-teousnesse, 22 Making a man to sinne in the word, and that tooke him in a snare, which reproveth them in the open place, and they that haue turned the cause of the righteous to nought.

23 Therefore thus saith the Lord to the house of Jacob, euen thus sayth hee that redeemed Abraham, Jacob shal not now be confounded, nor his face pale.

24 But when he seeth his children the worke of my hands in the mids of him, they shal sanctifie my name, and praise the holy one of Jacob, and feare the God of Israel.

25 They also that haue bene of an erroneous spirit, shal come to vnderstanding, and they that haue bene scornful shal learne doctrine.

The xxx. Chapter.

1 Against them that forsake the counsel of God, and cleaue to the counsel of men. 3 The Prophet also threatneth the remnant of the people, that after the destruction of Hierusalem went into Egypt.

As for those disobedient children, sayth the Lord, that they wil take counsell, and not of mee, that they wil take a secret aduice, and not out of my spirit, and therefore adde they vnto sinne.

2 Euen they that walke to go downe into Egypt, and haue asked no question at my mouth, but seeke strength in the might of Pharaos, and trust in the shadowe of Egypt.

3 Therefore shall the strength of Pharaos be your confusion, and the trust in the shadowe of Egypt, your shame.

4 For his captaines were at Soan, and his embassadours came vnto Hanes.

5 They were ashamed of the people that could doe them no good, and that might not help them, nor shewe them any profit, but were their confusion and rebuke.

6 The burden of the beasts of the South, In a land of trouble and anguish, from whence shal come the yong and old lion, the viper, a fierce serpent, that stich against them that vpon colts beare their riches, and vpon camels their treasures to a people that can doe them no good.

7 For vaine and nothing worth shal the help of the Egyptians bee: therefore haue I cried vnto Hierusalem, They shall haue strength ynough, if they wil settle their mindes in quietnesse.

8 Doe therefore go thy way, and write this before them in a table, & note it in a booke, that it may finally remaine and be kept still for euer.

Abdi. 1, 8.

Ecl. 23, 15

9 For this is an obstinate people, and displeasing children, children that refuse to heare the law of the Lord.

10 For they say vnto the seers, See not: and to them that be cleare of iudgement, Looke not our right things for vs: but speake faire wordes vnto vs, looke out errors.

11 Get you out of the way, depart out of this path, and turne the holy one of Israel from vs.

12 Wherefore thus sayth the holy one of Israel, Because your hearts rise against this word, and because you trust in wrong dealing, and peruerse iudgement, and put your confidence therein:

13 Therefore shall ye haue this mischiefe for your destruction and fall, like as an high wall that falleth because of some rift or blast, whose breaking commeth suddenly.

14 And the hurt thereof is like an earthen vessell which breaketh without helpe, so that in the bursting of it, there is not found one shauer to fetch fire in, or to take water withall out of the pit.

15 For thus sayth the Lord God, euen the holy one of Israel, In repentance and in rest shall yee bee safe, in quietnesse and sure confidence shall bee your strength, but yee haue had no lust thereto.

16 For ye haue sayd, No, but wee will escape through horses, therefore shall yee flee, and wee will get vs by vpon swift beasts, and therefore shall your persecuters be swifter.

17 A thousand shall flee at the rebuke of one, and at the rebuke of siue, shall ye all flee, til ye be left as a ship mast vpon the top of a mountaine, and as a beacon vpon an hill.

18 Therefore doeth the Lorde cause you to waite, that hee may haue mercie vpon you, to the intent that hee may haue the preeminence when hee is gracious vnto you: for the Lord is the God of indgement, blessed are all they that hope in him.

19 If the people remaine in Sion, and at Hierusalem, thou shalt not be in heauinesse: but at the voice of thy complaint that hee haue mercie vpon thee, and when he heareth it, he shall giue thee an answer.

20 And though the Lord giue you the bread of trouble, and the water of aduertitie, thy raine shall be no more so scant, but thine eyes shall see thy raine,

21 Yea, and thine eare shall heare the talking of him that doth speake behind thee: This is the way, walke ye in it, turne not aside, neither to the right hand, nor to the left.

22 Yee shall destroy also the couering of your siluer images, and the decking of your golden idoles, euen as filthinesse shalt thou put them away, and thou shalt say vnto it, Get thee hence.

23 Then shall God giue raine vnto thy seede that thou shalt sowe the ground withall, a bread of the increase of the earth, which shall be fat and very plenteous: in that day also shall thy cattel be fed in large pastures.

24 The oxen likewise, and the yong asses that eate the ground, shall eate the cleane prouender, which is purged with the wind and the fanne.

25 Finally, vpon euery high mountaine and hill shall there be rivers and streames of waters in the day of the great slaughter when the to-

26 Whereouer, the light of the Moone shall be as the light of the Sunne, and the Sunne light shall be seuen fold, and haue as much shine as the seuen dayes beside, when the Lord bindeth by the fore of the people, and healetly the stroke of their wound.

27 Beholde, the same of the Lord commeth from far, and his presence is so hot, that no man is able to abide: his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue is as a consuming fire.

28 His breath is a vehement flood of water that reacheth vp to the neck: that he may sift away the heathen in the sicke of banitie, and his breath is a bydle of error in the iawes of the people.

29 And ye shall sing like as in the night when the holy sollemnitie beginneth, and ye shall haue gladnesse of heart, like as when one commeth with a pipe vnto the hill of the Lord, and to the most mighty one of Israel.

30 And the Lord shall cause his glorious boice to bee heard, and shall declare his stretched out arme with a terrible countenance, and with a flame of consuming fire, with noisome lightning, with thowze, and with hailstones.

31 For through the boice of the Lorde shall Assur be destroyed, which smote other men with the rod.

32 And it shall come to passe, that whither soeuer he goeth, the rod shall cleaue vnto him, which the Lord shall lay vpon him with Tabrets and harpes: and with great war shall he fight against his hoste.

33 For the fire of hel is ordained from the beginning, yea euen for the king is it prepared: this hath the Lord set in the deepe, and made it wide, the burning wherof is fire and much wood: the breath of the Lord, which is like a ruler of brimstone, both kindle it.

The xxxj. Chapter.

He curseth them that forsake God, and seeke for the helpe of men.

Ye be vnto them that goe downe into Egypt for helpe, and trust in horses, and put their confidence in charets, because they be many, and in horsemen, because they be lustie and strong: but they regard not the holy one of Israel, and they aske no question at the Lord.

2 And he neuertheless is wise, a wil plague the wicked, and goeth not from his word, he will arise against the household of the froward, and against the helpe of euil doers.

3 Now the Egyptians are men, a not God, and their horses flesh, and not spirit: and as soon as the Lord stretcheth out his hand, then shall the helper fall, and he that should haue bene helped, and they shall all together be destroyed.

4 For thus hath the Lord spoken vnto mee, Like as the Lion and the Lions whelpes roareth vpon the pray that he hath gotten, and is not afraid though the multitude of Shepheards crye out vpon him, neither abashed for all the heape of them: so shall the Lorde of hostes come downe to fight for mount Sion, and defend his hill.

5 Like as the birds flutter about their nests: so shall the Lord of hostes keepe, saue, defend, and 6 Therefore, O ye children of Israel, turne againe vnto him whom you haue oftentimes forsaken.

7 For in that day every man shall cast out his idoles of silver, and his idoles of gold, which ye haue made with your owne hands vnto your sinne.

8 Assur also shall be slaine with the sword, not with a mans sword, neither shall the sword of any man deuoure him, and he shall see from the slaughter, and his choysse young men shall be dispersed.

9 He shall goe for feare to his strong holdes, and his princes shall see from his standard, saith the Lord, whose fire is in Sion, and his furnace in Hierusalem.

The xxxij. Chapter.

The conditions of good rulers and officers.

Behold, a king shall gouerne after the rule of righteousness, and the princes shall rule according vnto the balance of equitie.

2 And that man shall be vnto men as a defence for the winde, and as a refuge for the tempest, like as a riuer of water in a thirlic place, and the shadow of a great rocke in a drie land.

3 The eyes of the seeing shall not be dimme, and the eares of them that heare shall take diligent heede.

4 The heart of the vnwise shall attaine to knowledge, and the vnperfect tongue shall speak plainly and distinctly.

5 Then shall the foolish nigard be no more called gentle, nor the churle liberall.

6 But the nigard will speake nigardly, and his heart will worke euill, and play the hypocrite, and imagine abominations against God, to make the hungry leane, & to withhold drinke from the thirlic.

7 The weapons of the churlish are euill, he deuisech noysome deuises, that he may beguile the poore with deceitfull words, yea, euen there as he should giue sentence with the poore.

8 But the liberall person imagineth honest things, and commeth by for liberalitie vnto promotion.

9 O ye rich and idle women, hearken vnto my voyce: ye carelesse daughters, marke my wordes.

10 Many yeres and dayes shall ye be brought in feare, O ye carelesse women: for the vintage shall faile, and the harvest shall not come.

11 Be abashed, you that liue in abundance, tremble you that liue carelesse, cast off your rayment, make your selues bare, and put sackcloth about you.

12 For as the infants weepe when their mothers teates are dried by: so shall you weepe for your drie fields and fruitfull vineyards.

13 My peoples field shall bring thornes and thistles: and so shall it be in every house of voluptuousnesse, and in every citie that reioyceth.

14 The palaces also shall be broken, and the greatly occupied citie desolate: the towres and bulwrikes shall become dennes for euermore, wherewith wilde asses take their pleasure, and sheep their pasture.

15 Vnto the time that the spirit bee powred vpon vs from aboue, and that the wilderness be a fruitfull field, and the plenteous field be reckoned for a wood.

16 * When shall equitie dwell in the desert, and righteousness in a fruitfull land.

17 And the worke of righteousness shall be peace, and her fruit rest and quietnesse for ever.

18 And my people shall dwell in the times of peace, and in sure dwellings, in safe places of comfort.

19 And when the hayle falleth, it shall fall in the wood, and the citie shall be set low in the balley.

20 O how happie shall ye be when ye shall safely sow your seed beside all waters, and driue thither the feete of your Oxen and Asses.

The xxxiiij. Chapter.

1 Threatning against the Assyrians. 20 A destruction of them that shall see the Lord.

We to thee that destroyest, when thou wast not destroyed, thou breakest the league, whereas none hath broken it with thee: for wher thou shalt leaue destroying, thou thy self shalt be destroyed: thou ceasest from breaking the league, then shall they breake it to thee.

2 O Lord, haue mercy vpon vs, we haue put our whole trust in thee: be an arme to such earely, and our health in the time of trouble.

3 At that confusioe noyse the people fled, and at thine exalting, the heathen were scattered.

4 And the spoyles shall be gathered, which shall be yours, as are the gathering of Buzhus, and the multitude going to it shall be as Locusts running to and fro.

5 The Lord is exalted, for it is hee that dwelleth on high, hee hath filled Sion with iudgement and righteousness.

6 And a sure establishing of the times, shall be strength, health, wisdom, and knowledge: and the very feare of the Lord shall be the treasure of it.

7 Behold, the messengers shall crie without: and the ambassadours of peace shall weepe bitterly.

8 Their strectes are waste, there walketh no man therein: God hath broken the appointment, the cities are cast away, and men are nothing regarded.

9 The desolate earth is in heavinesse, Libanus is shamed and he wren downe, Sharon is like a wilderness, Basan and Charnel are spoyled of their fruits.

10 And therefore saith the Lord, I will by now, now will I be aduanced, now will I be exalted.

11 Ye shall conceiue stubble, and beare straw: and your spirit shall be the fire, that it may consume you.

12 And the people shall be burnt like lime, and as thornes burnt that are he wren off, and cast in the fire.

13 Now hearken to, ye that are farre off, how I haue done, and consider my power, ye that are at hand.

14 The sinners at Sion are afraide, a sudden fearefulness is come vpon the hypocrites: what is he among vs, say they, that shall dwell by the consuming fire? which of vs may abide the everlasting heate?

15 *He that leaeth a godly life, and speaketh the trueth, he that abhorreth gaines by violence and deceit, hee that keepeth his hand that hee touch no reward, which stoppeth his eares that he heare no counsell against the innocent blood, which holdeth downe his eyes that hee see no euill:

16 Hee it is that shall dwell on high, whose safeguard shall be in a bulwarke of rocks: to him shall bee giuen meate, and his waters shall not faile.

17 Thine eyes shall see the king in his glory, euen the King of the farre countreyes shall they see.

18 Thine heart studied for feare, thinking thus, *What shall then become of the Scribe: of the receiuer of our money: what of him that tared our fairest houses?

19 There shalt thou not see a cruell people of a strange tongue, to haue to disrused a language that it may not bee vnderstanded, neither so strange a speech but it shall be perceiued.

20 Looke vpon Sion, the head citie of our solemne feastes: thine eyes shall see Jerusalem that glorious habitation, the tabernacle that neuer shall remouue, whose nailles shall neuer be taken out woilde without end, whose cordes euery one shall neuer corrupt.

21 For the glorious maiesty of the Lord shall there bee present among vs, as a place where faire broad riuers and streames are, thow the which, shall neither walke towe, nor great ship faile.

22 For the Lord is our iudge, the Lord is our law-giuer, the Lord is our king, and hee himselfe shall be our Saviour.

23 Thy tacking is loosed, therefore it cannot make fall the masse, nor spread the saile: then there is dealed great spoye, yea, lame men run after the pray.

24 There iseth no man that sayeth, I am sicke: but all euill is taken away from the people that dwell there.

The xxxiiij. Chapter.

The last destruction of the Synagogue, in which the kingdome and priesthood of the people was translated to the Church and congregation of Christ.

Some ye heathen, and heere, take heede you people: hearken thou earth, & all that is therein, thou round compass, & all that dwelleth thereupon.

2 For the Lord is angry with all people, and his displeasure is kindled against all the multitude of them, hee hath destroyed them, and deliuered them to the slaughter.

3 So that their slaine shall be cast out, and their bodies shall stinke, that euen the very hills shall be wet with the blood of them.

4 All the starres of heauen shall wasse, and the heauens shall fold together as a roie, and all the starres thereof shall fall, like as the leaves fall from the trees and figge trees.

5 For my sword shall be bathed in heauen, and shall immediatly come downe to iudgement vpon Idumea, and vpon the people which I haue cursed.

6 And the Lords sword shall be full of blood, and be rustie with the fattenesse and blood of lambes and goates, with the fattenesse of the kidneys of wethers: for the Lord shall kill a great offering in Bozra, and a great slaughter in the land of Idumea.

7 There shall the unicorns fall with them, and the Bulles with the Gyants, and their land shall be thourghly sohed with blood, and their ground corrupt with fattenesse.

8 For it is the day of Gods vengeance, and the yeere of recompence for the reuenge of Sion.

9 And his floods shall be turned to pitch, and his earth to hymsone, and therewith shall the land be kindled.

10 So that it shall not be quenched day nor night, but smoke euermore, & so forth lye waste: and no man shall goe thow to it for euer.

11 *But Pelicanes, Storkes, great Owles, and Hauens shall haue it in possession, and dwell therein: for God shall spread out the line of desolation vpon it, and the stones of emptinesse.

12 Her nobles shall call, and there is no kingdome: and all her princes shall be nothing.

13 Thornes shall grow in their palaces, nettles and thistles in their strong holdes, that the dragons may haue their pleasure therein, and that they may be a court for Estriches.

14 There shall strange visures and monstrous beastes meete one another, and the wilde keepe companie together, there shall the Lamia lye and haue her lodging.

15 There shall the Oyle make her nest, build, be there at home, and bring forth her yong ones: there shall the Bites come together, each one to his like.

16 Seeke thowgh the book of the Lord, and read it: there shall none of these things bee left out, there shall not one nor such like faile: for his mouth commaundeth, and that same doeth his spirit gather together, or fulfill.

17 Hee hath cast the lot for them, and to those beastes hath his hand diuided it by the line: therefore those shall possesse it for euer, from generation to generation shall they dwell therein.

2 She shall flourish pleasantly, and be joyfull, and euer be giuing thanks moze and moze: for the glory of Libanus, the beautie of Carmel & Saron shall be giuen her: These shall know the honour of the Lord, and the maiestie of our God.

3 And therefore strength the weak hands, and comfort the feeble knees.

4 Say vnto them that are of a fearefull heart, Be of good cheere, and feare not, behold, your God commeth to take vengeance, and you shall see the reward that God giueth: God commeth his owne selfe, and will deliuer you.

5 *Then shall the eyes of the blind be lightened, and the eares of the deafe opened.

6 Then shall the lame men leape as an Hart, and the dumbe mans tongue shall giue thanks: for in the wildernesse there shall welles spring, and floods of water in the desert.

The xxxvj. Chapter.

Hierusalem is besieged by Sennacherib, in the time of king Ezeccias.

4. Kin. 18.
1. 2. chro.
32. 1.

Ezeccias, came Sennacherib king of the Assyrians downe, to lay siege vnto all the strong cities of Iuda, to conquer them.

2 And the king of the Assyrians sent Rabfaceh from Iachis toward Hierusalem, against Ezeccias, with an exceeding holste, which set him by the conduit of the ouer pool, in the way that goeth through the fullers land.

3 And so there came foorth vnto him Eliacim, Delcias sonne, the chiefe ouer the household, Sobna the scribe, and Joah Asaphs sonne, the secretarie:

4 And Rabfaceh sayd vnto them, Tell Ezeccia that the great king sayeth thus vnto him, what presumption is this that thou trustest vnto?

5 I sayd surely that thou trustest in vaine words, when counsell and strength are necessarie to battell: but now whereto trustest thou, that thou rebellest against me?

6 Loe, thou puttest thy trust in a broken staffe of reed, I meane Egypt, which hee that leaneeth vpon, it goeth into his hand, and shootheth it thorow: euen so is Pharao the king of Egypt, vnto all them that trust in him.

7 But if thou wouldest say vnto me, Wee trust in the Lord our God: Is not hee that God whose high places & altars Ezeccia tooke downe, and commanded Iuda and Hierusalem to worship onely before this altar?

8 Now therefore deliuer hostages, that thou rebell no more against my lord the king of the Assyrians, and I will giue thee two thousand oxles, if thou be able to set men vpon them.

9 How darrest thou resist the power of the smallest prince that my Lorde hath? how darrest thou trust in the charrets and horsemen of Egypt?

10 Moreover, thinkest thou that I am come hither to destroy this land without the Lords will? The Lorde sayd vnto me, Goe by against this land, and destroy it.

11 Then sayde Eliacim, Sobna, and Joah, vnto Rabfaceh, Speake to vs thy seruants, we pray thee, in the Syrians language, for we vnderstand it well, and speake not to vs in the Iewes tongue, least the folke heare which sayeth vpon the wall.

12 Then answered Rabfaceh, Hath my master sent mee to speake this onely to thy master and thee? hath he not sent me to them also that lye vpon the wall, that they may be compelled to eate their owne dounge, and drinke their owne stake with you?

13 And Rabfaceh stood stiffe, and cryed with a loude voice in the Iewes tongue, and sayde, How take heede how the great king of the Assyrians giueth you warning.

14 Thus sayth the king, Let not Ezeccia deceiue you, for he shall not be able to deliuer you.

15 Moreover, Let not Ezeccia comfort you in the Lorde, when he saith, The Lorde without doubt shall defend vs, and shall not giue ouer this cite into the hands of the king of the Assyrians.

16 Hearken not to Ezeccia, for thus sayth the king of Assyria, Obtaine my saueur, encline to me, so may euery man enioy his vineyards and figge trees, and drinke the water of his cisterne:

17 Vnto the time that I come my selfe, and bring you into a land that is like your owne, wherein is wheate and wine, which is both sowed with seed, and planted with vineyards.

18 Let not Ezeccia deceiue you, when hee sayeth vnto you, The Lorde shall deliuer vs: might the god of the Gentiles keepe euery mans lande from the power of the king of the Assyrians?

19 Where is the god of Henuath and Arphad? tohere is the god of Sepharusain? and who is able to defend Samaria out of my hand?

20 Or which of all the gods of these landes hath deliuered their countrey out of my power? Is the Lord indeed able to deliuer Hierusalem from my hand?

21 Vnto this Ezeccias messengers held their tongues, and answered not one worde: for the king had charged them that they should giue him no answere.

22 So came Eliacim Delcias sonne the chiefe ouer the household, Sobna the scribe, and Joah Asaphs sonne the secretarie, vnto Ezeccia with rent clothes, and tolde him the wordes of Rabfaceh.

The xxxvij. Chapter.

1 Ezeccia humbleth himselfe before the Lorde. 35 The armie of Sennacherib is slaine of the Angel of the Lord, 38 And hee himselfe is killed of his owne sonnes.

When Ezeccia heard that, he rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth, and went into the Temple of the Lord.

2 But he sent Eliacim the chiefe ouer the household, and Sobna the scribe, with the eldest priests, clothed in sacke, vnto the prophet Esay the sonne of Amos,

3 And they sayd vnto him, Thus sayeth Ezeccia, This is the day of trouble, of plague, and of blasphemie: for the children are come to the place of birth, but there is no power to bring them forth.

4 The Lorde thy God no doubt hath well considered the wordes of Rabfaceh, to whom his lord king of the Assyrians hath sent to desie and blaspheme the living God, with such wordes as the Lorde thy God hath heard right well: and therefore lift by thy prayer for the remnant that yet are left.

5 So the seruants of the king Ezeccia came to Esay,

6 And Slay gaue them this answere, Say thus vnto your lord, Thus sayth the Lord, Be not afraid of the wordes that thou hast heard, wherewith the king of the Assyrians seruants haue blasphemed me.

7 Beholde, I will raise by a winde against him, and he shall heare a rumour, and he shall go againe into his countrey, there will I destroy him with the sword in his owne land.

8 Now when Rabfalach returned, he found the king of Assyria laying siege to Libnas: for hee had vnderstanding that hee was departed from Lachis.

9 * And there came a rumour that Characah king of Ethiopia was come soorth to warre against him: and when the king of Assyria heard that, hee sent other messengers to king Ezechia with this commaundment.

10 Say thus to Ezechia king of Iuda, Let not thy God deceiue thee in whom thou hopest, and sayest, Hierusalem shall not bee giuen into the hands of the king of Assyria.

11 For loe, thou knowest well how the kings of Assyria haue handled all the landes that they haue subuerted: and hopest thou to escape?

12 Were the people of the Gentiles, whome my progenitors conquered, deliuered at any time through their gods? As namely, Golan, Haran, Kezeph, and the children of Eden, which were at Chalassar?

13 Where is the king of Demath, and the king of Arphad, and the king of the citie Sepharuaim, Ena, and Ana?

14 Now when Ezechia had receiued the letter of the messengers, and read it, hee went by into the house of the Lord, and opened the letter before the Lord.

15 And Ezechia prayed vnto the Lorde on this manner.

16 O Lorde of hostes, thou God of Israel, which dwellest vpon Cherubim, thou art the God that onely is God of all the kingdomes of the worlde, for thou onely hast created heauen and earth, 17 Encline thine eare, Lorde, and consider, open thine eyes, Lord, and see, and ponder all the wordes of Sennacherib, which hath sent his embassage to blaspheme the liuing God.

18 It is true, O Lord, that the kings of Assyria haue conquered all kingdomes and lands, 19 And cast their gods in the fire: for those were no gods, but the workes of mens handes, of wood, or stone, therefore haue they destroyed them.

20 Now therefore deliuer vs, O Lorde our God, from the hands of Sennacherib, that all the kingdomes of the earth may know that thou onely art the Lord.

21 Then Slay the soune of Amos sent vnto Ezechia, saying, Thus sayeth the Lorde God of Israel, whereras thou hast made thy prayer vnto me as touching Sennacherib the king of Assyria, 22 This is the answere that the Lorde hath giuen concerning him: The virgine the daughter of Sion hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorn: the daughter of Hierusalem hath shaken her head at thee.

23 But thou Sennacherib, whom hast thou defied and blasphemed? Against whome hast thou lifted by thy voice, and exalted thy proude lookes? euen against the holy one of Israel.

24 Thou with thy seruants hast blasphemed the Lorde, and thus holdest thou of thy selfe: I will cover the high mountaines and sides of Libanus with my horsemen, and there will I cut downe the high Cedar trees, and the fairest firtre trees: I will by into the height of it, and into the chiefest of his timber woods.

25 If there bee no water, I will graue and drinke: and as for waters of defence, I will dry them by with the feet of mine holte.

26 Yea, hast thou not heard what I haue taken in hand, and brought to passe of olde time? That same will I doe now also, and waste, destroy, and bring strong cities vnto heapes of stones.

27 For their inhabitors shalbe like lame men brought in feare and confounded: they shall be like grasse and greene hearbes in the field, like hay vpon the house tops that withereth before it be growen by.

28 I knowe thy wayes, thy going forth, and thy comming home, yea and thy inadnesse against me.

29 Therefore thy furiousnesse against mee, and thy pride is come before me, I will put my ring in thy nose, and my bzidle bit in the charwes of thee, and turne thee about euen the same way that thou camest.

30 I will giue thee also this token, O Ezechia, this yeere shalt thou eate such as groweth of it selfe, and the second yeere that which springeth againe of the same, and in the third yeere yee shall sow and reape, yea ye shall plant vineyards, and enjoy the fruits thereof.

31 And such of the house of Iuda as are escaped, shall come together, and the remnant shall take roote beneath, and bring forth fruite aboue.

32 For the escaped shall goe out of Hierusalem, and the remnant from the mount Sion: and this shall the zeale of the Lord of hosts bring to passe.

33 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde, concerning the king of the Assyrians, He shall not come into this citie, and shall shoot no arrowe into it, there shall no shield hurt it, neither shall they cast ditches about it.

34 The same way hee came he shall returne, and not come in this citie, saith the Lord.

35 And I will keepe and saue this citie, sayeth hee, for mine owne, and for my seruant Dauids sake.

36 * Thus the Angel of the Lord went forth, and slew of the Assyrians holte, an hundred foure score and fife thousand: and when men arose by early in the morning, beholde, they were slaine, and all lay full of dead bodies.

37 So Sennacherib the king of the Assyrians brake by, and dwelt at Nineue.

38 Afterward it chanced as hee prayed in the Temple of Betrock his god, that Adramelech and Sarazer his owne sonnes slew him with the sword, and fledde into the lande of Armenia: and Asarhaddon his sonne reigned in his stead.

ABout this time was * Ezeccias sicke vnto death, and the Prophet Esay the sonne of Amos came vnto him, and sayd, Thus commaundeth the Lorde, Set thine house in order, for thou must die, and shalt not escape.

2 Then Ezeccias turned his face toward the wall, and prayed vnto the Lord,

3 And sayd, Remember O Lorde, I beseech thee, that I haue walked befoze thee in trueth and a stedfast heart, and haue done the thing that is pleasant to thee. And Ezeccias wept sore.

4 Then sayd God vnto Esay,

5 Goe, and speake vnto Ezeccias, The Lorde God of Dauid thy father sendeth thee this worde, I haue heard thy prayer and considered thy teares: behold, I will put sisterne peres moe vnto thy life,

6 And deliuer thee and thy citie also from the hand of the king of Assyria: for I will defend the citie.

7 And take thee this token of the Lord, that he will doe it as he hath spoken.

8 Behold, I will returne the shadowe of Asahaz by all that now is laid out with the Sunne, and bring it tenne degrees backward. So the Sunne turned tenne degrees backward, the which he was descended afoze.

10 I thought I should haue gone to the gates of hell, when mine age was shortened, and haue wanted the residue of my peeres.

11 I spake within my selfe, I will neuer visite the Lorde, the Lorde I say, in this life: I will neuer see man among the dwellers of the world.

12 Mine age is soulden together, and taken away from me like a shepherds cottage, I haue he'uen off my life by my sinnes, like as a weauer cutteth of his web: he will with pining sickness make an end of me, yea hee will make an end of mee in one day.

13 I thought I would haue liued vntill the morow, but he brimled my bones like a Lyon: and in one day thou wilt make an end of me.

14 Then chattered I like a Swallowe, and like a Crane, and mourned like a Dove, I lift by mine eyes into the height: O Lord sayd I, my sicknesse keepeth me downe, ease thou me.

15 What shall I say? The Lord hath made a promise to me, yea, and he himselfe hath performed it: I will therefore so long as I liue, remember this bitterness of my life.

16 O Lord, to all those that shall liue hereafter, yea to all men shall it be known, that when in those peeres I haue a ioyfull life, and that it was thou that causedst me to sleepe, againe thou hast giuen life to me.

17 Beholde, bitter as gall was my penitence, so sore longed I for health, and it was thy pleasure to deliuer my life from the filthy pitte: for thou it is, O Lord, that hast cast all my sinnes behind thy backe.

18 For hell praiseeth not thee, death doth not magnifie thee: they that goe downe into the graue praye not thy truth:

19 But the liuing, yea the liuing knowledg thee, as I doe this day: the father telleth his children of thy faithfulness.

20 To heale me it is the Lordes worke, and we will sing my songs in the house of the Lorde all the dayes of our life.

21 And Esay sayd, Take a plaster of figs, and lay it vpon the soze, so shall it be whole.

22 Then sayde Ezeccias, What a miracle is this, that I shall goe vpon into the house of the Lorde.

The xxxix. Chapter.

Ezeccias is reproofed of Esay, becaufe hee shewed his treasure vnto the Ambassadors of Babylon.

AT the same time * Merodach Baladans sonne, king of Babylon, sent letters and presents to Ezeccias: for hee vnderstood that hee had bene sicke, and was recouered againe.

2 And Ezeccias was glad thereof, and shewed them the house of his treasures of siluer & gold, of spices, and rootes, of precious oyles, and all that was in cupboards and treasure houses: there was not one thing in Ezeccias house, and so thowout all his kingdome, but he let them see it.

3 Then came Esay the Prophet to king Ezeccias, and saide vnto him, What haue the men sayd, and from whence came they vnto thee? Ezeccias answered, They came out of a farre country vnto me, out of Babylon.

4 Esay sayde, What haue they looked vpon in thy house? Ezeccias answered, All that is in my house haue they seene, and there is nothing in my treasure but I shewed it them.

5 Then sayd Esay vnto Ezeccias, vnderstand the word of the Lord of hostes.

6 Beholde, the time will come, that every thing which is in thine house, and all that thy progenitors haue laid vpon in soze vntill this day, shall be caried to Babylon, and nothing left behinde: thus sayth the Lord.

7 Yea, and part of thy sonnes that shall come of thee, and whom thou shalt beget, shall be caried hence, and become gelded chamberlaines in the king of Babylons court.

8 Then sayde Ezeccias to Esay, Good is the word of God which thou hast tolde me. He sayd mozeouer, for there shall be peace and faithfulness in my time.

4 All halleyes shall be exalted, and euerie mountaine and hill layd lowe: what so is crooked shall be made straight, and the rough shall be made plaine.

5 For the glory of the Lord shall appeare, for all flesh shall at once see that the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

thereof is as the floure of the field.

7 The grasse is withered, the floure falleth away, for the breath of the Lord bloweth vpon them: of a truth the people are grasse.

8 The grasse withereth, & the floure fadeth away: yet the word of our God endureth for euer.

9 Goe vp vnto the high hill, O Sion, thou that bringest good tidings, lift vp thy voice with power, O thou preacher Hierusalem, lift it vp without feare, and say vnto the cities of Iuda, Behold your God.

10 Beholde, the Lord God shal come with power, and shal of himselfe beare rule with his arme: behold his reward with him, & his works before him.

11 He shal feed his flocke like an heardman, he shal gather the Lambes together with his arme, & cary them in his bosome, and shal kindly entreat those that beare yong.

12 Who hath measured the waters in his fist: who hath measured heauen with his span, and hath comprehended all the earth of the world in threemeasures: who hath weighed the mountaines and hilles in a balance?

13 Who hath directed the spirit of the Lord: or who gaue him counsel, and shewed him?

14 Who is of his counsel, and giueth him vnderstanding, and hath taught him the path of iudgement: who taught him cunning, and opened to him the way of vnderstanding?

15 Beholde, all people are in comparison of him as a drop of a bucket full, and are counted as the least thing that the balance weigheth: yea and the fles he taketh vp as a very litle thing.

16 Libanus is not sufficient to minister fire to his offering, and all the beasts thereof are not know for one sacrifice.

17 All people in comparison of him are reckoned as nothing: if they be compared with him, lesse then nothing, and as it that is not.

18 To whom then wil ye liken God, or what similitude wil ye set vp to him?

19 Shal the Caruer make him a carued image: and shal the Goldsmith couer him with gold, or cast him into a forme of siluer plates?

20 Who couer, shal the image maker (that the poore man which is disposed, may haue some thing to set vp also) seeke out and choose a tree that is not rotten, and carue thereout an image that moueth not?

21 Know ye nothing: heard ye neuer of it: hath it not bene preached vnto you since the beginning: haue ye not bene enformed of this by the foundation of the earth?

22 It is he that sitteth vpon the circle of the world, whose inhabitants are in comparison of him but as grasshoppers: he spreadeth out the heauens as a couering, he stretcheth them out as a tent to dwell in.

23 He bringeth princes to nothing, and the Iudges of the earth as though they were not.

24 So that of them it may be saide, They be not planted nor sowne againe, neither their flocke rooted againe in the earth: for as soone as he bloweth vpon them, they wither and fade away like the straw in a whirlewinde.

25 To whom now wil ye liken mee, & whom shal I be like, saith the holy One?

26 Lift vp your eyes on high, and consider who hath made those things which come out by so great heapes, and he calleth them all by their names: there is nothing hid from the greatnesse of his power, strength, and might.

27 How may then Jacob thinke, or may Israel say, My wayes are hid from the Lord, and my God knoweth not of my iudgements?

28 Knowest thou not, or hast thou not heard that the euerslasking God, the Lord which made all the corners of the earth, is neither weary nor faint: and that his wisdom cannot be comprehended?

29 It is he that giueth strength vnto the weary, and power vnto the faint.

30 Children are weary and faint, and the strong men fall:

31 But vnto them that haue their trust in the Lord, shall strength bee increased: Eagles wings shall grow vpon them, when they runne they shall not fall, and when they goe they shall not be weary.

The xlj. Chapter.

Of the goodnes & mercy of God toward the people.

Bless you Islands, and hearken vnto me: let the people lay their strength together, let them come hither, & then shew their cause: we wil go to the Law together.

2 Who rayed by the iust man from the East, and called him to go soothly: who cast downe the people, and subdued the Kings before him: that he may thow them all to the ground with his sword, and scatter them like stubbie with his bow.

3 He followeth vpon them, and goeth safely himselfe, and that in a way where before his foot had not troden.

4 Who hath made and created these things: euen he that called the generations from the beginning, euen I the Lord which am the first, and with the last.

5 The fles saw and did feare, and the ends of the earth were abashed, drew nigh, and came hither.

6 Euery man helped his neighbor, and said to his brother, Be strong.

7 The Carpenter comforted the Goldsmith, and the Goldsmith the Hammerman, saying, Soder wil do very wel in it: and they fastened it with nailes, that it should not be moued.

8 But thou Israel art my seruant, thou Jacob whom I haue chosen, thou art the seede of Abraham my beloued.

9 Thou art he whom I led from the ends of the earth: for I called thee euen from among the glorious men of it, and said vnto thee, Thou art my seruant, I haue chosen thee, and not call thee away.

10 Be not afraid, for I am with thee: Wilt not a way as ware, for I am thy God, to strengthen thee, helpe thee, and keepe thee with the right hand of my righteousness.

11 Behold, all they that resist thee shall come to confusion and shame, and thine aduersaries shall be destroyed and brought to nought.

12 So that who so seeketh after them, shall not finde them, thy destroyers shall perish: and so shall they that undertake to make battell against thee, be as that is not, and as a thing of nought.

13 For I the Lord thy God will strengthen thy right hand, euen I that say vnto thee, Feare not, I will helpe thee.

14 Be not afrayde, thou little worzme Jacob, and thou despised Israel: for I will helpe thee, sayth the Lord, and the holy one of Israel thy redeemer.

15 Behold, I will make thee a treading cart, and a new stalle, that thou mayest thresh & grind the mountaines, and bring the hills to powder.

16 Thou shalt fenne them, and the wind shall carry them away, and the whirlewind shall scatter them: but thou shalt reioyce in the Lord, and shalt delight in the holy one of Israel.

17 When the thirthe and pooze seeke water and find none, and when their tongue is dry of thirthe, I giue it them, saith the Lord, I the God of Israel forsake them not.

18 I bring fourth floods in the hills, and wels in the plaine fieldes: I turne the wildernesse to riuers, and the dry land to conduits of water.

19 I plant in the waste ground trees of Cedar, Bore, Myrre, and Oliues, and in the dry I set fire trees, Elmes, & Hawthornes together.

20 All this do I, that they altogether may see and marke, perceiue with their hearts, and consider that the hande of the Lord maketh these things, and that the holy One of Israel bringeth them to passe.

21 Stand at your cause, saith the Lord, and bring forth your strongest ground, saith the king of Jacob.

22 Let them bring fourth their gods, and let their gods tell vs what shall chance hereafter, yea, let them shewe vs the things that are past what they be, let them declare them vnto vs, that we may take them to heart, and know them hereafter.

23 Either he w vs things for to come, and tel vs what shall be done hereafter, so shall we know that yee are gods: doe some thing either good or bad, so wil we both knowlege the same, and tel it out.

24 Beholde, ye are gods of nought, and your making is of nought: yea, abominable is the man that hath chosen you.

25 Neuerthelesse, I haue waked by one from the North, and hee shall come from the East, hee shall call vpon my Name, and shall tread vpon vniuerses as vpon clay, and as the potter treadeth downe the myze.

26 Who declareth this fro the beginning, and we will know him: or from the olde times, and we will confesse and say that he is righteous: but there is none that sheweth or declareth any thing, there is none also that heareth your words.

27 The first is hee that shal say to Sion, Beholde, behold, they are present: and to Hierusalem it selfe wil I giue an Evangelist.

28 But when I consider, there is not a man among them, no: any that can giue counsel, no: that when I examine them that can answere one word.

29 Loe wicked are they, and baine, with the things also that they take in hande, yea, their images are but winde and baine things.

The xliij. Chapter.

The coming of Christ.

Behold, this is my seruant vpon whom I leane, my elect in whom my soule is pacified, I haue giuen my spirit iudgement among the Gentiles.

2 He shall not be an outcrier, nor lift by his voice, his voyce shal not be heard in the streets.

3 And a bruised reed shall he not breake, and the smoking flaxe shall he not quench: but faithfully and truly shall he giue iudgement.

4 He shal not be penitue nor careful, that he may reioyce righteousnesse vnto the earth: and the Gentiles also shall looke for his Lawes.

5 For thus saith God the Lord vnto him, euen he that made the heaucens and spread them abroad, and set forth the earth with her increase, which giueth breath vnto the people that is in it, and spirit to them that dwell therein.

6 I the Lord haue called thee in righteousness, and wil hold thee by the hand, and wil also defend thee: and giue thee for a couenant of the people, to be the light of the Gentiles.

7 That thou maiest open the eyes of the blind, let out the prisoners from their bonds, and them that sit in darknesse out of the dungeon house.

8 Euen I am the Lord, & this is my Name: and my glory wil I giue to none other, neither mine honour to grauen images.

9 Beholde, old things are come to passe, and new things doe I declare, and or euer they come I tell you of them.

10 Sing vnto the Lord a newe song of thanksgiuing, blow out his praise from the end of the world: they that be vpon the Sea, and all that is therein praise him, the Isles and they that dwell in them.

11 Let the wildernesse with the cities lift by her voyce, the townes also that they of Cedar dwell in: let them be glad that sit vpon rockes of stone, and let them cry downe from the high mountaines.

12 Ascribing glory vnto the Lord, and magnifying him among the Gentiles.

13 The Lord shal come forth like a giant, and take a stomache to him like a fresh man of warre: he shal roare and cry, and ouercome his enemies.

14 I haue long holden my peace sayeth the Lord, I haue bene still and restrained my selfe, but now I will cry like a trauailing woman, and at once wil I destroy and detour.

15 I will make waste both mountaine and hill, and dry by euery greene thing that groweth thereon: I will dry by the floods to become Islands, and drinke by the riuers.

16 I will bring the blinde into a street that they know not, and leade them into a footpath that they are ignorant in: I shall make darknesse light before them, and the thing that is crooked to be straight: these things haue I done vnto them, and not forsaken them.

17 They are fallen backe, yea, and let them be ashamed earnestly that hope in idoles, and say to the molten images, Ye are our gods.

18 Heare, O ye deafe men, and sharpen your eyes to see, O ye blinde.

19 Who is blinde but my seruant: or so deafe as my messenger, whom I sent vnto them: for who is so blinde as the perfect man, and so blinde as the Lords seruant.

20 Thou hast seene much, and heapest nothing: the eares are open, and no man heareth.

21 The Lord is mercifull vnto them for his righteousness sake, that his word might be magnified and praised:

22 But the people themselves are robbed and troden vnder the foot, chained in dungeons, and they all, I say, are shut into prison houses: they be caried away captiue, and no man doeth loofe them: they be troden vnder foote, and no man doeth labour to bring them againe.

23 But who is he among you that pondereth this, that considereth it, and taketh it for a warning in time to come?

24 Who gaue Jacob to be troden vnder foote, and Israel to be tyoped? Did not the Lord, because we haue sinned against him, and haue had no delight to walke in his wayes, neither bene obedient vnto his Law?

25 Therefore hee hath powred vpon him his wrathfull displeasure and strong battell, and hath fired him on euery side, yet will hee not vnderstand: he burneth him vp, yet thinketh it not into his heart.

The xliij. Chapter.

1 God promisseth to sende his Christ which shall deliuer his people. 7 Hee forgiueth sinnes for his owne sake.

But nowe the Lord that made thee, O Jacob, & he that fashioned thee, O Israel, sayeth thus, feare not, for I haue redeemed thee, I haue called thee by thy name, thou art mine owne.

2 If thou goest thow the water, I will be with thee, the strong floods shall not ouerwhelme thee: and if thou walkest thow the fire, it shall not burne thee, and the flame shall not kindle vpon thee:

3 For I am the Lord thy God, the holy One of Israel thy Saviour: I gaue Egypt for thy deliurance, the Ethiopians and the Sabees for thee:

4 Because thou wast deare in my sight, and because I set by thee and loued thee: I wil giue ouer all men for thee, and deliuer by all people for thy sake.

5 Feare not, for I am with thee, I wil bring thy seed from the East, and gather thee together from the west.

6 I wil say to the North, Let go: and to the South, Keepe not backe: but bring mee my sonnes from farre, and my daughters from the ends of the world.

7 Namely all those that bee called after my Name: for them haue I created, fashioned, and made for mine honour.

8 Bring forth that people which is blinde and yet hath eyes, which are deafe, although they haue eares.

9 If all nations come in one, and be gathered together, which among them shall declare such things, and tell vs the things that are past? let them bring their witness, so that they be iust: els let them heare, and say, It is truely.

10 You are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my seruant whom I haue chosen: therefore be certified, and giue me faithfull credence, and consider that I am hee before whom there was neuer any God, neither shall be any after me.

11 I am, euen I am the onely Lord, and beside me there is no Saviour.

12 I gaue warning, I made whole, I taught you when there was no strange god among you: and this record must ye heare wee your selues, saith the Lord, that I am God.

13 And euen he am I who was from the beginning, and there is none that can take any thing out of my hand: I doe the worke, and who shall be able to let it?

14 Thus saith the Lord the holy One of Israel your redeemer, for your sake I haue sent to Babylon, and brought it downe: all they are fugitiue with the Chaldees, whose sorrowful cry is in their ships.

15 I am the Lord your holy One, which haue made Israel, and am your King.

16 Thus saith the Lord, euen he that maketh a way in the Sea, and a foote path in the mighty waters.

17 It is he which bringeth forth the charcoles and hozles, the horse and power of warre, that they may fall together, and neuer rise, and be extinct: like as to w are they quenched.

18 Remember not things of olde, and regard nothing that is past.

19 Beholde, I shall make a newe thing, and shortly shall it appeare, and shall you not know it? I will make a way in the desert, and riuers of water in the wilderness.

20 The wilde beastes shall worship mee, the Dragons and the pong Chriches: for I shall giue water in the wilderness, and streames in the desert, that they may giue drinke to my people whom I chose.

21 This people haue I made for my selfe, and they shall shew forth my praise.

22 For thou Jacob wouldst not call vpon mee, but thou haddest an vnlust toward mee, O Israel.

23 Thou gauest me not thy beastes for burnt offerings, neither diddest honour me with sacrifices: I haue not bene chargeable vnto thee in offerings, neither grieuous in incense.

24 Thou boughtest mee no deare spice with thy money, neither powrest the fatte of thy sacrifices vpon mee: but thou hast laden me with thy sinnes, and wearied mee with thine vngodlinesse.

25 Whereas I yet, euen I am hee onely that for mine owne selves sake doe atway thine offences, and forget thy sinnes, so that I will neuer thinke vpon them.

26 Put me now in remembrance, for we will reason together: and shewe what thou hast for thee to make thee righteous.

27 Thy first father offended sore, and thy rulers haue sinned against me:

28 Therefore I prophoned the princes of the Sanctuary, I did curse Jacob, and gaue Israel into reproofe.

6 I was so wroth with my people, that I punished mine inheritance, and gaue them into thy power. neuertheless, thou shewest them no mercie, but euen the very aged of them diddest thou oppresse right soze with thy yoke.

7 And thou thoughtest thus, I shall be ladie for euer, and beside all that, thou hast not regarded these things, neither remembered what was the end of that citie Hierusalem.

8 Heare now therefore thou delicate one that sitest so carelesse, & speakest thus in thine heart, I am alone, and without mee there is none, I shall neuer be widow nor desolate againe.

9 * And yet both these things shall come to thee, vpon one day in the twinkling of an eye, namely, wisdom and desolation: they shall mightily fall vpon thee, for the multitude of thy witches, and for the great heap of thy coniturers.

10 For thou hast trusted in thy wickednesse, and hast said, No man seeth me: thine owne wisdom and cunning hath deceiued thee, in that thou hast said in thine heart, I am alone, and without me there is none.

11 Therefore shall trouble come vpon thee, & thou shalt not know from whence it shall rise: mischief shall fall vpon thee, which thou shalt not bee able to put off, a sudden bitter destruction shall come vpon thee or euer thou bee ware.

12 Now go to thy coniturers, and to the multitude of thy witches with whom thou hast wearied thy selfe from thy youth, if they may helpe thee, or strength thee.

13 Thou hast hitherto had many counsels of them: So let the heauen gazers, and the beholders of starres, and moone prophets, come on now and deliuer thee, yea, and let them shewe when these new things shall come vpon thee.

14 Behold, they shall be like strawe, which if it bee kindled with fire, no man may ridde it for the vehemencie of the flame, and yet it giueth no sunders to warme a man by, nor cleare fire to sit by.

15 Thus are they with whom thou hast wearied thy selfe, and thus are thy merchants that haue bene with thee from thy youth: euery one hath taken his owne way, and none of them shall defend thee.

The xlviii. Chapter.

1 The hypocricie of the Iewes is reprooued. 11 The Lord alone wil be worshipped, which hath chosen vs, 20 and which succoureth vs, for his owne sake.

Care this, O thou house of Iacob, yee that are called by the name of Israel, and are come out of one stocke with Iuda: which sweare by the name of the Lord, and beare witness by the God of Israel, but not with truth and right.

2 For they are named of the holie citie, and are grounded vpon the God of Israel, whose name is the Lord of hostes.

3 The things that I haue shewed you euer since the beginning, haue I not brought them to passe immediately, as they came out of my mouth, and declared them, and they are come?

4 Howbeit, I know that thou art obstinate, and that thy necke hath an iron snewe, and that thy browe is of brass.

5 Neuertheless, I haue euer since the beginning shewed thee of things for to come, and declared them vnto thee or euer they came to passe: that thou shouldest not say, Mine idole hath done it, my carued or moulted image hath shewed it.

6 Thou heardest it before, and behold, it is come to passe. And shall not ye your selues shewe forth or confesse the same? But as for me, I told thee before as the beginning newe and secrete things which thou knewest not of.

7 And some done of old time, whereof thou neuer heardest before they were brought to passe, that thou canst not say, Behold, I knew of them.

8 Moreover, there bee some whereof thou hast neither heard nor knowen, neither haue bene opened vnto thine eares aforesime: for I knewe that thou wouldest maliciously offend, therefore haue I called thee a transgressour, euen from thy mothers wombe.

9 Neuertheless, for my names sake I will withdraw my wrath, and for my honours sake I wil patiently forbear thee, that I do not root thee out.

10 Behold, I haue purged thee, yet not as silver, I haue chosen thee in the fire of affliction.

11 And that onely for mine owne sake, yea, euen for mine owne sake will I doe this: or els what dishonour would they doe to my name? Surely I wil not giue my glory vnto another.

12 Hearken vnto mee, O Iacob, and Israel whom I haue called: * I am euen hee that is, I am the first and the last.

13 My hande hath laied the foundation of the earth, and my right hande hath spanned ouer the heauens: as soone as I call them, they stand together.

14 Gather you all together, and hearken: which of ponder gods hath declared this? The Lord hath a loue vnto him, and he shall performe his will against Babel, and declare his power against the Chaldees.

15 I my selfe alone, euen I haue tolde you this, I did call him, and bring him forth, and hee shall make his iourney prosperous.

16 Come to me, and heare this: haue I spoken any thing darkly since the beginning? From the time that this thing beginneth, I am there: wherefore the Lord God and his spirit hath sent me.

17 And thus sayth the Lord God thy redeemer, the holy one of Israel, I am the Lord thy God, which teach thee profitable things, and leade thee the way that thou shouldest goe.

18 O that thou hadst regarded my commandments, then had thy wealth bene as the water freaine, and thy righteousness as the waues flowing in the sea.

19 Thy seed also had bene like as the sand in the sea, and the fruit of thy body like the grauell stones thereof: His name should not be rooted out nor destroyed before me.

20 Goe away from Babylon, flee from the Chaldees, with a merie voice speake of this, declare it abroad, and goe forth into the end of the world, say, * The Lord hath redeemed his seruant Iacob.

21 They suffered no thirst, hee led them thow the wilderness, and caused the waters to flowe out vnto them from out of the rocke: hee

3 And sayd vnto me, * Thou art my seruant Israel, I will be honoured in thee.

4 Then I answered, I haue lost my labour, I haue spent my strength in vaine: Neuertheless, I will commit my cause and my worke vnto the Lord my God.

5 And now sayth the Lord, euen he that fashioned mee from my mothers wombe to be his seruant, that I may bring Iacob againe vnto him, albeit Israel wil not be gathered vnto him againe, yet in Gods sight shall I be glorious, my God shall be my strength.

Esay. 42. 6.
3. 13-47.

6 And he sayd, It is but a small thing that thou art my seruant, to set by the hundreds of Iacob, and to rebore the destruction of Israel: * for I haue made thee the light of the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my health vnto the end of the world.

7 Moreover, thus saith the Lord, the redeemer and holy one of Israel, concerning the abhorred and despised among the Gentiles, and the seruant of them that beare rule, kings and princes shall see and arise, and worship, because of the Lord that is faithfull, and because of the holy one of Israel that hath chosen thee.

1 Cor. 6. 2.

8 And thus sayth the Lord, * In the time accepted haue I heard thee, and in the day of saluation haue I helped thee, I will preferre thee, and make thee to be the atonement of the people, that thou mayest helpe by the earth againe, and possesse againe the desolate heritages:

9 That thou mayest say vnto the prisoners, Go forth: and to them that are in darknes, Come into the light: they shall feed thee in the high wayes, and get their pasture in all high places.

Eue. 7. 16.

10 * They shal neither hunger nor thirst, heat nor sunne shal not hurt them: for he that saoureth them shal leade them, and giue them drinke of the well springs.

11 I will make wayes vpon all my mountaines, and my footpaths shalbe crated.

12 And beholde, these shall come from farre, loe, some from the North and west, some from the land of Sinis, which is in the South.

13 Reioyce ye heauens, and sing praises thou earth, talke of ioy ye hilles: for God hath comforted his people, and will haue mercy vpon his that be in trouble.

14 But Sion sayd, God hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me.

15 Will a woman forget her owne infant, and not pitie the sonne of her owne wombe? And though they doe forget, yet will I not forget thee.

16 Behold, I haue written thee by vpon my hands, thy wayes are euer in my sight.

17 They make haste who bryde thee by a game: as for those that ouerthrew thee, & make thee waste, they shall depart from thee.

Esay. 60. 4

18 * Lift vp thine eyes, and looke about thee, all these gather them together, and come to thee: As truly as I liue, sayth the Lord, thou shalt put them all vpon thee as an apparell, and gird them vnto thee as a bryde doth her iewels.

19 As for thy land that lieth desolate, wasted and destroyed, it shalbe too narrow for them that shall dwell in it, and they that would detioure thee, they shalbe farre away.

20 Then thy children whom the barren shall bring forth, shall say in thine eare. This place is too narrow, giue place that I may haue rounge.

21 Then shalt thou thinke by thy selfe, who hath begotten me these, seeing I am barren and alone, a captiue and an outcast? and who hath nourished them by for me? I am desolate and alone, but from whence come these?

22 And therfore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will stretch out my hand vnto the Gentiles, and let by my token to the people, they shal bring thee thy sonnes in their laps, and carry thy daughters vnto thee vpon their shoulders.

23 For kings shalbe thy nursing fathers, and queenes shalbe thy nursing mothers: they shall fall before thee with thy faces flat vpon the earth, and licke by the dust of thy feet: that thou mayest know how that I am the Lord, and that whoso putteth their trust in me, shall not be confounded.

24 Shall the spoile be taken from the mighty? or the lawfull prisoner from the taker?

25 But thus sayth the Lord, The prisoners shalbe taken from the mighty, and the spoile shal be recouered from the violent: for I will maintaine thy cause against thine aduersary, and I will saue thy sonnes.

26 And I will feed thine enemies with their owne flesh, and make them drunken with their owne blood, as with sweet wine: And all flesh shall know, O Iacob, that I am the Lord thy sauour, thy noble redeemer.

The l. Chapter.

The Iewes are reprovod and also called.

Thus sayth the Lord, where is the bill of your mothers diuorcement, whom I sent away: or who is the blurer to whom I solde you? Behold, for your offences are you sold, and because of your transgression is your mother forsaken.

2 For why would no man receiue me when I came? And when I called, no man gaue me answere: * Is my hand shortened that it might not helpe? or haue I not power to deliuer? loe, at a word I drinke by the sea, & of water floods I make dry land: so that for want of water the fish doth corrupt, and die for thirst.

Esay. 59. 8.

3 As for heauen, I clothe it with darknesse, and put as it were a sacke vpon it.

4 The Lord God hath giuen me a well learned tongue, so that I can comfort them that are troubled, yea, & that in due season: he wakeneth mine eare by betimes in the morning. I say betimes in the morning he will waken mine eare, that I might hearken as to the school-masters.

The Epistle on the tuesday before Easter. Mat. 26. 67.

5 The Lord God hath opened mine eare, and I have not gainesayde, nor withstooden my selfe.

6 *But I offered my backe vnto the smiters, and my cheekes vnto the nippers: I turned not my face from shame and spittings,

7 And the Lord God that helpe me, therefore shal I not be confounded: I have therefore hardened my face like a flint stone, for I am sure that I shal not come to confusion.

Rom. 8. 33.

8 *He is at hand that iustifieth me, who wil then go with me to law? Let vs stand together, if there be any that wil reason with mee, let him come here forth to me.

9 Behold, the Lord God wil helpe me, what is he then that can condemne me? loe, they all shall ware olde like a cloth, the moth shall eate them vp.

10 Therefore who so feareth the Lord among you, let him heare the voyce of his seruant: who so walketh in darkenesse, and no light shineth vpon him, let him put his trust in the Name of the Lord, and hold him by his God.

11 But take heed, ye al kinde a fire, and stirre vp the coales: walke on in the glistering of your owne fire, and in the coales that ye haue kindled: Whis cometh vnto you from my hand, namely, that ye shal sleepe in sorrow.

The li. Chapter.

Consolation & comfort is promised vnto the faithful.

arken vnto mee ye that holde of rightcoulnesse, and ye that seeke the Lord: take heede to the stone whereout ye are hewen, and to the graue whereout ye are digged.

2 Consider Abraham your father, and Sara that bare you, how that I called him alone, and blessed him, and increased him.

3 Therefore shall the Lord comfort Sion, and repaire al her decay, making her desert as a paradise, and her wildernesse as the garden of the Lord: Mirth and ioy shalbe founde there, thanksgiuing, and the voyce of praise.

4 Haue respect vnto me then, O my people, both high and low, and lay thine eare vnto me: for a Law and an ordinance shal go forth from me to lighten the Gentiles.

5 It is hard by that my heath and my rightcoulnesse shal goe forth, and the people shalbe ordered with mine arme: the Islands, that is the Gentiles, shal hope in mee, and put their trust in mine arme.

6 Lift vp your eyes toward heauen, & looke vpon the earth beneath: for the heauens shal baryn away like smoke, and the earth shal ware old like a garment, and they that dwel therein shal perishe in like maner: but my saluation shal endure for euer, & my rightcoulnesse shal not cease.

7 Hearken vnto me ye that haue knowledg in rightcoulnesse, thou people, that bearest my Lawe in thine heart: feare not the reuillings of men, be not afraid of their blasphemers.

8 For womens and mothes shal eat them vp like cloth and wool: but my rightcoulnesse shall endure for euer, and my sauing health from generation to generation.

9 Make vp, wake vp, and be strong, O thou arme of the Lord, wake vp, like as in time past, euer, and since the world began.

10 *Art not thou the same arme that hast wounded the proud, and hewen the Dragon in peeces? Art not thou euen the same which hast dreyed by the deepe of the Sea, which hast made plaine the sea ground, that the deliuered might go thowow?

11 Therefore the redeemed of the Lord shal turne againe, and come with ioy vnto Sion, continuall ioy shalbe in their head, and myrth and gladnesse shalbe with them, and sorrow and woel shal flee from them.

12 Psea I, euen I am he that in al things giueth you consolation: what art thou then that fearest a mortal man, & the childe of man, which goeth away as doeth the floure?

13 And forgetteth the Lord that made thee, that spread out the heauens, and layd the foundation of the earth: but thou art euer afraid for the sight of thine oppressour, which is ready to do harme: where is the wraath of the oppressour?

14 The exile maketh haste to be loosed, that he die not in prison, & that his bread faile him not.

15 I am the Lord thy God, that diuide the sea, and his waues shall rage, whose name is the Lord of hostes.

16 *I haue put my words in thy mouth, and haue defended thee in the shadowe of my hande, that I may plant the heauens, and lay the foundation of the earth, and say vnto Sion, Thou art my people.

Esa. 49. 3.

17 Awake, awake, and stand vp, O Hierusalem, thou that from the hande of the Lord hast drunken out the cup of his wraath, thou that hast sipped off and sucked out the stumbyng cup to the bottome.

18 For among al the sonnes whom hee hath gotten, there is not one that may hold it vp, and not one to leade it by the hande, of al the sonnes that he hath nourished.

19 *Both these things are happened vnto thee, but who is sorry for it? yea, destruction, waung, hunger, and sword, but who wil comfort thee?

Esa. 49. 4.

20 Thy sonnes lie comfortlesse at the head of every streete like a taken bemsion, and are ful of the terrible wraath of the Lord, and punishment of thy God.

21 And therefore thou miserable and drunken, (howbeit not with wine) heare this:

22 Thus saith the Lord, thy Lord and God, the defender of his people, Beholde, I wil take the stumbyng cup out of his hand, euen the cup with the dregs of my wraath that from henceforth thou shalt neuer drinke of it more:

23 But I will put it into their hande that trouble thee, which haue spoken to thy soule, Stowpe downe, that wee may goe ouer thee, make thy body euen with the ground, and as the street to goe vpon.

The li. Chapter.

An exhortation and comfort to the people of God.

nto Sion, vp, take thy strength vnto thee, put on thine honest garment, O Hierusalem, thou holy city: for fro this time forth there shall no braccumitted nor bracciane person come in thee.

2 Shake thee from the dust, arise and stand vp, O Hierusalem: smicke out thy necke from the bond, O thou captiue daughter Sion.

3 For thus sayth the Lord, Ye are sold for nought, therefore shall ye be redeemed also without any money.

4 For thus saith the Lord God, My people went downe afozetime into Egypt, there to be strangers, and the king of the Assyrians oppressed them without any cause.

5 And now, what profit is it to me, sayth the Lord, that my people is freely caried away, and brought into heauinelle by their rulers, and my name euer still blasphemied, sayth the Lord.

6 But that my people may know my name, I my selfe will speake in that day. Behold, here am I.

7 O how beautifull are the feet of the ambassadour that bringeth the message from the mountaine, and proclaimeth peace: that bringeth the good tidings, and preacheth health, and sayth vnto Sion, Thy God is the King.

8 Thy watchmen shall lift by their voice, with loud voice they shall reioyce together: for they shall see plainly when the Lord shall conuert Sion.

9 Be glad, O thou desolate Hierusalem, and reioyce together: for the Lord hath comforted his people, he hath desierued Hierusalem.

10 The Lord hath made bare his holy arme, and shewed it forth in the sight of all the Gentiles, and all the endes of the earth haue scene the saving health of our God.

11 Away, away, * get you out from hence, and touch no vncleane thing: goe out from among such, and be cleane that beare the bessel of the Lord.

12 For ye shall not escape by running, nor by fleeing away: but the Lord shall goe before you, and the God of Israel shall gather you together.

13 Beholde, my seruant shall deale prosperously, therefore shall he be magnified, exalted, and greatly honoured.

14 Like as the multitude shall wonder vpon him, because his face shall be so deformed, and not as mans face, his beauntie like no man:

15 Euen so that the multitude of the Gentiles speake of him, and kings shall shut their mouthes before him: for they haue scene that which was not told to them, and haue vnderstood that whereof they haue not heard.

The liij. Chapter.

He propheseth evidently of the passion of our Saviour Iesus Christ.

But who hath giuen credence vnto our preaching? or to whom is the arme of the Lord knowne?

2 For hee did grow before the Lord like a branch, and as a root in a drie ground, he hath neither beauty nor fauour: when we looke vpon him, there shall be no fairenesse, we shall haue no lust vnto him.

3 He is despised and abhorred of men, he is such a man as hath good experience of sorowes and infirmities: we haue reckoned him so vile, that we hid our faces from him.

4 Howbeit, hee onely hath taken on him our infirmity, and borne our paines: yet we did iudge him as though he were plagued, and cast downe of God.

5 Whereas he notwithstanding was wounded for our offences, and smitten for our wickednesse: for the paine of our punishment was lated vpon him, and with his stripes are we healed.

6 As for vs, we are all gone astray like sheepe, euery one hath turned his owne way: but the Lord hath throwen vpon him all our finnes.

7 He suffered violence, and was euill treated, and did not open his mouth: he shall be led as a sheepe to be slaine, yet shall he be as still as a lambe before the shearer, and not open his mouth.

8 From the prison and iudgement was hee taken, and his generation who can declare: for hee was cut off from the ground of the liuing, which punishment did go vpon him for the transgression of my people.

9 His graue was giuen him with the condemned, and with the rich man at his death, whereas hee did neuer violence nor vnright, neither hath there bene any deceitfulnesse in his mouth.

10 Yet hath it pleased the Lord to smite him with infirmity, that when he had made his soule an offering for sinne, he might see long lasting seed: and this deuce of the Lord shall prosper in his hands.

11 Of the trauell and labour of his soule shall he see the fruit, and be satisfied: my righteous seruant shall with his knowledge iudifie the multitude, so he shall beare their finnes.

12 Therefore will I giue him among the great ones his part, and he shall diuide the spoile with the mighty, because hee giueth ouer his soule to death, and is reckoned among the transgressours: which neuertheless hath taken away the finnes of the multitude, and made intercession for the misdoers.

The liiiij. Chapter.

1 Of the great dominion of Christ. 7 The indignation of God endureth but a short space, but his mercie is euerlasting.

Be glad now thou barren that bearest not, reioyce, sing, and be merie, thou that art not with childe: for the desolate hath more children then the married wife, sayth the Lord.

2 Make thy tent wider, and spread out the hangings of thine habitation: spare not, lay forth thy cords, and make fast thy stakes:

3 For thou shalt be multiplied on the right side, and on the left, and thy seed shall haue the Gentiles in possession, and dwell in the desolate cities.

4 Feare not, for thou shalt not be confounded: be not ashamed, for thou shalt not come to confusion: yea, thou shalt forget the shame of thy youth, and shalt not remember the dishonour of thy widowhood.

5 For he that made thee, shall be thy Lord and husband (whose name is the Lord of hosts) and thy redeemer shall be euen the holy one of Israel, and the Lord of the whole world.

6 For the Lord hath called thee being as a desolate sorowfull woman, and as a young wiffe that was forsaken, sayth the God.

7 A little while haue I forsaken thee: but with great mercifulnesse shall I take thee by the hand.

8 When I was angry, I hid my face from thee for a little season: but though euerlasting

11 Beholde, thou poore, bered, and despised, I will make thy walles of p'cious stones, and thy foundation of Saphyres,

Eccle. 5. 1. 34

Come to the waters. * all ye that be thirſty, and yee that haue no money, come, buy, that ye may haue to eate: come, buy wine, and milke without any money, or money worth.

2 Wherefore do ye lay out any money for the thing that feedeth not, and ſpend your labour about the thing that ſatiſfieth you not? But hearken rather vnto me, and ye ſhall eat of the beſt, and your ſoule ſhall haue her pleaſure in plenteoufneſſe.

3 Encline your eares, and come vnto mee, take heed, I ſay, and your ſoule ſhall liue: for I will make an euerlaſting couenant with you, * euen the ſure mercies of Dauid.

Act. 13. 34.

4 Beholde, I gaue him for a witneſſe among the folke, for a prince and teacher vnto the people.

5 Lo, thou ſhalt call an vnknown people: and a people that had no knowledge of thee, ſhal run vnto thee, becauſe of the Lord thy God, and the holy one of Iſrael which gloriſieth thee.

6 Seeke the Lord while hee may be found, and call vpon him while he is nigh.

7 Let the vngodly man forſake his owne wayes, and the vnrighteous his owne imaginations, and turne againe vnto the Lord, ſo ſhall he be mercifull vnto him: and to our God, for he is very ready to forgive.

8 For thus ſayth the Lord, My thoughts are not your thoughts, and your wayes are not my wayes.

9 But as farre as the heauens are higher then the earth: ſo farre doe my wayes exceed yours, and my thoughts yours.

10 And like as the raine and ſnowe commeth downe from heauen, and returneth not thither againe, but watereth the earth, maketh it fruitful and greene, that it may giue cozne vnto the ſower, and bread to him that eateth:

11 So the word alſo that commeth out of my mouth, ſhall not turne againe void vnto me, but ſhall accompliſh my wil, and prosper in the thing whereto I ſend it.

12 And ſo ſhal ye go forth with ioy, and be led with peace: the mountaines and hilles ſhal ſing with you for ioy, and all the trees of the fields ſhall clap their hands.

The lvj. Chapter.

1 An exhortation to iudgement and righteoufneſſe, and to the ſpiritual keeping of the Sabbath. 10 Against ſhepherds that deuoure the flocke.

Thus ſayth the Lord, * Keepe equity, & do right: for my ſauing health ſhall come hoztly, and my righteoufneſſe ſhall be opened.

2 Blessed is the man that doth this, & the mans child which keepeth the ſame: hee that taketh heed that hee vnhallow not the Sabbath, that is, he that keepeth himſelfe that he do no euill.

3 Then ſhal not the ſtranger which cleaueth vnto the Lord, ſay, Alas, the Lord hath ſhut me cleane out from his people: neither ſhall the gelded man ſay, Lo, I am a dry tree.

4 For thus ſayth the Lord vnto the gelded that keepeth my Sabbath, namely, that holdeth greatly of the thing that pleaſeth me, and keepeth my couenant:

5 Vnto them will I giue in my houſholde, and within my walles, a better heritage and name, then if they had bene called ſonnes and daughters: I will giue them an euerlaſting name that ſhall not periſh.

6 Againe, the ſtrangers that ſticke to the Lord to ſerue him, and to loue his name, and to be his ſeruants, and all they which keepe themſelues that they vnhallow not the Sabbath, namely, that they fulfill my couenant:

7 Them will I bring to my holy mountaine, and make them toſfull in my houſe of prayer: their burnt offerings and ſacrifices ſhal be accepted vpon mine altar: * for my houſe ſhal be called an houſe of prayer for all people.

8 Thus ſayth the Lord God which gathereth together the ſcattered of Iſrael, I will bring yet another congregation to him.

9 Come all ye beaſts of the field, that ye may deuour, and alſo all ye beaſts of the wood.

10 For his watchmen are all blind, they haue alſo gether no vnderſtanding, they are all dumbe dogges, not being able to bark, they are ſleepe, ſuggiſh are they, and lie ſnoozing.

The lviij. Chapter.

1 The good men are taken away. 3 The wicked ones take pleasure in idolatry, the godly receiue comfort, the wicked doth perish.

The righteous perisheth, and no man regardeth it in his heart: good godly people are taken away, and no man considereth it, namely, that the righteous is conueped away from the wicked.

2 Hee commeth into peace, and godly men rest in their chambers, and before the godly man goeth peace.

3 Come hither therefore yee charmers children, ye sonnes of the adulterer and the whore.

4 Wherein take yee your pleasure? vpon whom gape ye with your mouth, and bleare out your tongue? are ye not children of transgression, and a seed of dissimulation?

5 Ye make your fires vnder the oaks, and vnder all greene trees, and ye offer children in the ballies and demnes of stone.

6 Thy part shall be with the stony rocks by the riuer, yea, euen these shall be thy part: for there thou hast powdered meat and drinke offering into them: should I delight in that?

7 Thou hast made thy bed vpon high mountaines, thou wentest by thither, and there thou hast slaine sacrifices.

8 Behind the doores and posts hast thou set by thy remembrance, when thou hadst encouraged thy selfe to another then me, whe thou wentest by, and made thy bed wider, and with those idoles hast thou made a covenant, and louedst their couches where thou sawest them.

9 Thou wentest straight to kings with oile and diuers ointments, that is, thou hast sent thy messengers farre off, and yet art thou fallen into the pit.

10 Thou art weary for the multitude of thine owne wayes, yet saydest thou neuer, There is no hope: thou hast had the life that thy handes wrought, and therefore thou art carelesse.

11 For whom wilt thou be abashed or feare, seeing thou hast broken thy promise, and rememberedst not me, neither hast me in thine heart: thinkest thou that I also will hold my peace as aforetime, that thou fearest me not?

12 Vea verily I will declare thy goodnesse and thy works, but they shall not profit thee.

13 When thou criest, let thy chosen heape deliuer thee: but the winde shall blow them forth, and banity shall take them all away: neuertheless, they that put their trust in me, shall inherit the land, and haue my holy hill in possession.

14 And therefore thus he saith, Make plaine, make plaine, and cleane the street, take by the stumbling blocks out of the way of my people.

15 For thus saith the high and excellent, euen he that dwelleth in euerlastingnes, whose name is the holy one: I dwell high aboue, and in the sanctuary, & with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit do I dwell, that I may heale a troubled minde, and a contrite heart.

16 For I chide not euer, and am not wroth without end: but the blasing goeth from mee, and is included in the bodie, and I made the breath.

17 I am wroth with him for his couetousnesse, I smite him, I hide me, and am angry, and hee turneth himselfe, and followeth the way of his owne heart.

18 I haue seene his wayes, and I heale him, I leade him, and restore to him comfort, and to those that were sorry for him.

19 I make the fruits of thankgiuing, that he say, Peace, peace, vnto them that are far off, and vnto them that are nigh, sayth the Lord, I make him whole.

20 But the wicked are like the raging sea that cannot rest, whose water someth with the mire and grauell.

21 * Euen so the wicked haue no peace, sayth God.

Ezay. 48. 21

The lviij. Chapter.

1 The Lord (by the mouth of the Prophet) reproveth the people for their fastings, 5 which were full of hypocrisie,

Me now as loud as thou canst, leaue not off, lift vp thy voice like a trumpet, and shew my people their offences, and the house of Jacob their finnes.

2 For they seeke me dayly, and wil know my wayes, euen as it were a people that did right, and had not forsaken the statutes of their God: they aske of mee concerning right iudgement, and will be nigh vnto God.

3 Wherefore fast we, say they, and thou seeest it not? we put our liues to straitnesse, and thou regardest it not.

4 Behold, when ye fast, your lust remaineth still, for ye doe no lesse violence to your debtors: loe, ye fast to strife and debate, and to smite with your fist without mercy: now yee shall not fast thus, that your voice might be heard aboue.

5 * Thinke yee this fast please me, that a man should chasten himselfe for a day? and to hang downe his head like a bulrush, and to lie vpon the earth in an haire cloth? Should that be called fasting, or a day that please the Lord?

Zach. 7. 5.

6 Doeth not this fasting rather please me, That thou loose the wicked bandes, that thou take off the ouer heauie burdens, that thou let the opprelled goe free, and breake all maner of yoke?

7 * To deale thy bread to the hungry, and to bring the pooze wandring home into thy house: when thou seeest the naked, that thou couer him, and hide not thy selfe from thine owne flesh?

Eze. 18. 16. mat. 25. 35.

8 Then shall thy light breake forth as the morning, and thy health flourish right shortly: righteousness shall go before thee, and the glory of the Lord shall embrace thee:

9 When if thou callest, the Lord shall answer thee, if thou criest, he shall say, Here I am: yea, if thou layest away from thee thy burdens, and holdest thy fingers, and ceasest from vngracious talking:

10 If thou hast compassion vpon the hungry, and refreshest the troubled soule, then shall thy light spring out in the darkenesse, and thy darkness shall be as the noone day.

11 The Lord shall euer be thy guide, and shall lie the desire of thy heart in the time of drought, and fill thy bones with marrow: thou shalt bee like a fresh watered garden, and like the fountain of water that neuer leaueth running.

Esfay. 61. 4.

12 * When the places that haue euert beene waste, shall be builded of thee, there shalt thou lay a foundation for many kinreds: thou shalt be called the maker bp of the breach, and the builder againe of the way to dwell in.

13 Yea, if thou turne thy feet from the Sabbath, so that thou doe not the thing which please thy selfe in my holy day, and thou call the pleasant, holy, and glorious Sabbath of the Lord, and that thou giue him the honour, so that thou do not after thine owne imagination, neither seeke thine owne will, nor speake thine owne words:

14 When shalt thou haue thy pleasure in the Lord, and I will carry thee high above the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Jacob thy father: for the Lords owne mouth hath so promised.

The lix. Chapter.

1 The Lord is mighty to saue, and ready to heare our requests. 2 Our sinnes are the cause why God heareth not vs, neither granteth our requests.

Esfay. 50. 2. num. 11. 23

Behold, * the Lords hand is not so shorted that it can not helpe, neither is his eare so stopped that it may not heare.

2 But your misdeeds haue separated you from your God, and your sinnes hide his face from you, that he heareth you not.

Esfay. 1. 15.

3 * For your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with bnrightheousnesse: your lippes speake lealings, and your tongue letteth out wickednesse.

4 No man regardeth righteousnesse, and no man iudgeth truly: euery man hopeth in vaine things, and imagineth deceit, * conceiuech wickednesse, and bringeth forth euill.

Iob. 15. 35. psal. 7. 15.

5 They breed cochatrice egges, and weaue the spiders webbe, whoso eateth of their egges dieth: but if one tread vpon them, there cometh bp a serpent.

6 Their webbe maketh no cloth, and they may not couer them with their labours: their deeds are the deeds of wickednesse, & the worke of robbery is in their hands.

Pro. 1. 16. rom. 3. 15.

7 * Their feet runne to euill, and they make haste to shed innocent blood, their counsels are wicked counsels, harme and destruction are in their wayes.

8 But the way of peace they know not, in their goings is no equity: their wayes are to crooked, that whosoever goeth therein, knoweth of no peace.

9 And this is the cause that equity is so far from vs, and that righteousnesse commeth not nigh vs: we looke for light, loe, it is darkenesse: for the morning shine, see, we walke in the darke.

10 We grope like the blind vpon the wall, we grope euen as one that hath no eyes, we stumble at the noone day, as though it were toward night, in the falling places, like men that are halfe dead.

11 Wee roye all like beares, and mourne shall we: we looke for equitie, but there is none: we looke for health, but it is farre from vs.

12 For our offences are many before thee, and our sinnes testifye against vs: yea, wee must confesse that we offend, and knowledg that we doe amisse:

13 Namely, transgresse and dissemble against the Lord, and fall away from our God, bling presumptuous and traitorous imaginations, and calling false matters in our hearts.

14 And therefore is equitie gone aside, and righteousnesse standeth farre off, truth is fallen downe in the street, and the thing that is plaine and open, may not be seued.

15 Yea, the truth is taken away, and he that refraineth himselfe from euill, must be spoiled: when the Lord saw this, it displeaseth him soze that there was no equity.

16 He saw also that there was no man righteous, and he wondered that there was no man to helpe him: wherfore he held him by his owne power, and he sustained him by his owne righteousnesse.

17 * Hee put righteousnesse vpon him for a breastplate, he set the helmet of health vpon his head: he put on wrath in the stead of clothing, and tooke ielousie about him for a cloake.

Eph. 6. 1. 2. 8.

18 Euen as when a man goeth forth wrathfully to recompense his enemies, and to be auenged of his aduersaries, he will recompense and reward the slanders.

19 They shall feare the name of the Lord from the rising of the Sun, and his maiesty vnto the going downe of the same: for he shall come as a violent water streame, which the winde of the Lord hath moued.

Rom. 11. 1.

20 But vnto * Sion there shall come a redeemer, and vnto them in Jacob that turne from wickednesse, sayth the Lord.

21 I will make this covenant with them (sayeth the Lord) My spirit that is vpon thee, and the words which I haue put in thy mouth, shall neuer goe out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy childrens children, from this time forth for euermore, world without end, sayth the Lord.

The lx. Chapter.

1 A consolation and comfort to Hierusalem. 5 The Church is gathered together among the Gentiles by preaching of the Gospel, 16 and aboundeth with all good things.

Get thee vp betimes, and be bright, O Hierusalem, for thy light cometh, and the glory of the Lord is risen vp vpon thee.

2 For loe, while the darknesse and cloud couereth the earth and the people, the Lord shall shew thee light, and his glory shall be seene in thee.

3 The Gentiles shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightnesse that springeth forth vpon thee.

4 * Lift vp thine eyes, and looke round about thee: all these gather themselves and come to thee, thy sonnes shall come vnto thee from farre, and thy daughters shall gather themselves to thee on euery side.

Esfay. 49.

5 Then thou shalt see this, and be glorious, thou shalt maruell exceedingly, and thine heart shall be opened: when the abundance of the sea shall be conuerted vnto thee, that is, when the riches of the Gentiles shall come vnto thee.

6 The multitude of camels shall cover thee, the dromedaries of Arabia and Epha: all they of Saba shall come, bringing golde and incense, and the way the praise of the Lord.

7 All the cattel of Cedar shall be gathered vnto thee, the rammes of Arabia that serue thee, to be offered acceptably vpon mine altar: and the house of my glory will I garnish.

8 But what are these that see here like the clouds, & as the doves flying to their windows?

9 The Isles also shall wait for me, and specially the shippes of Charis, that they may bring thy sonnes from farre, and their siluer and their golde with them, vnto the name of the Lord thy God, vnto the holy one of Israel that hath glorified thee.

10 Strangers shall build by thy walles, and their kings shall do thee seruice: for when I was angry, I smote thee, and of my mercy I pardoned thee.

11 Thy gates shall stand open still both day and night, and neuer be shut, that the host of the Gentiles may come, and that their kings may be brought vnto thee.

12 For every people and kingdome that serueth not thee, shall perish, and be destroyed with better destruction.

13 The glory of Libanus shall come vnto thee, the firre trees, boyces, and cedars together, to garnish the place of my sanctuary: for I will glorifie the place of my feet.

14 Moreover, those shall come kneeling vnto thee that haue bered thee, and all they that despise thee, shall fall downe at thy foot: thou shalt be called, The city of the Lord, Sion the citie of the holy one of Israel.

15 Because thou hast bene forsaken and hated, so that no man went thorow thee: I will make thee glorious for ever and ever, and ioyfull thorowout all posterities.

16 Thou shalt sucke the milke of the Gentiles, and kings shall feed thee, and thou shalt know that I the Lord am thy saviour and redeemer, the mighty one of Jacob.

17 For brasse will I giue thee golde, and for iron, siluer: for wood, brasse: and for stones, iron: I will turne thine oppression into peace, and thine eractions into righteousness.

18 Violence and robbery shall neuer be heard of in thy land, neither harme and destruction within thy borders: thy walles shall be called health, and thy gates the praise of God.

19 The Sunne shall neuer be thy day light, and the light of the Moone shall neuer shine vnto thee: but the Lord himselfe shall be thine euermourning light, and thy God shall be thy glory.

20 Thy Sunne shall neuer go downe, and thy Moone shall not be hidde: for the Lord himselfe shall be thine euermourning light, and thy sorrowfull dayes shall be ended.

21 The people shall be all righteous and possesse the land ever, the floure of my planting, the worke of my hands whereof I will reioyce.

22 The youngest and least shall grow into a thousand, and the simplest into a strong people: I the Lord shall shortly bring this thing to passe in his time.

The lxj. Chapter.

He propheseth that Christ shall be anointed and sent to preach.

He spirit of the Lord * is vpon me: for the Lord hath anointed mee, and sent me to preach good tidings vnto the poore, that I might bind vp the wounded hearts, that I might preach deliuerance to the captiue, and open the prison to them that are bound:

Luke 4.18.

2 That I might declare the acceptable yere of the Lord, and the day of vengeance of our God: that I might comfort all them that are in * heauinesse:

Matt. 5.3.

3 That I might giue vnto them that mourn in Sion, that I might giue, I say, beauty in stead of ashes, ioyfull ointment for sighing, pleasant raiment for an heauy minde, that they might be called trees of righteousness, a planting of the Lord for him to reioyce in.

Esay 58.12.

4 They shall build the long rough wilderness, and set by the old desert: they shall repaire the waste places, and such as haue bene boide thorowout many generations.

5 Strangers shall stand and feed your cattell, and the aliens shall be your plowmen, and dressers of your vines.

6 But ye shall be named the Priests of the Lord, and men shall call you the seruants of our God: ye shall enjoy the goods of the Gentiles, and triumph in their substance.

7 For your great reprooche you shall haue double ioy, & for shame that they haue ioy of their position: for they shall haue double possession in their land, and euermourning ioy shall be with them.

8 For I the Lord which loue right, and hate robbery (though it were offered me) shall make their works full of faithfulness, and make an euermourning covenant with them.

9 Their seed also and their generation shall be known among the Gentiles, and among the people: all they that see them, shall know that they are the high blessed seed of the Lord.

10 And therefore I am ioyfull in the Lord, and my soule reioyceth in God: for he hath put vpon me the garment of saluation, and couered me with the mantle of righteousness: He shall decke me like a bridegrome, and as a bride that hath her apparell vpon her.

11 For like as the ground bringeth forth her fruit, and as the garden chooreth forth seed: so shall the Lord God cause righteousness & praise to flourish forth before all the heathen.

The lxij. Chapter.

A prophesie of the comming of Christ.

O Sions sake will I not holde my tongue, and for Ierusalem sake I will not cease, vntill their righteousness beake forth as the shining light, and their saluation as a burning lampe.

2 Then shall the Gentiles see thy righteousness, and all things thy glory: thou shalt be named with a new name, which the mouth of the Lord shall shew.

3 Thou shalt be a crowne in the hand of the Lord, and a glorious garland in the hand of thy God.

4 From this time forth shalt thou neuer be called, The forsaker, and thy land shall no more be called, The wilderness: but thou shalt be called, My pleasure is in her: and thy land shall be called, The married woman: for the Lord lo-ueth thee, and thy land shall be ioyned in marriage.

5 And like as a yong man taketh a birgine to marriage, so shall thy sonnes be married vnto thee: and as a bridegome is glad of his bride, so shall thy God reioyce ouer thee.

6 I haue set watchmen vpon thy walles, O Hierusalem, which shall neither cease day nor night to preach the Lord: and yet also that remember the Lord, ye shall not keepe him close,

7 Nor leaue to speake of him, vntill Hierusalem be set vp, and made the praise of the world.

8 The Lord hath sworne by his right hand and by his strong arme, that from henceforth he will not giue thy corne to be meat for thine enemies, nor thy wine wherin thou hast laboured, to be drinke for the strangers.

9 But they that haue gathered in the corne, shall eat it, and giue thanks to the Lord: and they that haue bozned in the wine, shall drinke it in the court of my sanctuary.

10 *Go you, go you thorow the gates, make cleane the way for the people, make plaine, make plaine the foot path, and take away the stones out of it, and set out a token for the people.

11 Beholde, the Lord proclaimeth vnto the endes of the world, *Tell the daughter Sion. See, thy Saviour commeth, beholde, he bringeth his recompense with him, and his worke before him.

12 For they whom the Lord deliuereth, shall be called, The holy people: and as for thee, thou shalt be named, The greatly occupied, and not, The forsaken citie.

The lxiiij. Chapter.

7 Of the redemption promised to the people.

What is he this that commeth from Edom, with red coloured clothes from Bosra? He is honourably arrayed, and commeth in mightily with his power. I am he that teacheth righteousness, and am of power to helpe.

2 *Wherefore then is thy clothing red, and thy raiment like his that treadeth in the wine presse?

3 I haue troden the presse my selfe alone, and of all people there is not one with me: thus will I tread them downe in my wrath, and set my feet vpon them in mine indignation, & their blood shall be sprung vpon my clothes, and so will I staine all my raiment.

4 For the day of vengeance is assigned in my heart, and the yeere when my people shall be deliuered, is come.

5 I looked about me, and there was no man to shew me any helpe, I marvelled that no man held me vp: then I held me by mine owne arme, and my seruientesse sustained me.

6 And thus will I tread downe the people in my wrath, and bathe them in my displeasure, and vpon the earth will I lay their strength.

7 I will declare the goodnesse of the Lord, yea, and the praise of the Lord, for all that hee hath giuen vs, for the great good that hee hath done for Israel, which hee hath giuen them of his owne sauor, and according to the multitude of his louing kindnesse.

8 For he sajd, These no doubt are my people, and no thinking children: and so was hee their Saviour.

9 In their troubles, hee was also troubled with them, and the Angel that went forth from his presence, deliuered them: Of very loue and kindnesse that he had vnto them, he redeemed them, he hath bozned them and carried them by cuer since the world began.

10 But after they prouoked him to wrath, and bered his holy spirit, he was their enemy, and fought against them himselfe.

11 Yet remembered Israel the old time of Moses and his people, saying, *Where is he that brought them from the water of the sea, with them that feed his sheepe? where is he that hath giuen his holy spirit among them?

12 Hee led them by the right hand of Moses with his glorious arme, diuiding the water before them, whereby hee gate himselfe an euerlasting name.

13 He led them in the deepe as an horse is led in the plaine, that they should not stumble.

14 As a tame beast goeth in the field, and the spirit of God giueth him rest: thus (O God) hast thou led thy people, to make thy selfe a glorious name withall.

15 *Looke downe then from heauen, and beholde from the dwelling place of thy sanctuarie and thy gloze: how is it that thy ielousie, thy strength, the multitude of thy mercies, and thy louing kindnesse will not be intreated of vs?

16 Yet art thou our father: for Abraham knoweth vs not, neither is Israel acquainted with vs: but thou Lord art our father and redeemer, and thy name is euerlasting.

17 O Lord, wherefore hast thou led vs out of the way? wherefore hast thou hardened our hearts that we feare thee not? Be at one with vs againe for thy seruants sake, for the generation of thine heritage.

18 Thy holy people haue had but a litle while thy sanctuary in possession, for our enemies haue troden downe thy holy place.

19 And we were thine from the beginning, when thou wast not their Lord, for they haue not called vpon thy name.

The lxiiij. Chapter.

1 The Prophet (vnder the person of the Iewes) bewaileth their exile and banishment. 6 Mans righteousness is like a cloth defiled.

What thou wouldst cleaue the heauens in sunder, and come downe, that the mountaines might melt away at thy presence.

2 Like as at an hote fire, and that the malicious might boile away as the water doth vpon the fire: whereby thy name might bee known among thine enemies, and that the Gentiles might tremble before thee.

3 When thou wroughtest wondrous strange works, wee looked not for thee: thou camest downe, and the hills melted at thy presence.

4 *For since the beginning of the world, it hath not bene heard or perceiued, neither hath any eye seene another God beside thee, which doeth so much for thee that put their trust in thee.

5 Thou helpst him that doeth right with chcerfullnesse, and them that thinke vpon thee in thy wayes: but loe, thou hast bene angry, for we offended, & haue bene cuer in sinne, though the world haue cleaued to them, yet shall we be sau'd.

6 we are all as an vncleane thing, and all our righteoufnesse is as filthy rags: we fall cweyry one as the leafe, for our finnes carry vs away like the winde.

7 There is no man that calleth vpon thy name, that standeth vp to take holde by thee: therefore hidest thou thy face from vs, and consumedst vs, because of our finnes.

8 But now, O Lord, thou father of ours, we are thy clay, and thou art our potter, and we are all the worke of thy hands.

9 * Be not too sope displeas'd, O Lord, and keepe not our offences too long in thy remembrance: but consider that we all are thy people.

10 The cities of thy sanctuary lie waste. Si-on is a wilderness, and Hierusalem a desert.

11 Our holy house, which is our beautie, where our fathers praised thee, is burnt by: yea, all our commodities and pleasures are wasted away.

12 Wilt thou not be intreated, O Lord, for all this: wilt thou holde thy peace, and scourge vs so sore?

The lxv. Chapter.

The reioicing of the Lewes, and the calling of the Hea-then.

They seeke me, that hitherto haue not asked for me, they find me, that hitherto haue not sought mee: I haue sayd, I am here, I am here, I am found of a people that neuer called vpon my name.

2 For thus long haue I euer holden out mine hands to an vnfaithfull people, that goe not the right way, but after their owne imagination:

3 To a people that is euer desying me to my face, they make their oblations in gardens, and their smoake vpon altars of bricke.

4 They lurke among the groues, and lie in the dennes all night: they eat swines flesh, and vncleane both is in their vessels.

5 If thou comest nigh them, they say, Touch me not, for I am holier then thou: All these men when I am angry, shall be turned to smoake and fire that shall burne for euer.

6 Beholde, it is written befoze my face, and shall not be forgotten, but recompensed, I will reward it them into their bosome.

7 I meane your misdeeds, and the misdeeds of your fathers together, sayth the Lord, which haue made their smoakes vpon the mountains, and blasphemed me vpon the hills: therefore will I measure their olde deeds into their bosome againe.

8 Moreover, thus sayth the Lord, Like as when new wine is found in the cluster, and one sayth, Loose it not, for there is blessing therein: euen so wil I do also for my seruants sakes, that I will not destroy them all.

9 But I will take a seed out of Jacob, and out of Juda one, to take possession of my hill: My chosen shall possesse it, and my seruants shall dwell there.

10 Saron shall be a sheepsolde, and the balley of Achor shall giue the stalling for the cattell of my people that seeke after me.

11 But as for you, ye are they that haue forsaken the Lord, and forgotten my holy hill: ye haue set vp an altar vnto Iupiter, and giuen rich drinke offerings vnto the planets:

12 Therefore wil I number you to the sword, that ye shall be destroyed all together: * for that when I called, no man gaue me answere, when I spake, ye hearkened not vnto me, but did wickednesse befoze mine eyes, and chose the things that pleased me not.

13 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, my seruants shall eat, but ye shall haue hunger: behold, my seruants shall drinke, but ye shall suffer thirst: beholde, my seruants shall be merry, but ye shall be confounded:

14 Behold, my seruants shall reioyce for very quietnesse of heart, but ye shall cry for sorrow of heart, and complaine for veneration of minde.

15 Your name shall ye leaue accur'd among my chosen: for God the Lord shall say you, and call his seruants by another name.

16 Whoso reioyceth vpon earth, shall reioyce in the true God, & whoso sweareth vpon earth, shall sweare in the true God, for the olde afflictions shall be forgotten, and taken away out of my sight.

17 * For loe, I shall make a new heauen and a new earth: and as for the olde, they shall neuer be thought vpon, nor kept in minde:

18 But the Lord sayth, Be glad, and cuer more reioyce for the things that I shall doe: for why? beholde, I will make a ioyfull Hierusalem, and his people ioyfull.

19 Yea, I my selfe will reioyce with Hierusalem, and be glad with my people: and the voice of weeping and wailing shall not be heard in her from thenceforth.

20 There shall neither be childe nor olde man that haue not their suldayes: but when the child commeth to an hundred yeeres olde, it shall die, and if hee that is an hundred yeeres of age doe wrong, hee shall be cursed.

21 They shall build houses & dwell in them, they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them.

22 They shall not build, and another possesse: they shall not plant, and another eat: but the life of my people shall be like a tree, and mine elect shall enioy still the worke of their hands.

23 They shall not labour in vaine, nor beget with trouble: for they are the high blessed seed of the Lord, and their fruits with them.

24 * And it shall be, that or euer they call, I will answere them, while they are yet but thinking how to speake, I will heare them.

25 * The wolfe and the lambe shall feed together, and the lion shall eat hay like the bullocke, but earth shall be the serpents meat: there shall no man hurt or slay another in all my holy hill, sayth the Lord.

The lxvj. Chapter.

1 God dwelleth not in temples made by mans hand. 3 He despiseth sacrifices done without mercy and faith. 5 God comforteth them that are troubled for his sake. 23 Among the Christen the Sabbath is continually.

them all, and they are all created, saith the Lord, which of them shall I then regard? Even him that is poore and of a lowly troubled spirit, and standeth in awe of my words.

3 For whoso slayeth an oxe for me, doth me so great dishonour as he that killeth a man: he that killeth a sheepe for me, killetheth a dog: he that bringeth mee meat offerings, offereth swines blood: whoso maketh me a memorial of incense, praiseth the thing that is bright: Yet take they such wayes in hand, and their soule delighteth in these abominations.

4 Therefore will I also haue pleasure in laughing them to scorne, and the thing that they feare, will I bring vpon them: * for when I called, no man gaue answer, when I spake, they would not heare: but did wickednesse before mine eyes, and chose the things that displeas'd me.

5 Heare the word of God all ye that feare the thing which hee speaketh: your brethren that hate you, & cast you out for my names sake, say, The Lord is haunty against vs: but you shall see him in ioy, when they shall be confounded.

6 Then shall be heard a great noise from the city and the temple, the voice of the Lord that will reward and recompense his enemies:

7 Like as when a wife bringeth forth a man child, or euer she suffer the paine of the birth and anguish of the trauell.

8 Who euer heard or saw such things? doth the ground beare in one day? or are the people borne all at once, as Sion trauelled in childe birth, and bare her sonnes?

9 For thus saith the Lord, Am I he that maketh other to beare, and beare not my selfe? Am not I he that beareth and maketh barren, sayth thy God?

10 Reioyce with Hierusalem, and be glad with her all ye that loue her, be ioyfull with her all ye that mourne for her.

11 For ye shall sucke comfort out of her breasts, and be satisfied: ye shall taste and haue delight in the brightnesse of her glory.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will let peace into her like a water flood, and the glory of the heathen like a flowing streame: then shall ye sucke, ye shall be borne vpon her sides, and be ioyfull vpon her knees.

13 For like as a childe is comforted of his mother, so shall I comfort you, and ye shall be comforted in Hierusalem.

14 And when ye see this, your heart shall reioyce, and your bones shall flourish like an herbe: Thus shall the hands of the Lord be knowne among his seruants, and his indignation among his enemies.

15 For behold, the Lord shall come with fire, and his charret shall be like a whirle winde: that he may recompense his vengeance in his wrath, and his indignation with the flame of fire.

16 For the Lord shall iudge all flesh with the fire, and with his sword, and there shall be a great number slaine of the Lord.

17 Such as haue made themselves holy and cleane in the gardens, and those that haue eaten swines flesh, mice, and other abominations, shall be taken away together, sayth the Lord.

18 For I do know their works and thoughts, and I will come to gather all people & tongues: then they shall come and see my glory.

19 Vnto them shall I giue a token, and send certaine of them that be deliuered among the Gentiles, into Cilicia, Africa, and Lybia, where men can handle bowes, into Italie, and also Greeke land: the Isles farre off that haue not heard speake of me, and haue not seene my glory, shall preach my praise among the Gentiles.

20 And shall bring all your brethren for an offering vnto the Lord out of all the people, vpon horses, charrets, and hozelitters, vpon mules and carts to Hierusalem my holy hill, sayth the Lord: Like as the children of Israel bring the offering in cleane vessels to the house of the Lord.

21 And I shall take out certaine of them for to be Priests and Leuites, sayth the Lord.

22 * For like as the new heauen and the new earth which I will make, shall be fast stablished by me, sayth the Lord: so shall your seed and your name continue.

23 And it shall come to passe, that from Moone to his Moone, from Sabbath to his Sabbath, all flesh shall come to worship before me, sayth the Lord.

24 * And they shall goe forth and looke vpon the carions of them that haue transgressed against me: for their wormes shall not die, neither shall their fire be quenched, and all flesh shall abhorre them.

The end of the booke of the Prophet Esay.

The booke of the Prophet Ieremie.

The first Chapter.

1 The stocke of Ieremie, and in what time he prophesied. 6 Hee excuseth himselfe, and would refuse the office of a Prophet, because he is yong and vncxpert. 8 He is taught of the Lord, and becometh bold.

These are the Sermons of Ieremie the sonne of Helcias the Priest, one of them that dwelt at Anathoth in the land of Beniamin,

2 When the Lord had first spoken with him in the time of Josiah the sonne of Amon king of Iuda, in the thirteenth yere of his reign:

3 And so during vnto the tyme of Jehoachim the sonne of Josiah king of Iuda, and vntill the eleventh yere of Zedeciah the sonne of Josiah king of Iuda were ended, when Hierusalem was taken, even the fifti moneth.

4 The word of the Lord spake thus vnto me,

5 Before I fashioned thee in thy mothers wombe, I did know thee: and ouer thou wast borne, I sanctified thee, and ordeined thee to bee a Prophet vnto the people.

6 Then said I, O Lord God, I cannot speake, for I am yet but yong.

7 And the Lord answered me thus, Say not so, I am too yong: for thou shalt goe to all that I shall send thee vnto, and whatsoever I commaund thee, that shalt thou speake.

8 Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

9 And with that the Lord stretched out his hand and touched my mouth: and the same Lord said vnto me, Behold, I put my words in thy mouth.

10 And behold, this day doe I set thee ouer the people and kingdoms, that thou mayest roote out, and breake off, destroy, and make waste, and that thou mayest build vp and plant.

11 After this, the Lord spake vnto me, saying, Ieremie, what seest thou? And I sayd, I see a rod of an Almond tree.

12 Then sayd the Lord vnto mee, Thou hast seene right, for I will make haste speedily vpon my word to performe it.

13 It happened after ward that the Lord spake to mee againe, and sayd, What seest thou? And I sayd, I do see a seething pot, looking from out of the North.

14 Then sayd the Lord vnto me, Out of the North shall come a plague vpon all the dwellers of the land.

15 For loe, I will call all the kindreds of the kingdomes of the North, saith the Lord, and they shall come, and euery one shall set his seate in the gates of Hierusalem, & in all their walles round about, and in all cities of Iuda.

16 And through them shall I declare my iudgment vpon all the wickednesse of those men that haue forsaken me, that haue burnt incense vnto strange gods, and worshipped the workes of their owne hands.

17 And therefore gird by thy loines, arise, and tel them all that I giue thee in commandement: feare them not, lest I destroy thee before them.

18 For behold, this day doe I make thee a strong fenced towne, an yron pillar, and a brazen wall against the whole land, against the kings and mighty men of Iuda, against the priests and people of the land.

19 They shall fight against thee, but they shall not be able to ouercome thee: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

The ij. Chapter.

2 God rehearseth his benefits done vnto the Iewes.

8 Against priests and prophets or preachers that contemne and despise God. 12 The Iewes are destroyed because they forsooke God, and because they ran a whore hunting after idoles.

13 Ozeouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

14 Goe thy way, cry in the eares of Hierusalem, and say, Thus saith the Lord, I remember thee, the kindnes of thy youth, and the loue of thy despoiling, in that thou followdest me thorow the wilderness, in an vntilled land.

15 Israel was an halowed thing vnto the Lord, and was his first fruits: all they that deuoure Israel shall offend, misfortune shall fall vpon them, saith the Lord.

16 Heare therefore the word of the Lord, O thou house of Jacob, and all the generations of the house of Israel.

17 Thus saith the Lorde, what vnfaithfulness found your fathers in mee, that they went so farre away from me, falling to lightnesse, and being to blame?

18 They thought not in their hearts, where is the Lord that brought vs out of the land of Egypt, that led vs thorow the wilderness, thorow a desert and rough land, thorow a drie and deadly land, yea a land that no man had gone thorow, and wherein no man had dwelt?

19 And when I had brought you into a pleasant fertile land, that yee might enioy the fruits and all the commodities of the same, yee went forth and defiled my land, and brought mine heritage to abomination.

20 The Priests themselves sayd not, where is the Lorde: They that had the lawe in their hands knew mee not, the shepherds offended against mee, the prophets did prophesie in Baal, and followed such things as shall bring them no profit.

21 Wherefore I am constrained, saith the Lord, yet againe to contend in iudgement with you, and with your childrens children.

22 Goe into the fles of Cethim, and looke wel: send vnto Cedar, take diligent heed, and in which Ieremie the sonne of Helcias dwelt see whether such things be done there:

11 Whether the Gentiles themselves have changed their gods, which yet are no gods in deed: but my people hath changed their honour for a thing that may not helpe them.

12 Be ashamed, O ye heauens, be afraid and abashed at such a thing, sayth the Lord.

13 For my people hath done two euils: they haue forsaken mee the well of the water of life, and digged them pits, yea bile and broken pits that can hold no water.

14 Is Israel a bond seruant, or one of the household: why is he then so spoiled?

15 They roare and criē vpon him as Lions, they haue made his land waste: his cities are so burnt vp, that there is no man dwelling in them:

16 Yea, the children of Soph and Taphnes shall cracke their crowne, 17 Commeth not this vnto thee, because thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, euen when hee led thee by the way?

18 And what hast thou nowe to doe in the strette of Egypt, to drinke water out of <sup>b</sup> Nilus: either what makest thou in the way to Assyria, to drinke water of the flood?

19 Thine owne wickednesse shall reprocue thee, and thy turning away shal condemne thee: that thou maist know and vnderstand how euil and hurtfull a thing it is, that thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, and hast not feared mee, sayth the Lord God of hosts.

20 I haue euer broken thy yoke of olde, and burst thy bonds, yet sayest thou, I will no more transgresse: but like an harlot thou runnest about vpon all high hills, * and among all greene trees.

21 * Whereas I planted thee a noble vine and wholly a right seede: how art thou turned then into a bitter vnfruitfull and strange grape?

22 Yea and that so sore that though thou wash thy selfe with Siccus, and make thy selfe to sauiour with that sweet smelling herbe of Bozith: yet in my sight thou art stained with thy wickednesse, sayeth the Lord thy God.

23 How sayest thou now, I am not uncleane, and I haue not followed Baalim? Looke vpon thine owne wayes in the valleyes what thou hast done: thou art like a swift brome-darie that goeth easily her way.

24 And thy wantonnesse is like a wilde Ass that bleeth the wildernesse, and that struffeth and bloweth at her will: who can tame her? All they that seeke her, shall not faile but finde her in her wantonnesse.

25 Keepe thy foote from nakednesse, and thy throte from thirst, and thou thinkest in thy selfe, Cuius, I will take no forto we, for I haue loued the strangers, and them will I followe.

26 Like as a thiefe that is taken with the deed cometh to shame: euen so is the house of Israel come to confusion, the common people, their kings and rulers, their priests and prophets:

27 For they say to a scooke, Thou art my father: and to a stone, Thou hast begotten me: yea, they haue turned their backe vpon mee, and not their face: but in the time of their trouble, when they say, Stand vp and helpe vs:

28 I shall answere them, where are nowe thy gods that thou hast made thee? bid them stand vp, and helpe thee in the time of thy neede: for looke howe many cities thou hast, O Iuda, * so many gods hast thou also.

29 Wherefore then will ye goe to lawe with me? seeing ye are all sinners against me, sayth the Lord.

30 It is but lost labour that I smite your children, for they receiue not my correction: your owne sword destroyeth your prophets like a deuouring lion.

31 O generation, hearken vnto the word of the Lord: Am I become a wildernesse vnto the people of Israel? or a land that hath no light? wherefore sayth my people then, where are lords, we will come no more vnto thee?

32 Doeth a maide forget her raiuent, or a hyde her stomacher? but my people hath forgotten me a very long while.

33 Why beautifiest thou thy waies so highly, to obtaine fauour therethrough? therefore also hast thou taught wickednesse through thy wayes.

34 Vpon thy wings is found the blood of poore and innocent people, whome thou diddest not find in corners and holes: but thou slewest the prophets for reproouing all these things.

35 Yet darest thou say, I am without sinne and guiltlesse. Cuius, his wrath cannot come vpon mee. Behold, I will reason with thee, because thou darest say, I haue not offended.

36 Why gaddest thou so much hither and thither, to change thy wayes? for thou shalt be confounded as well of Egypt as thou wast of the Assyrians.

37 Yea, thou shalt go thy way from them, and smite thine hands together vpon thy head, because the Lord shall bring that confidence and hope of thine to nought, and thou shalt not prosper withall.

The iij. Chapter.

1 God being mercifull, calleth to repentance his people which he had forsaken for their whoredom with idoles. 20 Hee exhortheth Israel vnto repentance, promising them shepherds that should haue the true knowledge of God. 23 The returne of Israel vnto God, confessing their offence.

Commonly when a man putteth away his wife, and shee goeth from him, and marieth with another, then the question is, Should hee resort vnto her any more after that? (Is not that land then defiled and vnclane?) But as for thee, thou hast played the harlot with many louers, yet turne againe to me, saith the Lord.

2 Lift vp thine eyes to the hie places, and looke where thou hast not bene defiled: thou hast waited for them in the strettes, and as a murderer in the wildernesse, through thy whoredome and shamefull blasphemies is the land defiled.

3 This is the cause that the raine and euening dew hath ceased: thou hast gotten thee an whores foze head, and wilt not be ashamed.

4 Wilt thou not hereafter say vnto me, O my father, thou art he that hast brought me vp, and led me from my youth?

5 Will God continue his wrath for euer? will he keepe our faults in memorie to the end? Neuertheless, thou speakest such wordes, but thou art euer doing worse and worse to the bittermost of thy power.

a Honour, that is, the faithfull and exulting God, in whom only the poore to glory.

Isay 5. 1. mat. 21. 33.

c The prosperitie of Israel is not only to confirme the voice of the preacher calling them to repentance: but themselves to proue the loue of strangers and the following of them, that is, the worshiping of Rocks, and treating of God against his worship, after their owne devices.

Ierc. 1. 20.

6 The Lord said also vnto me in the time of Josiah the king, *Hast thou seene what that rebellious Israel hath done? how the hach run bp vpon all the hilles, and among all thicke trees, and there played the harlot?

7 Hast thou seene also when shee had done all this, howe I sayd vnto her, that shee should turne againe vnto me, and yet shee is not returned: Juda that vnfaithfull sister of hers also saw this:

8 Namely, that after I had well seene the adulterie of the thinking harlot Israel, I put her away, and gaue her a bill of diuorcement: for all this, her vnfaithfull sister Juda was not ashamed, but went backe and played the whoze.

9 Yea, & the wantonnesse of her whoredome hath defiled the whole land: for she hath committed fornication with stokes and stones.

10 Neuerthelesse, her vnfaithfull sister Juda is not returned vnto me againe with her whole heart, but fainedly, saith the Lord.

11 And the Lord sayd vnto me, The backslider Israel, is more righteous then the vnfaithfull Juda.

12 And therefore goe preach these wordes toward the North, and say, Thou disobedient Israel, turne againe, saith the Lord, and I wil not bring my wrath vpon you: for I am mercifull, saith the Lord, and I wil not alway beare displeasure against thee.

13 But on this condition, that thou knowe thy great blasphemie, namely, that thou hast vnfaithfully forsaken the Lord thy God, and hast made thy selfe partaker of strange gods, vnder all greene trees, and hast had no wil to heare my voice, saith the Lord.

14 O ye disobedient children, turne againe, saith the Lord, and I will be married with you: for I will take one out of the citie, and two out of one generation from among you, and bring you into Sion.

15 And will giue you heardmen after mine owne minde, which shall feed you with learning and wisdom.

16 Moreover, when ye be increased and multiplied in the land, then saith the Lorde, There shall no more boast bee made of the arke of the Lords Testament: no man shall thinke vpon it, neither shall any man make mention of it: for from thenceforth it shall neither bee builded, neither shall such thing be done any more.

17 Then shall Hierusalem bee called, The Lords seate, and all heathen shall be gathered vnto it for the name of the Lords sake which shall be set at Hierusalem: and from that time forth they shall followe no more the imagination of their owne fro ward heart.

18 Then those that bee of the house of Juda shall goe into the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the North, into the same land that I haue giuen your fathers.

19 I haue thought thus, How shall I take thee among my children, and giue a pleasant land for thine heritage, yea, and a goodly houle of the heathen? And I sayd, Call me father, and thinke not from me.

20 Cruely, like as a woman faileth her husband, so are ye vnfaithfull vnto me, O yee houle of Israel, saith the Lord.

21 The voice of the children of Israel was heard on high, weeping and wailing, for that they haue defiled their way, and forgotten God their Lord.

22 O yee disobedient children, turne againe, and so shall yee heale your backturnings. Doe, wee come vnto thee, for thou art the Lord our God.

23 Cruely in vaine is health hoped for from the hills, be they neuer so many: but the health of Israel standeth onely vpon God our Lord.

24 Confusion hath deuoured our fathers labour from our youth bp, yea their sheep and bullocks, their sonnes and daughters.

25 So doe wee also sleepe in our confusion, and shame couereth vs: for wee and our fathers from our youth bp vnto this day, haue sinned against the Lord our God, and haue not obeyed the voice of the Lord our God.

The iij. Chapter.

2 The true repentance or returning to God. 4 Hee exhorteth to the circumcision of the heart. 5 The destruction of Iurie is prophesied for the malice of their hearts.

Israel, if thou wilt turne thee, then turne vnto mee, saith the Lord: and if thou wilt put away thine abominations out of my sight, thou shalt not be mouted,

2 And shalt sweare, The Lord liueth in truth, in equitie and righteousnesse, and all people shall be fortunable and ioyful in him.

3 For thus saith the Lord to all Juda and Hierusalem, *Blow your land, and so we not among the thornes.

4 Be circumcised in the Lord, and cut away the foreskin of your hearts, all ye of Juda, and all the indwellers of Hierusalem: that mine indignation breake not out like fire and kindle, so that no man may quench it, because of the wickednes of your imaginations.

5 Preach in Juda and Hierusalem, crie out and speake, blowe the trumpets in the land, crie, that every man may heare, and say, Gather you together, and we wil goe into strong cities.

6 Set vp the token in Sion, speed you, and make no tarrying: * for I wil bring a great plague, and a great destruction from the North.

7 For the spoiler of the Gentiles is broken bp from his place, as a Lion out of his denne, that hee may make thy land waste, and destroy the cities, so that no man may dwell therein.

8 Wherefore gird your selues about with sackcloth, mourne and weepe: for the fearful wrath of the Lord is not withdrawn from vs.

9 At the same time, saith the Lord, the heart of the king and of the princes shall be gone, the priests shall be astomished, and the prophets shall be loze afraid.

10 Then said I, O Lord God, hast thou then deceiued this people and Hierusalem, saying, Ye shall haue peace, and now the sword goeth thorowe their liues?

11 Then shall it bee said to the people and Hierusalem, A strong wind in the high places of the wilderness commeth through the way of my people, but neither to fan nor to cleane.

12 After that shall there come vnto me a strong winde from those places, and then wil I also giue sentence vpon them.

13 For loe, hee ariseth like a cloude, and his charrets are like a storme winde, his horses are Swifter then the Eagle: wo bnto vs, for we are destroyed.

14 O Hierusalem, wash thine heart from wickednes, that thou maist be helped: how long shall thy haire thoughts remaine with thee?

15 For a voice from Dan, and from the hill of Ephraim speaketh out, and telleth of a destruction.

16 Remember the Heathen, and giue Hierusalem warning, and preach bnto her, that watchers ouer her are coming from farre countreys, they haue cried out against the cities of Iuda.

17 And they haue beset her about in euery place, like as the watchmen in the field: for they haue provoked me to wrath, saith the Lord.

Wisd. 1. 8.

18 Thy waies a thy thoughts haue brought thee bnto this, such is thine owne wickednesse and disobedience: and because it is a bitter thing, it hath stricken thee to the heart.

19 Ah my belly, ah my belly, shalt thou cry, how is my heart so sore? my heart panteth within me, I cannot be stil, for I haue heard the crying of the Trumpets and peales of warre.

20 They cry murder vpon murder, the whole land shall perish: Immediately my tents were destroyed, and my hangings in the twinkling of an eye.

21 How long shall I see the tokens of warre, and heare the noise of the trumpets?

22 Neuerthelesse, this shall come vpon them, because my people are become foolish, and hath not knowen me: they are the children of foolishnes, and without any discretion: to doe euil they haue wit ynough, but to doe wel they haue no wisdom.

23 I haue looked vpon the earth, and see, it was waste and boide: I looked toward heauen, and it had no shine.

24 I behelde the mountaines, and loe, they trembled, and all the hills were in a feare.

25 I looked about me, and there was no booy: and al the birds of the aire were a way.

26 I marked wel, and the plowed fielde was become waste, yea, al their cities were broken downe at the presence of the Lord, and indignation of his wrath.

27 For thus hath the Lord saide, The whole land shall bee desolate, yet wil I not then haue done.

28 And therefore shall the earth mourne, and the heauen bee soyr aboute: for the thing that I haue spoken to the Prophets, purposed, and taken vpon me to do, shall not repent me, and I wil not go from it.

29 The whole land shall flee for the noyle of horsemen and bowmen, they shall runne into denmes, into woods, & clime by the stony rocks: al the cities shall be booyde, and no man dwelling therein.

30 What wilt thou now doe, thou being destroyed? for though thou clochest thy selfe with scarlet, and deckest thee with gold, though thou paintest thy face with colours nowe, yet shalt thou drim thy selfe in baine: for those that hitherto haue bene thy louers, shall abhorre thee, and go about to slay thee.

31 For I heare a noise like as it were of a woman traouailing, and one labouring of her first child, euen the voice of the daughter Sion, that casteth out her armes, and swoareth, saying,

Ah, wo is mee, how sore bered and faint is my heart for feare of the murderers?

The v. Chapter.

1 In Iury is there no righteous or faithfull man found, either amongst the people, or the Rulers, for whose sake the Lord should spare the citie. 15 Wherefore Iury is destroyed of the Assyrians.

Doke thowow Hierusalem, beholde, and see, seeke thowow her streets also within, if ye can finde one man that doth equal a right, or seeketh for the trueth, and I shall spare the city, saith the Lord.

2 For though they can say, The Lord liueth: yet they sweare to deceiue.

3 Whereas thou (O Lord) lookest onely vpon faith and trueth: Thou hast scourged them, but they tooke no repentance, thou hast corrected them for amendment, but they refused thy correction, they made their faces harder then a stone, and would not amend.

4 Therefore I thought in my selfe, peraduenture they are so simple and foolish, that they vnderstand nothing of the Lords way, and iudgements of their God.

5 Therefore wil I goe bnto their heads and rulers, and talke with them, if they know the way of the Lord, and iudgements of their God: But these in like maner haue broken the yoke, and burst the bonds in sunder.

6 Wherefore a Lion out of the wood hath hurt them, and a wolfe in the euening shall destroy them, the Leopard doth lie lurking by their cities, to teare in pieces al them that come thereout: for their offences are multiplied, and their departing away is increased.

7 Should I then for al this haue mercy vpon thee? Thy children haue forsaken mee, and sworne by them that are no Gods: and albeit that I fed them to the ful, yet they fall to aduulterie, and haunt harlots houses.

8 In the desire of vnclanelly lust they are become like the stoned horse, euery man neigheth at his neighbours wife.

9 Should I not correct this, saith the Lord? should I not bee auenged of euery people that is like bnto this?

10 Clime by vpon their walles, beate them downe, and destroy them not biterly: take away their battlements, because they are not the Lords.

11 For vnfaithfully hath the house of Israel and Iuda forsaken me, saith the Lord.

12 They haue denied the Lord, and said, It is not he that looketh vpon vs, with, there shall no misfortune come vpon vs, wee shall see neither sword nor hunger.

13 As for the warning of the Prophets, it is but winde, yea, there is not the word of God in them: such things shall happen vnto themselves.

14 Wherefore thus sayeth the Lord God of hosts, Because ye speake such words, behold, the words that are in thy mouth wil I turne to fire, and make the people to bee wood, that the fire may consume them.

15 Loe, I wil bring a people vpon you from farre, O house of Israel, saith the Lord, a mighty people, an olde people, a people whose speech thou knowest not, neither vnderstandest what they say.

18 Neuerthelesse, I wil not then haue done with you, saith the Lord.

19 * But if they say, wherefore doth the Lord our God all this vnto vs? Then answer them, Because that like as ye haue forsaken mee, and serued strange gods in your land, euen so shall ye serue strangers out of your land.

20 Preach this vnto the house of Jacob, and cry it out in Iuda, and say thus, 21 * Heare this, thou foolish and indiscreet people, Ye haue eyes, but ye see not, eares haue ye, but ye heare not.

22 feare ye not mee, saith the Lord? wil ye not tremble at my presence? which binde the sea with the lande by a continuall decree, so that it cannot passe his bounds: for though it rage, yet can it doe nothing, and though the waues thereof do wel, yet may they not goe ouer.

23 But this people hath a false and obstinate heart, they are departed and gone away from me.

24 They thinke not in their hearts, O let vs feare the Lord our God, who giueth vs raine early and late when need is, which keepeth euer stil the harvest for vs yerely.

25 Neuerthelesse, your misdoedes haue turned these from you, and your sinnes haue robbed you of good things.

26 For among my people are founde wicked persons, that priuily lay snares and waite for men to take them, and destroy them.

27 And like as a net is full of birds, so are their houses full of that which they haue gotten with fallhood and deceit: Hereof commeth their great substance and riches.

28 Hereof are they fat and wealthy, and are more mischieuous then any other: * they minster not the Law, they make no ende of the fatherlesse cause, yea and they prosper: yet they iudge not the poore according to equitie.

29 Should I not punish these things, saith the Lord? should not I bee auenged of all such people as these be?

30 Horrible and grieuous things are done in the land.

31 The prophets teath falsly, and the preachers receiue gifts, and my people hath pleasure therein: what wil come thereof at the last?

The vj. Chapter.

1 The sinnes for which Hierusalem is afflicted. 10 Vncircumcised eares, 13 couetousnesse, 14 deceit. 20 The Lord reiecteth the sacrifices of the Iewes. 22 The coming of the Babylonians is prophced againe.

Come out of Hierusalem, ye strong children of Benjamin, blow by the Trumpets ye Thecutites, set by a token vnto Bethcaran: for a plague and a great misery appeareth out from the North.

2 I wil liken the daughter Sion to a faire and tender woman, & to her shall come the shepherds with their flockes.

3 Their tents shall they pitch round about her, and every one shall feed in his place.

4 Make battell against her, shall they say, arise, let vs go by while it is yet day: Alas the day goeth a way, and the night shadowes fall downe.

5 Arise, let vs go by by night, and destroy her strong holds.

6 For thus hath the Lord of hostes commanded, He w downe her trees, and set by bulwarks against Hierusalem: for the time is come that this citie must be punished, for in her is all maliciousnesse.

7 Like as a conduit spowteth out waters, so she spowteth out her wickednesse: Robbery and vnrightheousnesse is heard in her, soorrowe and wounds are euer there in my sight.

8 Amend thee (O Hierusalem) lest I withdrawe my heart from thee, and make thee desolate, and thy land also, that no man dwell in it.

9 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, The residue of Israel shall be gathered as the remnant of grapes: and therefore turne thine hand againe into the basket, like the grape gatherer.

10 But vnto whom shall I speake? whom shall I warne, that hee may take heede? Their eares are so vncircumcised, that they may not heare: behold, they take the word of God but for a scoone, and haue no lust thereto.

11 And therefore I am so full of thine indignation, O Lord, that I may suffer no longer, but shed it out vpon the children that are without, and vpon al yong men: yea, the man must be taken prisoner with the wife, and the aged with the creeple.

12 Their houses with their lands and wiuues shall be turned into strangers: for I wil stretch out mine hand vpon the inhabitants of this land, saith the Lord.

13 * For from the leaue to the moss they hang al vpon couetousnesse, and from the prophet vnto the priest, they go about fallhood and lies.

14 And beside that, they heale the hurt of my people with sweet words, saying, Peace, peace: when there is no peace at all.

15 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? Cruelly nay, they be past shame, and therefore they shall fall among the slaine, and in the houre when I shall visite them, they shall be brought downe, saith the Lord.

16 Thus saith the Lord, Go into the streets, consider and make inquisition for the old way, and if it bee the good and right way, * then goe therein, that ye may finde rest for your soules: but they say, we wil not walke therein.

17 Moreover, I wil set watchmen ouer you, and therefore take heed vnto the voyce of the Trumpet: but they say, we wil not take heed.

18 Heare therefore, ye Gentiles, and thou congregation shalt know what I haue deuised for them.

19 Heare thou earth also: Behold, I wil cause a plague to come vpon this people, such the fruit of their owne imaginations, so that they haue not bene obedient vnto my words, and to my Law, but abhorred them.

20 * wherefore bring ye me sacrifice from Sababa, and sweete smelling Censur from farre countreys: your whole burnt offerings displeaseth me, and I reioyce not in your sacrifices.

21 And therefore thus sayeth the Lord, Beholde, I will lay stumbling blockes among this people, and there shall fall at them the father with the children, one neighbour shall perish with another.

22 Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, there shall come a people from the North, and a great people shall arise from the ends of the earth.

23 With bowes and with darts shall they be weaponed, it is a rough and fierce people, and an unmercifull people, their voice roareth like the Sea, they ride upon horses wel appointed to the battel against thee, O daughter Sion.

24 The same of them have wee heard, our armes are feeble, heavynesse and sorrowe is come upon vs, as upon a woman trausiling with childe.

25 Let no man goe forth into the felde, let no man come upon the high street: for the sword and feare of the enemy is on every side.

26 Wherefore gird a sackcloth about thee, O thou daughter of my people, sprinkle thy selfe with ashes: mourne and weepe bitterly, as upon thine onely beloued sonne, for the destroyer shall suddenly fall upon vs.

27 *Thee haue I set for a strong towre, O thou Prophet, and a well fenced wall among my people, to seeke out and to try their wayes.

28 For they are all Subborne Apostates, and fallen away, walking deceitfully, they are cleane brasse and yron, for they hurt and destroy euery man.

29 The bellowes are burnt in the fire, the lead is not moulten, the melter melteth in vaine, for the euil is not taken away from them.

30 Therefore doe they call them naughty Ulter, because the Lord hath cast them out.

The vij. Chapter.

2 Ieremie is commanded to shewe vnto the people the worde of God, which trusteth to the outward seruire of the Temple. 13 The euils that shall happen to the Iewes for the despising of their Prophets. 21 Sacrifices doeth not the Lord chiefly require of the Iewes, but that they should obey his worde.

These are the words that God spake vnto Ieremie, saying,

3 Stand vnder the gate of the Lords house, and cry out these wordes there with a loud voyce, and say, Heare the worde of the Lord all ye of Iuda, that goe in at this doore, to worship the Lord:

4 Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, *Amend your wayes & your counsailes, and I will let you dwell in this place.

5 Trust not in false lying wordes, saying, Here is the Temple of the Lord, here is the temple of the Lord, here is the Temple of the Lord:

6 But rather in deede amende your wayes and counsailes, and iudge right betwixt a man and his neighbour.

7 Oppresse not the stranger, the fatherlesse, an he widow, heed not innocent blood in this place, gaue not to strange gods, to your owne destruction.

8 The Lord I let you dwell in this place, fathers for ever, that I gaue aforetime to your

9 But take heed, trust in lying tales that beguise you, and do you no good.

9 For when ye haue stolen, murdered, committed adulterie, and perurie, when ye haue offered vnto Baal, following strange & vnknown gods: shall ye be unpunished?

10 Yet then come ye, and stand before mee in this house (which hath my Name giuen vnto it) and say, Cuse, we are absoued quite, though we haue done al these abominations.

11 What, thinke ye vnto this house that beareth my Name, is a denie of thicues? And yet I see what you thinke, saith the Lord.

12 Goe to my place in Silo, whereunto I gaue my Name aforetime, *and looke wel what I did to the same place for the wickednesse of my people of Israel.

13 And now seeing ye haue done all these deeds, saith the Lord, and I my selfe rose vp euer betimes to warne you, and to commune with you, yet would ye not heare mee, I called, ye would not answer me:

14 Therefore, *euen as I haue done vnto Silo, so will I doe to this house that my Name is giuen vnto, and that ye put your trust in: yea, vnto the place that I haue giuen to you, and your fathers:

15 And I shall thrust you out of my sight, as I haue cast out all your brethren the whole seed of Ephraim.

16 *Therefore thou shalt not pray for this people, thou shalt neither giue thanks nor bid prayer for them: make thou no intercession for them, for in no wise will I heare thee.

17 Seest thou not what they do in the cities of Iuda, and in the streets of Hierusalem?

18 *The children gather stiches, the fathers kindle the fire, the women knead the dough to bake cakes for the queene of heauen: they powre out drinke offerings vnto strange gods, to prouoke me vnto wrath.

19 Howbeit they hurt not me, saith the Lord, but rather confound and shame themselves.

20 And therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, my wrath and indignation shall be powred out vpon this place, vpon men and cattel, vpon trees in the field and fruit of the land: and it shall burne, so that no man may quench it.

21 Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Heape vp your burnt offrings with your sacrifices, and eat the flesh.

22 For when I brought your fathers out of Egypt, I spake no word vnto them of burnt offrings and sacrifices.

23 But this I commanded them, saying, Hearken and obey my voyce, and I shall be your God, and ye shall be my people, so that ye walke in all the wayes which I haue commanded you, that ye may prosper.

24 But they were not obedient, they inclined not their eares thereunto: but went after their owne imaginations, and after the motions of their owne wicked heart, and so turned themselves away, and conuerted not vnto me.

25 And this haue they done from the time that your fathers came out of Egypt, vnto this day: Neuerthelesse, I sent vnto you my seruants the prophets, I rose vp early, and sent you word.

26 *Yet would they not hearken, nor offer mee their eares, but were obstinate, and worse then their fathers.

So soon as the hypocrites here tell that Gods iudgements are at hand, their heart faileth, and is full of sorrow.

27 And thou shalt not speake al these wordes vnto them, but they will not heare thee: thou shalt cry vpon them, but they will not answer thee.

28 Therefore shalt thou say vnto them. This is the people that neither heareth the voyce of the Lord their God, nor receiueth his correction: falschfulnesse and tructh is cleane rooted out of their mouth.

29 Therefore cut off thine haire O Hierusalem and call it away, take by a complaint on high: for the Lord hath cast away and forsaken the people that he is displeas'd withal.

30 For the children of Iuda haue done euil in my sight, saith the Lord, they haue set by their abominations in the house that hath my Name, and haue defiled it:

31 They haue also builded altars at Thopheth, which is in the balley of the children of Beniom, that they might burne their sornes and daughters in fire: which I neuer commaunded them, neither came it euer in my thought.

32 And therefore behold, the dayes that come (saith the Lord) that it shal no moze bee called Thopheth, or the balley of the children of Beniom, but the balley of laughter: for in Thopheth they shall be buried, because they shall els haue no roune.

33 Yea, the dead bodics of this people shal be eaten by of the foules of the aire, and wilde beastes of the earth, and no man shal fray them away.

34 * And as for the voyce of mirth and gladnesse of the cities of Iuda and Hierusalem, the voyce of the bridegrome, and of the bride, I will make them cease: for the land shal be desolate.

The viij. Chapter.

1 The destruction of the Iewes. 4 The Lord moueth the people to amendment, reckoning vp their sinnes. 20 He reprehendeth the lying doctrine of the prophets and priests.

AT the same time, saith the Lord, the bones of the Kings of Iuda, the bones of his princes, the bones of the preachers and prophets, yea, and the bones of the citizens of Hierusalem, shall bee brought out of their graues,

2 And layde against the Sunne, and the Moone, and all the heauenly hoste, whom they loued, whom they serued, whom they ran after, whom they sought and worshipped: they shall neither bee gathered together nor buried, but shall lie as doung vpon the earth.

3 And all they that remaine of this wicked generation, shal desire rather to die then to liue, where soeuer they remaine, and whereas I scatter them, saith the Lord of hostes.

4 Thus shalt thou say vnto them also, Thus saith the Lord, Doe men fall, so that they rise not by againe? or if Itrael repent, wil not God turne againe to them?

5 Wherefore then is this people of Hierusalem gone so farre backe, that they turne not againe? They are euer the longer the more obstinate, and wil not be conuerted.

6 For I haue looked and considered, but there is no man that speaketh a good worde, there is no man that taketh repentance for his sinne, that wil so much say, what haue I done?

but euery man turneth to his owne course, like a fierce horse headlong to the battel.

7 The Storke in the aire knoweth his appointed time, the turtle Doue, the Swallowe and the Crane consider the time of their trauel: but my people wil not know the time of the punishment of the Lord.

8 How dare ye say then, we are wise, wee haue the Law of the Lord among vs: Cruely in baime hath hee prepared his penne, and banicly haue the wyters written it.

9 Therefore shall the wise bee confounded, they shall be afraid and taken: for loe, they haue cast out the word of the Lord, what wisdom can then be among them?

10 Wherefore I will giue their wiues vnto aliens, and their fieldes to destroyers: for * from the lowest vnto the highest they follow filthy lucre, and from the prophet vnto the priest, they deale al with lies.

11 Neuertheless, they heale the hurt of my people very slemberly, saying, Peace, peace: where there is no peace at all.

12 fie for shame, how adominable things do they, & yet they be not ashamed, yea, they know of no shame: Wherefore in the time of their visitation, they shal fall among the dead bodics, and be ouerthrowen, saith the Lord.

13 Moreover, I will consume them in dedde (saith the Lord) so that there shal not bee one grape vpon the vine, neither one figge vpon the figge tree, and the leaues shal be pluckt off, and the thing that I haue giuen them, shal be taken from them.

14 Why prolong wee the time? let vs gather our selues together, and goe into the strong city, there shall wee be in rest: for the Lord our God hath put vs to silence, and giuen vs water mirt with gal to drinke, because wee haue sinned against him.

15 * We looked for peace, and we fare not the better, we waited for the time of health, and loe, here is nothing but trouble.

16 The noise of his horses is heard from Dan, the whole land is afraide at the neighing of his strong horses: for they are come in, and haue deuoured the land with al that is in it, the cities, and those that dwell therein.

17 Moreover, I wil sende Cochatrices and serpents among you, which wil not be charmed) and they shal bite you, saith the Lord.

18 I would haue had comfort against sorrow: but sorrow is come vpon me, and heavinesse bereeth my heart.

19 For loe, the voyce of the crying of my people is heard for feare of them that come from a far countrey: Is not the Lord in Sion? Is not her King in her? wherefore then haue they grieved me shall the Lord say, with their images and foolish strange fashions of a foireine god?

20 The harvest is gone, the Summer hath an end, and we are not helped.

21 I am soze bered because of the hurt of my people, I am heauie and abashed.

22 Is there not Triacle at Gilead? Is there no Physician there? why then is not the health of my people recovered?

God ought we onely to reioyce. 26 The vncircumc: sion of the heart.

Who wil giue my head water pnough, and a well of teares for mine eyes, that I may weepe night and day for the slaughter of my people?

2 Would God that I had a cottage some where farre from folke, that I might leaue my people and goe from them, for they be al adulcerers, and a shrinking sort.

3 They bende their tongues like bowes to shoote out lies, they ware strong vpon earth: As for the Trueth, they may nothing away with-all in the world, for they goe from one wickednesse to another, and wil not know me, saith the Lord.

4 Yea, one must keep himselfe from another, no man may safely trust his owne brother: for one brother vndermineth another, one neighbour bequileth another.

5 Yea, one dissembleth with another, and they deale with no trueth: They haue practised their tongues to lye, and taken great paines to do mischief.

6 Thou sittest in the middes of a deceitfull people, which for very dissembling falshood will not know me, saith the Lord.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, Behold, I wil melt them, & try them: for what should I els do to my people?

8 Their tongues are like sharpe arrowes to speake deccite: * with their mouth they speake peaceably to their neighbour, but priuily they lay wait for him.

9 Should I not punish them for these things, saith the Lord? or should I not be auenged of any such people as this?

10 Vpon the mountaines wil I take vp a lamentation, and a sorrowful cry, and a mourning vpon the faire places of the wildernesse: namely, how they are so burnt by that no man goeth there any more, yea, a man shall not heare one beast cry there: birds and cattel are al gone from thence.

11 I will make Hierusalem also an heape of stones, and a denise of benemous woynes: and I will make the cities of Iuda so waste, that no man shal dwell therein.

12 What man is so wise as to vnderstande this? or to whom hath y<sup>e</sup> Lord spoken by mouth, that he may shew this, and say, O thou land, why perishest thou so? wherefore art thou so burnt vp, and like a wildernesse that no man goeth tho: to?

13 Yea, the Lord himselfe to be the same vnto them that forsooke his Law, and kept not the thing that hee gaue them in commandement, neither liued thereafter:

14 But followed the wickednesse of their owne hearts, and serued strange gods, as their forefathers taught them.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, * Beholde, I wil seed this people with worme wood, and giue them gal to drinke.

16 I will scatter them also among the heathen, whom neither they, nor their fathers haue known: and I wil send a word among them to persecute them, until I bring them to nought.

17 Moreover, thus saith the Lord of hostes,
Beware of the vengeance that hangeth ouer you, and call for mourning wiues, and sende for wise women, that they come hastily,

18 And sing a mourning song of vs, that the teares may fall out of our eyes, and that our eye lids may gush out of water.

19 For there is a lamentable noise heard of Sion: O how are we so sore destroyed? O how are wee so pitouly confounded? wee must forsake our owne naturall cuntry, and wee are shut out of our owne lodgings.

20 Yet heare the word of the Lord (O ye women) and let your eares regard the words of his mouth, that yee may learne your daughters to mourne, & that euery one may teach her neighbour to make lamentation.

21 Namely thus, Death is cliuing by in at our windowes, hee is come into our houses, to destroy the childe before the dooze, and the yong man in the streete.

22 But tel thou plainly, Thus saith the Lord, The dead bodies of men shall lie vpon the ground, as the doung vpon the felde, and as the handfull after the mower, and there shalbe no man to take them vp.

23 Thus saith the Lord, * Let not the wise man reioyce in his wisdom, nor the strong man in his strength, neither the rich man in his riches.

24 But who so wil reioyce, let him reioyce in this, that hee vnderstandeth and knoweth mee, that I am the Lord, which doe mercie, equitie, and rightousnesse vpon the earth: therefore haue I pleasure in such things, saith the Lord.

25 Behold, the time cometh (saith the Lord) that I wil visite at them whose foreskinne is vn-circumcised, and the circumcised,

26 The Egyptians, the Jewes, the Edomites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, and the shauen Adiamites that dwell in the wildernesse: for all the Gentiles are all vncircumcised in the flesh, but all the house of Israel are vncircumcised in the heart.

The x. Chapter.

2 The constellations of the starres are not to be feared. 5 Of the weaknes of idoles, and of the power of God. 21 Of euil Curates.

Care the worde of the Lord that hee speaketh vnto thee, O thou house of Israel.

2 Thus saith the Lord, Yee shall not learne after the maner of the heathen, and ye shal not be afraid for tokens of heauen: for the heathen are afraid of such.

3 Yea, all the customes and lawes of the Gentiles are nothing but banitie: They he we downe a tree in the wood with the handes of the workeman, and fashion it with the are.

4 They couer it ouer with golde or siluer, they fasten it with nails and hammers, that it moue not.

5 It standeth as stiffe as the Palme tree, it can neither speake, nor goe on soote, but must be borne: be not ye afraid of such, for they can doe neither good nor euil.

6 But there is none like vnto thee, O Lord, and great is the name of thy power.

7 Who would not feare thee, O King of the Gentiles? for thine is the dominion: for among all the wise men of the Gentiles, and in all their kingdomes, there is none that may be likened vnto thee.

8 They are altogether brutish and bruttise in this one thing: wood is the teaching of banitie.

9 Silver is brought out of Tharus, and beaten into plates, and gold from Ophir, a worke that is made with the hand of the craftesman, and they are clothed with yellowe silke and scarlet: all these are the worke of cunning men.

10 But the Lord is a true God, a liuing God, and an euerlasting king: if hee be wroth the earth shaketh, all the Gentiles may not abide his indignation.

11 As for their gods, thus shal you say to them, They are no gods that made neither heauen nor earth, therefore shall they perish from the earth, and from all things vnder heauen.

12 But as for our God, he hath made the earth with his power, and with his wisdom doeth he order the whole compasse of the world, with his discretion hath he spread out the heauens.

13 At his voice the waters gathered together in the ayre, hee draweth by the cloudes from the uttermost parts of the earth: he turneth lightning to raine, and bringeth forth the winds out of their treasures.

14 His wisdom maketh all men foolcs, and confounded be casters of images: for that they call is but a baine thing, and hath no life.

15 The baine craftesmen with their workes that they in their banitie haue made shall perish one with another in time of visitation.

16 Neuertheless, Jacobs portion is none such: but it is he that hath made all things, and Israel is the rod of his inheritance: the Lord of hostes is his name.

17 Father by thy wares out of the land, thou that art in the strong place.

18 For thus sayeth the Lord, Behold, I will now throw as with a stone sling the inhabitants of this land at this once, and I will bring trouble vpon them, that they shall prooue true the words that I haue spoken by the Prophets.

19 Alas how am I hurt: alas how painfull are my scourges vnto me: for I consider this sorrow by my selfe, and I must suffer it.

20 My tabernacle is destroyed, and all my cozds are broken, my children are gone from me, and can no where be found: Now haue I none to spread out my tent, nor to set by my hangings.

21 For the heardmen are become foolish, and they haue not fought the Lord: therefore haue they dealt bruttely with their cattell, and all are scattered abroad.

22 Behold, the nose is hard at hand, a great scdition out of the North, to make the cities of Iuda a wilderness, and a dwelling place for Dragons.

23 Now I knowe (O Lord) that it is not in mans power to order his owne wayes, or to rule his owne steps and goings.

24 Therefore chasten thou me, O Lord, but with fauour, and not in thy wrath, least thou bring me vtterly to nought.

25 Pour out thine indignation vpon the Gentiles that knowe the not, and vpon the people that call not vpon thy Name, and that because they haue consumed, deuoured, and destroyed Iacob, and haue made his habitation waste.

The xj. Chapter.

3 A curse to them that obey not the worde of Gods promise. 10 The people of Iuda following the steppes of their fathers, worship strange gods. 15 The Lorde sayeth that hee will not heare the Iewes, and forbiddeth also Ieremie to pray for them.

This is a sermon which the Lorde commanded Ieremie for to preach, saying,

2 Hear the words of this covenant, and speake vnto the men of Iuda, and to all them that dwell at Hierusalem,

3 And say vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel, Cursed be euery one that is not obedient vnto the wordes of this covenant,

4 which I commanded vnto your fathers, what time as I brought them out of Egypt from the yron furnace, saying, Be obedient vnto my voice, and doe according to all that I commaund you, so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God:

5 And will keepe my promise that I haue swoorne vnto your fathers, namely, that I would giue them a land which floweth with milke and hony, as yee see it is come to passe vnto this day. Then answered I, and said, Amen: let it be euen so Lord as thou sayest.

6 Then the Lorde sayde vnto mee againe, Preach this in the cities of Iuda, and round about Hierusalem, and say, Heare the wordes of this covenant, and keepe them.

7 For I haue diligently exhorted your fathers, euen since the time that I brought them out of the land of Egypt vnto this day, I gaue them warning betimes, saying, Hearken vnto my voice.

8 Neuertheless they would not obey me, nor encline their cares vnto mee: but followed the wicked imaginations of their owne hearts, and therefore I haue brought vpon them all the wordes of this covenant that I gaue them to keepe, which they notwithstanding haue not kept.

9 And the Lorde sayd vnto me, It is found out that whole Israel, and all the cities of Hierusalem are gone backe.

10 They haue turned themselves to the blasphemies of their forefathers, which had no lust to heare my wordes: euen likewise also haue these followed straunge gods, and worshipped them: The house of Israel and Iuda haue broken my covenant which I made with their fathers.

11 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde, Behold, I will send a plague vpon them, which they shal not be able to escape, and they shal crie vnto me, and I will not heare them.

12 Then shall the townes of Iuda, and the citizens of Hierusalem goe and call vpon their gods vnto whom they made their oblations: but they shal not be able to helpe them in time of their trouble.

13 For as many cities as thou hast, O Iuda, so many gods hast thou had also, and looke how many streets there be in thee, (O Hierusalem) so many shamefull altars haue yee set by, altars I say, to offer vpon them vnto Baal.

14 Therefore pray not thou for this people, hidde neither praise nor prayer for them: for though they crie vnto me in their trouble, yet will I not heare them.

Iere. 1. 28.

Iere. 14 12.

15 What part hath my beloved in my house, seeing he hath wrought abomination, serving many gods? The holy flesh offerings in the temple are gone from thee. O Iuda, and thou, when thou hast done euill, makest thy boast of it.

16 The Lord called thee a greene Olive tree, a faire one, a fruitful one, a goodly one: but with great clamour hath the enemy set fire vpon it, and the branches of it are destroyed.

17 For the Lord of hostes that planted thee, hath deuised a plague for thee, (O thou house of Israel and Iuda) for the euill that yee haue done to prouoke hym to wrath, in that ye did ser- uice to Baal.

18 This O Lord haue I learned of thee, and vnderstand it: for thou hast shewed me their imaginations.

19 But I am as a meeke Lambe, and Oxe that is caried away to bee slaine; not knowing that they had deuised such a counsell against me, say- ing, We will destroy his meate with wood, and driue hym out of the lande of the liuing, that his name shall neuer be thought vpon.

20 Therefore I will beseech thee now, O Lord of hostes) thou righteous Judge, thou that tryest the reines and the hearts, let me see thee auenged of them: for vnto thee haue I com- mitted my cause.

21 The Lord therefore spake thus of the citi- zens of Anathoth that sought to slay me, saying, Preach not vnto vs in the Name of the Lord, or else thou shalt die of our hands.

22 Thus I say spake the Lord of hostes, Be- hold, I will visite you, your young men shall per- ish with the sword, your sonnes & your daugh- ters shall bitterly die of hunger.

23 So that none shall remaine: for vpon the citizens of Anathoth will I bring a plague, euen the yeere of their visitation.

The xij. Chapter,

1 The Prophet marueileth greatly at the prosperitie of the wicked, although hee confesse God to bee righteous. 7 The Iewes are forsaken of the Lord 10 He speaketh against the Curates and Preachers that seduce the people. 14 The Lord threatneth destruction vnto the nations that bordered vpon Iurie, which troubled and vexed it.

Lord, thou art more righteous then that I shoulde dispute with thee: neuerthelesse, let mee talke with thee in things reasonable.

How happeneth it that the way of the brigbold is so prosperous: and that it goeth so wel with them which without any shame offend and lue in wickednesse?

2 Thou plantedst them, they take roote, they grow, and bring forth fruite: they boast much of thee, yet art thou farre from their reines.

3 But thou Lord to whome I am well knowen, thou that hast sene and proued my heart, take them away, like as a flocke is caried to the slaughter house, and appoint them for the day of slaughter.

4 How long shall the land mourn, and all the herdes of the field perish for the wickednesse of them that dwell therein: The cattell and the birds are gone, yet say they, Cuth, God will not destroy vs utterly.

5 Seeing thou art weary in running with the footmen, how wilt thou then runne with horses? In a peaceable sure lande thou mayest be safe: but how wilt thou doe in the furious pride of Iordane?

6 For thy brethren and thy hired haue al- together despised thee, and cryed out vpon thee altogether: Beleeue them not though they speake faire words to thee.

7 As for me, I say, I haue forsaken mine own dwelling place, and left mine heritage: I haue giuen that my soule loued so wel into the hand of her enemies.

8 Mine heritage is become vnto mee as a Lyon in the wood: it cryed out vpon me: there- fore haue I forsaken it.

9 Is not mine heritage vnto me as a speckled bird: ate not the birds round about against her? Come and gather ye together all yee beasts of the field, come, that ye may eat it vp.

10 Diuers herdmen haue broken downe my vineyard, and troden vpon my portion: of my pleasant portion they haue made a wilder- nesse and desert.

11 They haue layd it waste, and now that it is waste, it sigheth vnto me: yea, the whole land lyeth waste, and no man regardeth it.

12 The destroyers come ouer the borders in the desert euery way: for the sword of the Lord doth consume from the one end of the land to the other, and no flesh hath rest.

13 They haue sown wheat, and reaped thornes, they haue taken heritage in possession, but it doeth them no good: and they were asha- med of your frutes, because of the great wrath of the Lord.

14 Thus sayeth the Lord vpon all my euill neighbors that lay hand on my heritage which I haue possessed, euen my people of Israel, Be- hold, I will pluck them namely Israel out of their lande, and put out the house of Iuda from among them.

15 And when I haue rooted them out, I will be at one with them againe, and I will haue mercie vpon them, and bring them againe e- uery man to his owne heritage, and into his land.

16 And if they, namely that trouble my people will learne the wayes of them to sweare by my Name. The Lord liueth, like as they learned my people to sweare by Baal: then shall they be built among my people.

17 But if they will not obey, then will I root out the same folke, and destroy them, sayth the Lord.

The xiiij. Chapter,

1 The destruction of the Iewes is prefigured, & their sparing abroad. 11 Why Israel was receiued to be the people of God, and why they were forsaken.

Thus sayth the Lord vnto me, Doe thy way, and get thee a linnen gir- dle, and girdle it about thy loynes, let it not be wet.

2 When I got me a girdle, ac- cording to the commandement of the Lord, and put it about my loynes.

3 After this, the second time the Lord spake vnto me againe,

4 Take the girdle that thou hast prepared, and put about thee, and get thee vp, and goe vnto Euphrates, and hide it there in a hole of the rocke.

5 So went I, and hid it at Euphrates, as the Lord commanded me.

6 And it happened long after this, that the Lord spake vnto me, say, & get thee to Euphrates, and fetch the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.

7 Then went I to Euphrates, and digged vp, and tooke the girdle from the place where I had hid it: and beholde, the girdle was corrupt, so that it was profitabie for nothing.

8 Then sayd the Lord vnto me,

9 Thus saith the Lord, Euen so will I corrupt the pride of Iuda, and the high mind of Hierusalem.

10 This people is a wicked people, they will not heare my word, they follow the wicked imaginations of their owne heart, and hang vpon strange gods, them they serue and worship, and therefore they shall be as this girdle that serueth for nothing.

11 For as straitly as a girdle lyceth vpon a mans loynes, so straitly did I binde the whole house of Israel, and the whole house of Iuda vnto me, sayth the Lord, that they might be my people, that they might haue a glorious name, that they might be in honour: but they would not obey me.

12 Therefore lay this riddle before them, and say, Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, Euerie pot shall be filled with wine. And they shall say vnto thee, Thinkest thou wee knowe not that euery pot shall be filled with wine?

13 Then shalt thou say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I shall fill the inhabitants of this land with drunkennesse, the kings that sit vpon Dauids stoole, the priests and prophets, with all that dwell at Hierusalem.

14 And I will set them one against another, yea, the fathers against the sonnes, sayeth the Lord, I will not pardon them, I will not spare them, nor haue pittie vpon them: but destroy them.

15 Heare, giue eare, take not disdain at it: for it is the Lord himselfe that speaketh.

16 Honour the Lord your God or he take his light from you, and or euer your feet stumble in darkenesse at the hill: least when you looke for the light, he turne it into the shadow and darkenesse of death.

17 But if ye will not heare me that giue you secret warning, I will mourne from my whole heart for your stubbornnesse: * Wicoulsly will I weepe, and the teares shall gush out of mine eyes, for the Lordes flocke shall be caried away captiue.

18 Tell the King and the Queene, Humble your selues, sit you downe low, for your dignitie shall be throwen downe, and the crowne of your glorie shall fall from your head.

19 The cities to ward the South shall be shut vp, and no man shal open them: all Iuda shall be caried away captiue, so that none shall remaine.

20 Lift vp your eyes, and beholde them that come from the North: where is the flocke O thou land, that was giuen thee? and where are thy fat and rich sheepe?

21 To whome wilt thou make thy moane when the enemy shall come vpon thee? for thou hast taught them thy selfe, and made them masters ouer thee: shall not sorrow come vpon thee as on a woman traouailing with child?

22 And if thou wouldest then say in thine heart, wherefore come these things vpon mee? Euen for the multitude of thy blasphemies shall thy hinder parts and thy feet be discovered.

23 May a man of Iude change his skin, and the Cat of the mountaine her spots? so, may yee that be exercised in euill, doe good.

24 Therefore will I scatter them like as the stubble that is taken away with the South winde.

25 This shall be your portion, and the portion of your measure where with ye shall be rewarded of me, sayth the Lord, because yee haue forgotten me, and put your trust in deceitfull things.

26 Therefore shall I turne thy clothes ouer thy head, and discover thy shame.

27 Thy adulteries, thy neighings, thy shamefull whoredome on the hills in the fields, and thy abominations haue I seene: woe be vnto thee O Hierusalem) wilt thou neuer be cleaned any more? or when shall that be?

The xiiiij. Chapter.

Of the dearth that should come in Iurie. 7 The prayer of the people asking mercie of the Lorde. 10 The vnfaithfull people are not heard. 12 Of prayer, fasting, and of false prophets that seduce the people.

The word of the Lorde shewed vnto Ieremie, concerning the dearth of the fruites.

2 Iuda hath mourned, his gates are desolate, they are brought to heauinesse, euen vnto the ground, and the cry of Hierusalem goeth vp.

3 The lords sent their seruants to fetch water, and when they came to the welles, they did finde no water, but caried their bessels home emptie: they be ashamed and confounded, and couer their heads.

4 For the ground is dryed, because there commeth no raine vpon it: the plowmen also be ashamed and couer their heads.

5 The Hind also forlooke the young fawne that he brought forth in the field, because there was no grasse.

6 The wilde asses did stand in the high places, and die we in their winde like the dragons, their eyes did faile for want of grasse.

7 Doubtlesse, our owne wickednesse doeth reward vs: but Lord doe thou according to thy name, though our transgressions and sinnes be many, and against thee haue we sinned.

8 For thou art the comfort and helpe of Israel in the time of trouble: why wilt thou be as a stranger in the lande, and as one that goeth his iourney, and commeth onely to remaine for a night?

9 Why wilt thou make thy selfe a coward, and as it were a gyant that yet may not helpe? But thou, O Lord, art in the midst of vs, and thy name is called vpon of vs, forsake vs not.

10 Thus hath the Lord said vnto his people, Seeing they haue had such a lust to wander abroad, and haue not restrained their feete: therefore the Lorde hath no pleasure in them, but hee wil now bring againe to remembrance all their misdeeds, and punish all their sinnes.

11 Yea, euen thus said the Lorde vnto mee, Thou shalt not pray to see this people good.

12 For though they say, I will not heare their

Iere 14

Ierc. 23. 21. and 27. 21. and 29. 8.

prayers, and though they offer burnt offerings and sacrifices, yet will I not accept them: for I will destroy them with the sword, hunger, and pestilence.

13 * Then answered I, O Lord God, the prophets say vnto them, Cuth, yet shall neede to feare no sword, and no hunger shall come vpon you: but the Lord shall giue you sure rest in this place.

14 And the Lord said vnto me, The prophets preach lies in my Name, whereas I haue not sent them, neither gaue I them any charge, neither did I speake vnto them: yet they preach vnto you false visions, charming, banitie, and deceitfulnesse of their owne heart.

15 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord, As for those prophets that preach in my Name, whom I neuertheless haue not sent, & that say, Cuth, there shall no sword nor hunger be in this land: with sword and with hunger shall those prophets perish.

16 And the people to whom they preach, shall be cast out of Hierusalem, die of hunger, and be slaine with the sword, and there shall be no man to burie them, both they and their wiues, their sonnes and their daughters: for thus will I powze their wickednesse vpon them.

Lamc. 1. 16 and 2. 18.

17 This shalt thou say also vnto them, * Mine eyes shall weepe without ceasing day and night: for my people shall be destroyed with great harme, and shall perish with a great plague.

18 For if I goe into the field, loe, it lyeth all full of slaine men: If I come into the citie, loe, they bee all famished of hunger: yea their prophets also and priests shall be ledde into an unknown land.

Ierc. 8. 15.

19 Hast thou then vtterly forsaken Iuda? Doest thou abhorre Sion? Wherefore hast thou so plagued vs, that wee can be healed no more? * Wee looked for peace, and there commeth no good, for the time of health, and loe, here is nothing but trouble.

20 Wee knowledg (O Lord) all our misdeeds, and the sinnes of our fathers: for we haue offended thee.

21 Call vs not off (O Lord) for thy Names sake, forget not thy louing kindnesse, ouerthow not the throne of thine honour, breake not the covenant that thou hast made with vs.

22 Are there any among the gods of the Gentiles that send raine, or giue the showres from heauen? Art not thou thy selfe our Lord God? Wee will trust in thee, for thou doest all these things.

The xv. Chapter.

1 The Lord will not heare Moles and Samuel if they pray for the people, but will wrappe them in many miseries, 6 The cause of such great miseries.

Thus spake the Lord vnto mee, Though Moles & Samuel stood before me, yet haue I no heart to this people, & iue them away, that they may goe out of my sight.

Zach. 11. 9.

2 And if they say vnto thee, Whither shall we goe? then tell them, The Lord giueth you this answer, * Some vnto death, some to the sword, some to hunger, some into captiuitie.

3 For I will bring foure plagues vpon them, sayeth the Lord, The sword shall slay them, the dogges shall teare them in pieces, the fowles of the aire and beastes of the earth shall eat them vp, and destroy them.

4 I will scatter them about also in all kingdoms and lands to be plagued, * because of Manasses the sonne of Ezechia king of Iuda, for the things that he did in Hierusalem.

4. Re. 21.

5 Who shall then haue pitie vpon thee, O Hierusalem? who shall be sorie for thee? O who shall make intercession to obtaine peace for thee?

6 Seeing thou goest from mee, and turned backward, sayeth the Lord, therefore I did stretch out my hand against thee to destroy thee, and I haue bene sorie for thee so long that I am wearie.

7 I haue scattered them abroad with the same on euery side of the lande, I haue wasted my people and destroyed them, yet they haue had no lust to turne from their owne wayes.

8 I haue made their widowes moe in number then the sands of the sea, vpon the mothers of their children did I bring a destroyer in the noone day: suddenly and vnawares did I send a feare vpon their cities.

9 She that hath borne seuen children, hath none, her heart is full of sorrow, * the summe doth faile in the cleare day, she is confounded & faintie for very heauinesse: As for those that remaine, I will deliuer them vnto the sword before their enemies, sayeth the Lord.

Amos 8

10 O mother, alas that thou euer didst beare mee, a brauoler and rebuiler of the whole lande: though I neuer lent nor receiued vpon vsurie, yet all men speake euill vpon me.

11 And the Lord answered me, Werely thy remnant shall haue wealth: Come not I to thee when thou art in trouble, and helpe thee when thine enemy oppresseth thee?

12 Doth one yron hurt another? or one mettall that commeth from the smelth, another?

13 As for thy riches and treasure, I will giue them out into a pray: not for mony, but because of all thy sinnes that thou hast done in all thy coastes.

Why the word is the word towards the end of the chapter of Jeremie.

14 * And I will bring thee with thine enemies into a land that thou knowest not: for the fire that is kindled in mine indignation shall burne you vp.

Dea 3

15 O Lord, thou knowest, therefore remember me, and blite me, reuenge me of my persecuters, take mee not from this life in the time of thine anger: thou knowest that for thy sake I suffer rebuke.

16 When I had found thy words, I did cate them vp greedily, they haue made my heart ioyfull and glad, for thy Name was called vpon me, O Lord God of hostes.

17 I dwell not among the scorners, neither is my delight therein: but I dwell alone because of thy hand, for thou hast filled me with bitterness.

18 Shall heauinesse endure for euer? Are my plagues then so great that they may neuer be healed? wold thou be as one that is false, and as a water that falleth, and cannot continue?

19 Vpon these words, thus sayd the Lord vnto me, If thou wilt turne againe, I shall set thee in my seruice, and if thou wilt take out the thing that is precious from the vile, thou shalt be euen as my owne mouth: they shall conuert vnto thee, but turne not thou vnto them.

20 And so shall I make thee a strong brazen wall against this people, they shall fight against thee, but they shall not preuaile: for I my selfe will be with thee, to helpe thee and deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

21 And I will rid thee out of the handes of the wicked, and deliuer thee out of the handes of tyrants.

The xvj. Chapter.

1 He propheseth the miserie of the Iewes. 2 Hee sheweth that the worshipping of images, and the contempt of Gods lawe is cause of their miserie. 13 He propheseth the captiuitie of Babylon, and their deliuerance from thence againe. 19 The calling of the Gentiles.

THus saith the Lord vnto me, Thou shalt take thee no wife, nor beget children in this place. 3 For of the children that are borne in this place, of their mothers that haue borne them, & of their fathers that haue begotten them in this land, thus saith the Lord, 4 They shall die an horrible death, no man shall receiue for them, nor burie them, but they shall lie as dung vpon the earth: they shall perish through the sword and hunger, and their bodies shall be meate for the fowles of the aire, and beasts of the earth.

5 For thus saith the Lord, Goe not thou into the house of mourning, nor come to mourne and weepe for them: for I haue taken my peace from this people, saith the Lord, yea, my fauour and my mercies.

6 And in this land shall they die olde and yong, and shall not be buried: no man shall be weepe them, no man shall clip or haue himselfe for them.

7 They shall not wring their hands in mourning wise on their dead, one to comfort another: one shall not offer another the cup of consolation to forget their heauinesse for their father and mother.

8 Thou shalt not goe into their feast house, to sit downe to eate or drinke with them:

9 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, I shall take away out of this place the voice of mirth and gladnesse, the voice of the bydegrome and of the pipe, yea, and that in your dayes, that ye may see it.

10 * Nowe when thou shalt see this people all these wordes, and they say vnto thee, Wherefore hath the Lord deuised all this great plague for vs? or what is the offence and sin that we haue done against the Lord our God?

11 Then make thou them this answer, Because your fathers haue forsaken mee, saith the Lord, & haue walked after strange gods, whom they honoured and worshipped, but mee haue they forsaken, and haue not kept my Lawe:

12 * And ye with your shamefull blasphemies haue exceeded the wickednesse of your fathers: for euery one of you hath followed the froward and euill imaginations of his owne heart, and is not obedient vnto me.

13 * Therefore wil I cast you out of this land, into a land that yee and your fathers know not: and there shall ye serue strange gods day & night, there wil I shew you no fauour.

14 Behold therefore, saith the Lord, the daies are come that it shall no more be sayd, The Lord liueth which brought the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt:

15 But it shall be said, The Lord liueth that brought the children of Israel from the North, and from all lands where he had scattered them: for I wil bring them againe into the land that I gaue their fathers.

16 Beholde, saith the Lord, I will send out many fishers to take them, and after that wil I send out many Hunters, to hunt them from all mountaines and hilles, and out of the caues of stone.

17 For mine eyes behold all their wayes, and they cannot bee hid from my face: neither can their wicked deeds be kept close out of my sight.

18 But first wil I sufficiently rewarde their shamefull blasphemies and unnes, because they haue defiled my land with their stinking carions and their adominations, wherewith they haue filled mine heritage.

19 O Lord my strength, my power and refuge in time of trouble: the Gentiles shall come vnto thee from the ends of the world, and say, Woevnto our fathers haue cleaued vnto lies, their idoles are but vaine and vnypossibable.

20 Howe can a man make those his gods, which are not able to be gods?

21 And therefore I will once teach them, saith the Lord, I will shew them my hand and my power, and they shall know that my name is the Lord.

The xvij. Chapter.

1 The frowardnesse of the Iewes. 5 Cursed be those that put their confidence in man, and those blessed that trust in God. 9 Mans heart is wicked. 10 God is the searcher of the heart. 13 The liuing waters are forsaken. 21 The hallowing of the Sabbath is commanded.

Your sinne, O ye of the tribe of Iuda, is written in the table of your hearts, and grauen so vpon the edges of your altars with a pen of iron, and with a Adamant clawe:

2 That as the fathers thinke vpon their children, so thinke you also vpon your altars, woods, thicke trees, high hills, mountaines, and fields.

3 Wherefore, O my mount that standeth in the field, I will make all thy substance and treasure to be spoiled, for the great sinne that thou hast done vpon thy high places, throughout all the coasts of thy land.

4 Thou shalt bee cast out also from the heritage that I gaue thee: and I will subdue thee vnder the heauie bondage of thine enemies, in a land that yee know not: for yee haue ministered fire to mine indignation, which shall turne euermore.

5 Thus saith the Lord, Cursed be the man that putteth his trust in man, and that taketh flesh for his arme, and he whose heart departeth from the Lord.

6 He shall be like the heath that groweth in wilderness: as for the good thing that is for to come, he shall not see it, but dwel in a drie place in the wilderness, in a salt and vntoccupied land.

7 Blessed is the man that putteth his trust in the Lord, and whose hope is in the Lord himselfe.

by the water side, which spreadeth out the roote vnto moistnesse, whom the heate can not harme: when it commeth, but his lease shall be greene: And though there growe but little fruit because of drought, yet is he not carefull, but he neuer lea- ueth off to bring forth fruit.

9 Among all things, man hath the most de- ceitfull and stubborne heart: who shall then know it?

10 Euen I the Lord * search out the ground of the heart, and trie the reins, and reward eue- ry man according to his wayes, and according to the fruit of his workes.

11 The Parrich maketh a nest of eggs, which shee layed not: hee commeth by riches, but not rightously, in the midst of his life must hee leave them behinde him, and at the last be found a very foole.

12 But thou (O Lord) whose throne is most glorious, excellent, and of most antiquity, which dwellest in the place of our holy rest:

13 Thou art the comfort of Israel, all they that forsake thee shall be confounded, al they that doe depart from thee shall be written in earth: for they haue forsaken the Lord, the very conduit of the waters of life.

14 Heale mee, O Lord, and I shall be whole: saue thou mee, and I shall be saued: for thou art my praise, 15 Behold, these men say vnto me, where is the word of the Lord? let it come now.

16 Whereas I neuertheless obediently fol- lowed thee as a shepherd, and haue not breccalled taken this office vpon mee, this knowest thou well: my words also were right before thee.

17 Bec not thou terrible vnto mee, O Lord: for thou art hee in whom I hope when I am in peril.

18 Let my persecutoys bee confounded, but not me: let them be afraid, and not mee: Thou shalt bring vpon them the time of plague, and shalt destroy them right soe.

19 Thus hath the Lord said vnto me, Go and stand vnder the gate wherethorow the people and the kings of Iuda goe out and in, yea vnder all the gates of Hierusalem,

20 And say vnto them, Heare the word of the Lord, yee kings of Iuda, and all thou people of Iuda, and all the citizens of Hierusalem that go thorow this gate, 21 Thus the Lord commandeth, Take heede for your liues that yee carie no burden vpon you in the Sabbath, to bring it thorow the gates of Hierusalem.

22 Yee shall beare no burden also out of your houses in the Sabbath, you shall doe no labour therein: but hallow the Sabbath, as I commanded your fathers.

23 Howbeit they obeyed me not, neither hear- ened they vnto mee: but were obstinate and stubborne, and neither obeyed mee, nor receiued my correction.

24 Neuertheless, if ye wil heare me, saith the Lord, and beare no burden into the citie thro- row this gate vpon the Sabbath, if yee wil hal- lowe the Sabbath, so that yee doe no worke therein:

25 When shall there goe thorow the gates of this city kings and princes, that shall sit vpon the throne of Dauid, they shall be carried vpon char- ets, and ride vpon horses, both they and their princes: yea whole Iuda, and all the citizens of Hierusalem shall goe herethorow, and this citie shall euer be inhabited.

26 There shall come men also from the cities of Iuda, from about Hierusalem, and from the land of Beniamin, from the plaine fieldes, from the mountaines, and from the wilderness, which shall bring whole burnt offerings, sacrifices, ob- lations, and incense, and offer by thanksgiving in the house of the Lord.

27 But if ye wil not be obedient vnto mee, to halowe the Sabbath, so that ye wil beare your burdens thorow the gates of Hierusalem vpon the Sabbath: then shall I set fire vpon the gates of Hierusalem, and it shall burne vpon the houses of Hierusalem, and no man shall be able to quench it.

The xvij. Chapter.

1 God sheweth by the example of a potter that it is in his power to destroy the despisers of his word, and to helpe them againe when they amend. 18 The conspiracie of the Iewes against Jeremie. 19 His prayer against his aduersaries,

This is another communication that God had with Jeremie, say- ing,

2 Arise and goe downe into the potters house, and there shall I tell thee moze of my minde.

3 Now when I came to the potters house, I found him making his worke vpon a wheele.

4 The vessel that the potter made of clay brake among his hands: So hee began a newe, and made another vessel according to his minde.

5 Then sayd the Lord thus vnto me,

6 Why not I doe with you as this potter doth, O yee house of Israel, saith the Lord: Be- hold, ye house of Israel, ye are in my hand, euen as the clay is in the potters hand.

7 * When I take in hand to roote out, to de- stroy, or to waite away any people or kingdome:

8 * If that people against whome I haue thus deuised, conuert from their wickednesse, I repent of the plague that I deuised to bring vpon them.

9 Againe, when I take in hand to build or to plant a people or a kingdome:

10 If the same people doe euil before me, and heare not my voice, I repent of the good that I haue deuised for them.

11 Speake now therefore vnto whole Iuda, and to them that dwell at Hierusalem, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, * I am deuising a plague for you, and am taking a thing in hand against you: therefore let every man turne from his euil way, and take vpon you the thing that is good and right.

12 But they sayd, No moze of this, wee wil folowe our owne imaginations, and doe every man according to the wilfulness of his owne minde.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Aske among the heathen, if any man haue heard such horri- ble things, as the maiden Israel hath done?

14 * Was a man forsake the snow of Libanus, which commeth from the rocke of the field? Or shall the cold flowing waters that come from another place be forsaken?

15 But my people hath forgotten mee, they haue made sacrifice in baينه, and their properties

The xix. Chapter.

1 He prophesieth the destruction of Hierufalem, fo: the contempt and despising of the word of God.

Hus saith the Lord, Goe thy way and buy thee an earthen pitcher, and bring forth the senatours, and chiefe priests.

2 vnto the valley of the children of Beniom, which lieth with out the East gate, & shew them there the words that I shall tell thee.

3 And say thus vnto them, Heare the word of the Lord, ye kings of Iuda, and ye citizens of Hierufalem, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel: Beholde, I will bring such a plague vpon this place, that the eares of all that heare it shall glow:

4 And that because they haue forsaken me, and brc halowd this place, and haue offered in it vnto strange gods, whom neither they, their fathers, nor the kings of Iuda haue knownen: they haue filled this place also with the blood of innocents.

5 And they haue set vp an altar vnto Baal, to burne their children fo: a burnt offering vnto Baal, which I neither commaunde, nor charged them, neither thought once there should be.

6 Behold therefore the time, saith the Lord, that this place shall no more be called Thopheth, nor the halley of the children of Beniom: but the halley of laughter.

7 For in this place will I bring to nought the counsell of Iuda and Hierufalem, and kill the downe with the fword before their enemies, and I will deliuer them into the hands of them that seeke their liues, and their dead carcases will I giue to be meate fo: the soules of the spie, and the beastes of the field.

Ierc. 18. 16.

8 And I will make the cite so desolate and despised, that whosoouer goeth thereby shall be abashed, and icst vpon her, because of all her plagues.

9 I will feede them also with the flesh of their sonnes and their daughters, yea, euery one shall eate by one another in the besieging and straitnesse where with their enemies that seeke their liues shall keepe them in.

10 And the pitcher shalt thou breake in the sight of the men that goe with thee.

11 And say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Euen so will I destroy this people and cite, as a man breaketh an earthen besell that cannot bee made whole againe: in Thopheth shall they be buried, fo: they shall haue none other place.

12 Thus will I do vnto this place also, saith the Lord, and to them that dwell therein, yea, I will make this cite as Thopheth.

13 fo: the houses of Hierufalem, & the houles of the kings of Iuda, shall be defiled like as Thopheth, and so shall all the houles in whose roofoes they did sacrifice vnto all the holse of heauen, & powdered drink offerings vnto strange gods.

14 And so Jeremie came from Thopheth, where the Lord had sent him to prophetic, and stood in the court of the house of the Lorde, and spake to all the people.

15 Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, I will bring vpon this cite, and vpon euery towne about it, all the plagues that I haue deuised against them, because they haue bene obstinate, and would not obey my warnings.

The xx. Chapter.

2 Jeremie is smitten, & cast into prison, fo: preaching of the word of God. 4 He prophesieth the captiuitie of Babylon. 7 Hee complaineth that hee is a mocking ftocke fo: the word of God. 9 He is compelled by the spirit to preach the word.

Ven Phashur the Priest, the sonne of Emmer, chiefe in the house of the Lord, heard Jeremie preach these words so stedfastly,

2 He smote Jeremie, and put him in the prison that is in the high gate of Beniamin, toward the house of the Lord.

3 The next day following, Phashur brought Jeremie out of the prison againe: Then said Jeremie vnto him, The Lord shall call thee no more Phashur, that is, excellent and encreasing, but Bagoz, that is, fearefull and afraid every way.

4 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will make thee afraid, euen thy selfe, and all that fauour thee, which shall perish with the fword of their enemies, euen before thy face, and I will giue whole Iuda into the hands of the king of Babylon, which shall carrie some vnto Babylon prisoners, and slay some with the fword.

5 Moreover, all the substance of the citie, whatsoeuer they haue gotten with their travel, all their precious things, and all the treasure of the kings of Iuda, will I giue into the handes of their enemies, which shall spoyle them, and carry them vnto Babylon.

6 But as for thee (O Phahur) thou shalt goe into captiuitie with all thy household, and to Babylon shalt thou come, where thou shalt dye, and be buried, thou and all thy fauourers, to whome thou hast preached yes.

7 O Lorde, if I am deceiued, then hast thou deceiued mee, thou enforcest me, and hast persuaded: daily am I despised, & laughed to scoorne of euery man.

8 For since I began to preach, I cryed out against violence, & exclaimed against oppression: for the which cause they call the worde of the Lorde in my teeth, to my reproch continually.

9 Wherefore I thought from henceforth not to speake of him, not to preach any more in his name, but the word of the Lorde was a very burning fire in my heart, and in my bones, which when I would haue stopped, I might not.

10 Verely I heard the euill reports of many, terror was on euery side of me: <sup>b</sup>complainte vpon him, say they, and we will tell his tale: yea, all mine owne companions, and such as were conuersant with mee, lay in wayt for my halting, saying, peraduenture he will be deceiued, and so shall we be persuaide against him, and be a vengeance of him.

11 But the Lorde stood by me like a mightie Giant, therefore my persecutors fell, and could doe nothing: they shall bee sore confounded, for they haue done vnwisely, they shall haue an euerlasting shame, which shall neuer be forgotten.

12 And now, O Lorde of hostes, that tryest the righteous, which knowest the reines and the very heartes, let me see them punished: for vnto thee I haue declared my cause.

13 Sing vnto the Lorde, and praise him, for he hath deliuered the soule of the oppressed from the hand of the violent.

14 * Cursed be the day wherein I was borne, vnhappy be the day wherein my mother brought me forth.

15 Cursed be the man that brought my father the tidings to make him glad, saying, Thou hast begotten a sonne:

16 Let it happen vnto that man, as to the cities which the Lorde turned byside downe, and repented not: let him heare crying in the morning, and at noone day lamentable howling.

17 Why slewest thou not me as soone as I came out of my mothers wombe? or that my mother had bene my graue her selfe, that the birth might not haue come out, but remained still in her?

18 Wherefore came I forth of my mothers wombe, to haue experience of labour, and sorrow, and to lead my life with thame?

The xxj. Chapter.

He prophesieth that Zedecias shall be taken, and the citie burned.

THese are the words that the Lorde spake vnto Jeremie, what time as King Zedecias sent vnto him Phahur the sonne of Melchias, and Sophonias the sonne of Masias

Priest, saying,

2 Aske counsell at the Lorde, we pray thee, on our behalfe, for Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon besiegeth vs: if the Lorde peraduenture will deale with vs according to his maruelous power, and take him from vs.

3 Then spake Jeremie, thus Zedecias this answered:

4 Thus sayth the Lorde God of Israel, Beholde, I will turne backe the weapons that ye haue in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the king of Babylon and the Chaldees, which beseege you round about the walles, and I will bring them together into the midst of this citie.

5 And I my selfe will fight against you, with an outstretched hand, and with a mightie arme, in great displeasure and terrible wrath:

6 And wil I smite them that dwell in this citie, yea, both men & cattel shall die of a great pestilence.

7 But after this, (sayth the Lorde) I shall deliuer Zedecias king of Iuda, and his seruants, his people, and such as are escaped in the citie, from the pestilence, sword, and hunger, into the power of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, yea into the handes of their enemies, into the handes of those that followe vpon their iues, which shall smite them with the sword, they shall not pittie them, they shall not spare them, they shall haue no mercie vpon them.

8 And vnto this people thou shalt say, Thus sayth the Lorde, * Behold, I lay before you the way of life and death.

9 Who so abideth in the citie, shall perishe: ether with the sword, with hunger, or pestilence: but who so goeth out to holde on the Chaldees part that besiege it, he shall saue his life, and shall winne his soule for a pray.

10 For I haue set my face against this citie (sayth the Lorde) to plague it, and to doe it no good: it must be giuen into the hand of the king of Babylon, and be burnt with fire.

11 And vnto the house of the king of Iuda say thus, Heare the word of the Lorde:

12 O thou house of David, * thus sayth the Lorde, Minister righteousnesse, and that soone, deliuer the oppressed from violent power, or euer my terrible wrath breake out like a fire, and burne, so that no man may quench it, because of the wickednesse of your imaginations.

13 Behold, saith the Lorde, I will come vpon thee that dwelled in the halleyes, rocks, and fields, and say, Cull, who will make vs afraid? or who will come into our houses?

14 For I will visite you, sayth the Lorde, because of the wickednesse of your intentions, and will kindle such a fire in your wood, as shall consume all that is about you.

The xxij. Chapter.

2 He exhortheth the king of Iuda to iudgement and righteousnesse. 9 Why Hierusalem is brought into captiuitie. 11 The death of Sellum the sonne of Iosias is prophesied.

THus sayth the Lorde, Go downe into the house of the king of Iuda, and speake there these words, a The Prophet (specially) the truth of his doctrine, against the slanderer: for it is the word of God, who cannot be deceiued, nor be driued.

2 And say, Heare the worde of the Lorde, thou king of Iuda, that sittest in the chaire of David, thou, and thy seruants, and thy people, that goeth in and out at these gates.

b The Prophet and such as were in authority with the king, stirred up the people to watch vnwisely Jeremies sayings, if they could haue him to halt in any thing to beere: for they might accuse him to the king.

6.23.12.

3 Thus the Lord commandeth, * Keepe quietie and righteouſneſſe, deiſuer the oppreſſed from the power of the violent; do not grieue nor oppreſſe the ſtranger, the fatherleſſe, nor the widow, and ſhed no innocent blood in this place.

4 And if yee keepe theſe things faithfully, then ſhal there come in at the doore of this houſe, things to ſit vpon Dauid ſeate, they ſhalbe carried in charets, and ride vpon horſes, both they, and their ſeruants, and their people.

5 But if ye will not be obedient vnto theſe commandements, I ſweare by mine owne ſelſe, ſaith the Lord, this houſe ſhalbe waſte.

6 For thus hath the Lord ſpoken vpon the kings of Iuda, Thou Bilead art vnto mee the head of Libanus: ſhall I not make thee ſo waſte as the cities that no men dwell in?

7 I will prepare a deſtroyer with his weapons for thee, to hew downe thy eſpeciall Cedar trees, and to caſt them in the ſire.

8 And all the people that go by this city, ſhal ſpeake one to another, * wherefore hath the Lord done thus vnto this noble citie?

9 Then ſhall it be answered, Becauſe they haue broken the couenant of the Lorde their God, and haue worſhipped and ſerued ſtrange gods.

10 Mourne not ouer the dead, and be not too ſorry for him that departeth away, for he commeth not againe, and ſeeth his native countrey no more.

11 For thus ſaith the Lord as touching Seltun the ſonne of Joſias king of Iuda, which reigned after his father, when he is carried out of this place, he ſhall neuer come hither againe.

12 For he ſhall die in the place whereunto he is led captiue, and ſhall ſee this land no more.

13 Woe worth him that buildeth his houſe with vnrighteouſneſſe, and his parlours with the good that he hath gotten by violence, which neuer recompeneſeth his neighbours laboꝝ, nor payeth him his hire:

14 Who thinketh in himſelſe, I will build me a wide houſe and gorgeous parlours, who cauſeth windowes to be hewed therein, and the feelings & ioyntes maketh he of Cedar, and paineth them with Sinoper.

15 Thinketh thou to reigne now, that thou haſt incloſed thy ſelſe with Cedar? Did not thy father eate and drinke and proſper well, as long as he dealt with equitie and righteouſneſſe:

16 Yea: when hee helped the oppreſſed and poore to their right, then proſpered he wel: from whence came this, but onely becauſe he knewe me, ſaith the Lord?

17 Neuertheleſſe, as for thine eyes and thine heart they looke vpon couetouſneſſe, to ſhed innocent blood, to doe wrong and violence.

18 And therefore thus ſaith the Lord againſt Jehoacin the ſon of Joſias king of Iuda, They ſhall not mourne for him as they uſe to doe, Alas brother, alas ſiſter: neither ſhall they ſay vnto him, Alas ſy, alas for that noble prince.

19 But as an Aſſe ſhal he be buried, corrupt, and be caſt without the gates of Hieruſalem.

20 Come by the hill of Libanus, O thou daughter Sion, liſt by thy voyce vpon Baſan, cry from all parts: for all thy towers are deſtroyed.

21 I gaue thee warning while thou waſt yet in proſperitie: but thou ſaydſt, I ſhal not heare: And this maner haſt thou vſed from thy youth, that thou wouldeſt neuer heare my voyce.

22 All thy heardmen ſhall be driuen with thy winde, and thy darlings ſhalbe carried away into captiuitie: then ſhalt thou be brought to ſhame and confuſion, becauſe of all thy wickedneſſe.

23 Thou that dwelleſt vpon Libanus, and makeſt thy neſt in the Cedar trees, O how little ſhalt thou be regarded when thy ſorrow & pange come vpon thee, as vpon a woman trauailling with child?

24 As truly as I liue, ſaith the Lord, Though I Cononias the ſonne of Jehoacin king of Iuda were the ſignet of my right hand, yet will I plucke him off.

25 And I will giue thee into the hand of them that ſeek thy life, and into the power of them that thou feareſt, cuen into the power of Nabuchodonoz the king of Babylon, and into the power of the Chaldees.

26 Mozeour. I will ſend thee and thy mother that bare thee into a ſtrange land where ye were not borne, and there ſhall ye die.

27 But as for the land that yee will deſire to returne vnto, ye ſhall neuer come at it againe.

28 This man Cononias ſhalbe like an image robbed, and torne in peeces, and like a beſſell wherein there is no pleaſure: wherefore both he and his ſeede ſhalbe ſent away, and caſt into a land that they know not.

29 O thou earth, earth, earth, heare the word of the Lord.

30 Thus ſaith the Lord, Write this man deſtitude of children: for no proſperitie ſhall this man haue all his dayes, neither ſhall any of his ſeed be ſo happy as to ſit vpon the ſeat of Dauid, and to beare rule any more in Iuda.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

Ve vnto the Shepherds that deſtroy and ſcatter my flock, ſaith the Lord.

2 Wherefore this is the ſaying of the Lord God of Iſrael concerning the Shepherds that ſeede my people, Ye ſcatter and thruſt out my ſlocke, and looke not vpon them: therefore now will I viſite the wickedneſſe of your imaginacions, ſaith the Lord.

3 * And I will gather together the remnant of my ſlocke from all landes that I had driuen them vnto, and will bring them againe to their foldes, that they may grow and increaſe.

4 I will ſet Shepherds alſo ouer them, which ſhall ſeede them: they ſhall no more feare and dread, and there ſhall none of them be loſt, ſaith the Lord.

5 * Behold, the time cometh ſaith the Lord, that I will raiſe vp the righteous branch of Dauid, which ſhall beare rule, and he ſhall proſper with wiſedome, and ſhall ſet vp equitie and righteouſneſſe againe in the earth.

6 * In his time ſhall Iuda be ſaued, and Iſrael ſhall dwell without feare: and this is the name that they ſhall call him, The Lord our righteouſneſſe.

7 And therefore behold, the time cometh, ſaith the Lorde, that it ſhall be no more ſaid, The Lorde ſueth which brought the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt: 8 But, * The Lord liveth, which brought forth and led the seede of the house of Israel out of the Egypt land, and from all countries where I had scattered them: and they shall dwell in their owne land againe.

9 My heart breaketh in my body because of the false prophets, all my bones shake, I am become like a drunken man, that by the reason of wine can take no rest, for very feare of the Lord, and his holy words.

10 Because the land is full of adulterers, and through swearing it mourneth, and the pleasant pastures of the desert are dried by: yea the way that men take is wicked, their power is nothing right.

11 For the prophets & the priests themselves are polluted hypocrites, and their wickednesse have I found in my house, saith the Lord.

12 Wherefore their way shall be slippery in the darknesse wherein they may stagger and fall: for I will bring a plague upon them, even the yeere of their visitation, saith the Lord.

13 I have seene folly among the prophets of Samaria that preached for Baal, and deceived my people of Israel.

14 I have seene also among the prophets of Hierusalem soule adulterie, and presumptuous lies: they take the most shamefull men by the hand, flattering them, so that they cannot returne from their wickednes, all these with their citizens are vnto me as Sodome, and as the inhabitants of Gomorrh.

Iere. 9. 25.

15 * Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes concerning these prophets, Behold, I will feede them with woorme wood, and make them drinke the water of gall: for from the prophets of Hierusalem is hypocrisie come into all the land.

16 And therefore the Lord of hostes giueth you this warning, Heare not the wordes of the prophets that preach vnto you, and deceiue you, truly they teach you vanitie: for they speake the meaning of their owne heart, and not out of the mouth of the Lord.

17 They say vnto them that despise me, The Lord hath spoken it, Cuse, ye shall prosper right well: and vnto all them that walke after the lust of their owne heart, they say, Cuse, there shall no misfortune happen you.

18 For who hath listen in the counsell of the Lord, that he hath heard and vnderstand what he is about to doe? who hath marked his deuise, and heard it?

19 Behold, the stormie weather of the Lord, that is, his indignation shall goe forth, and a violent whirlewinde shall fall downe vpon the head of the vngodly.

20 And the wrath of the Lord shall not turne againe, vntill he performe and fulfill the thought of his heart: and in the latter daies ye shall know this meaning.

Iere. 14. 13. and 27. 21.

21 * I have not sent these prophets saith the Lord, and yet they ran, I have not spoken to them, and yet they preached.

22 But if they had continued in my counsell, they had opened to my people my wordes, and they had turned my people fro their euill wayes and wicked imaginatons.

23 Am I then God that seeth but the thing which is nigh at hand, and not that is farre off, saith the Lord?

24 May any man hide himselfe so, that I shall not see him, saith the Lord: doe not I fulfill heauen and earth, saith the Lord?

25 I have heard well ynough what the prophets say that preach lies in my name, saying, I haue dreamed, I haue dreamed.

26 How long will this continue in the prophets heart to tel lies, and preach the craftie subtiltie of their owne heart?

27 Whose purpose is with the dreams that euery one tel, to make my people forget my name, as their fathers did when Baal came by.

28 The prophet that hath a dreame, let him tell it, and he that vnderstandeth my word, let him tel it faithfully: for what hath chaffe and wheate to doe together, saith the Lord?

29 Is not my word like fire, saith the Lord, and like a hammer that breaketh the hard stone?

30 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will vpon my prophets that steale my word priuily from euery man.

31 Beholde, here am I, saith the Lord, against the prophets that make tongues tender to speake, and to say, The Lord hath sayde it.

32 Behold here am I, saith the Lord, against those prophets that dare prophesy lying dreams, and deceiue my people with their vanity and inconsistent deuises, yet I neuer sent nor commanded them: they shall doe this people no good at all, saith the Lord.

33 If this people, either any prophet or priest aske thee, and say, what is the burden of the Lord? Thou shalt say vnto them, what burden? I will forsake you, saith the Lord.

34 And the prophet, priest, or people, that useth this terme, The burden of the Lord: han will I visite, and his house also.

35 But thus shall ye say euery one to another, and euery man to his brother, what answer hath the Lord giuen? or what is the Lords commandment?

36 And as for the burden of the Lord, yet shall speake no more of it, for euery mans owne word is his burden: because ye haue altered the wordes of the liuing God, the Lord of hostes our God.

37 Thus shall euery man say to the prophets, what answer hath the Lord giuen thee? or what saith the Lord?

38 And not once to name the burden of the Lord. Therefore thus saith the Lord, for as much as ye haue vsed this terme, (The burden of the Lord) whereas I notwithstanding sent vnto you, and forbade you to speake of the Lords burden:

39 Behold, therefore I will take you by as a burden, and will cast you farre off from my presence, yea, and the cite also that I gaue you and your fathers:

40 * And will bring you to an euerlasting confusion, and into a shame that shall neuer be forgotten.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

1 The vision of the two paniers of figges. 5 The first vision signifieth, that part of the people should be brought againe from captiuitie: 8 the second, that Zedecias and the rest of the people should be destroyed.

The Lord shewed me a vision: Behold, there stood two maunds of figs before the temple of the Lord, after that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon had led away captive Jehochonias the sonne of Jehoaicim king of Juda, the mighty men also of Juda, with the workemasters and cunning men of Hierusalem, vnto Babylon.

2 In the one maund were very good figges, euen like those that be first ripe: in the other maund were very naughty figges, which might not be eaten, they were so euill.

3 Then said the Lord vnto me, what seest thou, Jeremie: I said, figges, whereof some be very good, and some so euill that no man may eate them.

4 Then came the word of the Lord vnto me, after this maner:

5 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Like as thou knowest good figs: so shall I know the men led away, who I haue sent out of this place, into the land of the Chaldees for their profit:

6 And I will set mine eyes vpon them for the best, for I will bring them againe into this land, I will build them vp, & not breake them downe, I will plant them, and not roote them out.

7 I will giue them an heart to know how that I am the Lord, they shall be my people, and I will be their God: for they shall returne vnto me with their whole heart.

8 And like as thou knowest the naughty figges which may not be eaten, they are so euill: euen so will I, sayth the Lord, cause Zedecias the king of Juda, yea, and all his princes, and the residue of Hierusalem that remaine ouer in this land, and them also that dwell in Egypt, to be beread and plagued in kingdomes and lands.

9 And I will make them to be a reproofe, & common by worde, a laughing stocke and shame in all the places where I shall scatter them.

10 I will send the sword, hunger, and pestilence among them, vntill I haue cleane consumed them out of the lande that I gaue vnto them and their fathers.

The xxv. Chapter.

Jeremie propheseth that they shall be in captiuitie threecore and ten yeres, because they contemned and despised the word of God.

Sermon that was giuen vnto Jeremie vpon all the people of Juda, in the fourth yere of Jehoaicim the sonne of Josias king of Juda (that was in the first yere of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon.)

2 Which sermon Jeremie the prophet made vnto all the people of Juda, and to all the inhabitants of Hierusalem, on this maner,

3 From the thirteenth yere of Josias the sonne of Amon king of Juda, vnto this present day (that is euen twentie and threec yeres) the word of the Lord hath bene committed vnto me, and so haue I spoken vnto you, I haue risen by early, I haue giuen you warning in season: but ye would not heare me.

4 Though the Lord hath sent his seruants all the prophets vnto you in season: yet would ye not obey, ye would not encline your eares to heare.

5 Hee sayde, * Turne againe every man from his euill way, and from your wicked imaginations, and so shall yee dwell for euer in the land that the Lord promised you and your forefathers.

6 And go not after strange gods, serue them not, worship them not, and anger me not with the workes of your owne handes, then will I not punish you.

7 Accurthelesse, yee would not heare me: saith the Lord, but haue prouoked mee to anger with the workes of your hands, to your great harme.

8 Wherefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, Because ye haue not hearkened vnto my word, 9 Lo, I will send out, and call for all the people that dwell in the North, saith the Lord, and will prepare Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon my seruant, and wil bring them vpon this land, and vpon all that dwell therein, and vpon all the people that are about them, and wil bitterly roote them out: I will make them amazed, a mockage, and a continuall desart.

10 Moreover, I will take from them the voice of gladnesse & solace, the voice of the bridegrome, and the bride, the noyse of the millstones, and the light of the cressets.

11 And this whole land shall become a wilderness, and astonished: and these nations shall serue the king of Babylon threecore yeres and tenne.

12 When the threecore and ten yeres are expired, I will visite all the wickednesse of the king of Babylon, and his people, saith the Lord, yea, and the land of the Chaldees, and wil make it a perpetuall wilderness, 13 And will fulfill all my words vpon that land which I haue deuised against it: yea, all that is witten in this booke, which Jeremie hath propheticd of all people.

14 So that they also shall be subdued vnto diuers nations and great kings: for I will recompence them according to the deedes and workes of their owne handes.

15 For thus hath the Lord God of Israel spoken vnto me, * Take this wine cup of indignation fro my hand, that thou mayest cause all people to whom I send thee, for to drinke of it:

16 That when they haue drunken thereof, they may be mad, and out of their wits, when the sword commeth that I will sende among them.

17 Then tooke I the cup from the Lordes hand, and made all people to drinke thereof, vnto whom the Lord had sent me:

18 But first the cite of Hierusalem, and all the cities of Juda, their kings and princes, to make them desolate, amazed, despised and hissed at, and cursed, according as it is come to passe this day:

19 Yea, and Pharao the king of Egypt, his seruants, his princes, and his people, all together one with another:

20 And all kings of the land of Hys, all kings of the Philistines land, Alalon, Azah, Accaron, and the remnant of Alood,

21 The Edomites, the Moabites, & the Ammonites,

22 All the kings of Tyrus and Sidon, the kings of the yles that are beyond the sea,

23 Dedan, Thema, Buz, and all them that

28 But if they will not receiue the cup of thy hand, and drinke it, then tell them, thus doth the Lord of hostes threaten you, Drinke it you shall and that shortly.

29 For so, I begin to plague the city that my name is giuen vnto, thinke ye then that I will leaue you unpunished? ye shall not goe quite: for why? I call for a sword vpon all the inhabitants of the earth, saith the Lord of hostes.

30 Therefore tell them all these wordes, and say vnto them, * The Lord shall cry from aboue, and his voyce shall be heard from his holy habitation, with a great noise shall he cry from his court regall: he shall giue a great voice like the grape gatherers, and the sound thereof shall be heard vnto the endes of the world.

31 For the Lord hath a iudgement to giue vpon all people, and will hold his court of iustice with all flesh, and will deliuer the vngodly to the sword, saith the Lord.

32 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, Behold, a miserable plague shall goe from one people to another, and a great storme water shall arise from all the ends of the earth.

33 And the same day shall the Lord himselfe slay them from one end of the earth to another: there shall no moane be made for any of them, none gathered vp, none buried: but shall lie as doung vpon the ground.

34 Hourne, O ye shepherds, and cry, sp: v: hke your selues with almes, O ye rammes of the flocke: for the time of your slaughter and breach is fulfilled, and ye shall fall like vessels that were much set by.

35 The shepherds shall haue no way to flee, and the rammes of the flocke shall not escape.

36 Then shall the shepherds cry horribly, and the rammes of the flocke shall mourne: for the Lord hath consumed their pasture.

37 And their best fields lie dead, because of the horrible wrath of the Lord.

38 They haue forsaken their foldes like as a Lion: for their land is waste, because of the spoilers furious crueltie, and of his fearefull indignation.

The xxvj. Chapter.

2 Jeremie moueth the people to amendment. 7 He is taken of the prophets and priests, and brought to iudgement. 23 Vrias the prophet is killed of lehoacim, contrary to the will of God.

In the beginning of the reigne of Jehoacim the sonne of Iosias king of Iuda, came this word from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, Stand in the court of the Lords house, and speake vnto all them which (out of the cities of Iuda) come to doe worship in the Lords house, all the wordes that I command thee to say: looke that thou keepe not one word backe.

3 (If peradventure they will hearken and turne every man from his wicked way, that I may also repent of the plague which I haue determined to bring vpon them, because of their wicked inuentions.)

4 And after this manner shalt thou speake vnto them, Thus saith the Lord, If ye will not obey me, to walke in my lawes which I haue giuen you,

5 And to heare the wordes of my seruants the prophets, whom I sent vnto you, rising early, and still sending, yet you haue not hearkened:

6 Then will I doe to this house * as I did vnto Silo, and will make this citie to be abhorred of all the people of the earth,

7 And the priests, the prophets, and all the people heard Jeremie preach these wordes in the house of the Lord.

8 Now when he had spoken out all the wordes that the Lord commanded him to preach vnto the people, then the priests, the prophets, and all the people tooke hold vpon him, and said, Thou shalt die:

9 How darest thou be so bold as to say in the Name of the Lord, It shall happen to this house, as it did vnto Silo, and this city shall be so waste, that no man may dwell therein?

10 And when all the people were gathered about Jeremie in the house of the Lord, the princes of Iuda heard of this rumour, and they came soone out of the kings palace into the house of the Lord, and sate them downe before the newe doore of the Lord.

11 Then spake the priests and the prophets vnto the rulers, & to all the people these wordes, This man is worthy to die: for he hath preached against this citie, as yee your selues haue heard with your eares.

12 Then saide Jeremie vnto the rulers, and to all the people, The Lord hath sent me to preach against this house, and against this citie, all the wordes that ye haue heard.

13 * Therefore amend your wayes and your aduiselements, and be obedient vnto the voice of the Lord your God, so shall the Lord repent of the plague that he hath deuised against you.

14 Now as for me, I am in your hands, doe with me as you thinke expedient and good:

15 But this shall ye know, if ye put mee to death, ye shall make your selues, this citie, and all the inhabitants thereof, guilty of innocent blood: for this is of a truth, that the Lord hath sent me vnto you, to speake all these wordes in your eares.

16 Then said the rulers and the people vnto the priests and prophets, This man may not be condemned to death, for he hath preached vnto vs in the name of the Lord our God.

17 The elders also of the land stood vp, and said thus vnto all the people.

18 Michas the Morastite, which was a prophet vnder Ezechias king of Iuda, spake to all the people of Iuda, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, * Zion shall be plowed like a field, Hierusalem shall be an heape of stones, and the hill of the Lords house shalbe turned to an high wood.

 19 Wid Zedecias the king of Iuda, and all the people of Iuda put him to death for this? No verily, but rather feared the Lord, and made their prayer vnto him, for the which cause also the Lord repented of the plague that he had deuised against them: should wee then doe such a shamefull deede against our soules?

20 There was a Prophet that preached stiffly in the name of the Lord, called arias, the son of Semaiyah of Ciriath-iarim: this man also preached against this city, and against this land, according to all as Jeremie saith.

21 Now when Jehoacim the king, with all the estates and princes, had heard his wordes, the king went about to slay him: when arias perceiued that, he was afraid, and fled, and departed into Egypt:

22 When Jehoacim the king sent seruants into the land of Egypt, namely, Elnathan the sonne of Achboz, and certaine men with him into Egypt:

23 Which fetched arias out of Egypt, and brought him vnto king Jehoacim, that shew him with the sword, and cast his dead body into the common peoples graue.

24 But Ahicam the sonne of Saphan helped Jeremie, that he came not into the hands of the people to be slaine.

The xxvij. Chapter.

1 Jeremie at the commandement of the Lord, sendeth bondes to the King of Iuda, and to the other kings that were nigh, whereby they are monished to become subiects vnto Nabuchodonosor. 9 He warneth the people, and the kings and rulers, that they belecue not false prophets.

In the beginning of the reigne of Jehoacim the sonne of Iosias king of Iuda, came this word vnto Jeremie from the Lord, which spake thus vnto me,

2 Make thee bondes and chaines, and put them about thy necke,

3 And send them to the king of Edom, to the king of Moab, to the king of Ammon, to the king of Cyprus, and to the king of Sidon, and that by the messengers which shall come to Hierusalem, vnto Zedecias the king of Iuda:

4 And bid them say vnto their masters, Thus saith the Lord of hostes God of Israel, Speake thus vnto your masters:

5 I am he that made the earth, the men, and the cattell that are vpon the ground, with my great power and stretched out arme, and hath giuen it to whom it pleased me.

6 And now wil I deliuer all these lands into the power of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon my seruant: the beasts also of the field wil I giue him, to doe him seruite.

7 And all the people shall serue him, and his sonne, and his childrens children, vntill the time of the same land be come, and his time also: yea many people and great kings shall serue him.

8 Moreouer, that people and kingdome which wil not serue Nabuchodonosor, and that wil not put their neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babylon: the same people wil I visite with the sword, with hunger and pestilence, vntill I haue consumed them in his hands, sayeth the Lord.

9 And therefore follow not your prophets, soothsayers, expounders of dreames, charmers, and witches, which say vnto you, Ye shall not serue the king of Babylon.

10 For they preach you lies, to bring you farre from your land, and that I might cease you out, and destroy you.

11 But the people that put their neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serue him, those wil I let remaine still in their owne land, saith the Lord, and they shal occupy it, and dwell therein.

12 All these things tolde I Zedecias the king of Iuda, and saide, Put your neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serue him and his people, that ye may liue.

13 Why wilt thou and thy people perish with the sword, with hunger, with pestilence, like as the Lord hath deuised for all people that wil not serue the king of Babylon?

14 Therfore giue no eare vnto those prophets that tell you, Ye shal not serue the king of Babylon: for they preach you lies.

15 Neither haue I sent them, sayeth the Lord: howbeit they are holde falsely to propheticie in my name, that I might the sooner driue you out, and that yee might perish with your preachers.

16 I spake to the Priests also, and to all this people: thus saith the Lord, Heare not the wordes of your prophets that preach vnto you, and say, Behold, the vessels of the Lords house shal secretly be brought hither againe from Babylon, for they propheticie lies vnto you.

17 Hear them not, but serue the king of Babylon, that ye may liue: wherefore wil ye make this cite to be destroyed?

18 But if they be true Prophets in very deed, and if the word of the Lord be committed vnto them, then let them pray the Lord of hostes, that the remnant of the ornaments which are in the house of the Lord, and in the house of the king of Iuda and at Hierusalem, be not caried to Babylon also.

19 For thus hath the Lord of hostes spoken concerning the pillars, the iauer, the seate, and the residue of the ornaments that yet remaine in this cite.

20 Which Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon tooke not, when he caried away Iechonias the sonne of Jehoacim king of Iuda, with all the power of Iuda and Hierusalem vnto Babylon captiue.

21 Yea, thus hath the Lord of hostes the God of Israel spoken, as touching the residue of the ornaments of the Lords house, of the king of Iuda his house, and of Hierusalem:

22 They shalbe caried vnto Babylon, and there shall they remaine vntill I visite them, sayeth the Lord: then wil I bring them hither againe.

The xxviij. Chapter.

1 The false propheticie of Hananias the prophet. 12 Jeremie sheweth that the propheticie of Hananias is false, by the example of the other Prophets.

And it came to passe the same yere, euen in the beginning of the reigne of Zedecias king of Iuda, in the fourth yere, the sixth moneth, that Hananias the sonne of Aisur, the the beginning of the reigne of Jehoacim the sonne of Iosias king of Iuda, came this word vnto Jeremie from the Lord, which spake thus vnto me,

1. King. 3. 4.

Prophet of Gibeon, spake to me in the house of the Lord, in the presence of the priests, and of all the people, and said.

2 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, I have broken the yoke of the king of Babylon.

3 And after two yeeres will I bring againe into the place all the ornaments of the Lordes house, that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon caried away from this place vnto Babylon.

4 Yea, I will bring againe Iechonias the son of Jehoaquin the king of Iuda himselfe, with all the prisoners of Iuda that are caried vnto Babylon, euen into this place, saith the Lord: for I will breake the yoke of the king of Babylon.

5 Then the Prophet Jeremie gaue answer vnto the Prophet Hananias before all the priests, and before all the people that were present in the house of the Lord.

6 And the Prophet Jeremie said, Amen, the Lord doe that, and grant the thing which thou hast prophesied, that he may bring againe all the ornaments of the Lordes house, & restore all the prisoners from Babylon into this place.

7 Neuerthelesse, hearken thou also what I will say, that thou and all the people may heare.

8 The Prophets that were before vs in time past, which prophesied of warre, or trouble, or pestilence, 9 Either of peace vpon many nations and great kingdomes, were prouoed by this (if God hath sent them in very deede) when the thing came to passe which the Prophet tolde before.

10 And Hananias the Prophet tooke the chaine from the Prophet Jeremies necke, and brake it.

11 And with that said Hananias that all the people might heare, Thus hath the Lord spokē, euen so will I breake the yoke of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon from the necke of all nations, yea, and that within this two yere. And so the Prophet Jeremie went his way.

12 Now after that Hananias the prophet had taken the chaine from the Prophet Jeremies necke, and broken it, the word of the Lord came vnto the Prophet Jeremie, saying, 13 Go and tell Hananias these words, Thus saith the Lord, thou hast broken the chaine of wood, but in steade of wood thou shalt make chaines of yron.

14 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, I will put a yoke of yron vpon the necke of all this people, that they may serue Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, yea, and so shall they doe: and I will giue him the beasts of the field.

15 Then said the Prophet Jeremie vnto the Prophet Hananias, Heare me, Hananias, The Lord hath not sent thee, but thou bringest this people into a false beliefe.

16 And therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will send thee out of the land, and within a yere thou shalt die, because thou hast falsly spoken against the Lord.

17 So Hananias died the same yere in the seuenth moneth.

The xxix. Chapter.

1 The Epistle of Ieremie sent vnto them that were in captiuitie in Babylon. 10 He prophesied their returne from the captiuitie after leuentie yeeres.

These are the wordes of the booke that Jeremie the Prophet sent from Hierusalem vnto the prisoners, the senators, priests, prophets, and all the people, whom Nabuchodonosor had led from Hierusalem vnto Babylon.

2 After the time that king Iechonias and his queene, his chamberlaines, the princes of Iuda and Hierusalem, the workmasters of Hierusalem, were departed thither.

3 Which booke Elasah the sonne of Saphan, & Gamariah the son of Helcia did beare, whom Zedecias the king of Iuda sent vnto Babylon to Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon: these were the wordes of Jeremies booke.

4 Thus hath the Lord of hostes the God of Israel spoken vnto all the prisoners that were led from Hierusalem to Babylon:

5 Build you houses to dwell therein, plant you gardens, that you may enjoy the fruites thereof.

6 Take you wiues to beare you sonnes and daughters, prouide wiues for your sonnes, and husbands for your daughters, that they may get sonnes and daughters, and that ye may multiply there, and decrease not.

7 Seeke after the peace and prosperitie of the citie wherein ye be prisoners, and pray vnto the Lord for it: for in the peace thereof shal your peace be.

8 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Let not these prophets and soothsayers that be among you deceiue you, and beleue not your owne dreames:

9 For why: they preach you lies in my name, and I haue not sent them, saith the Lord.

10 But thus saith the Lord, When ye haue fulfilled leuentie yeeres at Babylon, I will bring you home, and of mine owne goodnesse I will carie you hither againe into this place.

11 For I know what I haue deuised for you, saith the Lord: my thoughts are to giue you peace, and not trouble, and to giue you an ende as you wish and hope to haue.

12 Ye shall cry vnto me, ye shall goe and call vpon me, and I will heare you.

13 Ye shall seeke me, and find me: yea, if so be that you seeke me with your whole heart,

14 I will be found of you, saith the Lord, and will deliuer you out of prison, and gather you together againe out of all places wherein I haue scattered you, saith the Lord, and will bring you againe to the same place from whence I caused you to be caried away captiue.

15 But whereas ye say that God hath raised you vp by prophets at Babylon, 16 Thus hath the Lord spoken to the king that sitteth in the throne of Dauid, and to all the people that dwell in the citie, and to your brethren that are not gone with you into captiuitie:

17 Thus I say speaketh the Lord of hostes, Behold, I will send a sword, hunger, and pestilence vpon them, and will make them like vntimely figges that may not be eaten for bitterness:

18 And I will persecute them with the sword, with hunger, and pestilence, I will deliuer them vp to be herod of all kingdomes, to be cursed, abhorred, laughed to scorn, and put to confusion of all the people among whom I haue scattered them:

19 And that because they haue not bene obedient vnto my commandements, saith the Lord, which I sent vnto them by my seruants the Prophets: I stood by early, and sent vnto them, but they would not heare, saith the Lord.

20 Heare therefore the word of the Lord, all ye prisoners, whom I sent from Hierusalem to Babylon, 21 Thus hath the Lord of hostes the God of Israel spoken of Ahab the sonne of Cholaiah, & of Zedecias the sonne of Maasiah, which prophesie lies vnto you in my name, Behold I will deliuer them into the hand of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, that he may slay them before your eyes.

22 And all the prisoners of Iuda that are in Babylon, shall take this terme of curling, and say, Now God do vnto thee as he did vnto Zedecias and Ahab, whom the king of Babylon roasted in the fire, 23 Because they sinned shamefully in Israel: for they haue not onely defiled their neighbours wiues, but also preached lying wordes in my name, which I haue not commanded them: this I tellie and assure, saith the Lord.

24 But as for Semeiah the Nehelamite, thou shalt speake vnto him:

25 Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Because thou hast sent letters in thine owne name vnto all the people that is at Hierusalem, and to Sophoniah the sonne of Maasiah the priest, yea and sent them to al the priests, saying,

26 The Lord hath ordeined thee to be Priest in the steade of Iehoiada the Priest, that thou shouldst be chiefe in the house of the Lord aboue al prophets and preachers, & that thou mightest set them vpon the pilorie, or in the stocks.

27 How happeneth it then that thou hast not reppoued Ieremie of Anathoth, which neuer leaueh off his prophecing?

28 And beside all this, he hath sent vs word vnto Babylon, and tolde vs plainely that our captiuitie shall long endure, that wee should builde vs houses to dwell therein, and to plant vs gardens, that wee may enioy the fruites thereof.

29 Which letter Sophonias the priest read, and let Ieremie the Prophet heare it.

30 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremie, saying,

31 Send worde to all them that bee in captiuitie, on this maner, Thus hath the Lord spoken concerning Semeiah the Nehelamite: Because that Semeiah hath prophesied vnto you without my commission, and brought you into a false hope:

32 Therefore thus the Lord doeth certifie you, Behold, I will visite Semeiah the Nehelamite and his seede, so that none of his shall remaine among this people, and none of them shall see the good that I will doe for my people, saith the Lord, for he hath preached falsely of the Lord.

The xxx. Chapter.

1 The returne of the people from Babylon. 8 God by his chastening sheweth that the people is sinfull. 16 The destruction of the enemies of Israel.

These are the wordes that the Lord sheweth vnto Ieremie, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, write by diligently all the wordes that I haue spoken vnto thee, in a booke.

3 For so, the time commeth, saith the Lord, that I wil bring againe the prisoners of my people of Israel and Iuda, saith the Lord: for I wil restore them vnto the land that I gaue to their fathers, and they shall haue it in possession.

4 Againe, these wordes spake the Lord concerning Israel and Iuda,

5 Thus saith the Lord, wee haue heard a terrible cry, feare, and disquietnesse,

6 For what else doth this signifie that I see: namely, that all strong men smite euery man his hand vpon his loynes, as a woman in the paine of her trauaile: who euer saw a man trauaile with child? Enquire thereafter and see, yea, all their faces are marueilous pale.

7 Alas for this day, which is so dreadfull that none may be likened vnto it, and alas for the time of Jacobs trouble, from the which he shall yet be deliuered.

8 For in that day, saith the Lord of hostes, I will take his yoke from off thy necke, and breake thy bonds, and strangers shall no moze haue dominion ouer him:

9 But they shall doe seruice vnto God their Lord, and to Dauid their king, whom I will raise vp vnto them.

10 And as for thee, O my seruant Jacob, feare not, saith the Lord, and be not afraid, O Israel: for loe, I will helpe thee also from farre, and thy seede from the land of their captiuitie: and Jacob shall turne againe, he shall be in rest, and haue a prosperous life, and no man shall make him afraid:

11 For I am with thee, to help thee, saith the Lord: and though I shall destroy all the people, among whom I haue scattered thee, yet will I not destroy thee, but correct thee, and that with discretion: for I will not utterly destroy thee.

12 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Thy buyings are perillous, and thy wounds readie to call thee into sickness.

13 There is no man to meddle with thy cause, or to lay a plaister vpon thee, or to binde by thy wounds to heale thee

14 All thy louers haue forgotten thee, and care nothing for thee: for I haue giuen thee a cruell stroke, and chastened thee roughly, and that for the multitude of thy misdeedes: for thy sinnes haue had the ouerhand.

15 Why makest thou moane for thy harme? In deede thou art sore wounded & in leopordie: but for the multitude of thy misdeedes and sins I haue done this vnto thee.

16 And therefore all they that deuoure thee, shall be deuoured, and al thine enemies shall be led into captiuitie: all they that make thee waste, shall be wasted themselves, and all those that rob thee, will I make also to be robbed.

17 For I will giue thee thy health againe, and make thy wounds whole, saith the Lord, because they reuiled thee, as one cast away and despised: Sion said they is she, whom no man regardeth.

18 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil bring againe the captiuitie of Jacobs tents.

and defend his dwelling place: the citie shall be builded in her old estate, & the houses shall haue their right foundation.

19 And out of them shall goe thankesgiuing and the voyce of ioy: I wil multiply them, and they shall not be fewe, I will endue them with honour, and no man shall subdue them.

20 Their children shall be as aforetime, and their congregation shall continue in my sight: and all those that bere them will I visite.

21 A captaine also shall come of them, and a prince shall spring out from the midst of them, him will I challenge to my selfe, and he shall come vnto me: for what is hee that giueth ouer his heart to come vnto me, saith the Lord?

22 Yee shall be my people also, and I will be your God.

23 Behold, on the other side shall the wrath of the Lord breake out as a stormy water, as a mighty whirlewinde, and shall fall vpon the heads of the vngodly.

24 The terrible displeasure of the Lord shall not leaue off, vntill he haue done and performed the intent of his heart, which in the latter daies ye shall vnderstand.

The xxxj. Chapter.

1 He prophesieth that the people of Israel shall be restored againe vnto their prosperity. 18 To be turned from sinne, is the gift of God. 27 The birth of Christ is prophesied.

At the same time, saith the Lord, shall I be the God of all the generations of Israel, and they shall be my people:

2 Thus saith the Lord, The people of Israel which escaped in the wilderness from the sword, found grace to come into their rest.

3 Euen so shall the Lord now also appeare vnto me from farre, and say, I loue thee with an euerlasting loue, therefore by my mercie I haue drawen thee vnto me.

4 I will repaire thee againe, O thou daughter of Israel, that thou mayest be fast and sure: thou shalt take thy tabernacles againe, and goe forth with them that lead the dance:

5 Thou shalt plant vines againe vpon the hills of Samaria, and the grape gatherers shall plant, and commonly eate of it.

6 For the dayes shall come when the watchmen vpon the mount of Ephraim shall cry, Arise, let vs goe by vnto Sion to our Lord God.

7 For thus saith the Lord, Reioice with gladnesse because of Jacob, cry vnto the head of the Gentiles, speake out, sing and say, O Lord saue thy people the remnant of Israel.

8 Beholde, I will bring them againe from out of the North land, and gather them from the ends of the world, with the blinde and lame that are among them, with the women that be great with child, and such as be also deliuered: and the company of them that come againe shall be great.

9 They shall come weeping, and with mercifull pittie will I bring them hither againe: I will leade the to the riuers of water in a straight way where they shall not stumble: for I am Israels father, and Ephraim is my first borne.

10 Heare the word of the Lord, O ye Gentiles, preach in the Isles that lie farre off, and say, Ye that hath scattered Israel shall gather him together againe, and shall keepe him as a shepheard doth his flocke.

11 For the Lord hath redeemed Jacob, and rid him from the hand of the violent.

12 And they shall come and reioyce vpon the hill of Sion, & shall haue plenteousnesse of goods, which the Lord shall giue them, namely wheate, wine, oyle, young sheepe, and calves: and their soule shall be as a well watered garden, for they shall no more be hungry.

13 Then shall the maide reioyce in the dance, yea both young and old folkes: for I will turne their sorow into gladnes, and wil comfort them from their sorowes, and make them ioyfull.

14 I will powre plenteousnesse vpon the hearts of the priests, and my people shall be satisfied with my goodnesse, saith the Lord.

15 Thus saith the Lord, The voyce of heauinesse, weeping, and lamentation was heard on high, euen of Rachel mourning for her children, and would not be comforted, because they were not.

16 But now, saith the Lord, leaue off from weeping and crying, withhold thine eyes from teares: for thy labour shall be rewarded, saith the Lord, and they shall come againe out of the land of their enemies.

17 Yea, euen thy posteritie shall haue consolation in this, saith the Lord, that thy children shall come againe into their owne land.

18 Moreover, I heard Ephraim that was led away captiue complaine on this maner, O Lord, thou hast corrected me, and thy chastening haue I receiued as an vntamed calfe, conuert thou me, and I shall be conuerted: for thou art my Lord God.

19 Yea, as soone as thou turnest me, I shall reforme my selfe, and when I vnderstand, I shall smite vpon my thigh, for verely I haue committed shamefull things: for I haue borne the reprooche and confusion of my youth.

20 Upon this complaint I thought thus by my selfe, Is not Ephraim my deare sonne? Is he not the child with whom I haue had all my mirth and pastime? For since the time that I first communed with him, I haue him euer in remembrance: therefore my heart drieth mee vnto him, gladly and louingly will I haue mercie vpon him, saith the Lord.

21 Make thy selfe markes, set by heapes of stone, set thine heart vpon the way that thou didst walke, and turne againe, O thou daughter of Israel, turne againe to these cities of thine.

22 How long wilt thou goe astray, O thou thinking daughter? for the Lord will worke a new thing vpon earth: A woman shall compass a man.

23 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, It will come thereto, that when I haue brought Iuda out of captiuitie, these words shall be heard in the land and in his cities, The Lord blesse thee, O thou dwelling place of righteousnesse, O thou holy hill.

24 And there shall dwell Iuda and all her cities, the shepheards and husbandmen:

25 For I will feede the hungry soule, and refresh all faint hearts.

26 When I heard this, I came againe to my selfe, I saw like as I had bene waked out of a sweete sleepe:

Mal. 1

27 Behold, saith the Lord, the daies come that I will visite the house of Israel and the house of Iuda with men and with cattel.

28 Yea, it shall come thereto, that like as I haue gone about in times past to roote them out, to scatter them, to breake them downe, to destroy them, and chasten them: euen so will I also goe diligently about to build them vp againe, and to plant them, saith the Lord.

29 Then shal it no more be said, *The fathers haue eaten a sowre grape, and the childrens teeth are set on edge.

30 For euerie one shall die for his owne misdeedes: so that who so eateth a sowre grape, his teeth shalbe set on edge.

31 * Behold, the dayes will come, saith the Lord, that I will make a new couenant with the house of Israel, and the house of Iuda:

32 Not after the couenant that I made with their fathers, when I tooke them by the hand, and led them out of the land of Egypt, which couenant they brake, yea, euen when I as an husband had rule ouer them, saith the Lord.

33 But this shalbe the couenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those daies, saith the Lord, * I will plant my lawe in the inward parts of them, and write it in their hearts, and wil be their God, and they shalbe my people.

34 And from thenceforth shall no man teach his neighbour of his brother, and say, * Knowe the Lord: but they shal all knowe mee from the lowest vnto the highest, saith the Lord: * For I will forgive their misdeedes, and wil neuer remember their sinnes any moie.

35 Thus saith the Lorde, which gaue the Sunne to be a light for the day, and the Moone and the starres to shine in the night, which mooueth the sea, so that the floodes therof ware fierce, his name is the Lord of hostes.

36 Like as the ordinance shall neuer be taken out of my sight, saith the Lord, so shall the seede of Israel neuer cease, but alwayes be a people before me.

37 Whereouer, thus saith the Lorde, Like as the heauen aboue cannot be measured, and as the foundations of the earth beneath may not be sought out, so wil I also cast out the whole seede of Israel, for that they haue committed, saith the Lord.

38 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that the citie of the Lord shalbe enlarged, from the towre of Hananeel, vnto the gate of the corner wall.

39 From thence shal the right measure be taken before her vnto the hill top of Gareb, and shal come about Gaath.

40 And the whole valley of the dead carthes, and of the ashes, and all the feldes, vnto the brooke of Cedon, and vnto the corner of the hoyle gate toward the East, it shall be holy vnto the Lord, & shall neuer be broken nor cast downe any moie.

The xxxij. Chapter.

I Jeremie is cast into prison, because he prophesied that the citie should be taken of the king of Babylon.

These wordes spake the Lord vnto Jeremie, in the tenth yeere of Zedecias king of Iuda, which was the eighteenth yeere of Nabuchodonosor, 2 What time as the king of Babylons hoyle layed siege vnto Hierusalem: but Jeremie the Prophet lay bound in the court of the prison, which was in the king of Iudaes house.

3 Where Zedecias the king of Iuda caused him to be sayd, because he had prophesied on this manner, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will deliuer this citie into the hands of the king of Babylon, which shall take it.

4 As for Zedecias the king of Iuda, he shall not be able to escape the Chaldees: but surely he shall come into the handes of the king of Babylon, which shall speake with him mouth to mouth, and one of them shall looke another in the face.

5 And Zedecias shall bee caried vnto Babylon, and there shall hee be vntill the time that I visite him, saith the Lord: but if thou takest in hand to fight against the Chaldees, thou shalt not prosper.

6 And Jeremie sayd, Thus hath the Lord spoken vnto me.

7 Behold, Hananeel the sonne of Sellum thine vnckles sonne shal come vnto thee, and require thee to redeeme the land that lieth in Anathoth vnto thy selfe: for by reason of hunted it is thy right to redeeme it, and buy it out.

8 And Hananeel mine vnckles sonne came to me in the court of the prison, according to the word of the Lord, and said vnto mee, Buy my land, I pray thee, that lieth in Anathoth in the countrey of Benjamin, for by heritage thou hast right to loose it out for thy selfe, therfore redeeme it. Then I perceiued that this was the commandement of the Lord:

9 And so I bought the land from Hananeel of Anathoth mine vnckles sonne, and weighed him there the money, euen seuen sickles, and ten silver pence:

10 And I writ it in a booke, and sealed it, and tooke witnesses, and weighed him there the money vpon the weights.

11 So I tooke the euidence with the copie when it was orderly sealed.

12 And I gaue the euidence to Baruch the sonne of Meriah, the sonne of Maasiah, in the sight of Hananeel my cousin, and in the presence of the witnesses that be named in the euidence, and before all the Iewes that were there by in the court of the prison.

13 I charged Baruch also before them, saying,

14 The Lord of hostes the God of Israel commandeth thee to take this sealed euidence with the copie, and to lay it in an earthen vessel, that it may long continue.

15 For the Lord of hostes the God of Israel hath determined, that houses, feldes, and vineyards shalbe possessed againe in this land.

16 Now when I had deliuered the euidence vnto Baruch the sonne of Meriah, I betought the Lord, saying, 17 O Lord God, it is thou that hast made heauen and earth with thy great power and high arme, and there is nothing hid from thee.

18 Thou shewest mercie vpon thousands, thou recompenseth the wickednes of the fathers into the bosome of the children that come after them.

19 Thou art the great and mighty God, whose name is the Lord of hostes, great in counsel, and excellent in worke, thine eyes looke vpon all the wayes of mens children, to reward euery one after his way, and according to the fruits of his inventions.

20 Thou hast done great tokens and wonders in the land of Egypt, as wee see this day, vpon the people of Israel, and vpon those men, to make thy name great as it is come to passe this day.

21 Thou hast brought thy people of Israel out of the land of Egypt with tokens, with wonders, with a mighty hand, with a stretched out arme, and with great terriblenesse:

22 And hast giuen them this land, like as thou hadst promised vnto their fathers, namely, that thou wouldst giue them a land that floweth with milke and honie.

23 Now when they came therein and possessed it, they followed not thy boice, and walked not in thy law: but all that thou commandedst them to doe, that haue they not done, and therefore come all these plagues vpon them.

24 Behold, there are bulwarkes made nowe against the citie to take it, and it shall be wonne of the Chaldees that beleuee it with sword, with hunger, and death: and looke what thou hast spoken, that sauee shal come vpon them, for loe, all things are present vnto thee.

25 Yet sayest thou vnto me, O Lord God, and commandedst me that I shal buy a piece of land vnto my self for money, and take witness there to: and yet in the meane season the citie is deliuered into the power of the Chaldees.

26 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Jeremie, saying,

27 Behold, I am the Lord God of all flesh: is there any thing then too hard for me?

28 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord, Behold, I shal deliuer this citie into the power of the Chaldees, and into the power of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, they shal take it:

29 For the Chaldees shall come and win this citie, and set fire vpon it, and burne it with the gorgeous houses, in whose parlors they haue made sacrifice vnto Baal, and powred drinke offerings vnto strange gods: to prouoke me vnto wrath:

30 For the children of Israel and the children of Iuda haue onely bene doing wickednesse before me from their youth by, they haue bene onely prouoking mee to wrath with the workes of their owne hands, saith the Lord.

31 For what hath this citie bene else, but a prouoking of my wrath euer since the day that they builded it, vnto this houre wherein I call it out of my sight?

32 Because of the great blasphemies of the children of Israel and Iuda, which they haue done to prouoke mee, yea, they, their kings their princes, their priests, their prophets, the men of Iuda, and the citizens of Hierusalem:

33 When I stood by early and taught them, and instructed them, they turned their backs to me, and not their faces, 34 They would not heare to be reformed and corrected: but set their idoles in the house that is halowed to my name, to defile it.

35 They haue builded hie places for Baal in the valley of the children of Bemoim, to cause their sonnes and daughters to passe thozow fire in the honour of Moloch, which I neuer commanded the: neither came it euer in my thought to make Iuda sinne with such abominacion.

36 And nowe therefore thus hath the Lord God of Israel spoken concerning this citie, which as ye your selues confesse, shalbe deliuered into the hand of the king of Babylon, when it is wonne with the sword, with hunger, and with pestilence.

37 Behold, I wil gather them together from all lands, wherein I haue scattered them in my wrath, in fearful and great displeasure, and wil bring them againe vnto this place, where they shal dwell safely:

38 * And they shalbe my people, and I wil be their God.

39 And I wil giue them one heart and one way, that they may feare me al the daies of their life: that they and their children after them may prosper.

40 And I wil set by an euerlasting couenant with them, namely, that I will neuer cease to do them good, and that I will put my feare in their hearts, so that they shall not runne away from me.

41 Yea, I wil haue a lust and pleasure to doe them good, and faithfully to plant them in this land with my whole heart, and with my whole soule.

42 For thus sayth the Lord, Like as I haue brought all this great plague vpon this people: euen so wil I also bring vpon them all the good that I haue promised them,

43 And men shal haue their possessions in this land, whereof ye say now that it shal neither be inhabited of the people, nor of cattel, but be deliuered into the hands of the Chaldees:

44 Yea, land shalbe bought for money, and euidences made therevpon, and sealed before witnesses in the countrey of Beniamin, and round about Hierusalem, in the cities of Iuda, and in the cities that are vpon the mountaines, and them that lie beneath, yea, and in the cities that are in the South: for I wil bring their prisoners hither againe, saith the Lord.

The xxxiiij. Chapter.

1 The Prophet is monished of the Lord to pray for the deliuerance of the people, which the Lord promifeth. 8 God forgiueth sinnes, and doeth graciously to the people for his owne renownme. 15 Of the birth of Christ.

Moreouer, the worde of the Lorde came vnto Jeremie againe when he was yet bound in the court of the prison.

2 Thus sayth the Lord, who made Hierusalem, who fashioned the same to establish it, whose name is the Lord,

3 Crie vnto me, and I will answere, and shew thee great and high things which were unknowne vnto thee.

4 Thus I say speaketh the Lord God of Israel, concerning the houses of this citie, and the houses of the kings of Iuda that are broken through the ordinance and the sword.

5 The inhabitants of this citie haue come to fight against the Chaldees, and they are filled with the dead carcases of men, whom I haue slaine in my wrath and displeasure, when I turned my face from this citie, because of all her wickednesse.

4.Reg. 21.4

6 Behold, saith the Lord, I will repaire and heale their wounds, and make them whole: I will open them the large treasure of peace and truth.

7 And will returne the captiuitie of Iuda and Israel, and will set them vp againe as they were before:

8 From all misdeedes wherein they offended against me, I will cleanse them: and all their blasphemies which they haue done against me, when they regarded me not, I will forgive them.

9 And this shall get me a name, a praise and honour among all the people of the earth, which shall heare all the good that I will shewe vnto them, yea, they shall be afraid and astonied at all the good deedes and benefices that I will doe for them.

10 Whereouer, thus saith the Lord, In this place (wherof ye say that it shall be a wilderness, wherein neither people nor cattell shall dwell in like maner in the cities of Iuda, & in the streetes of Hierusalem (which also shall be so boide, that neither people nor cattell shall dwell there.)

11 Shall the voyce of gladnesse be heard againe, the voyce of the bridegrome & of the bride, the voyce of them that shall sing, Praise the Lord of hostes, for he is louing, and his mercie endureth for euer: and the voyce of them that offer by giftes in the house of the Lord: for I will restore the captiuitie of this land, as it was afore, saith the Lord.

12 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, It shall come yet thereto, that in this land which is void from men and cattell, and in all the cities of the land, there shall be set vp shepheards cottages to rest their flocks.

13 In the cities vpon the mountains, and in the cities that lie vpon the plaine, and in the cities of the South, in the land of Beniamin, and round about Hierusalem, and in the cities of Iuda, shall the sheep passe againe vnder the hand of him that telleth them, saith the Lord.

14 Behold, the time cometh, saith the Lord, that I will performe that good thing which I haue promised vnto the house of Israel, and vnto the house of Iuda.

15 In those dayes, and at the same time, I will bring forth vnto Dauid the branch of righteousness, and he shall do equitie and righteousnesse in the land.

16 In those dayes shall Iuda be saued, * and Hierusalem shall dwell safe: and this shall be her name, * God our righteousnesse.

17 For thus the Lord promiseth, Dauid shall neuer want one to sit vpon the throne of the house of Israel:

18 Neither shall the Priests and Leuites want one to offer alway before me burnt offerings, to kindle the meate offerings, and to prepare the sacrifices.

19 And the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremie after this maner,

20 Thus saith the Lord, May the covenant which I haue made with day and night be broken, that there should not be day and night in due season:

21 Then may my covenant also be broken which I made with Dauid my seruant, and so he not to haue a sonne to reigne in his throne, so shall also the Priests and Leuites neuer faile, but serue me.

22 For like as the starres of heauen may not be numbred, neither the sand of the sea measured: so will I multiply the seede of Dauid my seruant, and the Leuites my ministers.

23 Whereouer, the word of the Lord came to Ieremie, saying,

24 Considerest thou not what this people speaketh? Two hundreds say they had the Lord chosen, and those same two hath he cast away: so they haue despised my people, and they reputed them as though they were no people.

25 Therefore thus saith the Lord, If I haue made no covenant with day and night, and giuen no statute vnto heauen and earth:

26 Then will I also cast away the seede of Iacob and Dauid my seruant, so that I will take no prince out of his seede to rule the posteritie of Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob: but yet I will tunc againe their captiuitie, and be mercifull vnto them.

The xxxiiiij. Chapter.

2 He threatmeth that the citie, and the king Zedecias also shall be giuen into the hands of the king of Babylon.

These are the words which the Lord spake vnto Ieremie, what time as Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, and all his hoste, and all the kingdoms that were vnder his power, and all his people, sought against Hierusalem and all the cities thereof.

2 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Goe and speake to Zedecias the king of Iuda, and tel him, The Lord sendeth thee his word, Behold, I will deliuer this citie into the hand of the king of Babylon, he shall burne it with fire.

3 And thou shalt not escape his hands, but shalt be taken prisoner, and deliuered into his power: Thou shalt looke the king of Babylon in the face, & he shall speak to thee mouth to mouth, and then shalt thou goe to Babylon.

4 Yet heare the word of the Lord, O Zedecias thou king of Iuda, thus saith the Lord vnto thee, Thou shalt not be slaine with the sword.

5 But shalt die in peace: * And as thy forefathers the kings thy progenitors were burnt, so shalt thou be burnt also, and in thy mourning they shall say, O Lord: for thus haue I determined, saith the Lord.

6 Then said Ieremie the Prophet all these wordes vnto Zedecias king of Iuda in Hierusalem, 7 What time as the King of Babylons hoste belieged Hierusalem, and the remnant of the cities, namely, Lachis, and Azecath, which yet remained of the strong defenced cities of Iuda.

8 These are the words that the Lord spake vnto Ieremie the Prophet, when Zedecias was agreed with all the people of Hierusalem, that there should be proclaimed a libertie:

9 So that every man should let his seruant and handmaide goe free, Hebrew, and Hebræwesse, & no Jew hold his brother as a bondman.

10 Now as they had consented, all the princes and all the people which had gathered vnto this agreement, that every man should let at libertie his bondseruant and bondwoman, and no longer to hold them bound: cuen so they were obedient, and let them goe free:

11 But afterward they repented, and tooke againe the seruants and handmaidens whome they had let goe free, and so made them bond againe.

12 For which cause the worde of the Lorde came vnto Jeremie from the Lord himselfe, saying,

13 Thus sayeth the Lorde God of Israel, I made a covenant with your fathers, when I brought them out of the lande of Egypt, out of the house of bondage, saying, 14 * When seven yeeres are out, every man shall let his bought seruant an Hebrewe goe free, if hee haue serued him sixe yeeres: but your fathers obeyed mee not, and hearkened not vnto mee.

15 As for you, yee were now turned, and did right before me, in that ye proclaimed every man to let his neighbour goe free, and in that yee made a covenant before mee in the temple that beareth my name.

16 But yet ye turned your selues againe, and blasphemed my name, in this that every man hath required his seruant and handmaid againe whom ye had let goe quite and free, and compelled them to serue you againe, and so to be bondmen and bondwomen.

17 And therefore thus saith the Lorde, Yee haue not obeyed mee, euery man to proclaime freedom vnto his brother and neighbor: wherefore I will call you vnto freedom, saith the Lord, euen vnto the sword, to the pestilence, and to hunger, and will make you to be plagued in all kingdomes of the earth.

18 Yea, those men that haue broken my covenant, and not kept the wordes of the appointment which they made before mee when they heved the calfe in two, and when they went thowow the two halfes thereof,

19 The princes of Iuda, the princes of Hierusalem, the gilded men, the priests, and all the people of the land which went thowow the two sides of the calfe:

20 Those men will I giue into the power of their enemies, and into the hands of them that followe vpon their liues: and their dead bodies shalbe meat for the foules of the aire, and beasts of the field.

21 As for Sedecias the king of Iuda, and his princes, I will deliuer them into the power of their enemies, and of them that desire to slay them, and into the hande of the king of Babylons holse, which is now departed from you.

22 But through my commandement (sayeth the Lorde) they shall come againe before this cite, they shall fight against it, win it and burne it: whereouer, I will lay the cities of Iuda so waste, that no man shall dwell therein.

The xxxv. Chapter.

Hee propoundeth the obedience of the Rechabites, and thereby confoundeth the pride of the Iewes.

He wordes which the Lorde spake vnto Jeremie in the reigne of Jehoachim the sonne of Iolias king of Iuda, are these:

2 Goe vnto the house of the Rechabites, and call them out, and bring them to the house of the Lord, into some commodious place, and giue them wine to drinke.

3 Then tooke I Zazaniah the sonne of Jeremie, the sonne of Habazaniah, and his brethren, and all his sonnes, and the whole household of the Rechabites.

4 And brought them into the house of the Lorde, into the closet of the children of Manan the sonne of Jegealiah the man of God, which was by the closet of the princes, that is above the closet of Maasiah the sonne of Sellum, which is the treasurer.

5 And before the sonnes of the kinred of the Rechabites, I set pots full of wine, and cups, and said vnto them, Drink wine.

6 But they said, Wee will drinke no wine: for Jonadab the sonne of Rechab our father commanded vs, saying, Yee a your sonnes shall neuer drinke wine, build houses, sowe no seede, plant no vines,

7 Yea, yee shall haue no vineyards: but for all your time yee shall dwell in tents, that yee may liue long in the land wherein ye be strangers.

8 Thus haue wee obeyed the commandement of Jonadab the sonne of Rechab our father, in all that hee hath charged vs, and so wee drinke no wine all our life long, wee, nor our wiues, our sonnes, and our daughters.

9 Neither build we any house to dwell therein: we haue also among vs neither vineyardes, nor corne land to sowe:

10 But wee dwell in tents, we obey, and doe according vnto all that Jonadab our father commanded vs.

11 But now that Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon came by into the land, wee sayde, Come, let vs goe to Hierusalem, that we may escape the host of the Chaldees, and the Assyrians: and so we dwell now at Hierusalem.

12 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Jeremie, saying,

13 Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel, Goe and tell the men of Iuda, and the inhabitants of Hierusalem, will yee not bee reformed to obey my wordes, sayeth the Lord?

14 The words which Jonadab the sonne of Rechab commanded his sonnes, that they should drinke no wine, are fast surely kept, for vnto this day they drinke no wine, but obey their fathers commandement: but as for me, I haue stood by earnestly, I haue spoken vnto you, and giuen you earnest warning, and yet haue ye not bene obedient vnto me.

15 Yea, I haue sent my seruants all the prophets vnto you, I rose by earnestly, and sent you word, saying, * Turne you now every man from his wicked way, amend your liues, and goe not after strange gods to worship them, that ye may continue in the land which I haue giuen vnto you and your fathers: but yee would neither heare me, nor followe me.

16 The children of Jonadab Rechabs sonne, haue stedfastly kept their fathers commandement that he gaue them: but this people is not obedient vnto me.

17 And therefore thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring vpon Iuda, and vpon every one that dwelleth in Hierusalem, all the trouble that I haue deuised against them: for I haue spoken vnto them,

and

but they would not followe, I haue called vnto them, neuertheless they would grue mee no answer.

18 Jeremie also spake vnto the household of the Rechabites. Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, for as much as ye haue obeyed the commandement of Ionadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according to all that he hath bidden:

19 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Ionadab the sonne of Rechab shall not faile, but haue one out of his stocke to stand at way before me.

The xxxvj. Chapter.

Baruch writeth (as Jeremie enditeth) the booke of the curses against Iuda and Israel.

In the fourth yeere of Jehoacim the sonne of Josias the king of Iuda, came the word of the Lorde vnto Jeremie, saying,

1 Take a booke and write therein all the wordes that I haue spoken to thee against Israel, against Iuda, and against all the people, from the time that I began to speake vnto thee in the reigne of Josias, vnto this day:

2 That when the house of Iuda heareth of the plague which I haue deuised for them, they may peradventure turne euery man from his wicked way, that I may forgiove their offences and finnes.

3 Then did Jeremie call Baruch the sonne of Neriah, and Baruch wrote in the booke at the mouth of Jeremie, all the wordes of the Lorde which he had spoken vnto him.

4 And Jeremie commaunded Baruch, saying, I am in prison, so that I may not come into the house of the Lorde.

5 Therefore goe thou thither, and reade the booke that thou hast written at my mouth, namely, the wordes of the Lorde, and read them in the Lordes house vpon the fasting day, that the people, whole Iuda, and all they that come out of the cities, may heare.

6 Peradventure they will pray meekeely before the face of the Lorde, and turne euery one from his wicked way: for great is the wrath and displeasure that the Lorde hath taken against this people.

7 So Baruch the sonne of Neriah did according to all that Jeremie the Prophet commaunded him, reading the wordes of the Lorde out of the booke in the Lords house.

8 And this was done in the fift yeere of Jehoacim the sonne of Josias king of Iuda, in the ninth moneth, when it was commaunded that all the people of Hierusalem should fast before the Lorde, and they also that were come from the cities of Iuda vnto Hierusalem.

9 Then read Baruch the wordes of Jeremie out of the booke within the house of the Lorde, out of the treasure of Gamariah the sonne of Saphan the Scribe, which is beside the higher loft of the new dooze of the Lords house, that all the people might heare.

10 Now when Micheas the sonne of Gamariah the sonne of Saphan, heard all the wordes of the Lorde out of the booke,

11 Hee went downe to the kings palace, into the Scribes chamber, for there all the princes were set, Elisama the Scribe, Dalaiash the sonne of Semci, Elnathan the sonne of Achboz, Gamariah the sonne of Saphan, Zedecias the sonne of Hananias, with all the princes.

12 And Micheas tolde them all the wordes that he heard Baruch reade out of the booke before the people.

13 Then all the princes sent Jehudi the sonne of Nathaniah, the sonne of Selemiah, the sonne of Chui, vnto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand the booke whereout thou hast read before all the people, and come. So Baruch the sonne of Neriah tooke the booke in his hand, and came vnto them.

14 And they saide vnto him, Sit downe and reade the booke, that wee may heare also. So Baruch read, that they might heare.

15 Now when they had heard all the wordes, they were abashed one vpon another, and sayde vnto Baruch, wee will certifie the king of all these wordes.

16 And they examined Baruch, saying, Tell vs, how didst thou write all these wordes out of his mouth?

17 Then Baruch answered them, Hee spake all these wordes vnto me with his mouth, and I wrote them in the booke.

18 Then saide the princes vnto Baruch, Goe thy way, hide thee with Jeremie, so that no man know where ye be.

19 And they went in to the king to the court, (but they kept the booke in the chamber of Elisama the scribe,) and tolde the king all the wordes that he might heare.

20 So the king sent Jehudi to fetch him the booke: which hee brought out of Elisama the scribes chamber, and Jehudi read in it, that the king and all the princes which were about him might heare.

21 Now the king sate in the winter house (for it was in the ninth moneth) and there was a fire before him.

22 And when Jehudi had read three or foure leaues thereof, he cut the booke in pices with a penknife, & cast it into the fire vpon the hearth, vntill the booke was all burnt in the fire vpon the hearth.

23 Yet no man was abashed thereof, nor rent his clothes, neither the king himselfe, nor his seruants, though they heard all these wordes.

24 Neuertheless, Elnathan, Dalaiash, and Gamariah besought the king that he would not burne the booke: not withstanding the king would not heare them.

25 But commaunded Ierahmel the sonne of Amelch, Saraiash the sonne of Eryel, and Selemiah the sonne of Abdeel, to lay handes vpon Baruch the Scribe, and vpon Jeremie the Prophet: but the Lorde kept them out of sight.

26 Nowe after that the king had burnt the booke, and the sermons which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremie, the worde of the Lorde came vnto Jeremie, saying, 27 Take another booke, and write in it all the foresaid sermons that were written in the first booke, which Jehoacim the king of Iuda hath burnt.

28 And tel Jehoacim the king of Iuda, Thus sayth the Lorde, Thou hast burnt the booke, and thoughtest within thy selfe, why hast thou written therein, that the king of Babylon shall come, and make this land waste, so that hee shall make both people and cattell to be out of it?

30 Therefore thus the Lord sayth of Jehoa-chim the king of Iuda. There shall none of his generation sit vpon the throne of Dauid, his dead corse shall be cast out, that the heate of the day, and the frost of the night may come vpon him.

31 And I will bite the wickednesse of him, of his seede, and of his seruants: Moreover, all the euill that I haue promised them, though they heard me not, will I bring vpon them, vpon the inhabiteers of Hierusalem, and vpon all Iuda.

32 Then tooke Jeremie another booke, and gave it Baruch the scribe the sonne of Neriah, which wrote therein out of the mouth of Jeremie, all the sermons that were in the first booke which Jehoaichim the king of Iuda did burne:
and these were added vnto them many moe sermons, like vnto the former.

The xxxvij. Chapter.

1 Zedecias succeedeth Cononiah: 3 he sendeth vnto Jeremie to pray for him.

Zedecias *the sonne of Josia, which was made king through Nabuchodonoso: king of Babylon, reigned in the land of Iuda, in the stead of Cononiah the sonne of Jehoaichim.

2 But neither he, nor his seruants, nor the people in his land would obey the words of the Lord which he spake by the Prophet Jeremie.

3 Neuerthelesse, Zedecias the king sent Jehucal the sonne of Selemiah, and Sophoniah the sonne of Maasiah the priest, to the Prophet Jeremie, saying, O pray thou vnto the Lord our God for vs.

4 Now Jeremie walked free among the people at that time, * and was not put in prison as yet.

5 Pharaos hoste also was come out of Egypt: which when the Chaldees which besieged Hierusalem perceiued, they departed fro thence.

6 Then came the word of the Lord vnto the Prophet Jeremie, saying,

7 Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, This answer shall ye giue to the king of Iuda, that sent you vnto me for counsell: Behold, Pharaos hoste which is come forth to helpe you, shall returne into Egypt into his owne land.

8 But the Chaldees shall come againe, and fight against this citie, winne it, and let fire be on it.

9 For thus sayeth the Lord, Deceiue not your owne mindes, thinking on this manner,
Thus, the Chaldees go now their way from vs:
No, they shall not goe their way.

10 For though yee had slaine the whole hoste of the Chaldees that besiege you, and that none remained of them but wounded men, yet should they stand vp, and let fire vpon this citie.

11 Now when the hoste of the Chaldees was broken by from Hierusalem for feare of the Egyptians armie,

12 Jeremie went out of Hierusalem toward the land of Beniamin, to get him from among the people.

13 And when hee came vnder Beniamins port, there was a pouter called Jeriah, the sonne of Selemiah, the sonne of Hananiah, which fell vpon him, and tooke him, saying, Thy mind is to runne to the Chaldees.

14 Then saide Jeremie, It is not so, I goe not to the Chaldees: Neuerthelesse, Jeriah would not beleue him, but brought Jeremie bound before the princes.

15 Wherefore the princes were angrie with Jeremie, and smote him, and laid him in prison in the house of Jonathan the Scribe: for they had made that house the prison.

16 Thus was Jeremie put in a dungeon and prison, and so lay there a long time.

17 Then Zedecias the king sent for him, and called him, and asked him quietly in his owne house, saying, Chinketh thou this businesse that now is in hand, cometh of the Lozde? Jeremie answered, Yea that it doeth: and thou (sayd he) shalt bee deliuered into the king of Babylons power.

18 Moreover, Jeremie sayd vnto king Zede-cias, * What haue I offended against thee, against thy seruants, or against this people, that ye haue put me in prison?

19 Where are your prophets which haue prophecied vnto you, and said, That the king of Babylon should not come against you, and this land?

20 And therefore heare now, O my lord the king, let my prayer be accepted before thee, and send mee no more into the house of Jonathan the Scribe, that I die not there.

21 Then Zedecias commaunded to put Jeremie in the fore entrie of the prison, and daily to be given him a cake of bread of the bakers street, vntill all the bread in the citie was eaten by: Thus Jeremie remained in the fore entrie of the prison.

The xxxviij. Chapter.

By the motion of the rulers, Jeremie is put into a dungeon.

Saphatiah the sonne of Mathan,
Sedaliah the sonne of Phasur,
Iucal the sonne of Selemiah, and Phasur the sonne of Melchias, perceiued the words that Jeremie had spoken vnto all the people, namely on this matiner.

2 Thus sayth the Lord, * Who so remaineth in this citie, shall perish either with the sword, with hunger, or pestilence: but who so falleth vnto the Chaldees, shall escape, winning his soule for a pray, and shall liue.

3 For thus sayeth the Lozde, This citie no doubt must bee deliuered into the power of the king of Babylon, and he also shall winne it.

4 Then said the princes vnto the king, Sir, we beseech you let this man be put to death: for thus he discourageth the hands of the souldiers that be in this citie, and the hands of all the people, when he speaketh such wordes vnto them:
This man laboureth not for peace of the people,
but mischief.

5 Zedecias the king answered, and said, Lo, he is in your hands: for the king may denie you nothing.

6 Then tooke they Jeremie, and cast him into the dungeon of Melchias the sonne of A-melech, that dwelt in the fore entrie of the prison, and they let downe Jeremy with cords into a dungeon where there was no water, but mire:
So Jeremie kache fast in the myze.

7 Nowe when Abedmelech the Mezian, being being a chamberlaine in the kings court, vnder-loode that they had caſt Jeremie into the dungeon,

8 He went out of the kings houſe, and ſpake to the king, which then ſate vnder the poſt of Benjamin theſe wordes,

9 My lord the king, whereas theſe men meddle with Jeremie the Prophet, they do him wrong, namely, in that they haue put him in priſon, there to dye for hunger: for there is no more bread in the cite.

10 Then the king commaunded Abedmelech the Moſian, and ſayd, Take from hence thirte men, whome thou wilt, and drage by Jeremie the Prophet out of the dungeon befoze he die.

11 So Abedmelech tooke the men with him, and went to the houſe of the king, and there vnder
 the treaſurie hee gaue old ragges and worne clouts, and let them downe by a cord into the dungeon to Jeremie.

12 And Abedmelech the Moſian ſaide vnto the Prophet Jeremie, I put theſe ragges and cloutes vnder thine armeholes, betwixt them and the cords: and Jeremie did ſo.

13 So they drewe by Jeremie with cordes, and tooke him out of the dungeon: and hee remained in the fore entrie of the priſon.

14 Then Zedecias the king ſent, and cauſed Jeremie the Prophet to be called vnto him, into the thirde entrie that is in the houſe of the Lord, and the king ſayde vnto Jeremie, I will aſke thee ſome what, but hide nothing from me.

15 Then Jeremie answered Zedecias, If I be plaine vnto thee, thou wilt cauſe me to ſuffer death: If I giue thee counſell, thou wilt not followe me.

16 So the king ſwoze an othe ſecretly to Jeremie, ſaying, As the Lord liueth that made vs theſe ſoules, I will not ſlay thee, nor giue thee into the hands of them that ſeek after thy life.

17 Then ſayd Jeremie vnto Zedecias, Thus ſayth the Lord of hoſtes the God of Iſrael, If caſe be that thou wilt goe forth vnto the king of Babylons princes, thou ſhalt ſaue thy life, and this cite ſhall not be burnt, yea, both thou and thy houſhold ſhall eſcape with your liues:

18 But if thou wilt not goe forth to the king of Babylons princes, then ſhall this cite be deſtroyed into the hands of the Chaldees, which ſhall ſet fire vpon it, and thou ſhalt not be able to eſcape them.

19 And Zedecias ſayde vnto Jeremie, I am afraid for the Jewes that are ſied vnto the Chaldees, leaſt I come into their handes, and ſo they to haue me in deſerion,

20 But Jeremie answered, No, they ſhall not betray thee: I hearken vnto the voice of the Lord, I beſeech thee, which I ſpeake vnto thee, ſo ſhalt thou be well, and ſaue thy life:

21 But if thou wilt not goe forth, the Lord hath told me this plainely,

22 Behold, all the women that are left in the king of Judas houſe, ſhall be ledde forth vnto the king of Babylons princes: and they ſhall ſay, Thou art deceiued, and the men in whome thou diddeſt put thy truſt haue gotten thee vnder, and ſet thy ſecte laſt in the myre, and gone their way from thee.

23 Therefore all thy wiues, with thy children, ſhall they be led forth vnto the Chaldees, and thou ſhalt not eſape their handes, but ſhalt be the king of Babylons priſoner, and this cite ſhalt thou cauſe to be burnt.

24 Then ſaid Zedecias vnto Jeremie, Looke that no body knowe of theſe wordes, and thou ſhalt not die.

25 But if the princes perceiue that I haue talked with thee, and come vnto thee, ſaying, O ſpeake, what ſayde the king to thee, hide it not from vs, and wee will not put thee to death, tell vs (we pray thee) what ſayd the king vnto thee?

26 See thou giue them this answer, I haue humbly beſought the king that he would let me lye no more in Jehonathans houſe, that I dye not there.

27 Then came all the princes vnto Jeremie, and aſked him: and he told them after the manner as the king bade him. Then they helde their peace, and let him alone: for they perceiued nothing.

28 So Jeremie abode ſtill in the fore entrie of the priſon, vntill the day that Hieruſalem was wonne.

The xxxix. Chapter.

1 Nabuchodonosor beſiegeth Hieruſalem. 4 Zede-cias fleeth. 5 He is taken of the Chaldees. 6 His ſonnes are ſlaine. 7 His eyes are thruſt out.

Nowe when the cite of Hieruſalem was taken (for in the ninth yeere of Zedecias king of Iuda, the tenth moneth, came Nabuchodo-nosor the king of Babylon, and all his houſe, and beſieged Hieruſalem, and fought againſt it:

4. Kin. 25. 1
 1ere. 52. 4.

2 And in the eleuenth yeere of Zedecias, in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, he brake into the cite.)

3 Then all the princes of the king of Babylon came in, & ſate them downe vnder the poſt:
 Beregel, Sarezzer, Samgarnebo, Sarſachim, Raſaris, Beregel, Sarezzer, Raſmag, with all the other princes of the king of Babylon.

4 And when Zedecias the king of Iuda with his ſouldiers ſaw them, then they fledde, and departed out of the cite by night, thozow the kings garden, and thozow the poſt that is be-twene the two walles, and ſo the king went toward the wilderneſſe:

5 But the Chaldees houſe followed faſt after them, and tooke Zedecias in the field of He-richo, and brought him priſoner to Nabuchoonosor the king of Babylon, vnto Beblach, that lyeth in the lande of Demath, where hee gaue iudgement vpon him.

6 So the king of Babylon cauſed the children of Zedecias, and all the nobles of Iuda, to be ſlaine befoze his face at Beblach,

7 And made Zedecias eyes to be put out, and bound him with two chaines, and ſent him to Babylon.

8 Moreover, the Chaldees burnt by the kings palace, with the other houſes of the people, and brake downe the walles of Hieruſalem.

9 As for the remnant of the people that were in the cite, and ſuch as were come to him, and whatſoever was left of the common ſort, Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine carried them to Babylon.

10 But Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine let the ſcull people, & thoſe that had nothing, dwell ſtill in the lande of Iuda, and gaue them vineyards and cozne fields at the same time.

11 Nabuchodonosor also the king of Babylon, gaue Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine a charge concerning Jeremie, saying,

12 Take and cherish him, make much of him, see thou doe him no harme, but intreate him after his owne desire,

13 So Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine, Nabuzarban, Rabares, Neregel, Sarezet, Rabmag, and all the king of Babylons lordes sent for Jeremie, 14 And caused him to bee fet out of the fore-entrie of the prison, and committed him vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam the sonne of Saphan, that he should carie him home: and so hee dwelt among the people.

15 Now when Jeremie lay yet bound in the fore entrie of the prison, the worde of the Lorde came vnto him, saying,

16 Goe and tell Abedmelech the Mozan, Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, the cruell and sharpe plague that I haue deuised for this citie, will I bring vpon them, and thou shalt see it:

17 But I will deliuer thee in that day, sayth the Lorde, and thou shalt not come in the handes of those men whome thou fearest:

18 For doubtlesse I will saue thee, so that thou shalt not perish with the sword: but thy life shall be saued, and that because thou hast put thy trust in me, sayth the Lorde.

The xl. Chapter.

1 Jeremie hath licence to goe whither he will. 14 Iohanan prophesieth death vnto Gedaliah.

This is the worde that the Lorde spake vnto Jeremie, when Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine had let him goe free from Ramath, whither he had led him bound among all the prisoners that were caried from Hierusalem and Iuda, vnto Babylon.

2 The chiefe captaine called for Jeremie, and sayde vnto him, The Lorde thy God spake mightily befoze of the miserie vpon this place.

3 Now the Lorde hath sent it, and performed it, as he hath promised: for yee haue sinned against the Lorde, and haue not beene obedient vnto his voice, therefore commeth this plague vpon you.

4 Behold, I loose the bands from thy hands this day: if thou wilt now go with me vnto Babylon, by then, for I will see to thee, and provide for thee: but if thou wilt not go with me to Babylon, then remaine here: Behold, all the lande is at thy will, looke where thou thinkest conuenient and good for thee to abide, there dwell.

5 For as yet he was not gone backe againe to Gedaliah: therefore he said to him, Go backe to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam the sonne of Saphan, whom the king of Babylon had made gouernour ouer the cities of Iuda, and dwell with him among the people, or remaine where-soeuer it pleaseth thee. So the chiefe captaine gaue him his expences, with a reward, and let him goe.

6 Then went Jeremie vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam, to Mispa, & dwelt there with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 Now when the captaines of the hoste of Iuda, which with their fellowes were scattered abroad on euery side in the land, vnderstood that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam gouernour in the land, & that man, wife, and childe, yea, and the pooze men in the land that were not led captiue to Babylon, should be vnder his iurisdiction:

8 They came to Gedaliah vnto Mispa, namely, Imael the sonne of Nathaniah, Iohanan and Jonathan the sonnes of Careah, Sereah the sonne of Chanemumeth the sonnes of Ephai the Metophatite, Jezaniah the sonne of Maachai, with their companions.

9 And Gedaliah, the sonne of Ahicam the sonne of Saphan, sware vnto them and their fellowes in this maner, * Be not afraid to serue the Chaldees, dwell in the land, and doe the king of Babylon seruice, so shall ye prosper.

10 Behold, I dwell at Mispa, to be an officer in the Chaldees behalfe, and to satisfie such as come to vs: therefore gather wine, come, and oyle, and keepe them in your warehouse, and dwell in your cities that ye haue in keeping.

11 Yea, all the Jewes also that dwell in Moab vnder the Ammonites, Idumea, and in all the countreys, when they heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam the sonne of Saphan gouernour vpon all them that were left in Iuda:

12 All the Jewes I say returned out of all places where they fledde vnto, and came into the land of Iuda to Gedaliah vnto Mispa, and gathered wine and other frutes, and that verie much.

13 Moreover, Iohanan the sonne of Careah, and all the captaines of the hoste that were scattered on euery side of the land, came to Gedaliah to Mispa, and sayd vnto him, 14 Knowest thou not that Baalis the king of the Ammonites hath sent Imael the sonne of Nathaniah to slay thee? But Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam beleued them not.

15 Then said Iohanan the sonne of Careah vnto Gedaliah in Mispa these wordes secretly, Let me goe, I pray thee, and I will slay Imael the sonne of Nathaniah, so that no bodie shall know it: wherefoze will he kill thee, that all the Jewes which resort vnto thee might be scattered, and the remnant in Iuda perish?

16 And Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam sayde to Iohanan the sonne of Careah, Thou shalt not doe it: for they are but lyes that thou sayest of Imael.

The xli. Chapter.

2 Imael killeth Gedaliah guilefully, and many other with him. 11 Iohanan followeth after Imael.

In the seventh moneth, it happened that Imael the sonne of Nathaniah the sonne of Elisama, one of the kings blood came, and the greatest about the king, and ten men with him, vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam to Mispa, and they did eate together in Mispa.

2 And Imael the sonne of Nathaniah, with those ten men that were with him, start vp, and smote Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam the sonne of Saphan with the sword, and slue him, whom the king of Babylon had made a gouernour of the land.

3 Imael also slew all the Jewes that were with Gedaliah at Bithpa, and al the Chaldees, that hee found there wayting vpon him, and those that were able to fight, he slue with him.

4 The next day after that hee had slaine Gedaliah, the matter was yet vnknownen:

5 And there came certaine men from Sichem, from Soilo and Samaria, to the number of fourescore, which had shauen their bearded, rent their clothes, and were al heavy, bringing meat offerings and incense in their handes, to offer it in the house of the Lord.

6 And Imael the sonne of Nathaniah went forth of Bithpa weeping to meeete them: Nowe when he met them, he said, Goe your way to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam.

7 And when they came in the midst of the citie, Imael the sonne of Nathaniah, with them that were with him, slew them euen at the midst of the pit.

8 Among these fourescore men there were ten that laide vnto Imael. Oh slay vs not, for wee haue yet a great treasure in the felde, of wheate, barley, oyle, and honie: So hee spared them, and slue them not with their brethren.

9 Nowe the pit wherein Imael did cast the dead bodies of the men whom he slew because of Gedaliah, had King Aza caused to be made for feare of Baasa the King of Israel, and the same pit did Imael fill with slaine men.

10 As for the remnant of the people, the kings daughters, and al the people that were left at Bithpa, vpon whom Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam gouernour, Imael the sonne of Nathaniah carried them away prisoners toward the Ammonites.

11 But when Iohanan the sonne of Careah, and all they which had bene captaines ouer the kings host with him, heard of al the wickednesse that Imael the sonne of Nathaniah had done:

12 They tooke their companions, and went out for to fight with Imael the sonne of Nathaniah, and found him by the great waters that are at Gibeon.

13 Now when all the people whom Imael led captiue, saw Iohanan the sonne of Careah, and al the other captaines of the hoste, they were glad.

14 So al the people that Imael had carried away from Bithpa, were brought againe: and when they returned, they came to Iohanan the sonne of Careah.

15 But Imael the sonne of Nathaniah fled from Iohanan with eight companions, and went to the Ammonites.

16 Then Iohanan the sonne of Careah, and al the captaines of the host that were with him, tooke al the remnant of the people, whom Imael the son of Nathaniah had led away when hee had slaine Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam, whom they also had reserued from him, fighting men, women, and children, and gelded men, whom they brought againe from Gibeon:

17 And went from thence, & sate them downe at Geruth Chamaam, which lieth beside Bethlehem, that they might goe into Egypt for feare of the Chaldees:

18 Of whom they were afraide, because that Imael the sonne of Nathaniah had slaine Gedaliah Ahicams sonne, whom the king of Babylon had made gouernour in the land.

The xliij. Chapter.

1 The captaines aske counsell at Ieremie what they ought to doc. 19 Ieremie admoniseth the remnant of the people not to goe into Egypt.

So all the captaines, and Iohanan the sonne of Careah, Iezaniah the sonne of Shiah, came, with all the people from the least vnto the most. 2 And saide vnto Ieremie the Prophet, We heare our petition, that thou maist pray for vs vnto the Lord thy God, namely, for all the remnant whereof there bee fewe of vs left of many, as thou seest vs:

3 That the Lord thy God may shewe vs a way to goe in, and tel vs what we should do.

4 Then Ieremie the Prophet saide vnto them, I haue heard you: behold, I wil pray vnto God your Lord as ye haue required me: & looke what answer the Lord giueth, I shall certifie you thereof, and keepe nothing backe from you.

5 And they saide vnto Ieremie, The Lord be a true and faithfull witness bet wirt vs, that we wil doe all that the Lord thy God commandeth vs.

6 Whether it be good or euil, wee wil hearken vnto the voice of the Lord thy God, to whom we sende thee, that wee may prosper when wee haue folowed the voyce of the Lord our God.

7 And after ten dayes came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremie.

8 Then called he Iohanan the sonne of Careah, and al the captaines of the people that were with him, yea, and al the people from the least to the most.

9 And said vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, vnto whom yee sent mee to lay forth your prayers befoze him:

10 If you wil dwell in this land, I wil builde you vp, and not breake you downe. I wil plant you, and not root you out: for I repent as concerning the trouble that I haue done to you.

11 Feare not the king of Babylon, of whom ye stand in awe, & be not afraid of him, saith the Lord, for I wil be with you to helpe you, and deliuer you from his hand.

12 I wil pardon you, I wil haue mercie vpon you, and cause him to pity you, and bring you againe into your owne land.

13 Neuer thelesse, if ye purpose not to dwell in this lande, nor to folowe the voyce of the Lord your God,

14 But wil say thus, we wil not dwell here, but goe into Egypt, where wee shal neither see warre, heare the noise of the Trumpe, nor suffer hunger, there wil we dwell:

15 Wherefoze heare nowe the worde of the Lord, & yee remnant of Iuda, thus sayeth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, If ye be wholly purposed to goe into Egypt, and to dwell there as strangers, 16 The sward that yee feared shal ouertake you in Egypt: and the hunger wherof yee be afraide, shal hang vpon you, and folow you into Egypt, and there shal ye die.

17 And al they that of set purpose vnder take to goe into Egypt to sojourne there, shal perish with the sword, with hunger, and pestilence, not one of them shal remaine, there shal none escape the plague that I wil bring vpon them.

18 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God a Gods reputatione is not to be done els, but that hee doeth not prostitute to the uttermost his wrath according to the desire of this people.

of Israel, Like as my wrath and indignation is moued against the inhabitants of Hierusalem: so shall my displeasure be kindled against you also if ye goe into Egypt, and there ye shall be reuiled, abhorred, brought to shame and confusion, and as for this place ye shall neuer see it moze.

19 The Lord forbiddeh you (O ye remnant of Iuda) that ye shall not goe into Egypt: and forget not that I haue warned you earnestly this day.

20 For ye haue dissembled with me: for ye sent me vnto the Lord your God, and saide, O pray thou the Lord our God for vs, and looke what answer the Lord our God giueth thee, that bring vs againe, and we wil do thereafter.

21 Nowe haue I shewed and declared vnto you, but ye haue not obeyed the voice of the Lord your God, for the which cause he hath sent mee to you.

22 Now therefore hee ye sure that ye shall perish with the sword, with hunger and pestilence, euen in the same place where your lust is to goe and dwell.

The xliij. Chapter.

1 Iohanan carieth the remnant of the people into Egypt contrary to the minde of Ieremie. 8 Ieremie prophecieth the destruction of Egypt.

NOWE when Ieremie had ended al the woordes of the Lord his God vnto the people, which to declare, the Lord their God had sent him vnto them, euen al these words I say,

2 Azariai the son of Osaiah, and Iohanan the sonne of Careah, with al the stubborne persons, said vnto Ieremie, Thou lest, the Lord our God hath not sent thee to speake vnto vs, that we should not go into Egypt, and dwell there:

3 But Baruch the sonne of Neriah prouoketh thee against vs, that he might bring vs into the captiuitie of the Chaldees, that they might slay vs, & carry vs away prisoners vnto Babylon.

4 So Iohanan the sonne of Careah, and al the captaines of the hoste, and al the people, followed not the commandement of the Lord, namely, to dwell in the land of Iuda:

5 But Iohanan the sonne of Careah, and al the captaines of the hoste, caried away al the remnant of Iuda, that were come together againe from al the Heathen, among whom they had bene scattered, to dwell in the land of Iuda.

6 When women, children, the Kings daughters, al those that Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine had left with Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam, the sonne of Saphan: they caried away al to the Prophet Ieremie, and Baruch the sonne of Neriah,

7 And so came into Egypt: for they were not obedient vnto the commandement of God. Thus came they to Thaphnis:

8 And in Thaphnis the worde of the Lord happened vnto Ieremie, saying,

9 Take great stones in thine hand, and hide them in the bricke wal vnder the dooze of Pharaohs house in Thaphnis, that al the men of Iuda may see,

10 And say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, I wil send and cal for Nabuchodonosor the King of Babylon my seruant, and wil set his seat vpon these stones that I haue hid, and hee shall spread his tent ouer them.

11 And when he commeth, hee shall smite the land of Egypt, some with slaughter, some with banishment, and some with the sword.

12 He shall set fire vpon the temple of the Egyptians gods, and burne them vp, and take themseues prisoners: mozeouer, hee shall aray himselfe with the land of Egypt, like as a shepheard putteth on his coate, and shall depart his way from thence in peace.

13 The pillars also of the temple of the Sunne that is in Egypt shall hee breake in pieces, and burne the temples of the Egyptians gods.

The xliij. Chapter.

1 Hee reprooueth the people for their idolatrie. 15 They that set light by the threatnings of the Lord are chastened.

HIS is the word that was shewed to Ieremie concerning all the Iewes which dwell in Egypt, at Migdol, at Thaphnis, at Noph, and in the land of Pathures.

2 Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, See haue seene al the misery that I haue brought vpon Hierusalem, & vpon al the cities of Iuda: so that this day they are desolate, and no man dwelling therein.

3 And that because of the great blasphemies which they committed, to prouoke me vnto anger, in that they went backe to doe sacrifice and worship vnto strange gods, whom neither they nor ye, nor your fathers haue knowen.

4 Howbeit, I sent vnto them my seruants al the Prophets, I rose vp early, I sent vnto them, and gaue them warning, O doe no such abominable things, and things that I hate.

5 But they would not follow nor hearken, to turne from their wickednesse, and to doe no moze sacrifice vnto strange gods.

6 Wherefore mine indignation and wrath was kindled, and it burnt by the cities of Iuda, with the streets of Hierusalem, so that they were made waste and desolate, as it is come to passe this day.

7 Now therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, How happeneth it that ye do so great euil vnto your owne soules, thus to destroy the men and women, children and babes of Iuda, so that none of you is left.

8 Because ye prouoke me to wrath with the workes of your owne hands, when ye offer vnto strange gods in the land of Egypt whereas ye be gone to dwell, that ye might bitterly perish, and that ye might be reuiled, and shamefully entreated of al nations?

9 O haue ye now forgotten the wickednesse of your forefathers, the wickednesse of the kings of Iuda and their wives, the wickednesse that ye your selues and your wives haue done in the land of Iuda, and in the streets of Hierusalem?

10 Yet are ye not forie this day, ye feare not, neither walke ye in my Law, and in my Commandements that I haue giuen vnto you and your forefathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, *I am therefore aduiled a deterriment to punish you, and to roote out al Iuda.

12 As for the remnant of Iuda that purposely went into Egypt there to dwell, I wil take them, and they that all bee destroyed, in the land of Egypt that they perish, being consumed with the sword and with hunger: for from the least vnto the most, they shal perish with the sword and with hunger: Moreover, they shalbe reuiled, ad-horred, shamed, and confounded.

13 For I wil visite them that dwell in Egypt, as I haue visited Jerusalem, with the sword, with hunger, and with pestilence:

14 So that none of the remnant of Juda which are gone to dwell in Egypt, shalbe left to come againe into the lande of Juda, although they thinke to come thither againe, and to dwell there: for none shal come againe but such as are fled away.

15 When al the men which knewe that their wiues had offered vnto strange gods, and a great sort of wiues that stood there, yea and al the people that dwelt there in Egypt in the city of Patihures, answered Ieremie, and said,

16 As for the words that thou hast spoken vnto vs in the Name of the Lord, we wil in no wise heare them:

17 But whatsoeuer goeth out of our owne mouth, that wil we do, we wil doe sacrifice, and offer oblations vnto the Queene of heauen, like as wee and our forefathers, our Kings and our heads haue done in the cities of Juda, and in the streets of Jerusalem: for then had wee plenty-ouines of victuals, then were we in prosperitie, and no misfortune came vpon vs:

18 But since we left to offer and to do sacrifice vnto the Queene of heauen, we haue had scarcenesse of al things, and perish with the sword and hunger.

19 * Last of all, when wee women did sacrifice, and offered vnto the Queene of heauen: did wee make her cakes, and powre vnto her drinke offerings, to doe her seruice, without our husbands wils?

20 Then saide Ieremie vnto al the people, to the men, to the women, & to al the folke which had giuen him that answer, 21 Did not the Lord remember the sacrifices, that yee, your forefathers, your Kings and rulers, which al the people haue offered in the cities of Juda, in the streets of Jerusalem: and hath he not considered this in his minde?

22 In so much that the Lord might no longer suffer the wickednesse of your inuentions, and the abhominable things which yee did: Is not your land desolate and voyde, yea and adhorred, so that no man dwelleth therein any more, as it is come to passe this day?

23 Did not al this happen vnto you, because yee made such sacrifice, and sinned against the Lord? Ye haue not followed his voyce, to walke in his Law, in his ordinances and statutes: yea, this is the cause that all misfortune happened vnto you, as it is come to passe this day.

24 Moreover, Ieremie spake vnto al the people, and to al the women, Heare the word of the Lord al Juda that be in the land of Egypt.

25 Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Yee and your wiues haue spoken with your own mouth the thing that ye haue fulfilled in deed, yea, thus haue ye said, we wil not faste but performe the bowes that we haue bowed, we wil do sacrifice, and powre out drinke offerings to the Queene of heauen: Purposely wil ye set vp your owne meanings, & performe your bowes.

26 And therefore heare the word of the Lord al Juda that dwell in the land of Egypt: Behold, I haue swoyne by my great Name, saith the Lord, that my Name shal not bee rehearsed through any mans mouth of Iuda in al the land of Egypt, to say, The Lord God liueth.

27 For I wil watch to plague them, and not for their wealth: and al the men of Juda that be in the land of Egypt shal perish with the sword, and with hunger, vntill they be utterly destroyed.

28 Neuertheless, those that fled away for the sword, shal come againe out of Egypt into the land of Juda, but there shalbe very few of them: and al the remnant of Juda that are gone into Egypt there to dwell, shal knowe whose wordes shalbe found true, theirs, or mine.

29 Take this for a token, that I wil visite you in this place, saith the Lord, and that ye may knowe howe that I without doubt wil performe my purpose vpon you, to punish you.

30 Behold, saith the Lord, I wil deliuer Pharaoh Nophrea King of Egypt, into the handes of his enemies that seeke after his life: euen as I gaue Zedecias the King of Juda into the handes of Nabuchodonosor King of Babylon his enemy, which sought after his life.

The xlv. Chapter.

Baruch is reprovod of Ieremie.

These are the wordes that Ieremie the Prophet spake vnto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, after that hee had written these Sermons in a booke at the mouth of Ieremie, in the fourth yere of Jehoacim the sonne of Josias King of Juda, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel vnto thee, O Baruch:

3 In so much as thou thoughtst thus when thou wast writing, woe is me, the Lord hath giuen me paine for my trauel, I haue wearied my selfe with sighing, and haue found no rest:

4 Therefore tell him, O Ieremie, that the Lord saith thus: Behold, the thing that I haue builded, wil I breake downe againe, and roote out the thing that I haue planted, yea, the whole land:

5 And seekest thou yet promotion? looke not for it, and desire it not, for I wil bring a miserable plague vpon all flesh, saith the Lord: but thy life wil I giue thee for a praye, in al places whither soeuer thou goest.

The xlvj. Chapter.

1 He propheseth the destruction of Egypt. 2 Deliuerance is promised to Iisael.

Hee solo to the wordes of the Lord to the Prophet Ieremie, which he spake against all the Gentiles.

2 These wordes following preached hee to the Egyptians, concerning the hoise of Pharaoh Necho King of Egypt, when he was in Charchamis beside the water of Euphrates, what time as Nabuchodonosor the King of Babylon stwe him, in the fourth yere of Jehoacim the sonne of Josias King of Juda.

3 Make ready buckler and shield, and goe forth to fight.

4 Harnesse your horses, and set your selues upon them, set your sallets fast on, bring forth speares, scowze your swordes, and put on your breast plates.

5 But alas, howe happeneth it that I see you so afraide? why shrinke yee backe? Their worthies are laine, yea, they runne so fast away, that none of them looketh behinde him: fearefullnesse is fallen upon euery one of them, saith the Lord.

6 The lightest of foot shall not flee away, and the worthies shall not escape: toward the North by the water of Euphrates they did stumble and fall.

7 But what is hee this that swelleth by as it were a flood, roaring and raging like the streames of water?

8 It is Egypt that riseth by like the flood, and casteth out the waters with so great noise: And hee saide, I wil goe by, and wil couer the earth, I wil destroy the citie with them that are therein.

9 Get by ye horses, roule forth ye charrets, come forth worthies, ye Ethiopians, ye Libyans with your bucklers, ye Lydians with your bowes.

10 But this day of the Lord God of hostes is a day of vengeance, that hee may auenge him of his enemies: The sword shall deuoure, it shall be satisfied and bathed in their blood, for the Lord of hostes shall haue a laine offering toward the North, by the water of Euphrates.

11 Goe by vnto Gilead, and bring Triacle, O virgine, thou daughter of Egypt: but in baine shall thou goe to Surgerie, for thy wound shall not be stopped.

12 The Heathen haue heard of thy shame, and the land is full of thy confusion: for one strong man did stumble vpon another, and they are fallen both together.

13 These are the wordes that the Lord spake to the Prophet Jeremie, concerning the coming of Nabuchodonosor the King of Babylon, which was sent to destroy the land of Egypt:

14 Preach out throughe the lande of Egypt, and cause it to be proclaimed at Migdol, Hoph, and Caphnis, and say, Stand stil, make thee ready, for the sword shall consume thee round about.

15 How happeneth it that thy mightie worthies are fallen? why stood they not fall: euen because the Lord thrust them downe.

16 The slaughter was great, for one fell euer still vpon another: and they said, Let vs go againe to our owne people, and to our owne natural countrey, from the cruel sword.

17 They did cry euen there, Pharao the King of Egypt is a King of trouble somnesse: he hath overpast the appointed time.

18 As I liue (saith the King whose Name is the Lord of hostes) so surely as Chabor standeth among the mountaines, and Charinel in the Sea: euen to assuredly shall this mischiefe come vpon Egypt.

19 O thou daughter of Egypt, make ready thy gear to sit: for Hoph shall be boyd and desolate, so that no man shall dwell therein.

20 The land of Egypt is like a goodly faire calfe: but destruction shall come out of the North, I say it commeth.

21 Her waged souldiers that be with her are like fat calves, they also shall see a way together, and not abide: for the day of their slaughter, and the time of their visitation shall come vpon them.

22 The cry of them shall make a noise as the hissing of serpents: for they shall enter in with their hollies, and come against her with axes, as if were hewers downe of wood.

23 And they shall cut downe her wood, saith the Lord, they shall be innumerable: for they shall be more in number then the grasshoppers, so that no man shall be able to tel them.

24 The daughter of Egypt is confounded, and deliuered into the hands of the people of the North.

25 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I wil visite that restless people of Alexandria, Pharao, & Egypt, yea both their gods and their kings, euen Pharao and all them that put their trust in him:

26 Yea, I wil deliuer them into the hands of those that seeke after their liues, namely into the power of Nabuchodonosor the King of Babylon, and into the power of his seruants: and after all these things, it shall be inhabited as aforetime, saith the Lord.

27 Be not thou afraide, O my seruant Jacob, feare not thou, O Israel: for loe, I wil helpe thee from farr, and thy seed from the land of their captiuitie: Jacob also shall come againe and be in rest, he shall prosper, and no man shall do him harme.

28 Feare thou not (O Jacob my seruant) saith the Lord, for I am with thee, and wil destroy all nations among whom I haue scattered thee: neuertheless I will not consume thee, but chasten thee and correct thee, yea, and that with discretion, neither wil I utterly destroy thee.

The xlvij. Chapter.

The word of the Lord against the Philistines.

These are the wordes that the Lord spake vnto Jeremie the Prophet against the Philistines, before that Pharao smote the city of Azah.

2 Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, there shall waters arise out of the North, and shall grow to a great flood, running ouer and cotering the land and all that is therein, the cities, and them that dwell therein: and the men shall cry, and all they that dwell in the land shall mourne.

3 At the noise and stamping of their strong barbed horses, at the shaking of their charrets, and at the rumbling of the wheeles: the fathers shall not looke to their children, so feeble and weak shall their hands be.

4 At the same time when he shall be there to destroy the whole land of the Philistines, he shall make waste both Tyrus, Sidon, and the residue of their aide: for the Lord will destroy the Philistines, the remnant of the Ile of Caphtor.

5 Baldnesse is come vpon Azah, Ascalon is put to silence, with the rest of their valleys: How long wilt thou teare thy selfe?

6 O thou sword of the Lord, how long wilt thou not cease? Turne againe into thy sheath, rest, and leaue off.

7 But how can it cease, when the Lord himselfe hath giuen it a charge against Ascalon, and raised it by against the cities of the Sea coast?

The xlvij. Chapter.

The word of the Lord against the Moabites.

Hus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, against Moab, woe bee to the citie Nebo, for it is layed waste, brought to confusion, and Kiriathaim is taken: Higgab is brought to shame and afraid.

2 Moab can boast no more of Heshbon, for they haue deuised a mischiefe against it: Come, shall they say, let vs roote them out: that they may bee no more a nation, thou also shalt be destroyed, Madmena, and the sword shall persecute thee.

3 A voice shall crye from Hozonaim: Great wasting and destruction shall come vpon them.

4 Moab is made desolate, her little ones haue cried out.

5 For at the going vp vnto Luth hee arose with lamentation and mourning, and downe toward Hozonaim they heard a cruel and deadly crye:

6 *Get you away, saue your liues, and bee like vnto the heath in the wilderness.

7 For because thou hast trusted in thine own wotings and treasure, thou shalt be taken: Chamos with his priests and princes shall goe away into captiuitie.

8 The destroyer shall come vpon all cities, none shall escape: the valleys shall be destroyed, and the fields shall be layd waste, like as the Lord hath spoken.

9 Giue wings vnto Moab, that she get her away speedily: for her cities shall be made so desolate, that no man shall dwell therein.

10 Curled be hee that doeth the wotke of the Lord fraudulently, and curled be he that keepeth backe his sword from shedding of blood.

11 Moab hath euer bene rich and carelesse from her pouth vp, she hath bene still settled vpon lees, shee was neuer yet put out of one vessel into another, that is, she neuer went away into captiuitie, therefore her taste remaineth, and her fauour is not yet changed.

12 But loe, the time commeth, saith the Lord, that I shall send her trussers to trusse her vp, which shall remoue her from her dwelling, and empty her vessels, and breake her wine pots.

13 And Moab shall bee ashamed of Chamos, *like as Israel was ashamed of Bethel, wherein she put her trust.

14 Wherefore doe yee thinke thus, *wee are mighty and strong men of warre?

15 Moab is destroyed, and her cities burnt vp, her chosen yong men be slaine, saith the king, whose name is the Lord of hostes.

16 The destruction of Moab commeth on apace, and her fall is at hand.

17 All ye neighbours mourne for her, and all ye that know her name, say, How happeneth it that the strong staffe and the goodly rodde is thus broken?

18 And thou daughter Dibon, come downe from thy glory, and sit in thirst: for hee that destroyeth Moab, shall come vp to thee also, and breake downe thy strong holds.

19 And thou that dwellest in Aroer, get thee to the streete, and looke about thee, as he them that are fled and escaped, and say, What thing is happened?

20 Oh, Moab is confounded and overcome:

mourne and crie, tell it out at Arnon, that Moab is destroyed:

21 For iudgement shall come vpon the plaine land, namely, vpon Holon, and Jahzah, and vpon Mephaath,

22 And vpon Dibon, vpon Habo, and Beth Deblathaim,

23 vpon Kiriathaim, and vpon Beth Gamul, vpon Beth Maon,

24 And vpon Carioth, vpon Bozra, and all the cities in the land of Moab whether they lie farre or nere.

25 The hozne of Moab is smitten downe, and her arme broken, saith the Lord.

26 Make her drunken, for shee magnified her selfe about the Lord, that men may clap their hands at her vomite, and that she also may be laughed to scorne.

27 Widdest not thou laugh Israel to scorne, as though hee had bene taken with theft among theeues? for so often as thou makest mention of him, thou shippst for ioe.

28 Yee Moabites, leaue the cities, and dwell in rockes of stone, and become like doues that make their nests in holes.

29 As for Moabs pride wee haue heard of it, she is very high minded, I know her stoutnesse, her boasting, her arrogancie, and the pride of her stomache, saith the Lord.

30 I know (saith the Lord) her indignation, she doeth not right, her words are lies, and they haue not dealt truly.

31 Therefore will I mourne for Moab, for whole Moabs sake: my heart shall lament the men of Kir chares.

32 O thou vineyard of Sabamah, I will weepe for thee as for Hazer: thy vine branches shall come ouer the sea, vnto the sea of Hazer, the destroyer shall breake into thy haruest and grape gathering.

33 *Wirth and cheere shall bee taken away from the fertile field, and from the land of Moab: there shall bee no sweete wine in the presse, the treader shall haue no stomache to crie, yea, there shall be none to crie vnto him.

34 Which aforesayd were heard from Heshbon to Eleale, and Jahaz, which lifted vp their voice from Zoar vnto Hozonaim, that bullock of three yeere old: the waters also of Scirra shall be dried vp.

35 Moreover, I will make Moab cease, saith the Lord, from the offerings and censing that she hath made vnto her gods in high places.

36 Wherefore my heart mourneth for Moab like a croude playing an heauie song, and for the mens sake of Kirchares my heart mourneth also, euen as a pipe that pipeth a dolefull song: for their riches which they haue gathered, shall be destroyed.

37 *All heads shall be shauen, and all beards clipped off, all hands bound, and all loines girded about with sackcloth.

38 vpon all the house toppes and freetes of Moab, there shall be lamentable mourning, for I will breake Moab like an vnprofitable vessel, saith the Lord.

39 How is she destroyed? How mourneth she? How doeth Moab hang downe her head, and is ashamed? Thus shall Moab be a laughing stocke, and had in derision of all them that bee round about her.

Esay 16. 10.

Esay 25. 3.
eccle. 7. 18.

40 For thus saith the Lord, beholde, the enemy shall come fleeing as an Eagle, and spread his wings vpon Moab.

41 They shall take the cities, and winne the strong holds: then the mighty mens hearts in Moab shall be like the heart of a woman traouailing with childe.

42 And Moab shall be made so desolate, that she shall no moze be a people, because she hath let by her selfe against the Lord.

43 Feare, pit, and snare shall come vpon thee, O Moab, sayth the Lord.

Elay 24.17.

44 Who so escapeth the feare, shall fall into the pit, and who so getteth out of the pit, shall be taken in the snare: for I wil bring a yere of visitation vpon Moab, sayth the Lord.

45 They that are able to see, shall stand vnder the shadow of Heshbon, for there shall goe a fire out of Heshbon, and a flame from Sion, and shall burne by that proud people of Moab, and the top of those seditious children.

46 Doe bee vnto thee, O Moab, thou people of Chamos shalt perish: yea thy sounes & daughters shall be led away captiue.

47 Yet at the last will I bring Moab out of captiuitie againe, sayth the Lord. Thus farre is of the plague of Moab.

The xlix. Chapter.

1 The word of the Lord against the Ammonites, 7 Against Idumea, 23 Damascus, 28 Cedar, 34 Elam.

AS concerning the Ammonites, thus the Lord saith, Hath Israel no children: or is he without any heire: why hath your king then taken Gad in: wherefore doth his people dwell in his cities?

2 Behold therefore, the time commeth, sayth the Lord, that I will bring a noise of warre into Rabath of the Ammonites, and it shall be laid on a desolate heape, and her cities burnt by, and the Israelites shall be lords ouer those that had them in possession afore, sayth the Lord.

3 Heshbon shall mourne, for Ai shall be rooted out of the ground, sayth the Lord, the cite of Rabath shall cry out, and gird themselues with sackcloth, they shall mourne and run about the walles, for their king shall be led away prisoner, yea his priests and princes with him.

4 Wherefore gloriest thou in the valleys: thy balley hath flowed away, O thou rebellious daughter, and thinkest thou that thou art so safe by reason of thy treasure, that no man shall come to thee?

5 Behold, I wil bring a feare vpon thee, sayth the Lord God of hostes, from all those that be about thee, so that ye shall be scattered every man from another, and no man shall gather them together againe that be fled.

6 But after that, I wil bring the Ammonites also out of captiuitie againe, sayth the Lord.

7 vpon the Edomites hath the Lord of hostes spoken on this manner. Is there no moze wisdom in Cheman: Is there no moze good counsel among his people: Is their wisdom then turned cleane to nought?

8 Get you hence, turne your backs, creepe downe into the deepe, O ye citizens of Dedan: for I wil bring destruction vpon Esau, yea and the day of his visitation.

9 If the grape gatherers come vpon thee, should they not leaue some grapes: If the night robbers come vpon thee, should they not take so much as they thought were enough?

10 But I will make Esau bare, and discouer his secretes, so that hee shall not be able to hide them: his seede shall be wasted away, yea his brethren and his neighbours, and he himselfe shall not be left behinde.

11 Thou shalt leaue thy fatherlesse children behinde thee, and I wil keepe them, and thy widowes shall take their comfort in me.

12 For thus hath the Lord spoken, Behold, they that men thought were binnet to drinke of the cup, haue drunken with the first: and thinkest thou then to be free: No, no, thou shalt neither be quit nor free: but thou must drinke also.

13 For why? I haue swozne by my selfe, sayth the Lord, that Bosrah shall become a wilderness, an open thame, a laughing stocke, and cursing: and all her cite shall be a continual desert.

14 For I am perfectly informed of the Lord, that he hath sent a message already vnto the heathen: Gather you together, and go forth against her, make you ready to battel:

15 For loe, I wil make thee but small among the heathen, and little regarded among men.

16 Thy high stomache, and the pride of thy heart hath deceiued thee, because thou dost dwell in the holes of stonie rockes, and hast the high mountaines in possession: Neuertheless, though thy nest were as high as the Eagles, yet I wil cast thee downe, sayth the Lord.

17 Whereouer, Idumea shall be a wilderness, who so goeth by it, shall be abashed, and wonder at all her miserable plagues.

18 Like as Sodome, Gomoz, and the cities that lay thereabout were turned byside downe, sayth the Lord: so shall no body dwell in Idumea, and no man shall haue his habitation there.

19 Beholde, like as the Lion, so shall a destroyer come by from the pleasant meadows of Iordane, vnto the strong dwelling place, & when I haue made him quiet, I wil make him to see from her, and all chosen men wil I set in aray against her: who is like vnto me: what is he that wil strue with me: what shepheard may stand in my hands?

20 Therefore heare the counsel of the Lord that he hath taken vpon Idumea, and his purpose that hee hath deuised vpon the citizens of Cheman: the least of the stocke shall traile them, and looke what faire habitation they haue, they shall make it waste, and themselues also.

21 At the noise of their fall the earthy shall quake, the crye of their voice shall be heard vnto the red sea.

22 Behold, the enemy shall come and see by hither like as it were an Eagle, and spread his wings vpon Bosrah: then shall the hearts of the worthies in Edom bee as the heart of a woman traouailing of childe.

23 vpon Damascus, Hemath, and Arphad, shall come confusion: for they shall heare euil tidings, they shall be tossed to and fro like the sea that cannot stand still.

24 Damascus shall bee sore afraid, and shall see: trembling commeth vpon her, so row and paine shall ouertake her, as a woman traouailing of childe.

25 But how happeneth it that the famous cite, the cite of my Ioy, is not spared?

The plentyfulness of the soil, the strong situation of the place, and their great wealth caused the Ammonites like a verticillie woman, to blaspheme the Lord, to smee his people, and to be without all feare of enemies.

Abdi. 5.

Abdi.

Gen. 19.

Iob 41.

26 Her young men shall fall in the streets, and all her men of warre shall be taken away in that time, saith the Lord of hostes.

27 I will kindle a fire in the walls of Damascus, which shall consume the palace of Benhadad.

28 As for Cedar and the kingdome of Babilon, whom Nabuchodonosor the King of Babilon smote, the Lord hath spoken thus upon them: Arise, and get you by into Cedar, and destroy the people toward the East.

29 Their tents and their flocks shall they take away, yea their hangings and their vessels, their Camels also shall they carry away with them: they shall cry to them, feare is on euery side.

30 Flee, get you far away, creepe into caues, that ye may dwell there. O ye inhabitants of Babilon, saith the Lord: for Nabuchodonosor the King of Babilon hath holden a counsell concerning you, and concluded his denise against you.

31 Arise, & get you by against ponder rich and carelesse people, saith the Lord, which haue neither gates nor doore barres, but dwell alone.

32 Their Camels shall be a praye, and the droues of their cattel diuen away: Moreover, those which I scatter toward all the winds, and to the farthest parts of the world, yea from all the sides thereof will I bring their destruction, saith the Lord.

33 Babilon also shall be a dwelling for Dragons, and an euermlasting wildernesse, so that no body shall dwell there, and no man shall haue there his habitation.

34 These are the words that the Lord spake to the Prophet Jeremie concerning Elam, in the beginning of the reigne of Zedecias King of Iuda.

35 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Beholde, I will breake the bowe of Elam, their principall strength.

36 And upon Elam I will bring the foure windes from the foure quarters of heauen, and will scatter them against the same foure windes: and there shall be no people, but some of Elam shall flee into them.

37 For I will cause Elam to be afraid of their enemies, and of them that seeke their liues, and will bring vpon them a mischiefe, euery my wraich, saith the Lord: & I will persecute them with the sword, so long till I haue brought them to nought.

38 I will set my thorne in Elam, I will destroy both the king and princes from thence, saith the Lord: but in processe of time I will bring Elam out of captiuitie againe, saith the Lord.

The I. Chapter.

He prophesieth the destruction of Babylon, and the deliuerance of Israel, which was in captiuitie.

The words that the Lord spake vnto the Prophet Jeremie concerning Babylon and the land of the Chaldees:

1 Preach among the Gentiles, let your voice be heard, make a token, cry out, keepe no silence, but say, Babylon is won, Bel is confounded, and Merodach is overcome, yea their gods be brought to shame, & their images burst in pieces:

2 For out of the North there doth come a people against her, which shall make her land so waste, that no body shall dwell therein, neither man nor beast, for they shall flee and depart from thence.

3 In those dayes, and at that time, saith the Lord, the children of Israel shall come, they and the children of Iuda, weeping & making haste, and shall seeke the Lord their God.

4 They shall aske the way to Sion, thither shall they turne their faces, saying, Come, and we will cleaue to the Lord in a covenant that neuer shall be broken.

5 My people haue bene a lost flocke, my shepherds haue deceiued them, & haue made them goe astray vpon the hilles, they haue gone from the mountaine to the litle hill, and forgotten their folde.

6 All they that came vpon them, haue deuoured them, and their enemies said, wee haue made no fault against them, for they haue displeased the Lord, yea, euen the Lord which is the habitation of their righteousnesse, and the hope of their fathers.

7 Flee from Babylon, and depart out of the land of the Chaldees, and bee ye as the rammes that goe before the flocke.

8 For loe, I will wake by an hoste of people from the Northern lande, and bring them vpon Babylon, these shall lay siege to it, and winne it: their arrowes shall not misse, like as a cunning archer shooteth not wrong.

9 And the Chaldees shall be spoiled, & all they that spoile them shall be satisfied, saith the Lord.

10 Although ye were to be cheereful and glad to treade downe mine heritage, and fulfilled your pleasures as the Calues in the grasse, and triumphed ouer them like Bulls, when yee had gotten the victory, 11 Your mothers shall be sore confounded, and they that bare you shall come to shame, she shall be the least set by among the nations, boyd, wasted, and died by.

12 No man shall be able to dwell there for the feare of the Lord, but she shall be whole desolate: all they that go by Babylon shall stand still and be abashed, and shall wonder at all her plagues.

13 Goe forth in your aray against Babylon round about, al ye that can handle bowes, shoot at her, spare no arrowes: for shee hath sinned against the Lord.

14 Cry out against her round about: she shall peeld her selfe, her foundations shall fall, and her walls shall come downe, for it shall be the vengeance of the Lord, yea vengeance shall be taken of her: and as she hath done, so deale ye with her.

15 Root out the tower from Babylon, and him that handleth the sickle in harvest: for feare of the sword of the enemy, euery man shall get him to his owne people, and euery man shall flee to his owne land.

16 Israel is a scattered flocke, the Lions haue disperced them: first the King of the Assyrians deuoured them, last of all this Nabuchodonosor King of Babylon hath buried all their bones.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Behold, I will visit the King of Babylon and his kingdome, as I haue visited the King of the Assyrians.

18 And will bring Israel againe to his pleasant pasture, that hee may feede vpon Charmel and Basan, and bee satisfied vpon the mount Ephraim and Galaad.

19 In those daies, and at the same time, saith the Lord, if the offence of Israel bee sought for, there shall none be found, if men enquire for the sinne of Iuda, there shall be none: for I will be mercifull vnto them whom I suffer to remaine.

21 Goe downe, O thou auenger into the enemies land, and bise them that dwell therein: downe with them, and smite them vpon the backs, sayth the Lord, do according to all that I haue commanded thee.

22 There is gone about the land a crie of a slaughter and great murder, namely, on this manner.

23 How happeneth it that the hammer of the whole world is thus broken and bruised in funder? How chanceth it that Babylon is become a wilderness among the heathen on this manner?

24 I my selfe haue layd a snare for thee, and thou art taken vnawares, thou art trapped and snared: for why? thou hast contended against the Lord.

25 The Lord hath opened his house of ordinance, and brought forth the weapons of his wrath: for the thing that is done in the land of the Chaldees, it is the Lord of hosts worke.

26 Come against her, for this is her ende, breake vp her chests, thersher as ye thersher count, destroy her, that nothing halbe left.

27 Slay all their mighty souldiers, and put them to death: woe be vnto them, for the day and tyme of their visitation is at hand.

28 Mee thinke I heare already a cry of them that be fled and escaped out of the land of Babylon, which shew in Sion the vengeance of the Lord our God, the vengeance of his Temple, yea, a voice of them that cry against Babylon, 29 Call vp all the archers against Babylon, pitch your tents round about her, that none escape, and recompense her as she hath deserued, and according as shee hath done, so deale with her againe: for shee hath set vp herselfe against the Lord, against the holy one of Israel.

30 Therefore shall her young men fall downe in the streets, and all her men of warre shall be rooted out in that day, sayth the Lord.

31 Behold, I speake vnto thee, O thou proud, sayeth the Lord God of hosts, for thy day shall come, euen the tyme of thy visitation.

32 And the proud shall stumble and fall, and no man shall helpe him vp, I will burne by his cities with fire, and it shall consume all that is round about him.

33 Thus sayth the Lord of hosts, The children of Israel & Juda suffer violence together, all they that haue them in captiuitie keepe them fast, and will not let them go.

34 But their auenger and redeemer is mightie, whose name is, The Lord of hosts, he shall mainteine their cause, hee shall make the lande shake, and iudge them that dwell therein one with another.

35 The sword shall come vpon the Chaldees, sayth the Lord, vpon them that dwell in Babylon, vpon their princes, and vpon their wise men.

36 The sword vpon their soothsayers: as for those, they shall become fooles: the sword vpon their worthies, so that they shall stand in feare.

37 The sword vpon their horsemen and charrets, and vpon all the common people that dwell among them, so that they shall all become like women: the sword vpon their treasure, so that it shall be stollen away.

38 I brought vpon their waters, so that they shall be dried vp: for the land worshippeth images, and delighteth woonderfully in idols.

39 Therefore shall wilde beasts, Lamia, and Cat of mountaines, and Estriches dwell therein: for there shall neuer man dwell there, neither shall any man haue his habitation there for euermore.

40 * Like as God destroyed Sodome and Gomor, with the cities that lay thereabout, sayeth the Lord: so shall no man dwell there also, neither shall any man haue there his habitation.

41 Behold, there shall come a people from the North with a great band of men, & many kings shall stand by from the ends of the earth.

42 They beare bowes and bucklers, cruel are they and vnmmercifull: their voice roareth like the raging sea, they ride vpon horses, and come weaponed to fight against thee, O Babylon.

43 As soone as the king of Babylon shall heare tell of them, his hands shall wane feeble, for to w and heatrinesse shall come vpon him as a woman traouelling with child.

44 Behold, like as the Lion commeth by from the swelling of Iordane, vnto the denues of Echan, so will I drie the sea forth, and make them run against her: but whom shall I chuse out and ordaine to such a thing? * for who is like me? or who will strue with me? or what shepheard may stand against me?

45 Therefore heare the counsel that the Lord hath giuen vpon Babylon, and the deuice that hee hath taken vpon the land of the Chaldees, The least among the people shall draw them out, and looke what pleasant houses they haue, they shall lay them waste.

46 The noise at the winning of Babylon shall moue the earth, and the cry shall be heard among the Gentiles.

The Ij. Chapter.

1 How Babylon should be ouerthrowen. 59 Jeremie giueth his booke to Saraias.

Thus hath the Lord sayd, Beholde, I will raise vp a perillous winde against Babylon and her citizens that beare euill will against me.

2 I will send also into Babylon fauners, to fanne her out, and to destroy her land: for in the day of her trouble they shall be about her on euery side.

3 Whereouer, the Lord will say vnto the bowmen, and to them that aduance themselves in their armour: Ye shall not spare her young men, kill downe all her host.

4 Thus the slaine shall fall downe in the land of the Chaldees, and the wounded in the streets.

5 As for Israel and Juda, they shall not be forsaken of their God, of the Lord of hosts, yea, for the holy one of Israels sake, haue the Chaldees filled their land full of sinne.

6 Flee away from Babylon, euery man save his life, that pee be not rooted out with her wickednesse: for the tyme of the Lords vengeance is come, yea, he shall rewarde her againe.

7 Babylon hath beene in the Lords hand a golden cuppe, that maketh all lands drunken: of her wine haue all people drunken, therefore are they out of their wits.

8 * But suddenly is Babylon fallen and destroyed : mourne for her, bring plasters for her wounds, if she may peradventure be healed againe.

9 Wee would haue made Babylon whole, say they : but he is not recouered : therefore will wee let her alone, and goe euery man into his owne countrey : for her iudgement is come into heauen, and is gone by into the clouds.

10 The Lord hath brought forth our righte-ousnesse, and therefore come on, we will shew in Sion the worke of the Lord our God.

11 Make sharpe the arrowes, and multiplie your shields: for the Lord shall raise by the spirit of the king of the Medes, which hath already a desire to destroy Babylon: this shalbe the vengeance of the Lord, & the vengeance of his temple.

12 Set by tokens vpon the walles of Babylon, make your watch strong, set your watchmen in aray, yea, hold priuy watches, and yet for all that shall the Lord go forth with his deuce, which hee hath taken vpon them that dwell in Babylon.

13 O thou that dwellest by the great waters, O thou that hast so great treasure and riches, thine end is come, and the reckoning of thy wunnings.

14 *The Lord of hostes hath sworne by himselfe, that he will ouerwhelme thee with men, like grasshoppers, in number, which with a courage shall cry Alarme against thee.

15 *Yea, cuen the Lord of hostes that with his power made the earth, with his wisdom prepared the round world, and with his discretion spred out the heauens.

16 Alasone as he letteth his voice be heard, the waters in the aire were fierce : hee draweth by the clouds from the ends of the earth, he turneth the lightnings to raine, hee bringeth the winds out of their secret places.

17 If they be esteemed by their wisdom, all men are become fooles : confounded be all the casters of images, for the thing that they make, is but deceit, and hath no breath.

18 Vaine is it, and an erroneous worke, and in the time of visitation it shall perishe.

19 The portion of Jacob is none such : but he that made all things, whose name is the Lord of hostes, he is the rod of his inheritance.

20 Thou hast bene mine hammer and weapons for warre: for with thee haue I broken the people in pieces, and with thee haue I destroyed kingdomes.

21 Through thee haue I beaten to powder horse and horsemen, yea, the charrets, and such as late vpon them.

22 Through thee I haue broken man and woman, old and yong, bachelor and maiden.

23 Through thee haue I destroyed the shepheard and his flocke, the husbandman and his cattell, the princes and the rulers.

24 Therefore will I reward the city of Babylon, and all the inhabitants of Chaldea, with all the euill which they had done vnto Sion, yea, that ye your selues shall see it, sayth the Lord.

25 Beholde, I come vnto thee, thou noisome hill, sayeth the Lord, thou that destroyedst all lands. I will stretch out my hand ouer thee, and call thee downe from the stony rocks, and will make thee a burnt hill.

26 So that neither corner stones shall be taken any more out of thee, but waste and desolate shalt thou lie for euermore, sayth the Lord.

27 Set by a token in the land, blow the trumpets among the heathen, prouoke the nations against her, call the kingdomes of Ararat, Armenia, and Ascanes, against her, set the prince against her, bring as great a fozt of terrible horses against her, as if they were grasshoppers.

28 Prepare against them the people of the Medes, with their kings, princes, and all their chiefe rulers, yea, and the whole land that is vnder him.

29 The land also shall shake and be afrayed, when the deuce of the Lord shall come fourth against Babylon, to make the land of Babylon so waste, that no man shall dwell any more therein.

30 The woortrees of Babylon shall leaue the battell, and keepe themselues in strong holdes, their strength hath failed them, they shall be like women, their dwelling places shall be burnt by, their barres shalbe broken.

31 One pursuuant shall meet another, yea, one post shall come by another, to bring the king of Babylon tidings that his city is taken on euery side, 32 The foords occupied, the fennes burnt by, and the souldiers soze afrayd.

33 For thus sayth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, The daughter of Babylon hath bene in her time like as a tizingling flooze, but shortly shall her haruett come.

34 Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon hath deuoured and destroyed me, he hath made me an empty vessel, he swallowed me by like a dragon, and filled his belly with my delicacies, he hath cast me out.

35 My substance wherof he hath spoiled me, and the thing that was left me, which he hath caried away, cry out against Babylon, sayth the daughter that dwelleth in Sion, yea, and my blood also against the Chaldees, sayth Hierusalem.

36 Therefore thus sayth the Lord, Beholde, I will defend thy cause, and avenge thee, I will drinke by her Sea, and drie by her water springs.

37 Babylon shall become an heape of stones, a dwelling place for dragons, a fearfull place and woondring, and no man shall dwell there.

38 They shall roar together like lions, and as the yong lions when they be angry, so shall they bend themselues.

39 In their heat I will giue them a dinner, and they shall be drunken for toy: then shall they sleepe an euerlasting sleepe, and neuer wake, sayeth the Lord.

40 I will carry them downe to be slaine like sheepe, like weathers and goats.

41 How was Sefach woon? How was the glory of the whole land taken? how happneth it that Babylon is so wondred at among the heathen?

42 The sea is risen ouer Babylon, and hath couered her with her great waues.

43 Her cities are layed waste, the land licth vnbuilted and void, it is a land where no man dwelleth, and where no man trauelleth.

44 Whereouer, I will visit Bel at Babylon, and the thing that he hath swallowed by, that same shall I plucke out of his mouth: the Gentiles also shall runne no more vnto him, yea, and the walles of Babylon shall fall.

45 O my people, come out of Babylon, that euery man may saue his life from the fearefull wrath of the Lord.

46 Be not faint hearted, and feare not at euery rumour that shall be heard in the land: for euery yere bringeth new tidings, and in the yere following new tidings, and robbing in the land, and Lord vpon Lord.

47 And loe, the time commeth, that I will visit the images of Babylon, and the whole land shall be confounded, yea, and her name shall lie in the midst of her.

48 Heauen and earth with all that is therein shall reioyce ouer Babylon, when the destroyers shall come vpon her from the North, sayeth the Lord.

49 Like as Babylon hath beaten downe and slaine many out of Israel, so shall there fall many, and be slaine in all her kingdome.

50 Ye that haue escaped the sword, haste you, stand not still, remember the Lord afarre off, and thinke vpon Hierusalem.

51 For wee are ashamed to heare the blasphemies, our faces were couered with shame, because the strange aliantes came into the sanctuary of the Lord.

52 Wherefore behold, saith the Lord, the time commeth that I will visit the images of Babylon, and thozow the whole land they shall mourne and fall.

53 Though Babylon climed vp into heauen, and kept her power on high, yet shall I send her destroyers, sayth the Lord.

54 A piteous cry shall be heard from Babylon, and a great miserie from the land of the Chaldees.

55 When the Lord destroyeth Babylon, and when he driueth out the hic stomache and proud boasting, wherewith they haue bene as furious as the waves of the great water floods, & made great crakes with their words.

56 For the destroyer shall come vpon her, euen vpon Babylon, which shall take their worthies, and breake their bowes: for the God of recompense, euen the Lorde shall sufficiently recompense them.

57 Yea, sayth the Lord, I will make their princes, their wise men, their chiefe rulers, their nobles, and their worthies drunken, so that they shall deepe an euerlasting sleepe, & neuer wake: thus sayth the king, whose name is The Lord of hosts.

58 Moreover, thus sayth the Lord of hosts, The thicke wall of Babylon shall be broken, and her hic gates shall be burnt vp, and the thing that the Gentiles and the people haue wrought with great trauell and labour, shall come to nought, and be consumed with fire.

59 This is the charge that Ieremy the Prophet gaue vnto Saraiah the sonne of Neriah the sonne of Maasiah, when hee went toward Babylon with Zedecias the king of Iuda, in the fourth yere of his reigne: nowe this Saraiah was a peaceable prince.

60 Ieremie wrote in a booke all the miserie that should come vpon Babylon, yea, & all these sermons that be witten against Babylon.

61 And gaue Saraiah this charge, when thou comest vnto Babylon, see that thou read these words, 62 And say, O Lord, thou art determined to root out this place, so that neither people nor cattell shall dwell there any more, but to lie waste for euer.

63 And when thou hast read out the booke, binde a stone to it, and cast it in the midd of Euphrates, 64 And say, Euen thus shall Babylon sinke, and be thrust downe with the burden of trouble that I will bring vpon her: so that shee shall neuer come vp againe. Thus farre are the preachings of Ieremie.

The liij. Chapter.

1 He repeateth the taking of Zedecias. 4 Hierusalem is taken of the Chaldees. 14 The Temple is spoiled and robbed.

Zedecias * was one and twentieth yeres old when he was made king, and reigned eleuen yeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name was Libnia, Ieremies daughter of Libnia.

2 He liued wickedly before the Lord, euen as Jehoachim did.

3 For the Lord was angrie at Hierusalem and Iuda, so long till he had cast them out of his presence: and Zedecias fell from the king of Babylon.

4 * But in the ninth yere of his reigne, in the tenth moneth, the tenth day of the moneth, it happened that Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon with all his host came before Hierusalem, and besieged it, and made bulwarke round about it.

5 And this besieging of the city endured vnto the eleuenth yere of king Zedecias.

6 And in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, there was a great hunger in the citie, that there were no more victuals for the people of the land.

7 So all the souldiers brake a way, and fled out of the citie by night, thozow the way of the port, betweene the two walles, by the kings garden: (Nowe the Chaldees had compassed the city round about) yet went those men their way thozow the wildernesse.

8 And so the Chaldees followed vpon them, and tooke Zedecias the king in the field of Jericho, when his host was run from him.

9 So they carried the king away prisoner to Babelath, vnto the king of Babylon in the land of Hemath, where he gaue iudgement vpon him.

10 The king of Babylon also caused Zedecias sonnes to be slaine before his face, yea, and put all the princes of Iuda to death at Babelath.

11 Moreover, he put out the eyes of Zedecias, & caused him to be bound with two chaines, to be carried vnto Babylon, and let him lie in prison till he died.

12 Nowe the tenth day of the fifth moneth, in the nineteenth yere of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine, and the king of Babylons seruants, came vnto Hierusalem, 13 And burnt by the house of the Lord: he burnt by also the kings palace, all the houses, and all the gorgeous buildings in Hierusalem.

14 And the whole host of the Chaldees that were with the chiefe captaine, brake downe all the walles of Hierusalem round about.

15 As for the pooze people, and such folke as was yet left in the city, which also were fallen to the king of Babylon, yea, and what people as yet remained, Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine carried them a way prisoners.

16 But the pooze people of the countrey did Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine leaue in the land, to occupy the vineyards and the fields.

17 The Chaldees also brake the brazen pillars that were in the house of the Lord, yea, the seat and the brazen lauer that was in the house of the Lorde, and carried all the mettall of them vnto Babylon.

18 They tooke a way also the caldrons, shouels, fleshhooks, spinklers, spoones, and all the brazen vessels that were occupied in the seruice, 19 With the basons, colepannes, spinklers, pots, candlesticks, spoones, and cups, whereof some were of golde, and some of siluer.

20 The chiefe captaine tooke also the two pillars, the latter, the twelue brazen bullocks that stood vnder the seat which king Solomon had made in the house of the Lord: and all the vessels contained so much mettall, that it might not be weighed.

21 For euery pillar was eigheteene cubits hie, and the rope that went about it was twelue cubits, and foure fingers thicke, and round.

22 Nowe vpon the rope were brazen knops, and euery knop was siue cubits high, and vpon the knops were hoops, and pomegranats round about of cleane brasse.

23 After this maner were both the pillars fashioned with the pomegranates, whereof there were an hundred ninety and sixe, which hanged vpon the hoops round about.

24 The chiefe captaine also tooke Saraiash the hie Priest, and Sophoniah that was chiefe next him, and the three keepers of the dooze.

25 Hee tooke out of the city a chamberlaine, which was captaine of the souldiers, and seuen men that were the kings seruants, which were found in the citie: and Sopher a captaine that bled to murder the men of warre, with three score men of the countrey, that were taken in the citie:

26 These Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine tooke, and carried them to the king of Babylon, vnto Reblath:

27 And the king of Babylon caused them to be put to death at Reblath in the lande of Ieremath: and thus Iuda was led away captiue out of his owne land.

28 This is the sum of the people whom Nabuchodonosor led away captiue: In the seventh yere of his reigne, he carried away of the Iewes, three thousand twenty and three.

29 In the eighteenth yere, Nabuchodonosor carried away from Hierusalem, eight hundred thirty and two persons.

30 In the three and twentieth yere of Nabuchodonosor, Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine tooke away seuen hundred forty and siue Iewes prisoners. The whole summe of the prisoners is foure thousand and siue hundred.

31 In the thirtie and seventh yere after that Iehoachim the king of Iuda was carried away, in the siue and twentieth day of the twelfth moneth, Cuilmerodach king of Babylon (the same yere that he reigned) gaue Iehoachim the king of Iuda his pardon, and let him out of prison, 32 And spake louingly to him, and set his throne about the thrones of the other kings that were with him in Babylon.

33 He changed also the clothes of his prison, yea, and did eat with him all his life long.

34 And he had a continuall living giuen him of the king of Babylon, euery day a certaine thing allowed him, all the dayes of his life, vntill he died.

The end of the booke of the Prophet Ieremie.

The Lamentations of the Prophet Ieremie.

The first Chapter.

It happened after Israel was brought into captiuitie, and Hierusalem destroyed, that Ieremie the Prophet sate weeping, and forowfully bewailed Hierusalem, and sighing and howling with an heauie and wofull heart, sayd.

How sitteth the citie so desolate, that sometime was full of people? How is shee become like a widow, which was great among nations? How is shee brought vnder tribute, that ruled lands?

2 *Shee weepeth soze in the night, so that the teares runne downe her cheeks: for among all her louers, there is none that giueth her any comfort, yea, her next friends transgresse against her, and are become her enemies.

3 Iuda went away by reason of the affliction and great bondage: she dwelleth among the heathen, she findeth no rest, all they that persecute her, took her in strat places, where she could not escape.

4 The streets of Sion mourne, because no man cometh no more to the solempne feasts: all her gates are desolate, her priests make lamentation, her maidens are carefull, and she herselfe in great heauinesse.

5 Her enemies haue bene rulers ouer her, and her enemies haue prospered, because the Lord hath chastened her for her great wickednesse: her children are led away captiue before their enemies.

6 All the beauty of the daughter of Sion is away, her princes are become like harts that finde no pasture, they are diuened away before their enemy, so that they haue no moze power.

7 Now Hierusalem remembered in the time of her misery and bare estate, all her ioy and pleasure that shee hath had in times past, seeing her people is brought downe vnder the power of their enemies, and there is no man for to helpe her: her enemies stand looking at her, & laugh her Sabboth dayes to scoorne.

8 Hierusalem hath sinned grievously, therefore is she come in decay: all they that had her in honour, despise her, for they haue seene her filthinesse, yea, shee sigheth, and is ashamed of herselfe.

9 Her skirts are defiled, shee remembered not her last end, therefore is her fall so woonderfull, and there is no man to comfort her: Lord consider my trouble, for mine enemy hath the upper hand.

10 The enemy hath put his hand to all the precious things that shee had, yea, euē before her eyes came the heathen in and out of the sanctuary, whom thou neuertheless hast forbidden to come within thy congregation.

11 All her people seeke their bread with heauinesse, and looke what precious thing euery man hath, that giueth hee for meat to saue his life: consider, O Lord, and see how vile I am become.

12 Haue ye not regard all ye that goe foreby, behold, and see if there be any sorrow like vnto mine, where with the Lord hath troubled me in the day of his fearefull wrath.

13 From aboue hath he sent downe a fire into my bones, and it burneth them cruelly: hee hath laid a net for my feet, and throwen me wide open, he hath made me desolate, so that I must euer be mourning.

14 The yoke of my transgressions is bound fast to his hand, they are wrapped or wreathen, and come by about my necke: he hath caused my strength to faile, the Lord hath deliuered me into those hands wherout I can not quit my selfe.

15 The Lord hath destroyed all the mightie men that were in me, he hath proclaimed an appointed time to slaughter all my best men: the Lord hath troden downe the daughter of Iuda, like as it were in a wine presse.

16 Therefore doe I weepe, and mine eyes gush out of water: for the comfort that should quicken me, is farre from mee: my children are diuened away, for why? the enemy hath gotten the upper hand.

17 Sion casteth out her handes, and there is no man to comfort her: the Lord hath layed the enemies round about Iacob, and Hierusalem is become abomination in the midst of them.

18 The Lord is righteous, for I haue prouoked his countenance vnto anger: Doe take heed all ye people, and consider my heauinesse, my maidens and my young men are led away into captivity.

19 I called for my louers, but they beguiled me, for my priests and counsellors, but they perished, euē while they sought for meat to saue their liues.

20 Consider (O Lord) how I am troubled, my wombe is disquieted, my heart turneth about in me, and I am full of heauinesse, because I rebelled subburnly: the sword hurteth mee without, and within I am like vnto death.

21 They heare my mourning, but there is none that will comfort mee: all mine enemies haue heard of my trouble, and are glad thereof, because thou hast done it, and thou hast brought forth the time which thou calledst, when they also shalbe like vnto me.

22 Let all their wickednesse come before thee, and doe thou to them as thou hast done vnto me for all my trespasses: for my sorrow is very great, and my heart is heauy.

The ij. Chapter.

Alas, howe hath the Lord darkened the daughter of Sion in his wrath? as for the hono. of Israel, he hath cast it downe from heauen vnto the earth, and hee remembered not his owne footstool when he was angry.

2 The Lord hath cast out all the habitations of Iacob without any fauour, all the strong places of the daughter of Iuda hath hee broken downe in his wrath, and throwen them downe to the ground, her kingdome and her princes hath hee profaned.

3 In the wrath of his indignation hee hath broken all the hornes of Israel, he hath withdrawn his right hand from the enemy, yea, a flame of fire is kindled in Iacob, and hath consumed by all round about.

4 He hath bent his bowe like an enemy, he hath fastened his right hand like an aduerlarie, and euery thing that was pleasant to see, hee hath laine: he hath powred out his wrath like a fire into the Tabernacle of the daughter of Sion.

5 The Lord is become like as it were an enemy, he hath deuoured Israel and all his palaces, yea, all his strong holds hath hee destroyed, and filled the daughter of Iuda with much sorrow and heauinesse.

6 His Tabernacle as a garden hath hee destroyed, his solemne meetings hath hee put downe, the Lord hath brought it so to passe, that the high solemne feasts and Sabboths in Sion are cleane forgotten: in his heauy displeasure hath hee despised the king and priests.

7 The Lord hath forsaken his owne altar, and hath abhorred his owne sanctuary, & hath giuen the walles of their towers into the hands of their enemy: their enemies made a noise in the house of the Lord, as it had bene a solemne feast day.

8 The Lord thought to breake downe the walles of the daughter of Sion, hee spread out his line, and drew nigh in his hand till he had destroyed them: therefore moorne the turrets, and the broken walles fall downe together.

9 Her gates are sunke downe to the ground, her barres are broken and smitten in sunder, her king and princes are carried away to the Gentiles: they haue not the lawe, neither her prophets haue any vision from the Lord.

10 The Senators of the daughter Sion sit vpon the ground in silence, they haue drawed ashes vpon their heads, and girded themselves with sackcloth, the maidens of Hierusalem

Or, and is turned backward.

Whom hee hath brought through fire is most grieuous, which there is called the pole of hisse fastened in the robe of hisse, because by no means it can be broken off or recalled, but only of Gods speciall grace and mercy.

hang downe their heads to the ground.

11 Mine eyes do faile through weeping, my bowels doe swell, my liver is powred vpon the earth, for the great hurt of the daughter of my people, seeing the children and babes did swoon in the streets of the city.

12 They haue sayd to their mothers, where is || bread and drinke? when they fell downe as wounded in the streets of the city, and when they died in their mothers bosome.

13 What shall I take to witnesse against thee, or what shall I liken to thee, O daughter Hierusalem? To whom shall I compare thee, O thou daughter Sion, to comfort thee withall? thy heart is like a maine sea, who may heale thee?

14 Thy prophets haue looked out baine and foolish things for thee, they haue not seved thee of thy wickednesse, to keepe thee from captiuitie: but they haue seene out for thee || burdens of vanity and banishment.

15 All they that goe by the way, clap their hands at thee, hilling and wagging their heads vpon the daughter of Hierusalem, and say, Is this the city that men call so faire, and the ioy of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies gape vpo thee, they hisse and grinde their teeth, saying, Let vs deuoure, for the time that we looked for is come, we haue found and seene it.

17 The Lord hath fulfilled the thing that he was purposed to doe, and performed his word that he had || deuised long ago: he hath destroyed and not spared, he hath caused thine aduersary to triumph ouer thee, & set vp the home of thine enemy.

18 * Their heart cried vnto the Lord, O thou || city of the daughter Sion, let thy teares runne downe like a riuer day and night, rest not, and let not the apple of thine eye leaue off.

19 Stand vp, cry in the night in the beginning of the watch, powre out thine heart like water before the Lord: lift vp thine hands towards him, for the liues of thy yooing children that die of hunger in the streets.

20 Beholde, O Lord, and consider to whom thou hast done thus: shall the women then eat their owne fruit, euen children of a span long? shall the priests and prophets be slaine in the sanctuary of the Lord?

21 Yooing and olde lie thozow the streets vpon the ground, my maidens and yooing men are slaine with the sword, whom thou in the day of thy wrathful indignation hast put to death, yea, euen thou hast put them to death, and not spared them.

22 Why || terrours that are round about me, hast thou called as it were to a feast day, so that in the day of the Lords wrath none escaped, neither was any left behinde: those that I haue brought vp and nourished, hath mine enemy destroyed.

The iij. Chapter.

Am the man that through the rod of his wrath haue experience of misery.

2 He droue me forth, and led me, yea, into darkenesse, but not into light.

3 Surely against me is he turned, hee turned his hand dayly against me.

4 My flesh and my skin hath he made olde, and my bones hath he bruised.

5 He hath builded against me, and closed me in with gall and trauell.

6 He hath set me in darkenesse, as they that be dead for euer.

7 He hath hedged me in, that I can not get out, and he hath layd heauy links vpon me.

8 Though I cry and call piteouly, yet heareth he not my prayer.

9 He hath stopped by my wayes with squared stones, and made my paths crooked.

10 He layeth wait for mee like a beare, and as a lion in a hole.

11 He hath marred my wayes, and broken me in pieces, he hath layed me waste.

12 He hath bent his bowe, and made me as it were a marke to || shoot at.

13 The arrowes of his quiver hath hee shot, euen into my reines.

14 I am laughed to scoorne of all my people, they make songs vpon me all the day long.

15 He hath filled me with bitternesse, & made me drunken with wormwood.

16 Hee hath smitten my teeth in pieces with stones, and roused me in the dust.

17 My soule departed from peace: I forgoat all good things.

18 And I sayd, My strength and my hope is perished from the Lord.

19 O remember yet my misery and my trouble, the wormwood, and the gall.

20 Yea, in remembering my soule doth still remember them, and it is humbled within me.

21 I consider these things in my heart, and I get hope againe.

22 Namely, it is of the Lords mercies that we are not bitterly consumed, for truly his pitifull compassion hath not ceased.

23 Reue mercies shall the Lord shewe vpon thee early in the day springing, (O Lord) great is thy faithfulness.

24 The Lord is my portion, sayth my soule, therefore will I hope in him.

25 O howe good is the Lord vnto them that put their trust in him, and to the soule that seeketh after him?

26 The good man with stillnesse and patience tarieth for the health of the Lord.

27 Good it is for a man to take the yoke vpon him from his youth by.

28 He sitteth alone, he holdeth him still, because he hath taken the Lords yoke vpon him.

29 He layeth || his face vpon the earth, if there happen to be any hope.

30 He offreth his cheeke to the smiter, he will be content with reproches.

31 For the Lord will not forsake for euer.

32 But though hee punish, yet according to the multitude of his mercies hee receiveth to grace againe.

33 For hee doth not plague willingly, nor afflict the children of men,

34 To tread all the prisoners of the earth vnder his feet,

35 To decline the iudgement of man before the most high,

36 To condemne a man in his cause: * the Lord hath no pleasure in such things.

37 What is he then that saith, and it cometh

||Or, for the arrow.

||Or, mouth.

*The Lord seeth it not.

to passe, and the Lord commanded it not?
 38 * Out of the mouth of the most high, goeth not euill and good?
 39 Wherfore then mourneth the liuing man? let him mourne for his owne sinne.
 40 Let vs looke well vpon our wayes, and remember our selues, and turne againe to the Lord.
 41 Let vs lift our hearts with our hands vnto God that is in the heauens.
 42 We haue sinned and rebelled, therefore hast thou not spared.
 43 Thou hast covered vs in thy wrath, and persecuted vs: thou hast slaine without any fauour.
 44 Thou hast hid thy selfe in a cloud, that our praycrs should not go thorow.
 45 Thou hast made vs as the offscouring and refuse in the midst of the people.
 46 All our enemies gape vpon vs.
 47 Feare and a snare is come vpon vs, yea, desolation and destruction.
 48 Whole riuers of water gush out of mine eyes, for the hurt of the daughter of my people.
 49 Mine eye runneth, and can not cease, for there is no rest.
 50 Till the Lord looke downe from heauen, and consider.
 51 Mine eyes because my heart, because of all the daughters of my city.
 52 Mine enemies hunted me out sharply like a bird, yea, and that without a cause.
 53 They haue shut by my life in a dungeon, and cast stones vpon me.
 54 The waters flowed ouer my head: then thought I, Now am I vndone.
 55 I called vpon thy name, O Lord, out of the deepe pit.
 56 Thou hast heard my voice, withdraue not thine eare from my sighing and crying.
 57 Thou dreest well nigh vnto mee when I called vpon thee: and hast sayd, feare not.
 58 Thou (O Lord) hast maintained the cause of my soule, and hast redeemed my life.
 59 O Lord, thou hast seene my wrong, take thou my cause vpon thee.
 60 Thou hast seene all their vengeance, and all their deuices against me.
 61 Thou hast heard their despyghtful words, O Lord, yea, and all their imaginations against mee:
 62 The lips of them that rise against me, and their deuices that they take against me all the day long.
 63 Beholde also their sitting downe and their rising vp, how I am their song.
 64 Reward them, O Lord, according to the works of their hands.
 65 Giue them an obstinate heart, euen thy curse.
 66 Persecute them, O Lord, with thine indignation, and root them out from vnder the heauen.

The iiii. Chapter.

How is the golde become so durtie: and the most fine golde so changed: and the stones of the Sanctuarie are scattered in the corner of euerie street.

2 The children of Sion that were alway in honour, and clothed with the most precious golde: howe are they now become like earthen vessels, the worke of the potters hand?

3 The dragons giue their yong ones sucke with bare breasts, but the daughter of my people is cruell, like the estriches in the wilderness.

4 The tongues of the sucking children cleaue to the rooffe of their mouthes for very thirst: the yong children aske bread, but there is no man that giueth it them.

5 They that were wont to fare delicately, perish in the streets: they that afore were brought by in purple, make now much of dounge.

6 The sinne of the daughter of my people is become greater then the wickednesse of Sodom, that suddenly was destroyed, and not taken with hands.

7 Her abstainers were whiter then the snow or milke, their colour was fresh, redde as corall, their beauty like the saphyre.

8 But nowe their faces be very blacke, inso much that thou shouldest not know them in the streets: their skin cleaue to their bones, it is withered, and become like a dry stocke.

9 They that be slaine with the sword, are happier then such as die of hunger, for these perish away as they were stricken thorow for the lacke of the fruits of the field.

10 The women which of nature are pitifull, haue sodden their owne children with their hands, that they might be their meat in the miserable destruction of the daughter of my people.

11 The Lorde hath performed his heauie wrath, he hath powred out the furiousnesse of his displeasure: hee hath kindled a fire in Sion, which hath consumed the foundations thereof.

12 Neither the kings of the earth, nor all the inhabitants of the world would haue beleueed that the enemy and aduersary should haue come in at the gates of Ierusalem.

13 Which neuertheless is come to passe for the sinne of her prophets, and for the wickednesse of her priests, that haue shed innocent blood in the midst of her.

14 As blinde men went they stumbling in the streets, and slained themselves with blood, so that the heathen would not touch their garments.

15 But they cried vnto them, flee ye polluted, away, get you hence, touch not: for they are vncleane, and be remooued, yea, they haue sayd among the heathen, They shall no more dwell there.

16 The countenance of the Lord hath banished them, and shal neuer looke more vpon them: for they themselves neither regarded the priests, nor pitied their elders.

17 Wherfore our eyes failed vs, whilest wee yet looked for our haire helpe, seeing wee euer waited vpon a people that could doe vs no good.

18 They lay so sharpe wait for vs, that wee can not go safe vpon the streets, for our end is at hand, our dayes are fulfilled, our end is come.

19 Our persecuters are swifter then the eagles of the aire: they followed vpon vs ouer the mountaines, and layd wait for vs in the wilderness.

20 The very breath of our mouth, euen the anointed of the Lord himselfe was taken in their net, of whom wee sayd, vnder his shadow wee shalbe preferred aluise among the heathen.

the fire gaue a glister, and out of the fire there went lightning.

14 And the beasts came, and returned like lightning.

15 When I had considered the beasts, behold, a wheele vpon the earth nigh to the beasts, to euery of the foure before his face.

16 The fashion & worke of the wheelles was like the colour of Charlis, and the foure had one fashion, and their fashion and their worke was as though it were a wheele in the middle of a wheele.

17 When they went, they went vpon their foure sides: they turned not when they went.

18 They had rings, and height, and were fearefull to behold: and their rings were full of eyes round about them foure.

19 When the beasts went, the wheelles went also by them: and when the beasts were list by from the earth, the wheelles were list by.

20 Whithersoever the spirit was to goe, they went, and thither was the spirit of the wheelles to go, and the wheelles were list by before them: for the spirit of the beasts was in the wheelles.

21 When the beasts went, they went, & when they stood, they stood, and when they were list by from the earth, the wheelles were list by before them: for the spirit of the beasts was in the wheelles.

22 And the similitude of the firmament vpon the heads of the beasts, was like the colour of chrysell, woonderfull, spread ouer their heads aboue.

23 And vnder the firmament their wings were straight forth one towards another, euery one had two couering them, and euery one had two couering them, euen their bodies.

24 And when they went, I heard the noise of their wings, like the noise of many waters, as the voice of the almighty, the voice of speech, as the noise of an host: when they stood, they let downe their wings.

25 And there was a voice from the firmament, that was ouer their heads, when they stood, and had let downe their wings.

26 And aboue the firmament that was ouer their heads, there was the fashion of a throne, like a Saphire stone: and vpon the similitude of the throne by appearance, as the similitude of a man aboue vpon it.

27 And I sawe as the appearance of amber and as the similitude of fire round about within, and from the appearance of his loines by ward: and from the appearance of his loines downe ward, I sawe as the likennesse of fire, and brightnesse round about it.

28 As the likennesse of a bow that is in a cloud in the day of raine, so was the appearance of the brightnesse round about: this was the appearance of the similitude of the glory of the Lorde, and when I sawe it, I fell vpon my face, & hearkened vnto the voice of one that spake.

The ij. Chapter.

The Prophet is sent to call the people from their error.

And then sayd he vnto me, Stand vp vpon thy feet (thou sonne of man) and I will talke with thee. And the spirit entred into me when he had spoken vnto me, and let mee vpon my feet, so that I heard him that spake vnto me.

3 And he said vnto me, Thou sonne of man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to a rebellious people, which haue rebelled against mee, both they and their forefathers haue wickedly behaued themselves against me, euen vnto this very day.

4 For they are children of a hard face, and stiff heart, I doe send thee vnto them, and thou shalt say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God.

5 And whether they will heare or refuse (for they are a rebellious house) yet they may know that there hath bene a Prophet among them.

6 And thou sonne of man feare them not, neither be afraid of their words, for byers and thornes are with thee, and thou dost dwell among scorpions: feare not their wordes, nor be abashed at their lookes, for they are a rebellious house.

7 And thou shalt speake my wordes vnto them, whether they will heare or refuse, for they are rebellious.

8 Therefore thou sonne of man, obey thou all things that I say vnto thee, and be not thou rebellious like the rebellious house: open thy mouth, and eat that I giue thee.

9 And I looked, and behold, a hand was sent vnto me, and loe, in it was a roule of a booke.

10 And he opened it before me, and it was written within and without, and there was written therein lamentations, and mourning, and woe.

The iij. Chapter.

1 The Prophet being fed with the word of God, and with the constant boldnesse of the spirit, is sent vnto the people that were in captiuitie. 17 The office of true preachers.

After this sayd he vnto me, Thou sonne of man, eat whatsoeuer thou findest, eat this roule, and goe thy way, and speake vnto the house of Israel.

2 So I opened my mouth, and he scdde me with this roule.

3 And he said vnto me, Thou sonne of man, thy belly shall eat, and thy bowels shalt thou fill with this roule that I giue thee: then did I eat, and it was in my mouth as sweet as honey.

4 And he said vnto me, Thou sonne of man, go, get thee vnto the house of Israel, and declare my wordes vnto them.

5 For not to a people of profound lips and hard language art thou sent, but vnto the house of Israel.

6 Not to many nations of a strange speech and hard languages, whose wordes thou vnderstandest not: certainly if I had sent thee vnto them, they would haue hearkened vnto thee.

7 But the house of Israel will not hearken vnto thee, for they will not hearken vnto mee: for all the house of Israel haue stiff foreheads, and stubburne hearts.

8 Beholde therefore, I haue made thy face strong against their faces, & thy forehead strong against their foreheads.

9 As an adamant harder then the flint stone haue I made thy forehead: thou shalt not feare them, nor be abashed at their lookes, for they are rebellious house.

What is, a hand in the manner of the heart of my master, (Ezech.)

What is, a hand in the manner of the heart of my master, (Ezech.)

Strange speech.

10 He sayd moreouer vnto me, Thou sonne of man, all my words that I shall speake vnto thee, receiue in thine heart, and hearken with thine eares.

11 And goe, get thee to the captiuitie, to the children of thy people, and thou shalt speake vnto them, and shalt say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God: but surely they will not heare, neither wil they leaue off.

12 With that the spirit tooke mee by, and I heard behind me a voice of a great rushing, to wit, Blessed be the glory of Iehouah from his place.

13 I heard also the noise of the wings of the beasts ioining one with another, and the racking of the wheeles that were before them, euen a noise of great rushing.

14 Now when the spirit list me by and tooke me away, I went in bitternesse and furie of my spirit: but the hand of the Lord vpon mee was strong.

15 Then I came to the captaines in Chelabib that dwelt by the riuer Chebar, and I sate where they sate, and I remained there seuen daies astonished among them.

16 And when the seuen dayes were expired, the Lord sayd vnto me,

17 Thou sonne of man, * I haue made thee a watchman vnto the house of Israel: therefore thou shalt heare the word at my mouth, and giue them warning from me.

18 When I shall say vnto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die, & thou giest not him warning, nor speakest to admonish the wicked of his euill way, and so to liue: then shall the same brigodly man die in his owne vnrightheousnes, but his blood will I require of thine hand.

19 Neuerthelesse, if thou giue warning vnto the wicked, and he yet turne not from his brigodliness, and from his wicked way: he shall die in his owne wickednesse, but thou hast deliuered thy soule.

20 Again, if a righteous man turne from his rightheousnesse, and do the thing that is euil, I will lay a stumbling blocke before him: and he shall die, because thou hast not giuen him warning, die shall hee in his owne sinne, so that his rightheousnesse which hee hath done shall not bee thought vpon: but his blood will I require at thine hand.

21 Neuerthelesse, if thou admonish that righteous man, that the righteous sinne not, and so the righteous doe not sinne: then shall he liue, because he hath receiued thy warning, and thou hast deliuered thy soule.

22 And the hand of the Lord was there vpon me, and he sayd vnto me, || Stand vp, and go into the field, that I may there talke with thee.

23 So when I had risen vp, and gone forth into the field, behold, the * glory of the Lord stood there, * like the glory which I saw by the riuer Chebar: then fell I downe vpon my face.

24 And the spirit came into me, which set me vp vpon my feete, and spake vnto me, and sayd vnto me, || Goe thy way, and shut thy selfe in thy house.

25 Behold, O thou sonne of man, || they haue prepared bonds against thee, and they will bind thee with them, and thou shalt not goe out among them.

26 And I will make thy tongue <sup>b</sup> cleaue to the rooffe of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumb, and not be as a reppouer vnto them: for they are a rebellious house.

27 But when I speake vnto thee, I wil open thy mouth, and thou shalt say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God, who so heareth, let him heare, who so leaueeth off, let him leaue: for they are a rebellious house.

The iiiiij. Chapter.

1 The siege of the citie of Hierusalem is signified, 9 The long continuance of the captiuitie of Israel. 16 A hunger is prophesied to come in the captiuitie.

Hou sonne of man, take thee a tile-stone, and lay it before thee, and purtray vpon it the citie of Hierusalem.

2 And lay siege against it, and build a fort against it, and cast a mount against it: set the campe also against it, and lay engines of warre against it round about.

3 Moreouer, take an iron pan, and set it betwixt thee and the citie for an iron wall, then set thy face toward it to besiege it, and make an assault against it: this shall bee a token vnto the house of Israel.

4 But thou shalt sleepe vpon thy left side, and lay the sin <sup>a</sup> of the house of Israel vpon it: according to the number of the dayes that thou shalt sleepe vpon it, thou shalt heare their iniquitie.

5 For I haue layed vpon thee the yeeres of their iniquitie, according to the number of the dayes, euen three hundred and ninetie † dayes, so shalt thou beare the iniquitie of the house of Israel.

6 When thou hast fulfilled these dayes, lie downe againe, and sleepe vpon thy <sup>b</sup> right side, † and beare the sinnes of the house of Iuda: fourtie daies haue I appointed thee, a day for a yere, euen a day for a yere.

7 Therefore set no thy face toward the siege of Hierusalem, and discouer thine arme, that thou mayest prophesie against it.

8 Behold, I will lay || chaines vpon thee, that thou shalt not turne thee from one side to another, till thou hast ended the dayes of thy besieging.

9 Wherefore take vnto thee wheate, barley, beanes, lentils, millot, and fitches, and put these together in a bessel, and make thee loaves of bread thereof, according to the number of the daies || that thou must lie vpon thy side, that thou mayest haue bread to eate for three hundred and ninety dayes.

10 And thy meate that thou eatest shall be by weight, namely, twenty sicles every day: and from time to time shalt thou eate thereof.

11 Thou shalt drinke also water by measure, namely, the fifth part of a hin: from time to time shalt thou drinke.

12 Barley cakes shalt thou eate, & them shalt thou bake in <sup>d</sup> mans dung before their eyes.

13 And with that sayd the Lord, Euen thus shall the children of Israel eate their defiled bread among the Gentiles, whither I will cast them.

14 Then sayd I, Oh Lord God, behold, my soule was yet neuer stained, for fro my youth by vnto this houre, I did neuer eate of a dead carkefle, or of that which was slaine of wild beastes, neither came there euer any vnclane flesh in my mouth,

The v. Chapter.

1 The signe of the haire, by which is signified the destruction of the people. 6 The causes of the anger of God toward the people.

AD thou some of man, take thee then a sharpe knife, namely, a barbers razor, take that to thee, and cause it to passe vpon thy head and vpon thy beard: then take thee weight scales and diuide the haire.

2 Thou shalt burne with fire the third part in the midst of the citie, when the dayes of the siege are fulfilled, and thou shalt take the other third part, and smite about it with a knife, and the last third part thou shalt scatter in the wind, and I will drawe out a sword after them.

3 Thou shalt also take threof a few in number, and bind them in thy lap.

4 Of them yet shalt thou take, and cast them into the midst of the fire, and burne them in the fire: thereof shall a fire come forth into all the house of Israel.

5 Moreover, thus saith the Lord God, This same is Hierusalem, which I set in the midst of nations and countreys round about her.

6 But she hath changed my iudgments into wickednesse more then the nations, and my statutes more then the countreys that are round about her: for they haue refused my iudgements and my statutes, and haue not walked in them.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, For your multiplying more then the Gentiles that dwell round about you, and because ye haue not walked in my lawes, neither haue ye hept my ordinances, no, yee haue not done according to the iudgments of the nations that are round about you:

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will also come against thee, I my selfe: I say: for in the midst of thee will I execute iudgment in the sight of the heathen.

9 And I will doe in thee as I neuer did before, and as I will neuer doe the like from that time forth, and that because of all thine abominations.

10 For in the midst of thee the fathers shall eate their owne sonnes, and the sonnes shall eate their owne fathers, and I will execute iudgment in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I scatter into all the winds.

11 Wherefore, as truly as I live, saith the Lord God, surely seeing thou hast defiled my sanctuary with all manner of abominations, and with all shamefull offences:

12 For this cause will I also destroy thee, mine eye shall not spare thee, neither will I haue any pitie.

13 One third part of thee shall die of the pestilence, and shall be consumed of hunger in the middest of thee, another third part shall be slaine downe round about thee with the sword, the other third part that remaineth will I scatter abroad to ward all the windes, and drawe out a sword after them.

14 Thus will mine indignation bee performed, and I will cause my wrath to cease among them, and I will be comforted: so that when I haue fulfilled mine anger against them, they shall know that I the Lord with a feruent ielousie haue spoken it.

15 Moreover, I will make thee waste, and a reproch among all the heathen that dwell about thee, in the sight of all them that goe by thee.

16 So thou shalt bee a reproch and shame, a chastisement and a wondering vnto the nations that are round about thee, when I shall execute iudgements in thee, in anger and in wrath, and in sharpe rebukes, I the Lord haue spoken it:

17 When I shall shoote among them the perillous darts of hunger, which shall be for their destruction, therefoze shall I shoot them, because I will destroy you, I will encrease hunger vpon you, and will breake your staffe of bread.

18 Plagues will I send vpon you, yea, and wicked beasts also to spoile thee, pestilence and bloodshedding shall come vpon thee, & the sword will I bring ouer thee: I the Lord haue spoke it.

The vj. Chapter.

1 He sheweth that the people shall be plagued for the sinne of idolatrie.

AD the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou some of man, set thy face to the mountaines of Israel, and prophesie against them,

3 And say, Heare the word of the Lord God, O ye mountaines of Israel, thus hath the Lord God spoken to the mountaines, hills, rivers, and dales, Behold, euen I will bring a sword vpon you, and I will destroy your high places.

4 Your altars shall be destroyed, & your images of the sunne shall be broken downe, your slaine men will I cast downe before your idoles.

5 And the dead carcases of the children of Israel will I cast before their idoles, your bones will I scatter round about your altars.

6 In all your dwelling places your cities shall be desolate, and the high places layd waste, so that your altars shall be made waste and desolate, your idoles shall be broken and abolished, and your images of the sunne shall be cut downe, and your workes quite taken away.

7 The slaine shall fall among you: and yee shall know that I am the Lord.

8 Yet will I leaue a remnant, that you may haue some that shall escape the sword among the nations, when yee shall be scattered thowowe the countreys.

9 And they that escape of you, shall thinke vpon me among the heathen where they shall be in captiuitie, because I haue bene broken: for their whozih heart which hath departed from me, and for their eyes that haue gone a whozing after their idols: and they shall be abhorred before their own eyes for the euils which they haue committed in all their abominations.

10 And they shall know that I am the Lord, and that I haue not said in vaine, that I would doe this euill vnto them.

The vij. Chapter.

2 The end of all the land of Israel shall suddenly come. 20 The cause of the destruction thereof. 23 The Prophet is commanded to shew the summe of the euils that are at hand.

The word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 And thou sonne of man, thus saith the Lord God, An ende is come vnto the land of Israel: verily, the end commeth vpon the foure corners of the land.

3 Now shall the ende come vpon thee: for I wil send my wrath vpon thee, and will punish thee according to thy wayes, and reward thee after all thine abominations.

4 Mine eye shall not spare thee, neither will I haue pittie, but I reward thee according to thy wayes, and declare thine abominations: then shall ye know that I am the Lord.

5 Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, one euil shall come after another:

6 The ende is here, the ende I say is come, it watched for thee: behold, it is come already.

7 The morning is come vnto thee that dwellest in the land, the time is at hand, the day of trouble is hard by, and not the sounding againe of the mountaines.

8 Now I wil shortly powre out my soze displeasure ouer thee, and fulfil my wrath vpon thee: I wil iudge thee after thy wayes, and recompense thee all thine abominations.

9 Mine eye shall not spare, neither will I haue pittie, but I reward thee after thy wayes, and thine abominations shall be in the midd of thee: and ye shall know that I am the Lord that smiteth.

10 Behold the day, behold it is come, the morning is gone forth, the rod flourisheth, pride hath budded, 11 Crueltie is warent to a rod of wickednesse, none of them shall remaine, none of their riches, nor one of their seede, and no lamentation shall be made for them.

12 The time commeth, the day draweth nigh: who so buyeth, let him not reioyce, hee that selleth, let him not be sorry: for why? wrath is vpon all the multitude thereof.

13 So that the seller shall not come againe to the thing that he sold, although their life be pre-14 They haue blowne the trumpet, and made all ready, but none goeth to the battel: for my wrath is vpon the whole multitude.

15 The sword shall be without, pestilence and hunger within: so that who so is in the field shall be slaine with the sword, and he that is in the cite shall be deuoured with hunger and pestilence.

16 But they that flee away from them, shall escape, and shall be in the mountaines like the doves of the valleys, all they shall mourne, euery one for his iniquitie.

17 All handes shall be let downe, and all knees shall be weake as the water.

18 They shall gird themselves with sackcloth, seare bald couer them, shame shall be vpon all faces, and baldnesse vpon their heads.

19 Their siluer shall they cast forth in the streets, and their gold shall be despised: yea, their siluer and golde shall not be able to deliuer them in the day of the wrath of the Lord, they shall not satisfie their souls, neither fill their bellies therewith, because it was a stumbling blocke of their iniquitie.

20 Hee had also set the beautie of his ornament in maiestie: but they made images of their abominations and filthinesse in it, therefore haue I set it farre from them.

21 Whoeouer, I wil giue it into the hands of strangers to be spoiled, and to the wicked of the earth for to be robbed, and they shall pollute it.

22 My face wil I turne from them, my secret place shall be defiled: for burglars shall go into it, and pollute it.

23 Make a chaine: for the lande is full of the iudgment of blood, and the cite is full of extortion.

24 Wherefore I wil bring the most wicked of the heathen to take their houses in possession, I wil make the pompe of the mighty to cease, and their sanctuaries shall be defiled.

25 When destruction is come, they shall seeke peace, but they shall haue none.

26 One mischief shall follow another, and one rumour shall come after another: then shall they seeke a vision in vaine at their Prophet, the Law shall perish from the Priest, and counsell from the ancients.

27 The King shall mourne, the Prince shall be clothed with desolation, and the handes of the people in the land shall be troubled: I will do vnto them after their owne wayes, according to their owne iudgements wil I iudge them: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

2 Then I beheld, and lo, there was a likenesse as the appearance of fire: from the appearance of his loines downward, fire: and fro his loines upward as the appearance of brightnesse, like the colour of amber.

3 * And hee stretched out the likenesse of an hand, and tooke me by an hairy locke of my head, and the spirit lift me vp betwixt earth and heauen, and brought me in a diuine vision to Hierusalem, into the entry of the inner gate that lieth toward the North, where remained the image of emulation and of gaine.

4 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel was in the same place, euen as I had seene it afore in the field.

5 And he said vnto me, Thou sonne of man, lift vp thine eyes nowe toward the North: then lift I by mine eyes toward the North, and beholde, Northward at the gate of the altar this image of emulation was in the entry.

6 And he sayd furthermore vnto me, Thou sonne of man, seest thou not what these doe? namely, the great abominations that the house of Israel commit in this place, to drine me from my sanctuary: But turne thee about, and thou shalt see yet greater abominations.

7 And with that brought he me to the court gate, and when I looked, beholde there was a hole in a wall.

8 Then sayd hee vnto mee, Thou sonne of man, digge now in the wall: and when I digged in the wall, beholde there was a dooze.

9 And he sayd vnto me, Go thy way in, and looke what wicked abominations they do here.

10 So I went in, and saw, and beholde, there were all manner of creeping things, and abominable beasts, and all the idols of the house of Israel painted vpon the wall round about.

11 There stood also before the images three scoe and ten men of the ancients of the house of Israel, and in the midst of them stood Jaazaniab the sonne of Saphan, with every man his centor in his hand, and the smoake of the incense ascended as a cloud.

12 Then sayd hee vnto mee, Thou sonne of man, hast thou seene what the ancients of the house of Israel doe secretly, every one in the chamber of his imagery: for they say, The Lord seeth vs not, the Lord hath forsaken the earth.

13 And he sayd vnto mee, Turne thee yet againe, and thou shalt see greater abominations that they do.

14 And with that he brought me to the dooze of the gate of the Lordes house toward the North, and beholde, there sate women mourning for Chammuzy.

15 Then sayd hee vnto mee, Hast thou seene this, thou sonne of man? Turne thee yet about, and thou shalt see greater abominations then these are.

16 And so hee brought mee into the inward court of the Lords house, and beholde, at the dooze of the Lords house, betwixt the porch and the altar, there were about twenty and five men that turned their backs vpon the temple of the Lord, and their faces toward the East, and these worshipped the sunne Eastward.

17 And he sayd vnto me, Hast thou seene this, thou sonne of man? Thinketh the house of Iuda that it is but a trifle to doe these abominations which they do here: for they haue filled the land full of wickednesse, and haue returned to prouoke me to anger, and loe, they are putting the branches to their noses.

18 Therefore will I also do something in my wrathfull displeasure, so that mine eye shall not spare them, neither will I haue pity: yea, and though they cry in mine eares with a loud voice, yet will I not heare them.

The ix. Chapter.

1 The destruction of the citie. 4 They that shall be faued, are marked. 8 A complaint of the Prophet for the destruction of the people.

I cried also with a loud voice in mine eares, saying, Draw neere visitations of the citie, every man with a destroying weapon in his hand.

2 And behold, then came there vnto me three men out of the street of the upper gate toward the North, and every man a slaughter weapon in his hand: there was one amongst them that had on him linnen raiment, and a writers inkehozne by his side: these went in, and stood beside the brazen altar.

3 And the glory of the God of Israel was gone from the Cherub wherupon it was, to the dooze of the house: and he called to the man that had the linnen raiment vpon him, and the writers inkehozne by his side.

4 And the Lord sayd vnto him, Goe thorow the midst of the city, euen thorow the midst of Hierusalem, and set a marke vpon the foreheads of them that mourne and are sorry for all the abominations that be done therein.

5 And to the other hee sayd, that I might heare, Goe ye after him thorow the city, and smite, let your eyes spare none, neither haue ye any pity:

6 Kill and destroy both olde men and yong, maidens, children, and women: but as for all those that haue the marke vpon them, see that ye touch them not, and begin at my sanctuarie. Then they beganne at the ancient men which were before the house.

7 And he sayd vnto them, Defile ye the temple, fill the courts with the staine, then goe your way forth, So they went out, and flew downe thorow the city.

8 Now when they had done the slaughter, and I yet escaped, I fell downe vpon my face, and cried, saying, Oh Lord God, wilt thou then destroy all the residue of Israel, in powring out thy wrath vpon Hierusalem?

9 Then said he vnto me, The wickednesse of the house of Israel and Iuda is exceeding great, so that the land is full of blood, and the city full of reuolting from God: for they say, The Lord hath forsaken the earth, and the Lord seeth it not.

10 As touching me also, mine eye shall not spare them, neither will I haue pity: but will recompense their wayes vpon their heads.

11 And beholde, the man that had the linnen raiment vpon him, and the writers inkehozne by his side, reported the matter, and said, As thou hast commanded me, so haue I done.

AS I looked, beholde, in the firmament that was about the head of the Cherubims, as it were a Sapphire stone made like the similitude of a Throne was scene ouer them.

2 Then spake hee to him that had the linen raiment vpon him, and said, Creep in between the wheelles that are vnder the Cherub, and take thine handfull of hote coles out from betweene the Cherubims, and scatter them ouer the citie. And he crept in, that I might see.

3 Now the Cherubims stood vpon the right side of the house when the man went in, and the cloude filled the inner court.

4 And the glory of the Lord remooued from the Cherubims, and came vpon the dooze of the house: so that the Temple was filled with a cloude, and the court was ful of the shine of the Lords glory.

5 Yea, and the sounde of the Cherubims wings was heard into the forecourt, like as it had bene the voyce of the Almighty God when he speaketh.

6 Now when hee had bidden the man that was clothed in linnen, saying, Take fire from the midst of the wheelles, and from the midst of the Cherubims, hee went and stood beside the wheelles.

7 Then one Cherub reached forth his hand from betweene the Cherubims, vnto the fire that was betweene the Cherubims, and tooke thereof, and gaue it into the hands of him that had on the linnen raiment: which tooke it, and went out.

8 And vnder the wings of the Cherubims there appeared the likenesse of a mans hand.

9 I looked also, and beholde, foure wheelles beside the Cherubims, one wheele by one Cherub, and an other by another Cherub, and the wheelles were to looke vpon after the fashion of the precious stone Charis.

10 As touching their appearance (they were all foure of one fashion) as if one wheele had bene in an other.

11 When they went forth, they went vpon their foure sides, not turning backe in their going: for which way the head of the first looked, after it they went, so that they turned not backe in their going.

12 And their whole bodies, their backs, their handes, and wings, yea, and the wheelles also, were ful of eyes round about the foure wheelles.

13 And to the wheelles, he cried to them in my hearing, O wheele.

14 Every one of them had foure faces, so that the face of the first was the face of a Cherub, and the face of the second the face of a Man, and of the third the face of a Lion, and of the fourth the face of an Eagle.

15 And the Cherubims were lifted vp: this is the beast that I saw at the water of Chebar.

16 Nowe when the Cherubims went, the wheelles went by them: and when the Cherubims lift vp their wings to mount vp from the earth, the same wheelles also turned not from besides them.

17 Shortly when they stood, these stood also, and when they were lifted vp, the wheelles lift vp themselves also with them: for the spirit of the beast was in the wheelles.

18 Then the glory of the Lord departed from aboute the dooze of the Temple, and remained vpon the Cherubims.

19 And the Cherubims flattered with their wings, and lift themselves vp from the earth in my sight: when they went, the wheelles were besides them, and they stood at the dooze of the East gate of the house of the Lord: so the glory of the God of Israel was vpon them on high.

20 This is the beast that I sawe vnder the God of Israel by the riuer Chebar, and I perceived that it was the Cherubims.

21 Every one had foure faces, and every one foure wings, and vnder their wings the likenesse of mens hands.

22 The similitude of their countenances, were the very same countenances which I sawe at the riuer Chebar, and the selfe same appearances, euery one in his going went straight forward.

The xj. Chapter.

1 Who they were that seduced the people of Israel
5 Against these hee prophecieth, shewing them how they shall be dispersed abroad.

Moreouer, the Spirit lift mee vp, and brought mee vnto the East gate of the Lords house, which lieth Eastward: and beholde, at the entrie of the gate were fise and twentie men, among whom I sawe Jaazaniab the sonne of Azur, and Pheltiah the sonne of Banaiah, the rulers of the people.

2 Then said he vnto me, Thou son of man, these men imagine mischief, and a wicked counsel take they in this citie,

3 Saying, It is not neere, let vs builde houses: this Hierusalem is the caldron, and wee be the flesh.

4 Therefore shalt thou prophecie against them: yea, prophecie, O sonne of man.

5 And with that fell the Spirit of the Lord vpon me, and said vnto me, Speake, Thus saith the Lord, On this maner haue ye spoken (O ye house of Israel) and I know the imaginations of your hearts.

6 Many one haue ye murdered in this citie, and filled the streets ful of the slaine:

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, the slaine men that yee haue layd in the midst of the citie are the flesh, and this citie is the caldron: but I wil bring you out of it.

upon my face, and cried with a loud voyce, saying, Ah Lord God, wilt thou then utterly destroy all the remnant of Israel?

14 And so the word of the Lord came unto me on this manner.

15 Thou sonne of man, thy brethren, even thy brethren the men of thy kindred, and all the house of Israel, wholy are they unto whom the inhabitants of Hierusalem haue said, withdraw ye farre from the Lord, for the land is giuen vs in possession.

16 Therefore tell them, Thus sayeth the Lord God, Although I send them farre off among the Gentiles, and scatter them among the nations, yet will I bee to them as a little Sanctuary in the lands where they shall come.

17 Tell them also, Thus saith the Lord God, I will gather you againe out of the nations, and bring you from the countreyes where yee be scattered, and I wil giue you the land of Israel againe.

18 And they shall come thither, and they shall take away all their idoles, and all their abominations from thence.

19 And I wil giue them one heart, and I wil put a new spirit within their bowels: that stony heart will I take out of their body, and giue them a fleshy heart.

20 That they may walke in my Commandements, and keepe mine ordinances, and do them, that they may be my people, and I their God.

21 But to the heart of their idoles and their abominations their heart goeth, their wayes will I bring upon their owne heads, saith the Lord God.

22 After this did the Cherubims lift vp their wings, and the wheeles besides them, and the glorie of the God of Israel was upon them on high.

23 So the glorie of the Lord went vp from the middell of the cite, and stood upon the mount of the cite toward the East.

24 And the spirit tooke mee vp, and brought me againe to Chaldea in the captiuitie in a vision by the Spirit of God: then the vision that I had seene went vp from me.

25 So I spake vnto the captiues all the wordes of the Lord which he had shewed me.

The xij. Chapter.

1 The parable of the captiuitie. 10 The exposition of the parable, by which the taking of King Zedecias is signified.

The worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, thou dwellest in the midd of a rebellious house, which haue eyes to see, and yet see not, eares haue they to heare, and yet heare they not: for they are a rebellious house.

3 Therefore (O thou sonne of man) prepare thee instruments to sit with, and remoue on the day time that they may see, yea, even in their sight shalt thou goe from thy place to an other place, if peradventure they will consider that they be a rebellious house.

4 Thou shalt bring forth thine instruments as stubbe to sit with by the day time in their sight, and thou thy selfe shalt goe forth also at evening before their eyes, as they that goe forth to sit.

5 Digge thouow the wall in their sight, and carry out thereby.

6 In their sight shalt thou beare upon thy shoulders, and carry it forth in the darke: hide thy face, that thou see not the earth, for I haue made thee a shew token vnto the house of Israel.

7 And I did so as I was commaunded, I brought forth my stubbe by day, as the stubbe of one that goeth into captiuitie: and in the evening I digged thouow the wall with my hands, and brought it forth in the darke, and bare it vpon my shoulder in their sight.

8 And in the morning came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

9 Thou sonne of man, hath not the house of Israel, the rebellious house saide vnto thee, what doest thou?

10 Then tell them, Thus sayeth the Lord God, This burden toucheth the Prince at Hierusalem, and all the house of Israel that dwell among them.

11 Tell them, I am your shew token, like as I haue done, so shall it bee done vnto them, they shall goe into bondage and captiuitie.

12 The prince that is among them shall loade his shoulders in the darke, and get him away, they shall breake downe the wall, to carry thouow by it: hee shall couer his face, that hee see not the ground with his eyes.

13 My net will I spread out vpon him, and hee shall be caught in my net, and I will bring him to Babylon in the lande of the Chaldees, which he shall not see, and yet shall he die there.

14 As for al his helpers and al his bands that be about him, I wil scatter them toward all the winds, and draw out a sword after them.

15 So when I haue scattered them among the heathen, & strowed them in the lands, they shall know that I am the Lord.

16 But I will leaue a little number of them from the sword, hunger, and pestilence, to tel all their abominations among the heathen where they come, that they may know how that I am the Lord.

17 Whereouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

18 Thou sonne of man, with a feareful trembling eate thy bread, with vniquietnesse and sorrow drinke thy water.

19 And vnto the people of the lande speake thou, Thus saith the Lord God vpon them that dwell in Hierusalem, and vpon the land of Israel, They shall eate their bread with sorrow, and drinke their water with desolation, yea, the land after plentifulnes shall be laid waste, for the wickednesse of all them that dwell therein.

20 And the cities that now be wel inhabited, shall be voyd, and the lande desolate, that yee may know that I am the Lord.

21 Yet came the word of the Lord vnto me againe, saying,

22 Thou sonne of man, what maner of prouerbe is that which ye vse in the land of Israel, saying, The dayes are slacke in comming, and all visions faile?

23 Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord God, I will make that prouerbe to cease, and they shall no more vse it as a prouerbe in Israel: but say vnto them, The dayes are at hand, and the effect of euery vision.

24 There shall no vision be any more in bairne, c They that remained still at Hierusalem, thus reproched them, that were gone into captiuitie, as though they were cast off, and forsaken of God. They shall be yet a little Church, whom hee wil preserve, though they be dispersed, and for a time distressed.

Iere. 32. 39. eze. 36. 27.

e Those that were led away captiues vnto Babylon.

f Make thee vessels to goe into captiuitie.

a What hee shall do, shall they see, and in their eyes shall they see the shew token, and punishment.

b Do not they breake and make of houses? Or, prophetic.

c When they shall see the shew token, they shall know that I am the Lord.

d They shall see the p... they shall see the p... they shall see the p...

neither any flattering diuination within the house of Israel:

25 For I the Lord speake it, and whatsoever I shall speake, it shall be performed, and not be slacke in comming any more, yea, euen in your dayes, O rebellious house, will I speake the thing, and bring it to passe, saith the Lord God.

26 And the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,

27 Beholde, thou some of man, the house of Israel saith on this maner, The vision that hee seeth, it will be many a daye or it come to passe: it is farre off yet the time that he prophesieth of.

28 Therefore say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, All my wordes shall no more be delayed, looke what I speake, that same shall come to passe, saith the Lord God.

The xiiij. Chapter.

The worde of the Lord against false prophets, which teach the people the counsels of their owne hearts,

The word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou some of man, prophetic against those prophets of Israel, which prophetic: and say vnto them that prophetic out of their owne hearts, Heare the word of the Lord,

3 Thus saith the Lord God, Woe bee vnto those foolish prophets that solo to their owne spirit, and haue seene nothing.

4 O Israel, thy prophets are like the foxes in desert places.

5 For yee haue not stood by in the gaps, nor made a hedge for the house of Israel, to stand in the battell in the day of the Lord.

6 They haue seene vanitie and lying diuination, saying, The Lord saith it: and the Lord hath not sent them, and they haue made men hope that they would confirme the word.

7 Hauye ye not seene vaine visions, and spoken false prophecies, when yee say, The Lord hath spoken it, whereas I neuer said it?

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because yee haue spoken vanitie, & haue seene lies: therefore beholde, I am against you, saith the Lord God:

9 Mine hand shall be vpon the prophets that see vanitie, and diuine lies: they shall not be in the counsell of my people, nor written in the booke of the house of Israel, neither shall they come in the lande of Israel, that yee may know how that I am the Lord God:

10 And that for because they haue deceived my people, and tolde them of peace, where no peace was: one settech by a wall, & they daube it with bitempered clay.

11 Therefore tel them which daube with bitempered mortar, that it shall fall: for there shall come a great showre of raine, I will sende hailestones to cause it to fall, and a great storme of winde shall breake it.

12 And lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not then be said vnto you, where is now your mortar that ye daubed withall?

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, I will cause a storme wind to breake out in my wrathful displeasure, so that in mine anger there shall come a mighty showre of raine, and hailestones in my wrath to destroy it.

14 As for the wall that yee haue daubed with bitempered mortar, I will breake it downe, and make it euen with the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall bee discovered, and it shall fall: yea, and ye your selues that perish in the midst thereof, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

15 Thus wil I performe my wrath vpon this wall, and vpon them that haue daubed it with bitempered mortar, and then will I say vnto you, The wall is gone, and the daubers of it:

16 Towit the prophets of Israel, which prophetic vpon Iherusalem, and looke out visions of peace for it, whereas no peace is, sayeth the Lord God.

17 Wherefore, O thou some of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, which prophetic out of their owne hearts, and prophetic against them:

18 And say, Thus saith the Lord God, Woe bee vnto them that sowe pillows vnder all arme holes, and put kerchiefes vpon the heads of euerie stature, to hunt soules, wil ye hunt the soules of my people, and giue life to the soules that come vnto you?

19 And wil yee pollute mee to my people for handfuls of barley, and for pieces of bread, to kil the soules of them that die not, and promise life to them that liue not, in lying to my people that heareth your lies?

20 Wherefore, thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I wil vpon your pillows where with ye hunt the soules to make them flee, and I will teare them from your armes, and wil let the soules goe, euen the soules that ye hunt to make them flee.

21 Your kerchiefes also wil I teare in pieces, and deliuer my people out of your handes, so that they shall come no more in your handes to bee hunted: and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

22 Seeing that with your lies yee discomfite the heart of the righteous, whom I haue not discomfited: againe, for so much as ye encourage the hand of the wicked, so that he may not turne from his wicked way, in promising him life:

23 Therefore shall ye see no more vanitie, neither shall ye diuine diuinations, for I wil deliuer my people out of your hand, that yee may know how that I am the Lord.

The xiiij. Chapter.

The Lord denieth his worde to the people for their finnes sake.

Here resorted vnto mee certaine of the Elders of Israel, and sate downe by me.

2 Then came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

3 Thou some of man, these men haue set by their idoles in their hearts, and put the stumbling blocke of iniquitie before their face: should I then answer them at their request?

4 Therefore speake vnto them, and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Euerie man of the house of Israel that settech by his idole in his heart, and putteth the stumbling blocke of his iniquitie before his face, and commeth to the prophet: vnto that man wil I the Lord my selfe giue answer when hee commeth, according to the multitude of his idoles:

c That is, whatsoeuer man of himselfe seeth forth vnder the anthonie of Gods word, and Gods word is not. Or, is no more.

d These superstitious women for liues would prophetic, tell euerie man his fortune, giuing them pillows to lye on, and kerchiefes to couer their heads, that they might the more allure them to be with them.

e These kerchiefes made the people believe that they could perseure life of distresse, and that it should come to euerie one according as they prophetic.

f Spiking them with pillows to lye on, and kerchiefes to cover their heads, as the tables do the birds with their talles and scales.

g As his comming, but because he had settech by his idole, so that he was not able to answer when hee commeth, according to the multitude of his idoles.

b What he, convince them by their owne consciences.

c All such as by your example have declined from God.

5 That the house of Israel may be snared in their owne hearts, because they be cleane gone from me all of them through their idoles:

6 Wherefore tell the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Returne, and cause to returne from your idoles, and turne your faces from al your abominations:

7 For every man, whether he be of the house of Israel, or a stranger that sojourneth in Israel, which departeth from mee, and setteth by his idoles in his heart, and putteth the stumbling blocke of his wickednes before his face, and cometh to a prophet for to aske counsell at mee through him: vnto that man will I the Lord giue answer by mine owne selfe:

8 I will set my face against that man, and will make him to be an example for other, yea, and a common byword, and wil roote him out of my people, that yee may know howe that I am the Lord.

Ezec. 13. 1.

9 And if that prophet be deceiued when hee telleth a thing, then I the Lord my selfe haue deceiued that prophet, and will stretch out my hand vpon him, to destroy him out of my people of Israel.

10 And they shalbe punished for their wickednesse, according to the sinne of him that askeeth, that the sinne of the prophet be:

11 That the house of Israel may wander no more from me, neither be any more defiled in all their transgressions: but that they may see my people, and I their God, saith the Lord God.

12 And the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,

Ezec. 4. 16. and 5. 17.

13 Thou sonne of man, when the lande smiteth against mee by committing a trespassse, I will stretch out my hand vpon it, and breake their staffe of bread, and send dearth vpon them, to destroy man and beast forth of it.

14 And though Doe, Daniel, and Job, these thre men were among them: yet shall they in their rightcounesse deliuer but their owne soules, saith the Lord God.

15 If I bring noisome beastes into the land, and they spoile it, and it bee so desolate that no man may passe thowow it for beasts, 16 If these thre men were also in the midst thereof, as truly as I liue, saith the Lord God, they shall saue neither sonnes nor daughters, but be only deliuered themselves: and as for the land, it shall be waste.

17 Or, if I bring a sword vpon the land, and say, A sword goe thowow this land, so that I slay downe man and beast in it.

||Or, in the midst thereof.

18 And if these thre men were therein: as truly as I liue, saith the Lord God, they shall deliuer neither sonnes nor daughters, but onely be saved themselves.

||Or, deliuered.

19 If I sende a pestilence into this lande, and poure out my foie indignation vpon it in blood, so that I roote out both man and beast,

||Or, in the midst of it.

20 And if Doe, Daniel, and Job were therein: as truly as I liue, saith the Lord God, they shall deliuer neither son nor daughter, but save their owne soules in their rightcounesse.

||Or, deliuer.

21 Moreover, thus saith the Lord God, How much more when I sende my foure troublous plagues vpon Hierusalem, the sword, hunger, perillous beastes, and pestilence, to destroy man and beast out of it:

||Or, foure fore iudge ments.

22 Beholde, there shall be a remnant saved therein, which shall bring forth their sonnes and daughters: beholde, they shall come forth vnto you, and yee shall see their way, and their enterprise, & yee shall be comforted concerning the euill that I haue brought vpon Hierusalem, euen concerning all that I haue brought vpon it:

23 They shall comfort you when yee shall see their way and workes, and yee shall know how that it is not without a cause that I haue done all against Hierusalem as I did, saith the Lord God.

The xv. Chapter.

As the vnprofitable wood of the vine tree is cast into the fire, so saith he that Hierusalem shall be burnt.

The word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, what commeth of the vine tree more then of every other tree, and of the wilde vine among other trees of the forest?

3 Doe men take wood of it to make any worke withall? or will men take a pinne of it to hang any vessel thereon?

4 Beholde, it is cast into the fire to be burnt, the fire consumeth both the ends of it, the midd of it is burnt: is it meete then for any worke?

5 Seeing then that it was meete for no worke being whole, much lesse may there any thing bee made of it, when the fire hath consumed and burnt it.

6 And therefore, thus saith the Lord God, As the vine tree that is among the trees of the forest, which I haue giuen to the fire to be consumed, so wil I giue inhabitants of Hierusalem.

7 And I will set my face against them, they shall goe out from the fire, and yet the fire shall consume them: then shall yee knowe that I am the Lord, when I set my face against them.

8 And when I make the land waste, because they haue so sore offended, saith the Lord God.

The xvj. Chapter.

2 The Prophet declareth the benefits of God toward Hierusalem. 60 Mercie is promised to the repentant.

The word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, shewe Hierusalem their abominations.

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God vnto Hierusalem, Thy habitation and hired is of the lande of Chanaan, thy father was an Amorite, thy mother an Hittite.

4 In the day of thy birth, when thou wast borne, the string of thy navel was not cut off, thou wast not bathed in water to make thee cleane, thou wast not salted with salt, nor swaddled in cloutes.

5 No eye pittied thee to do any of these things for thee, for to haue compassion vpon thee: but thou wast vterly cast out vpon the field, in contempt of thy person in the day of thy birth.

6 When came I by thee, and saw thee defiled in thine owne blood, and I said vnto thee when thou wast in thy blood, Liae, euen when thou wast in thy blood, I said vnto thee, Liae.

7 I caused thee to multiply as the bud of the field, thou art grown vp, and wares great, thou hast gotten a marckous pleasant beautie, thy breastes are fashioned, thy haire is goodly all the children of the land shall see thee, and shall say, This is the land that was forsaken, and this is the city that was destroyed, and this is the land that was desolate, and this is the city that was forsaken, and this is the city that was destroyed, and this is the land that was desolate, and this is the city that was forsaken.

||Or, ten thee.

grown, whereas thou wast naked and bare.

8 Howe when I went by thee, and looked vpon thee, behold, thy time was come, yea, euen the time to woo thee: then spred I my clothes ouer thee to couer thy dishonestic, yea, I made an oth vnto thee, and contracted my selfe vnto thee (sayth the Lord God) and so thou becomest mine owne.

9 When washed I thee with water, and purged thy blood from thee, and I annoynted thee with oyle.

10 I clothed thee with hyppred worke, and shodde thee with Badgers skinne, and I girded thee about with fine linnen, and couered thee with silke.

11 I decked thee with costly apparell, I put bracelets vpon thy handes, a chaine about thy necke.

12 And I put a frontlet vpon thy face, and earringes vpon thine eares, and a beautifull crowne vpon thine head.

13 Thus wast thou deckt with golde and siluer, and thy rayment was of fine linnen, and of silke, and of hyppred worke: thou didst eate fine floure, honey, and oyle, marueilous beautifull wast thou, and thou diddest luckily prosper into a kingdome.

14 And thy name was spread among the heathen for thy beautie: for it was perfect through my beautie which I put vpon thee, sayeth the Lord God.

15 But thou hast put thy confidence in thine owne beautie, and played the harlot, because of thy reuolucion, and hast powred out thy fornications with euery one that went by, || thou wast his.

16 Thou didst take thy garments, and deckt thy high places with diuers colours, and played the harlot thereupon, || they come not, and it shall not be.

17 The goodly ietwels which I gaue thee of mine owne gold and siluer, hast thou taken, and made thee mens images thereof, and committed whoredome with them.

18 Thy hyppred garments hast thou taken, and deckt them therewith: mine oyle and incense hast thou set before them.

19 My meat which I gaue thee, as fine floure, oyle, and honey, to feed thee withall, that hast thou set before them for a sweete saour: & thus it was, saith the Lord God.

20 Thou hast taken thine owne sonnes and daughters whome thou hast begotten vnto me, and these hast thou offered vp vnto them to bee deuoured: is this but a small whoredome of thine?

21 And thou hast slaine my children, and deliuered them, to cause them to passe thorow the fire for them.

22 And yet in all thine abominations and whoredoms, thou hast not remembred the daies of thy youth, how naked and bare thou wast at that time, and wast defiled in thine owne blood.

23 After all this thy wickednesse (woe, woe vnto thee, sayth the Lord God)

24 Thou hast built vnto thee an high place, and hast made thee an high place in euery tree.

25 Thou hast built thine high place at euery head of the way, thou hast made thy beautie to be abhorred, thou hast opened thy feete to euery one that came by, & multiplied thy whoredome.

26 Thou hast committed fornication with the Egyptians thy neighbours which were great in flesh, and thus hast thou increased thine whoredome to anger me.

27 Beholde, I did stretch out my hand ouer thee, and did minish thy ordinarie food, and deliuered thee ouer into the willes of them that hate thee, euen to the daughters of the Philistines, which are ashamed of thine abominable wayes.

28 Thou hast played the whore also with the Assyrians, because thou wast insatiable: yea, thou hast l say with them played the harlot, and yet hadst thou not ynough.

29 Thus hast thou furthermore multiplied thy fornication from the land of Chanaan vnto the Chalbees, and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.

30 How weake is thine heart, saith the Lord God, seeing thou doest all these, euen the workes of a presumptuous whores woman?

31 Building thy high places at the head of euery way, and makest thy high places in euerie streete: thou hast not bene as another whore that holdeth scoyne of a reward:

32 But as a wife that breaketh wedlocke, and taketh other in stead of her husband.

33 Giftes are giuen to all other whores: but thou giuest rewards vnto all thy louers, and rewardest them to come vnto thee on euery side for thy fornication.

34 It is come to passe with thee in thy whoredomes contrarie to the vse of other women, yea, there hath no such fornication bene committed after thee: seeing that thou giuest giftes vnto other, and no reward is giuen thee, therefore thou art contrarie.

35 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, O thou harlot.

36 Thus sayth the Lord God, Because thou hast powred out || thy brasse, and discovered thy filthinesse through thy fornications with thy louers, and with all the idoles of thine abominations, and in the blood of thy children whome thou hast giuen them:

37 Behold therefore, I will gather together all thy louers with whome thou hast taken pleasure, yea, and all them whome thou hast loued, and euery one that thou hatest: I will l say gather them together round about against thee, and will discover thy shame before them, that they may see all thy filthinesse.

38 Whereouer, I will iudge thee as a breaker of wedlocke and a murderer, and recompense thee thine owne blood in wraoth and ieiulouie.

39 I will giue thee ouer into their handes, and they shall destroy the high place, and breake downe thy high places, they shall strippe thee also out of thy clothes: thy faire ietwels shall they take from thee, and so leaue thee naked and bare.

40 Yea, they shall bring a companie vpon thee, which shall stone thee with stones, & thrust thee through with their swords.

41 They shall burne by thy houses with fire, and punish thee in the sight of many women: thus will I make thee cease from playing the harlot, so that thou shalt giue out no more rewards.

42 So will I make my wraoth toward thee

h He noteth the great impiety of this people, who first falling from God to seek helpe at strange nations, did also at length embrace their idolatrie, thinking thereby to make their amitie more sure.

to rest, and my zealousie shall depart from thee, and I will cease, and be angry no more.

43 Seeing thou rememberest not the dayes of thy yowth, but hast fretted mee in all these things: behold therefore, I will bring thine owne wayes vpon thine head, sayth the Lorde God, so that thou shalt not commit any more mischiefe vpon all thine abominations.

44 Beholde, all they that vse common pro- uerbes, shall vse this proverbe also against thee, saying, Such a mother such a daughter.

45 Thou art euen thy mothers owne daughter, that hath cast off her husband and her children: yea, thou art the sister of thy sisters, which forsooke their husbands and their children, your mother is an Hittite, and your father an Am- orite.

46 Thine eldest sister is Samaria, she and her daughters that dwell vpon the left hand: but thy younger sister that dwelleth on thy right hand is Sodoma and her daughters.

47 Yet hast thou not walshed after their wayes, nor done after their abominations, as a little and little: but in all thy wayes thou hast bene more corrupt then they.

48 As truly as I liue, sayth the Lorde God, Sodoma thy sister, with her daughters, haue not done as thou hast done and thy daughters.

49 Behold, the finnes of thy sister Sodoma, were these, a pride, fulnesse of meate, and abundance of idlenesse, these things had shee and her daughters: besides that, they strengthened not the hand of the poore and needie.

50 But they were haughty, and committed abomi- nation before mee, therefore I tooke them away as I saw good.

51 Neither hath Samaria done halfe of thy finnes, yea, thou hast exceeded them in thine abominations, and hast iustified thy sisters in all thine abominations which thou hast done.

52 Therefore thou which didst condemne thy sister, beare thine owne shame, for thine owne offences that thou hast committed more abomi- nable then they did, which in deed are more right- eous then thou art, be thou I say ashamed, and beare thy shameful rebuke, seeing that thou hast iustified thy sisters.

53 Therefore I will bring againe their cap- tinitie, the captiuitie of Sodoma and her daugh- ters, and the captiuitie of Samaria and her daughters, and the captiuitie of thy captiues among them.

54 That thou maiest take thine owne confu- sion vpon thee, and be ashamed of all that thou hast done, in that thou hast comforted them.

55 And thy sister Sodoma and her daughters shall returne to their former state, Samaria also and her daughters shall returne to their former state, when thou and thy daughters shall returne to your former state.

56 For thy sister Sodoma was not heard of by thy report in the day of thy pride, 57 Before thy wickednesse was discovered according to the time of the reproch of the daughters of Aram, and of all the daughters of the Philistines round about her, which despise thee on all sides.

58 Thou hast borne thy wickednesse & thine abomination, saith the Lorde.

59 For thus saith the Lorde God, I might by right deale with thee as thou hast done, which hast despised the oath in breaking the covenant: Neuerthelesse, I will remember my cove- nant with thee in the dayes of thy youth, and I will establish vnto thee an euertlasting cove- nant:

61 Then shalt thou remember thy wayes, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receiue thy sisters, both thy elder and thy younger: and I will giue them vnto thee for daughters, but not by thy covenant.

62 And I will establish my covenant with thee, that thou mayst know that I am the Lorde, 63 That thou mayest thinke vpon it, and be ashamed, and neuer open thy mouth any more for shame of thy selfe, when I am pacified to- ward thee for all that thou hast done, sayeth the Lorde God.

The xvij. Chapter.

The parable of the two Eagles,

The word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

Thou some of man, put forth a parable, and speake a proverbe vnto the house of Israel,

And say, Thus saith the Lorde God, There came a great Eagle with great wings, yea with a mightie long body, and full of feathers of di- uers colours, vpon the mount of Libanus, and tooke the highest branch of a Cedar tree,

And brake off the top of his twigs, and car- ried it into the land of Merchants, and set it in a citie of Merchants.

He tooke also of the seede of the land, and planted it in a fruitfull ground, hee brought it vnto great waters, and set it in an open trench,

Then did it grow, and was a spreading vine, but lowe of stature, whose branches turned toward it, and the rootes of it were vnder it: Thus there came of it a vine, and it brought forth branches, and shot forth buds.

But there was an other Eagle, a great one, which had great wings, & many feathers: and beholde, the rootes of this vine turned to- wards it, and spread out her branches towards it, that the might water it by the trenches of her plantation,

It was planted vpon a good soyle, beside great waters, so that it should haue brought out branches, and borne fruite, and bene a goodly vine.

Speake thou therefore, Thus sayeth the Lorde God, Shall this vine prosper: shall her not pull by the rootes thereof, and destroy the fruite thereof, and cause them to die: all the leaves of her budde shall wither without great power, or many people to plucke it by the rootes thereof.

Behold, it was planted: Shall it prosper therefore: Shall it not be dried vp and wither- ed: when the East wind shall touch it, it shall wither in the trenches where it grew.

Whereouer, the word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

Speake now to the rebellious house, knowe ye not what these things doe signifie? Tell them, Behold, the King of Babylon is come to Ierusalem, and hath taken the King there- of, and the princes thereof, and hath ledde them with him to Babylon.

m Draw the detestable offences, this shall be the last of it, God will punish thee, so that thou shalt neuer be any more.
n In what the Chanaanites etc. Hittites, and other your predecessors, so are you their successors.
o That is, of Samaria and Sodom.

p That is, detestable.

Gen. 19. 24
q Allegorically the four E's: pride, idleness, and contempt of the poore, as foure principal causes of such abomination, wherefore they were so horribly punished.
r Which was stopped in Bethel and Dan, 1. King. 12.
s Thou art so wicked, that in respect of thee Sodom and Samaria were iust.

t In that thou hast comforted thy sisters, and yet thoughtst to escape punishment.
u Samaria, as it be had said, neuer.

v Thou wilt not call for punishment to mind, when thou wast a loft, to learne by thy example to feare my indignation.
y That is, till thou wast brought vnder by the Chanaanites and the Philistines.

13 Hee tooke of the kings seebe, and made a covenant with him, and tooke an othe of him: the princes of the land tooke he with him also.

14 That the kingdome might be in subiecti- on, and not lift vp it selfe, but keepe the coue- nant, and stand to it.

15 But he rebelled against him, and sent his ambassadours into Egypt, that hee might haue horses and much people: Should hee prosper? shall he escape that doth such things? or shall he breake the covenant and escape free?

16 As truly as I liue, sayth the Lord God, he shall die at Babylon in the place where the king dwelleth that made him king, whose othe hee hath despised, a whole covenant he hath broken.

17 Neither shall Pharao with his great host and multitude of people maintaine him in the warre, when they haue cast by mounts, and built a fort to destroy many persons.

18 For seeing he hath despised the othe, and broken the covenant (whereas hee yet gaue his hand thereupon) and done all these things, hee shall not escape.

19 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde God, As truly as I liue, I will bring mine oth that hee hath despised, and my covenant that hee hath broken, vpon his owne head.

20 I will spread my net vpon him, and hee shall be caught in my net: and I will bring him to Babylon, and enter into iudgement with him there, for the trespass which hee hath committed against me.

21 As for those that flee from him, with all his hoste, they shall be slaine with the sword, and the residue shall be scattered towardes all the winds: and ye shall know that I the Lord haue spoken it.

22 Thus sayeth the Lorde God, I will also take off the top of this high Cedar, and will set it, and cut off the top of the tender plant thereof, and will plant it vpon an high hill and a great,

23 Namely, vpon the high hill of Israel will I plant it, that it may bring forth boughes, and giue fruit, and be an excellent Cedar, and vnder it shall remaine all birdes, and euery foule shall remaine vnder the shadowe of the braunches thereof.

24 And all the trees of the felde shall knowe that I the Lorde haue brought downe the high tree, and exalted the low tree, that I haue dyed by the Greene tree, and made the drie tree to flourish, euen I the Lorde that spake it, haue also brought it to passe.

The xviiij. Chapter.

4 Hee sheweth that euerie man shall beare his owne sinne. 21 To him that amendeth, is saluation promised.

The word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 What meane ye by this common prouerbe, that pee vse in the lande of Israel, saying, The fathers haue eaten sowre grapes, and the childrens teeth are set on edge.

3 As truly as I liue, sayth the Lord God, ye shall vse this byword no more in Israel.

4 Beholde, all soules are mine like as the soule of the father is mine, so is the soule of the sonne mine also: the soule that sinneth, shall die it selfe.

5 But if a man be iust, and doe that which is lawfull and right:

6 And hath not eaten vpon the hills, and hath not lift his eyes to the idoles of the house of Israel, neither hath defiled his neighbours wife, neither hath come neere a woman remooued:

7 Neither hath oppressed any man, but hath restored to the debtor his pledge: hee that hath not spoyled any by violence, hath giuen his bread to the hungry, and hath clothed the naked:

8 And hath not giuen forth vpon vsury, neither taken any increase, and hath withdrawen his hand from iniquitie, and hath executed true iudgement betweene man and man:

9 And hath walked in my statutes, and kept my iudgements to deale truly: this is a righteous man, hee shall surely liue, sayth the Lord God.

10 If hee now get a sonne that is a robber, a shedder of blood, and do any one of these things:

11 Though hee doe not all these things, but either hath eaten vpon the hills, or defiled his neighbours wife:

12 Or hath oppressed the poore and needie, or spoyled by violence, or hath not restored the pledge, or hath lift by his eyes vnto the idoles, or hath committed abominations:

13 Or hath giuen foorth vpon vsurie, or hath taken increase: Shall this man liue? hee shall not liue: seeing he hath done all these abominations, he shall die the death, his blood shall be vpon him.

14 Nowe if this man get a sonne also, that seeth all his fathers sinnes which he hath done, and feareth, neither doth such like:

15 Namely, that hath not eaten vpon the hills, neither hath lift by his eyes to the Idoles of the house of Israel, nor defiled his neighbours wife:

16 Neither hath oppressed any, nor hath withholden the pledge, neither hath spoyled by violence: but hath giuen his bread to the hungry, and hath couered the naked with a garment:

17 Neither hath withdrawen his hand from the afflicted, nor receiued vsurie nor increase, but hath executed my iudgements, and walked in my statutes: this man shall not die in his fathers sinne, but shall liue without faile:

18 As for his father, because hee hath cruelly oppressed and spoyled his brother by violence, and hath not done good among his people, loe, he dyeth in his owne sinne.

19 And yet say ye, wherefore then should not this sonne beare his fathers sinne? Because the sonne hath done iudgement and righteousnesse, hee hath kept all my statutes, and done them: therefore shall he liue indeed.

20 *The same soule that sinneth shall die, the sonne shall not beare the fathers iniquitie, neither shall the father beare the sonnes iniquitie: the righteousnesse of the righteous shall be vpon him, and the wickednesse of the wicked shall be vpon himselfe also.

21 But if the vngodly will turne away from all his sinnes that hee hath done, and keepe all my statutes, and doe the thing that is iudgement and right, doubtlesse hee shall liue, and not die.

22 As for all his sinnes that hee did before, they shall not be mentioned vnto him: but in b That is, if ye haue not communicated in the sacrifices of holie things. c Meaning, such as were set apart in time of natural and strength of holie things, as in time of childhoode, Ie. youth, and such like, as Levit. 20.

his righteousness that he hath done, he shall live. 23 For have I any pleasure in the death of a sinner, sayth the Lord God: shall hee not live if he returne from his wayes?

24 Again, if the righteous turne from his righteousness, and doe iniquitie, and shall doe according to all the abominations that the wicked man doeth, shall he live? All the righteousness that he hath done shall not be rememberd, but in his transgression that he hath committed, in his sinne that he hath sinned, in them he shall die.

25 And yet yee say, * The way of the Lorde is not indifferent. Heare therefore ye house of Israel, Is not my way equal? or are not your wayes rather unequal?

26 When a righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquitie, and dyeth in the same: in his iniquitie which he hath committed, shall he die.

27 Again, when the wicked turneth away from his wickednesse that hee hath done, and doeth iudgement and right, hee shall save his soule alive:

28 Because he seeth and turneth away from all his iniquitie that he hath committed, he shall surely live, and not die.

29 And yet sayeth the house of Israel, The way of the Lord is not equal. Are not my wayes equal, O ye house of Israel: are not your wayes rather unequal?

30 Therefore I will iudge you, every man according to his wayes, O ye house of Israel, sayth the Lord God, * returne and bring againe others from all your wickednesse, so iniquitie shall not be your destruction.

31 Cast away from you all your transgressions whereby yee have transgressed, and make you a new heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O ye house of Israel?

32 * Seeing I have no pleasure in the death of him that dyeth, sayth the Lord God, || bring againe your selues then, and ye shall live.

The xix. Chapter.

2 The captiuitie of Ichoas and Ichoiakim is signified by the Lyons whelpes, and by the Lyon.

Thou also take by a lamentation for the princes of Israel.

3 And say, wherefore lay thy mother that Lyonesse among the Lyons: shee nourished her young ones among the Lyons whelpes.

4 One of her whelpes shee brought by, and it became a Lyon, it learned to catch the pray, and to deuoure folke.

5 The heathen heard of him, and caught him in their snare, and brought him in hooches into the land of Egypt.

6 Now when the saw that shee had waited, and her hope was lost, shee tooke another of her whelpes, and made him a Lyon.

7 Which went among the Lyons, and became a fierce Lyon, learned to catch the pray, and deuoure folke.

8 He destroyed their palaces, & made their cities waste, insomuch that the whole land, and every thing therein, were utterly desolate thorrow the voice of his roaring.

9 Then set the heathen together on every side of the countreys against him, laid their nets for him, and tooke him in their pit.

9 So they put him in prison in chagnes, and brought him to the king of Babylon: they put him in holdes, that his boyce should no more be heard vpon the mountaines of Israel.

10 As for thy mother, she is like a vine in the blood, planted by the waters: she brought forth fruite and branches by the abundant waters.

11 And she had strong rods for the scepters of them that bare rule, and her stature was exalted on high among the branches, and shee appeared in her height with the multitude of her branches.

12 But shee was pluckt by in wrath, cast out vpon the ground, * the East winde dried by the fruite, her branches were broken off and withered, as for the rods of her strength, the fire consumed them.

13 And now she is planted in the wilderness, in a dry and thirstie ground.

14 And there is a fire gone out of the rodde of her branches, it hath denoured her fruite, so that shee hath no strong rodde for a scepter to rule: This is a lamentation, and shall bee for a lamentation.

The xx. Chapter.

The Lorde denyeth that hee will answere them when they pray, for the offence of unkindnesse which he here obiecteth.

In the seventh yere, the tenth day of the fifth moneth, certaine of the Elders of Israel came for to aske counsell at the Lorde, and saue downe before me.

2 Then came the worde of the Lorde vnto me, saying,

3 Thou some of man, speake vnto the Elders of Israel, and say vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord God, Are ye come to enquire of me? As truly as I live, I will not be sought of you, sayth the Lord God.

4 Wilt thou iudge them, some of man, wilt thou iudge them? cause them to vnderstand the abominations of their fathers.

5 And tell them, Thus sayth the Lord God, In the day when I chose Israel, and lift by mine hand vpon the seed of the house of Jacob, and was knowen vnto them in the lande of Egypt, yea, when I lift by mine hand ouer them, and sayd, I am the Lord your God:

6 Euen in the day that I lift by mine hand vnto them, to bring them out of the land of Egypt, into a land that I had prouided for them, which floweth with milke and hony, and is pleasant among all other lands:

7 Then sayd I vnto them, Call away euery man the abominations of his eyes, and defile not your selues with the sooles of Egypt: for I am the Lord your God.

8 But they rebelled against me, and would not hearken vnto me, they did not cast away euery man the abominations of his eyes, neither did they forsake the sooles of Egypt: then I said I would powre out mine indignation ouer them, and accomplish my wrath vpon them, yea, euen in the middell of the land of Egypt.

9 And I wrote for my names sake, that it should not bee polluted before the heathen, among whome they were, to whome I was manifestly knowen, in bringing them forth of the land of Egypt.

10 The mother of the vine is like a vine in the blood, planted by the waters: she brought forth fruite and branches by the abundant waters.

11 In the seventh yere, the tenth day of the fifth moneth, certaine of the Elders of Israel came for to aske counsell at the Lorde, and saue downe before me.

12 Euen in the day that I lift by mine hand vnto them, to bring them out of the land of Egypt, into a land that I had prouided for them, which floweth with milke and hony, and is pleasant among all other lands:

13 Then sayd I vnto them, Call away euery man the abominations of his eyes, and defile not your selues with the sooles of Egypt: for I am the Lord your God.

10 Now when I had caused them to goe out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderness:

11 I gave them my statutes, and showed them my iudgements: which who so doeth, shall liue in them.

12 I gave them also my Sabbath dayes, to be a token betwixt me and them, and thereby to know that I am the Lord which halow them.

13 And yet the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wilderness, they would not walke in my statutes, they haue cast away my iudgements, which who so doeth, shall liue in them, and my Sabbath dayes haue they greatly polluted: Then I said I would powze out mine indignation vpon them, and consume them in the wilder nesse.

14 And I wrought for my names sake, lest it should be defiled before the heathen, in whose sight I brought them out.

15 Yet neuerthelesse I lift by my hand vnto them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land which I gaue them, that floweth with milke and honie, and is a pleasure of all lands:

16 And that because they cast away my iudgements, and walked not in my statutes, but haue defiled my Sabbathos: for their heart was gone after their idoles.

17 Neuerthelesse mine eye spared them so that I would not destroy them, nor consume them in the wilderness.

18 Moreover, I sayd vnto their sonnes in the wilderness, walke not in the statutes of your fathers, keepe not their iudgements, and defile not your selues with their idoles.

19 I am the Lord your God, walke in my statutes, keepe my iudgements, and doe them.

20 Halowe my Sabbathos, for they are a token betwixt me and you: that ye may know how that I am the Lord your God.

21 Notwithstanding, their sonnes rebelled against me also, they walked not in my statutes, they kept not my iudgements to fulfill them, which he that doeth, shall liue in them, they prophand my Sabbath dayes, and I sayd, I would powze out mine indignation ouer them, and accomplish my wrath vpon them in the wilderness.

22 Neuerthelesse, I withheld my hand, and wrought for my names sake, lest it should be defiled in the sight of the heathen, before whom I had brought them forth.

23 I lift by my hand to them also in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the heathen, and strawe them among the nations:

24 Because they had not kept my iudgements, but cast aside my statutes, and broken my Sabbathos, and their eyes were after their fathers idoles.

25 Wherefore I gaue them also statutes that were not good, and iudgements wherein they should not liue.

26 And I defiled them in their owne gifts, in that they caused all that openeth the wombe to passe, that I might destroy them, that they might know how that I am the Lord.

27 Therefore speake vnto the house of Israel, thou some of man, and thou shalt say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God, Yet in this also your fathers haue blasphemed mee, and grieuously transgressed against me:

28 For after I had brought them into the land, for the which I lifted by my hand to giue it vnto them, when they saw euerie high hill, and all thicke trees, they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented their offering of anger, there also they made their sweete sauours, and powzed out their wine offerings.

29 And I sayd vnto them, what is that high place wherunto ye resort? and the name of it is called Bamah vnto this day.

30 Wherefore speake vnto the house of Israel, Thus sayth the Lord God, Are ye not defiled in the wayes of your fathers, and commit ye not whoredome after their abominations?

31 For when yee offer your gifts, and make your sonnes to passe thoro' the fire, you are polluted with all your idoles vnto this day: shall I answer you when I am asked, O house of Israel? As I liue, saith the Lord God, I will not be sought of you.

32 And that which cometh into your minde shall not be at all, which you say, we will be as the Gentiles, as the kinreds of the countries to serue wood and stone.

33 As truly as I liue, saith the Lord God, I my selfe wil rule you with a mighty hand, with a stretched out arme, and with indignation powzed ouer you.

34 And I will bring you from the people, and gather you out of the countreys, wherein ye are scattered, with a mighty hand, with a stretched out arme, and with indignation powzed out.

35 And I will bring you into the wilderness of the people, and there I will be iudged with you face to face.

36 Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of Egypt: so will I pleade with you also, saith the Lord God.

37 I will cause you to passe vnder the rod, and I will bring you into the bond of the covenant.

38 And I will purge out of you the rebels, and them that transgresse against me, and bring them out of the land of their habitation: as for the land of Israel they shall not come in it, that you may know how that I am the Lord.

39 As for you, O house of Israel, thus sayth the Lord God, Doe you and serue euery man his idoles, seeing that ye obey not me: and pollute no more my holy name with your gifts and your idoles.

40 For vpon my holy hill, euen vpon the high hill of Israel, sayth the Lord God, shall all the house of Israel, and all that is in the land worship mee: and in the same place will I sauiour them, and there will I require your beaue offerings, and the firklings of your oblations, with all your holy things.

41 I will accept your sweete sauour, when I bring you from the nations, and gather you together out of the lands wherein yee haue bene scattered, that I may be halowed in you before the heathen.

42 And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall bring you into the land of Israel, into the land for the which I lift by my hand to giue it vnto your fathers.

43 There shall yee call to remembrance your otome wayes, and all your workes wherein yee

The xxj. Chapter.

3 He threatneth the sword, that is to say, destruction to the citie of Hierusalem.

The word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, set thy face toward Hierusalem, & drop thy word toward the holy places, and prophesie against the land of Israel.

3 Say to the land of Israel, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I am against thee, and will draw my sword out of the sheath, and cut off from thee both the righteous and the wicked.

4 Seeing then that I will cut off from thee both the righteous and the wicked, therefore shall my sword goe out of his sheath against all flesh from the South to the North,

5 That all flesh may knowe how that I the Lord haue drawn my sword out of the sheath, and it shall not be put in againe.

6 Mourne therefore, O thou some of man, yea, euen with the breaking of thy teynes, mourne bitterly in their presence.

7 And if they say vnto thee, wherefore mour-nest thou? then tell them, for the tidings that commeth: All hearts shall melt, all hands shall be latten downe, all stomakes shall faint, and all knees shall goe as water: beholde, it commeth, and shall be brought to passe, saith the Lord God.

8 Againe, the word of the Lord came vnto
me, saying,

9 Thou sonne of man, prophesie and speake,
Thus saith the Lord God, Speake, The sword, the sword is sharpened, and well furnished.

10 Sharpened is it to make a great slaughter, and fourbished that it may glitter: Shall we then make mirth? It containeth the rodde of my sonne as of all other trees.

11 Hee hath given it to bee fourbished, to holde it in his hand: this sword is sharpened, and fourbished, to giue it into the hand of the slayer.

12 Crie and howle, sonne of man, for it commeth vpon my people, it commeth vpon all the princes of Israel: the terrors of the sword shall be vpon my people, smite therefore thou vpon thy thigh.

13 Because it is a triall, and what if it contemne the rodde? it shall bee no more, saith the Lord God.

14 Prophesie, thou sonne of man, and smite thy hands together, and let the sword bee doubled thrise, euen the sword of the great slaughter entring into their priuie chambers,

15 To make them faint at their hearts, and to multiplie their fallies, in all their gates haue I giuen the terrour of the sword: Ah, it is made bright, and drelled for the slaughter.

16 Get thee one way or other, either vpon the right hand or vpon the left, whithersoever thy face turneth.

17 I will smite my hands together also, and make my wrathfull indignation to rest: euen I the Lord haue sayd it.

18 The word of the Lord came yet vnto me againe, saying,

19 Thou sonne of man, appoint thee two wayes, that the sword of the king of Babylon may come: both these wayes shall goe out of one land, and chuse thee a place, at the head of the cities wayes choose it.

20 Appoint a way that the sword may come toward Rabbath of the Ammonites, and toward Juda in the defenced Hierusalem.

21 For the king of Babylon stood at the parting of the wayes, at the head of the two wayes, consulting by diuination, he made his arrowes bright, consulted with images, and looked in the liuer.

22 At his right hand was the soothsaying for Hierusalem, to appoint captaines, to open their mouth to the slaughter, and to lift by their voice with the alarme, to set battell rammes against the gates, to cast a bulwarke, and to build a fort.

23 And it shall be vnto them as a false diuination in their sight, for the othes made vnto them: but he wil call to remembrance their in-iquitie, to the intent that they may be taken.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because ye haue made your iniquitie to be remembered in discovering your transgressions, so that in all your workes your finnes might appeare, because ye are come to remembrance, ye shall be taken by hand.

25 Thou shamefull wicked prince of Israel, whose day is come, euen when wickednes shall haue an end,

26 Thus sayth the Lord God, I will take a way the Diademe, and put off the crowne: this shall be no more the same, I will exalt the humble, and abase him that is high.

27 Ouerthrowen, ouerthrowen, ouerthrowen will I put it, and it shall not bee, vntill he come to whom the iudgement belongeth, & to whom I haue giuen it.

28 And thou, O sonne of man, prophesie and speake, Thus saith the Lord God to the children of Ammon, and to their blasphemie, speake thou,
The sword, the sword is drawn forth already to slaughter, and fourbished to consume because of the glittering:

29 Whiles they see vnto thee hamitic, and divine a lie vnto thee, to put thee with the neckes of the wicked that be slaine, whose day is come when their iniquitie shall haue an end.

The xxij. Chapter.

The worde of the Lorde against Hierusalem for manslaughter, and denying due honour to their fathers and mothers, and other wickednesse.

Moreouer, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, and sayd,

2 Thou sonne of man, wilt thou not iudge, wilt thou not iudge this bloodie citie? wilt thou not see we her all her abominations?

3 And tell them, Thus sayth the Lord God, The citie sheddeth blood in the middelt of it, that her time may come, and maketh idoles against her selfe, to desle her selfe.

4 Thou hast made thy selfe guiltie in the blood that thou hast shed, and defiled thee in the idoles which thou hast made: thou hast caused thy daies to dray nigh, and made the time of thy peeres to come: therefore will I make thee a reproch among the heathen, and to be a mocking in all lands.

5 Whether they be nigh or farre from thee, they shall laugh thee to scorne, thou that hast gotten thee so foule a name, and art full of trouble.

6 Beholde the rulers of Israel, every one in thee was readie to his power to shed blood.

7 In thee haue they despised father and mother, in thee haue they oppressed the stranger, in thee haue they bered the widow and the fatherlesse.

8 Thou hast despised thy holy things, and defiled my Sabbathes.

9 Tale tellers are there in thee to shed blood, in thee are such as eate vpon the hills, and in the middelt of thee they commit abomination,

10 In thee they discouraged their fathers name, in thee they haue humbled her that was set apart for pollution.

11 Euery man hath dealt shamefully with his neighbors wife, and abominably defiled his daughter in lawe, in thee hath euery man forced his owne suster, even his fathers daughter.

12 Vea, giftes haue bene received in thee to shed blood, thou hast taken bsurie and increase, thou hast oppressed thy neighbours by extortion, and forgotten me, sayth the Lord God.

13 Behold, I haue smitten my hands vpon thy couetousnesse that thou hast used, and vpon the blood which hath bene shed in the middelt of thee.

14 Is thy heart able to endure? or may thy hands be strengthened in the dayes that I shall haue to doe with thee? Euen I the Lorde that speake it, will bring it also to passe.

15 I will scatter thee among the heathen, and draw thee about in the lands, and wil cause thy filthinesse to cease out of thee.

16 Vea, and thou shalt be thine owne inheritance in the sight of the heathen, that thou mayest know that I am the Lord.

17 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

18 Thou sonne of man, the house of Israel is vnto me as drosse: all they are brasse, tin, yron, and lead in the middelt of the furnace, euen drosse of siluer are they.

19 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord God, so: as much as yee all are turned into drosse, therefore behold, I will bring you together vnto Hierusalem.

20 Like as they gather siluer, brasse, yron, tin, and lead into the middelt of the furnace, and the fire is blowen thereunder to melt them: euen so will I gather you in mine anger and in my wrath, and let you remaine there, and cause you to melt.

21 I will bring you together, and blowe the fire of my wrath vpon you, and ye shall be molten in the middelt thereof.

22 Like as the siluer is molten in the middelt of the furnace, so shall ye also be molten therein, that ye may knowe how that I the Lorde haue poyzed my wrath vpon you.

23 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

24 Thou sonne of man, tell her, Thou art an uncleane land, which is not rained vpon in the day of wrath.

25 There is a conspiracie of her prophets in the middelt thereof: as a roaring Lyon rauening his pray they deuoure soules, they haue taken the rich and precious thinges, they haue made her many widowes in the middelt thereof,

26 Her priests haue broken my lawe, and defiled my holy things, they put no difference betwene the holy and unholy, neither discerned they betwene the cleane and uncleane: they turnd their eyes from my Sabbathes, and I am defiled among them.

27 Thy rulers in the middelt of thee are like wolues ravening the pray, to shed blood, and destroy soules for their owne couetous lucre.

28 As for her prophets, they dawbe with bitter tempered moyter, they see vanities, and diuulges vnto them, saying, The Lorde sayeth so: whereas the Lord hath not spoken.

29 The people in the land shed wicked extortion and robbrie, they bered the poore and needy, and oppressed the stranger against right.

30 And I sought among them for a man that would make by the hedge, and set himselfe in the gappe before me in the lands behalfe that I should not destroy it: but I could find none.

31 Therefore haue I poyzed out my cruel displeasure vpon them, I consumed them in the fire of my wrath: their owne wayes will I recompente vpon their heads, sayth the Lord God.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

3 Of the fornication, that is to say, of the idolatrie of Samaria and Hierusalem, vnder the name of Aholah, and Aholibah.

The worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, there were two women the daughters of one mother.

3 And they committed fornication in Egypt, they played the harlots in their youth:

Meaning thereby, that the gods should be refused, and the mother disclosed.

Thou art like a barren land which the Lord visiteth with drought. The false prophets haue conspired together to make false doctrine more probable.

They which should haue reproued them exceeded them in their vices, and covered their doings with lies. Jer. 13.

Which would see himselfe zealous in my cause by resisting vice. Eccl. 59. and 63. and pray vnto me to withhold my plagues. Dial. 106.

Meaning Israel and Saba which came both out of one familie. They became iouaices at the manner of the Egyptian there were their breasts pressed, and there they bruised the teates of their virginite.

4 The names of them were Aholah the elder, and Aholibah her sister, and they were mine, and they bare sonnes and daughters: thus were their names, Samaria is Aholah, and Hierusalem Aholibah.

5 Aholah played the harlot when she was mine, and she was set on fire with her louers the Assyrians her neighbours:

6 which were clothed with blew like, both captaines and princes, they were all pleasant young men, and horsemen riding vpon horses.

7 Thus she committed her whozedom with them, being all chosen men of Ashur, and with all on whom she doted, and defiled her selfe with all her idoles.

8 Neither left she the fornication that she vsed with the Egyptians: for in her youth they lay with her, they bruised the breasts of her maidenhead, and powdered their whozedom vpon her.

9 wherefore I deliuered her into the hands of her louers, euen into the hands of the Assyrians vpon whom she doted.

10 These discovered her shame,ooke her sonnes and daughters, and slewe her with the sword, an euill name had she among women: for they had executed iudgement vpon her.

11 Her sister Aholibah saw this, and destroyed her selfe with inordinate loue more then she, and with her fornications, more then her sister with her fornications.

12 Shee doted vpon the Assyrians captaines and princes her neighboz, clothed with all manner of gorgeous apparell, horsemen riding vpon horses, being all pleasant young men.

13 Then I saw that she was defiled, and they tooke both one way.

14 But shee increased still in whozedom: for when she sawe men painted vpon the wall, the images of the Chaldees painted with vermilion,

15 And girded with girdles vpon their loines, and with dyed attyre vpon their heads, looking all like princes, after the manner of the Babylonians in Chaldea, the land where they were doorne:

16 As soone as she saw them, she burnt in loue vpon them, and sent messengers vnto them, into the land of the Chaldees.

17 Now when the Babylonians came vnto her in the bed of loue, they defiled her with their whozedom: and so was she polluted with them, and her lust was abated from them.

18 And she discovered her whozedom, and disclosed her shame: then my heart forooke her, like as my heart was gone from her sister also.

19 Nevertheless, shee increased her whozedom more, and remembered the dayes of her youth, wherein she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.

20 Shee burnt in lust vpon their lechers, whose flesh was like the flesh of asses, and their issue like the issue of horses.

21 Thus thou hast called to remembrance the filthinesse of thy youth, when thy teates were bruised by the Egyptians, for the payes of thy youth.

22 Therefore, O Aholibah, thus sayeth the Lord God, I will raise by thy louers against thee from whom thy heart is departed, and gather them together against thee on euery side.

23 Namely, the Babylonians and all the Chaldees, rulers, wealthy, and mighty men, with all the Assyrians, and pleasant young men, captaines and princes, all valiant and renowned, riding vpon horses.

24 These shall come vpon thee with charrets, weapons, and wheeles, and great multitude of people, with buckler, shield, and helmet they shall beset thee on euery side: I will giue iudgement befoze them, yea, they themselues shall iudge thee according to their owne iudgement.

25 I will lay mine indignation vpon thee, so that they shall deale cruelly with thee: they shall cut off thy nose and thine eares, and thy raiment shall fall by the sword, they shall carie away thy sonnes and daughters, and the residue shall bee deuoured by the fire.

26 They shall strip thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy faire ieruels.

27 Thus will I make thy wickednes to cease from thee, and thy fornication out of the land of Egypt: so that thou shalt turne thine eyes no more after them, and call thy minde no more vpon Egypt.

28 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will deliuer thee into the hands of them whom thou hatest, yea, euen into the hands of them from whom thine heart is departed.

29 And they shall deale hatefully with thee, and take away all thy labour, and leaue thee naked, and bare, and the shame of thy fornications shall bee discovered, both thy wickednesse and thy whozedom.

30 I will doe these things vnto thee, because thou hast gone a whozing after the heathen, and because thou art polluted with their idoles.

31 Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister, therefore will I giue her cup into thine hand.

32 Thus saith the Lord God, Thou shalt drinke of thy sisters cuppe deepe and large, thou shalt be laughed to scozne, and had in derision, because it containeth much.

33 Thou shalt bee filled with drunkeinesse and sorowe, euen with the cuppe of destruction and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Samaria.

34 Thou shalt drinke it, and sucke it out, and thou shalt breake the sheards thereof, and teare thine owne breasts: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

35 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Forasmuch as thou hast forgotten me, and cast mee as be hind thy backe, so heare now thine owne wickednesse and whozedom.

36 The Lord sayd moreover vnto me, Thou sonne of man, wilt thou not iudge Aholah, and Aholibah? heu them their abominations, 37 Namely that they haue broken their wedlocke, and blood is in their handes: and with their idoles haue they committed adulterie, and haue also caused their sonnes whom they bare vnto mee, to passe by the fire to bee their meat.

38 Yea, and this haue they done vnto me also, they haue defiled my Sanctuarie in the same day, and haue prophaned my Sabbathys.

39 For when they had slaine their children for their idoles, they came the same day into my sanctuarie to defile it: and loe, thus haue

c Aholah is mentioned in the first mention in the first mention meaning Samaria, which was the royal cite of Israel, and Aholibah signifies, shee mention in her where by is meant Hierusalem, whose sons temple was, d Dumber me, that is, vnder my government, and nameth the people of God, they became idolaters, for looke God, and put their trust in the Assyrians, e Shee holdeth both these things which seeme strange to the ears, so cause the which vice of idolatry to be abhorred, that might any should abide to leave the name thereof in mention.

40 And howe much moze is it that they sent for men to come from farre, vnto whom a messenger was sent, and loe, they came: for whom thou diddest wash thy selfe, and paintedst thine eyes, and deckedst thee with ornaments.

41 Thou satest vpon a stately bed, and a table spread before it, whereupon thou hast set mine incense and mine oyle.

42 And a noyse of a merrie companie at it, and with the men, beside the multitude of the people were brought men of Saba out of the desert, which gaue them bracelets vpon their hands, and beautiful crowns vpon their heads.

43 And I said vnto her that was worne in her adulteries, How shall her fornications come to an end, and she also.

44 And they went in to her as they goe vnto a common harlot: euen so went they to Aholah and Aholibah, those wicked women.

45 And the righteous men they shall iudge them after the manner of harlots, and after the maner of murderers: for they are harlots, and blood is in their hands.

46 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God, I will bring a great multitude of people vpon them, and giue them to be scattered and spoyled.

47 And the multitude shall stone them with stones, and cut them downe with their swords, they shall slay their sonnes and daughters, and burne by their houses with fire.

48 Thus will I cause wickednes to cease out of the land, that all women may be taught not to doe after your wickednesse.

49 And so they shall lay your wickednesse vpon your owne selues, and the sinnes of your idoles shall ye beare: and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

He prooueth the firing of Hierusalem by a parable of a seething pot.

In the ninth yeere, in the tenth moneth, the tenth day of the moneth, came the worde of the Lord vnto me, saying,

2 Thou some of man, write thee the name of this day, yea, euen of this present day: for the king of Babylon set himselfe against Hierusalem this selfe same day.

3 And shew the rebellious house a parable, and speake vnto them: Thus saith the Lord God, Prepare a pot, set it on, and powze water into it.

4 Gather the pieces thereof into it, euery good piece, the thigh and the shoulder, and fill it with the chiefe bones.

5 Take one of the best sheepe, and burne also bones vnder it, let it boyle well, let the bones thereof seeth well therein.

6 With that said the Lord God on this manner, woe vnto the bloodie citie, to the pot whose scumme is therein, and whose scum is not gone out of it: bring it out: piece by piece, let no lot fall vpon it.

7 For her blood is in the middelt of it, vpon a high drie stone hath she powzed it, and not vpon the ground, that it might be covered with dirt:

8 That it might cause wrath to arise, and take vengeance: I haue set her blood vpon an high drie rocke, that it should not be covered.

9 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God, Woe be vnto the bloodthirstie citie, for whom euen I my selfe will make a great fire.

10 And heape on much wood, and kindle the fire, and seeth the flesh, and spice the pot, so that the very bones shall be burnt.

11 Whereouer, I will set the pot empty vpon the coales, so that the brasse thereof may be hot and burne, and the filthinesse of it may be molten in it, and the scum of it shall be consumed.

12 She hath wearied her selfe with labour, yet her great scum is not gone off her, in the fire her scum must be consumed.

13 In thy filthinesse is wickednesse: because I would haue purged thee, and thou wast not purged from thy filthinesse, thou shalt not be purged any moze, till I haue caused mine indignation to rest in thee.

14 Euen I the Lord haue spoken it: yea, it is come thereto already that I will doe it, I will not goe backe, I will not spare, I will not repent: but according to thy wayes and imaginations shall they iudge thee, saith the Lord.

15 And the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

16 Thou sonne of man, behold, I will take away from thee the pleasure of thine eyes with a plague, yet shalt thou neither mourne nor weepe, neither shall thy teares run downe.

17 Mourne in silence, make no mourning of the dead, bind the tyre of thy head vpon thee, and put on thy shooes vpon thy feete, couer not thy lips, and eate no mans bread.

18 So I spake vnto the people betimes in the morning, and at euen my wife died: then vpon the next morrow I did as I was commanded.

19 And the people said vnto me, wilt thou not tell vs what this signifieth toward vs, that thou doest so?

20 I answered them, The word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

21 Tell the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will pollute my sanctuarie, euen the glory of your power, the pleasure of your eyes, and your hearts delight: and your sonnes and daughters whom you haue left, shall fall through the sword.

22 Like as I haue done, so shall ye do also: ye shall not couer your lips, ye shall eate no mans bread, 23 And your tyre shall be vpon your heads, and your shooes vpon your feete: ye shall neither mourne nor weepe, but ye shall pine away in your iniquities, and mourne one towardes another.

24 Thus Ezechiel is your shew-token: according to all that he hath done, ye shall doe: when it commeth, then ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

25 Also, thou sonne of man, shall it not be in the day when I take from them their power, the ioy of their honour, the pleasure of their eyes, and the lifting vp of their soules, their sonnes and their daughters?

26 In that day shall come one that is escaped, vnto thee and bring it to the hearing of thine eares.

27 In that day shall thy mouth be opened to him which is escaped, that thou mayest speake

The xxv. Chapter.

2 The word of the Lord vpon the sonnes of Ammon, which reioyced at the fall of Hierusalem. 8 Against Moab and Seir, against Idumea, against the Philistines.

The worde of the Lord came vnto
me, saying,

2 Thou some of man, set thy face toward the Ammonites, and prophecie vpon them,

3 And say vnto the Ammonites, Heare the word of the Lord God, Thus saicth the Lord God, soasmuch as thou saidest, <sup>a</sup>Ha, ha, ouer my Sanctuarie because it was polluted, and ouer the land of Israel because it was desolate, and ouer the house of Iuda because they went into captiuitie:

4 Behold therefore, I will deliuer thee to the people of the <sup>b</sup>East, that they may haue thee in possession: these shall fettle their palaces in thee, & make their dwellings in thee, they shall eate thy fruite, and drinke by thy milke.

5 As for <sup>c</sup>Rabbath, I will make of it a stable for camels, and of the Ammonites a sheep-fold: and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

6 For thus saicth the Lozde God, Insomuch as thou hast clapped with thine handes, and stamped with thy feete, yea, and reioyced ouer the land of Israel with all thy <sup>d</sup>despite in heart:

7 Beholde therefore, I will stretch out my hand ouer thee, and deliuer thee to be spoyled of the Heathen, and roote thee out from among the people, & caule thee to perish out of the lands, yea, I will make thee to be destroyed, that thou mayest know that I am the Lord.

8 Thus saith the Lord God, soasmuch as Moab and Seir doe say, Behold, the house of Iuda is like as all Gentiles be:

9 Therefore behold, I will open the side of Moab from the cities, from the cities I say of his frontiers, the pleasures of the countrey, as namely Bethielmoth, Baalmeon, and Iiriathiarim:

10 <sup>e</sup> Vnto the children of the East, against the Ammonites, and will giue it into possession, so that the Ammonites shall no more be had in re-membrence among the Heathen.

11 And I will execute iudgements vpon Moab: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

12 Thus saith the Lord God, for that Edom hath done in auenging reuengement vpon the house of Iuda, and hath done great offence, and auenged himselfe vpon them:

13 Therefore thus saicth the Lord God, I will reach out mine hand vpon Edom, and destroy man and beast out of it, I will make it desolate from Theman, and Bedanah shall fall by the word.

14 And I will execute my reuengement vpon Edom by the hand of my people Israel, they shall doe in Edom according to my wrath and indignation, so that they shall know my vengeance, saith the Lord God.

15 Thus saith the Lord God, for that the Philistines did in vengeance, namely in auenging reuengement, with a <sup>f</sup>despitefull heart to destroy it for the olde enmitie:

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will stretch out my hand ouer the Philistines, and destroy the Cerechites, and caule all the remnant of the sea coast to perish:

17 A great vengeance will I take vpon them, with punishments of my wrath, that they may know that I am the Lord, when I shall lay my vengeance vpon them.

The xxvj. Chapter.

1 He prophecieth that Tyrus shall be ouerthrowen, because it reioyced at the destruction of Hierusalem.

And it came to passe in the eleuenth yeere, the first day of the moneth,
the worde of the Lord came vnto
me, saying,

2 Thou some of man, because that Tyre hath spoken vpon Hierusalem, Ha, ha, the gates of the people is broken, <sup>b</sup> it is turned but to me, for now that she is destroyed I shall be filled:

3 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, O Tyre, I will vpon thee, I will raise vp many nations against thee, like as when the sea arisech with his waves.

4 They shall breake the walles of Tyre, and cast downe her towres, I will scrape her dust from her, and make her a drie rocke.

5 Shee shall be for a spreading of nets in the sea, for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God, and shee shall be for a spoyle to the nations.

6 Her <sup>c</sup>daughters that are in the fielde shall saine with the sword, that they may know how that I am the Lord.

7 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will bring vpon Tyrus Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon fro the North, a king of kings, with horses, charets, horsemen, with a multitude, and much people.

8 Thy daughters that are in the fielde shall be slay with the sword: but against thee he shall make bulwarks, and cast a mount against thee, and lift vp his speare against thee.

9 He shall set engins of warre before him against thy wals, and with his weapons breake downe thy towres.

10 The dust of his horses shall cover thee, they shall be so many, thy walles shall shake at the noyse of the horsemen, wheelcs, and charets, when he shall enter into thy gates, as into the entrie of a citie broken downe.

11 With the hooftes of his horses shall he tread downe all thy streetes: hee shall slay the people with the sword, and the pillars of thy strength shall fall downe to the ground.

12 They shall robbe thy riches, and spoile thy marchandize, thy wals shall they breake downe, and destroy thy houses of pleasure, thy stones, thy timber, and dust shall they cast into the mids
of the water.

13 Thus will I caule the sound of thy songs to cease, and the noyse of thy harpes shall no more be heard.

14 I will bring thee into a drie rocke, thou shalt be for a spreading of nets, thou shalt neuer be builde againe: for euer I the Lord haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

15 Thus hath the Lord God spoken concerning Tyre, shall not the Isles tremble at the noyse of thy fall, and at the cry of the wounded, reioyced when the citie was destroyed and simple.

when they shall be slaine and murdered in the midst of thee?

16 All princes of the sea shall come downe from their thrones, they shall lay away their robes, and put off their bordered garments, yea, with trembling shall they be clothed, they shall sit upon the ground, they shall be astonished at euery moment, and be amazed at thee.

17 They shall mourne for thee, and say vnto thee, How art thou destroyed that wast inhabited of the seas, the renowned citie which was strong in the sea, she and her inhabitants, which caused their feare to be on all that haunted them?

18 Now shall the inhabiteurs of the Isles bee astonished in the day of thy fall: yea, the Isles that are in the sea shall be troubled at thy departure.

19 For thus saith the Lorde God, when I make thee a desolate citie, as other cities be that no man dwell in, and when I bring vp the deepe vpon thee, that great waters may couer thee:

20 Then will I cast thee downe vnto them that descend into the pit, vnto a people of olde time, and set thee in a land that is beneath, like the olde ruines, with them which goe downe to the graue, so that no man shall dwell moze in thee: but I will referue honour for the land of the liuing.

21 I will make thee terrours, and thou shalt be no moze: though thou be sought for, yett shalt thou not be found for euermoze, saith the Lord God.

The xxvij. Chapter.

The Prophet is mouued to bewaile the desolation of Tyrus.

The word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, take vp a lamentable cōplaint vpon Tyre,

3 And say vnto Tyre that is situate at the entrie of the sea, which is the mart of the people for many Isles, Thus saith the Lord God, O Tyre, thou hast said, I am of perfect beautie.

4 Thy borders are in the mids of the seas, thy builders haue made perfect thy beautie.

5 They haue made all thy ship boardes of sycere trees of Shenir, from Libanus haue they taken Cedar trees to make thee masses:

6 And the oaks of Basan to make thee Ores, they of Assyria haue made thy benches of Iuory, brought out of the Isles of Chittim.

7 Fine linen with bordered worke out of Egypt was spred ouer thee to bee thy saile: blue silke and purple out of the Isles of Elisah was thy couering.

8 The inhabiteurs of Sidon and Aruad were thy mariners: and thy wise men, O Tyre, that were in thee, were the shipmasters.

9 The ancient and wise men of Gebal were in thee thy stoppers of chinkes: all thyss of the sea with their shipmen were in thee to occupie thy marchandize.

10 The Perles, Lydians, and Phytens, were in thy armies thy men of warre: these hanged by their shields and helmets in thee, these set forth thine honour.

11 They of Aruad were with thine hosse round about thy walles, and the Dignificians were thy watchmen vpon thy towres: these hanged by their quiuers round about thy walles, they made thy beautie perfect.

12 They of Charis were thy marchants for the multitude of all riches, in silver, yron, tynn, and leade, which they brought to thy faires.

13 Jauan, Cubal, and Melech were thy marchants concerning the liues of men, and they brought vessels of brasse for thy marchandize.

14 They of the house of Thogarma brought vnto thee, at the time of thy mart, horses, courfers, and mules.

15 They of Dedan were thy marchants, and many Isles the marchandize of thy hands, and brought thee honyes, teeth, and Hebenus, for presents.

16 They of Aram were thy marchants for the multitude of thy workes, and occupied in thy faires with Emerals, purple, bordered worke, fine linen, corall, and perle.

17 Iuda and the lande of Israel occupied with thee, & brought vnto thy markets wheate of Hinneth and Pannag, honie, oyle, and tryacle.

18 Damascus also used marchandize with thee, in the wine of Helbon, and white wooll, because thine occupying was so great, and thy wares so many.

19 Dan, Jattan, and Meusal haue brought vnto thy markets wrought yron: Cassia and Calamus were among thy marchandize.

20 They of Dedan were thy marchants in precious clothes for chariots.

21 Arabia and all the princes of Cedar haue occupied with thee, in wethers, rams, & goates: in these were they thy marchants.

22 The marchants of Seba and Rema haue occupied also with thee in all chiefe spices, in all precious stones and golde, which they brought vnto thy markets.

23 Haran, Chenne, and Eden, the marchants of Seba, Assyria, and Chelmad, were doers with thee.

24 These were thy marchants in all sorts of things, in raiment of blue silke, and of bordered worke, and in Cofers for the rich apparel, which were trussed with cordes, and Cedar board among thy marchandize.

25 The shippes of Charis were the chiefe of thine occupying: thus thou wast replenished and in great worship, euen in the middes of the sea.

26 Thy rowers haue brought thee into great waters, the East winde hath broken thee in the middes of the sea.

27 Thy riches, and thy faires, thy marchandize, thy mariners, and shipmasters, thy callers, and the occupiers of thy marchandize, and all thy men of warre that are in thee, and all thy multitude that is in the middes of thee, shall fall in the middes of the sea, in the day of thy fall.

28 The suburbs shall shake at the loude cry of thy shipmen.

29 All that handle the oze, mariners, and all shipmasters of the sea, shall come downe from their ships, and stand vpon the land.

The xxviij. Chapter.

The word of God against the king of Tyrus for his pride.

The worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, Tel the prince of Tyze, Thus sayeth the Lord God, Because thou hast a proud heart, and hast said, I am

3 God, I sit in the seat of God, in the midst of the sea: whereas thou art but a man, and not God, though thou set thine heart as the heart of God.

3 Beholde, thou thinkest thy selfe wiser then Daniel, that there is no secret hid from thee.

4 With thy great wisdom and thine vnderstanding thou hast gotten thee great wealthinesse, and gathered treasure of siluer & gold.

5 With thy great wisdom and occupying hast thou increased thy power, and because of thy great riches thy heart is proud.

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, for so much as thou hast set thine heart as the heart of God:

7 Behold, I wil bring strangers vpon thee, even the terrible nations, these shall drawe out their swords vpon the beautie of thy wisdom, and shall defile thy glory.

8 They shall cast thee downe to the pit, so that thou shalt die the death of them that be slaine in the midst of the sea.

9 Wilt thou lay them before them that slay thee, I am a God: whereas thou art but a man, and not God, in the hands of them that slay thee?

10 Die shalt thou the death of the vncircumcised in the hands of the strangers: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

11 Whereout, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

12 Thou sonne of man, take by a lamentation vpon the king of Tyze, and tell him, Thus saith the Lord God, Thou sealest by the summe, full of wisdom and perfit beautie.

13 Thou hast bene in the pleasant garden of God, thou art deckt with all maner of precious stones, with Rubie, Topas, Diamond, Turkeis, Onix, Jasper, Saphyr, Emeraulde, Carbuncle, and golde: the workmanship of thy Tyrbels, and of thy pipes that be in thee, was prepared in the day that thou wast created.

14 Thou art an anointed Cherub that couereth, and I haue set thee in this dignity, thou wast vpon the holy mount of God, thou hast walked in the middes of the bones of fire.

15 From the time of thy creation thou hast bene perfect in thy wayes, till wickednesse was found in thee.

16 By the multitude of thy merchandize they haue filled the middes of thee with cruelty, and thou hast sinned: I will cast thee as prophane out of the mount of God, and I will destroy thee, & couering Cherub, from the mids of the bones of fire.

17 Thy heart was proud in thy beautie, and through thy brightnesse thou hast destroyed thy wisdom: I will cast thee downe to the ground, I will lay thee before kings, that may beholde thee.

18 Thou hast defiled thy sanctification with the great wickednesse of thine vnrightheous occupying: I will bring a fire from the midst of thee, to consume thee, and will make thee to ashes vpon the earth, in the sight of all them that looke vpon thee.

19 All they that haue bene acquainted with thee among the heathen, shall be abashed at thee: thou hast bene a terrour, and neuer shalt thou be any moze.

20 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

21 Thou sonne of man, set thy face against Sidon, and prophesie vpon it,

22 And speake, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, O Sidon, I will vpon thee, and I will be glorified in the middes of thee: that it may be knownen how that I am the Lord, when I shall haue executed iudgements in her, and shall be sanctified in her.

23 For I will send pestilence and bloodshedding into her streets, and the staine shall fall in the midst of her by the sword comming vpon her on euery side: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

24 They shall be no more a pricking thorne vnto the house of Israel, nor a grieuous thorne of all that are round about them, and despised them: and they shall know that I am the Lord God.

25 Thus saith the Lord God, when I gather the household of Israel together againe from the nations among whom they be scattered, then shall I bee sanctified in them in the sight of the Gentiles, and they shall dwell in the land that I gaue to my seruant Iacob.

26 They shall dwell with confidence therein, build houses, and plant vineyards, yea, with confidence shall they dwell therein when I haue executed iudgements vpon all those that despise them round about, and then shall they know that I am the Lord their God.

9 Yea, the land of Egypt shall be desolate and waste, and they shall know that I am the Lord, because he said, The riuer is mine, I my selfe haue made it.

10 Beholde therefore, I will vpon thee, and vpon thy riuers, I will make the land of Egypt bitterly waste and desolate, from the towne of Senuen, vnto the borders of Ethiopia.

11 No foote of man shall passe by it, nor foote of beaſt ſhall passe by it, neither shall it be inhabited fourtie yeeres.

12 I will make the land of Egypt to be desolate among other waste countries, and her cities destroyed fourtie yeres among other destroyed cities: & I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and drawe them thoro'w the countreys.

13 Again, thus saith the Lord God, when the fourtie yeeres are expired, I will gather the Egyptians together againe out of the nations among whom they were scattered.

18 Thou sonne of man, Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon caused his armie to serue a great seruice against Tyre: euery head was made bald, and euery shoulder bare, yet had neither he nor his armie any wages for Tyrus for the seruice which he serued against it.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will giue the land of Egypt vnto Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, that he may take a way her multitude, and spoile her spoiles, and take her pray to pay his holde their wages withall.

20 For the worke which he wrought about it, I haue giuen him the land of Egypt, because they wrought for mee, saith the Lord God.

The xxx. Chapter.

The destruction of Egypt, and of his cities is bewailed.

The word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, propheticke, and speake, Thus saith the Lorde God, Howle, woe worthy this day:

3 For the day is neere, the day of the Lorde is at hand, the darke day, the time of the nations shall be.

4 And the sword shall come vpon Egypt: and feare shall be in Ethiopia when the flame shall fall in Egypt: and they shall take a way her multitude, and her foundations shall be broken downe.

5 Yea, Ethiopia, Libya, and Lydia, all their common people, and Chub, and all that be confederate vnto them, shall fall with them through the sword.

6 Thus saith the Lord, The mainteiners of the land of Egypt shall fall, the pride of her power shall come downe, euen from the tower of Senuen shall they fall downe in it with the sword, saith the Lord God.

7 Among other desolate countries they shall be made desolate, among other waste cities they shall be wasted.

8 And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I haue set a fire in Egypt, and when all her helpers shall be destroyed.

9 In that day shall messengers goe forth from me in ships, to make the carelesse Moziars afraid, and feare shall come vpon them, according to the day of Egypt: for loe, it cometh.

to an ende: there shall no more be a prince of Egypt, and a fearfulnesse will I send into the Egyptians land.

14 As for Balthos I will make it desolate, and kindle a fire in Soan, and I will execute judgements in No.

15 And I will powze out my wrathful indignation upon Sin in the strength of Egypt, and I will destroy the multitude of No.

The xxxj. Chapter.

1 A comparison of the prosperitie of Pharaos, with the prosperitie of the Assyrians. 10 He prophecieth a like destruction to them both.

MOuer, in the eleuenth yeere, the first day of the third moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, speake vnto Pharaos king of Egypt, and to all his people, whom art thou like in thy greatnesse?

3 Behold, Assur is a Cedar in Libanon, with faire branches, and with thicke shadowing boughes of a high stature, and his top was among the thicke boughes.

4 The waters made him great, and the deepe set him vp on high, with the riuers running round about his plants, and set out her little riuers vnto all the trees of the field.

5 Therefore was he higher then all the trees of the field, and his boughs were multiplied, and his branches were long, because of the multitude of the waters which the deepe sent out.

6 All foules of the ayze made their nests in his branches, vnder his boughs did all the beasts of the field bring forth their young, and vnder his shadow dwelt all mightie nations.

7 Beautifull was he in his greatnesse, and in the length of his branches: for his roote stood beside great waters.

8 No Cedar tree might hide him in the garden of God, there was no firme trees like his branches, the Chellenut trees were not like the boughes of him: all the trees in the garden of God might not be compared vnto him in his beautie.

9 I made him faire with the multitude of his branches: in somuch that all the trees in the pleasant garden of God had envie at him.

10 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, For so much as he hath lift vp himselfe so high, & hath shot by his top among the thicke boughes, and his heart is lift vp in his height:

11 I haue therefore deliuered him into the hands of the mightiest among the heathen: he shall handle him, for in his wickednesse haue I cast him away.

12 And strangers haue destroyed him, euen the terrible nations, and haue left him: vpon the mountaines, and vpon all valleys haue his boughes fallen, and his boughes are broken by all the riuers of the lande: and all the people of the earth are departed from his shadow, and haue forsaken him.

13 vpon his ruine shall all the foules of the ayze remaine, and all the beasts of the field shall be vpon his branches.

14 So that none of all the trees by the waters shall be exalted in their height, nor shoot by their tops among the thicke boughes, neither shall their trees stand in their height, as many of them as drinke water: for they are all deliuered vnto death in the neather parts of the earth, in the midst of the children of men, among them that goe downe to the pit.

15 Thus saith the Lord God, In the day when he went downe to the graue, I caused a lamentation to be made, I couered the deepe for him, I restrained the floods thereof, and the great waters were stayed, I caused Libanus to mourne for him, and all the trees of the field fainted.

16 I made the heathen shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him downe to hell with them that descend into the pit: all the excellent trees of Eden, and the best of Libanus, all that drinke waters, shall be comforted in the neather partes of the earth.

17 They also went downe to hell with him vnto them that he slaine with the sword, which were his armes, and dwelt vnder his shadowe in the midst of the nations.

18 To whom art thou thus like in glory and in greatnesse among the trees of Eden? yet thou shalt be cast downe with the trees of Eden, vnto the neather partes of the earth: in the midst of the vncircumcised that thou sleepe with them, that are slaine with the sword: This is Pharaos and all his multitude, saith the Lord God.

The xxxij. Chapter.

2 The Prophet is commaunded to beuaile Pharao king of Egyptr. 12 Hee prophecieth that destruction shall come vnto Egypt through the king of Babylon.

In the twelfth yeere, the first day of the twelfth moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, take vp a lamentation vpon Pharao the king of Egypt, and say vnto him, Thou art like a Lion of the heathen, and as a whale fish in the sea: thou drawest out thy riuers, thou troublest the waters with thy feete, and stampst in their riuers.

3 Thus saith the Lord God, I will spread my net ouer thee with a great multitude of people, these shall make thee come by into my net.

4 For I will leaue thee vpon the land, and cast thee vpon the open field, and I will cause all the foules of the ayre to remaine vpon thee, and fill all the beastes of the field with thee.

5 Thy flesh will I lay vpon the hills, and fill the valleys with thy highnesse.

6 I will water thine overflowing land with thy blood, euen to the mountaines, and the riuers shall be full of thee.

7 When thou art put out, I will couer the heauen, and make his starres dim: I will spread a cloud ouer the Sunne, and the Moone shall not giue her light.

8 All the lights of heauen will I make darke for thee: and bying darimes vpon thy land, saith the Lord.

9 I will stirre by to anger the hearts of many people, when I bring thy destruction among the heathen, and vpon the countreyes which thou knowest not.

10 Yea, I will make many people amazed at thee, and their kings shall bee astonished with feare for thee, when I shall make my sword to glitter against their faces: and they shall be afraid at euery moment, euery man for his owne life, in the day of thy fall.

11 For thus saith the Lord God, The king of Babylons sword shall come vpon thee:

12 With the swordes of the mightie will I smite downe thy multitude: they all shall be terrible nations, and they shall destroy the pompe of Egypt, and the multitude thereof shall be consumed.

13 I will destroy also all the beastes thereof from the great water sides, neither shall the foote of man trouble them any more, nor the hooues of beastes trouble them.

14 Then will I make their waters deepe, and cause their riuers to ruine like oyle, saith the Lord.

15 When I make the land of Egypt desolate, and when the countrey with all that is therein shall be lade waste, and when I smite all them which dwell in it, then shall they knowe that I am the Lord.

16 This is the mourning when they shall lament her, The daughters of the nations shall lament her, they shall make the lamentation ouer Egypt, and ouer all the people thereof, saith the Lord.

17 In the twelfth yeere, the fifteenth day of the moneth, came the worde of the Lord vnto me, saying,

18 Thou sonne of man, lament for the multitude of Egypt, and cast them downe, euen them, & the daughters of the famous nations, to the neather partes of the earth, with them that goe downe into the pit.

19 Whom doest thou passe in beaultie? goe downe and sleepe with the bncircumcised.

20 Among those that be slaine with the sword shall he lie, to the sword is he already deliuered: draw her downe, and all her multitude.

21 The mightie worthies shall speake to her out of the middell of hell, and to her helpers: they are gone downe and sleepe with the bncircumcised that be slaine with the sword.

22 Assur is there also with all his companie, and their graues round about him, which were slaine and fell all with the sword:

23 Whose graues are made in the side of the pit, and his multitude are round about his graue, to wit, all the slaine are fallen by the sword, which cause a feare to be in the lande of the liuing.

24 There is Cham also, with all his people round about his graue, which all being slaine and fallen with the sword, are gone downe bncircumcised vnder the earth, which neuertheless sometime brought feare into the land of the liuing: they beare their owne shame, with the other that be gone downe to the graue.

25 They haue made his bed in the middell of the slaine, with all his multitude, their graues are round about him: all these bncircumcised slaine by the sword, although they caused their feare in the land of the liuing, yet haue they bozne their shame with them that goe downe to the pit, they are laide in the midd of them that are slaine.

26 There is Meslech also and Tubal, and their people, and their graues round about him: these all bncircumcised were slaine with the sword, because afozetime they made the land of the liuing afraid.

27 They shall not lie with the bncircumcised which are fallen of the bncircumcised, which are gone downe to the graue with their weapons of war, and haue laide their swordes vnder their heads: but their iniquitie shall be vpon their bones, because the terrour of their muggety was in the land of the liuing.

28 Yea, and among the bncircumcised shall thou be destroyed, and sleepe with them that perished through the sword.

29 There is Edom with her kings and princes also, which with their strength are laide by them that are slaine with the sword: yea among the bncircumcised shall they sleepe, & with them which are gone downe into the pit.

30 Mozeouer there be all the princes of the North, with all the Sidonians, which are gone downe with the slaine: with their feare and strength they are come to confusion, and lie there bncircumcised among those that be slaine with the sword, and beare their owne shame with them that be gone downe to the pit.

31 Pharao shall see them, and be comforted ouer all his multitude: Pharao and all his armie shall be slaine with the sword, saith the Lord God.

The xxxij. Chapter.

He setteth out the office of the gouernours and ministers. 14 He strengtheneth them that despaire, and boldeneth them with the promise of mercie.

Againe, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

1 Thou sonne of man, speake to the children of thy people, and tell them, when I send a sword vpon a land, if the people of the land take a man of their coasts, and set him to be their watchman :

3 If when he seeth the sword come vpon the land, he shall blow the trumpet, and warne the people :

4 Then hee that heareth the noyse of the trumpet, and will not be warned, and the sword come and take him away, his blood shall be vpon his owne head.

5 For he heard the sound of the trumpet, and would not be warned, therefore his blood be vpon him : but he that receiueth warning, he shall saue his life.

6 Againe, if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, so that the people is not warned, if the sword come then, and take any man from among them : the same shall be taken away in his owne sinne, but his blood will I require at the watchmans hand.

7 And thou, O sonne of man, I haue made thee a watchman vnto the house of Israel: therefore thou shalt heare the word at my mouth, and thou shalt warne them from me.

8 If I say vnto the wicked, Thou wicked, thou shalt surely die: and thou speakest not to admonish the wicked of his way : that wicked man shall die in his owne sinne, but his blood will I require at thy hand.

9 Neuertheless, if thou warne the wicked of his way to turne from it, and he yet will not be turned from his way : then shall he die in his iniquitie, but thou shalt be deliuered thy soule.

10 Therefore, O thou sonne of man, speake vnto the house of Israel, yea, say thus, If our offences and sinnes lie vpon vs, and we be consumed in them, how should we then liue?

11 Tell them, As truly as I liue, saith the Lord God, I haue no pleasure in the death of the wicked, but much rather that the wicked turne from his way, and liue : Turne you, turne you from your wicked wayes, for why will ye die, O ye of the house of Israel?

12 Therefore thou sonne of man, Tell the children of thy people, The righteousnesse of the righteous shall not saue him in the day of his iniquitie : againe, The wickednesse of the wicked shall not ouerthrow him for it, in the day that he returneth from his wickednesse: neither shall the righteous liue for it in the day that he sinneth.

13 If I say vnto the righteous, He shall surely liue, and so he trust to his owne righteousnesse, and doe sinne : then shall his righteousnesse be no more thought vpon, but in his wickednesse that he hath done, in it he shall die.

14 Againe, if I say vnto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die : and so he turne from his sinnes, and doe the thing that is lawfull and right.

15 Inasmuch that the same wicked man giueth the pledge againe, reioyeth that he had taken away by robberte, walketh in the commandments of life, and doeth none iniquitie : then shall he surely liue, and not die.

16 None of the sinnes that he hath committed shall be mentioned vnto him : for inasmuch as he doth now the thing that is lawfull and right, he shall liue.

17 And yet the children of thy people, say, The way of the Lord is not equal: but their owne way is rather vnequall.

18 When the righteous turneth from his righteousnesse, and doth the thing that is wicked, he shall die therein.

19 But if the wicked turne from his wickednesse, doing the thing that is lawfull and right, he shall liue therefore.

20 Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not equal: O ye house of Israel, I will iudge every one of you after his wayes.

21 In the twelfth yeere, the fifth day of the tenth moneth of our captiuitie, one which was escaped out of Hierusalem came vnto mee, and said, The citie is smitten.

22 Nowe the hand of the Lord had bene vpon me the euening afore this man which was escaped came vnto mee, and had opened my mouth, vntill the morning that he came to mee: yea, my mouth was opened, so that I was no more dumbe.

23 Then came the word of the Lord vnto me, and said,

24 Thou sonne of man, these that dwell in the wasted land of Israel take and say, Ahabham was but one man, and hee had the land in possession : now are we many, and the land is giuen vs to possesse also.

25 And therefore tell them, Thus saith the Lord God, In the blood haue ye eaten, your eyes haue ye lift vp to idoles, and haue shed blood: shall ye then haue the land in possession?

26 Ye leane vpon your swords, yee worke abominations, every one defileth his neighbours wife : and shall ye possesse the land?

27 Say thou thus vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, As truly as I liue, they that are in the desolate places shall fall by the sword, and him that is in the open field, will I giue vnto the beasts to be deuoured : and they that be in the strong holdes and denmes, shall die of the pestilence.

28 For I will make the land so desolate and waste, that the pompe of her strength shall cease: the mountaines of Israel shall be waste, that no man shall trauaile thereby.

29 Then shall they knowe that I am the Lord, when I make the land desolate and waste, because of all their abominations that they haue wrought.

30 And thou sonne of man, the children of thy people that take of thee by the wailes and in the doores of their houses, and speake one to another, euery one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, let vs heare what word is gone forth from the Lord.

31 They come vnto thee as the people heeth to come, and my people sit before thee and heare thy wordes, but they doe not thereafter : for in 32 And loe, thou art vnto them as a <sup>m</sup> iesting song of one that hath a pleasant voice, & can sing well: for they heare thy words, but doe them not.

33 When this cometh to passe (loe it cometh) then shall they know that there hath bene a Prophet among them.

The xxxiiij. Chapter.

Against shepheards that despise the flocke of Christ, and seeke their owne gaine.

And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, prophesie against the shepheardes of Israel, prophesie and speake vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God vnto the shepheards, w<sup>h</sup>oe be vnto the shepheards of Israel that feede themselves: should not the shepherds feede the flockes?

3 Ye eate by the fat, ye clothe you with the wooll, the best fed doe ye slay: but the flocke doe ye not feede.

4 The weake haue ye not strengthened, the sicke haue ye not healed, the broken haue ye not bound together, the diuen away haue ye not brought againe, the lost haue ye not sought: but with force and cruelty haue ye ruled them.

5 They are scattered without a shepheard, yea, all the beads of the field deuoure them, and they goe astray.

6 Why sheepe goe wandring vpon all mountaines, and vpon every high hill, yea, my flocke is scattered through all the face of the earth, and there is no man that seeketh or searcheth after them.

7 Therefore, O ye shepherds, heare the word of the Lord.

8 As truly as I liue, sayth the Lord God, for as much as my sheepe are robbed and deuoured of all the wilde beads of the field, hauing no shepheard, and seeing that my shepheards seeke not my sheepe, but the shepheardes feede themselves, and feede not my sheepe:

9 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, O ye shepherds,

10 Thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, I will vpon the shepherds, and requyre my sheep from their hands, and make them cease from feeding of the sheepe, yea, the shepheards shall feede themselves no moze: for I will deliuer my sheep out of their mouthes, so that they shall not deuoure them after this.

11 For thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, I euen I will looke to my sheepe myselfe, and seeke them out.

12 Like as a shepheard when he hath bene among the flocke, seeketh after the sheepe that are scattered abroad: euen so will I seeke after my sheepe, and deliuer them out of all places where they haue bene scattered in the cloudie and darke day.

13 I will bring them out from the people, and gather them together out of the landes, I will bring them into their owne land, and feede them vpon the mountaines of Israel by the riuers, & in all the inhabited places of the countrie.

14 I will feede them in right good pastures and vpon the high mountaines of Israel shall their foldes be: there shall they lie in a good fold, and in a fat pasture shall they feede, euen vpon the mountaines of Israel.

15 I will feede my sheepe, and bring them to their rest, sayth the Lord God.

16 Such as be lost, will I seeke: such as are diuen away, will I bring againe: such as be broken, will I binde vp: such as be weak, will I make strong: such as be fat and strong, those will I roote out, and feede them with iudgement.

17 And as for you, O my sheep, sayth the Lord God, I will iudge betweene cattell and cattell, betweene the rammes and the goats.

18 Seemeth it a small thing to you to haue eaten by the good pasture, and to tread downe the residue of your pasture with your feett also: to drinke the deepe waters, and to trouble the rest also with your feett?

19 Thus my sheep must be faine to eate the thing that yee haue troden downe with your feett, and to drinke it that yee with your feett haue defiled.

20 Therefore, thus sayth the Lord God vnto them, Behold, I, euen I will iudge between the fat cattell and the leane cattell.

21 For so much as with side and shoulder yee haue throued, & with your hornes haue pushed all the weake till yee haue scattered them abroad.

22 I will saue my sheepe, so that they shall no moze be spoiled, yea, I will iudge betweene cattell and cattell.

23 I will set by ouer them a shepheard, and he shall feed them, euen my seruant Dauid, he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepheard.

24 And I the Lord will be their God, and my seruant Dauid shall be their prince: euen I the Lord haue spoken it.

25 Moreover, I will make a covenant of peace with them, and cause euill beads to cease out of the land: so that they may dwell safely in the wilderness, and sleep in the woods.

26 And I will set them as a blessing round about my hill, and I will cause raine to come downe in due season, and there shall be raine of blessing.

27 And the tree of the field shall geeld her fruit, and the earth shall giue her increase: they shall be safe in their land, and shall know that I am the Lord, when I haue broken the bonds of their yoke, & deliuered them out of the hands of those that serued themselves of them.

28 They shall no moze be spoiled of the heathen, nor deuoured with the beasts of the land: but safely shall they dwell, and no man shall fray them.

29 And I will raise vp for them a plant of renowme, and they shall be no moze clunged with hunger in the land, neither heare the reproch of the heathen any moze.

30 Thus shall they vnderstand that I the Lord their God am with them, and that they, euen the house of Israel are my people, sayth the Lord God:

31 And ye my sheep, the sheepe of my pasture are men: & I am your God, sayth the Lord God.

2 Thou sonne of man, set thy face toward the mount Seir, prophesie against it.

3 And say vnto it, Thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, I thow mount Seir, I will vpon thee, I will reach out my hand ouer thee, yea, waste and desolate will I make thee.

4 Thy cities will I lay waste, and thou shalt lie void, that thou mayest know how that I am the Lord.

5 Forasmuch as thou bearest an old enmitie, and hast put the children of Israel to flight by the force of the sword, in the time of their calamitie, when their iniquitie had an ende :

6 Therefore as truely as I liue, sayth the Lord God, I will prepare thee vnto blood, yea, blood shall follow vpon thee, except thou hate blood, euen blood shall persecute thee.

7 Thus will I make the mount Seir desolate and waste, and cut out from it him that passeth out, and him that returneth :

8 His mountaines will I fill with his slaine men, thy hills, halleys, and all thy riuers, the slaine with the sword shall fall in them.

9 I will make thee a perpetuall wilderness, so that thy cities shall not returne : that ye may know that I am the Lord.

10 And because thou hast sayd, Both these nations, and both these lands must be mine, and we will haue them in possession, whereas the Lord was there :

13 Thus with your mouthes ye haue made your boasts against me, yea, and multiplied your wordes against me, which I haue heard.

14 Thus sayth the Lord God, To the ioy of all the world will I make thee waste.

15 And like as thou wast glad because the heritage of the house of Israel was destroyed, euen so will I doe vnto thee, thou shalt be destroyed, O mount Seir, and all Idumes wholly, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

The xxxvj. Chapter.

1 Hec promiseth to deliuer Israel from the Gentiles.

2 The benefites done vnto the Iewes, are to bee ascribed to the mercie of God, not vnto their desertings.

Hou sonne of man, prophesie vnto the mountaines of Israel, & speake, Heare the word of the Lord, O ye mountaines of Israel.

2 Thus sayth the Lord God, Because your enemy hath sayd vnto you, Ah, the high places of the world are now become ours in possession :

3 Prophecie therefore, and speake, Thus sayth the Lord God, For because that they haue made you desolate, and swallowed you by on every side, that yee might be a possession vnto the residue of the Gentiles, and yee are taken by in the lips and tongues of men, and to the reproch of the people :

4 Therefore heare the word of the Lord God, O ye mountaines of Israel, thus sayth the Lord God to the mountaines and hills, to the riuers and halleys, to the waste and desolate places, and to the cities that are forsaken, which are spoiled and had in derision on euery side, among the residue of the heathen :

5 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, Surely in the fire of my ieaousie haue I spoken against the residue of the Gentiles, and against Edom, which haue appointed my land for their possession, which also reioiced from their whole heart, with a despitefull stomacke, to cast it out for a pray.

6 Prophecie therefore vpon the land of Israel, and speake vnto the mountaines and hills, to the riuers and dales, Thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, this haue I spoken in my ieaousie and terrible wrath, because yee haue borne the shame of the heathen :

7 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, I haue lift by my hand, surely the heathen that are about you, shall beare their shame.

8 But you, O mountaines of Israel, ye shall shoot out your branches, and bring forth your fruit to my people of Israel : for they are at hand to come.

9 Behold, I come vnto you, and vnto you will I turne, that ye may be tilled and sowed.

10 I will multiplie men vpon you, euen all the house of Israel wholly, the cities shall be inhabited, and the decayed places shall be repaired againe.

11 And I will multiplie vpon you man and beast, which shall increase and bring fruit : and I will cause you to dwell after your olde estate, and be better vnto you then at the beginning : and yee shall know that I am the Lord.

12 Yea, I will cause men to walke vpon you, euen my people Israel, and they shall possesse thee, and thou shalt bee their inheritance, and thou shalt no more henceforth deprive them of men.

13 Thus sayth the Lord God, Forasmuch as they say vnto you, Thou art an eater of men, and a waster of thy people :

14 Therefore thou shalt eate no more men, neither destroy thy people any more, sayth the Lord God :

15 Neither will I cause men to heare in thee the shame of the heathen any more : neither shalt thou beare the reproch of the people any more, nor cause thy folke to fall any more, sayth the Lord God.

16 Whereouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

17 Thou sonne of man, when the house of Israel dwell vpon their owne ground, they defiled themselves with their owne waies and imaginations, so that in my sight their way was like the uncleannesse of a remoued woman.

18 Wherefore I poured my wrathful displeasure vpon them, because of the blood that they had shed in the land, and because of their idoles where with they had defiled it :

19 I scattered them also among the heathen, so that they were strawed about in the landes :

according to their wayes, and after their owne inuentions, so did I iudge them.

20 * And when they entred vnto the heathen whither they went, they polluted my holy Name, when they sayde of them, These are the people of God, and are gone out of his land.

21 Then spared I my holy Name, which the house of Israel had dishonoured among the Gentiles where they came.

22 Therefore tell the house of Israel. Thus sayeth the Lorde God, I doe not this for your sakes, O house of Israel, but for my holy names sake, which yee dishonoured among the heathen where ye came.

23 Therefore I will hallow my great Name againe, which among the Gentiles is polluted, for yee your selues haue dishonoured it among them: and the Gentiles shall knowe that I am the Lorde, sayth the Lorde God, when I shall be sanctified in you before your eyes.

24 As for you, I will take you from among the heathen, and gather you together out of all countreys, and bring you againe into your own land.

25 Then will I sprinkle cleane water vpon you, and yee shall be cleane: yea, from all your uncleannesse and from all your idoles shall I cleanse you.

26 A new heart also will I giue you, and a new spirit will I put into you: as for that stony heart I will take it out of your flesh, and giue you a fleshy heart.

27 I will giue my spirite among you, & cause you to walke in my commaundements, and yee shall keepe my iudgements, and doe them.

28 And so yee shall dwell in the lande that I gaue to your fathers: and ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

29 I will deliuer you from all your uncleannesse, I will call for the corne, and will increase it, and lay no famine vpon you.

30 I will multiply the fruits of the trees, & the increase of the field, so that ye shall receiue no more reproch of hunger among the heathen.

31 Then shall ye remember your owne wicked wayes, and your imaginations which were not good: so that yee shall be irkesome in your owne eyes for your sinnes and abominations.

32 But I will not doe this for your sakes, sayth the Lorde God, be ye sure of it: therefore I ye house of Israel, be ashamed and confounded of your owne wayes.

33 Moreover, thus sayeth the Lorde God, what time as I shall cleanse you from all your iniquities, then will I make the cities to be inhabited againe, and the places that be decayed, shall be repaired.

34 The desolate lande shall be tilled againe, which afozetime lay waste in the sight of all them that went by.

35 And they shall say, This waste lande was like the garden of Eden: and these waste and desolate and ruinous cities were strong and inhabited.

36 Then the residue of the heathen that lyc round about you, shall knowe that I the Lorde repaire that was broken downe, and plant againe that was made waste: euen I the Lorde haue spoken it, and will doe it in deed.

37 Thus sayth the Lorde God, I will yet for this be thought of the house of Israel to doe it for them, I will multiply them as a flocke of men.

38 Like as the holy flock, and the flock of Hierusalem are in the high solemnne feastes, so shall also the wasted cities bee filled with flockes of men: and they shall knowe that I am the Lorde.

The xxxvij. Chapter,

He prophesieth the bringing againe of the people, being in captiuitie. 16 He sheweth the vnion of the ten tribes with the two.

TH E hand of the Lorde was vpon me, and caried me out in the spirit of the Lorde, and set me downe in the mid of a plaine field that was full of bones.

2 And yee led me round about by them, and behold, there were very many in the open field, and loe, they were very drie.

3 Then said he vnto me, Thou sonne of man, thinkest thou these bones may liue againe? I answered, O Lorde God, thou knowest.

4 And he sayd vnto me, Prophecie thou vpon these bones, and speake vnto them, Yee drie bones, heare the word of the Lorde.

5 Thus sayeth the Lorde God vnto these bones, Behold, I will cause breath to enter into you, that ye may liue.

6 I will giue you sinewes, and make flesh growe vpon you, and couer you ouer with skin, and so giue you breath, that ye may liue, & knowe that I am the Lorde.

7 So I prophesied as I was commanded: and as I was prophesying, there was a noyse, and loe, a great motion, so that the bones came nere together, bone to his bone.

8 Now when I had looked, behold, they had sinewes, and flesh grewe vpon them, and about they were couered with skinne: but there was no breath in them.

9 Then sayde hee vnto me, Thou sonne of man, prophesie thou toward the wind, prophesie and speake to the winde, Thus sayeth the Lorde God, Come, O thou wynde from the four winds, and blowe vpon these flaine, that they may liue.

10 So I prophesied as he had commaunded me: then came the breath into them, and they receiued life, and stood vpon their feet, a maruellous great armie.

11 Moreover, he sayd vnto me, Thou sonne of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel: behold, they say, Our bones are dried vp, our hope is gone, and we are cleane cut off.

12 Therefore, prophesie thou, and speake vnto them, Thus sayth the Lorde God, Behold, I will open your graues, O my people, and cause you to come by out of your sepulchres, and bring you into the land of Israel againe.

13 So shall yee knowe that I am the Lorde, when I open your graues, O my people, and bring you out of your sepulchres.

14 My spirit also will I put in you, and ye shall liue, I will set you againe in your owne land: and ye shall knowe that I the Lorde haue said it, and fulfilled it in deed, sayth the Lorde.

15 The worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

The xxxviii. Chapter.

He prophecieth that Gog and Magog shall come with an appointed hoste into the land of promise.

And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 * Thou some of man, set thy face against Gog, the lande of Magog, which is the chiefe prince of Mesech and Tubal, and prophecie against him.

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God, O Gog, thou chiefe prince of Mesech and Tubal, behold, I will vpon thee:

4 And I will turne thee backe, and put hookes in thy charwes, I will bring thee forth and all thine hoste, both horse and horsemen, all armed with all sorts of armour, a great multitude with speares & shields, al handling swords.

5 They of Paras, of Chush, and Phut, with them euen all hauing shields and helmets.

6 Gomer and all his hostes, the house of Togarma out of the North quarters and all his hostes, yea, and much people with thee.

7 Therefore prepare thee, let thy selve in aray with all the people that are come vnto thee by heapes, and be thou their defence.

8 After many daies thou shalt be visited, and in the latter yeres thou shalt come into the land that hath bene turned and tost with the sworde, and gathered together againe out of many people vpon the mountaines of Israel, which haue bene alwayes subiect to waile: but it is brought out of the people, and they dwell all safe.

9 Thou shalt ascend & come by like a storme, as a cloud to couer the land: thou shalt be: thou with all thine hostes, and a great multitude of people with thee.

10 Moreover, thus saith the Lord God, At the same time shall things come into thy minde, so that thou shalt thinke euen thoughts.

11 And say, I will by to the land of vnwalked billages, I will goe to them that be at rest, which dwell safely, all dwelling without wals, they haue neither barres nor gates:

12 To spoyle the praye, and to take a bootie, to turne thy hand vpon the desolate places that are now inhabited, and vpon that people that is gathered together from among the heathen, which haue gotten cattell and goods, and dwell in the middes of the land.

13 Then shall Saba and Dedan, & the merchants of Charlis with all their Lions, say vnto thee, Art thou come to spoyle a pray: hast thou gathered thy people together to take a bootie, to take a way siluer and gold, to carie away cattell and good, and to haue a great pray?

14 Therefore, O thou sonne of man, thou shalt prophesy and say vnto Gog, Thus saith the Lord God, In that day when my people Israel dwelleth safe, shalt thou not know it?

15 And thou shalt come from thy place out of the North partes, thou and much people with thee, which ride all vpon horses, euen a great multitude and a mightie armie.

16 Yea, thou shalt come vpon my people of Israel, as a cloud to couer the land: this shall come to passe in the latter dayes, and I will bring thee by into my land, that the heathen may know me, when I shall be sanctified in thee, O Gog, before their eyes.

17 Thus saith the Lord God, Art thou not he of whom I haue spoken in old time by the hands of my seruants the Prophets of Israel, which prophecieth in those dayes and yeres, that I should bring thee vpon them?

18 At the same time when Gog cometh by into the land of Israel, saith the Lord God, shall mine indignation rise in my wrath:

19 for in my ielousie and fire of my wrath haue I spoken it, surely at that time there shall be a great shaking in the land of Israel.

20 * The very sides in the sea, the fowles in the ayre, the beastes of the field, & all that moue and creepe vpon the earth, & al the men that are vpon the earth, shall tremble at my presence, the hills also shall be turned upside downe, the Citaires shall fall, and all walles shall fall downe to the ground.

23 Thus will I be magnified, sanctified, and known in the eyes of many nations: and they shall know that I am the Lorde.

The xxxix. Chapter.

- 1 Hee sheweth the destruction of Gog and Magog. 13 The graue of Gog and his hoste.

Herefore, O thou sonne of man, prophesie against Gog, and speake, thus saith the Lorde God. Behold, O Gog, thou chiefe prince of Mesech & Tubal, I will vpon thee.

2 And I will turne thee about, and I will prouoke thee forward, and cause thee to come vp from the North parts, and bring thee vp to the mountaynes of Israel.

3 And as for thy bow, I will smite it out of thy left hand, and cause thine arrowes to fall out of thy right hand.

4 Thou, with all thine hoste, and all the people that is with thee, shall fall vpon the mountaynes of Israel: then will I giue thee into the flockes of birds, euen to all feathered fowles and beastes of the field, to be deuoured.

5 Thou shalt fall vpon the open field: for I haue spoken it, sayth the Lorde God.

6 Into Magog, and among those that sit so carelesse in the fles, will I send a fire, and they shall know that I am the Lorde.

7 I will make also the name of my holinesse to bee known among my people of Israel, and I will not let them pollute my holy name any more: but the verie heathen also shall know that I am the Lorde, the holy one of Israel.

8 Behold, it is come, and it is done, sayeth the Lorde God: this is the day whereof I haue spoken.

9 They that dwell in the cities of Israel, shall goe forth, and let fire vpon the weapons, and burne them. Shields and speares, bowes and arrowes, handstauces, and swordes, and they shall burne them with fire seuen yeere.

10 So that they shall esse bring no wood from the felde, neither heve downe any out of the wood: for with weapons shall they make their fire, they shall rob those that robbed them, and spoyle those that spoiled them, sayeth the Lorde God.

11 At the same time will I giue vnto Gog a place to bee buried in Israel, euen the valley wherethrough men goe towards the East sea: those that trauaile thereby, shall stoppe their noses: there shall Gog and all his multitude be buried: and it shall bee called the valley of the multitude of Gog.

12 Seuen moneths long shall the house of Israel be burying of them, that they may cleanse the land.

13 Yea, all the people of the land shall burie them, and they shall haue a name when I shall be glorified, sayth the Lorde God.

14 They shall choose out men to goe continually thozow the land, to burie as they passe thozow those that remaine vpon the ground, to cleanse it: after the end of seuen moneths shall they make their search.

15 And the traauilers that passe thozowe the lande, where they see a mans bone, they shall set by a token by it, till the dead buriers haue buried it also in the valley of the multitude of Gog.

16 And the name of the citie shall bee called Hamonah: thus shall they make the lande cleane.

17 And thou sonne of man, Thus sayeth the Lorde God, Speake vnto all feathered fowles, yea, and to all the beastes of the felde, Assemble you together, and come gather you round about to my sacrifice that I sacrifice for you, euen a great sacrifice vpon the mountaynes of Israel, that ye may eat flesh, and drinke blood.

18 Yee shall eat the flesh of the valiant, and drinke the blood of the princes of the lande, of the rammes, of the weathers, of the goates, and of the bullocks, that be all fedde at Basan.

19 Yee shall eat the fatte your belly full, and drinke blood till yee be drunken of my sacrifice, which I haue sacrificed for you.

20 Yee shall fill you at my table with hozles and hozsemen, with the valiant, and men of warre, sayth the Lorde God.

21 I will set my glory also among the Gentiles, that all the heathen may see my iudgement that I haue executed, and my hand which I haue laid vpon them.

22 And the house of Israel shall know that I am the Lorde their God, from that day, and so forward.

23 And the heathen shall know, that where as the house of Israel was led into captiuitie, it was for their wickednesse sake, because they offended me: for the which cause I hidde my face from them, and deliuered them into the handes of their enemies, that they might bee all slaine with the sword.

24 According to their uncleannesse, and according to their transgressions haue I done vnto them, and hid my face from them.

25 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde God, Now will I bring againe the captiues of Jacob, and haue mercie vpon the whole house of Israel, and be ielous for my holy names sake,

26 After that they haue borne their shame, and all their transgression, whereby they haue transgressed against mee, when they dwell safely in the lande, and no man to feare them:

27 And when I haue brought them againe from among the people, when I haue gathered them together out of their enemies landes, and am sanctified in them in the sight of many nations:

28 Then shall they knowe that I am the Lorde their God, which caused them to be ledde into captiuitie among the heathen, but haue gathered them againe into their owne land, and not left one of them any more there.

29 After that will I hide my face no more from them, but will powze out my spirit vpon the house of Israel, sayth the Lorde God.

In the five and twentieth peere of our captivitie, in the beginning of the peere, the tenth day of the month, that is, the fourteenth peere after the citie was smitten, the selfesame day came the hand of the Lord vpon me, and brought me thither:

2 Euen into the land of Israel brought he me in the visions of God, and set me downe vpon a marvellous high mountaine, whereupon there was as it had bene the building of a citie toward the South.

3 Whither he caried me, & behold, there was a man, whose similitude was like bryasse, which had a twised line of flaxe in his hand, and a cane to measure with: and he stood in the dooze.

4 And that man sayd vnto me, Thou sonne of man, marke well with thine eyes, hearken to with thine eares, and fasten it in thy heart whatsoeuer I shall say vnto thee: for to the intent that they may be the word thee, therefore art thou brought hither, and whatsoeuer thou seest, thou shalt certifie the house of Israel thereof.

5 Behold, there was a wall on the outside of the house round about: the cane to measure with, that hee had in his hand, was six cubites long by the cubite, and a hand breadth: So he measured the breadth of the building with one cane, and the height with one cane.

6 Then came he to the gate which looketh toward the East, and went by the staires thereof, & measured the poste of the gate one cane broad, and the other poste of the gate one cane broad.

7 And every chamber was one cane long, & one cane broad, & betwene the chambers were six cubites: and the poste of the gate by the porch of the gate within, was one cane.

8 Hee measured also the porch of the gate within, with one cane.

9 Then measured hee the porch of the gate eight cubites: and the pentacles thereof two cubites, and the porch of the gate was inward.

10 And the chambers of the gate Eastward, were three on this side, and three on that side: they three were of one measure, and the pentacles had one measure on this side, and one measure on that side.

11 After this he measured the breadth of the entrie of the gate ten cubites, and the height of the gate thirteene cubites.

12 The space also before the chambers, was one cubite on this side, and the space one cubite on that side: and the chambers, six cubites on this side, and six cubites on that side.

13 He measured the gate from the rooffe of a chamber to his owne rooffe, the breadth of six and twentieth cubites, dooze against dooze.

14 He made fronts also of thirtie cubites, euen vnto the front of the court round about the gate.

15 And from the forefront of the entrie of the gate, vnto the forefront of the gate within, were sixtie cubites.

16 And there were narrow windowes in the chambers, and in the frontes within the gate round about, and so in the arches: and the windowes went round about within, and vpon the frontes were Palme trees.

17 When brought hee me into the outward court, whereas were chambers, and a pavement made for the court round about: thirtie chambers were vpon the pavement.

18 And the pavement was by the side of the gates ouer against the length of the gates: and the pavement was beneath.

19 Then hee measured the breadth from the forefront of the lower gate without, vnto the forefront of the court within, a hundred cubites Eastward and Northward.

20 And the gate in the outward court that looked toward the North, measured he after the length and breadth thereof.

21 And the chambers thereof were three on this side, and three on that side: and the frontes thereof, and the arches thereof, were after the measure of the first gate: the length thereof was sixtie cubites, and the breadth six and twentieth cubites.

22 And their windowes, and their arches, with their Palme trees were after the measure of the gate that looketh toward the East: and the going by vnto it had seven steps, and the arches thereof were before them.

23 And the gate of the inner court stood ouer against the gate toward the North and toward the East, and hee measured from gate to gate a hundred cubites.

24 After that, hee brought mee toward the South, where there stood a gate toward the South, and he measured the frontes thereof and the arches thereof according to those measures.

25 And there were windowes in it, and in the arches thereof round about like these windowes: the length was sixtie cubites, and the breadth six and twentieth cubites.

26 And there were seven steps at the going by to it, and the arches thereof before them: and it had Palme trees, one on this side, and another on that side, vpon the front thereof.

27 And there was a gate in the inner court toward the South, and he measured from gate to gate toward the South a hundred cubites.

28 So hee brought me into the inner court thowwe the South gate, and hee measured the South gate according to those measures.

29 And the chambers thereof, the frontes thereof, and the arches thereof, according to these measures, and windowes in it: and in the arches thereof round about, sixtie cubites long, and six and twentieth cubites broad,

30 And the arches round about were six and twentieth cubites long, and six cubites broad.

31 And the arches thereof were toward the bitter court, and Palme trees vpon the frontes thereof, and the going by to it had eight steps.

32 He brought me also into the inmost court toward the East, and measured the gate according to those measures.

33 And the chambers thereof, and frontes thereof, and the arches thereof were according to those measures, and there were windowes therein, and in the arches thereof round about, it was sixtie cubites long, and six and twentieth cubites broad.

34 And the arches thereof were toward the bitter court, and Palme trees vpon the frontes thereof on this side, and on that side, and the going by to it had eight steps.

35 And hee brought me to the North gate, and measured it according to those measures.

36 The chambers thereof, the frontes thereof, and the arches thereof, and there were windowes therein round about: and the length was fiftie cubites, and the breadth five and twentieth cubites.

37 And the frontes thereof were toward the better court, & Palme trees were byon the fronts thereof on this side and on that side, and the going by to it had eight steps.

38 And a chamber and the entrie thereof was vnder the frontes of the gates, there they washed the burnt offerings.

39 And in the porch of the gate stood two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, byon the which they slew the burnt offering, and the sinne offering, and the trespass offering.

40 And at the side without the steppes, at the entrie of the North gate stood two tables, and on the other side which was at the porch of the gate were two tables.

41 Foure tables were on this side, and foure on that side, by the side of the gate, euen eight tables, whereupon they slew their sacrifices.

42 And the foure tables were of heuven stone for the burnt offering, of a cubite and a halfe long, and a cubite and a halfe broad, and one cubite high, whereupon were laid the instruments wherewith they slew the burnt offering, and the sacrifice.

43 And within there were hookes one hand breadth long fastened round about, and byon the tables was the offering flesh.

44 And without the inner gate were the chambers of the singers in the inward court, which was at the side of the North gate, and their prospect was toward the South: and one was at the side of the East gate, hauing the prospect toward the North.

45 And he said vnto me, This chamber whose prospect is toward the South, is for the Priests that haue charge to keepe the house.

46 And the chamber whose prospect is toward the North, is for the Priests that haue charge to keepe the altar: these are the sonnes of Sadoc, which of the sonnes of Levi come neere to the Lord, to minister vnto him.

47 So hee measured the court, which had in length a hundred cubites, & a hundred in breadth, euen foure square: and the altar stood before the house.

48 And hee brought me to the porch of the house, and measured the porch five cubites on this side, and five cubites on that side, and the breadth of the gate was three cubites on this side, and three cubites on that side.

49 The length of the porch was twentieth cubites, the breadth eleuen cubites, and by steppes went men by to it: by the frontes also were pillars, one on this side, and another on that side.

The xlj. Chapter.

The disposition and deuise of building againe of the temple, and of the other things thereto belonging.

After this hee brought mee to the temple, and measured the frontes, five cubites broad on the one side, and six cubites broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the Tabernacle.

2 The breadth of the dooze was ten cubites, and the sides of the dooze were five cubites on the one side, and five cubites on the other side, and he measured the length thereof fourthie cubites, and the breadth twentieth cubites.

3 Then went he in and measured the front of the dooze two cubites: but the dooze it selfe was five cubites, and the breadth on the other side of the dooze was seuen cubites.

4 Hee measured the length thereof twentieth cubites, and the breadth twentieth cubites before the Temple: and hee said vnto me, This is the most holy place.

5 He measured also the wall of the house five cubites, and the breadth of a chamber foure cubites round about the house on euery side.

6 And the chambers were chamber byon chamber, three and thirtie in order, and they entered the wall which was of the house for the chambers round about, that they might be fastened, and not be fastened in the wall of the house.

7 There was an enlarging, and a winding about, mounting still byward to the chambers: for the staire of the house was mounting still byward round about the house, therefore the house was larger byward: so they went by from the lowest chamber to the highest by the midst.

8 And I saw the house high round about: the foundations of the chambers were a ful cane of five cubites by to the arme holes.

9 The thickenesse of the wall which was for the chamber without was five cubites, and that which remained was the place of the chambers that were within.

10 And betwene the chambers was the widenesse of twentieth cubites round about the house on euery side.

11 And the doozes of the chambers were toward the place that remained, one dooze toward the North, & another toward the South: and the breadth of the place that remained, was five cubites round about.

12 Now the building that was before the separate place at the end toward the west was seuentie cubites broad: and the wall of the building was five cubites thicke round about, and the length ninetie cubites.

13 So hee measured the house, which was a hundred cubites long, and the separate place and the building with the walles, were a hundred cubites long also.

14 The breadth also of the forefront of the house, and of the separate place toward the East, was a hundred cubites.

15 And hee measured the length of the building ouer against the separate place which was behind it, and the chambers on the one side, and on the other side, a hundred cubites, with the temple within, and the porches of the court.

16 The dooze posts, & the narrow windowes, and the chambers round about, on three sides ouer against the dooze, sieled with wood round about, and from the ground by to the windowes: and the windowes themselves were sieled.

17 And from about the dooze vnto the house within and without, and byon euery wal round about within and without, tooke he measure.

18 And it was made with Cherubims and Palme trees, so that a Palme tree was betwene a Cherub and a Cherub, and euery Cherub had two faces.

19 So that the face of a man was toward the Palme tree on the one side, and the face of a Lyon toward the Palme tree on the other side: thus was it made through all the house round about.

Or, three and thirtie foot high.

Cherubims, great, and of the largest size.

Or, void space.

Cherubims & Palme trees were grauen and carved in the walles.

20 From the ground vnto aboue the doozes were Cherubims and Palme trees made: and thus was the wall of the temple.

21 The posts of the temple were foure squared, and the fashion of the sanctuarie was appearance like appearance.

22 The altar of wood was three cubits high, and two cubites long: the corners, the length, and the walles thereof were of wood. And hee sayd vnto me, This is the table that shall be before the Lord.

23 The Temple and the holpest of all had either of them two doozes.

24 And the doozes had two doozes apiece, euen two folding doozes, two for the one dooze, and two doozes for the other.

25 And vpon the doozes of the Temple there were made Cherubims, and Palme trees, like as was made vpon the walles: and thicke beames vpon the forefront of the porch without.

26 And there were narrowe windowes and Palme trees on the one side, and on the other side, by the sides of the porch, and vpon the sides of the house, and thicke beames.

The xliij. Chapter.

Of the chambers of the Temple for the Priestes, and the holy things,

Then led he me into the better court by the way toward the North, and hee brought me into the chamber that was ouer against the separate place, which was before the building toward the North.

2 Before the length of an hundred cubites was the North dooze: and the breadth was fiftie cubites.

3 Ouer against the twentie cubites which were for the inner court, and ouer against the pavement, which was for the better court, was chamber against chamber, three orders.

4 And before the chambers there was a walking place of ten cubites wide inward, the way of one cubite: and their doozes toward the North.

5 Thus the hyper chambers were alway narrower: for those chambers seemed to eate vp these, to wit, the lower and the middlemer of the building.

6 For they were in three orders, but had no pillars as the pillars of the courtes: therefore were they smaller then the neathermost and the middlemost to reckon from the ground.

7 And the wall that was without ouer against the chambers, toward the better court on the forefront of the chambers, the length thereof was fiftie cubites.

8 For the length of the chambers that were in the better court, was fiftie cubites, and loe, before the temple was a hundred cubites.

9 And vnder these chambers was the entrie from the East, as one goeth vnto them from the better court.

10 In the thicnesse of the wall of the court toward the East, before the separate place, and before the building of the chambers.

11 And the way before them after the appearance of the chambers which were toward the North: as their length, so was their breadth: and all their entries were according to their fashion, and according to their doozes.

12 And according to the doozes of the chambers that were toward the South, was a dooze in the head of the way, euen the way directly before the wall toward the East as one entreteth.

13 Then sayd he vnto me, The chambers toward the North, and the chambers toward the South, which are before the separate place, those be holy chambers, wherein the Priestes that approach vnto the Lord must eate the most holy things, and there must they lay the most holy things, and the meat offering, and sinne offering, and trespass offering: for it is a holy place.

14 When the Priests come therein, they shall not go out of the holy place into the better court, but there they shall lay by their garments wherein they minister, for they are holy: and shall put on other garments, and so shall approach to those which are for the people.

15 Now when he had finished the measuring of the house within, he led me forth toward the gate, whose prospect is toward the East, and he measured it round about.

16 Hee measured the East side with the measuring cane, five hundred canes, euen with the measuring cane round about.

17 And he measured the North five hundred canes, euen with the measuring cane round about.

18 The South side also measured he five hundred canes, by the measuring cane.

19 He turned about also to the west side, and measured five hundred canes, by the measuring cane.

20 So hee measured it by the foure sides: it had a wall round about, five hundred canes long, and five hundred broad, to make a separation betweene the sanctuary, and the prophane place.

The xliij. Chapter.

So he brought me to the gate, euen the gate that turneth to ward the East:

3 And according to the appearance of the vision which I saw, euen according to the vision which I saw: when I came to destroy the citie: and the visions were like the visions which I saw by the riuer Chebar, and I fell vpon my face.

4 And the glory of the Lord came into the house by the way of the gate whose prospect is toward the East.

5 So a wind tooke me vp, and brought me into the innermost court: and behold, the house was full of the glory of the Lord.

6 And I heard one speaking vnto me out of the house, and there stood a man by me,

7 And hee sayde vnto mee, O thou sonne of man, this roome is my seat, and the place of my footesteppe, whereas I will dwell among the children of Israel for evermore, so that the house of Israel shall no more defile my holy name, neither they nor their kings through their whozedome, & through the dead bodies of quittie : therefore haue I lift by mine hande against them, saith the Lord God, and they shall beare their iniquitie.

13 And they shall not come neere vnto mee to do the office of a Priest vnto me, neither shall they come neere vnto any of mine holy things in the most holy place : but they shall beare their owne shame & abominations which they haue done.

14 And I will make them keepers of the watch of the house, for all the seruiue thereof, and for all that shall be done therein.

15 But the Priests, the Leuites, the sonnes of Sador, that kept the charge of my Sanctuary when the children of Israel strayed from me, shall come to me, to doe me seruiue, to stand before mee, and to offer mee the fat and the blood, saith the Lord God.

16 They shall go into my Sanctuary, and approach vnto my table to doe me seruiue, and they shall keepe my charge.

18 They shall haue linnen bonnets vpon their heads, and linnen breeches vpon their loynes: they shall not gird themselves in the sweat.

19 And when they goe forth into the vtter court, euen to the vtter court of the people, they shall put off the clothes wherein they haue ministered, and lay them in the chamber of the Sanctuary, and put on other appavel, and they shall not sanctifie the people with their clothes.

20 They shall not shau their heads, nor suffer their haire to growe long, but powle their heads onely.

21 All the Priests that goe into the inmost court, shall drinke no wine.

23 They shall shewe my people the difference betwene the holy and unholy, and cause them to discerne betwixt the cleane and uncleane.

24 And in controwersie they shall stand to iudge, and giue sentence after my iudgements: and my lawes and my statutes shall they keepe in all my solemne feasts, and halow my Sabbathes.

25 They shall come at no dead person to defile themselves, but to father or mother, sonne or daughter, brother or sister, that hath yet no husband, in thole may they be defiled.

26 And when he is cleansed, there shall be reckoned vnto him seuen dayes.

27 And when hee goeth into the Sanctuary vnto the inner court to minister in the Sanctuary, hee shall bring his sinne offering, saith the Lord.

28 * There shall be to them an inheritance, euen as their inheritance : but possession shall see giue them none in Israel, for I am their possessor.

29 The meat offering, sinne offering, and trespass offering shall they eat : and every dedicate thing in Israel shall be theirs.

30 * And at the first of the first borne, and euerp oblation, euen all of euery sort of your oblations shall be the Priests : ye shall also giue vnto the priests the first of your dough, that he may cause the blessing to rest in thine house.

31 * But the Priests shall eat nothing that is dead by it selfe, or toyme of fowle, or of beast.

The xlvi. Chapter.

Of iust weights and measures.

When ye deuide the land by the lot for an inheritance, ye shall offer an oblation to the Lord, an holy portion of the lande, twentie and fife thousand canes long, and ten thousande broad : this shall be holy in all the borders thereof round about.

2 Of this part there shall belong vnto the Sanctuary fife hundred cubites in length with fife hundred in breadth square round about : and fiftie cubites round about for the Suburbs.

3 And of this measure shalt thou measure, namely of the length of twentie and fife thousand, and the breadth of ten thousand, and in it shall be the Sanctuary, and the most holy place.

4 That holy portion of the land shall pertaine vnto the Priests, which do seruiue in the Sanctuary, which come neere to serue the Lord : and it shall be vnto them a place for their houses, and a holy place for the Sanctuary.

5 And in the twentie and fife thousande length, and ten thousande breadth, shall the Leuits that minister in the house haue their possession for twenty chambers.

6 Ye shall giue also vnto the citie a possession of fife thousand canes broad, and twenty and fife thousand long, ouer against the oblation of the holy portion that shall be for the whole house of Israel.

7 And a portion shall be for the prince on this side & on that side of the oblation of the holy portion, and of the possession of the city, euen before the oblation of the holy portion, and before the possession of the city, from the west corner westward, and from the East corner Eastward : and the length shall be by one of the portions, from the west border vnto the East border.

8 In this land shall be his possession in Israel : and my princes shall no more oppresse my people, and the rest of the land shall they giue to the house of Israel according to their Tribes.

9 Thus saith the Lord God, Let it suffice you, O ye princes of Israel : leaue off cruelty and oppression, and execute iudgement, and iustice : take away your exactions from my people, saith the Lord God.

10 Ye shall haue a true balance, a true Ephah, and a true Bath.

11 The Ephah and the Bath shall be alike: one Bath shall containe the tenth part of an Homer, and the Ephah the tenth part of an Homer : the equalitie thereof shall be after the Homer.

12 * The Sicke maketh twenty Gerahs : and twenty Sicles, and twenty and fife Sicles, and fiftene Sicles make a Mane.

13 This is the oblation that ye shall offer: the sixth part of an Ephah out of an Homer of wheat, and the sixth part of an Ephah out of an Homer of barley.

14 Concerning the ordinances of the oyle, euen of the Bath of oyle, ye shall offer the tenth part of a Bath out of the Coz, ten Baths shall be a Homer, because ten Baths fill a Homer.

to reconcile them, saith the Lord God.

16 All the people of the land shall give this oblation for the prince in Israel.

17 Again, it shall be the princes part to offer whole burnt offerings, meat offerings, and wine offerings in the holy dayes, new Moones, Sabbathes, and in all the high feastes of the house of Israel: he shall prepare the sinne offering, meate offering, whole burnt offering, and peace offering, to reconcile the house of Israel.

18 Thus saith the Lord God, The first day of the first moneth, thou shalt take a yong bullocke without blemish, & cleanse the Sanctuary.

19 So the Priest shall take of the blood of the sinne offering, and put it upon the postes of the house, and upon the foure corners of the frame of the Altar, and upon the posts of the gate of the inner court.

20 And thus shalt thou doe also the seventh day of the moneth, for such as have sinned of ignorance, or being deceived, to reconcile the house withall.

21 Upon the fourteenth day of the first moneth yee shall have the Pasche, a feast of seven dayes, and ye shall eat unleavened bread.

22 Upon the same day shall the prince prepare for himselfe and all the people of the land, a bullocke for a sinne offering.

23 And in the seven dayes of the feast, he shall make a whole burnt offering to the Lord, even of seven bullocks, and seven rammes without blemish, dayly for seven dayes, and a hee goat dayly for a sinne offering.

24 And he shall prepare a meate offering of an Ephah for a bullocke, and an Ephah for a ramme, and a Hin of oyle for an Ephah.

25 In the seventh moneth, in the fifteenth day of the moneth, on the feast, he shall doe according unto these for seven dayes: according to the sinne offering, according to the whole burnt offering, and according to the meate offering, and according to the oyle.

1. The sacrifice of the Sabbathes, and of the new moones. 8. Thorow which doores they must goe in, or come out of the Temple.

Thus saith the Lord God, the gate of the inner court toward the East, shall be shut the sixe working dayes: but in the Sabbath, & in the day of the new Moone it shall be opened.

2 And the prince shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate without, and shall stand by the post of the gate: and the Priest shall make his whole burnt offering, and his peace offerings, and he shall worship at the threshold of the gate, and goe forth: and the gate shall not be shut till the evening.

3 On the same manner shall the people of the land also do their worship before the Lord, at the doore of this gate upon the Sabbathes, and new Moones.

4 The whole burnt offering that the prince shall bring unto the Lord upon the Sabbath, shall be sixe lambes without blemish, and a ramme without blemish.

5 And the meate offering shall be an Ephah for a ramme, and the meate offering for the lambe a gift of his hand, and a Hin of oyle to an Ephah.

6 In the day of the new moneth, it shall be a yong bullocke without blemish, and sixe lambs, and a ramme also without blemish.

7 With the bullocke he shall give an Ephah: and with the ramme an Ephah also for a meate offering: but to the lambe according as his hand shall take, and a Hin of oyle to an Ephah.

8 And when the prince shall enter, he shall go in by the way of the porch of that gate: he shall go forth by the way thereof.

9 But when the people of the land come before the Lord in the high solemn feast, as many as come in by the North gate to do worship, shall goe out againe at the South gate: and they that come in at the South gate, shall go forth againe at the North gate: there shall none returne by the gate where hee came in, but shall goe right forth over on the other side.

10 And the prince, he shall goe in the middle of them when they go in, and so come forth when they come forth.

11 Upon the solemn and high feast dayes this shall be the meate offering: an Ephah to a bullocke, and an Ephah to a ramme, and to the lambe the gift of his hand, and a Hin of oyle to an Ephah.

12 Nowe when the prince shall make a free whole burnt offering, or peace offerings freely unto the Lord: one then shall open him the gate that turneth toward the East, and he shall make his whole burnt offerings, and his peace offerings, as he did on the Sabbath day: after, hee shall goe forth, and when he is gone forth, one shall shut the gate.

13 Thou shalt dayly make a whole burnt offering unto the Lord of a Lambe of one yeere without blemish, thou shalt doe it every morning.

15 Thou shalt prepare a meate offering for it every morning, the sixt part of an Ephah, and the thirde part of a Hin of oyle to mingle with the fine floure: this meate offering shall be continually by a perpetuall ordinance unto the Lord.

15 Thus shall they prepare the Lambe, the meate offering, and oyle, every morning, for a continuall whole burnt offering.

16 Moreover, thus saith the Lord God, If the prince give a gift unto any of his sonnes, the inheritance thereof shall be his sonnes: their possession shall be by inheritance.

17 But if hee give a gift of his inheritance to one of his servants, then it shall be his to the yeere of libertie, and then returne to the prince: but the inheritance thereof is his sonnes, and shall be theirs.

18 The Prince also shall take none of the peoples inheritance, nor put them from their possession: but to his sonnes shall hee give his owne possession, that my people be not scattered abroad every man from his possession.

19 And hee brought me thow the entrance at the side of the gate to the holy chambers of the Priestes, which stood toward the North, and beholde, there was a place upon the west side of them.

20 Then said he unto mee, This is the place where the Priestes shall see the trespass and sinne offerings, and take the meate offerings: that they need not beare them into the outward court, and to sanctifie the people.

2 Then led he me to the North gate, and led mee about by the way without vnto the better gate by the way that turneth Eastward: and beholde, there issued forth waters fro the right side.

3 Nowe when the man that had the line in his hand went forth Eastward, he measured a thousand cubites, and then he brought mee thoro the waters, the waters were to the ancles.

4 So hee measured yet a thousande, and brought mee thoro the waters, the waters were to the knees: yet measured he a thousand, and brought me thoro, the waters were to the loynes.

5 After this hee measured a thousande againe, then was it such a <sup>b</sup>riuier that I might not wade thoro it, the waters were risen, and the waters did flow as a riuier that might not be waded ouer.

6 And he said vnto me, Hast thou seene this, O thou son of man? and with that hee brought me, and caused me to returne to the riuier banke againe.

7 Nowe when I returned, beholde, at the banke of the riuier were very many trees <sup>c</sup> on the one side, and on the other.

8 Then said he vnto me, These waters flow out toward the East countrey, and run downe into the plaine, and come into the <sup>d</sup> Sea: which when it commeth into the Sea, the <sup>e</sup> waters shalbe whollome.

10 By this riuier shall the fishers stand, from Engaddi vnto En-glain, and there shal bead out their nettes: for their fish shall be according to their kindes as the fish of the maine Sea, exceeding many.

11 But the marishes thereof, and the pittes thereof, shall not be made whollome, they shalbe made salt pittes.

12 By this riuier, vpon the bankes thereof on this side and on that side, shall growe all trees for meate, whose leaues shall not fade, neither shall the fruit thereof faile, but shall bring forth new fruit according to his moneths, for the waters thereof runne out of the Sanctuary: and the fruite thereof shall be for meate, and the leaues thereof for medicine.

16 Namely, Hamath, Beratha, Sabarim, which are betweene the borders of Damascus, and betweene the borders of Hamah, Hazer, Hatichon, that lyeth vpon the coastes of Hauran.

17 Thus the borders from the Sea forth shal be Hazer Enan, the border of Damascus, and the North Northward, and the borders of Hamah: this is the North part.

18 The East side shall yee measure from Hauran and Damascus, from Gilead and the land of Israel by Iordane, and from the border vnto the East sea: and this is the East part.

20 The West part also shalbe the great Sea, from the borders till a man come ouer against Hamah: this is the West part.

21 This land shall yee part among you according to the tribes of Israel, 22 And diuide it by lot to bee an heritage for you, and for the strangers that dwel among you, and beget children among you: for yee shall take them among <sup>f</sup> children of Israel, like as though they were of your owne countrey, and they shall haue heritage with you among the children of Israel.

The booke of the Prophet Daniel.

The first Chapter.

1 The Prophet sheweth the captiuitie of Ichoiakim king of Iuda. 4 Of the children that were in captiuitie, the king commandeth to choose which of them should be taught the learning and language of the Chaldeans.

In the third yere of the reigne of Jehoiakim king of Iuda, came Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon vnto Hierusalem, and besieged it.

2 And the Lord deliuered Jehoiakim the king of Iuda into his hand, with part of the vessels of the house of God, which he caried away into the land of Sennar, to the house of his god, and he brought the vessels into his gods treasury.

3 And the king spake vnto Ashpenaz the chiefe chamberlaine, that he should bring him certaine of the children of Israhel, of the kings seede, and of the princes:

4 Springales without any blemish, but well fauoured, studious in all wisdom, skilful for knowledge, able to vtter knowledge, and such as haue iuclinesse in them, that they may stand in the kings palace: and whom they might teach the learning and the tongue of the Chaldeans.

5 Vnto these the king appointed a daily provision eury day of a portion of the kings meate, and of the wine which he drank, so to nourish them thre yeres, that afterward they might stand before the king.

6 Among these nowe were certaine of the children of Iuda, namely, Daniel, Ananias, Misael, and Azarias.

7 Vnto these the chiefe Chamberlaine gaue other names, and called Daniel, Baltassar: Ananias, Sidrach: Misael, Mitach: and Azarias, Abednego.

8 But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himselfe with the portion of the kings meate, nor with the wine which he drank: therefore he required the chiefe Chamberlaine that he might not defile himselfe.

9 (And God brought Daniel into fauour and tender loue with the chiefe chamberlaine.)

10 And the chiefe Chamberlaine said vnto Daniel, I am afraid of my Lord the king which hath appointed you your meate and your drinke: wherefore should he see your faces worse liking then the springales of your age, and so yee shall make me indanger my head vnto the king?

11 Then Daniel sayd vnto Melassar, whom the chiefe Chamberlaine had set ouer Daniel, Ananias, Misael, and Azarias:

12 O proue but ten daies with thy seruants, and let vs haue pulse to eat, and water to drinke.

13 Then let our countenances bee looked vpon before thee, and the countenances of the children that eate of the portion of the kings meate: and as thou seest, deale with thy seruants.

14 So he consented to them in this matter, and proued them ten dayes.

15 And at the end of ten dayes their countenances appeared fairer and fatter in flesh then all the childrens which did eate the portion of the kings meate.

16 Thus Melassar tooke away the portion of their meate, and the wine that they should drinke, and gaue them pulse.

17 As for those foure children, God gaue them knowledge and vnderstanding in all learning and wisdom: also he gaue Daniel vnderstanding of all visions and dreames.

18 Now when the time was expired that the king had appointed to bring them in, the chiefe Chamberlaine brought them before Nabuchodonosor.

19 And the king communed with them: but among them all were found none such as Daniel, Ananias, Misael, and Azarias: therefore stood they before the king.

20 In all matters of wisdom and vnderstanding that the king enquired of them, hee found them tenne times better then all the wise men and soothsayers that were in all his realme.

21 And Daniel abode still vnto the first yere of king Cyrus.

The ij. Chapter.

1 The dreame of Nabuchodonosor. 2 He calleth vnto him soothsayers, and requireth of them both the dreame and the interpretation thereof.

In the second yere of the reigne of Nabuchodonosor, had Nabuchodonosor a dreame, where through his spirit was troubled, and his sleepe brake from him.

2 Then the king commanded to call the wise men, and soothsayers, and sorcerers, and the Chaldees, for to shew the king his dreame: So they came, and stood before the king.

3 And the king said vnto them, I haue dreamed a dreame, and my spirit was troubled to know the dreame.

4 Vpon this the Chaldeans answered the king in the Syrians speech, O king, God saue thy life for euer: shew thy seruants the dreame, and we shall shew the interpretation.

5 The king answered and sayd to the Chaldeans, The thing is gone from mee: If ye will not make me vnderstand the dreame with the interpretation thereof, ye shall be dauen in peeces, and your houses made a iahcs.

6 But if ye tell me the dreame, and the interpretation thereof, ye shall receiue of me gifts, rewards, and great honour, therefore shew me the dreame, and the interpretation thereof.

7 They answered againe, and sayde, The king must shew his seruants the dreame. and so shall we declare the interpretation thereof.

8 Then the king answered, saying, I perceive of a trueth that yee would redeeme the time, for so much as ye see the thing is gone from mee.

9 Therefore if ye will not tell me the dreame, this is your onely purpose, Ye haue prepared lying and corrupt words to speake before me, till the time be changed: therefore tel me the dreame, that I may know that ye can declare me the interpretation thereof.

10 Upon this the Chaldees gaue answer before the king, and sayd, There is no man vpon earth that can tel the thing which the king speaketh of, yea, there is neither king, prince, nor lord, that euer asked such things at a wise man, soothsayer, or Chaldean.

11 For it is a rare matter that the king requirereth, neither is there any that can certifie the king thereof, except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh.

12 For the which cause the king was wroth with great indignation, and commanded to destroy all the wise men at Babylon.

13 So the decree went forth, and the wise men were slaine: they sought also to slay Daniel, with his companions.

14 Then Daniel slayed the counsell and decree with Arioch the captain of the kings guard, who was gone forth to put to death the wise men of Babylon.

15 Hee answered, and sayd vnto Arioch the kings captaine, Why is the sentence so hastie from the king? Then Arioch tolde Daniel the matter.

16 Upon this went Daniel, and desired the king that hee would giue him leasure, and that he would shew the king the interpretation.

17 Then Daniel went to his house, & he wed the thing to Ananias, Misael, and Azarias, his companions:

18 That they should beseech the God of heauen for grace in this secret, that Daniel and his fellows, with other such as were wise in Babylon, perished not.

19 When was this secret reuealed vnto Daniel in a vision by night: then Daniel praised the God of heauen.

20 Daniel also answered, & sayd, The name of God be praised for euer and euer: for wisdom and strength are his.

21 He changeth the times and seasons, he taketh away kings, he setteth vp kings: he giueth wisdom vnto the wise, and vnderstanding to those that vnderstand.

22 He reuealeth the deepe and secret things: he knoweth the thing that lieth in darknesse, for the light dwelleth with him.

23 I thanke thee and praise thee, O thou God of my fathers, that thou hast giuen me wisdom and strength, and hast shewed me now the thing that we desired of thee: for thou hast declared the kings matter vnto vs.

24 Upon this went Daniel in vnto Arioch, whom the king had ordeined to destroy the wise men at Babylon: hee went and sayd thus vnto him, Destroy not the wise men of Babylon, but bring mee before the king, and I shall shew the king the interpretation.

25 Then Arioch brought Daniel before the king in all the haste, and sayd thus vnto him, I haue found a man among the children of Iuda, that were brought captiues, that will declare vnto the king the interpretation.

26 Then answered the king, and sayd to Daniel, whose name was Baltassar, Art thou able to shew me the dreame which I haue seene, and the interpretation thereof?

27 Daniel answered in the presence of the king, and sayd, As for this secret of which the king maketh inquisition, there can neither the men of vnderstanding, nor soothsayers, nor the wise men, nor readers of destinies, declare it vnto the king:

28 But there is a God in heauen that reuealeth secrets, and sheweth the king Nabuchodonosor, what is for to come in the latter dayes. Thy dreame, and that which thou hast seene in thine head vpon thy bed, is this:

29 O king, when thou wast in thy bed, thoughts came into thy minde, what should come hereafter: so he that is the opener of mysteries telleth thee what is for to come.

30 As for me, this secret is not shewed me for any wisdom that I haue more then any other liuing, but onely that I might shew the king the interpretation, and that thou mightest knowe the thoughts of thine owne heart.

31 Thou king sawest, and beholde, there was a great image: this great image, whose brightness was excellent, stood before thee, and the forme thereof was terrible.

32 This images head was of pure golde, his breast and armes of siluer, his belly and his thighes of brasse.

33 His legs were of yron, his feet were part of yron and part of clay.

34 Thou beheldest it til a stone was cut without hands, which smote the image vpon his feet that were of yron and clay, and brake them to pieces.

35 Then was the yron, the clay, the brasse, the siluer and golde broken all together, and became like the chaffe of summer flowers, and the winde carried them away, that no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image, became a great mountaine, and filled the whole earth.

36 This is the dreame: and now we will shew thee before the king what it meaneth.

37 O king, thou art a king of kings: for the God of heauen hath giuen vnto thee a kingdom, power, strength and glory.

38 And in all places wheresoeter the children of men dwell, the beasts of the field, & the fowles of the aire hath he giuen into thy hand, and hath made thee ruler in them all: thou art this head of golde.

39 After thee shall arise another kingdome, inferior to thee, and another third kingdome shall be of brasse, which shall beare rule ouer all the earth.

40 The fourth kingdome shall be strong as yron: for as yron brake in pieces & subdueth all things, and as yron bruiseth all these things, so shall it breake in pieces and bruisse all.

41 Whereas thou sawest the feet & toes, part of potters clay, and part of yron, the kingdome shall be diuided, but there shall be in it of the strength of yron, for so much as thou sawest the yron mixt with the clay and earth.

c Whereby he smelteth the king with a certaine feare and reuerence of Gods, that hee might be the more apt to receive the high mysteries that should be reuealed.

d By this is vnderstood the world.

e By golde, siluer, yron, are meant the Chaldeans, Berlians, Macedonians, and Romane kingdome, which should succede to rule the world, till Christ (which is here called the stone) come himselfe and destroye the last.

f The first monarchy of the Chaldeans. g. He reuolued of the Persians. h. That is, of the Macedonians. i. That is, of the Romans. k. That is, either by civil warres and discorde, or else into two sorte of people: the one should be warlike, and therefore compared to yron, the other feccious and ferocious, and therefore compared to clay and earth.

De sicke opinion of doctors, shall be either as it might seeme, and we see the matter.

117.1.

42 And as the toes of the feete were part of iron and part of clay: so shall the kingdome bee part strong, and part broken.

43 And whereas thou sawest iron mixt with clay & earth, they shall mingle themselves with the seeds of men, and yet not ioine one with another, as iron will not be mixt with clay.

44 And in the dayes of these kings shall the God of heauen set vp a kingdome, which shall neuer be destroyed, and this kingdome shall not be giuen ouer to another people: but it shall breake and destroy all these kingdomes, and it shall stand for euer.

45 Like as thou sawest, that without any hands there was cut out of the mount a stone, which brake the iron, the brasse, the clay, the siluer, & gold in pieces: so the great God hath showed the king what shall come to passe after this: this is a true dreame, and the interpretation of it is sure.

46 Then the king Nabuchodonosor fel downe upon his face, and bowed himselfe vnto Daniel, and commanded to ordaine rewards and sweet odours for him.

47 The king answered Daniel, and sayd, Of a truth your God is a God of gods, and the Lord of kings, and a reuealer of secrets, seeing thou couldest reueale this secret.

48 So the king made Daniel a great man, and gaue him many and great gifts: hee made him ruler of all the countreys of Babylon, and the chiefe of the rulers aboute all the wise men of Babylon.

49 Then Daniel made request to the king, and he set Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, ouer the charge of the prouince of Babylon: but Daniel late in the kings gate.

The iij. Chapter.

1 The king setteth vp a golden image, which he commandeth to be worshipped. 8 Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego are accused, because they despised the kings commandement.

Nabuchodonosor the king made an image of golde, which was threescore cubits hie, & fixe cubits thicke: he set it vp in the plain of Bura, in the prouince of Babylon.

2 Then Nabuchodonosor the king sent forth, to gather together the dukes, lords, and nobles, the iudges and officers, the deputies and shirifs, with all the rulers of the prouinces, that they might come to the dedicatio of the image which Nabuchodonosor the king had set vp.

3 So the dukes, lords, and nobles, the iudges and officers, deputies and shirifs, with all the rulers of the prouince, gathered them together vnto the dedication of the image that Nabuchodonosor the king had set vp, and they stood before the image which Nabuchodonosor had set vp.

4 Then an Herald cried aloud, To you it is commaunded, O people, nations, and languages,

5 That when yee heare the noise of the Cornet, Trumpet, Harpe, Shawme, psalteries, Dulcimer, and all manner of instruments of musicke, yee fall downe and worship that golden image that Nabuchodonosor the king hath set vp.

6 Who so then falleth not downe and worshippeth, shall euen the same houre bee cast into the middelt of a hote fiery soynace.

7 Therefore when all the folke heard the noise of the Cornet, Trumpet, Harpe, Shawme, psalteries, and all instruments of musicke, then all the people, nations, and languages fell downe and worshipped the golden image that Nabuchodonosor the king had set vp.

8 Now were there certaine men of the Chal-dees, that went euen then, and cried out an accusation of the Jewes.

9 They spake, and said vnto the king Nabuchodonosor, O king, liue for euer.

10 Thou, O king, hast made a decree, that every man that shall heare the sound of the Cornet, Trumpet, Harpe, Shawme, psalteries, Dulcimer, and all instruments of musicke, shall fall downe and worship the golden image:

11 And who so then fell not downe, and worshipped not, that he should be cast into the middelt of an hote fierie soynace.

12 Now are there certaine Jewes, whome thou hast set ouer the charge of the prouince of Babylon, namely, Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego: these men, O king, regarded not thy commandement: yea, they will not serue thy gods, nor worship the golden image that thou hast set vp.

13 Then Nabuchodonosor in his anger and wrath commanded that Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego should be brought vnto him: so these men were brought before the king.

14 Then Nabuchodonosor spake vnto them, and said, Is it true, O Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, will not you serue my gods, nor worship the golden image that I haue set vp?

15 Now therefore bee ready when yee heare the sounde of the Cornet, Trumpet, Harpe, Shawme, psalteries, Dulcimer, and all instruments of musicke, to fall downe and worship the image which I haue made: for if yee worship it not, yee shall be cast immediatly into the middelt of a hote fierie soynace: for who is that God that can deliuer you out of my hands?

16 Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego answered the king, and sayde, O Nabuchodonosor, wee are not carefull to answer thee in this matter:

17 Beholde, our God whome wee serue, is able to deliuer vs from the hote fierie soynace: and he will deliuer vs out of thy hand, O king.

18 And though hee will not, yet shalt thou know, O king, that we will not serue thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set vp.

19 Then was Nabuchodonosor full of indignation, so that the countenance of his face changed vpon Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego: therefore he charged and commanded that they should heate the soynace, one seuen times moze then it was wont to be heat.

20 And hee charged the most valiant men of warre that were in his armie, to binde Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, and to cast them into the hote fierie soynace.

21 So these men were bound in their coats, hosen, head attire, with their other garments, and cast into the middelt of the hote fierie soynace.

22 Therefore because the kings commanunto the heauen, so doeth thy dominion to the ends of the earth.

23 But whereas the king saito a watcher, and a holy one that came downe from heauen, and sayd, Hewe downe the tree, and destroy it, yet leaue the stumpe of the roots thereof in the earth, and with a band of yron & brasse binde it among the grasse of the field, and let it be wet with the dew of the heauen, and let his portion be with the beasts of the field, till seven times passe ouer him:

24 This, O king, is the interpretation, yea, it is the very decree of him that is highest of all, and it toucheth my lord the king.

25 Thou shalt be cast out from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field: with grasse shalt thou be fed like oren, thou must be wet with the dew of the heauē, yea, seven times shall passe ouer thee, till thou knowe that the highest hath power ouer the kingdome of men, and giueth it to whom he list.

26 Moreover, whereas it was sayd that the stumpe of the root of the tree should be left still: it betokenieth that thy kingdome shall remaine whole vnto thee, after thou hast learned to knowe that the power commeth from heauen.

27 Wherefore, O king, let my countell be acceptable vnto thee, and breake off thy sinnes by righteousnesse, and thine iniquities by mercy toward the poore: so, let there be a healing of thine crotur.

28 All these things touch the king Nabuchodonosor.

29 So after twelue moneths, the king walked in the palace of the kingdome of Babylon.

30 And the king spake, and sayd, Is not this great Babylon, that I haue built for the house of the kingdome by the might of my power, and for the honour of my maiesty?

31 While these words were yet in the kings mouth, there fell a voice from heauen, saying, O king Nabuchodonosor, to thee be it spoken, Thy kingdome is departed from thee.

32 And thou shalt be cast out of mens company, thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field: so that thou shalt eate grasse like oren, and seven times shall passe ouer thee, vntill thou knowest that the highest hath power vpon the kingdome of men, and giueth it vnto whom it pleaseth him.

33 The very same houre was this matter fulfilled vpon Nabuchodonosor, so that he was cast out of mens company, & did eat grasse like oren, and his body was wet with the dew of heauen, till his haire was growen as eagles feathers, and his nailes like birds claws.

34 When this time was past, I Nabuchodonosor: use by mine eyes vnto heauen, and mine vnderstanding was restored vnto me: then gaue I thanks vnto the highest, I magnified and praised him that lieth for euermore, whose power is an euermaking power, and his kingdome is from one generation to another.

35 All they that dwell vpon the earth are to be reputed as nothing, and according to his will he worketh in the army of heauen, and among the inhabitants of the earth: and there is none that may resist his hand, or say vnto him, what doest thou?

36 At the same time was mine vnderstanding giuen me againe, and I was restored to the honour of my kingdome, my glory and my beauty was restored vnto mee, and my counsellors and princes sought vnto mee, and I was established in my kingdome, and my glory was augmented to ward me.

37 Now therefore, O Nabuchodonosor praise, and extoll, and magnifie the king of heauen, whose works are all truth, & his wayes iudgement, and those that walke in pride he is able to abate.

The v. Chapter.

1 Balthasar king of Babylon abusing the vessels of the Temple, seeth an hand writing on the wall. 8 The soothsayers called of the king, cannot expound the writing.

King Balthasar made a great feast to a thousand of his princes, and dranke wine before the thousand.

2 And Balthasar, when hee had tasted the wine, commanded to bring him the golden and siluer vessels, which his father Nabuchodonosor had brought from the temple in Hierusalem, that the king, and his princes, & his wiues, and his concubines might drinke therein.

3 So were brought the golden vessels that they had taken out of the Temple of the Lordes house at Hierusalem: and the king, and his princes, his wiues, and his concubines dranke in them.

4 They dranke wine, and praised the gods of golde, siluer, brasse, yron, wood, and stone.

5 In the very same houre there appeared fingers of a mans hand writing, right ouer against the candlesticke, vpon the pavement of the wall of the kings palace, and the king sawe the knuckles of the hand that wrote.

6 Then changed the king his countenance, & his thoughts troubled him, so that the sight of his loines were loosed, and his knees smote one against the other.

7 Wherefore the king cried mightily, that they should bring the soothsayers, Chaldees, and wisardes: the king spake also to the wise men of Babylon, and sayd, Who can reade this writing, and shew me the interpretation thereof, shall be clothed with purple, and haue a chaine of gold about his necke, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdome.

8 vpon this came all the kings wise men, but they could neither reade the writing, nor shew the king the interpretation.

9 Then was king Balthasar greatly troubled, and his countenance was changed in him, and his princes were abashed.

10 Now the queene, by reason of the talke of the king and his princes, came into the banquet house: and the queene spake, and sayd, O king, liue for euer: let not thy thoughts trouble thee, and let not thy countenance be changed.

11 There is a man in thy kingdome, that hath the spirit of the holy gods within him: and in the dayes of thy father, light, and vnderstanding, and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods was found in him: whom the king Nabuchodonosor thy father, the king, I say, thy father made chiefe of the wise men, soothsayers, Chaldeans, and wisards:

knowledge, and vnderstanding, to expound dreames, to open secrets, and to declare hard doubts, was found in him, yea, euen in Daniel, whom the king named Balthasar: let Daniel be called, and he shall declare the interpretation.

13 Then was Daniel brought before the king: so the king spake vnto Daniel, and sayd, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captiuitie of Iuda, whom my father the king brought out of Iury?

14 I haue heard of thee that thou hast the spirit of the holy gods, and that light and vnderstanding, and excellent wisdom is found in thee.

15 Now haue there bene brought before me wise men, and soothsayers, to read this writing, and to shew me the interpretation thereof: but they could not declare the interpretation of the thing.

16 Then heard I of thee, that thou couldest shew interpretations, and dissolue doubts: now if thou canst reade this writing, and shew me the meaning thereof, thou shalt be clothed with purple, and haue a chaine of golde about thy necke, and be the third ruler in the kingdome.

17 Then Daniel answered, and sayd before the king, As for thy rewards, keepe them to thy selfe, and giue thy gifts to another: yet I will reade the writing vnto the king, and shew him the interpretation.

18 O thou king, the most hie God gaue vnto Nabuchodonosor thy father a kingdome, and maiesty, and honour, and glory.

19 And for the maiesty that he gaue him, all people, nations, and languages trembled and feared before him: he slew whom he would, he made whom it pleased him: againe, whom he would he set vp, and whom he list he put downe.

20 But because his heart was lofty, and his minde strengthened in pride, he was deposed from his kingly throne, and they tooke his glory from him.

21 He was driuen out fro the sonnes of men, his heart was made like the beasts, & his dwelling was with the wilde asses, they fed him with grasse like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heauen, till he knew that the most high God bare rule ouer the kingdome of men, and that he appointed ouer it whomsoeuer hee pleased.

22 And thou his sonne, O Balthasar, hast not submitted thine heart, though thou knewest all these things:

23 But hast list by thy selfe against the Lord of heauen, so that the beels of his house were brought before thee, that thou and thy princes, with thy wiues and concubines, might drinke wine therout: and thou hast praised the gods of silver, and golde, of brasse, and iron, of wood, and stone, which neither see, heare, nor vnderstand: as for the God in whose hand consisteth thy breath, and all thy wayes, thou hast not glorified him.

24 Then was the knuckles of the hand sent from him, and hath written this writing.

25 And this is the writing that he hath written: MENE, MENE, THECHEL, VPHARSIN.

26 Nowe the interpretation of the thing is this, MENE, God hath numbered thy kingdome, and brought it to an end.

27 THECHEL, Thou art weighed in the ballance, and art found wanting.

28 PHERES, Thy kingdome is diuided, and giuen to the Medes and Perses.

29 Then commanded Balthasar, and they clothed Daniel with purple, and a chaine of gold about his necke, and made a proclamation concerning him, that he should be the third ruler in the kingdome.

30 The very same night was Balthasar the king of the Chaldees slaine.

31 And Darius of the Medes tooke the kingdome, being threetye and two yeres of age.

The vj. Chapter.

Daniel is made ruler ouer the lords.

D pleased Darius to set ouer his kingdome a hundred and twentie gouernours, which should be ouer the whole kingdome.

2 About these he set threepinces, of whom Daniel was one, that the gouernours might giue accounts vnto them, and the king should haue no dammage.

4 Nowe this Daniel was preferred aboue the princes and gouernours, for the spirit of God was plenteous in him, so that the king was minded to set him ouer the whole realme.

4 Wherefore the rulers and gouernours sought an occasion against Daniel, concerning the kingdome, but they could finde none occasion or fault: for he was so faithfull, that there was no blame nor fault found in him.

5 Then sayd these men, We shall finde none occasion against this Daniel, except wee finde it against him concerning the law of his God.

6 vpon this went the princes and lordes together vnto the king, and sayd thus vnto him, King Darius liue for euer.

7 All the rulers of the kingdome, the officers and gouernours, the counsellors and duies haue consulted together to make a decree for the king, and to establish a statute, That whoso desireth any petition either of any god or man within these thirtie dayes, except of thee, O king, he shall be cast into the lions den.

8 Nowe, O king, confirme the decree, and seale the writing, that it bee not changed according to the law of the Medes & Persians, which altereth not.

9 Wherefore king Darius sealed the writing and decree.

10 Nowe when Daniel vnderstood that hee had sealed the writing, he went into his house, and the windows of his chamber toward Hierusalem stood open, there kneeled he to worne vpon his knees three times a day, he made his petition, and praised his God, as he did aforesaid.

11 Then these men assembled, and found Daniel making his petition, and praying vnto his God.

12 So they came to the king, and spake before him concerning his commandment, saying, O king, hast thou not sealed the decree, that within thirtie dayes who should require his petition of any god or man, but onely of thy selfe, O king, he shall be cast into the den of the lions? The king answered, and sayd, Yea, it is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians that altereth not.

13 Then answered they, and sayd vnto the

2. Thus the wicked can not abide the grace of God in others, but seek by all occasions to deface them, therefore a- gainst such as- faults there is no better re- medy then to walke uprightly in the feare of God, and to haue a good conscience.

b. Because he would not by the silence of the court be contented to his lot, he let open his windows toward Hierusalem when he prayed, both to direct by himselfe with the remembrance of Gods promises to his people, when they should be vnto him as the temple: and also that others might see that hee would neuer consent in heart to bee, for hee knewe that any thing contrary to Gods glorie.

king.

In the first yeere of Balthazar king of Babylon, saw Daniel a dreame, and there were visions in his head upon his bed: which dreame hee wrote, and declared the summe of the matter.

king, This Daniel which is of the children of the captiuitie of Iuda. O king, regardeth neither thee, nor thy decree that thou hast sealed: but maketh his petition three times a day.

14 When the king heard these words, he was sore displeas'd with himselfe, and set his heart on Daniel to deliuer him, and hee laboured till the summe went downe, to deliuer him.

15 Then these men assembled vnto the king, and sayd vnto him, Know this, O king, that the law of the Medes and Persians is, that the commandement and statute which the king maketh, may not be altered.

16 Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and they call him into the Lions den. Now the king spake vnto Daniel, and sayd, Thy God whom thou alway seruest, euen he will deliuer thee.

17 And there was brought a stone, and layed vpon the mouth of the den, this the king sealed with his owne ring, and with the signet of his Princes, that the purpose concerning Daniel should not be changed.

18 So the king went into his palace, and remained fasting, neither was there any instruments of musike brought in before him, and his sleepe went from him.

19 But betimes in the morning at the breake of the day, the king arose, and went in all haste vnto the den of the lions.

20 Now as he came nigh vnto the den, he cried with a piteous voice vnto Daniel, yea, the king spake, and sayd vnto Daniel, O Daniel, thou seruant of the liuing God, is not thy God whom thou seruest alway, able to deliuer thee from the lions?

21 Then sayd Daniel vnto the king, O king, liue for euer.

22 My God hath sent his angel, which hath shut the lions mouthes, so that they might not hurt mee, for mine vnguiltinesse is found out before him: and as for thee, O king, I neuer offended thee.

23 Then was the king exceeding glad for him, and commanded to take Daniel out of the den: so Daniel was brought out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found vpon him, for hee put his trust in his God.

24 And as for those men which had accused Daniel, the king commanded to bring them, and to cast them into the lions den, them, their children, and their wiues: so the lions had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones aunder: or euer they came at the ground of the den.

25 After this, wrote king Darius vnto all people, nations, and tongues, that dwell in all lands, Peace be multiplied vnto you:

26 My commandement is in all my dominion and kingdome, that men feare and stand in awe of Daniels God: for hee is the liuing God, which abideth euer, his kingdome shall not faile, and his power is euertlasting.

27 It is he that deliuereth a saucth, he doth wonders and maruellous works in heauen and in earth, hee hath preferred Daniel from the power of the lions.

28 So this Daniel prospered in the reigne of Darius, and in the reigne of Cyrus of Persia.

The vij. Chapter.

A vision of foure beaſt is shewed vnto Daniel.

2 Daniel spake, and sayd, I saw in my vision by night, & beholde, the foure winds of heauen stroue vpon the great sea.

3 And foure great beaſt came by from the sea, one diuers from another.

4 The first was a lion, & had egles wings: I beheld till his wings were pluckt from him, and he lifted by from the earth, and set vpon his feet like a man, and there was giue him a mans heart.

5 Beholde, another beaſt, which was the second, was like a beare, and stood vpon the one side: betwixt his teeth in his mouth he had threeribs, and it was sayde vnto him thus, Arise, eat vp much flesh.

6 Then I looked, and behold, there was another like vnto a leopard, this had wings as a fowle, euen foure vpon the backe: this beaſt had foure heads, and there was power giuen him.

7 After this, I saw in a vision by night, and beholde, the fourth beaſt was grim and horrible, and maruellous strong: it had great iron teeth, it deuoured and destroyed, and stamped the residue vnder his feet, it was vnlike the other beaſt that were before it: for it had terme homes.

8 As I considered the homes, beholde, there came by among them another litle horne, before whom there were threer of the first homes pluckt away: and beholde, this horne had eyes like the eyes of a man, and a mouth speaking presumptuous things.

9 I beheld till the thrones were set by, and the ancient of dayes did sit, whose garment was white as snowe, and the haire of his head like the pure wooll: his throne was like the fierie flame, and his wheeles as burning fire.

10 There issued forth a fiery stream, and went out fro before him: a thousand thousands manifested vnto him, & ten thousand thousands stood before him: the iudgement was set, and the books opened.

11 Then tooke I heed therunto, because of the voice of the proned wordes which the horne spake: I beheld till the beaſt was slaine, and his body destroyed, and giuen to be burnt in the fire.

12 As concerning the other beaſt, they had their dominion taken away, but their liues were prolonged for a certaine time and season.

13 I saw in visions by night, like the sonne of man, which went vnto the ancient of dayes, before whom they brought him.

14 And he gaue him dominion and honour, and a kingdome, that all people, nations, and languages should serue him: his dominion is an euertlasting dominion, which shall neuer be taken away, and his kingdome shall neuer be destroyed.

15 I Daniel was troubled in my spirit in the muddelt of my body, and the visions of my head made me afraid.

16 I gat me vnto one of them that stood by, and asked him the truth concerning all these things: so he tolde me, and made me vnderstand the interpretation of these things.

17 These great beasts which are foure, are foure kings which shall arise out of the earth.

18 But the high saints shall receiue a kingdome, and possesse a kingdome for euer, euen for euer and euer.

19 After this, I required to know the trueth concerning the fourth beast, which was so vnlike the other beasts, and so horrible, whose teeth were of iron, and his nailes of brasse, which deuoured and destroyed, and stamped the residue vnder his feet:

20 I desired also to know the trueth as touching the ten hornes that hee had vpon his head, and this other which came by after ward, before whose face there fell downe three, which horne had eyes, and a mouth that spake presumptuous things, and looked with a grimmer visage then his fellowes.

21 I beheld, and the same horne made battell against the saints, yea, and preuailed against them, 22 Untill the 1 ancient of dayes came, that the iudgement was giuen to the high saints, and til the time came that the saints had the kingdome in possession.

23 Hee gaue me this answer, That fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdome vpon earth, it shall be vnlike to all the kingdomes: it shall deuoure, tread downe, and destroy all other lands.

24 The ten hornes are ten kings that shall arise out of the kingdomes: after whom there shall stand by another, which shall be vnlike to the first, and he shall subdue three kings:

25 And he shall speake words against the highest of all, he shall destroy the high saints, & thinke that he may change times and lawes: they shall be giuen into his hand vntill a time, and times, and the diuiding of a time.

26 But the iudgement shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume and destroy it vnto the end.

27 And the kingdome and dominion, and the greatnesse of the kingdome vnder the whole heauen, shall be giuen to the people of high saints, whose kingdome is an euermlasting kingdome, and all power shall serue and obey it.

28 Hiereto the end of the words: I Daniel had many cogitations which troubled mee, and my countenance changed in me: but the words I kept still in my heart.

The viij. Chapter.

A vision of a strife betwene a ram and a hee goat.

In the third yere of the reigne of king Balthasar, there appeared a vision vnto me, euen vnto mee Daniel, after that which I had scene in the beginning.

2 I saw in a vision (as when I saw it, I was in the palace of Susis, which is in the prouince of Elam) and in the vision mee thought I was in the riuier Ulai.

3 Then I looked by, and saw, and beholde, there stood before the riuier a ramme which had two hornes, and these two hornes were hie, but one was higher then the other, and the highest came by last.

4 I sawe that this ramme pushed with his hornes against the west, against the North, and against the South: so that no beasts might stand before him, nor defend them from his power, but he did as him list, and became great.

5 And as I considered, behold, there came a hee goat from the west, ouer the whole earth, and touched not the ground, and this goat had a horne appearing betwixt his eyes.

6 And he came vnto the ramme that had the two hornes (whom I had scene standing by the riuier) and ran fiercely vpon him with his might.

7 And I saw him draw nigh vnto the ram, being very fierce vpon him, yea, hee smote the ram, and brake his two hornes, neither had the ram so much strength as to stand before him: but he cast him downe to the ground, trode him vnder his feet, and there was none able to deliuer the ram out of his power.

8 Therefore the goat waxed exceeding great, and when hee was at the strongest, his great horne was broken: then grew there other foure notable ones in the stead of it, toward the foure winds of heauen.

9 And out of one of them came fourth a litle horne, which waxed very great, toward the South, toward the East, and toward the pleasant land.

10 It grew by vnto the hoste of heauen, whereof it did cast some to the ground, and of the starres also, and trode them vnder foot.

11 Yea, it grew by against the prince of the host, from whom the dayly sacrifice was taken away, and the places of the sanctuary cast downe.

12 And power was giuen vnto it ouer the dayly sacrifice for the iniquitie, and it shall cast downe the truth to the ground: and thus it shall do, and prosper.

13 Vpon this I heard one of the saints speaking, and one of the saints spake vnto Daniel, saying, How long shall the vision of the dayly sacrifice and of the iniquity of desolation endure, to giue both the sanctuary and the power to be troden vnder foot?

14 And he answered me, Vnto the evening and the morning, two thousand and three hundred: then shall the sanctuary be cleansed.

15 Now when I Daniel had scene this vision, and sought for the vnderstanding of it, behold, there stood before me like the similitude of a man.

16 And I heard a mans voice betwene Ulai, which cried, and sayd, O Gabriel, make this man vnderstand the vision.

17 So he came and stood by me, but I was afraid at his comming, and fel downe vpon my face: then sayd he vnto me, vnderstand, O thou sonne of man: for at the time of the end this vision shall be.

18 Now as he was speaking vnto me, I fell in a slumber vpon my face to the ground: but he touched me, and set me by in my place.

19 And he sayd, Beholde, I will shew thee what shall be in the last watch: for in the time appointed it shall be fulfilled.

20 The ramme which thou sawest hauing two hornes, is the king of the Medes and Persians.

21 And the goat is the king of Grecia: and the great horne that is betwixt his eyes, that is the first king.

e No kings of nations.

f Meaning Alexander, that came with great expedition. g Though he came in the name of all Grecia, yet he bare the title and dignity of the generall captain, so that the strength was attributed to him, which is meant by this horne. h Alexander ouercame Darius in two battles, and so had the kingdomes of the Medes and Persians.

i That is, Antiochus, who reigned against the elect of God.

k That is, God.

l This horne shall abolish for a time the true doctrine, and so corrupt Gods service.

m One of the Angels. n That is, a secret one, of a marvellous nature, whereby he was made to build the reuerence of all secrets. o Turning and morning, doe signify a night of three hundred and three score dayes.

p That is, Chail.

q That is, betweene the banks of the riuier Ulai. Dan. 9. 21.

r This power is command to annoy, declareth it was God.

s That is, the vision shall be fulfilled hereafter in some comment.

22 But whereas it brake, and foure other rose vp in the stead, it signifieth that out of one of this people shall stand by foure kingdomes, but not so mighty as it.

23 And in the end of their kingdomes, when the wicked are come to the full, a king of a fierce countenance, and vnderstanding hard sentences, shall stand by.

24 His power shall be mighty, but not in his strength, and he shall destroy woonderfully, he shall prosper, and practise, and destroy the mighty and the holy people.

25 And though his policy also, he shall cause craft to prosper in his hands, he shall extoll himselfe in his heart, and in prosperity hee shall destroy many, and many one shall be put to death in his wealthinesse: he shall stand by against the prince of princes, but he shall be destroyed without hand.

26 And the vision of the evening and morning which is declared, is true: therefore seale thou by the vision, for it shall be after many dayes.

27 Upon this was I Daniel feeble, so that I lay sicke certaine dayes: but when I rose vp, I went about the kings businesse, and was allowed at the vision, neuertheless, no man vnderstood it.

The ix. Chapter.

1 Daniel desireth to haue that performed of God, which he hath promised concerning the returne of the people from their banishment in Babylon. 26 The death of Christ.

In the first yere of Darius the sonne of Ahasuerus, which was of the seed of the Medes, and was made king ouer the realme of the Chaldees,

2 Euen in the first yere of his reigne, I Daniel vnderstood by booke the number of the yeres, whereof the Lord spake vnto Jeremy the Prophet, that hee would accomplish seuentie yeres in the desolation of Hierusalem.

3 And I turned my face vnto the Lord God, and sought by prayer and supplication, with fasting, sackcloth, and ashes.

4 I prayd vnto the Lord my God, and made my confession, saying, O Lord God great and fearefull, which keepeth couenant and mercie with them that loue him, and keepe his commandements,

5 We haue sinned, and haue committed iniquity, and haue done wickedly, yea, we haue rebelled, and haue departed from thy precepts, and from thy iudgements.

6 We would not obey thy seruants the prophets, that spake in thy name to our kings and princes, to our forefathers, and to all the people of the land.

7 O Lord, righteousnesse belongeth vnto thee, vnto vs, open shame, as is come to passe this day vnto every man of Iuda, and to them that dwell at Hierusalem, yea, vnto all Israel, whether they be farre or nigh, throughout all the landes whither thou hast driuen them, because of their offences that they haue done against thee.

8 Yea, O Lord, vnto vs, to our kings and princes, to our forefathers that haue offended thee, belongeth open shame.

9 Vnto the Lord our God pertaineth compassion and forgiveness, though we haue rebelled against him.

10 And we haue not obeyed the voice of the Lord our God, to walke in his lawes which he layed before vs by the hand of his seruants the Prophets.

11 Yea, all Israel haue transgressed and gone backe from thy law, so that they haue not hearkened vnto thy voice: wherefore the curse and oth that is written in the law of Moses the seruant of God, against whom we haue offended, is poyzed vpon vs:

12 And hee hath confirmed his words which he spake against vs, and against our iudges that iudged vs, to bring vpon vs such a great plague as neuer was vnder heauen, like as it is now come to passe in Hierusalem.

13 Yea, all this plague, as it is written in the law of Moses, is come vpon vs: yet made we not our prayers before the Lord our God, that wee might turne againe from our wickednesse, and vnderstand thy truth.

14 Therefore hath the Lord watched vpon the plague, and brought it vpon vs: for the Lord our God is righteous in all his workes which hee doth: for wee would not hearken vnto his voice.

15 And now, O Lord our God, thou that with a mighty hand hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt, to get thy selfe a name, which remaineth this day, we haue sinned, we haue done wickedly.

16 O Lord, according to all thy righteousnesse, I beseech thee let thine anger and thy wrath be turned away from the city of Hierusalem, thy holy hill: for because of our sinnes, and for the wickednesse of our fathers, Hierusalem and thy people are a reproch vnto all them that are about vs.

17 Now therefore, O our God, heare the prayer of thy seruant, and his intercession: O let thy face shine ouer thy sanctuary that lieth waste, for the Lords sake.

18 O my God, encline thine eare, and hearken, open thine eyes, beholde how we be desolated, yea, and the city also which is called after thy name: for we do not present our prayers before thee in our owne righteousnesse, but in thy great mercies.

19 O Lord heare, O forgive Lord, O Lord consider, and doe it, deferre not for thine owne sake, O my God: because thy name is called vpon thy city, and vpon thy people.

20 As I was yet a speaking at my prayers, knowing mine owne sinnes, and the sinnes of my people Israel, presenting to mine intercession before the Lord my God for the holy hill of my God:

21 Yea, while I was yet speaking in my prayer, the man Gabriel (whom I had seene afore in the vision) came flying, and touched mee about the time of the evening oblation:

22 And he informed me, and talked with me, and sayd, O Daniel, I am now come forth to giue thee knowledge and vnderstanding.

23 At the beginning of thy supplications, the commandement came forth, and I am come to shew thee, for thou art greatly beloved: therefore vnderstand the matter, and consider the vision.

1 That is, Antiochus, who should be impotent, weak, foolish, silly, and cruel.

2 That is, not like Alexander's strength.

24 Seventy weeks are determined over thy people, and over thy holy city, to finish the wickedness, and to seal by the sinnes, and to reconcile the iniquity, & to bring in everlasting righteousness, to seal by the vision and prophetic, and to anoint the most holy.

25 Know therefore and understand that from the going forth of the commandment to bring againe the people, and to build Hierusalem, vnto Messiah the prince, there shall be seuen weeks, and threescore and two weekes: and the street shall be built againe, and the wall, euen in the straitnesse of time.

26 After these threescore and two weekes shall Messiah be slaine, and not for himselfe: and the people of the prince that shall come, shall destroy the city and the sanctuary, and the end thereof shall be with a flood, and vnto the end of the battell it shall be destroyed by desolations.

27 He shall confirme the covenant with many for one weeke, and in the middell of the weeke he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease, and for the ouerbreeding of the abominations, hee shall make it desolate, euen vntill the consummation determined shall be powred vpon the desolate.

The x. Chapter.

1 There appeareth vnto Daniel a man clothed in linnen, 11 which sheweth him wherfore he was sent.

In the third yere of Cyrus king of Persia, there was shewed vnto Daniel, otherwise called Baltasar, a matter, yea, a true matter, but it is yet a long time vnto it: he understood the matter, and perceiued what the vision was.

2 At the same time I Daniel mourned for the space of three weekes of dayes.

3 I ate no pleasant bread, as for flesh and wine, there came none within my mouth: no, I did not once anoint my selfe, till the whole three weekes of dayes were fulfilled.

4 Vpon the foure and twentieth day of the first moneth, I was by the side of that great riuer, euen Hiddekel.

5 I lift vp mine eyes, and looked, and beholde, a man clothed in linnen, whose loines were girded vp with fine gold of saphayr.

6 His body was like the Turkeis stone, his face to looke vpon was like lightning: his eyes as lamps of fire, his armes and feet were like in colour, to polished brasse, and the voice of his wordes was like the voice of a multitude.

7 And I Daniel alone saw this vision, for the men that were with me saw not the vision: but a great fearefulness fell vpon them, so that they fled away, and hid themselues.

8 Therefore I was left alone, and saw this great vision, and there remained no strength in me: for my colour was turned in me into corruption, and I retained no strength.

9 Yet heard I the voice of his wordes: and when I heard the voice of his wordes, I fell aowned vpon my face, and my face toward the earth.

10 And behold, a hand touched me, which set me vp vpon my knees, and vpon the palmes of my hands.

11 And he sayd vnto me, O Daniel, thou wel beloued man, take good heed to the wordes that I say vnto thee, and stand in thy place: for vnto thee am I now sent. And when he had said these wordes vnto me, I stood by trembling.

12 Then sayd he vnto me, feare not, Daniel: for since the first day that thou didest set thine heart to vnderstand, and to chasten thy selfe before thy God, thy wordes were heard, and I am come for thy wordes.

13 But the prince of the kingdome of Persia withstood mee one and twenty dayes: but loe, Michael, one of the chiefe princes, came to helpe me, and I remained there by the kings of Persia.

14 And I am come to shewe thee what shall come vnto thy people in the latter dayes: for it will be long yet of the vision be fulfilled.

15 Now when he had spoken these wordes vnto me, I cast my head downe to the ground, and held my tongue.

16 And beholde, there touched my lips, one very like vnto a man: then I opened my mouth, and spake, and sayde vnto him that stood before mee, O my Lord, by the vision my ioynts are turned out of their place, and I haue retained no strength.

17 For how can the seruant of this my Lord, talke with my Lord, being such a one? And as for me, straight way there remained no strength in me, neither is there breath left in me.

18 When there came againe, and touched me, one like the appearance of a man, & he strengthened me:

19 And sayd, O man, greatly beloued, feare not, peace be vnto thee, be strong, and of good courage. So when he had spoken vnto mee, I was strengthened, and sayde, Speake on, my Lord: for thou hast strengthened me.

20 Thus sayd hee, Knowest thou wherfore I am come vnto thee? now will I returne to fight with the prince of the Perses: as soone as I goe forth, loe, the prince of Grecke land shall come.

21 Neuertheless, I will shewe thee that that is noted in the Scripture of truth: and there is none that helpeth me in these things, but Michael your prince.

The xj. Chapter.

1 A prophetic of the kings of Persia. 3 Of the kingdome of Greece. 5 Of the kingdome of Egypt, and of the bond thereof. 15 Of the battell with the kingdome of Syria.

And in the first yere of Darius of Media, I stood to comfort him, and to strength him.

2 And now will I shewe thee the truth: behold, there shall stand vp yet three kings in Persia, but the fourth shall be farre richer then they all: and by his strength and by his riches he shall stirre vp all against the realme of Grecke land.

3 When shall there arise yet a mightie king, that shall rule with great dominion, and doe what him list.

4 And when he shall stand by, his kingdome shall be broken, and shall be diuided toward the foure windes of the heauen, and not toward his posterity, nor according to his dominion which hee ruled: for his kingdome shall be pluckt by, euen for others besides these.

5 And the king of the South shall be mighty, and one of his princes, and he shall prevail against him, and heare rule: his dominion shall be a great dominion.

6 And in the end of yeres they shall be ioyned together, and the kings daughter of the South shall come to the king of the North for to make agreement, but she shall not retaine the power of the arme, neither shall hee continue nor his arme, but she shall be deliuered to death, and they that brought her, and he that begat her, and he that comforted her in these times.

7 But out of the bud of her roots shall one stand by in his stead, which shall come with an army, and shall enter into the fortreffe of the king of the North, and do with them as he list, and shall preuaile.

8 And shall also carry captiues into Egypt their gods, with their moulten images, with their precious vessels of siluer and of golde, and he shall continue more yeres then the king of the North.

9 So the king of the South shall come into his kingdome, and shall returne into his owne land.

10 Wherefore his sonnes shall be stirred vp, and shall gather together a mighty great hoste of people, and one shall come and overflow, & passe thowen: then shall hee turne againe, and be stirred vp at his fortreffe.

11 Then the king of the South shall be angry, and shall come forth to fight with him, euen with the king of the North: for he shall set forth a great multitude, and the multitude shall be giuen into his hand.

12 Then the multitude shall be proud, & their hearts shall be lifted by, for hee shall cast downe thousands: but he shall not still preuaile.

13 For the king of the North shall returne, and shall set forth a greater multitude then afore, and shall come forth (after certaine yeres) with a mighty army and great riches.

14 And at the same time there shall manie stand by against the king of the South, so that the seditious children of thy people also shall exalt themselves to establish the vision, but they shall fall.

15 So the king of the North shall come and cast by a mount, and take the strong cities: and the armes of the South shall not resist, neither his chosen people, neither shall there bee any strength to withstand.

16 And when he commeth, hee shall handle him as hee list, and no man shall stand against him, he shall stand in the pleasant land, which by his hand shall be consumed.

17 Againe, he shall set his face to enter with the power of his whole kingdome, and his confederates with him, thus shall hee doe: and hee shall giue him the daughter of women to destroy her, but she shall not stand on his side, neither be for him.

18 After this, shall he turne his face vnto the Isles, and shall take many: but a prince shall cause his shame to lichte vpon him, beside that he shall cause his owne shame to turne vpon himselfe.

19 For he shall turne his face toward the fortes of his owne land: but hee shall be ouerthrowen and fall, and be no more found.

20 When shall stand by in his place a ruler of cares in the glory of the kingdome, and after a few dayes he shall be destroyed, neither in wrath nor in battell.

21 In his stead there shall stand by a vile person, to whom they shall not giue the honour of the kingdome: but hee shall come in peaceably, and obtaine the kingdome with flatteries.

22 And the armes shall be overflowed with a flood before him, and also the prince of the couenant.

23 And after the league made with him, hee shall worke deceitfully, for hee shall come and ouercome with a small people.

24 Hee shall enter into the quiet and plentifull prouince, and he shall doe that which his fathers haue not done, nor his fathers fathers: he shall diuide among them the pray, and the spoile, and the substance, yea, and shall forecast his deuices against the strong holdes, euen for a time.

25 Also his power and heart shall be stirred by with a great army against the king of the South: the king of the South shall be moued vnto battell with a great and a mighty hoste also: nevertheless, he shall not stand, for they shall forecast deuices against him.

26 Yea, they that feed of the portion of his meat shall destroy him, and his army shall overflow, and many shall fall and be slaine.

27 These two kings hearts shall be to mischief, and they shall talke of deceit at one table, but it shall not prosper, for yet the end shall be at the time appointed.

28 Then shall he go home againe into his land with great substaunce, and set his heart against the holy couenant, so shall hee doe, and returne to his owne land.

29 At the time appointed hee shall come againe, and goe toward the South: but the last shall not be as the first.

30 For the shippes of Chittim shall come against him, therefore hee shall soze, and returne, and fret against the holy couenant: so shall hee do, he shall euen returne and haue intelligence with them that forsake the holy couenant.

31 And armes shall stand on his part, and they shall pollute the sanctuary of strength, and shall take away the dayly sacrifice, and they shall set by the abominable desolation.

32 And such as wickedly breake the couenant, shall hee cause to sinne by flatterie: but the people that know their God, shall preuaile and prosper.

33 Those also that haue vnderstanding among the people, shall informe the multitude, and for a long season they shall fall with the sword, with fire, with captivity, and with the taking away of their goods.

34 Now when they shall fall, they shall be holpen with a little helpe, but many shall cleaue vnto them faintly.

35 Yea, some of those that haue vnderstanding shall fall, that they may be tried, purified, and made white, till the time be out: for there is a time appointed.

36 And a king shall doe what him list, he shall exalt and magnifie himselfe against all that is good, yea, he shall speake marvellous things against the God of gods, and he shall prosper till the wrath be fulfilled: for the determination is made.

37 He shall not regard the God of his fathers, nor the desires of women, yea, he shall not care

39 Thus shall he doe in the holdes of Dauz-them to rule ouer many, and shall diuide the land for gaine.

40 And at the ende of time shall the king of the South push at him, and the king of the North shall come against him like a whirlwind, with charrets, horsemen, and with many ships:
he shall enter into the countreys, and shall ouerflowe, and passe throo v.

41 Hee shall enter also into the pleasant land, and manie countreys shall be ouerthrowen:
but these shall escape out of his hand, euen Edom and Moab, and the chiefe of the children of Ammon.

42 Hee shall stretch forth his hand also vpon the countreys, and the land of Egypt shall not escape.

43 But hee shall haue power ouer the treasures of gold and of siluer, and ouer all the precious things of Egypt, and of the Libyans and E-thiopiens in his passing by them.

44 Neuerthelesse, the tidings out of the East and the North shall trouble him, therefore hee shall goe forth with great wrath, to destroy and roote out many.

45 And hee shall plant the tabernacles of his palace betwene the seas, in the glorious and holy mountaine: yet hee shall come to his ende, and none shall helpe him.

The xij. Chapter,

2 He prophesieth the resurrection of the dead, 9 The darkenesse of the prophesie of Daniel.

And at that time shall Michael stand by, the great prince, which standeth for the children of thy people: for there shall be a time of trouble, such as neuer was since there began to be a nation, vnto that same time: and at that time thy people shall be deliuered every one that shall be found written in the booke.

2 And manie of them that sleepe in the dust of the earth, shall awake, some to euerlasting life, and some to shame and perpetuall contempt.

3 They that bee wise, shall shine as the brightnesse of the firmament: and they that turne many to righteousnesse, as the starres for euer and euer.

4 But thou, O Daniel, shut vp the words, and seale the booke till the time of the end: many shall goe about here and there, and knowledge shall be increased.

5 Then I Daniel looked, and behold, there stood other two, the one on this side of the banke of the riuer, and the other on that side of the banke of the riuer.

6 And one sayd vnto the man clothed in linnen, which was ouer the waters of the riuer, when shall the end of these wonders be?

7 And I heard the man clothed in timen, which was ouer the waters of the riuer, when he held by his right hand and his left hand vnto heauen, and swore by him that liueth for e-uer, that it shall rarie for a time, times, and a halfe: and when hee shall haue accomplished to scatter the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished.

8 Then I heard it, but I vnderstood it not:
then sayd I, O my Lord, what shall be the end of these things?

9 And he sayd, Goe thy way, Daniel, for the wordes are closed vp and sealed till the time of the end.

10 Many shall be purified, made white, and tried: but the wicked shall do wickedly, and none of the wicked shall haue vnderstanding, but the wise shall vnderstand.

11 And from the time that the dayly sacrifice shall be taken away and the abominable desolation set vp, there shall be a thousand two hundred and ninetie dayes.

12 Blessed is hee that waiteth and commeth to the thousand, three hundred, and siue and thir-

The first Chapter.

1 The time wherein Osee prophesied. 2 The idolatry of the people. 10 The calling of the Gentiles. 11 Christ is the head of all people.

The word of the Lord came vnto Osee the sonne of Beeri, in the dayes of Ozia, Joathan, Ahas, and Hezecias, kings of Iuda, and in the tyme of Jeroboam the sonne of Joas king of Israel.

2 When the Lord spake first vnto Osee, he sayd vnto him, Goe take vnto thee a wife of fornications, and children of fornications: for the land hath committed great fornication, departing from the Lord.

3 So he went and tooke Gomer the daughter of Deblaim: which conceived and bare him a sonne.

4 And the Lord sayde vnto him, Call his name Jezrahel: for I will shortly auenge the blood of Jezrahel vpon the house of Iehu, and will bring the kingdome of the house of Israel to attend.

5 And in that day will I also breake the bowe of Israel in the balley of Jezrahel.

6 And shee conceived againe, and bare a daughter: and the Lord sayde vnto him, Call her name Lozhamah, that is, not obtaining mercie, for I will no more haue pitie vpon the house of Israel, but I will vtterly take them away.

7 Yet I will haue mercie vpon the house of Iuda, and will saue them, euen though the Lord their God: and wil not saue them by bow, sword, battell, hozles, or hozesmen.

8 Now when she had weaned Lozhamah, shee conceived againe, and bare a sonne.

9 Then sayd he, Cal his name Leammî, that is, not my people: for ye are not my people, therefore I will not be your God.

10 Yet the number of the children of Israel shall be as the sand of the sea, which can neither be measured nor tolde, * and in the place where it was sayd vnto them, Ye are not my people: it shall be sayd vnto them, Ye are the children of the liuing God.

11 Then shall the children of Iuda & the children of Israel be gathered together, and appoint themselves one head, and they shall come by out of the land: for great shall be the day of Jezrahel.

The ij. Chapter.

1 The people is called to repentance. 5 Hee sheweth their idolatry, and threatneth them, except they repent.

All your brethren that they are my people, and your sisters that they haue obtained mercie.

2 As for your mother, ye shall chide with her, and reprocue her, for she is not my wife, neither am I her husband: let her therefore put away her whoredome from her face, and her adulterie from her breasts:

3 Let I strip her naked, and set her euen as shee came into the woilde, and make her as a wildernesse, and as a drie land, and lay her for thirsk.

4 And I wil haue no pitie vpon her children: for they be the children of fornication.

5 Their mother hath played the harlot, and she that bare them is come to confusion: for shee sayd, I wil goe after my louers, that giue me my bread and my water, my wooll and flaxe, my oyle and my drinke.

6 Therefore behold, I wil stop thy way with thornes, and make a hedge, that she shall not find her paths.

7 And though she runne after her louers, yet shall she not ouertake them: she shall seeke them, but not find them. Then shall she say, I wil goe and returne to my first husband: for at that time it was better with me then now.

8 And shee did not know that I gaue her corne, and wine, and oyle, and multiplied her siluer and gold, which they bestowed on Baal.

9 Therefore wil I returne and take away my corne in the tyme thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and set againe my wooll and my flaxe which I gaue her to couer her shame.

10 And now wil I discouer her shame, euen in the sight of her louers, and no man shall deliuer her out of my hands.

11 Moreover, I wil take away all her mirth, her holy dayes, her newe Moones, her Saboths, and all her solemne feastes.

12 I wil destroy her vineyardes, and figge trees, wherof she sayd, These are my rewardes that my louers haue giuen mee: I wil make them as a wood, and wilde beastes shall eate them by.

13 I wil visit vpon her the dayes of Baal, wherein she burned incense to him, and decked her selfe with earrings and ietwels, she folowed her louers, and forgaue me, sayth the Lord.

14 Wherefore behold, I will allure her, and bring her into the wildernes, and speake friendly vnto her.

15 From thence wil I giue her her vineyards againe, yea, and the balley of Achor for an entrie of hope: and she shall sing there as in the dayes of her youth, and as in the day when shee came out of the land of Egypt.

16 And at that day (sayth the Lord) thou shalt call me, O my husband, and shalt call me no more Baal.

17 For I will take away those names of Baal from her mouth, yea, she shall neuer remember their names any more.

18 Then wil I make a covenant for them, with the beasts of the field, with the foules of the ayre, and with every thing that creepeth vpon the earth: As for bowe, sword, and battell, I will destroy out of the land, and wil make them to sleepe safely.

19 And I wil marrie thee vnto mine owne selfe for euer. yea. euen to my selfe wil I marrie thee, in righteousnesse, in iudgement, in louing kindnesse and mercie.

20 In faithfulness also wil I marrie thee vnto my selfe. and thou shalt knowe the Lord.

21 At the same time wil I shew my selfe gracious vnto the heauens, saith the Lord, and the heauens shall helpe the earth.

22 And the earth shall helpe the corne, wine, and oyle: and they shall helpe Ierusalem.

23 * And I will sowe her for my selfe in the earth, and wil haue mercy vpon her that had not obtained mercie: and to them which were not my people, I wil say, Thou art my people: and they shall say, Thou art my God.

The iij. Chapter.

1 The Iewes shall be cast off for their idolatrie. 5 Afterward they shall returne vnto the Lord.

Hen sayd the Lord to mee, Goe yet and loue a woman beloued of her husband, and yet an adulteresse, according to the loue of the Lord toward the children of Israel: and yet they haue respect to strange gods, and loue the wine pots.

2 So I gate her for fifteene silverlings, and for an homer and an halfe of barley.

3 And sayd vnto her, Thou shalt bide with me a long season, thou shalt not play the harlot, thou shalt be to no other man, and I wil bee so vnto thee.

4 For the children of Israel shall sit a great while without king, without prince, without sacrifice, without image, without Ephod, and without Teraphim.

5 But afterward the children of Israel shall be conuerted, and seeke the Lord their God, and Dauid their king, and in the latter dayes they shall worship the Lord, and his louing kindnesse.

The iiii. Chapter.

A complaint against the people, and the priestes of Israel.

Hear the worde of the Lord O ye children of Israel, for the Lord hath a controuersie with the inhabitants of the land: for there is no truth, there is no mercie, there is no knowledge of God in the land.

2 But swearing, lying, manslaughter, theft and adultery hath gotten the ouerhand, and one blood guiltinesse followeth another.

3 Therefore shall the land mourne, and all they that dwell therein shall bee rooted out, the beasts of the field, the fowles of the aire, and the fishes in the sea, shall be consumed.

4 Yet let no man rebuke or reprove another, for the people are as they that are at controuersie with the Priest.

5 Therefore shalt thou fall in the day time, and the Prophet with thee in the night, and I wil bring thy mother to destruction.

6 My people perish for lacke of knowledge: because thou hast refused knowledge, therefore wil I refuse thee also, so that thou shalt no more be my Priest: and so for so much as thou hast forgotten the law of thy God, I wil also forget thy children.

7 The more they increased in multitude, the more they sinned against me, therefore wil I change their honour into shame.

8 They eate by the sinnes of my people, and encourage them in their wickednesse.

9 * Thus the Priest is become like the people: wherefore I wil punish them for their wicked wayes, and reward them according to their imaginations.

10 They shall eate, and not haue enough, they haue bled whozedom, but shall not prosper, they haue forsaken the Lord, and not regarded him.

11 Whozedom, wine, and new wine take the heart away.

12 My people aske counsell at their stockes, and their staffe teacheth them: for the spirit of fornication hath caused them to goe astray, and they haue committed fornication against their God.

13 They make sacrifices vpon the tops of the mountaines, and burne their incense vpon the hills, yea, vnder the Oakes, Poplars, and Elmes, for there are good shadowes: therefore your daughters are become harlots, and your spouses haue broken their wedlocke.

14 I will not punish your daughters for being defiled, & your spouses that became whores, seeing the fathers themselues haue medled with harlots, and sacrificed with whores: but the people that will not vnderstand, must be punished.

15 Though thou Israel play the harlot, yet let not Juda sinne, come not ye vnto Gilgal, neither goe ye to Bethauen, neither swear ye, The Lord liueth.

16 For Israel is rebellious like an unruly heifer: now the Lord will feede them as a lambe in a large place.

17 Ephraim is become partaker of idoles, let him alone.

18 Their drunkennesse sinketh, they haue committed whozedom: their rulers loue to say with shame, Bring ye.

19 The winde hath bound them by in her winges, and they shall bee ashamed of their sacrifices.

The v. Chapter.

1 Against the priestes and rulers of Israel. 13 The helpe of man is vaine.

Hear ye priests, heare this, take heed O thou houthold of Israel, giue eare, O thou house of the king, for iudgement is against you, because you are become as a snare on Hispah, and a spread net vpon the mount of Chabor.

2 They || kil sacrifices by heapes, and turne sarre from the Lord, and I haue bene a rebuker of them all.

3 I knowe Ephraim well enough, and Israel is not hidde fro mee: for nowe, O Ephraim, thou art become an harlot, and Israel is defiled.

4 They wil not giue their mindes to turne vnto their God: for the spirit of fornication is in the midst of them, and they haue not knowen the Lord.

5 And the pride of Israel doeth testifie to his face, therefore both Israel and Ephraim shall fall for their wickedness, and Juda with them also.

6 They shall come with their sheepe and bullocks to seeke the Lord, but they shall not finde him: for he is gone from them.

7 They haue transgressed against the Lord, and brought vp bastarde children: a moneth therefore shall deuoure them with their portions.

8 Blow with the shawmes at Gibeon, and with the trumpet in Ramah, cry out at Bethauen, after thee, O Benjamin.

9 In the time of the plague shall Ephraim bee layde waste, in the tribes of Israel haue I shewed the truth.

10 The princes of Juda haue bene like them that remooue the land markes, therefore will I poure out my wrath vpon them like water.

11 Ephraim is oppressed and broken in iudgement, because hee willingly followed the commandement.

12 Therefore will I bee vnto Ephraim as a moth, and to the house of Juda as a caterpillar.

13 When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Juda his disease, Ephraim went vnto Assur, and sent vnto King Jareb, yet could not he help you, nor ease you of your paine.

14 I will be vnto Ephraim as a Lion, and as a Lions whelp to the house of Juda: I, euen I will spoile, and goe my way: I will take away, and no man shall rescue.

15 I wil goe and returne to my place, til they know ledge that they haue sinned, and seeke me. In their aduersitie they shall early seeke me.

The vij. Chapter.

1 Affliction causeth a man to turne to God. 2 The wickedness of the Priestes.

One, let vs turne againe to the Lord: for he hath smitten vs, and he shall heale vs, hee hath wounded vs, and he shall binde vs by a gaine.

2 * After two dayes shall hee quicken vs, in the third day he shall raise vs vp, so that we shall liue in his sight.

3 Then shall wee haue vnderstanding, and endeouour our soules to know the Lord: he shall go forth as the spring of the day, and come vnto vs as the raine, and as the latter raine vnto the earth.

4 O Ephraim what shall I do vnto thee? O Juda, howe shall I entreat thee? for your goodnesse is like a morning cloude, & like a dew that goeth early away.

5 Therefore haue I cut down the prophets, and let them be slaine for my words sake, so that thy punishment shall come to light.

6 * For I desired mercy, and not sacrifice: and the knowledge of God, more then whole burnt offerings.

7 But euen like as Adam did, so haue they broken my Covenent, and let me at nought.

8 Gilead is a city of wicked doers, and is polluted with blood.

9 And as thieues armed waite for him that passeth by the way: such is the counsell of the priestes, which with one agreed counsel murder cruelly such as keepe the way, yea, they dare doe all vnspokeable mischief.

10 Horrible things haue I scene in the house of Israel: there is the fornication of Ephraim, and Israel is defiled.

11 Yea, and thou Juda keepest an hartell for thy selfe, when I returne to the captiuitie of my people.

The vij. Chapter.

1 Of the vices and wantonness of the people. 12 Of their punishment.

When I vnderooke to make Israel whole, then the ingratioussnesse of Ephraim, and the wickednesse of Samaria came to light, for they goe about with lies, therefore the thiefe robbeth within, and the spoiler destroyeth without.

2 They consider not in their hearts that I remember all their wickednesse: Nowe their owne inuentions haue beset them, which I see well ynough.

3 They make the king glad with their wickednesse, and the princes with their lies.

4 All these burne in adulterie, as it were an ouen that the baker heateth when hee hath left kneading, til the dough be leauened.

5 That is the day of our King, the princes haue made him sicke with bottels of wine, hee hath stretched out his hands to scorners.

6 For whiles they lie in wait they haue made ready their heart like an ouen, their baker sleppeth all night, in the morning it burneth as a flame of fire.

7 They are altogether as hot as an ouen, and haue deuoured their owne Iudges, al their Kings are fallen, yet is there none of them that calleth vpon me.

8 Ephraim hath mixt himselfe among heathen people, Ephraim is become like a cake that no man turneth.

9 Strangers haue deuoured his strength, and he regardeth it not: hee wareth full of gray haire, yet wil he not know it.

10 And the pride of Israel testified to his face, yet will they not turne to the Lord their God, nor seeke him for al this.

11 Ephraim is like a doue that is beguiled, and hath no heart: now cal they vpon the Egyptians, now goe they to the Assyrians.

12 But while they be going here and there, I shall spread my nette ouer them, and drawe them downe as the fowles of the aire: and according as they haue bene warned, so wil I punish them.

13 Woe bee vnto them, for they haue forsaken mee, they must bee destroyed, for they haue set mee at nought: I am hee that hath re deemed them, yet haue they spoken lyes against mee.

14 They call not vpon me with their hearts, but lye howling vpon their beddes: they will assemble themselves for corne & wine, but they rebel against me.

15 I haue bound vp and strengthened their arme: yet doe they imagine mischief against mee.

16 They turne themselves, but not to the most highest, and are become as a broken bowe, their princes shall be slaine with the sword for the malice of their tongues: this shall be their derision in the land of Egypt.

The viij. Chapter.

The destruction of Iuda and Israel, because of their idolatrie.

SEt the trumpe to thy mouth, swiftly as an Eagle shall the enemy come against the house of the Lord: for they haue broken my Couenant, and transgressed my Law.

2 Israel should haue said vnto me, Thou art my God, we know thee.

3 But he hath refused the thing that is good, therefore shall the enemy pursue him.

4 They haue ordeined kings, but not through me, they haue made princes, and I knew it not: of their siluer and gold haue they made them Idoles, therefore shall they be destroyed.

5 Thy Calfe, O Samaria, hath cast thee off, for my wrathful indignation is gone forth against them: how long wil they be without innocencie?

6 For the Calfe came from Israel, the workeman made it, therefore can it bee no God: but euen in pieces shall the Calfe of Samaria bee broken.

7 They haue sown winde, therefore shall they reape a whirlewinde: it hath no stalk, the bud shall bring forth no meale: and if happily it do, strangers shall deuoure it vp.

8 Israel is deuoured, now shall they bee among the Gentiles as a bessel of no reputation.

9 For they haue gone by to Assyria, and are as a wilde asse solitary by himselfe: Ephraim hath hired louers.

10 And though they haue hired them among the heathen, yet now will I gather them, and they shall begin to bee weary with the burden of the King and the Prince.

11 Ephraim hath made many altars to doe wickednesse, his altars I say he had to his sinne.

12 I haue written to them the great things of my Lawe, but they are counted as a strange thing.

13 They sacrifice flesh for the sacrifice of mine offerings, & eat it, but the Lord hath no pleasure in it: now wil he remember their iniquitie, and visite their sinnes, they shall returne into Egypt.

14 For Israel hath forgotten him that made him, and hath builded faire palaces, and Iuda hath increased strong cities: but I will send a fire into their cities, and it shall consume their palaces.

The ix. Chapter.

Of the hunger and captiuitie of Israel.

DO not thou triumph, O Israel, make no boasting ouer thy things as do the heathen: for thou hast committed adultery against thy God, whorish rewardes hath thou loued more then al the corne floozes.

2 The corne flooze and the wine presse shall not feed them: and the new wine shall faile them.

3 They shall not dwell in the Lords land, but Ephraim shall turne againe into Egypt, and eate vncleane things among the Assyrians.

4 They poure out no wine for a drinke offering vnto the Lord, neither shall their staine offerings bee pleasant vnto him, they shall be vnto them as the bread of mourners, al they that eate shall be defiled: for their bread for their soules shall not come into the house of the Lord.

5 What wil ye doe then in the solemne day, and in the feast day of the Lord?

6 For behold, they are gone away for destruction, but Egypt shall gather them, and Memphis shall bury them: the nettles shall possesse the pleasant places of their siluer, thornes shall be in their Tabernacles.

7 The dayes of visitation are come, the dayes of recompense are come: and then shall Israel know that they were deceiued by a foolish, madde, and franticke prophet: for the multitude of their iniquitie God shall multiply enemies against thee.

8 The watchman of Ephraim was with my God, but the prophet is the snare of a Fowler in al his wayes, and an abomination in the house of his God.

9 They haue gone to the bottome, they are corrupt as in the dayes of Gibeon: therefore hee wil remember their iniquitie, and visite their sinnes.

10 I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness, and I saue their fathers as the first ripe in the figge tree at her first season, but they went to Baal Peor, and separated themselves to that shame, and became as abominable as their louers.

11 Ephraim their glory shall flee away like a bird: from the birth, from the wombe, and from the conception.

12 And though they bring by children, yet I will destroy them before they bee men: yea, woe shall come to them when I depart from them.

13 Ephraim (as mee thinke) is planted in a pleasant place, like as is Cyprus: but now must shee bring her owne children forth to the manslayer.

14 O Lord giue them: what shalt thou giue them? Giue them an vnfruitfull wombe, and dry breasts.

15 All their wickednesse is done at Gilgal, there doe I abhorre them: for the ingratiouesness of their owne inuentions I will diuice them out of my house, I will loue them no more, for all their princes are vnfaithfull.

16 Ephraim is hewen downe, their roote is dried vp, so that they shall bring no more fruite: yea, and though they bring forth any, yet wil I slay euen the best beloued of their body.

17 By God shall call them away, for they haue not bene obedient vnto him, therefore shall they wander among the heathen.

The x. Chapter.

1 Against Israel and his idoles. 14 His destruction for the same.

ISrael is an empty vine, yet hath it brought forth fruite to it selfe, according to the multitude of the fruit thereof hee hath increased the altars, according to the goodness of their land, they haue made them faire images.

2 Their heart is diuided, therefore shall they now bee destroyed, the Lord shall breake downe their altars, he shall destroy their images.

3 For now shall they say, wee haue no King, because we haue not feared the Lord, and what should then a King doe to vs?

4 They haue spoken words, swearing falsly in making a <sup>b</sup> covenant: thus <sup>c</sup> iudgement groweth as wormewood in the furrowes of the felde.

5 They that dwell in Samaria shal feare, because of the calfe of Bethauen, for the people thereof shall mourne ouer it, yea, and the priests also reioyced on it for the glozy thereof, because it is departed from it.

6 It shalbe brought to the Assyrian for a present to the King Iareb: Ephraim shall receiue shame, and Israel shall bee confounded for his owne imaginings.

7 Samaria with his king shal banish away as the fume upon the water.

8 The high places of Auen where Israel both sinne, shalbe destroyed, thistles and thornes shall grow vpon their altars: *then shal they say to the mountaines, Couer vs, and to the hills, fall vpon vs.

9 O Israel, thou hast sinned from the dayes d of Gabaa: there they stood, the battell in Gabaa against the children of iniquitie did not touch them.

10 It is my desire that I should chastise them, and the people shall bee gathered against them, when they shall ioyne themselves together in their two <sup>c</sup> furrowes.

11 And Ephraim is as an heifer vsed to delite in <sup>c</sup> treading out the corne: but I wil passe by her faire necke, I wil make Ephraim to <sup>b</sup> ride: Iuda shal <sup>c</sup> plow, and Iacob shal breahe his clods.

12 Sow to your selues in righteousnesse, and reape the fruits of wel doing, plow by your fresh land: for it is time to seeke the Lord, till he come and raine righteousnesse vpon you.

13 For you haue plowed in godlinesse, you haue reaped iniquitie, you haue eaten the fruit of lies, because thou puttest thy confidence in thine owne wayes, and leanest to the multitude of thy strong men.

14 There shall growe a sedition among thy people, al thy strong cities shall bee layde waste, euen as Salma destroyed Beth Arbel in the day of battell, where the mother with the children were dashed in pieces.

15 Euen so shall Bethel do vnto you, because of your malicious wickednes: in a morning shal the King of Israel be destroyed.

The xj. Chapter.

1 The benefits of the Lord toward Israel. 5 Their ingratitude against him.

When Israel was yong, I loued him, and called my sonne * out of the land of Egypt.

2 They called them, but they went thus from them, they sacrificed vnto Baal, and burned incense to images.

3 I gaue to Ephraim one to lead <sup>b</sup> him, who should beare him in his armes: but they knewe not that I healed them.

4 I led them with cords of a man, euen <sup>c</sup> with bands of loue: and I was to them as he that taketh off the yoke from their lawes, and I layde <sup>c</sup> meat to them.

5 Hee shal no more returne into Egypt, but Assyur <sup>c</sup> shalbe his King, because hee refused to conuert.

6 Therefore shall the sword fall on his cities, and shall consume his branches, and deuoure them, because of their owne counsels.

7 And my people shall be in a doubt for their rebellion against me: for when the prophets called them to the most High, not one yet would giue him his glory.

8 How shall I giue thee by Ephraim? how shal I deliuer thee Israel? * howe shall I make thee as Adams: how shal I see thee as Zebouin: mine heart is turned within me, my repentings are kindled within me.

9 I will not execute the fiercenesse of my wrath, I will not returne to destroy Ephraim: for I am God, and not man, the holy One in the midd of thee, and I wil not enter into the citie.

10 They shall walke after the Lord, hee shall roare like a Lion: when hee shal roare, then the children of the West shal feare.

11 They shall feare as a sparowe out of Egypt, and as a doue out of the land of Asshur, and I will place them in their houses, sayeth the Lord.

12 Ephraim compasseth me about with lies, and the house of Israel with deceite: but Iuda yet ruleth <sup>b</sup> with God, and is faithfull with the Saints.

1 The abomination of Israel, 9 and cause of their destruction.

When Ephraim spake, there was trembling, he was exalted among the Israelites: but hee hath sinned in Baal, and is dead.

2 And now they sinne more and more, and of their siluer they have made them molten images after the imaginations of their owne braines, that is very idoles, and yet all is nothing but the worke of the craftesman, they say one to another, whiles they sacrifice a man, Let them kisse the calves.

3 Therefore they shall bee as the morning cloud, and as the dew that early passeth away, and like as the dust that the whirlewind taketh away from the soore, & as smoke that goeth out of the chimney.

4 * Yet I am the Lord thy God which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, & thou shalt knowe no God but me onely, neither is there any saviour besides me.

5 I did know thee in the wilderness in the land of drought.

6 But when they were well fed, and had plenty, they wared proud, and forgate me.

7 Therefore wil I be onto them as a Lion, and as a Leopard in the wayes to the Assyrians.

8 I will meeete them as a shee beare that is robbed of her whelpes, and I will breake that stubburne heart of theirs, there will I deuoure them like a Lion, yea, the wilde beastes shall teare them.

9 O Israel, thine iniquitie hath destroyed thee: but in me onely is thy helpe.

10 I am: where is thy King now that should helpe thee in all thy cities? yea, and thy Judges of whom thou saydest, * Give mee a King and Princes.

11 I gaue thee a King in my wrath, and in my displeasure I tooke him from thee againe.

12 The wickednesse of Ephraim is bound together, and his sinne lieth hid.

13 Therefore shall sorowes come vpon him as vpon a woman that travaileth: an vndiscreet sorne is he, els would hee not stand still at the time of birth of children.

14 I wil redeeme them from the power of the graue, and deliuer them from death: O death, I wil be thy death: O hell, I wil bee thy sting: yee can I see no comfort.

15 Though hee grewe among his brethren, the East winde euen the winde of the Lord shall come by from the wilderness, and dry by his beine, and his fountaines shall bee dried by: hee shall spoyle the treasure of all pleasant vessels.

16 Samaria shall be made waste, for the is disobedient vnto her God: they shall perish with the sword, their children shall be dashed in peeces, and their women great with childe shall be ript by.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 The destruction of Samaria. 3 Hee exhorteth the Israelites to turne to God, who requireth praise and thanks.

O Israel, returne vnto the Lord thy God, for thou hast fallen through thine owne wickednesse.

2 Take these words with you when ye turne to the Lord, and say vnto him, O forgive vs all our sinnes, receiue vs graciously, and then will wee offer calves of our lips vnto thee.

3 Asshur shall be no more our helper, neither wil we ride vpon horses any more, neither will we say any more to the worke of our hands, Yee are our gods: for in thee the fatherlesse findeth mercie.

4 I will heale their rebellion, I will loue them freely: for mine anger is turnede away from him.

5 I will be vnto Israel as the dew, and hee shall grow as the Lillie, and his root shall breake out as the trees of Libanus.

6 His branches shall spread out abroad, and bee as faire as the Oliue tree, and sweet as Libanus.

7 They that dwell vnder his shadowe, shall returne and grow by as the corne, and flourish as the vine: hee shall haue as good a name as the wine of Libanus.

8 Ephraim shall say, what haue I to do with idoles any more? I haue heard him, and looked vpon him, I am like a greene firre tree, vpon me is thy fruit found.

9 who so is wise, shall vnderstand these things, and he that is right instruct, will regard them: for the wayes of the Lord are righteous, such as hee godly will walke in them: as for the wicked, they shall stumble therein.

The booke of the Prophet Ioel.

The first Chapter.

1 A prophetic against the Iewes. 14 He exhorteth the people to prayer and fasting, for the miserie that was at hand.

TH E worde of the Lord that came to Ioel the sonne of Pethuel.

2 Heare yee this you Elders, and hearken with your eares all you that dwell in this land: was there euer such a thing in your dayes, or in the dayes of your fathers?

3 Of this thing tell your children, and let your children shew it to their children, and their children to their posteritie after ward.

4 That which the caterpillar hath left, the grasshopper hath eaten, and what the grasshopper left, hath the Canker worme eaten, and what the Canker worme left, the Locust hath deuoured.

5 Awake yee drunkards, and weepe, howle yee wine bibbers for lacke of new wine: for it is cleane taken away from your mouth.

6 For a nation is come by vpon my lande, mighty, and without number: his teeth are as the teeth of a Lion, and hee hath the iawes of a great Lion.

7 He hath destroyed my vine, and barked my figge tree, he hath pilled it, and cast it from him, and hath left boughes thereof white.

8 Lament as a virgine girded with sackcloth, for the husband of her youth.

9 The meate offering and drinke offering is cut off from the house of the Lord, the Priests I meane the Lords ministers mourne.

10 The felde is wasted, the land mourneth: for corne is destroyed, the new wine is dried by, the oyle is bitterly taken away.

11 Bee yee ashamed, O yee husbandmen, howle, O yee vine dressers, for the wheate and for the barley: for the harvest of the felde is perished.

12 The vine is dried by, and the figge tree is decayed, the pomegranate tree, and the palme, and the apple tree, euen all the trees of the felde are withered by: for ioy is withered away from the sonnes of men.

13 Sirde your selues, a lament, O ye Priests, howle ye out ye ministers of the Altar, come, and lie all night in sackcloth ye seruants of my God: for the meate and drinke offerings are taken away from the house of your God.

14 Proclaime a fast, call a Congregation, gather the Elders together, with all the inhabitants of the land, vnto the house of your God, and cry vnto the Lord, 15 Alas for this day, for the day of the Lord is at hand, euen as a destruction from the Almighty shal it come.

16 Is not the meate cut off before your eyes, ye a mirth and ioy from the house of our God?

17 The seede is rotten vnder their clods, the garners are destroyed, the barnes are ouerthrowen: for the corne is withered.

18 How cattle mourne, the herds of beasts are in wofull case for lacke of pasture: and the flockes of sheepe are destroyed.

19 Vnto thee, O Lord, will I cry, for fire hath destroyed the fruitfull places of the desert, and the flame hath burnt by all the trees of the felde.

20 The beastes also of the felde cry out vnto thee: for the riuers of water are dried by, and fire hath deuoured by the fruitfull places of the desert.

The ij. Chapter.

1 He prophecieth of the coming & crueltie of their enemies. 13 An exhortation to moue them to conuert. 18 The loue of God toward his people.

RLOW by a trumpet in Sion, and shoute in my holy hill, let all the inhabitants of the earth tremble: for the day of the Lord is come, for it is nigh at hand.

2 A darke and gloomie day, a cloudy and blacke day: as the morning is spied ouer the mountaines, so is this populous & strong people: like it there was none from the beginning, nor shalbe hereafter for euermore.

3 Before him is a deuouring fire, & behinde him a burning flame: the land is as a pleasant garden before him, and behinde him a waste desert, yea and nothing shal escape him.

4 The shew of him is as the shew of horses, and like horsemen, so shal they runne.

5 Like the noyle of charrets vpon the tops of the mountaines they shal skip, like the noyle of a flaming fire deuouring the stubble, and as a strong people prepared to battel.

6 Before his face shall the people tremble, the countenance of all folkes shal waxe blacke.

7 They shal runne like strong men, and clime the walles like men of warre: and euery one shal march on his way, and they shal not linger in their paths.

8 No man shal thrust another, but euery one shal walke in his path: and if they shal fall on the sword, they shal not be wounded.

9 They shal runne to and fro in the cite, they shal run by and downe vpon the wall, they shal clime into the houses, they shal enter in at the windowes like a thief.

10 The earth shal quake before him, the heauens shal tremble, the Sunne & the Moone shalbe darke, and the starres shal wither as their shining.

11 And the Lord shal giue his voice before his hoste, for his campe is exceeding great, for hee is mighty that executeth his Commandement: for the day of the Lord is great and very terrible, and who can abide it?

14 Who knoweth whether the Lord will re- turne and take compassion, and will leaue behinde him a blessing, euen meat offering & drinke offering vnto the Lord your God?

15 Blow by a trumpet in Sion, proclaime a fast, call an assembly, sanctifie the congrega- tion.

16 Gather the people, gather the elders, as- semble the children and sucking babes: let the bridegroome come forth of his chamber, and the bride out of her closet.

17 Let the priests the Lords ministers weepe betwixt the porch and the altar, and let them say, Spare thy people, O Lorde, and giue not ouer thine heritage to reproch, that the heathen should rule ouer them: wherefore should they say amongst the heathen, where is their God?

18 And then the Lord will be ielous ouer his land, and will spare his people.

19 Pea, the Lord wil answere, and say to his people, Behold, I will send you corne, and wine and oyle, and will satisfie you therewith, and will not giue you ouer any moze to be a reproch among the heathen.

20 And I will remooue farre off from you the Northern armie, and I will drie him into a land barren and desolate, with his face towards the East sea, and his hinder parts towards the uttermost sea: and his sinch shall arise, and his corruption shall ascend, because he hath exalted himselfe to doe this.

21 Feare not, O thou lande, be glad and re- ioyce: for the Lord will doe great things.

22 Be not afraid ye beasts of the field, for the fruitfull places of the desert are Greene: for the tree beareth her fruit, the figge tree and the vine yeeld their strength.

23 Be glad then, ye children of Sion, and re- ioyce in the Lord your God: for he hath giuen you moderate raine, and hee will send downe for you the raine, euen the first raine, and the lat- ter raine, and in the first moneth.

24 And the barnes shall be filled with corne, and the presses shall ouerflowe with wine and oyle.

25 And I will restore to you the yeres which the Grasshopper, the Cankerworme, the Locust, and the Caterpillar haue deuoured, my great armie which I sent amongst you.

26 And you shall eate in plentie, and be satis- fied, and shall praise the name of the Lorde your God, which hath dealt wonderously with you, and my people shall not be ashamed any moze.

27 And you shall know that I am in the mid- dle of Israel, and that I am the Lord your God, and none but I: and my people shall neuer be ashamed.

28 And it shall come to passe after this, I will powze out my spirit vpon all flesh, and your sonnes and your daughters shall prophete, your old men shall dreame dreames, your young men shall see visions.

29 Also in those dayes vpon the seruants, and vpon the handmaidens will I powze out my spirit:

30 And I will shewe woonders in heauen and in earth, blood, and fire, and pillars of smoke.

31 The Sunne shall be turned into darke- nesse, and the Moone into blood, before that great and terrible day of the Lord come.

32 But whosoever shall call on the Name of the Lord shall be saued: for there shall be deliue- rance in mount Sion, and in Hierusalem, as the Lord hath promised, and also in the remnant towhome the Lord shall call.

The iij. Chapter,

Of the iudgement of God against the enemies of his people.

O beholde, in those dayes and in that time when I shall bring a- gaine the captiuitie of Iuda and Hierusalem,

I will also gather all the Gentiles, and cause them to come into the bal- ley of Jehosaphat, and I will plead with them there for my people and heritage Israel, which they haue scattered amongst the nations, and haue parted my land.

3 And they haue cast lots for my people, and changed the boy for an harlot, and sold the girle for wine, that they might drinke.

4 And what haue ye to do with me, O Tyre and Sidon, and all the coast of Palestine? will yee render mee recompense? and if you recom- pense mee, I shall swiftly and speedily returne your recompense vpon your owne heads.

5 For ye haue taken my siluer and my gold, my pleasant and precious things, and haue cari- ed them into your temples.

6 You haue solde also the children of Iuda, and the children of Hierusalem to the Grecians, that you might send them farre from their owne countrey.

7 Behold, I will raise them out of that place whither you haue solde them, and will returne your recompense vpon your owne heads.

8 And I will sell your sonnes and your daughters into the hands of the children of Iu- da, and they shall sell them vnto the Sabcans, to a nation that dwelleth farre off: for the Lord hath spoken it.

9 Publish this thing among the Gentiles, proclaime warre, wake by the mightie men, let all the men of warre drawe neere, and come by.

10 Breake your plough shares into swords, and your sithes into speares, let the weakie say, I am strong.

11 Assemble your selues, and come all you heathen, and gather your selues together round about, there shall the Lord call downe the mightie men.

12 Let the heathen arise, and come by to the balley of Jehosaphat: for there will I sit to iudge all nations round about.

13 Put in your sithes, for the haruest is ripe, come ye and descend, for the wine presse is full, yea the presses ouerflow: for their wicked- nesse is multiplied.

14 O people, people, come into the balley of snall iudgement: for the day of the Lord is at hand in the balley of snall iudgement.

c. That is,
lacke of bread and meat.

8 So two or three cities wandred vnto one city to drinke water, but they were not satisfied: yet haue yee not returned vnto mee, sayeth the Lord.

9 I haue smitten you with blasting and mildew, your great gardens, & your vineyards, and your figge trees, and your oliue trees did the palmer worme deuoure: yet haue ye not returned vnto mee, sayth the Lord.

10 Pestilence haue I sent among you after the manner of Egypt: your young men haue I slaine with the sword, & haue taken away your horses, and I haue made the stinke of your tents to come euen by to your nostrils: yet haue yee not returned vnto mee, sayth the Lord.

11 I haue ouerthrowen you, as God ouerthrew the Sodoma and Gomorha: and ye were as a firebrande pluckt out of the burning: yet haue yee not returned vnto mee, sayeth the Lord.

12 Therefore thus will I doe vnto thee, O Israel, and because I will doe this vnto thee, prepare to meete thy God, O Israel.

13 For loe, he that smeteth the mountaines, and createth the wind, and declareth vnto man what is his thought, which maketh the morning darke, and walketh vpon the high places of the earth, the Lord God of hostes is his Name.

The v. Chapter.

1 The Prophet lamenteth the captiuitie of Sion, 4 Hee calleth to repentance. 8 Hee describeth the power of God.

Hear ye this word which I lift vp vpon you, euen a lamentation of the house of Israel.

2 The virgine Israel is fallen, and shall no more rise, hee is left vpon her land, and there is none to raise her vp.

3 For thus saith the Lord God, The citie which went out by a thousand, shall leaue an hundred, and that which went forth by an hundred, shall leaue ten to the house of Israel.

4 For thus saith the Lord God vnto the house of Israel, Seeke ye me, and ye shall liue.

5 But seeke not Bethel, nor enter into Gilgal, and goe not to Beer-saba: for Gilgal shall goe into captiuitie, and Bethel shall come to nought.

6 Seeke the Lord, and yee shall liue: leaue hee breake out like fire in the house of Joseph, and deuoure it, and there be none to quench it in Bethel.

7 They turne iudgement to wormewood, and forsake righteousnesse in the earth.

8 Hee maketh the seven starres and Orion, and hee turneth the shadowe of death into the morning, and he maketh the day darke as night: hee calleth the waters of the Sea, and pouereth them out vpon the open earth, the Lord is his Name.

9 Hee strengtheneth the destroyer against the mighty, and the destroyer shall come against the fortresse.

10 They hate him that rebuketh in the gate, and they abhorre him that speaketh boldly.

11 For as much then as your treading is vpon the poore, and yee take from him burdens of wheat: ye haue built houses of hewed stone, but ye shall not dwell in them: yee haue planted pleasant vineyards, but ye shall not drinke wine of them.

12 For I knowe your manifold transgressions, and your mightie sinnes: they afflict the iust, they take rewardes, and they oppresse the poore in the gate.

13 Therefore the wise shall keepe silence in that time: for it is an euill time.

14 Seeke good, and not euill, that yee may liue: and so the Lord God of hostes shall be with you, as you haue spoken.

15 Hate the euill, and loue the good, and establish iudgement in the gate: it may be, that the Lord God of hostes will be mercifull vnto the remnant of Joseph.

16 Therefore the Lord God of hostes, the Lord saith thus, Mourning shall be in all streets, and they shall say in all the high wayes, Alas, alas: and they shall call the husbandman to lamentation, and such as can mourne, to mourning.

17 And in all the vines shall be lamentation: for I will passe thow the, saith the Lord.

18 Doe vnto you that desire the day of the Lord, what haue ye to do with it: the day of the Lord is darkenesse, and not light.

19 As if a man did flee from a Lyon, and a Beare meete him, and went into the house, and leaned his hande vnto the wall, and a serpent bite him:

20 Shall not the day of the Lord be darkenesse, and not light: euen darkenesse, and no light in it?

21 I hate, I abhorre your feast dayes, and I will not smell in your solemne assemblies.

22 Though yee offer mee whole burnt offerings, and mea: e offerings, I will not accept them, neither will I regard the peace offering of your fat beasts.

23 Take thou away from me the multitude of thy songs, for I will not heare the melody of thy viols.

24 And let iudgement run downe as water, and righteousnesse as a mightie riuer.

25 Haue ye offered vnto me sacrifices and offerings in the wilderness forty yeres, O house of Israel?

26 But yee haue borne Siccuth your king, and Chum your images, and the starre of your gods, which ye made to your selues.

27 Therefore will I cause you to goe into captiuitie beyond Damascus, sayeth the Lord, whose name is the God of hostes.

The vj. Chapter.

1 Hee prophecieth against the princes of Israel, liuing in pleasures.

Ve to them that are at ease in Sion, and trust in the mountaine of Samaria, which were famous at the beginning of the nations, and the house of Israel came to them.

2 Goe you vnto Calneh, and see, and from thence goe you to Hamath the great, then goe downe to Gath of the Philistines: be they better then these kingdomes? or the border of their land greater then your border?

approch to the seate of iniquitie.

4 They lie vpon beds of Iuorie, and stretch themselves vpon their couches, and eat the lambes out of the flocke, and the calves out of the stall.

5 They sing to the sound of the viall, and inuent to themselves instruments of musicke, like Dauid.

6 They drinke wine in bowles, and anoint themselves with these ointments: but no man is sozie for the affliction of Ioseph.

7 Therefore now shall they go captiue with the first that goe captiue, and the sorow of them that stretched themselves is at hand.

8 The Lord God hath sworne by himselfe, sayth the Lord God of hostes, I abhorre the excellencie of Jacob, and hate his palaces, therefore will I deliuer by the citie, with all that is therein.

9 And if there remaine ten men in one house, they shall die.

10 And his vnckle shall take him by, and burne him, to carie out the bones out of the house, and shall say to him that is by the sides of the house, Is there yet any with thee? And hee shall say, None. Then shall hee say, Holde thy tongue: for we may not remember the name of the Lord.

11 For behold, the Lord commandeth, and he will smite the great house with breaches, and the little houses with clefts.

12 Shall horses runne vpon the rocke? or will one plow there with oren? for ye haue turned iudgement into gall, and the fruit of righteousness into wormewood.

13 See reioice in a thing of nought, see say, Haue not wee gotten vs hornes by our owne strength?

14 But behold, I will rayse vp against you a nation, O house of Israel, sayeth the Lord God of hostes, and they shall afflict you from the entering of Hemath, vnto the riuer of the wilderness.

The vij. Chapter.

1 God sheweth certaine visions, whereby hee signifieth the destruction of the people of Israel.

Thus hath the Lorde God shewed vnto me, and behold, hee scourged Grasshoppers in the beginning of the shooting vp of the later growth, and loe, it was in the later growth, after the kings mowing.

2 And when they had made an end of eating the grasse of the land, then I sayd, O Lord God, spare, I beseech thee: who shall raise vp Jacob? for he is small.

3 So the Lord repented for this: It shall not be, sayth the Lord.

4 Thus also hath the Lord God shewed vnto me, and behold, the Lord God called to iudgement by fire, and it deuoured the great deep, and did eate by a part.

5 Then sayd I, O Lord God, cease I beseech thee: who shall raise vp Jacob? for hee is smal.

6 So the Lord repented for this: This also shall not be, sayth the Lord God.

7 Thus againe he shewed mee, and behold, the Lord stood vpon a wall made by him, with a line in his hand.

8 And the Lord sayd vnto me, Amos, what seest thou? And I sayd, A line. Then sayd the Lord, Behold, I will set a line in the middell of my people Israel, and will passe by them no more.

9 And the high places of Isahac shall be desolate, and the temples of Israel shall be destroyed, and I will rise against the house of Ieroboam with the sword.

10 Then Amazia the Priest of Bethel sent to Ieroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the middell of the house of Israel: the land is not able to beare all his words.

11 For thus Amos sayth, Ieroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shall be led away captiue out of their owne land.

12 Also Amazia sayde to Amos, O thou the Seer, goe, see thou away into the land of Iuda, and there eate thy bread, and prophesie there.

13 But prophesie no more at Bethel: for it is the kings Chappel, and it is the kings Court.

14 Then answered Amos, and sayd vnto Amazia, I was no Prophet, neither was I a Prophetes sonne: but I was an heardman, and a gatherer of wild figges.

15 And the Lord tooke me as I followed the flocke, and the Lord sayd vnto me, Goe, prophesie vnto my people Israel.

16 Now therefore heare thou the word of the Lord: Thou sayest, Prophesie not against Israel, and speake nothing against the house of Isahac.

17 Therefore thus sayth the Lord, Thy wife shall be an harlot in the citie, and thy sonnes and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be diuided by line, and thou shalt die in a polluted land, and Israel shall surely goe into captiuitie forth of his land.

The viij. Chapter.

By a vision of a Basket of Sommer fruit, the end of the kingdome of Israel is shewed.

Thus hath the Lord God shewed vnto me: and behold, a Basket of Sommer fruit.

2 And he sayd, Amos, what seest thou? And I sayd, A Basket of Sommer fruit. Then said the Lord vnto me, The ende is come vpon my people of Israel, I will passe by them no more.

3 And the songs of the temple shall be howlings in that day, saith the Lord God: many dead bodies shall be in euery place, they shall cast them forth with silence.

4 Heare this, O see that swallowe by the poore, that ye may make the needie of the land to faile,

5 Saying, when will the new moneth be gone, that we may sell come? and the Sabbath, that we may set forth and heate, and make the Ephah small, and the sicle great, and falsifie the weights by deceite?

10 * And I will turne your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation: and I will bring sackcloth upon all loines, and baldnes upon every head, and I will make it as the mourning of an onely sonne, and the end thereof as a bitter day.

11 Behold, the dayes come, sayth the Lord God, that I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor thirst for water, but of hearing the word of the Lord.

12 And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the North euen vnto the East, shall they run to and fro, to seeke the word of the Lord, and shall not find it.

13 In that day shall the faire virgins, and the young men perish for thirst.

1 Threatnings against the Temple. 5 The subuersion of the people.

Saw the Lord standing upon the altar, and hee sayd, Smite the lintell of the doore, that the postes may shake, and cut them in pieces, euen the heads of them all, and I will slay the last of them with the sword: he that fleeth of them, shall not flee away, and he that escapeth of them, shall not be deliuered.

2 * Though they digge into hell, thence shall my hand take them, though they climbe vnto heauen, thence will I bring them downe.

3 And though they hide themselves in the top of Carmel, I will search and take them out thence: and though they be hid from my sight in the bottome of the sea, thence will I commaund the serpent, and he shall bite them.

4 And though they goe into captiuitie before their enemies, thence will I commaund the sword, and it shall slay them, and I will set mine eyes upon them for euill, and not for good.

5 And the Lord God of hostes shall touch the land, and it shall melt away: and all that dwell therein shall mourne, and it shall rise by whole like a flood, and shall be drowned as by the flood of Egypt.

6 Hee buildeth his spheres in the heauen, and hath layd the foundation of his globe of elements on the earth: * hee calleth the waters of the sea, and powreth them out upon the open earth, the Lord is his name.

7 Are ye not as the Ethiopians vnto me, O children of Israel, saith the Lord: haue not I brought you from the land of Egypt: and the Philistines from Cappadocia, and the Syrians from Cyrene?

8 Behold, the eyes of the Lord God are upon the sinful kingdome, and I will destroy it cleane out of the earth: neuertheless, I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob, saith the Lord.

9 For loe, I will commaund, and I will lift the house of Israel among all nations, like as come is lifted in a sieue: yet shall not the least stone fall upon the earth.

10 But all the sinners of my people shall die by the sword, which say, The euil shall not come, nor hasten for vs.

11 * In that day will I raise by the tabernacle of David that is fallen downe, and close by the breaches thereof, and I will raise by his ruines, and I will build it as in the dayes of old:

13 Behold, the dayes come, sayth the Lord, that the plowman shall touch the mowe, and the treader of grapes him that soweth seede, and the mountaines shall drop sweete wine, and all the hills shall melt.

14 And I will bring againe the captiuitie of my people Israel, and they shall build the walle cities, and inhabite them: and they shall plant vineyards, and drinke the wine thereof, they shall also make gardens, and cate the fruits of them.

15 And I will plant them upon their land, and they shall no more be pulled by againe out of their land which I haue giuen them, sayth the Lord thy God.

18 And the house of Jacob shal bee a fire, and the house of Ioseph a flame, and the house of Esau as stubble, and they shal kinde in them, and deuoure them, and there shalbe no remnant of the house of Esau, for the Lord hath spoken it.

19 And they shal possesse the Southside of the mount of Esau, and the plain of the Philistines, and they shal possesse the fields of Ephraim, and the fields of Samaria, and Benjamin shall haue Gilcad.

20 And the captiuitie of his host of the children of Israel, which were among the Chanaanites, shall possesse vnto Sarcphath, and the captiuitie of Iherusalem, which is in Sepharad, shall possesse the cities of the South.

The booke of the Prophet Jonas.

The first Chapter.

1 Jonas fledde when hee was sent to preach. 4 A tempest ariseth, and hee is cast into the sea for his disobedience.

The worde of the Lord came vnto Jonas the sonne of Amittai, saying,

2 Arise, and goe to Ninue the great citie, and cry against it: for their wickednes is come vpon me.

3 And Jonas rose by to flee into Charlis from the presence of the Lord, and went downe to Toppa and found a ship going to Charlis: so he payd his fare, and went downe into it, that hee might goe with them vnto Charlis from the presence of the Lord.

4 But the Lord sent out out a great winde into the sea, and ther was a mighty tempest in the sea, so that the shippe was in danger of splitting in sunder.

5 Then the mariners were afraid, and cried every man vnto his god, and cast the wares that were in the shippe into the sea, to lighten it of them: but Jonas was gone downe into the sides of the shippe, and hee lay downe sleeping.

6 And the shipmaster came vnto him, and sayd, what meanest thou sleeper? Up, and call vpon thy God, if so be that that God wil shine vnto vs, that we perish not.

7 And they sayd every one vnto his felowe, Come, let vs cast lots, that wee may knowe for whose cause this euill is on vs. And they cast lots: and the lot fell on Jonas.

8 Then sayd they vnto him, Tell vs, for whose cause is this euill come vpon vs? what is thine occupation? whence comest thou? what countrey man art thou? and of what nation?

9 And he answered them, I am an Hebrew, and I feare the Lord God of heauen, which hath made the sea, and the drie land.

10 Then were the men exceedingly afraid, and sayd vnto him, why hast thou done this? (for the men knewe that hee fledde from the 11 And they said vnto him, what shall we do vnto thee, that the sea may be calme vnto vs: for the sea wrought, and was troublous.

12 And he said vnto them, Take me, and cast me into the sea, and the sea shall be calme vnto you: for I know that for my sake this great tempest is vpon you.

13 Neuertheless, the men assayed with rowing to bring the ship to land, but they could not, because the sea wrought, and was troublous against them.

14 Wherefore they cryed vnto the Lord, and said, We beseech thee, O Lord, we beseech thee, let vs not perish for this mans life, and lay not to our charge innocent blood: for thou, O Lord, hast done as it pleased thee.

15 So they tooke by Jonas, and cast him into the sea, and the sea left raging.

16 And the men feared the Lord exceedingly, and offered a sacrifice vnto the Lord, and made bowes.

17 And the Lord prepared a great fish to swallow by Jonas: and Jonas was in the belly of the fish thre dayes and thre nightes.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Jonas is in the fishes belly. 2 His prayer. 10 He is deliuered.

AND Jonas prayed vnto the Lord his God out of the fishes belly,

2 And said, In affliction I cryed vnto the Lord, & he heard me: out of the belly of hell cryed I, and thou heardest my voyce.

3 Thou hadst call me downe into the deepe, into the midst of the sea, and the floods compassed me about: all thy billowes and waues passed ouer me.

4 And I saide, * I am cast away out of thy sight, yet will I looke againe toward thine holy temple.

5 * The waters compassed me euen vnto the soule, the depth closed me on euery side, and the weedes were wapt about my head.

6 I went downe to the bottom of the mountaines, the earth with her barres was about me for euer: yet hast thou brought by my life from corruption, O Lord my God.

7 When my soule fainted within me, I remembered the Lord, and my prayer came in vnto thee into thy holy temple.

8 They that holde vpon lying banitic, for sake his mercie.

10 And the Lord spake vnto the fish, and it cast out Jonas vpon the dry land.

The iij. Chapter.

2 Jonas is sent againe to Niniue. 3 The repentance of the king of Niniue.

AND the worde of the Lord came vnto Jonas the second time, saying,

2 Arise, and goe to Niniue that great cite, and preach against it, the preaching which I speake vnto thee.

3 So Jonas arose and went to Niniue according to the word of the Lord: (Niniue was a great cite, and excellent, of thre dayes iourney.)

4 And Jonas began to enter into the cite a dayes iourney, and he cryed, and said, Yet fourtie dayes, and Niniue shall be destroyed.

5 And the men of Niniue beleued God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them, to the least of them.

6 And word came vnto the king of Niniue: which arose from his throne, & put off his robe, and covered himselfe with sackcloth, and fate downe in ashes.

7 And he caused a cryer to cry, and say thorow the cite by the counsell of the king and his nobles, Let neither man nor beast, bulloche, nor sheepe take ought at all, neither feede nor drinke water.

8 And let both man and beast put on sackcloth, and cry mightily vnto God: yea let euery man turne from his euill way, and from the wickednesse that is in his hands.

9 Who can tell whether God will turne and be moued with repentance, and turne from his fierce wpath, that we perish not?

10 And God saw their workes that they turned from their euill wayes, and he repented of the euill that he said he would doe vnto them, and did it not.

The iij. Chapter.

The great goodnesse of God toward his creatures.

AND this displeased Jonas greatly, and he was angry within himselfe.

2 And he prayed vnto the Lord, and said, I pray thee, O Lord, was not this my saying when I was yet in my countrey: therefore I halted to flee vnto Chariis: * for I knew that thou art a gracious God, and mercifull, long suffering, and of great kindnesse, and repented thee of euill.

3 And now, O Lord, take, I beseech thee, my life from me: for it is better for me to die then to liue.

4 Then sayd the Lord, Doest thou well to be angry?

5 And Jonas went out of the cite, and fate him downe on the East side thereof, and there made him a boothie, and fate vnder it in the shadow, till he might see what should be done in the cite.

6 And the Lord God prepared a gourd, and made it spring by ouer Jonas, that it might be a shadowe ouer his head, to deliuer him from his grieue: So Jonas was exceedingly glad of the gourd.

7 But God prepared a worme, when the morning rose the next day, which smote the gourd, that it withered.

8 And when the sunne rose, God prepared a seruent East winde, and the sunne beat vpon the head of Jonas that he fainted, and wished vnto his soule that he might die, and said, It is better for me to die, then to liue.

9 And the Lord sayde vnto Jonas, Doest thou well to be so angry within thy selfe for the gourd? And he said, I doe well to be angry, euen vnto death.

10 Then sayde the Lord, Thou hast had

The booke of the Prophet Micheas.

The first Chapter.

Of the destruction of Samaria, because of their idolatrie.

THE word of the Lord came vnto Micheas the Moza- thite, in the daies of Iorham, Abas, and Ezechias, kings of Iuda, which he saw concerning Samaria, and Hieru- salem.

2 * Heare all yee people, marke this well, O earth, and all that therein is. yea, let the Lord God himselfe be witnesse against you, euen the Lord from his holy temple.

3 * For behold, the Lord shall come out of his holy place, and come downe, and treade vpon the high things of the earth.

4 The mountaines shall melt vnder him, and the halleys shall cleaue afunder, like as ware meltech before the fire, and as the waters runne downeward.

5 And all this shall be for the wickednesse of Jacob, and the sinnes of the house of Israel: but what is the wickednesse of Jacob? is not Samaria? which are the high places of Iuda: is not Hierusalem?

6 Therefore I will make Samaria an heape of the field meete for the planting of a vineyard: her stones will I tumble downe into the halley, and discouer her foundations.

7 All her images shall be broken downe, and all her garments shall be burnt in the fire, yea, all her idoles will I destroy: for they are gathered out of the hire of an harlot, and into an harlots hire shall they be turned againe.

8 Wherefore I will mourne and make lamentation, bare and naked will I goe: I will mourne like the Dragons, and take sorowe as the Striches.

9 For their wound is past remedie, it is come into Iuda, and hath touched the gate of my people at Hierusalem alreadie.

10 Declare it not at Gath, neither weepe ye: for the house of Aphyza roule thy selfe in the dust.

11 Thou that dwellest in Saphir get thee hence naked with thame: shee that dwelleth at Saanan, shall not come forth in the mourning of Bethzele: the enimie shall receiue of you for his standing.

12 For the inhabitants of Maroth waited for good, but the plague shall come from the Lord, euen vnto the gates of Hierusalem.

13 O thou inhabitant of Lachis, binde the charet to the swiftest beast, she is the beginning of the sinne of the daughter of Sion: for the transgressions of Israel were found in thee.

14 Therefore shalt thou bring presents to Mozeseth Gath: the houses of Achizib shall be as a lie to the kings of Israel.

15 And as for thee, O thou that dwellest at Marefa, I wil bring a possessor vpon thee, he shall come to Adullam, the glory of Israel.

16 Make thee balde, and shawe thee, because of thy tender children: make thee cleane bald as an Eagle, for they shall be caried away captiue from thee.

The ij. Chapter.

Threatnings against the sinfull people. 6 They would teach the Prophets to preach.

WE vnto them that imagine iniquitie, and worke wickednesse vpon their beds: when the morning is light they practise it, because their hand hath power.

2 And they couet fields, and take them by violence, and houses, & take them away: so they oppresse a man and his house, euen man and his heritage.

3 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde, against this household haue I deuised a plague, wherout ye shall not plucke your neckes: yee shall no more goe so proudly, for it will be a perillous time.

4 In that day shall this parable be used, and a mourning shall be made ouer you on this manner: we be utterly desolate, the portion of my people is changed: how will he part vnto the land that he hath taken from vs?

5 Therefore there shall bee no man to deuide thee thy portion in the congregation of the Lord.

6 Yee shall not prophetic say they to them that prophetic: they shall not prophetic to them, neither shall they take shame.

7 O thou that art named the house of Jacob, is the spirit of the Lord shortned? are these his wordes? are not my wordes good vnto him that walketh vp rightly?

8 But he that was yesterday my people, is risen vpon the other side as against an enimie: they spoile the beautiful garment from them that passe by peaceably, as though they returned from the warre.

11 If a man walke in the spirit, and would lie falsly, saying, I wil prophetic to thee of wine and strong drinke: that were a Prophet for this people.

12 I will surely gather thee wholly, O Jacob, I will surely gather the remnant of Israel. I will put them together as the sheepe of Bozra, as the stocke in the middelt of their folde, they shall make great noise by reason of the multitude of men.

13 The breaker shall come by before them, they shall breake out, and passe by the gate, & goe out by it: and their king shall goe before them, and the Lord shall be vpon their heads.

The iij. Chapter.

Against the tyrannie of princes and prophets.

And I said, Heare I pray you, O heads of Jacob, and ye princes of the house of Israel, should not ye know iudgement?

2 But they hate the good, & loue the euill, they plucke off their skins from them, and their flesh from their bones.

3 And they eat also the flesh of my people, and flay off their skin from them: and they break their bones, and chop them in pieces as for the pot, and as flesh within the cauldron.

4 Then shall they cry vnto the Lord, but he will not heare them: he will euen hide his face from them at that time, because they haue done wickedly in their workes.

5 Thus saith the Lord concerning the prophets that deceiue my people, and bite them with their teeth, and cry peace: but if a man put not into their mouthes, they prepare warre against him.

6 Therefore night shall be vnto you for a vision, and darkenesse shall be vnto you for a diuination: and the sunne shall goe downe ouer the Prophets, and the day shall be darke ouer them.

7 Then shall the seers be ashamed, and the soothsayers confounded: yea, they shall all couer their lips, for they haue no answer of God.

8 Yet notwithstanding, I am full of power by the spirit of the Lord, and of iudgement, and of strength, to declare vnto Jacob his transgression, and to Israel his sinne.

9 Heare this, I pray you, yee heads of the house of Jacob, and princes of the house of Israel: they abhorre iudgement, and peruert all equitie.

10 They build by Sion with blood, and Hierusalem with iniquitie.

11 (The heads thereof iudge for rewardes, and the Priestes thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof prophetic for money: yet will they leane vpon the Lord, and say, Is not the Lord among vs? no euill can come by on vs.)

12 Therefore shall Sion for your sake bee plowed as a field, and Hierusalem shall bee an heape, and the mountaine of the house as the high places of the forest.

The iiij. Chapter.

The calling of the Gentils, & conuersion of the Iewes.

But in the latter daies it wil come to passe, that the hill of the Lords house shall be prepared in the top of the mountaines, and shall be set by higher then any mountaines of Iuda, and people shall presse vnto it.

2 Yea, the multitude of the Gentiles shall haue them thither, saying, Come, let vs goe vp to the hill of the Lord, and to the house of the God of Jacob, and he shall teach vs his wayes, and we will walke in his pathes, for the Lawe shall come out of Sion, and the worde of God from Hierusalem.

3 And he shall iudge many people, and rebuke mighty nations of farre countreys: so that of their swordes they shall make plowshares, and lances of their speares: one people shall not lift up a sword against another, yea they shall no more learne to fight.

4 But every man shall sit vnder his vineyard, and vnder his figge tree, and no man shall make them afraid: for the mouth of the Lord of hostes hath spoken it.

5 Therefore all people wil walke every man in the name of his God: and we will walke in the name of our Lord God for ever and ever.

6 At the same time, saith the Lord, will I gather by the lame and the out cast, and such as I haue chastened.

7 And will giue a remnant vnto the lame, and make of the outcast a mightie people: and the Lord himselfe shall be their king vpon the mount Sion, from this time forth for evermore.

8 And vnto thee, O thou towne of the flocke, thou strong holde of the daughter Sion, vnto thee shall it come, euen the lordship and kingdom to the daughter Hierusalem.

9 Why then doest thou cry and lament? is there no king in thee? are thy counsellors perished, that thou art so pained as a woman in her trauaile?

10 And now, O thou daughter Sion, sorrow and lament as a woman in her trauaile: for now must thou get thee out of the citie, and dwell vpon the plaine field: yea, vnto Babylon shalt thou goe, but there shalt thou be deliuered, and there the Lord shall redeme thee from the hande of thine enemies.

11 Now also are there many people gathered together against thee, saying, Sion shall be condemned, and our eye shall looke vpon Sion.

12 But they knowe not the thoughtes of the Lord, they vnderstand not his counsell: for he shall gather them together as the sheaues in the barn.

13 Therefore get thee vp, O thou daughter Sion, and thresh out the corne, for I will make thy horne iron, and thy bones braasse, that thou maiest break in pieces many people: their goods shalt thou consecrate vnto the Lord, and their substance vnto the ruler of the whole world.

3 Therefore will he giue them by for a season, vntill the time that thee which shall beare, hath borne: then shall the remnant of his brethren be conuerted vnto the children of Israel.

4 He shall stande fast, and giue food in the strength of the Lord, and in the maiestie of the Name of the Lord his God: and when they be conuerted, he shall be magnified vnto the farthest parts of the world.

5 And he shall be our peace: when the Assyrians shall come into our land, when he shall tread in our palaces, then shall we raise against him seven shepherds, and eight principall men.

6 These shall subdue the land of Assur with the sword, and the land of Minrod with their naked weapons: thus shall he deliuer vs from the Assyrian when he cometh within our lande, and letteth his foote within our borders.

7 And the remnant of Jacob shall be among the multitude of people as the deaw of the Lord, and as the drops vpon the grasse, that tarieth for no man, and waiteth on no body.

8 Yea, the residue of Jacob shall be among the Gentiles, and the multitude of people, as the Lion among the beasts of the wood, and as the Lions whelp among the flockes of sheepe, which when he goeth through, treadeth downe, teareth in pieces, and there is no man that can deliuer.

9 Thine hand shall be lift vp vpon thine enemies, and all thine aduersaries shall perish.

10 And it shall come to passe in that day, saith the Lord, that I will take thine horses from thee, and destroy thy chariots.

11 I will breake downe the cities of thy land, and ouerthrow all thy strong holdes.

12 All witchcraftes will I roote out of thine hand, there shall no moe soothsayings be within thee.

13 Thine idoles and thine images will I destroy out of thee, so that thou shalt no moze bow thy selfe vnto the workes of thine owne hands.

14 Thy groues wil I plucke by by the roots, and breake downe thy cities.

15 And I will execute a vengeance in my wrath, and indignation vpon the heathen, such as they haue not heard.

The vj. Chapter.

1 An exhortation to heare the iudgement against Israel being vnkind. 8 What maner of sacrifices do please God.

Hearken yee now what the Lorde saith, Arise thou and contend with the mountaines, and let the hilles heare thy voyce.

2 Hear, O ye mountaines, the Lords quarrell, and mightie foundations of the earth: for the Lord hath a quarrell against his people, and will pleade with Israel.

3 O my people, what haue I done vnto thee? or wherein haue I grieved thee? giue me answere.

4 I haue brought thee out of the lande of Egypt, and deliuered thee out of the house of bondage, and I made Moyses, Aaton, and Miriam to leade thee.

5 Remember, O my people, what Balac the king of Moab hath deuised against thee, and what answere that Balaam the sonne of Beor gaue him, from Setchin vnto Galgal, that he way know the righteousnesse of the Lord.

6 Where with shall I come before the Lord, and bow my selfe to the high God? What I come before him with burnt offrings, and with calves of a yeere olde?

7 Hath the Lord a pleasure in many thousands of rams, or innumerable streames of oyle? shall I giue my first borne for mine offences, and the fruit of my body for the sinne of my soule?

8 He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good, & what the Lord requireth of thee, namely, to doe iustly, to loue mercie, and to humble thy selfe to walke with thy God.

9 The Lordes voyce cryeth vnto the citie, and the man that shall be saued considereth thy Name: hearken what is your rod, and heare him that warneth you.

10 Are not yet the treasures of wickednes in the house of the wicked, and the scant measure, which is abominable?

11 Should I iustifie the false ballances, and the bagge of deceitfull weights?

12 For the rich men thereof are full of crueltie, and the inhabitants thereof haue spoken lies, and haue deceitfull tongues in their mouthes.

13 Therefore I will take in hand to punish thee, and to make thee desolate because of thy finnes.

14 Thou shalt eate, and not haue ynough, yea, thou shalt bring thy selfe down in the mid of thee, thou shalt see, but not escape, and those that thou wouldest saue, will I deliuer to the sword.

15 Thou shalt sowe, but not reape, thou shalt presse out olives, but oyle shalt thou not haue, to anoynt thy selfe with oyle: thou shalt tread out sweete Must, but thou shalt drinke no wine.

16 Ye keepe the ordinances of Amri, and all the customes of the house of Ahab, ye walke in their countaries: therfore wil I make thee wast, and cause thy inhabitors to be killed at, and ye shall beare the reproch of my people.

The vij. Chapter.

1 A complaint of the litle number of the righteous. 5 Against the truth ought we not to hold with our greatest friends. 14 The prosperitie of the Church.

Woe is me, I am become as the Sommer gatherings, and as the grapes of the vintage: there are no moe grapes to eate, yet would I faine with al my heart haue of the best frutt.

2 There is not a godly man vpon earth, there is not one righteous among men, they all lie in waite for blood, and euery man hunteth his neighbour as with a net.

3 To make good the euill of their hands, the prince and the iudge askest a reward, therfore the great man speaketh out of the corruption of his soule, and so they wrappe it by.

4 The best of them is as a bzier, the most righteous of them is sharper then a thorne hedge: the day of thy watchmen and of thy visitation cometh: then shall be their confusion.

5 Let no man beleue his friend, nor put his confidence in his brother: keepe the doore of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosome.

6 For the sonne dishonoureth his father, the daughter riseth against her mother, the daughter in law against her mother in law: * and a mans foes are euen they of his owne household.

7 Neuertheless, I will looke by vnto the Lord, I will patiently abide God my Saviour: my God shall heare me.

8 Thou enemye of mine, reioyce not at my fall, for I shall rise againe: and though I sit in darkenesse, yet the Lord is my light.

9 I will heare the wrath of the Lord, for I haue offended him, till he sit in iudgement vpon my cause, and see that I haue right: then will he bring me forth to the light, and I shall see his righteousness.

10 She that is mine enemye, shal looke vpon it, and be confounded, which now saith, where is the Lord thy God: mine eyes shall behold her when she shall be troden downe as the mire in the streets.

11 This is the day that thy walls shall be built, this day shal driue farre a way the decree.

12 And at that time shall they come vnto thee from Assur, from the strong cities, and from the strong holdes, euen vnto the riuer: from the one sea to the other, and from mountaine to mountaine.

13 Notwithstanding, the land must be wasted, because of them that dwell therein, and for the fruites of their owne imaginations.

14 Therefore seeke thy people with thy rod, the flocke of thine heritage (which dwelt desolate in the wood) let them seeke vpon the mount of Carmel in Basan, and Silead, as aforetime.

15 Marvellous things will I shewe thee, like as when thou camest out of the land of Egypt.

16 This shall the heathen see, and bee ashamed for all their power: so that they shall lay their hand vpon their mouth, and their eares shall be deafe.

17 They shall lick the dust like a serpent, and as the wormes of the earth that tremble in their holes: they shall be afraide of the Lord our God, and they shall feare thee.

18 * Who is such a God as thou, that pardonest wickednesse, and forgivest the offences of the remnant of thine heritage? He keepeth not his wrath for euer: for his delight is to haue compassion.

19 He shall turne againe and be mercifull to vs, he shal put downe our wickednesse, and call all our sinnes into the bottome of the sea.

20 Thou shalt performe to Iacob thy truth, and thy mercie to Abraham, like as thou hast swozne vnto our fathers in olde time.

The booke of the Prophet Nahum.

The first Chapter.

Of the destruction of the Assyrians, and of the deliuerance of Israel.

N The burden of * Nahum: the booke of the vision of Nahum the Elkohite.

2 God is ielous, and the Lord auengeth, the Lord auengeth and hath wrath in store: the Lord taketh vengeance of his aduersaries, and keepeth wrath in store for his enemies.

3 The Lord is slow to anger, and also of great power, and in no case will acquite the wicked, the Lords dealing is with blustering tempest and whirlingwinde, and the cloudes are the dust of his seete.

4 He rebuketh the sea, and drieth it vp, all the riuers also he maketh drie: Basan and Carmel are destroyed, the spring also of Libanus is destroyed.

5 The mountaines quake at his power, and the hills are resolued: the earth also burneth at his countenance, the world, and all that dwell therein.

6 Who can stand before his wrath? or who can rise vp before the anger of his countenance? his fiercenesse is powred out like fire, yea, the rockes cleaue in pieces at his might.

7 The Lord is gracious, a strong holde in the day of trouble, and knoweth them that trust in hym.

8 But with an ouerrunning flood hee will destroy her place, and will pursue his enemies with darkenesse.

9 What imagine ye against the Lord? he maketh an bitter destruction, ye shal not be troubled twice.

10 For though they bee as thornes solden one in another, and as dumbards in their banquet, yet shall they be deuoured by as very dry stubble.

11 There came out of thee such as thought euill against the Lord, such as gave wicked counsell.

12 Thus saith the Lord, Though yee be in concord, and also many, yet shal ye be cut downe, and passe: and though I haue afflicted thee, yet will I trouble thee no more.

13 And nowe I will breake off his yoke from thee, and I will breake thy bondes in sunder.

14 The Lord also hath giuen a commaundement touching thee, that there shall be no more of spring of thy name: from the house of thy God I will cut off the carued and molten image, I will make in thy graue, for thou art vile.

b. Whom shall no more be subject to the fortune of the Babylonians.

|| Or, for him.

15 * Behold upon the mountaines the feete of him that bringeth good tidings, that preacheth peace: keepe thy festiual dayes, O Iuda, pay thy bowes: for the wicked shall hereafter passe no more thoro' thee, he is utterly cut off.

The ij. Chapter.

He describeth the victories of the Chaldeans against the Assyrians.

The destroyer is come by before thy face, keepe thy fort, see to thy way, strengthen thy loynes, increase thy strength mightily:

2 For the Lord restozeth againe the glorious estate of Jacob, as also the glorious estate of Israel: for spoylers haue spoyled them, and haue wasted their branches.

3 The shield of his valiant souldiers is dried red, his captaines of warre are clad with scarlet: the charret is compassed with flaming torches in the day of his expedition, and the fire stauces are dried in popson.

4 The charrets shall rage in the streetes, they shall make a terrible noise in the broad wayes, to looke to, like flaming cressets, shooting as lightning.

5 He shall remember his notable souldiers, they shall stumble in going, they shall hasten to the wall, the covering fence is prepared.

6 The riuier gates are opened, and the palace is dissolved.

7 Huzab is brought forth captiue, made to ascend into the charets, her handmaydens also leading one another as in the voyce of doves, imocking vpon their breasts.

8 Vea, many a day Ninive was a pond full of water, yet now they flee: Stand ye, stand ye, and no man looketh backe.

9 Take your spoile of siluer, take your spoile of golde: for there is no ende of riches, and her treasure passing all treasure.

10 Sacking, relaching, raling, a dissolved heart, and collision of knees, so'ro in all loines also, and the faces of them all as blache as a pot.

11 * Where is the abiding place of Lyons, and the feeding plot of Lions whelpes, whither the young and olde Lyon haue their resort: there dwelt the Lyon, and there was no man to put him in feare.

12 The Lyon made his pray abundantly for his whelpes, and strangled his thee Lions, and hath filled his dens with pray, and his abiding places with spoyle.

13 Behold mee against thee, sayth the Lord of hostes, and I will burne in smoke her charrets, and the sword shall deuoure thy Lyons, I will root out also from the earth thy spoiling, and the voyce of thy messengers shall be heard no more.

The iij. Chapter.

1 Of the fall of Ninive. 8 No power can escape the hand of God.

Bloodie citie, stuffed thoro'wout with falshood, with extreme dealing, no' will be brought from spoiling.

2 The noise of the whyppe, the noise of rattling of wheeles, the prauning of hostes, and the unmping of charcets:

3 The horseman sitting by both the glittering blade of the sword, & also the shining speare, many wounded, many complex, and no end of carkeises: they shall stumble at dead bodies.

4 Because of the manifold fornication of the beautifull harlot, full of charmes, that sellecth nations by the meanes of her whooredome, and the people through her charmings:

5 * Loe, I against thee, saith the Lord of hostes, & will turne by thy skirts ouer thy face, and will be to the Gentiles thy filth, and kingdoms thy shame:

6 And will cast vpon thee abominable filth, and will bring thee downe, and will make thee as vile as dung.

7 And it shall come to passe, that all that shall behold thee, shall flee from thee, and shall say, Ninive is destroyed, and who is grieved there with: from whence shall I seeke out comforters for thee?

8 Wilt thou count thy selfe better then Alexandria the great that was situate among the riuers, compassed round about with water, whose fortresse was the sea, and had her wall from the sea?

9 Ethiopia and Egypt were thy strength, and there was none end of ayde: Phut and Lubim were thy helpers.

10 Notwithstanding she passed away, she went into captiuitie, her children also were dashed in pieces in the top of all the streetes: for her honourable men they call lots, and all her great states they chained in fetters.

11 And thou also shalt be drunken with trouble, thou shalt be hid: thou also shalt seeke after strength against thine enemy.

12 All thy strong aydes are as figge trees with the first ripe figges: if they be stirred, they fall into the mouth of the eater.

13 Behold, thy men are as baten women in the middelt of thee, the gates of thy land shall be set wide open to thine enemies, fire hath deuoured thy barres.

14 Draw thee water for the siege, strengthen thy fortes, goe into the clay, tread the mortar, make strong the bricke worke.

15 There the fire shall deuoure thee, the sword shall cut thee off, it shall deuoure as the Locust, though thou be multiplied as the Locust, and though thou be as many as the grasshopper.

16 Thou hast increased thy marchants as the starres of heauen, the Locust spoyleth and seeth away.

17 Thy princes are as grasshoppers, and thy rulers as great locusts, they swarme in hedges in colde weather, the sunne ariseth, and they flee, and the place where they were is not knowne.

18 Thy shepheards, O king of Assur, number, thy noble men shall dwell in death, thy people is scattered vpon the mountaines, and there is none to gather them together.

19 Thy wound shall not bee healed, thy plague is great, all that heare of thee, clap their hands: for vpon whom hath not thy euill dealing passed continually?

The booke of the Prophet Habacuc.

The first Chapter.

A complaint against the wicked that persecute the iust.

He burden which Habacuc the Prophet did see.

1 O Lord, how long shall I cry, and thou wilt not heare: euen crye out vnto thee for violence, and thou wilt not helpe?

2 Why dost thou set me iniquitie, and cause me to behold sorow? for spoyle and violence are before mee, and there are that raise vp strife and contention.

3 Therefore the Law is dissolved, and iudgement doeth neuer goe forth: for the wicked doeth compass about the righteous, therefore wrong iudgement proceedeth.

4 Behold among the heathen, and regard, and wonder, and marueile: for I will worke a worke in your dayes, yett will not belceue it, though it be tolde you.

5 For loe, I raise vp the Chaldeans, that bitter and furious nation, which shall goe by on the breath of the land, to possesse the dwelling places that are not theirs.

6 They are terrible and fearefull: their iudgement and their dignitie shall proceede of themselves.

7 Their horses also are swifter then the Leopards, and are more fierce then the wolves in the cuning, and their horsemen are many, and shall come from farre: they shall fly as the Eagle hatching to meate.

8 They come all to spoyle: before their faces shall be an East winde, and they shall gather the captiuitie as the sand.

9 And they shall moche the kings, and the princes shall be a scorn vnto them: they shall deride euery strong holde, for they shall gather dust, and take it.

10 Then shall they take a courage, & transgresse, and doe wickedly, impuring this their power vnto their God.

11 Art not thou of old, O Lord my God, my holy one? we shall not die, O Lord, thou hast ordained them for iudgement, and O God, thou hast established them for correction.

12 Thou art of pure eyes, and canst not see euil, thou canst not behold wickednesse: wherefore then dost thou looke vpon the transgressors, and holdst thy tongue, when the wicked deuoureth the man that is more righteous then he.

13 And makest men as the fish of the sea, and as the creeping things that haue no rule ouer them?

14 They take vp al with the angle, they catch it in their net, & gather it in their ponne, whereof they reioyce, and are glad.

15 Therefore they sacrifice vnto their net, and burne incense vnto their ponne: because by them their portion is fat, and their meate plentifulous.

16 Shall they therefore stretch out their net, and not spare continually to slay the nations?

The ij. Chapter.

A vision against pride, couetousnesse, drunkennesse, and idolatrie.

I will stand vpon my watch, and let mee vpon the towre, and will looke and see what he will say vnto me, and what I shall answer to him that rebuketh me.

2 And the Lord answered me, and said, write the vision, and make it plaine vpon tables, that he may runne that readeth it.

3 For the vision is yet for an appointed time, but at the last it shall speake, and not lie: though it tary, waite: for it shall surely come, and shall not slay.

4 Behold, he that lifteth vp by himselfe, his mind is not vpright in him: but the iust shall liue by his faith.

5 Pea, indeed the proude man is as hee that transgresseth by wine, therefore shall he not endure, because he hath enlarged his desire as the hell, and is as death, and cannot be satisfied, but gathereth vnto him all nations, and heapeth vnto him all people.

6 Shall not all these take by a parable against him? and a taunting prouerbe against him, and say, woe to him that encreaseth that which is not his. Ho long? and he that ladeth himselfe with thicke clay.

7 Shall not they rise by suddenly that shall bite thee? and awake, that shall stirre thee, and thou shalt be their pray.

8 Because thou hast spoiled many nation, & all the remnant of the people shall spoyle thee, because of mens blood, and for the wrong done in the lande, in the citie, and vnto all that dwell therein.

9 Woe to him that coueteth an euill couetousnesse to his house, that hee may set his nest on high, to escape from the power of euill.

10 Thou hast consulted shame to thine owne house, by destroying many people, and hast sinned against thine owne soule.

11 For the stone shall crye out of the wall, and the beame out of the timber shall answer it.

12 Woe vnto him that buildeth a towne with blood, and erecteth a citie by iniquitie.

13 Beholde, is it not of the Lord of hostes, that the people shall labour in the very fire? the people shall euen weare themselves for very banitic.

14 For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters couer the sea.

15 Woe vnto him that gructh his neighbour drinke: thou soyrest thy rage, and makest

Or, shall they stretch out their net, and not spare continually to slay the nations?

Or, shall they stretch out their net, and not spare continually to slay the nations?

Or, shall they stretch out their net, and not spare continually to slay the nations?

Or, shall they stretch out their net, and not spare continually to slay the nations?

Or, shall they stretch out their net, and not spare continually to slay the nations?

him drunken also, that thou mayest see their prouities.

16 Thou art filled with shame for glory, drink thou also, and be made naked: the cup of the Lords right hand shall be turned unto thee, and shameful spuing shall be for thy glory.

17 For the crueltie of Libanus shall cover thee: so shall the spoile of the beasts which hee made afraid, because of mens blood, and for the wrong done in the land, in the citie, and vnto all that dwell therein.

18 What profiteth the image? for the maker thereof hath made it an image and a teacher of lies, though he that made it, trust therein, when he maketh dumbe idoles.

19 Doe vnto him that saith to the wood, Awake: and to the dumbe stone, Rise vp, it shall teach thee: behold, it is layd ouer with gold and silver, and there is no breath in it.

20 But the Lord is in his holy temple: let all the earth keepe silence before him.

The iij. Chapter.

A prayer for the faithfull.

Prayer of Habacuc the Prophet for the ignorances.

2 O Lord, I haue heard thy voyce, and was afraid, O Lord reuiue thy worke in the middes of the peeres, in the middes of the peeres make it known, in wrath remember mercie.

3 God commeth from Cheman, and the holy one from mount Paran, Selah. his glorie couereth the heauens, and the earth is full of his praise.

4 And his brightnesse was as the light: he had hornes coming out of his hands, and there was the hiding of his power.

5 Before him went the pestilence, and burning coales went before his feete.

6 He stood and measured the earth, he beheld, and dissolued the nations, and the euerslasting mountaines were broken, and the ancient hills did bow, his wayes are euerslasting.

7 For iniquitie I saw the tents of Chusan, and the curtaines of the land of Madian did tremble.

8 Was the Lord angry against the riuers? or was thine anger against the floods? or was thy wrath against the sea, that thou diddest ride vpon thy hoxles? thy charets brought saluation.

9 Thy bow was manifestly reuealed, and the othes of the tribes were a sure word. Selah. thou diddest cleaue the earth with riuers.

10 The mountaines sawe thee, and they trembled, the streame of the water passed by, the deepe made a noise, and lift vp his hands on high.

11 The Sunne and Moone stode still in their habitation, at the light of thine arrows they went, and at the bright shining of thy speares.

12 Thou trodest downe the land in anger: and diddest tread the heathen in displeasure.

13 Thou wentest forth for the saluation of thy people, euen for saluation with thine anointed: thou hast wounded the head of the house of the wicked, and discouered the foundations vnto the necke. Selah.

14 Thou diddest strie thozow with his own staues the heads of his billages, they came out as a whirlwinde to scatter me: their reioycing was to deuoure the poore secretly.

15 Thou didst walke in the sea with thine hoxles vpon the heape of great waters.

16 When I heard, my belly trembled, my lips shooke at the voyce, rottenesse entred into my bones, and I trembled in my selfe, that I might rest in the day of trouble: for when he commeth vnto the people, hee shall destroy them.

17 For the figge tree shal not flourish, neither shall fruite be in the vines: the labour of the olive shall faile, and the fields shall yeeld no meate: the sheepe shall be cut off from the fold, and there shall be no bullocke in the stals.

18 But I will reioyce in the Lord, I will ioy in the God of my saluation.

19 The Lord God is my strength, he will make my feete like hinders feete, and he will make mee to walke vpon my high places. To the chiefe singer on Meginothar, or vpon the instruments of musicke.

Threatnings against Iuda and Hierusalem, because of their idolatrie.

7 Be still at the presence of the Lord God, for the day of the Lord is at hand: yea, the Lord hath prepared a sacrifice, and called his ghestes thereto.

8 And thus shall it happen, In the day of the Lordes sacrifice I will visite the princes and the kings children, and all such as weare strange clothing.

9 In the same day also will I visite all those that leape ouer the threshold so proudly, which fill their lordes house with robberie and fallshood.

10 At the same time, saith the Lord, there shall be heard a great cry from the fish port, and an howling from the second port, and a great destruction from the hills.

11 Howle yee that dwell in the low places, for all the marchant people are destroyed, and all they that were laden with siluer, are rooted out.

Amos, 5, 12

12 At the same time will I search Hierusalem with lanternes, & visite them that continue in their dreags, and say in their hearts, Cull, the Lord will doe neither good nor euill.

13 Therefore their goods shall be spoiled, and their houses laid waste: they shall build houses, and not dwell in them, they shall plant vineyards, but not drinke the wine thereof.

14 For the great day of the Lord is at hand, it is hard by, and cometh on apace, even the bitter voyce of the Lordes day, then shall the strong man cry out.

17 I will bring the people into such vexation, that they shall goe about like blind men, because they haue sinned against the Lord, their blood shall be powdered out as dust, and their bodies as the mire.

Eze. 7, 19.

18 Neither their siluer nor their golde shall be able to deliuer them in that wrathfull day of the Lord, but the whole land shall be consumed through the fire of his ielousie: for hee shall soone make cleare riddance of all them that dwell in the land.

4 For Gaza shall bee destroyed, and Ascalon shall be layde waste, they shall cast out Asdod at the noone day, and Accaron shall be rooted vp.

5 Doe vnto you that dwell vpon the sea coast, the nations of the Cherethims: the word of the Lord shall come vpon you, O Chanaan thou lande of the Philistines, I will destroy thee, so that there shall no man dwell in thee any more.

6 And as for the sea coast, it shall be heardmens cotages, and shepefoldes.

7 Yea, it shall be a portion for such as remaine of the house of Iuda, to feede thereupon, in the houses of Ascalon shall they rest toward night: for the Lord their God shall visite them, and turne away their captiuitie.

8 I haue heard the despite of Moab, and the blasphemies of the children of Ammon, how they haue shamefully intricated my people, and magnified themselves within the borders of their land.

9 Therefore, as I liue, saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Moab shall be as Sodom, and Ammon as Gomorrah, euen the breeding of nettles, and salt pits, and a perpetuall wilderness: the residue of my folke shall spoyle them, the remnant of my people shall haue them in possession.

10 This shall be vnto them for their pride, because they haue delit to shamefully with the Lord of hostes people, and magnified themselves aboue them.

11 The Lord shall be terrible vnto them, and destroy all the gods in the land: and all the fles of the heathen shall worship him, euery man in his place.

12 Yee Moztians also shall perish with my sword.

13 Yea, he shall stretch out his hand ouer the North, and destroy Assur: as for Minue he shall make it desolate, dry, and waste.

14 The flocks, and all the beastes of the people shall lie in the middes of it, Pellicanes and Owles shall abide in the upper postes of it, foules shall sing in the windowes, and desolation shall be vpon the posts, for the Cedars are brouched.

15 This is the proud and carelesse citie that sayd in her heart, I am, and there is els none besides me: O how is the made to waste that the beasts lie in her! who so goeth by, mocheh her, and pointeth at her with his finger.

12 O to that abominable, filthy, and cruell citie,

13 She heard not the voyce, she receiued not correction, she trusted not in the Lord, she drew not neere to her God.

14 Her rulers within her are as roaring Lyons, her Iudges are as wolues in the evening, which leade nothing behinde them till the morning.

4 Her Prophets are light persons and bnfaythful men, her priests haue polluted the sanctuary, and haue wicked the law.

5 But the lust Lord that doeth no bright, was in the mids thereof, euery morning he bringeth his law clearly, and ceased not: but the bngodly will not learne to be ashamed.

6 I haue destroyed the nations, their towres are desolate, I haue made their streets waste, that none shall passe by: their cities are destroyed without man, and without inhabitant.

7 I said vnto them, O feare me, and be content to be reformed, so their dwelling should not be destroyed, howsoeuer I visit them: but neuertheless they rose by early, and corrupted al their workes.

8 Therefore waite ye vpon mee, saith the Lord, vntill the time that I rise vp to the pray: for I am determined to gather the people, and to bring þ kingdoms together, that I may powze out mine anger, yea, all my wrauthfull displeasure vpon them: for all the earth shall be consumed with the fire of my ieioultie.

9 And then will I cleanse the lips of the people, that they may euery one call vpon the name of the Lord, and serue him with one consent.

10 From beyond the riuers of Ethiopia, the daughter of my dispersed praying vnto me, shall bring me an offering.

12 In thee also will I leaue a small poore simple people, which shall trust in the name of the Lord.

13 The remnant of Israel that doe no wickednesse, no: speake lies, neither shall there any deceitfull tongue be found in their months, for they shall be fed, and take their rest, and no man shall make them afraid.

14 Reioyce, O daughter Sion, be ioyfull, O Israel: reioyce and be glad from thy whole heart, O daughter Hierusalem:

15 For the Lord hath taken away thy punishment, and hath cast out thine enemies: the king of Israel, euen the Lord himselfe is with thee, so that thou needest no moze to feare any misfortune.

16 In that time it shall be sayd to Hierusalem, feare not: and to Sion, Let not thine hands be slacke:

17 For the Lord thy God in the midst of thee is mightie, he will saue thee, he will reioyce ouer thee with ioy, he will quiet himselfe in his loue, he will reioyce ouer thee with gladnesse.

18 After a certaine time will I gather the afflicted that were of thee, and them that bare the reproch for.

19 And behold, in that time will I destroy all those that bere thee, I will helpe the lame, and gather vp the castaway: yea, I will get them praise and honour in all lands where they haue bene put to shame.

20 At the same time wil I bring you againe, and at the same time will I gather you: I will get you a name and a good report among al people of the earth, when I turne backe your captiuitie befoze your eyes, saith the Lord.

The booke of the Prophet Aggeus.

The first Chapter.

1 The time of the prophesie of Aggeus. 3 An exhortation to build the Temple againe.

In the second yeere of king Darius, in the sixth moneth, the first day of the moneth, came the word of the Lord by the ministrerie of the Prophet Aggeus vnto Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, a Prince of Iuda, and to Josus the sonne of Josedech the high Priest, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, saying, His people saith, The time is not yet come for the Lords houses to be builded.

3 Then came the worde of the Lord by the ministrerie of the Prophet Aggeus, saying,

4 Is it time for you your selues to dwell in sieled houses, and this house lie waste?

5 Now thus saith the Lord of hostes, Consider your owne wayes in your hearts.

6 Ye haue sown much, but ye bring little in: ye eat, but ye haue not ynough: ye drinke, but ye are not filled: ye cloth you, but ye be not warme: and he that earneth wages, putteth the wages into a broken bagge.

7 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, Consider your owne wayes in your hearts.

8 Get you vp into the mountaine, and fetch wood, and builde this house, and I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified, saith the Lord.

9 Ye looked for much, and loe, it came to little, and when ye brought it home, I did blow vpon it: and why, saith the Lord of hostes? because of my house that is waste, and you run euery man into his owne house.

10 Therefore vpon you the heauen is staid from dew, and the earth is staid from yeelding her increale.

11 And I haue called for a drought vpon the land, and vpon the mountaines, and vpon the corne, and vpon the wine, and vpon the oile, and vpon all that the ground bringeth forth, vpon men, and upon cattel, and upon all the labour of the hands.

12 When Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Josua the sonne of Josedech the hie Priest, with all the remnant of the people, heard the voice of the Lord their God, and the wordes of the Prophet Aggeus, as the Lord their God had sent him, then the people did feare before the Lord.

13 Then Aggeus the Lords messenger sayd in the Lords message unto the people, saying, I am with you, sayth the Lord.

14 And the Lord stirred by the spirit of Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, a prince of Juda, and the spirit of Josua the sonne of Josedech the high Priest, and the spirit of all the people: and they came and did the worke in the house of the Lord of hostes their God.

The ij. Chapter.

He sheweth that the glory of the latter temple shal exceed the first.

In the twentieth and fourth day of the first moneth, in the second year of king Darius,

1 In the seventh moneth, in the twentieth and one day of the moneth, came the word of the Lord by the ministry of the Prophet Aggeus, saying,

3 Say now to Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel prince of Juda, and to Josua the sonne of Josedech the high priest, and to the rest of the people, saying,

4 Who is among you left, which sawe this house in her first glory, and how do ye see it now? Is it not in your eyes in comparison of it as nothing?

5 Yet now be of good cheare, O Zorobabel, sayth the Lord, and be of good comfort, O Josua thou high Priest sonne of Josedech, and be strong all ye people of the land, sayth the Lord, and worke: for I am with you, sayth the Lord of hostes, 6 According to the word that I couenanted with you, when ye came out of Egypt: and my spirit shall remaine with you, feare ye not.

7 For thus sayth the Lord of hostes, *Yet a little while, and I will shake the heauens, and the earth, and the sea, and the drie land:

8 And I will mooue all nations, and the desire of all nations shall come, and I will fill this house with glory, sayth the Lord of hostes.

9 The siluer is mine, and the gold is mine, sayth the Lord of hostes.

10 The glory of the latter house, shalbe greater then the glory of the first, sayth the Lord of hostes: and in this place wil I giue peace, sayth the Lord of hostes.

11 In the twentieth & fourth day of the ninth moneth, in the second yeere of king Darius, came the word of the Lord unto the Prophet Aggeus, saying,

12 Thus sayth the Lord God of hostes. Afte now to the Priests concerning the law, saying, 13 If one beare holy flesh in the skirt of his coat, and with his skirt doe touch the bread, potage, wine, oyle or any other meat, shall it be holy? And the priests answered, and sayd, No.

14 And Aggeus sayde, If a polluted person touch any of these, shall he not be polluted? and the priestes answered and sayde, Hee shall bee polluted.

15 Then Aggeus answered, and said, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, sayth the Lord, and so is all the worke of their hands: and that which they offer there is uncleane.

16 And now consider, I pray you, in your minds, from this day and upward, before there was layd one stone vpon another in the house of the Lord.

17 Before these things were done, when one came to a heape of twenty measures, there were but ten: so who came to the wine presse for to drawe out fittie vessels of wine out of the presse, there were but twenty.

18 I smote you with blasting, and with mildeu, & with haile, in all the work of your hands, and you turned not vnto me, sayth the Lord.

19 Consider nowe in your mindes from this day, and afoze: from the foure and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, euen from the day that the foundation of the Lords temple was layd, consider it in your mindes:

20 Is the seed yet in the barnes? as yet the vines, and the fig tree, and the pomegranate, and the oliue tree hath not brought forth: from this day will I blesse you.

21 And againe the word of the Lord came vnto Aggeus in the foure and twentieth day of the moneth, saying,

22 Speake to Zorobabel the prince of Juda, and say, I will shake the heauens and the earth:

23 And I will ouerthrowe the throne of kingdomes, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdomes of the heathen, and I will ouerthrowe the charrets and the litters thereon, and the horse and the riders shall fall downe euery one by the sword of his brother.

24 *In that day sayth the Lord of hostes, wil I take thee Zorobabel my seruant, sonne of Salathiel, sayth the Lord, and will make thee as a signet: for I haue chosen thee, sayth the Lord of hostes.

e For the greater part raised in Babylon, and would not take the libertie which Cyrus had given them. There is no difference made betwene the word of the Prophet and the word of God, so farre that the Prophet must so speake, and the people so heare them, as the words of God.

a They had but three weekes of three dayes to beate the people, and to giue them restes for their worke, so diligent were they after the preaching of the Prophet. b They had nowe not wrought a full moneth yet they word wanted, & therfore had need to be set on a'cush by the prophet, who was therfore now sent vnto them againe.

c God made many promises to his people after their departure out of Egypt: but in as much as hee hath about the place of Canaan in this place, it may well be thought that hee directed here the promise made, Deut. 18. & repeated, Act. 7. d Before his condempne his people made of Christ, who hee appointed his spirit there to be sent of him. e Where said hee this promise before Christ came, Heb. 12. 26.

The booke of the Prophet Zacharias.

The first Chapter.

1 Hee moueth the people to returne to the Lorde, and eschew the wickednesse of their fathers. 16 He prefigureth Christ and his Apostles.

In the eight moneth of the second yere of king Darius, came the word of the Lorde vnto Zacharias the sonne of Barachias the sonne of Addo the Prophet, saying,

2 The Lord hath ben soze displeas'd w your fathers.

3 And say thou vnto them, Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, * Turne you vnto me, saith the Lorde of hostes, and I will turne vnto you, saith the Lorde of hostes.

4 Be yee not like your forefathers, vnto whome the Prophets cryed, saying, * Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, Turne you from your euill wayes, and from your wicked imaginati- ons: but they would not heare nor regard me, saith the Lorde.

5 What is now become of your forefathers? and doe the Prophets liue for ever?

6 But did not my wordes & statutes which I commaunded by my seruants the Prophets take holde of your forefathers? and they return- ed, and said, Like as the Lorde of hostes determi- ned to do vnto vs according to our owne wayes & imaginati- ons, euen so hath he dealt with vs.

7 Upon the tventie a fourth day of the ele- uenth moneth (which is the moneth Sebah) in the second yere of Darius, came the word of the Lorde vnto Zacharias the sonne of Barachias the sonne of Addo the Prophet, saying,

8 I saw by night, and behold, there sate one vpon a redde horse, and stood still among the Myrre trees that were in a bottome: and be- hinde him were there redde, speckled, and whyte horses.

9 Then said I, O my Lord, what are these? And the Angel that talked with mee, saide vnto me, I will shew thee what these be.

10 And the man that stood among the myrre trees, answered and said, These are they towhom the Lorde hath sent to goe thro' the world.

11 And they answered the Angel of the Lorde that stood among the Myrre trees, and sayde, We haue gone thro' the world, and behold, all the world seteth still, and is carelesse.

12 Then the Lordes Angel gaue answer, and said, O Lorde of hostes, how long wilt thou be brumercifull vnto Hierusalem, and to the ci- ties of Iuda, with whome thou hast bene dis- pleas'd now these threescore and ten yeres?

13 So the Lorde gaue a louing and a com- fortable answer vnto the Angel that talked with me.

14 And the Angel that communed with me, saide vnto me, * Crie thou, and speake, Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, I am exceeding ielous ouer Hierusalem and Sion,

15 And soze displeas'd at the carelesse heathen: for whereas I was but a little angrie, they hel- ped for ward the affliction.

16 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde, I will re- turne vnto Hierusalem in tender mercie, so that my house shall be builded in it, saith the Lorde of hostes: yea, and the line shall be stretched vpon Hierusalem.

17 Crie also and speake, Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, My cities through prosperitie shall be spread abroad, the Lorde shall yet comfort Sion, and choose Hierusalem, 18 Then list I by mine eyes and sawe, and behold, foure hornes.

19 And I sayde vnto the Angel that talked with me, What be these? He answered me, These are the hornes which haue scatter'd Iuda, Is- rael, and Hierusalem.

20 And the Lorde shewed me foure Carpen- ters.

21 Then said I, what will these doe? He an- swered, and sayde, These are the hornes which haue scatter'd Iuda, so that no man durst lift by his head: but these are come to fray them away, and to cast out the hornes of the Gen- tiles, which lift by their horne ouer the lande of Iuda, to scatter it abroad.

The ij. Chapter.

The renewing of Hierusalem and Iuda.

I list by mine eyes againe and too- ked: and behold a man with a mea- sure line in his hand:

2 Then said I, whither goest thou? And hee sayde vnto me, To measure Hierusalem, that I may see how long and how broad it is.

3 And beholde, the Angel that talked with me, went his way soozth: then went there out another Angel to meete him,

4 And sayd vnto him, Runne, speake to this young man, and say, Hierusalem shall be inhabi- ted without any wall, for the very multitude of people and cattell that shall be therein.

5 For I my selfe, sayth the Lorde, will be vnto her a wall of fire round about, and will be the glory in the middell of her.

6 O get you soozth, O see from the land of the North, sayth the Lorde: for I haue scatter'd you into the foure windes of the heauen, sayeth the Lorde.

7 Saue thy selfe, O Sion, thou that dwel- lest with the daughter of Babylon:

8 For thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, After this glory hath bee sent me out to the heathen which spoyled you: for who so toucheth you, shall touch the apple of his owne eye.

9 Beholde, I will lift by mine hand ouer them, so that they shall be spoyled of those which afore serued them: and yee shall knowe that the Lorde of hostes hath sent me.

The iij. Chapter.

3 Of the low & high estate of Christ, vnder the figure of Iosua the high Priest. 8 A prophetic of Christ.

AND he shewed me Iosua the high Priest standing before the Angel of the Lord, and Satan stood at his right hand to resist him.

2 And the Lord said vnto Satan, The Lord reprocue thee thou Satan, yea, the Lord that hath chosen Hierusalem reprocue thee: is not this a brand taken out of the fire?

3 Now Iosua was clothed in bncleane raiment, and stood before the Angel.

4 And he answered, and said vnto those that stood before him, Take away the foule clothes from him. And vnto him he said, Behold, I haue taken away thy sinne from thee, and I will clothe thee with change of raiment.

5 And I sayd, Let them set a faire miter vpon his head. So they set a faire miter vpon his head, and put on clothes vpon him, and the Angel of the Lord stood there.

6 Then the Angel of the Lord testified vnto Iosua, and spake,

Or, Iosua.

7 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, If thou wilt walke in my wayes, and keepe my watch, thou shalt iudge my house, and keepe my courts, and I will giue thee place among these that stand here.

8 Heare, O Iosua thou high Priest, thou and thy fellows that sit before thee, for they are monstrous persons: behold, I will bring forth the branch my seruant.

The iij. Chapter.

The vision of the golden candlestick, and the exposition thereof.

AND the Angel that talked with me, came againe, & waked me, as a man that is raised out of his sleep.

2 And sayde vnto me, what seest thou? And I said, I haue looked and beheld, a candlestick all of gold, with a bowle vpon it, and his feuen lamps therein, and vpon euery lampe feuen pipes.

3 And two Oliue trees thereby: one vpon the right side of the bowle, and the other vpon the left side.

4 So I answered and spake to the Angel that talked with me, saying, O my Lord, what are these?

5 The Angel that talked with mee, answered and saide vnto me, Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my Lord.

6 He answered and sayde vnto me, This is the worde of the Lord vnto Zozobabel, saying, Neither through an hoste of men, nor through strength: but through my spirit, sayth the Lord of hostes.

7 What art thou great mountaine before Zozobabel? thou must be made euen, and hee shall bring forth the head stone thereof, with shoutings, crying, Grace, grace vnto it.

8 Moreover, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

9 The handes of Zozobabel haue laide the foundation of this house, his handes shall also finish it: and thou shalt knowe that the Lord of hostes hath sent me vnto you:

10 for who hath despised the day of small things: they shall reioyce, and shall see the stone of tinne in the hand of Zozobabel: these feuen are the eyes of the Lord, which goe thorow the whole world.

11 Then answered I, and saide vnto him, what are these two Oliue trees vpon the right and left side of the candlesticke?

12 I spake moreover, and sayde vnto him, what bee these two Oliue branches, which through the two golden pipes emptie themselves into the gold?

13 Hee answered me, and sayd, Knowest thou not what these be? And I sayd, No, my Lord.

14 Then sayd hee, These are the two Oliue branches that stand with the ruler of the whole earth.

SI turned mee, lifting vp mine eyes, and looked, and beheld, a flying booke.

2 And hee saide vnto me, what seest thou? I answered, I see a flying booke of twentie cubites long, and ten cubites broad.

3 Then said hee vnto me, This is the curse that goeth forth ouer the whole earth: for all thieues shall be iudged after this booke, and all periured persons shall be iudged according to the same.

4 And I will bring it forth, sayth the Lord of hostes, so that it shall enter into the house of the thiefe, and into the house of him that falsly sweareth by my Name, and shall remaine in the middell of his house, and consume it, with the timber and stones thereof.

5 Then the Angel that talked with mee, went forth, and said vnto me, Lift vp thine eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth.

6 And I sayde, what is it? Hee answered, This is a measure going out. Hee sayde moreover, Euen thus are they that dwell vpon the whole earth to looke vpon.

Moreouer, I turned mee, lifting by mine eyes, and looked, and beholde, there came foure charets out from betwixt two hilles, which hilles were of brasse.

2 In the first charet were red hoxses, in the second charet were blake hoxses,

3 In the third charet were white hoxses, in the fourth charet were hoxses of diuers colours, and strong.

4 Then spake I, and sayd vnto the Angel that talked with me, O my Lorde, what are these?

5 The Angel answered, and sayde vnto me, These are the foure spirits of the heauen, which be come forth to stand before the ruler of all the earth.

6 That with the blake hoxse went forth into the lande of the North, and the white followed them, and the speckled hoxses went forth toward the South,

7 And the strong hoxses went out, and required to goe and take their iourney ouer the whole earth: and he sayde, Get you hence, and goe throughe the world: so they went throughe out the world.

8 Then cryed hee vpon me, and spake vnto me, saying, Beholde, these that goe toward the North, shall kill my wryath in the North countrey.

9 And the word of the Lorde came vnto mee, saying,

10 Take of the prisoners that are come from captiuitie, namely, Veldas, Tobiah, and Jdaia, which came from Babylon: and come thou the same day, and goe vnto the house of Iosiah the sonne of Sophonia.

11 Then take gold and siluer, & make crowns therof, and set them vpon the head of Iosua the sonne of Iosedech the high Priest, 12 And spake vnto him, Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes, Behold the man whose name is the Braunch, and he shall grow vpon out of his place, and hee shall build by the Temple of the Lorde.

13 Yea, even he shall build by the Temple of the Lorde, and he shall beare the praise: he shall sit vpon the Lorde's throne, and haue the dominion: a Priest shall hee be also vpon his throne, and a peaceable counsell shall be betwixt them both.

14 And the crowne shall be to Helem, and to Tobiah, and to Jdaia, and to Ien the sonne of Zophoni, for a memoriale in the Temple of the Lorde.

15 And such as hee sarre off shall come and build in the Temple of the Lorde, that yee may know how that the Lorde of hostes hath sent me vnto you: and this shall come to passe, if yee will hearken diligently vnto the voice of the Lorde your God.

Thevij. Chapter.

5 The true fasting, 11 The rebellion of the people is the cause of their affliction.

AND the fourth yeere of king Darrius, the worde of the Lorde came vnto Zacharia, in the fourth day of the ninth moneth, which is called Casfeu,

2 What time as Sarasar and Rogommelech, and the men that were with them, sent vnto the house of God for to pray before the Lorde:

3 And that they should speake vnto the Priests which were in the house of the Lorde of hostes, and to the Prophets, saying, Should I weepe in the fifth moneth, and abstaime as I haue done now these so many yeeres?

4 Then came the word of the Lorde of hostes vnto me, saying,

5 Speake vnto all the people of the lande, and to the Priests, and say, When ye fasted and mourned in the fifth and seventh moneth now this threescore and tenne yeeres, did yee fast vnto me?

6 When ye did also eate and drinke, did yee not eate and drinke for your owne selues?

7 Are not these the words which the Lorde spake by his Prophets aforetime, when Hierusalem was yet inhabited and wealthy, seee and the cities round about her, when there dwelt men both toward the South and in the plaine countreys?

8 And the word of the Lorde came vnto Zacharie, saying,

9 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Execute true iudgement, shewe mercie and louing kindnesse euery man to his brother.

10 Do the widow, the fatherlesse, the stranger, and poore no wrong, and let no man imagine euill against his brother in his heart.

11 Neuertheless, they would not take heed, but turned their backs, and stopped their ears, that they should not heare.

12 Yea, they made their hearts as an Adamant stone, least they should heare the lawe and words which the Lorde of hostes sent in his holy Spirit, by the Prophets aforetime: wherefore the Lorde of hostes was very wroth at them.

13 And thus is it come to passe, that like as he cryed, and they would not heare: euen so they cryed, and I would not heare, sayeth the Lorde God of hostes.

14 But scattered them among all the nations whome they knew not: thus the lande was made so desolate after them, that there trauailed no man in it, neither to nor fro: for that pleasant land was utterly laid waste.

Or, should. ders.

Word of the Lozde of hostes came vnto me, saying,
 2 Thus sayeth the Lozde of hostes, I was in great ielousie for Zion, yea, I haue bene very ielous for her great wrath.

3 Thus sayth the Lord, I will returne vnto Sion, and will dwell in the middelt of Hierusalem: so that Hierusalem shall be called, A faithful and true citie, the hill of the Lord of hostes, an holy hill.

4 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, There shall yet old men and old women dwell againe in the streets of Hierusalem: yea, and such as go with staves in their hands for very age.

5 The streets of the citie also shall be full of young hopes and damfels, playing in the streets thereof.

6 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, If the residue of this people thinke it to be vnpossible in their eyes in these dayes: should it therefore be vnpossible in my sight, sayth the Lord of hostes?

7 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, Behold, I will deliuer my people from the countreys of the East and West,

8 And will bring them againe, that they may dwell in the middelt of Hierusalem: they shall be my people, and I will be their God in truth and righteoufnesse.

9 Thus sayth the Lozde of hostes, Let your hands be strong, ye that now heare these words by the mouth of the Prophets which are in these dayes, that the foundation of the house of the Lozde of hostes is layde, that the Temple may be builded.

10 For befoze these dayes neither men nor cattell could winne any thing, neither might any man come in and out in rest for trouble: but I let euery man goe against his neighbour.

11 Neuerthelesse, I wil now increat the residue of this people no more as afozetime, sayeth the Lord of hostes.

12 For the seede shall prosper, the vine shall giue her fruite, the ground shall giue her increase, and the heauens shall giue their dew, and I shall cause the remnant of this people to haue all these in possession:

13 And it shall come to passe, that like as yee were a curse among the heathen, so ye house of Iuda and ye house of Israel, euen so will I deliuer you, that yee shall be a blessing: feare not, but let your hands be strong.

14 For thus sayth the Lord of hostes, Like as I thought to punish you, what time as your fathers prouoked me vnto wrath, saith the Lord of hostes, and I spared not:

15 Euen to am I determined now in these dayes for to doe wel vnto the house of Iuda and Hierusalem: therefore feare ye not.

16 Now the things that ye shall do, are these, Speake euery man the trueth vnto his neighbour, execute iudgement truly and peaceably within your portes.

17 And let none of you imagine euill in his heart against his neighbour, and loue no false othes: for all these are the things that I hate, sayth the Lord.

18 And the word of the Lozde of hostes came vnto me, saying,

19 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, The fast of the fourth moneth, the fast of the fifth, the fast of the seuenth, and the fast of the tenth, shall be ioy and gladnesse, and prosperous high feastes vnto the house of Iuda: onely loue the trueth and peace.

20 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, There shall yet come people, and the inhabiters of many cities:

21 And they that dwell in one citie shall goe to another, saying, Wey, let vs goe and pray befoze the Lord, let vs seeke the Lord of hostes: I will goe with you.

22 Yea much people and mightie nations shall come to seeke the Lord of hostes at Hierusalem, and to pray befoze the Lord.

23 Thus sayeth the Lozde of hostes, In that time shall fenne men (out of all manner of language of the Gentiles) take one Jewe by the hemme of his garment, and say, Wee will goe with you: for we haue heard that God is among you.

The ix. Chapter.

1 The threating of the Gentiles. 9 The comming of Christ sitting on an Ass.

The burden of the word of the Lord in the land of Habrach: & Damascus shall be his rest, when the eyes of men, euen of all the tribes of Israel shall be towards the Lord.

2 The borders of Demath shall bee hard thereby, Cyprus also and Sidon, for they are very wise.

3 Cyprus shall make her selfe strong, heape by silver as the sand, and gold as the clay of the streets.

4 Behold, the Lord shall spoyle her, he shall smite downe her power in the sea, and she shall be consumed with fire.

5 This shall Ascalon see, and be afraid: Gaza shall be very soze, so shall Accaron also, because her hope is come to confusion: for the King of Gaza shall perish, and at Ascalon shall no man dwell.

6 Strangers shall dwell at Asdod, and as for the pride of the Philistines I shall roote it out.

7 Their blood will I take away from their mouth, and their abominations from between their teeth: Thus they that shall be left shall be for our God, he shall be as a prince in Iuda, and Accaron like as a Jebusite.

8 And I will pitch a campe: about mine house against the armie, against him that perseceth by, and against him that returneth, and no oppressour shall come vpon them any more: for now haue I seene with mine eyes.

9 Reioyce thou greatly, O daughter Sion, be glad, O daughter Hierusalem: for loe, thy King commeth vnto thee, euen the Righteous and Saviour, lowly and simple is hee, he rideth vpon an Ass, and vpon the foale of an Ass.

10 I will roote out the charrets from Ephraim, & the horse from Hierusalem, the battell bowes shall be destroyed, hee shall giue the doctrine of peace vnto the heathen: and his dominion shall be from the one Sea to the other, and from the riuer to the end of the world.

11 Thou also shalt be saued through the blood of thy covenant: I haue loosed thy prisoners out of the pit wherein is no water.

12 Turne ye now to the strong hold yee that be in prison and long soze to be deliuered: euen

These laboureth and rested Hierusalem and their carrell without increase, because they cared not for Gods glory in repairing of the Temple, but went about their pleasure gainne.

this day I bring thee word, that I will reward thee double againe.

13 For Juda haue I bent as a bowe for mee, Ephraim his hand haue I filled, and thy sonnes, O Sion, will I raise by against the Greekes, and make thee as a Giants word.

14 The Lord God shall be seene aboue them, and his darteres shall goe forth as the lightning: the Lord God shall blow the trumpet, and shall come forth as a storme out of the South.

15 The Lord of hostes shall defend them, they shall consume and deuoure, and subdue them with sing stones, they shall drinke and rage as it were through wine, they shall be filled like the basons, and as the hornes of the altar.

16 The Lord their God shall deliuer them in that day, as the flocke of his people: for as precious stones of a Diademe they shall be set by ouer his land.

17 O how great is his goodnesse, and how excellent his beautie: for the corne shall make the young men cheerefull, and the newe wine the maidens.

The x. Chapter.

1 The people is moued to require the doctrine of the truth of the Lord. 3 The Lord promieth to visite and comfort the house of Israel.

Ray the Lord then betimes to giue the latter raine, so shall the Lord make bright clouds, and giue you raine ynough, and to euery one grasse in the field.

2 For baine is the answer of idoles, the soothsayers see lyes, and the dreamers tell but baine things, the comfort that they giue is nothing worth: therefore they went away like a flocke of sheepe, and were troubled, because they had no shepheard.

3 My wrathfull displeasure was moued against the shepherds, and I will visite the Goats: for the Lord of hostes will visite his flocke the house of Juda, and will make them as a goodly faire horse in the battell.

4 Out of Iuda shall come the corner, the naille, the battell bowe, and the appointer of tribute also.

5 They shall be as gyants which in the battell treade downe their enemies in the myre of the dretces: they shall fight, for the Lord shall bee with them, and the horsemen shall bee confounded.

6 I will comfort the house of Juda, and preserue the house of Ioseph, I will bring them againe, for I pitty them, and they shall be like as they were when I had not cast them off: for I the Lord am their God, and will heare them.

7 Ephraim shall bee as a Gyant, and their heart shall be cheerefull as through wine: yea, their children shall see it, and be glad, and their heart shall reioyce in the Lord.

8 I will visite for them, and gather them together, for I will redeeme them, they shall encrease, as they encreased afore.

9 I will loue them among the people, that they may thinke vpon mee in faire countreys, they shall liue with their children, and turne againe.

10 I will bring them againe also from the lande of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria: I will carie them into the lande of Gilad, and to Libanus, and a place shall not be found for them.

11 And affliction shall passe ouer vnto the sea, and smite the Sea waues, so that all the deepe floods shall bee dried vp, the proude boasting of Assur shall be cast downe, and the scepter of Egypte shall be taken away.

12 I will comfort them in the Lord, that they may walke in his name, sayth the Lord.

The xj. Chapter.

1 The destruction of the Temple. 4 The care of the faithfull is committed to Christ by the father. 7 A grieuous vision against Hierusalem and Iuda.

Den the doores, O Libanus, that the fire may consume thy Cedar trees.

2 Howle ye fire trees, for the Cedar is fallen, yea, all the proude are waded away: Howle, O ye oke trees of Basan, for the mightie strong wood is cut downe.

3 Men may heare the shepherds mourne, for their glozy is destroyed, men may heare the Lyons whelpes roare, for the pride of Iordane is waded away.

4 Thus sayth the Lord my God, feede the sheepe of the slaughter,

5 which haue bene slaine of those that possessed them, yet they took it for no sinne, but they that solde them, sayd, The Lord be thanked, for I am rich, yea, their owne sheards spare them not.

6 Therefore will I no more spare those that dwell in the land, sayth the Lord: but loe, I will deliuer the people euery man to his neighbours hand, and into the hand of his king, that they may smite the land, and out of their hands I will not deliuer them.

7 I my selfe fedde the slaughter sheepe, a poore flocke hereby: I tooke vnto me two stauces, the one called Beautie, the other called Bands: and so fed the sheepe.

8 Three shepherdes I put out of office in one moneth, for I might not away with them: neither had they any delight in me.

9 Then sayd I, I will feed you no more: the thing that dyeth, let it die: and that that will perish, let it perish: and let the remnant catte ry one the flesh of his neighbour.

10 I tooke also my staffe, euen Beautie, and brake it, that I might disanull the couenant which I made with all people.

11 And so it was broken in that day: then the poore simple sheepe that had a respect vnto mee, knew thereby that it was the word of the Lord.

12 And I sayde vnto them, If ye thinke it good, bring hither my wages, if no, then leaue. So they weighed downe thirtie siluer pence, the value that I was prized at.

13 And the Lord sayd vnto me, Cast it vnto the pottor, a goodly price for me to be valued at of them. And I tooke the thirtie siluer pence, and cast them to the pottor in the house of the Lord.

14 Then brake I my other staffe also, namely Bands, that I might loole tbe brotherhood betwixt Iuda and Israel.

15 And the Lord sayd vnto me, Take thee also the staffe of a foolish shepheard,

16 for loe, I will raise vp a shepheard in the land, which shall not seeke after the things

The xij. Chapter.

Of the destruction, & building againe of Hierusalem.

The heauie burden which the Lord hath deuised for Israel. Thus saith the Lord which spread the heauens abroad, layd the foundation of the earth, and gaue man the breath of life.

Or, pollution.

1 Behold, I will make Hierusalem a cuppe of surfet vnto all the people that are round about her: yea, Iuda himselve also shall be in the sieg against Hierusalem.

2 At the same time will I make Hierusalem an heauy stone for the people, so that all such as lift it by shall be tozned and rent, and all the people of the earth shall bee gathered together against it.

3 In that day, sayth the Lord, I will make all horses astonied, and those that ride vpon them to be out of their wits: I will open mine eyes vpon the house of Iuda, and smite all the horses of the people with blindness.

4 And the princes of Iuda shall say in their heartes, The inhabitants of Hierusalem shall giue me consolation in the Lord of hostes their God.

Or, sheafe.

5 In that time will I make the princes of Iuda like a sheaf and among the sheaves, so that they shall be bound all the people round about them, both vpon the right hand, and vpon the left: Hierusalem also shall bee inhabited againe, namely in the same place where Hierusalem standeth.

6 The Lord shall preserue the tents of Iuda as aforetime, so that the glorie of the house of Dauid, and the glorie of the citizens of Hierusalem, shall not be erased against Iuda.

7 In that day shall the Lord defend the citizens of Hierusalem, so that the weakest then among them shall be as Dauid, and the house of Dauid shall be as Gods house, and as the Angel of the Lord before them.

8 At the same time will I goe about to destroy all such people as goe against Hierusalem.

Ioh. 19. 37.

9 Howouer, vpon the house of Dauid, and vpon the citizens of Hierusalem will I powre out the spirit of grace and compassion, so that they shall looke vpon me whom they haue pierced, and they shall lament for him, as men mourne for their onely begotten sonne: yea, and be soze for him, as men are soze for their first child.

2. Chro. 33. 22.

10 Then shall there be a great mourning at Hierusalem, like as the lamentation at Adaschemmon in the field of Magaddon.

11 And the land shall be waile, every kinred by themselves alone: the kinred of the house of Dauid by themselves, and their wiuues by themselves: the kinred of the house of Nathaniel by themselves, and their wiuues by themselves:

12 The kinred of the house of Leui themselves alone, and their wiuues by themselves: the kinred of the house of Simeel themselves alone, and their wiuues by themselves.

13 In like maner, all the other generatione every one by themselves alone, and their wiuues by themselves.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 Of the well of grace and truth. 2 Of the cleane riddance of idolatry, and of false prophets.

In that time shall the house of Dauid and the citizens of Hierusalem haue an open well to wash off sinne and uncleannesse.

2 And then sayth the Lord of hostes, I will destroy the names of the idoles out of the land, so that they shall no more be put in remembrance: as for the false prophets also, and the vncleane spirits, I will take them out of the land.

3 So that if any of them prophetic any more, his owne father and mother that begate him, shall say vnto him, Thou shalt not liue, for thou speakest lies vnder the name of the Lord: yea his owne father and mother that begate him shall wound him when he propheticth.

4 And then shall those prophets be confounded, euery one of his vition when he propheticth: neither shall they weare hairecloth any more to deceiue men withall.

5 But hee shall be saime to say, I am no prophet, I am an husbandman: for so am I taught by man from my youth by.

6 And if it be said vnto him, How came these wounds then in thine hands? He shall answer, Thus was I wounded in the house of mine owne friends.

7 Arise, O thou sword, vpon my shepheard, and vpon the man that is thy fellow, sayeth the Lord of hostes: smite the shepheard, and the sheepe shall bee scattered abroad, and so will I turne my hand to the little ones.

8 And it shall come to passe, sayth the Lord, that in all the land two partes shall be rooted out and dye, but the third part shall remaine therein.

9 And the same third part will I bring thorow the fire, and will cleane them as the siluer is cleafed, yea and trye them like as golde is tryed: then shall they call vpon my name, and I will heare them: I will say, It is my people, and they shall say, Lord my God.

The xvij. Chapter.

1 The wasting of the Church vnder the figure of Hierusalem. 2 Of the kingdome of the Lord.

Behold, the day of the Lord cometh, and thy spoile shall be diuided in the middell of thee.

2 For I will gather together all the Heathen to fight against Hierusalem, so that the cite shall be worne, the houses spoiled, & the women defiled: the halfe of the cite shall go away into captiuitie, & the residue of the people shall not be carried out of the cite.

3 After that, the Lord shall goe forth to fight against those Heathen, as men doe to fight in the day of battell.

4 Then shall his feet stand vpon the mount Oliuet that lyeth vpon the East side of Hierusalem, and the mount Oliuet shall cleaue in two.

Eastward and Westward, so that there shall be a great valley: and the halfe mount shall remouue toward the North, and the other toward the South.

5 And yee shall flee vnto the valley of my hills, for the valley of the hills shall reach vnto Asaf: yea, flee shall yee like as ye fled for the earthquake in the dayes of Ozias King of Iuda: and the Lord my God shall come, and all the Saints with him.

6 In that day shall there be no cleare light, but darke.

7 This shall bee that speciall day, which is known vnto the Lord, neither day nor night: but about the evening time it shall be light.

8 In that time shall there waters of life runne out from Iherusalem: the halfe part of them toward the East sea, and the other halfe toward the vttermoost Sea, and that continue both Summer and winter.

9 And the Lord himselfe shall be King ouer all the earth: At that time shall there be one Lord onely, and his Name shall be but one.

10 All the land shall be turned as a plaine from Gibeath Beniamin towards the South of Iherusalem: She shall be set by, and inhabited in her place, from Beniamins port, vnto the place of the first port, and vnto the corner port, and from the towne of Hananeel vnto the kings wine presses.

11 There shall men dwell, and there shall bee no more destruction, but Iherusalem shall be safely inhabited.

12 This shall bee the plague wherewith the Lord will smite all people that haue fought against Iherusalem, their flesh shall consume away, though they stand vpon their secte, their eyes shall bee corrupt in their holes, and their tongue shall continue in their mouth.

13 In that day shall the Lord make a great sedition among them: so that one man shall take another by the hand, and lay his hands vpon the hands of his neighbour.

14 Iuda shall fight against Iherusalem, and the armies of all the Heathen shall be gathered together round about with gold and siluer, and a very great multitude of apparel.

15 And this plague shall goe ouer horses, mules, camels, asses, and all the beasts that shall be in the hoste, like as yonder plague was.

16 Every one that remaineth then of all the people which came against Iherusalem, shall goe by yeere by yeere to worship the King, euen the Lord of hostes, and to keepe the feast of Tabernacles.

17 And looke what generation vpon the earth goeth not to Iherusalem for to worship the King the Lord of hostes, vpon the same shall come no raine.

18 If the kinred of Egypt goe not by, & come not, it shall not raine vpon them: This shall be the plague wherewith the Lord will smite all the Heathen that come not by to keepe the feast of Tabernacles.

19 Yea this shall be the plague of Egypt, and the plague of all people that goe not by to keepe the feast of Tabernacles.

20 At that time shall the riding geare of the horses be holy vnto the Lord: the kettle in the Lords house shall be like the basons before the Altar.

21 Yea, all the kettles in Iherusalem and Iuda shall be holy vnto the Lord of hostes: and all they that lay offerings, shall come and take of them, and seeke therein: And at that time there shall be no more Chanaanites in the house of the Lord of hostes.

The end of the prophetic of Zacharias.

The booke of the Prophet Malachias.

The first Chapter.

A complaint against Israel, and chiefly the Priests.

The burden of the word of the Lord to Israel, by the ministerie of Malachi.

2 I haue loued you, saith the Lord: yet ye say, wherein hast thou loued vs? was not Elau Jacobs brother, saith the Lord: yet I loued Iacob.

3 And I hated Elau, and made his mountaine waste, and his heritage a wilderness for dragons.

4 Though Edom say, wee are impouertised, but wee will returne and build the desolate places: yet sayeth the Lord of hostes, They shall build, but I will destroy: and they shall call them, The border of wickednesse, and the people with whom the Lord is angry for euer.

5 And your eyes shall see: and you shall say, The Lord will be magnified vpon the borders of Israel.

6 A some honoureth his father, and a seruant his master: If then I be a father, where is my mine honour? If I be a master, where is my feare, saith the Lord God of hostes to you, & yee priestes that despise my Name: and yee say, wherein haue we despised thy Name?

7 Ye offer vpon mine Altar: vncleane bread, and say, wherein haue wee polluted thee? In that ye say, The Table of the Lord is not to be regarded.

8 When ye bring the blinde for sacrifice, you say, it is not euill: and when ye bring the lame and sicke, you say, it is not euill: offer it now thy prince, wil he be content with thee, or except thy person, saith the Lord of hostes?

9 And nowe I pray you, before God, that he may haue mercy vpon you: this euill hath bene done by your meane: will hee regard your persons, saith the Lord of hostes: who is there even among you that would shut the doores, and kindle not fire on mine Altar in vaine? I have no pleasure in you, saith the Lord of hostes, neither will I accept an offering at your hand.

11 From the rising of the Sunne vnto the going downe of the same, my Name is great among the Gentiles, and in euery place incense shall be offered to my Name, and a pure offering: for my Name is great among the very heathen, saith the Lord of hostes.

12 But ye haue s polluted it, in that ye say, The table of the Lord is polluted, and the fruit thereof, euen his meate is not to be regarded.

13 And ye sayd, Beholde, it is a wearinesse, and you haue trusted at it, sayeth the Lord of hostes, and ye haue offered the stolne, and the lame, and the sicke, ye haue offered an offering, should I accept this of your handes, saith the Lord?

14 Curst be the deceitfull which hath in his flocke a male, and bo weth, and sacrificeth a corrupt thing to the Lord: because I am a great King, saith the Lord of hostes, and my Name is fearefull among the heathen.

The ij. Chapter.

Threatnings against the Priestes, being seducers of the people.

Now, O ye priestes, this commandement is for you.

2 If ye will not heare it, nor regard it, to giue the glory to my Name, saith the Lord of hostes, I will sende a curse vpon you, and will curse your blessings, yea, I haue curst them already, because ye do not consider it in your heart.

3 Beholde, I will corrupt your feede, and cast downe on your faces, euen the doting of your solemne feasts, and you shall be like vnto it.

4 And you shall know that I haue sent this commandement vnto you, that my covenant which I haue made with Leui might stand, saith the Lord of hostes.

5 My covenant was with him of life and peace, and I gaue them him for the feare where with hee feared mee, and was afraide before my Name.

6 The Lawe of truth was in his mouth, and there was no iniquitie found in his lippes, he walked with mee in peac and in equitie, and he turned many from their iniquitie.

7 For the Priestes lips shall keepe knowledge, and they shall seeke the Lawe at his mouth: because he is the messenger of the Lord of hostes.

8 But ye haue gone out of the way, ye haue caused many to fall by the Lawe, ye haue corrupted the covenant of Leui, sayeth the Lord of hostes.

9 Therefore haue I also made you despised and vile before all the people, because you kept not my wayes, but haue bene partiall in the Lawe.

10 Haue wee not all one father? hath not God made vs all: why then is euery one deceiued of his brother, to violate the covenant of 11 Iuda ha. committed in Ierusalem, and in Hierusalem: for Iuda hath defiled the holinesse of the Lord which he loued, and hath married the daughter of a strange god.

12 The Lord will destroy the man that doeth this, both the raylor by, and the answerer out of the tabernacle of Jacob, and him that offereth an offering vnto the Lord of hostes.

13 And this againe haue ye done in courting the Altar of the Lord with teares, with weeping and mourning, and therefore there is no more respect to the offering, neither acceptable receiuing of it at your handes.

14 Yet ye say, wherein? Because the Lord hath bene witness betweene thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast transgressed, yet is hee thine owne companion, and the wife of thy covenant.

15 And did not he make one? yet had he abundance of spirit: And wherefore one? because hee sought a godly feede: therefore keepe your selues in your spirit, and let none transgresse against the wife of his youth.

16 If thou hatest her, put her away, saith the Lord God of Israel: yet hee covereth the iniurie vnder his garment, sayeth the Lord of hostes, and bee ye kept in your spirit, and transgresse not.

17 Ye haue wearied the Lord with your wordes, and you haue saide, wherein haue wee wearied him? whilist you say, Euery one that doeth euill, is good in the sight of the Lord, and hee is pleased in them: or where is the God of iudgement?

The iij. Chapter.

Of the messenger of the Lord John Baptist, and of Christes office.

Behold, I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me, and the Lord whom ye seeke, shall speedily come to his Temple, and the messenger of the Covenant whom ye desire, behold, he commeth, saith the Lord of hostes.

2 But who may abide the day of his coming? and who shall stand when hee appeareth? for hee is like a purging fire, and like fullers sope.

3 And hee shall sit downe to try and fine the siluer, and hee shall purge the children of Leui, and purifie them as golde and siluer: and they shall bring vnto the Lord offerings in righteousness.

4 Then shall the offerings of Iuda and Hierusalem bee acceptable vnto the Lord as in olde time, and as in the yeeres afore.

5 And I will come neere vnto you in iudgement, and I will bee a swift witness against the soothsayers, and against the adulterers, and against false sweareers, and against those that wrongfully keepe backe the hirelings wages, and bere the widow and the fatherlesse, and oppresse the stranger, and feare not me, saith the Lord of hostes.

6 For I am the Lord, I change not: and yet sonnes of Jacob are not consumed.

7 From the dayes of your fathers ye are gone a way from mine ordinaunces, and haue not kept them: turne you to me, and I will turne to you, saith the Lord of hostes. And ye said, wherein shall we returne?

The third booke of Esdras.

The first Chapter.

1 Iosias appointeth Priests, and keepeth the Passeeouer. 7 Offerings for the Priests and the people. 23 The vpright life of Iosias. 53 The destruction of Hierusalem.

¶ Josias held the feast of Easter in Hierusalem vnto his Lord, & offered the Passeeouer the foureteenth day of the first moneth.

2 Hee set the Priests also in order according to their dayly courses, being arayed in long garments, in the temple of the Lord.

3 And hee spake vnto the Levites the holy ministers of Israel, that they should halowe themselves vnto the Lord, to set the holy arke of the Lord in the house that king Solomon the sonne of Dauid had builded,

4 And sayd, Ye shall no more beare the arke vpon your shoulders: and now serue the Lord your God, and take the charge of his people Israel, and prepare you after your villages and tribes,

5 According as king Dauid the king of Israel hath left in writing, and according as Solomon his sonne hath honourably prepared, and standing ech of you in that degree of authoritie which in the distribution was appointed vnto your fathers the Levites, in the presence of your brethren the children of Israel:

6 Offer the Passeeouer in order, and make ready the sacrifices for your brethren, and keepe the Passeeouer according to the commaundement of the Lord, which was given vnto Moses.

7 And vnto the people that was found there, Iosias gaue thirtie thousand lambes and kids, and thre thousand calves. These things were giuen of the kings owne possessions, according as he promised to the people, to the Priests, and to the Levites.

8 And Helkias, and Zacharias, and Sielus the gouernors of the temple, gaue to the Priests for the passeeouer, two thousand and six hundred sheepe, and three hundred calves.

9 Moreover Iechonias, and Samaias, and Nathanael his brother, and Sabias, and Ochiel, and Ioram, captaines ouer thousands, gaue to the Levites for the passeeouer, six thousand sheepe, and seuen hundred calves.

10 And when these things were brought to passee, the Priests and Levites stood goodly in their order, and had the vnleauened bread throughout the tribes.

11 And after the degrees of preeminence appointed to their fathers, to offer to the Lord in the sight of the people, according as it is written in the booke of Moses: and thus did they in the morning.

12 And they roasted the Easter lambe with fire, as according was: as for the offerings, they dight them in kettels and pots with good saouours, 13 And set them before all them of the people, and after ward they prepared for themselves and the Priests their brethren the somes of Aaron.

14 For the Priests offered the fat, vntill the time was expired, and the Levites prepared for themselves, and for the Priests their brethren the children of Aaron.

15 The holy singers also the children of Asaph, stood in their orders according as Dauid desired, to wit, Asaph, Zacharias, & Iouthun, which was appointed by the king.

16 Moreover, the porters and doore keepers stood by the doores and that diligently, so that none went out of his standing and seruite, for their brethren the Levites prepared for them.

17 Thus were all things performed that belonged to the offering of the Lord in that day, that they might hold the passeeouer, 18 And offer sacrifices vpon the altar of the Lord, according to the commaundement of king Iosias.

19 So the children of Israel which were then present, held an honourable Passeeouer, and the feast of sweete bread seuen dayes long:

20 Yea, such a Passeeouer was not kept in Israel, from the time of the Prophet Samuel.

21 And all the kings of Israel held not such an Easter as this which king Iosias held, and the Priests, the Levites, the Jewes, and all Israel, of all them that were at Hierusalem.

22 In the eighteenth yeere of the reigne of Iosias was this passeeouer kept.

23 And with an heart full of godlinesse did king Iosias rightly order all his workes before the Lord.

24 And the things that came to passee in his time, they were written of olde before those dayes, concerning those that sinned, and were bngodly against the Lord about all people and kingdomes, and how they grieved him in seruing sensible things, so that the wordes of the Lord rose by against Israel.

25 Now after all these acts of Iosias, it came to passee that Pharaos the king of Egypt came to Charcamis vpon Euphrates, to mouite warre: and Iosias went out against him.

¶ Or, vntill the euening time.

¶ Or, Azarias, and Eddimus,

¶ Or, his watch, or turne and course.

¶ Or, found dwelling at Hierusalem

26 But the king of Egypt sent to him, saying, What haue I to do with thee, O king of Iuda?
 27 I am not sent of the Lord God against thee, for my warre is vpon Euphrates, and now the Lord is with mee, yea, the Lord maketh diligent speed with me: depart from me, and be not against the Lord.
 28 Howbeit Iosias would not turne back his chariot from him, but vnderooke to fight with him, and hearkened not to the words of the Prophet Ieremie spoken by the mouth of the Lord:
 29 But pitched a battel against him in the field of Megaddo: and the princes pleased to King Iosias.
 30 Then saide the King vnto his seruants, Carry me away out of the battel, for I am very weak. And immediately his seruants tooke him away out of the front of the battel.
 31 Then gate hee by vpon his second charet, came to Hierusalem, died, and was buried in his fathers sepulchre.
 32 And in all Iury they mourned for Iosias, yea, Ieremie the Prophet lamented for Iosias, and the rulers also with their wiues made lamentation for him vnto this day, and it became a custome to be done continually in all the kindred of Israel.
 33 These things are written in the booke of the stories of the Kings of Iuda: and all the acts of Iosias, and his glory, and vnderstanding in the Lawe of the Lord, and the things which he had done before, and that was now recited, are written in the booke of the Kings of Israel and Iuda.
 34 And the people tooke Iechonias the sonne of Iosias, and made him King in stead of Iosias his father, when hee was twentie and three yeeres old.
 35 And hee reigned in Iuda and in Hierusalem three moneths: and then the king of Egypt put him downe from reigning in Hierusalem:
 36 And raised by a tax of the people, namely an hundred talents of siluer, and one talent of golde.
 37 The king of Egypt also made Iocachim his brother King of Iuda and Hierusalem.
 38 And thus hee bound Iocachim and his gouernours: but Saracen his brother hee apprehended, and led away with him into Egypt.
 39 Sitte and twentie yeeres old was Iocachim when hee was made King in the land of Iuda and Hierusalem, and he did euil before the Lord.
 40 Wherefoze against him Nabuchodonosor the King of Babylon came by, and bound him with bandes of yron, and caried him vnto Babylon.
 41 Nabuchodonosor also tooke of the holy vessels of the Lord, caried them away, and set them in his owne temple at Babylon.
 42 But all his acts, and his prophanation and reproche, are written in the Chronicles of the Kings.
 43 And Iocachim his sonne reigned in his steade. Hee was made King being eighteene yeeres old, 44 And reigned but three moneths and ten dayes in Hierusalem, and did euil before the Lord.
 45 So after a yere Nabuchodonosor sent, and caused him to bee brought vnto Babylon with the holy vessels of the Lord, 46 And made Zedechias king of Iuda & Hierusalem when he was twenty and one yeeres olde, and he reigned eleuen yeeres.

 47 And hee did euil also in the sight of the Lord, and cared not for the wordes that were spoken vnto him by the Prophet Ieremie from the mouth of the Lord.
 48 And where hee had made an othe vnto King Nabuchodonosor, he forswore himselfe by the Name of the Lord, and hardened his necke and heart, and transgressed the lawes of the Lord God of Israel.
 49 The gouernours also of the people and Priests did many things against the lawes, and passed all the pollutions of all nations, and defiled the Temple of the Lord which was sanctified in Hierusalem.
 50 Wherefoze the God of their fathers sent his messenger to call them backe, because hee spared them and his tabernacle also.
 51 But they had his messengers in derision: and looke when the Lord spake vnto them, they made a sport of his Prophets.
 52 This drew on so long till the Lord was wroth with his people for their great vngodlinesse, so that he caused the kings of the Chaldees to come by against them:
 53 Which sette their yong men with the sword, yea, euen in the compasse of their holy temple, and spared no body, neither yong man nor maiden, olde man nor childe among them.
 54 But they were all deliuered into their hands, and all the holy vessels of the Lord both great and small, with the vessels of the Arke of God: and they tooke and caried away the kings treasure into Babylon.
 55 As for the house of the Lord, they went by into it, and burnt it, brake downe the walles of Hierusalem, set fire vpon her towres,
 56 Destroyed all her noble buildings, and brought them to nought, and the people that were not slaine with the sword, he caried into Babylon:
 57 Which became seruants to him and his children, till the Persians reigned, to fulfill the word of the Lord spoken by the mouth of Ieremias:
 58 Till the land had fully taken her ease from them, which tooke that ease al the time she lacked her inhabitants, to the end and terme of seuentie yeeres.
 The ij. Chapter.
 1 Cyrus gaue leaue to the Iewes to returne. 13 The names of them that returned. 16 Their aduersaries did let their building: 17 and the kings letters for the same.
Nowe when King Cyrus reigned ouer the Persians in his first yere, when the Lord would performe the word that he had promised by the mouth of the Prophet Ieremie:
 2 The Lord raised by the spirit of Cyrus the King of the Persians, so that hee caused this writing to be proclaimed thorowout his whole Realme,

5 If there be any now of you that are of his people, let the Lord, even his Lord, bee with him, and let him goe by to Hierusalem that is in Judea, and build the house of the Lord of Israel, that is, the Lord that dwelleth in Hierusalem.

6 And all they that dwell round about that place shall helpe him, all that dwell in his place I say, whether it be with golde, with siluer,

7 with gifts, with hozles, and necessary cattell, and all other things that are brought with a free will to the house of the Lord at Hierusalem.

8 Then the principall men out of the tribes and billages of Juda and Benjamin stood by: so did the Priests also and the Levites, and all they whose minde the Lord had mooued to goe by, and to build the house of the Lord at Hierusalem.

9 And they that dwelt about them, helped them in all things, with siluer and gold, hozles, and cattell, and with many free gifts of many men, whose minds were stirred by thereto.

10 King Cyrus also brought forth the vessels and ornaments that were hallowed vnto the Lord, which Nabuchodonozor had caried a way from Hierusalem, and consecrated them to his idole and imag.

11 And hauing brought them forth, he deliuered them to Mithridates his treasurer.

12 And by him they were deliuered to Abasaris the deputie in Iurie.

13 And this was the number of them: a thousand golden cups, and a thousand of siluer, basons of siluer twentie and nine for the sacrifices, vials of gold thirtie, and of siluer two thousand foure hundred and ten, and a thousand other vessels.

14 So all the vessels of gold and siluer which were caried away, were five thousand foure hundred threescore and nine.

15 These were brought by Salmanasar, with them of the captiuitie, from Babylon to Hierusalem.

16 But in the time of Artaxerxes king of the Persians, Belemus and Mithridates, and Cabelius, and Rathumus, and Beletethmus, and Semellius the secretary with other that were ioyned to them, dwelling in Samaria and other places, wrote vnto him against them that dwelt in Judea and Hierusalem, these letters following: To the king Artaxerxes our lord.

17 Thy seruants, Rathumus the story writer, and Semellius the secretary, and the rest of their counsell, and the iudges that are in Coelosyria and Phenice:

18 Be it now knowen vnto our lord the king, that the Jewes which are come by from you vnto vs, into the rebellious and wicked city, begin to build the market places, and to make by the walles about it, and to set by the temple anew.

19 Now if this citie and the walles thereof be set by againe, they shall not onely refuse to giue tributes and taxes, but also rebell vnto our lord the king.

20 And forsomuch as they take this in hand now about the temple, we thought it reason to thinke now to loone of it:

21 But to the w<sup>it</sup> vnto our lord the king, to the intent, that if it please the king, he may cause it to be sought in the bookes of olde,

22 And thou shalt find in records hereof written, and shalt vnderstand that this citie hat i<sup>ij</sup> alway bene rebellious and disobedient, that it hath troubled kings and cities,

23 And that the Jewes were rebellious, and rayed alwayes warres therein: for the which cause this citie is wasted.

24 Wherefore now we wee certifie our lord the King, that if this citie bee builded and occupied againe, and the walles thereof set by anew, thou canst haue no passage into Coelosyria and Phenice.

25 Then wrote the King to Rathumus the story writer, to Beletethmus, to Semellius the Scribe, and to the other officers and dwellers in Samaria, and Syria, and Phenice, after this maner.

26 I haue read the Epistle which ye sent vnto me: therefore I commanded to make diligent search, and haue found that this citie hath cuer resisted kings.

27 That the same people are disobedient, and haue caused much war, and that mighty kings haue reigned in Hierusalem, which also haue raised by taxcs of Coelosyria and Phenice.

28 Wherefore I haue commanded to forbid those men that they shall not build by the citie, and heed to be taken that there be no moze done in it:

29 And that they proceed no further in those wicked workes, for so much as it might be occasion of trouble vnto Princes.

30 Nowe when Rathumus and Semellius the Scribe had read the writing of King Artaxerxes, they gate them together, and came in all the haste to Hierusalem, with an hoste of hozlemen, and with much people on foote, 31 And forbade them to build: and so they left off from building of the Temple, vnto the second yeere of king Darius, king of the Persians.

The iij. Chapter.

1 The feast of Darius. 16 The three wise sentences.

King Darius made a great feast vnto his seruants, vnto all his court, and to all the officers of Media and Persia,

2 Pea, to all the gouernours and captaines, & Licutenants that were vnder him, from India vnto Ethiopia, an hundred & twentie and seuen countreis.

3 So when they had eaten and drunken, being satisfied, and were gone home againe, Darius the King went into his chamber, layd him downe to sleepe, and after that a waked.

4 Then the three yong men that kept the kings person, and watched his body, communed among themselves, and spake one to another.

5 Let euery one of vs speake a sentence, and looke who shall ouercome, and whose sentence may seeme wiser then the others, vnto him shall king Darius giue great gifts, and great things in token of victozy:

6 As to weare purple, to drinke in gold, and to sleepe in golde, and a chariot with bridles of gold, and an head tyze of fine lincn, and a chaine about his necke:

7 Pea, he shall sit next to Darius, because of his wisdom, and shall be called Darius counsellor.

it, and layed it vnder king Darius pillow,
 9 And sayd, when the king ariseth, they would giue him the writings, and looke whole word the king & the three princes of Persia shall iudge to be the most wisely spoken, the same shall haue the victorie, as it was appointed.

10 One wrote, wine is a strong thing.
 11 The second wrote, The king is strong.
 12 The third wrote, women haue very much strength, but about all things, the truely beareth away the victorie.

13 Now when the king was risen by, they tooke their writings, and deliuered them vnto him, and so he read them.

14 Then hee sent forth to call all his chiefe lords of Persia and of Media, and the rulers, and the captaines, and lieutenants, and counsils:

15 And when hee had set him downe in the councell, the writings were read before them.

16 And he commanded to call for the yong men, that they might declare their meanings themselves by mouth, So they were sent for, and came in.

17 And then he sayd vnto them, She w<sup>ch</sup> vs, and make vs to vnderstand what the things are that yee haue written. Then beganne the first, which had spoken of the strength of wine, 18 And sayd thus, O ye men, how strong is wine, that deceiueth all men which drinke it?

19 It maketh the kings mind and the fatherlesse to be both one, the bondmans and the free, the poore mans and the rich, 20 It turneth also euery thought into ioy and gladnesse, so that a man rememb<sup>reth</sup> neither heauinesse nor debt.

21 And it maketh euery heart thinke it selfe rich, so that a man rememb<sup>reth</sup> neither king nor gouernour, and it maketh to speake all things by talents.

22 Whoeouer, when men haue drunke, they forget all friendship and brotherly faithfulness, and a litle after they draw out swords:

23 And afterwards, when they are from the wine, they remember nothing what was done.

24 O ye men, is not wine the strongest, that thus enforceth men to do? And when he had spoken thus, he held his peace.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 Of the strength of a king. 13 Of the strength of women. 34 Of the strength of truth, which sentence is approued, 47 and his petition granted.

When the second, that had spoken of the strength of the king, began to say,

2 O ye men, are not men strongest of all, that conquere both by land and sea, and all the kings that are in them?

3 Now is the king stronger, as lord of all these things, and that hath the dominion ouer them: and looke what he commandeth them, it is all done.

4 If hee bid them the one against the other to make warre, they do it: if he send them out against the enemies, they goe, and breake downe mountaines, walles, and towres.

5 They slay and are slaine, and ouerpasse not the kings commandement: if they get the victorie, they bring all to the king, so well the spoile as other things.

6 Like wise the other, that meddle not with warres and fighting, but till the ground: when they haue sowed and reaped, they bring to the king, and compel one another to pay his tribute vnto the king.

7 And if the king, though he be but one man, command to kill, they kill, if he command to forgiue, they forgiue:

8 If he command to smite, they smite, if he bid forgiue a way, they giue a way, if he command to build, they build:

9 If hee command to breake downe, they breake downe, if he command to plant, they plant.

10 So the common people and the rulers are obedient vnto him, and the king in the mean season sitteth him downe, eateth and drinketh, and taketh his rest.

11 And these keepe him round about, and not one of them dare get him out of the way to doe his owne businesse, but must be obedient vnto the king at a word.

12 Judge ye now, O ye men, how should not the king go farre about, when in such sort he is obeyed? And when he had spoken thus, he held his tongue.

13 The third, whose name was Zorobabel, which had spoken of women, and of truth, began to say after this maner.

14 O ye men, it is not the great king, it is not the multitude of men, neither is it wine that excelleth, who is it then that ruleth them, or hath the lordship ouer them? is it not women?

15 Women haue borne the king, and all the people which beare rule by sea and by land.

16 And euen of them were they borne, and they brought those by that planted the vines, whereof the wine commeth.

17 They make garments for men, they get honour vnto men, and without women can not men continue.

18 Yea, if they haue gathered together golde & siluer, or any other precious thing, do they not loue a woman for her comly shape and beauty?

19 And letting all those things goe, doe they not gaze, and euen with open mouth fixe their eyes fast on her? and haue not all men more desire vnto her, then vnto siluer and golde, or any maner of precious thing?

20 A man leaueth his owne father that brought him by, leaueth his owne naturall countrey, and cleaueth vnto his wife.

21 Yea, hee leueth his life with his wife, and rememb<sup>reth</sup> neither father nor mother, nor countrey.

22 By this also yee must needs knowe, that women haue dominion ouer you: doe ye not labour and trauell, and giue and bring all to the woman?

23 A man taketh his sword, and goeth his way to steale, to kill, to murder, to faile vpon the sea, and vpon riuers.

24 And seeth a lion, and goeth in the darknesse, and when he hath stolen, deceiued, and robbed, he bringeth it vnto his loue.

25 Wherefore a man leueth his wife better then father and mother:

26 Yea, many there be that run out of their wits, and become bondmen for their wifes sake.

27 Many one also haue perished, haue erred, and sinned also for women.

28 And now do ye not beleue me? is not the king great in his power? doe not all regions feare to touch him?

29 Yet did I see him, and Apage the daughter of the great king Partacus the kings concubine sat beside the king vpon the right hand,

30 And tooke off his crowne from his head, and set it vpon her owne head, and stroke the king with her left hand,

31 And there while steadily the king looked vpon her with open mouth: if he laughed vpon him, he laughed also: but if she tooke any displeasure with him, the king was faine to flatter her, and to giue her good words, till he had gotten her fauour againe.

32 O ye men, are not women then stronger, that do these things?

33 Then the king & the princes looked one vpon another: so he began to speake of the trueth.

34 O ye men, are not women stronger? Great is the earth, high is the heauen, swift is the course of the sunne, he compasseth the heauen round about, and fetcheth his course againe to his owne place in one day.

35 Is hee not excellent that maketh these things? therefore great is the trueth, and stronger then all things.

36 All the earth calleth vpon trueth, the heauen praileth it, all woakes shake and tremble at it, and with it is no vnrighteous thing.

37 Wine is wicked, the king is wicked, women are wicked, all the children of men are wicked, yea, and such are all their wicked woakes, and there is no trueth in them, in their vnrighteousnesse also shall they be destroyed, and perill:

38 As for the trueth, it endureth, and is alway strong, it liueth, and conquereth for euermore world without end.

39 With her there is no exception or difference of persons, but the doth that iust is, and refraineth from all bniuel and wicked things, and all men do well like of her woakes.

40 In the iudgement of it there is no vnrighteous thing, and she is the strength, kingdome, power, and maiesty of all ages. Blessed be the God of trueth.

41 And with that he held his peace: and all the people cried, and then sayd, Great is trueth, and aboue all.

42 Then sayd the king vnto him, Aske what thou wilt, moze then is appointed in the writing, and we shall giue it thee, for thou art found wiser then thy companions, thou shalt sit next me, and shalt be called my kinsman.

43 Then sayd he vnto the king, Remember thy promise and how which thou hast vowed and promised in the day when thou camest to the kingdome, to build by Hierusalem, 44 And to send againe all the vessels and iuwels that were taken away out of Hierusalem, which Cyrus set apart when hee vowed to destroy Babylon, and to send them againe thither.

45 And thy minde was also to build by the Temple, which the Edomites burnt, when Iuda was destroyed by the Chaldees.

46 And now this onely, O king, is the thing that I require a desire of thee, this is the princely liberality that I aske of thee, I desire therefore, that thou performe the vow, which thou with thine owne mouth hast made vnto the king of heauen.

47 Then Darius the king stood by, and kissed him, wrote him letters vnto all the deputies and lieutenants, to all the lords and nobles, that they should conuey him foorth, and all them that went by with him, to build Hierusalem.

48 He wrote letters also vnto all the lieutenants that were in Coelozia and Phenice, and vnto them in Libanus, that they should bring Cedar trees from Libanus vnto Hierusalem, and build the city with him.

49 Moreover, he wrote for all the Jewes that were gone out of his realme into Jury concerning their freedome, that no officer, no ruler, no lieutenant, nor steward, should enter into their doores:

||Or, kingdome.

50 And that all their land which they kept, should be free, and not tributarie: and that the Edomites should giue ouer the cities and villages of the Jewes which they had taken in:

51 Yea, and that there should be perely giuen twenty talents to the building of the Temple, vntill the time that it were finished:

52 And to maintaine the whole burnt offerings vpon the altar euery day (as they had a commandement to offer seuentene) other ten talents euery yeere.

53 And that all they which came from Babylon to build the citie, should haue free libertie, they and their children, and all the Priests that went away.

54 He wrote also concerning the charges, and the Priests garment wherein they minister.

55 And likewise for the charges of the Leuites, to be giuen them, vntill the day that the house were finished, and Hierusalem builded by.

56 And hee commanded, that all they that watched the city, should haue their pensions and wages.

57 He sent away also all the vessels that Cyrus had separated from Babylon: and all that Cyrus had giuen in commandement, the same charged he also that it should be done, and sent vnto Hierusalem.

58 Nowe when this yoong man was gone forth, he lifted by his face to heauen toward Hierusalem, and prailed the king of heauen, 59 And sayd, Of thee commeth victorie, of thee commeth wisdom, and thine is the glorie, and I am thy seruant.

60 Blessed art thou which hast giuen me wisdom, for to thee I acknowledge it, O Lord thou God of our fathers.

61 And so he tooke the letters, & went out, and came vnto Babylon, and told it all his brethren.

62 And they prailed the God of their fathers, that he had giuen them freedome and libertie, 63 To go by, and to build Hierusalem and the Temple, wherein the Name of the Lord is called vpon: and they reioyced with instruments of musicke and gladnesse seuen dayes long.

||Or, where his name is renowmed.

33 The sonnes of the seruants of Solomon, the sonnes of Hazophereth, the sonnes of Phuruda, the sonnes of Ceclai, the sonnes of Lozon, the sonnes of Jdael, the sonnes of Saphelia.

34 The sonnes of Agia, the sonnes of Phareth, the sonnes of Sabin, the sons of Spattia, the sonnes of Maaias, the sonnes of Gae, the sonnes of Addu, the sonnes of Subah, the sonnes of Apherra, the sonnes of Barodis, the sonnes of Sabat, the sonnes of Allon:

34 All the Ministers of the Temple, and the sonnes of the seruants of Solomon, were three hundred seuentie and two.

35 These came by from Theilmiah and Chelhartha, Carathalat and Alar leading them:

37 Neither could they see their families, nor their stocke, how they were of Israel. The sonnes of Palaias, the sonnes of Thubia, the sonnes of Pecodan, sixe hundred fiftie and two.

38 Of the Priests that executed the office of the Priesthood, and were not found, the sonnes of Hobia, the sonnes of Hacor, the sonnes of Abdus, which married Agia, one of the daughters of Barzeletus,

39 And was named after him: The writing of the same kindred was sought in the register of their generation, but it was not found, & therefore were they forbidden to execute the office of the priesthood.

40 For vnto them sayd Nehemias and Atharias, that they should haue no portion in the sanctuary, till there rose by an high Priest that were well instruct in the plaine cleerenesse and truth.

41 So of Israel from them of twelue yeeres old, and children, they were all in number fortie and two thousand three hundred and threescore, besides men seruants and women seruants.

42 Their seruants and handmaidens, were seven thousand three hundred fortie and seven. The singing men and singing women, two hundred fortie and five,

43 Four hundred thirty and five camels, seven thousand thirty and six horses, two hundred forty & five mules, five thousand five hundred twenty and five beasts bled to the yoke.

44 And of their rulers also after their families, when they came to the temple of God that is in Hierusalem, there were that bowed to set by the house againe in his own place, according to their ability :

45 And to giue into the holy treasure of the works, a thousand pounds of golde, five thousand of silver, & an hundred precious garments.

46 And so dwelt the Priests and the Leuites, and the people in Hierusalem, and in the countrey thereabout, the singers also and the porters, and all Israel in their villages;

47 But when the seventh moneth came, and when the children of Israel were euery man in his owne, they came all together with one consent into the open place of the gate, which is towards the East.

48 And there Iesus the sonne of Iosedec, and his brethren the Priests, & Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and his brethren, rising by, made ready the altar of the God of Israel.

49 To offer whole burnt sacrifices vpon it, so as it is written in the Law of Moses the man of God.

50 And thither were gathered against them, diuers of other nations of the land : but they dressed the altar in his owne place, although all the nations in the land were enemies to them, and bered them : and they offered sacrifices to the Lord both morning and euening.

51 And also they held the feast of tabernacles as it is commanded in the Law, and sacrifices dayly as it was appertaining :

52 And after that also the continuall oblations, and the offerings of the Sabbathys, and of the new moneths, and of all holy feasts.

53 And all they which had made any vow to God, beganne to offer sacrifice to God, from the first day of the seventh moneth, although the Temple of the Lord was not yet built by.

54 And they gaue vnto the masons and carpenters, money, meat and drinke, with cheerefulness.

55 Vnto them of Sidon also, and Tyre, they gaue carres, that they should bring Cedar trees from Libanus, which should be brought by flote to the haueu Joppe, according as it was commanded them by Cyrus king of the Persians.

56 And in the second yeere and second moneth, came into the Temple of God at Hierusalem, Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Iesus the sonne of Iosedec, and their brethren, and the Priests and Leuites, and all they that were come vnto Hierusalem out of the captiuitie of Babylon.

57 And they layd the foundation of the house of God, in the new moone of the second moneth, in the second yeere that they were come to Iury and Hierusalem.

58 And they appointed the Leuites, that were aboue twenty yeeres olde, ouer the works of the Lord. So Iesus and his sonne and brethren assisted, and Cadmiel also his brother, and the sonnes of Hababon, with the sonnes of Joda, the sonne of Eliadon, and his sonnes and brethren, euen all the Leuites with one accord followed on earnestly to aduance the works in the house of God : so the workmen built by the temple of the Lord.

59 And the Priests stood, and had their garments, with muscical instruments, and trumpets, and the Leuites the sonnes of Asaph had Cymbals, 60 Giving thanks and praise vnto the Lord, according as Dauid the king of Israel had ordeined.

61 And they sung with loud voices songs to the praise of the Lord, because his mercie and glory is for euer in Israel.

62 And all the people blew out with trumpets, and cried with a loud voice, praising the Lord together for the rearing by of the house of the Lord.

63 There came also from among the Priests and Leuites, and of the chiefest, according to the tribes and kindreds, to wit, the elders, which had seene the former house,

64 To the building of this, with great crye and great mourning, many also with trumpets and great ioy cried with loud voice :

65 Insomuch that the trumpets might not well be heard for the weeping and mourning of the people: yet there was a great multitude that blew trumpets maruellously, so that it was heard farre off.

66 Wherefore, when the * enemies of the tribes of Iuda and Benjamin heard it, they came to know what that noise of trumpets should meane.

67 And they perceiued that they which were come againe out of the captiuitie, built the temple by anew vnto the Lord God of Israel.

68 So they went to Zorobabel and Iesus, and to the rulers of the villages, and sayd vnto them, Shall we build with you also ?

69 For wee likewise, as you, doe obey your Lord, and do sacrifice vnto him, from the dayes of Abazareth the king of Assyria, which brought vs hither.

70 When Zorobabel, and Iesus, and the rulers of the villages of Israel sayd vnto them, It doth not agree that ye should build the temple of our God with vs.

71 We our selues alone will build vnto the Lord of Israel, * as is meet, and like as Cyrus the king of the Persians hath commanded vs.

72 But the Heathen in the land made them sluggish that were in Iury, and stundzed them, and letted their buildings,

73 And by their ambushments, seditions, and conspiracies, stopped that the building could not be finished, all the time that king Cyrus liued, so that they put off the building for the space of two yeeres, vntill the reigne of king Darius.

The vj. Chapter.

1 Of Aggeus and Zacharias. 2 The building of the temple. 3 Sisinnes would let them. 7 His letters to Darius. 23 The kings answere to the contrary.

1. Esdr. 5. 1.

Notwithstanding, in the * second yeere of the reigne of Darius, Aggeus and Zacharias the sonne of Iddo the prophets, prophesied vnto the Jewes, and to them in Iery and Hierusalem, euen in the Name of the Lord God of Israel.

2 Then Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Iesus the sonne of Iosedec stood vp, and beganne to build the house of the Lord at Hierusalem, when the Prophets of the Lord were with them, and helped them.

3 At the same time came Sisinnes the gouernour of Syria and Phenice, with Sathrabuzanes and his companions, and said vnto them,

4 Who hath bidden and commaunded you to build this house, to make this roofo, and al other things againe? and who are the || workemen that build them?

||Or, builders that did these things.

5 Neuerthelesse, the elders of the Jewes had such grace of the Lord, after hee had visited the captiuitie,

6 That they were not letted from building, vntill the time that king Darius was certified thereof, and an answer receiued from him.

7 The copie of the letters which hee wrote, and sent vnto Darius. Sisinnes gouernour of Syria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, which are head rulers in Syria and Phenice, send their salutation vnto Darius the king.

8 Wee certifie our lord the king, that wee came into the land of Iurie, and went to Hierusalem, where we found the ancients of the Jewes, that were of the captiuitie, in the citie of Hierusalem, 9 Building an house vnto the Lord, great and new, of heuen and colly stones, and the timber already layd vpon the walles.

10 Yea, they make great haste with the work, and it goeth worth prosperously in their hands, and with great diligence and worship it is made.

11 Then asked wee the elders, saying, By whose commandment build you by this house, and lay the foundations of these works?

12 Which we demanded of them, to the intent that we might giue knowledge vnto thee, and write vnto thee of those that gouerned it: and we required of them their names in writing: that were their chiefe leaders to it.

13 So they gaue vs this answere, we are the seruants of the Lord, which made heauen and earth.

5. King. 6. 2.

14 * And as for this house, it was builded manie yeeres agoe, by a king of Israel, great and strong, and was finished.

4. Kin. 24. 1

15 But when our fathers prouoked God vnto wrath, and sinned against the Lord of Israel, which is in heauen, he * gaue them ouer into the power of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, of the Chaldees:

1. Cor. 2. 9.

16 * which brake do wne the house, and burnt

it, and carried away the people prisoners vnto Babylon.

17 Neuerthelesse, in the * first yeere that king Cyrus reigned ouer the countreys of Babylon, Cyrus the king wrote and commaunded to build by this house againe.

1. Esdr.

18 And the holy vessels of golde, and of siluer, that Nabuchodonosor had carried away out of the house at Hierusalem, and had dedicated them in his owne temple: those brought Cyrus forth againe out of the temple at Babylon, and deliuered them to Zorobabel, and to Sanabassar the ruler:

19 Commanding him that he should carie away those same vessels, and put them in the temple at Hierusalem, and that the temple of the Lord should be built in his owne place.

20 Then the same Sanabassar being come hither, layd the foundations of the house of the Lord at Hierusalem, and from that to this, being still a building, it is not yet fully ended.

21 Now therefore, O king, if thou thinkest it good, let it be sought in the libraries and rolles of king Cyrus:

22 And if it be found then, that the building of the house of the Lord at Hierusalem hath bene done with the counsel and consent of king Cyrus, and if the lord our king be so minded, let him giue answere vnto vs thereof.

23 Then commaunded king Darius to seeke in the kings libraries at Babylon: and so at Gebatane, a tower in the region of Media, there was found a place where these things were layd by for || memoery.

||Or, remembrance.

24 * In the first yeere of the reigne of Cyrus, the same king Cyrus commaunded that the house of the Lord at Hierusalem should be builded againe, where they do sacrifice with the continuall fire.

25 whose height shal be sixtie cubits, and the bredth sixtie cubits, with threerowes of heuen stones, and one rowe of new wood, and of that countrey, and the expences thereof to be giuen out of the house of king Cyrus:

26 And the holy vessels of the house of the Lord, both of golde & of siluer, that Nabuchodonosor tooke out of the house at Hierusalem, and brought to Babylon, should be restored to the house at Hierusalem, & be set in the place where it was before.

27 And also he commaunded that Sisinnes the gouernour of Syria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, and other constituted rulers in Syria & Phenice, should take heed not to meddle with that place, but to suffer Zorobabel the seruant of the Lord, and gouernour of Iuda, and the elders of the Jewes, to build the house of the Lord in that place.

28 I haue commaunded also to haue it built by whole againe, & that they be diligent to helpe those that be of the captiuitie of the Jewes, till the house of the Lord be finished,

29 And out of the tribute of Coelosyria and Phenice, a portion diligently to be giuen those men vnto the offerings of the Lord, and the same to be deliuered vnto Zorobabel the officer, that he there withall may ordeine oren, rammes, and lambes:

30 And also corne, salt, wine, and oile, and that continually every yeere, after the expence which the priests that be at Hierusalem shall restifie to be made dayly, this shalbe giuen vnto them without delay :

31 That they may offer sacrifices daily to the highest God, for the king and for his children, and to pray for their liues.

32 And he commanded also that whosoever should breake any point of the aforesaid and foredecreed things, or make it void : of his owne goods should a tree be taken, and he thereon be hanged, and all his goods seized vnto the king.

33 The Lord therefore whose name is there called vpon, root out and destroy euery king and nation that stretcheth out his hand to hinder or hurt and indammage that house of the Lord in Hierusalem.

34 ¶ Darius the king haue ordeined, that according to these things it bee done with diligence.

The vij. Chapter.

1 Sifnnes & his companions follow the kings commandment, and helpe the Iewes to build the temple. 5 The time that it was built. 10 They keepe the Passeeouer.

HEN Sifnnes the gouernour in Coelofrya and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, obeyed the things that king Darius had ordeined,

2 And were diligent assisters in the holie works, working with the ancients and gouernours of the Sanctuary.

3 And so the holy works went forth and prospered, when Aggeus and Zacharias the Prophets prophesied.

4 And they performed all things through the commandment of the Lord God of Israel, and with consent of Cyrus, Darius, and Artaxerres, kings of Persia.

5 And thus was the holy house finished in the thre & twentieth day of the moneth Adar, in the first yere of Darius, king of the Persians.

6 And the children of Israel, the Priests and the Leuites, and other that were of the captiuitie, that had any charge, did according to the things witten in the booke of Moses.

7 And to the dedication of the Temple of the Lord, they offered an hundred oxen, two hundred rammes, foure hundred lambes,

8 And twelue goats, for the sinnes of all the people of Israel, after the number of the chiefe of the tribes of Israel.

9 The Priests also and the Leuites stood arrayed in their long robes, after their kindreds, in all the works of the Lord God of Israel, according to the booke of Moses, and the porters at euery doore.

10 And the children of Israel, with those that were come out of captiuitie, held the Passeeouer the foureteenth day of the first moneth, after that the priests and the Leuites were sanctified.

11 They that were of the captiuitie, were not all sanctified together : but the Leuites were all sanctified together.

12 And so they offered the Passeeouer for all them of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the Priests, and for themselves.

13 And the children of Israel that came out of captiuitie, did eat, all they that had separated themselves from the abominations of the people of that land, and sought the Lord :

14 And they kept the feast of the vnleauened bread seuen dayes long, making mery before the Lord :

15 That the Lord had turned the counsell of the king of Assyria towards them, to strengthen their hands vnto the works of the Lord God of Israel.

The viij. Chapter.

1 Esdras commeth from Babylon to Hierusalem. 10 The copie of the commission giuen by king Artaxerxes. 26 Esdras giueth thanks to the Lord.

AND after these, when Artaxerres the king of the Persians reigned, there went vnto him Esdras the sonne of Saraias, the sonne of Serias, the sonne of Helchiah, the sonne of Sallum,

2 The sonne of Sadoc, the sonne of Achitob, the sonne of Amarias, the sonne of Ezias, the sonne of Menuerath, the sonne of Saraias, the sonne of Santias, the sonne of Boccas, the sonne of Abisun, the sonne of Phinees, the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaron the first Priest.

3 This Esdras went by from Babylon, being a Scribe of good vnderstanding in the Law of Moses, that was giuen by the Lord God of Israel.

4 And the king fauoured him, and did him great worship and honour, after all his desires.

5 There went by with him also certaine of the children of Israel, of the Priests, of the Leuites, of the Singers, porters, and Ministers of the Temple vnto Hierusalem.

6 In the seuenth yere of the reigne of king Artaxerres, in the fifth moneth, which was the seuenth yere (for they went from Babylon in the first day of the first moneth,

7 And came to Hierusalem according as God gaue them speed in their iourney.)

8 For Esdras had gotten great knowledge to omit nothing of that was in the law and the commandments of the Lord, and to teach all Israel all the ordinances and iudgements.

9 The copie of the commission which Artaxerres the king wrote, and that was giuen to Esdras the Priest & Reader of the law of the Lord, this is it that followeth.

10 King Artaxerres sendeth his greeting vnto Esdras the Priest and Reader of the Law of the Lord.

11 ¶ I hauing weighed things with pity, haue ordeined & charged, if there be any of the Jewes, of the priests and Leuites in my realme, which desireth and is content to go with thee vnto Israel, that he may do it.

12 Therefore so many as long there after, let them depart together, and go with thee, like as I am content and my seuen friends my counsellers,

13 To see what they do at Hierusalem and in Iurie, conueniently, according as thou hast in the law of the Lord :

14 And to bring the gifts vnto God the Lord of Israel, that I and my friends haue promised to Hierusalem, and all the siluer and golde that in the countrey of Babylon may be found pertaining to the Lord in Hierusalem, 15 With the thing that is giuen of the people to the Lord their Gods Temple at Hierusalem:

Or, in all his iutes.

Or, righte-oulnesse.

Or, king-dome.

Or, vowed men, to wit, Elezias, and Amias, and ten men of their brethren with them.

56 And I weighed them the gold, and the siluer, & the holy vessels of the house of our Lord, which the king and his counsaile, and his princes, and whole Israel had giuen.

57 And when I had weighed it, I deliuered vnto them six hundred and fifty talents of siluer, and an hundred talents in siluer vessels, and an hundred talents of gold, 58 And twentie golden basons, and twelue vessels of brasse, euen sine brasse, like shining golde.

59 And I sayd vnto them, Ye are holy vnto the Lord, and the vessels are holy, and the gold and the siluer is promised vnto the Lord God of our fathers.

60 Be diligent now, and keepe it vntill the time that ye deliuer it to the chiefe of the Priests and Levites, and to the principall men of the families of Israel in Ierusalem, in the chambers of the house of our God.

61 So the Priests and the Levites which receiued of me the gold, the siluer, and the vessels brought it vnto Ierusalem vnto the temple.

62 And from the *riuer Chia we brake by the twelfth day of the first moneth, according to the mighty hand of our Lord which was with vs: and from the beginning of our iourney, the Lord deliuered vs from euery enemy, so that we came vnto Ierusalem.

63 And when the third day was past, the weighed gold and siluer was deliuered in the house of the Lord, on the fourth day, vnto Warimoth the Priest, and sonne of Jozi:

64 And with him was Eleazar the sonne of Phinces, and with them were Iolabbus the sonne of Iesur, and Moeth the sonne of Sabbanus, Levites: all was deliuered them by number and weight.

65 And all the weight of them was written by the same houre.

66 After that, they that were come out of captiuitie, offered sacrifice vnto the Lord God of Israel, euen twelue oxen for all Israel, fourescore and sixteene rammes, 67 Threescore & twelue sheepe, twelue goats for saluation, all in sacrifice to the Lord.

68 And the Kings commission deliuered they vnto the Kings stewards, and to the gouernours of Coelosyria and Phenice, who honoured the people and the temple of God.

69 Now when these things were done, the rulers came vnto me, and sayd,

70 The *nation of Israel, the princes, the Priests and Levites, haue not put away from them the strange people of the land, nor the uncleannesse of the Gentiles: to wit, of the Chanaanites, Bethites, Pherezites, Jebulites, and the Moabites, Egyptians, and Chomites:

71 For both they and their sonnes haue mingled themselves with the daughters of them, and the holy seede is mirt with the strange people of the land: and since the beginning of the affairs, the rulers and head men haue bene partakers of this wickednesse.

72 And as soone as I had heard these things, immediately I rent my clothes and the holy garment, and pulled off the haire of my head and my beard, and sate me downe sorrowfull and heauie.

73 So all they that were moued through the word of the Lord God of Israel, came vnto me whilest I wept for the iniquitie: but I sate still full of heauinesse vntill the euening sacrifice.

74 Then stood I by from fasting, hauing rent clothes, and the holy garment, & kneeled downe vpon my knees, and helde out my hands vnto the Lord, 75 And sayd, O Lord, *I am confounded and ashamed before thy face.

76 For our sinnes are become many, euen aboue our heads, and our ignorances are lifted vp, euen vnto heauen:

77 For since the time of our fathers, we are in great sinne vnto this day.

78 And for the *sinnes of vs, and our fathers, we, with our brethren, and with our kings, and with our Priests, haue bene giuen by vnto the Kings of the earth, into the sword, and into captiuitie, and became a spoile with confusion and shame vnto this day.

79 And now, O Lord God, howe great is the mercy that we haue gotten of thee, in that thou hast left vs a roote and a name in the place of thy Sanctuarie, 80 And that thou hast discovered to vs a light in the house of the Lord our God, and hast giuen vs meate in the time of our seruitude?

81 And when we were in captiuitie, we were not forsaken of the Lord our God: but he made the Kings of Persia gracious and fauourable vnto vs, so that they gaue vs victuals and meate, 82 Yea, and honoured the temple of our Lord, and repaired the wasted places of Sion, & gaue vs assurance in Iurie and Ierusalem.

83 And now, O Lord, what shall we say, hauing all these things in possession? for wee haue broken thy commandements, which thou gauest vnto vs by the hands of thy seruants the prophets, saying,

84 *Because the land which ye goe to possess as an heritage, is a land defiled with the uncleannesse and filthinesse of the strangers of the land, and with their abomination they haue polluted it altogether:

85 Therefore now shall yee not iointly their daughters vnto your sonnes, neither marry your daughters vnto their sonnes.

86 Moreover, ye shall neuer seeke to make peace with them, that ye may increase and eate the best in the land, and that ye may leaue the inheritance of the land vnto your childzen for euermore.

87 As for the things that are come to passe, they come all for our wicked workes and great sinnes: for thou, O Lord, hast made our sinnes light, 88 And giuen vs such a roote: but we haue turned backe againe, so that we haue broken thy lawe, and mingled our selues with the uncleannesse of the outlandish heathen.

89 Mightest not thou be angry with vs to destroy vs, so that thou shouldst leaue vs neither roote, seede, nor name?

90 O Lord God of Israel, thou art true: for our roote endureth yet vnto this present day.

91 And behold, now are we before thee in our sinnes, neither can we stand before thee for them.

92 *And when Elezias with his prayer had knowledged the sinne, weeping, and lying flat bpou the ground befoze the temple, there gathered vnto him from Hierusalem, a great multitude of men & women, yong men and maidens: for there was a very great weeping and mourning among the multitude.

93 Then Iechonias the sonne of Jeheli, one of the children of Israel, cried out, and sayd, O Edzras, wee haue sinned against the Lord God, because we haue married strange women of the nations of the land.

94 And nowe all Israel hangeth in doubt: wee will sweare an oathe theresoze vnto the Lorde, that wee shall put away all our wiues which wee haue taken of the heathen, with their children:

95 Like as it may seeme good to thee, and to all those that obey the law of the Lord.

96 Stand vp, and put it in execution: for to thee doeth this matter appertaine, and wee are with thee to adde thee strength.

97 So Edzras arose, and tooke an othe of the chiefe of the Priestes and Leuites of all Israel, to doe after these things: and they sware.

Theix. Chapter.

7 After Edzras had read the law for the strange wiues, 18 they promised to put them away.

Then Edzras * rising from the court of the temple, went to the chamber of Ioannan, the sonne of Eliab,

2 And remained there, and did cate no meate, nor drinke, weeping for the great wickednesse of the people.

3 And there was made a Proclamation in all Iurie, and at Hierusalem, for all them that were of the captiuitie, that they should gather together at Hierusalem,

4 And that whosoever met not there within two or thre dayes, according as the elders that bare rule appointed, their cattel should be sessed to the sic of the Temple, and hee be excluded from them that were of the captiuitie.

5 And in thre dayes were all they of the tribe of Iuda and Benjamin gathered together at Hierusalem, the twentieth day of the ninth moneth.

6 And the whole multitude sate trembling in the court of the temple, for it was winter.

7 So Edzras arose vp, and sayd vnto them, Ye haue done bnrightheadly, in that ye haue taken outlandish wiues to marriage, and so to increase the finnes of Israel.

8 And now knowledg the same, and giue praife vnto the Lord God of our fathers:

9 And performe his will, departing from the heathen of the land, and from the outlandish wiues.

10 Then cried the whole multitude, and said with a loud boike, Like as thou hast spoken, so will we doe.

11 But forasmuch as the people are manie, and winter season, so that wee may not stand without the houte, and because this worke is not a thing that can bee finished in a day or two, seeing wee be many that haue sinned in these things:

12 We deine theresoze that the rulers of the multitude, and they of our families that haue strange wiues, tarié.

13 And let the Priestes and Iudges come out of euery place in their time appointed, till they swage the wrath of the Lord in this businesse.

14 Then Jonathas the sonne of Azaiel, and Ezechias the sonne of Thecan, receiued the charge of this matter: and Hosollam, & Lewis, and Sabatheus helped thereto.

15 And they that were of the captiuitie, did according to all these things.

16 And Edzras the Priest chose vnto him the principall men from among the fathers, and them all by name: and in the first day of the tenth moneth, they sate together, to examine this matter.

17 And so the matter was a determining concerning the men that had married strange wiues, vntill the new Moone of the first moneth.

18 And of the Priestes that had mixt themselves with outlandish wiues, there were found,

19 Of the sonnes of Iesu the sonne of Joseder, and his brethren, Matheias, Eleazar, Joribus, and Joadanus:

20 Which offered themselves to put away their wiues, and to offer a ramme vnto reconciliation for their purgation.

21 And of the sonnes of Emmer, Ananias, and Zabdeus, and Canes, and Samaius, and Hiercel, and Azarias.

22 And of the sonnes of Phsaiu, Elionas, Mallias, Emaelus, and Nathanael, and Dideus, and Talsas.

23 And of the Leuites, Jozabadus, and Semis, and Colius, who was called Calitas, and Patheus, and Dudas, and Jonas.

24 Of the holy singers, Eleazarus, Bachurus.

25 Of the porters, Sallumus, & Colbantes.

26 Of them of Israel, of the sonnes of Phorus, Hiermas, and Eddias, and Melchias, and Paclus, and Eleazar, & Albias, and Banaias.

27 Of the sonnes of Ela, Mathanias, Zacharias, and Hierelias, and Hieremoth, and Aedias.

28 And of the sonnes of Zanoth, Eliadas, Elimus, Othontas, Jarimoth, and Sabatus, and Sardeus.

29 Of the sonnes of Bebai, Ioannes, and Ananias, and Josebad, and Ematheas.

30 Of the sonnes of Pani, Dianus, Mamuchus, Jedaias, Jalubus, Jafael, and Jeremoth.

31 And of the sonnes of Abdi, Raachus, Moollas, Caleus, and Daidus, and Matthanias, and Selchel, and Balnius, and Manalleas.

32 And of the sonnes of Annas, Elionas, and Ateas, and Melchias, and Sabdeus, & Simon a Chofamite.

33 And of the sonnes of Alom, Altareus, and Matthias, and Banaias, Eliphalet, and Manalles, and Semi.

34 And of the sonnes of Maani, Ieremias, Pomdis, Dinairus, Inel, Samai, and Paclus, and Amos, Carabalon, and Eualbius, and Manimatanaius, Elialis, Iamius, Eliali, Samis, Selenias, Nathamas: and of the sons of Ozoas, Selis, Ciril, Esallus, Samatas, Sambis, Iosiphus.

35 And of the sonnes of Ethna, Pazitias, Zabadias, Ethes, Inel, Banaias.

to marriage, and they put them a way with their children.

37 And the Priests and Levites, and all they that were of Israel, dwelt at Hierusalem, and thoroout all the land, in the newe Moone of the seventh moneth: and the children of Israel were in their dwellings.

38 And the whole multitude came together with one accord, into the wide place before the East gate of the Temple.

39 And they spake vnto Esdras the high priest and reader, that hee would bring the Lawe of Moses, which had bene giuen of the Lord God of Israel.

40 So Esdras the high Priest brought the Lawe vnto the whole multitude, to man, and woman, and to all the Priests, that they might heare the Lawe in the newe Moone of the seventh moneth.

41 And he read in the first wide place that is before the port of the Temple, from the morning early vnto midday, before men and women: and they applied their minde all vnto the Law.

42 And Esdras the Priest, and reader of the Lawe, stood by vpon a pulpit of wood, which was made therofore.

43 And vpon his right hande, there stood by him Sathathias, Samus, Ananias, Azarias, Arias, Ezechias, and Balalan:

44 vpon his left hand stood Shalbeus, Sael, Melchias, Aofachuphus, and Nabarias.

45 Then tooke Esdras the booke of the Law before the whole multitude (for he was the principall, and had in most honour of them all.)

46 And when hee expounded the Lawe, they stood all straight vpon their secte. So Esdras praised the Lord the most high God, the Almighty God of hostes.

47 And all the people answered, Amen.

48 And Jesus, Anus, Sarabias, Adimas, Jacobus, Bataias, Autamas, Daianias, Calitas, Azarias, Johasabbus, Ananias, and Biatas the Levites, lift by their handes, and fell downe on the ground, and worshipped the Lord.

49 And taught the Lawe of the Lord, as were earnestly occupied together in preading thereof.

50 Then spake Atharates vnto Esdras the high Priest and reader, and to the Levites that taught the multitude, saying, 51 This day is holy vnto the Lord: and all when they heard the Law, wept.

52 So Esdras said, Depart your way therofore, and eat the fat meats, and drinke the sweet drinckes, and sende gifts vnto them that haue nothing.

53 For this day is holy vnto the Lord, and be not yee loy: for the Lord will bring you to honour.

54 So the Levites published al these things to the people, saying, This day is holy to the Lord, be not loy.

55 Then went they their way euery one to eat and drinke, and were mery, and sent presents to them that had nothing, and made very good chere.

56 For they were as yet filled with the words that had bene taught them, and for the which they had bene assembled.

The fourth booke of Esdras.

The first Chapter.

8 The people is reprooued for their vnthankfulness. 33 God will haue another people, if they wil not be reformed.

The second booke of the Prophet Esdras, the son of Saraias, the sonne of Azarias, the sonne of Melchia, the sonne of Sadarias, the son of Sador, the son of Achitob, the sonne of Achia, the sonne of Phinees, the sonne of Heli, the son of Amerias, the sonne of Aziel, the sonne of Marimoch, the sonne of Arna, the sonne of Ozias, the sonne of Borith, the son of Abisei, the sonne of Phinees, the sonne of Eleazar.

3 The sonne of Aaron, of the tribe of Leui, which Esdras was prisoner in the land of Medes, in the reigne of Artaxerres king of Persia.

4 And the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,

5 Goe thy way, and shew to my people their sinnefull deeds, and their children their wickednes which they haue done against me, that they may tell their childrens children the same:

6 For the sinnes of their fathers are encreased in them: and why? they haue forgotten me, and haue offered vnto strange gods.

7 Am not I euen he that brought them out of the land of Egypt from the house of bondage? But they haue prouoked mee vnto wrath, and despised my counsels.

8 Pull thou out then the haire of thy head, and cast all euill vpon them, for they haue not bene obedient vnto my Lawe: but it is a people without learning and nourture.

9 Howe long shall I forbear them, vnto whom I haue done so much good?

10 Many kings haue I destroyed for their sakes, Pharao with his seruants, and all his power haue I smitten downe and slaine.

11 And the nations haue I destroyed & rooted out before them, as in the East haue I brought two lands and people to nought, euen Tyze and Sidon, and hatte slaine all their enemies.

The ij. Chapter.

2 The Synagogue findeth fault with her owne children. 18 The Gentiles are called.

Thus sayeth the Lord, I brought this people out of bondage, I gaue them my commandments by my seruants the prophets, whom they would not heare, but despised my counsels.

2 The mother that bare them, sayeth vnto them, Goe your way ye children, for I am a widow and forsaken.

3 I brought you vp with gladnes, but with sorrow & heavinesse haue I lost you, for ye haue sinned before the Lord your God, and done that thing that is euill before him.

4 But what shall I now do vnto you ? I am a widow and forsaken : go your way, O my children, and aske mercy of the Lord.

5 As for me, O father, I call vpon thee for a witnes ouer the mother of these children, which would not keepe my couenant :

6 That thou bring them to confusion, and their mother to a spoile, that she beare no more.

7 Let their names be scattered abroad among the heathen, let them be put out of the earth : for they haue thought scorn of my couenant.

9 whose land is turned into clods of pitch, and heaps of ashes : euen so also will I doe vnto all them that heare me not, sayth the almightie Lord.

10 Thus sayeth the Lord vnto Esdras, Tell my people that I will giue them the kingdome of Hierusalem, which I would haue giuen vnto Itael.

11 Their glory also will I take vnto me, and giue them the euerlasting tabernacles, which I had prepared for those.

22 Keepe the olde and yong that are within thy walles.

23 * Wheresoeuer thou findest the dead, take them, and bury them, and I shall giue thee the first place in my resurrection.

24 Abide still, O my people, and take thy rest, for thy quietnesse shall come.

25 feed thy childzen, O thou good nurse, stablish their feete.

26 As for the seruants whom I haue giuen thee, there shall not one of them perish: for I wil seeke them from among thy number.

27 Be not weary, for when the day of trouble and heauinesse commeth, other shall weepe and be sorrowfull, but thou shalt bee mercy and plenteous.

28 The heathen shall bee ielous at it, but they shall be able to doe nothing against thee, saith the Lord.

29 My hands shall couer thee, so that thy childzen shall not see the fire euerlasting.

30 Be ioyfull, O thou mother, with thy childzen, for I will deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

31 Remember thy childzen that sleepe, for I shall bring them out of the sides of the earth, and shew mercy vnto them: for I am merciful, saith the Lord almighty.

32 Embrace thy childzen vntill I come, and shewe mercie vnto them: for my welles runne ouer, and my grace shall not faile.

33 I Edras receiued a charge of the Lord vpon the mount Deb, that I should goe vnto Israel: but when I came vnto them, they set me at nought, & despised the Commandements of the Lord.

34 And therefore I say vnto you, O yee heathen that heare and vnderstand, Looke for your shephard, he shall giue you euerlasting rest: for he is nigh at hand that shall come in the ende of the world.

35 Bee ready to the reuward of the kingdome, for the euerlasting light shall shine vpon you for euermore.

36 flee the shadow of this world, receiue the ioyfullnesse of your glory: I testific my Sauiour openly.

37 O receiue the gift that is giuen you, and be glad, giuing thanks vnto him that hath called you to the heauenly kingdome.

38 Arise vp, and stand fast. beholde the number of those that bee sealed || in the feast of the Lord.

39 Which are departed from the shadowe of the world, & haue receiued glorious garments of the Lord.

40 Take thy number, O Sion, and shut by thy purified, which haue fulfilled the Lawe of the Lord.

41 The number of thy childzen whom thou longedst for, is fulfilled: beseech the power of the Lord, that thy people which haue bene called from the beginning, may be halowed.

42 * I Edras saue vpon the mount Sion a great people, whom I coulde not number: and they all praysed the Lord with songs of thanksgiving.

43 And in the mids of them there was a yong man of an high stature, more excellen then all they, and vpon euery one of their heades hee set crownes, and was euer || higher and higher, which I maruiled at greatly.

44 So I asked the Angel, and said, Sir, what are these?

45 He answered and saide vnto me, These be they that haue put off the moztall clothing, and put on the immoztall, and haue || testificd and knowledged the Name of God: nowe are they crowned, and receiue the || reuward.

46 Then laide I vnto the Angel, what yong person is it that crowneth them, and giueth them the Palmes in their hands?

47 So he answered and said vnto mee, It is the Sonne of God, whom they haue || knowledged in the world: Then began I greatly to commend them that stood so iustly for the Name of the Lord.

48 Then the Angel sayde vnto mee, Goe thy way, and tell my people what maner of thyngs, and howe great wonders of the Lord thy God thou hast seene.

The iij. Chapter.

4 The wonderous woorkes which God did for the people, are recited. 31 Edras maruileth that God suffereth the Babylonians to haue rule ouer his people, which yet are sinners also.

In the thirtieth yere after the fall of the city, I was at Babylon, and lay troubled vpon my bed, and my thoughts came by ouer my heart.

2 For I saw the desolation of Sion, and the plenteous wealth of them that dwell at Babylon.

3 And my spirit was sore mouued, so that I began to speake fearefull wordes to the most highest, and said,

4 O Lord, Lord, thou spakest at the beginning, when thou plantedst the earth (and that thy selfe alone) and gauest commandement vnto the people,

5 And a * body vnto Adam without soule, which was a || creature of thy handes, and had breathed in him the breath of life, and so he liued before thee:

|| Or, for.

|| Or, those of thine that are clothed in white.

Apo. 7. 9.

|| Or, & was higher then the other.

|| Or, haue confessed. || Or, the Palmes.

|| Or, confessed.

Gene. 2. 7. || Or, workmanship.

6 And thou leddest him into paradise, which thy right hande had planted or euer the earth brought fruits.

7 And vnto him thou gauest commandement to loue thy way, which hee transgressed, and immediately thou appointedst death in him, and in his generations: of whom came nations, tribes, people, and hundres out of number.

Gen. 6. 12.

8 And every people walked after their owne wil, and did wonderfull things before thee: and as for thy Commandements, they despised.

Gen. 7. 10. Or, at time appointed.

9 But in procelle of time thou broughtest the water flood vpon those that dwelt in the world, and destroyedst them.

10 So that by the flood, that was wrought in each of them, that was by death in Adam.

11 Neuertheless, one of them thou leftest, namely, Noah with his household, of whom came all righteous men.

Or, came to passe.

12 And it happened, that when they that dwelt vpon the earth beganne to multiply, and had gotten them many children, and were a great people, they beganne to be moze vngodly then the first.

Gen. 12. 15

13 Now when they liued so wickedly before thee, thou didst chuse thee a man from among them, whose name was Abraham.

14 Vnto him thou louedst, and vnto him only thou shewedst thy will:

15 And madest an euerlasting couenant with him, promising him that thou wouldest neuer forsake his seed.

Gen. 21. 2.

16 And vnto him thou gauest Isahac, vnto Isahac also thou gauest Jacob and Esau. As for Jacob, thou diddest chuse him to thee, and put backe Esau: and so Jacob became a great multitude.

Gen. 25. 25.

17 And it came to passe, that when thou leddest his seede out of Egypt, thou broughtest them vnto the mount Sina.

Deut. 4. 10.

18 Bowing downe the heauens, setting fast the earth, moouing the ground, making the depths to shake, and troubling the world.

Or, abasing, Or, astonishing, Or, gacces.

19 And thy glory went thorow foure ports of fire, and earthquakes, and windes, and colde, that thou mightest giue the Law vnto the seede of Jacob, and diligence vnto the generation of Israel.

Or, and that which the generation of Israel should keepe with diligence, Gen. 3. 6.

20 And yet tookest thou not a way from them that wicked heart, that thy Lawe might bring forth fruit in them.

21 For the first Adam bearing a wicked heart, transgressed, and was overcome: and so bee all they that are borne of him.

22 This remained weakenesse still: and the Lawe in the hearts of the people, with the wickednesse of the roote, so that the good departed a way, and the euil abode still.

23 So the times passed away, and the yeeres were brought to an end: then diddest thou raise thee by a seruant, called Dauid.

1. Reg. 16. 15. 2. Reg. 5. 2.

24 vnto whom thou commandedst to build a citie vnto thy Name, and to offer by incense and sacrifice vnto thee therein.

25 When this was done now many yeeres, then the inhabitants of the citie forsooke thee, 26 And in all things did euen as Adam and all his generations had done: for they also had a wicked heart.

27 And so thou gauest the citie ouer into the hands of thine enemies.

28 But doe they of Babylon then any thing better, that they should therefore haue the dominion in Sion?

29 For when I came thither, and sawe there so great wickednesse that it coulde not be numberd, then my soule saw many euil doers in this thirtieth yeere, so that my heart failed me:

30 For I sawe how thou sufferedst them in such vngodlines, and sparedst the wicked doers, but thine owne people hast thou rooted out, and preferred thine enemies, and this hast thou not shewed me.

31 I cannot perceiue how this happeneth. Doe they of Babylon then better then they of Sion?

32 Or is there any other people that knoweth thee, sauing the people of Israel? or what generation hath so beleued thy Couenants, as Jacob?

33 And yet their reward appeareth not, and their labour hath no fruit: for I haue gone here and there through the heathen, and I see that they be rich and wealthy, and thinke not vpon thy Commandements.

34 Weigh thou therefore our wickednesse now in the balance, and theirs also that dwell in the world: and so shall thy Name bee no where found, but in Israel.

35 Or when was it that they which dwell vpon earth, haue not sinned in thy sight? or what people hath so kept thy Commandements?

36 Thou shalt finde that Israel by name hath kept thy precepts: but not the other people and heathen.

The iiii. Chapter.

The Angel reprooueth Esdras, because he seemeth to enter into the profound iudgements of God.

And the Angel that was sent vnto me, whose name was Uriel, gaue me an answer.

2 And said, Thy heart hath taken too much vpon it in this world, and thou thinkest to comprehend the way of the highest.

3 Then saide I, Yea, my Lord. And hee answered mee, and sayd, I am sent to shewe thee three wayes, and to set forth three similitudes before thee:

4 Whereof, if thou canst declare mee one, I will shewe thee also the way that thou desirest to see: and I shall shewe thee from whence the wicked heart commeth.

5 And I sayd, Tell on, my Lord. Then said he vnto me, So thy way, weigh me the weight of the fire, or measure me the blast of the winde, or call me againe the day that is past.

6 Then answered I, and said, What man borne is able to do that, that thou shouldest aske such things of me?

7 And he said vnto me, If I should aske thee how deepe dwellings are in the midst of the sea, or how great water springs are in the beginning of the deepe, or how great water springs are vpon the stretching out of the heauens, or which are the outgoings of paradise:

8 Peradventure thou wouldest say vnto me, I neuer went downe yet into the deepe, nor hell, neither did I euer clime vp into heauen.

9 Neuertheless, now haue I asked thee but

Or, it, Or, com meth to passe, Irem. 26. 25. Or, resti monies.

Or, dem.

onely of fire and winde, and of the day where-through thou hast traueiled, and from the which thou canst not be separated, and yet canst thou giue me no answer of them.

10 He said mozeouer vnto mee, Thine owne things, and such as are growen by with thee, canst thou not know:

11 How should thy vessel then be able to comprehend the way of the highest, and nowe outwardly in the corrupt world to vnderstand the corruption that is euident in my sight?

12 Then saide I vnto him, It were better that we were not at all, then that we should liue in wickednesse, and to suffer, and not to knowe wherefoze.

13 He answered me, and said, I came to a forest in a plaine, and the trees tooke such a deuice.

14 And said, Come, let vs goe, & fight against the sea, that it may depart away before vs, and that we may make yet moze woods.

15 The floods of the sea also in like maner tooke counsel, and said, Come, let vs goe by, and fight against the trees of the wood, that there we may make vs another countrey.

16 The thought and deuice of the wood was but vaine and nothing worth, for the fire came and consumed it.

17 The thought of the floods of the sea came likewise to nought also: for the sand stood by and stopped them.

18 If thou were iudge nowe betwixt these two, whom wouldest thou iustifie, or whom wouldest thou condemne?

19 I answered and said, Verily it is a foolish thought that they both haue deuised: for the ground is giuen vnto the wood, and the sea also hath his place to beare his floods.

20 When answered he mee, and saide, Thou hast giuen a right iudgement: but why iudgeth thou not thy selfe also?

21 For like as the ground is giuen vnto the wood, and the sea to his floods: euen so they that dwel vpon earth, may vnderstand nothing but that which is vpon earth: and he that dwelleth aboute the heauens, may onely vnderstand the things that are aboute the heauens.

22 Then answered I, and saide, I beseech thee, O Lord, let me haue vnderstanding:

23 For it was not my minde to be curious of thy high things, but of such as wee dauly meddle withall, namely, as wherefoze Israel is giuen by as a reppoche to the heathen, and for what cause the people whom thou hast loued, is giuen ouer vnto vngodly nations, and why the Lawe of our forefathers is brought to nought, and the written couenants come to none effect:

24 And we passe away out of the world as the grasshoppers, and our life is a very feare, and we are not worthy to obtaine mercy.

25 What will hee then doe vnto his name which is called vpon ouer vs? Of these things haue I asked question.

26 Then answered he me, and said, The moze thou searchest, the moze thou shalt marueile: for the world hatheth fast to passe away.

27 And cannot comprehend the things that are promised to the righteous in thine to come:
for this worlde is full of vnrighteousnesse and weakenes.

28 But as concerning the things whereof thou askest me, I wil tel thee: The euil is sowne, but the destruction thereof is not yet come.

29 If the euil now that is sowne be not turned by side downe, and if the place where the euil is sowne passe not away: then cannot the thing come that is sowne with good.

30 For the corne of euil seed hath bene sowne in the heart of Adam from the beginning: and how much vngodlinesse hath he brought by vnto this time? and how much shall hee yet bring foorth vntil he come into the barne?

31 Ponder now by thy selfe how great fruite of wickednesse the corne of euil seede bringeth foorth.

32 And when the stalkes shall be cut downe, which are without number, how great a barne shall it fill?

33 Then I answered and saide, How, and when shall these things come to passe? wherefoze are our yeeres few and euil?

34 And hee answered mee, saying, Hast not thou too much aboute the most highest: for thy hastinesse to be aboute him, is but vaine, though thou doe all that thou canst for it.

35 Did not the soules also of the righteous aske question of these things in their chambers, saying, How long shall I hope on this fashion?
when commeth the fruit of my barne, and our reward?

36 And vpon this, Jeremiel the archangel gaue them answer, and saide, Euen when the number of the seeds is filled in you, for hee hath weighed the world in the balance.

37 In measure and number hath hee measured the times, and moueth it not, nor shaketh it, vntil the said measure be fulfilled.

38 Then answered I, and saide, O Lord,
Lord, now are we all full of sinne:

39 And for our sake peraduenture it is that the barne of the righteous is not fulfilled, because of the sinnes of them that dwell vpon the earth.

40 So he answered me, and said, So thy way to a woman with childe, and aske of her, when she hath fulfilled her nine moneths, if her womb may keepe the birth any longer within her?

41 Then saide I, No, Lord, that can hee not.
And he said vnto mee, In the graue, the secret places of soules are like the wombe of a woman:

42 For like as a woman that trauaileth, mak-eth haste to escape the necessity of the trauel:
euen so doe these places haste to deliuer those things that are committed vnto them.

43 Looke what thou desirest to see, it shall be shewed thee from the beginning.

44 Then answered I, and saide, If I haue found fauour in thy sight, and if it bee possible, and if I be meete therofore,

45 Shew mee then whether there bee moze to come then is past, or moze past then is for to come.

46 What is past, I know: but what is for to come, I know not.

47 And he said vnto me, Stand by vpon the right side, and I shall expound the similitude vnto thee.

48 So I stood, and beholde, an hote burning ouen passed by before me: and it happened, that when the flame was gone by, I looked, and behold, the smoke had the vpper hand:

49 After this there passed by before me a watrie cloude, and sent downe much raine with a tic drops

tozme: and when the storme raine was past, the drops remained still.

50 Then said he vnto mee, Consider with thy selfe: like as the raine is more then the drops, and as the fire exceedeth the smoke: euen so, the measure of the things that are past hath the byper hand, and the drops and smoke worke much in quantitie.

51 Then I prayed, and said, May I liue thirkest thou vntill that time: or what shall happen in those dayes?

52 He answered mee, and said, As for the tokens whereof thou askest me, I may tell thee of them in part: but as touching thy life, I am not sent to shew thee: for I do not know it.

Thev. Chapter.

1 In the latter times truth shall be hid, vnrighteouf-nesse and all wickednesse shall reigne in the world.

Euerthelesse, as concerning the tokens marke this: beholde, the dayes shal come, that they which dwell vpon earth shalbe taken in a great number, and the way of the truethe shall be hidde, and the land shalbe barren from faith:

Marth. 24.
4

2 But iniquitie shall bee increased aboue that which now thou seest, or that thou hast heard long agoe.

3 And the land that thou seest now to haue rule, shall thou shortly see waste.

4 But if God graunt thee to liue, thou shalt see after the thirde trumpet, that the Sunne shall suddenly shine againe in the night, and the Moone three times in the day:

5 And blood shall drop out of wood, and the stone shall giue his voyce, and the people shalbe vniquieted:

6 And euen he shal rule, whom they hope not that dwell vpon earth, and the foules shall sit:

7 And the Sodomiticke sea shall cast out the fish, and make a noyse in the night, which many haue not knowen: but they shall all heare the voyce thereof.

8 There shalbe a confusion also in many places, and the fire shalbe off sent out againe: and the wilde beastes shall change their places, and menstruous women shall beare monsters.

9 And salt waters shalbe found in the sweet, and all friends shall fight one against another:
then shall all wit and vnderstanding be hid, and put aside into their secret places.

¶ Or, incon-tinencie,

10 And shall be sought of many, and yet not be found: then shall vnrighteousnesse and voluptuousnesse haue the byper hand vpon earth.

¶ Or, that vulfisheth, or that doeth right wife-ly.

11 One land also shall aske another, and say,
Is rightousnesse that I maketh a man righteous, gone thorow thee? And it shall say, No.

12 At the same time shall men hope, but nothing obtaine: they shall labour, but their waies shall not prosper.

13 To shew thee such tokens I haue leaue:
and if thou wilt pray againe, and weep as now, and fast seuen dayes, thou shalt heare yet greater things.

14 Then I awaked, and a fearefulnesse went thorow all my body, and my minde was feeble, so that I almost swooned withall.

15 So the Angel that was come to talke with me, held me, comforted me, and set mee vp vpon my seate.

16 And in the second night it came to passe, that Salathiel the captaine of the people came vnto mee, saying, Where hast thou bene? and why is thy countenance so heauy?

17 Knowest thou not that Israel is committed vnto thee in the land of their captiuitie?

18 Why then, and eat, and forsake vs not as the shepheard that leaueth his flocke in the hands of wicked wolues.

19 Then said I vnto him, Goe thy wayes fro me, and come not nigh me. And he heard it, and as I said, so he went his way from me.

20 And so I fasted seuen dayes, mourning and weeping, like as Uriel the Angel commanded me.

21 And after seuen dayes so it was, that the thoughts of my heart were very grievous vnto me againe:

22 And my soule receiued the spirit of vnder-standing, and I began to talke with the most highest againe,

23 And said, O Lord, Lord, of euery wood of the earth, and of all the trees thereof, thou hast chosen thee one onely vineyard:

24 And of all lands of the whole world, thou hast chosen thee one pit: and of all floures of the ground, thou hast chosen thee one lillie:

25 And of all the deptes of the sea, thou hast filled thee one riuier: and of all builded cities, thou hast hallowed Sion vnto thy selfe:

26 And of all the foules that are created, thou hast named thee one Doue: and of all the cattell that are made, thou hast prouided thee one sheepe:

27 And among all the multitudes of peoples, thou hast gotten thee one people: and vnto this people whom thou louedst, thou gauest a Lawe that is proued of all.

28 And nowe, O Lord, why hast thou giuen this one people ouer vnto many? and vpon the one roote thou hast prepared others, and why hast thou scattered thy one onely people among many?

29 Which trade them downe, yea which haue euer withstood thy promises, and neuer beleued thy Couenants.

30 If thou diddest so much hate thy people, yet shouldst thou punish them with thine owne hands.

31 Now when I had spoken these words, the Angel that came to mee the night afore, was sent vnto me,

32 And said vnto me, Heare me, and I will restruct thee, hearken to the thing that I say, and I will tell thee more.

33 And I saide, Speake on, my Lord. Then said he vnto me, Thou art sore troubled in mind for Israels sake: louest thou that people better then he that made them?

34 And I saide, No Lord, but of very griefe and compassion haue I spoken: for my reues paine mee every houre, because I would haue experience of the way of the most highest, and seeke out part of his iudgement.

35 And he said vnto mee, What thou mayest not. And I said, Wherefore, Lord? wherunto was I borne then? or why was not my mothers wombe then my grate, that I might not haue sene the misery and trouble of Jacob, and the wearing out of the flocke of Israel?

36 And hee saide vnto mee, Remember mee the things that are not yet come, gather mee together the drops that are scattered abroad, make me the flowres green againe that are withered, 37 Open me the places that are closed, and bring me forth the windes that in them are shut vp, shewe me the image of a boyce: and then I will declare to thee the thing that thou labourst to knowe.

38 And I said, O Lord, Lord, who may knowe these things, but hee that hath not his dwelling with men?

39 As for me, I am brutish: how may I then speake of these things whereof thou askest me?

40 Then sayd he vnto me, Like as thou canst doe none of these things that I haue spoken of: euen so canst thou not finde out my iudgement, or in the end the loue that I haue promised vnto my people.

41 And I sayd, Behold, O Lord, yet art thou nigh vnto them that bee reserved till the ende: and what shall they doe that haue bene before me, or we that be nowe, or they that shall come after vs?

42 And hee sayde vnto mee, I will liken my iudgement vnto a ring: like as there is no slackness of the last, euen so there is no swiftnesse of the first.

43 So I answered, and sayd, Coudest thou not make those that haue bene made, and be now, and that are for to come, at once, that thou mightest shew thy iudgement the sooner?

44 Then answered he me, and said, The creature may not haue // about the maker, neither may the world hold them at once that shalbe created therein.

45 And hee sayde, As thou hast sayd vnto thy seruant, that thou which quickenest all things, hast giuen life at once to the creature or worke that thou hast created, and the creature bare it: euen so might it now also beare them that now be present at once.

46 And he sayd vnto me, Aske the wombe of a woman, I say vnto her, If thou bringest forth children, why doest thou it not together, but one after another: Pray her therefore to bring forth ten children at once.

47 And I sayd, Shee cannot: but must doe it by distance of time.

48 Then sayde hee vnto me, Euen so haue I diuided by distance of time the childebed of the earth, for those that be sowne vpon her.

49 For like as a young childe may not bring forth the things that belong to the aged, euen so haue I ordained // the world which I created.

50 And I asked, and sayd, Seeing thou hast now giuen me the way, I will proceed to speake before thee: for our mother, of whome thou hast tolde me that she is pong, draweth the now nigh vnto age?

51 He answered me, and sayd, Aske a woman that beareth children, and she shall tell thee.

52 Say vnto her, wherefore are not they whome thou hast now brought forth, like those that were before thee, but lesse of stature?

53 And she shall answer thee, They that be borne in the youth of strength, are of one fashion: and they that are borne in the time of age (when the wombe faileth) are other wise.

54 Consider nowe thy selfe, howe that yee are lesse of stature, then those that were before you:

55 And so are they that come after you lesse then yee, as the creatures which now beginne to be olde, and haue passed ouer the strenght of youth.

56 Then sayd I, Lord, I beseech thee, if I haue found fauour in thy sight, shewe thy seruant by whome thou birstest thy // creature.

||Or, workmanship.

||Or, armies.

4 Or euer the highnesse of the ayre were lifted vp, afore the measures of the firmament were named, or euer the chimneys in Sion were hote,

5 And yer the present yeeres were sought out, and yereuer the inuentions of them that nowe sinne were // put aside, before they were sealed that haue gathered faith for a treasure:

||Or, turned away.

6 Then did I consider and ponder all these things, and they all were made through me alone, and through none other: by me alia they shalbe ended, and by none other.

7 Then answered I, and sayd, What shalbe the // parting asunder of the times? or when shal be the ende of the first, and the beginning of it that followeth?

||Or, diuision.

8 And he sayd vnto me, From Abraham vnto Isahac, when Jacob and Esau were borne of him, Jacobs * hand heide first the heele of Esau:

Gen. 25. 27

9 For Esau is the end of this world, and Jacob is the beginning of it that followeth.

10 The hand of man, betwixt the heele and the hand: Other question, Eldras, aske thou not.

11 I answered then, and said, O Lord, Lord, if I haue found fauour in thy sight, 12 I beseech thee // shewe thy seruant the end of thy tokens, whereof thou thewedst me part the last night.

||Or, make an end to shewethy seruantiy tokens. ||Or, mighty.

13 So hee answered, and sayd vnto mee, Stand by vpon thy seete, and heare // a perfect voice and sound.

14 Where shal come a // great motion, but the place where thou standest, shall not be mooued.

||Or, an earthquake

15 And therefore when // thou hearest the words, be not afraid, for of the end shal the word be, and of the foundation of the earth shal it be vnderstood.

||Or, when he speaketh,

16 And why? the worde thereof trembleth and quaketh: for it knoweth that it must be changed at the end.

17 And it happened, that when I had heard it, I stode vp vpon my seete, and hearkened: and behold, there was a boyce that spake, and the sound of it, was like the sound of many waters,

18 And it sayd, Behold, the dayes come that I will beginne to draw nigh, and to blisse them that dwell vpon earth:

19 And will beginne to make inquisition of them, what they bee that haue hurt brutishly with their brutishnesse, and when the low estate of Sion shall be fulfilled.

20 And when the worlde that shall banish away shall be ouerscaled, then will I doe these tokens: the booke shall be opened before the firmament: and they shall see all together:

21 And the children of a yere old shall speake with their popes, the women with childre shall bring forth brutishly children of thre or foure moneths olde, and they shall liue, and be raysed vp.

22 And suddenly shall the sown places appeare as the vnflowen, the full storehouses shall suddenly be found empty:

23 And the trumpet shall giue a sound, which when euery man heareth, they shall bee hastily afraid.

24 At that time shall friends fight one against another like enemies, and the earth shall stand in feare with them: the springs of the welles shall stand still, and in thre houres they shall not runne.

25 Whosoever remaineth from all these things that I haue tolde thee, shall escape, and see my saluation, and the end of your world.

26 And the men that are receiued, shall see it, they that haue not tasted death from their birth: and the heart of the indwellers shall be changed, and turned into another meaning.

27 For euill shall be put out, and deceit shall be quenched.

28 As for faith, it shall flourish, corruption shall be overcome, and the trueth which hath bene so long without fruit, shall be declared.

29 And when he talked with me, beholde, I looked a litle and a litle vpon him, before whom I stood:

30 And these wordes sayd he vnto me, I am come to shewe thee the time of the night for to come.

31 If thou wilt pray yet more, and fast seuen dayes againe, I shall tell thee more things, and greater then before, which I haue heard by the day.

32 For thy voyce is heard before the highest: for why: the mighty hath seene thy righteous dealing, hee hath seene also thy chastity which thou hast had euer since thy youth:

33 And therefore hath hee sent me to shewe thee all these things, and to say vnto thee, Be of good comfort, and feare not:

34 And had not with the times that are past, to thinke vaine things, that thou mayst not haue been from the latter times.

35 And it came to passe after this, that I wept againe, and fasted seuen dayes in like manner, that I might fulfill the thre weekes which hee tolde me.

36 And in the eight night was my heart bered within me againe, and I began to speake before the highest.

37 For my spirit was greatly set on fire, and my soule was in distresse:

38 And I said, O Lord, thou spakest vnto thy creature from the beginning, euen the first day, and saydest, Let heauen and earth be made: and thy word was a perfect worke.

39 And then was there the spirit, and the darkenesse were set on euery side, and silence: there was no mans voyce as yet from thee.

40 Then commandedst thou a faire light to come forth of thy treasures, that thy worke might appeare and be seene.

41 Vpon the second day thou madest the spirit of the firmament, and commandedst it to part asunder, and to make a diuision betwixt the waters, that the one part might remaine aboue, and the other beneath.

42 Vpon the third day thou broughtest to passe that the waters were gathered in the seventh part of the earth: seuen parts hast thou dried vp, and kept them, to the intent that men might sowe and occupie husbandrie therein.

43 As soone as thy worde went forth, the worke was made:

44 For immediatly there was great and innumerable fruit, and many diuers pleasures for the taste, and flowers of vncchangeable colour, and odours of wonderfull smell: And this was done the third day.

45 Vpon the fourth day thou commandedst that the Sunne should giue his shine, and the Moone her light, the Starres didst thou set in order:

46 And gauest them a charge to doe seruice, euen vnto man that was to be made.

47 Vpon the fifth day, thou saydest vnto the seventh part where the waters were gathered, that it should bring forth diuers beasts, foules, and fishes: and so it came to passe.

48 For the dumbe water and without soule, brought forth liuing things at the commandement of God, that all people might praise thy wonderful worke.

49 Then diddest thou ordaine two soules, the one thou calledst Enoch, and the other Lewiathan.

50 And didst separate the one from the other: for the seventh part (namely, where the water was gathered together) might not hold them both.

51 Vnto Enoch thou gauest one part, which was dried vp by the third day, that hee should dwell in the same part, wherein are a thousand hills.

52 But vnto Lewiathan thou gauest the seventh part, namely the moist, and hast kept him to deuoure what thou wilt, and when.

53 Vpon the first day thou gauest commandement vpon the earth, that before thee it should bring forth beasts, cattell, and all that creepe:

54 And besides this, Adam also, whom thou madest lord of all thy creatures, of him come we all, and the people also whom thou hast chosen, specially vnto thy selfe.

55 All this haue I spoken before thee, O Lord, that I might shewe how that the worlde is made for our sakes.

56 As for the other people which also come of Adam, thou hast sayd that they are nothing, but bee like vnto spetie, and hast thinned the abundance of them vnto a droppe that falleth from a vessel.

57 And now, O Lord, behold, the Heathen which haue euer bene reputed as nothing, haue begunne to bee lordes ouer vs, and to deuoure vs:

58 But wee thy people (whome thou hast called)

Or, heauen.

Or, he shall be saved.

Or, inhabitants.

Or, shewed forth.

called thy first borne, thy onely begotten, and thy feruent louer) are giuen into their handes and power.

59 If the worlde now be made for our sakes, why haue wee not the inheritance of the world in possession: How long shall this endure?

The vij. Chapter.

5 Without tribulation none can come to felicitie. 12 God aduertiseh all in time. 28 The coming and death of Christ. 32 The resurrection and last iudgement.

AND when I had made an ende of speaking these wordes, there was sent vnto me an Angell, which had bene sent vnto me also the night afore:

2 And he sayd vnto me, asp Edras, & heare the wordes that I am come to tell thee.

3 And I sayde, Speake on Lorde my God. Then sayd he vnto me, The sea is set in a wide place, that it might be deepe and great.

4 But put care the entrance is narrow and small, like a riuier.

5 Who then could goe into the Sea to looke vpon it, and to rule it? If he went not thoro we the narrow, how might he come into the broad?

6 Item || another, A city is builded, and set vpon a broad felde, and is full of all good things:

7 The entrance thereof is narrowe, and is set in a dangerous place to fall, like as if there were a fire at the right hand, and a deepe water at the left,

8 And as it were onely one strait path betwixt them both, euen betweene the fire and the water, so small that there could but one man go there at once:

9 If this city now were giuen to a man for an inheritance, and he neuer went thoro we the perilous way before, how would he receiue his inheritance?

10 And I sayd, It is so, Lord. Then sayd he, Euen so also is Israels position.

11 And why? for their sakes haue I made the worlde: and when Adam transgressed my statutes, then was the thing so appointed as now is done.

12 When were the entrances of the worlde made narrowe, full of sorowe and trauaile: they are but fewe and euill, full of perils and labour.

13 For the entrances of the fore worlde were wide and sure, and brought immortall fruit.

14 If then they which are liuing, enter not diligently thoro we these strait and brittle things, they cannot receiue the things so laid vp in secret.

15 Why disquietest thou thy selfe then, seeing thou art but a corruptible man? And why art thou moued, whereas thou art but mortall?

16 And why hast thou not receiued into thine heart, the things that are to come, rather then them that are present?

17 Then sayde * I, O Lord, Lord, thou hast ordained in thy lawe, that the righteous should inherite these things, but that the vngodly should perishe:

18 Neuerthelesse, the righteous shall suffer strait things, and hope for wide: for they that haue liued vngodly, and suffered strait things, shall not see the wide.

19 And hee sayd vnto me, There is no iudge aboute God, and none that hath vnderstanding aboute the highest.

20 For there be many that perishe in this life, because they despise the lawe of God that is || set before them:

21 For God hath giuen strait commaundement to such as came, so oft as they came, what they should do to haue life, and what they should keepe to auoid punishment.

22 Neuerthelesse, they were not obedient vnto him, but spake against him, and imagined vaine things:

23 And deceiued themselves by wicked deedes, and denyed the power of the most high, and regarded not his wayes, 24 But his lawe haue they despised, and denyed his promises: in his statutes and ordinances haue they not bene faithfull and stedfast, and haue not performed his wordes.

25 And therefore Edras, for the emptie, are the emptie things, and for the full are the full things.

26 Behold, the time shall come, that these tokens which I haue tolde thee, shall come to passe, and the bride shall appeare, and shee coming forth shall be seene, that now is vnder the earth:

27 And whosoever is deliuered from the fore said euils, shall see my wonders.

28 For my sonne Iesus shall be openly declared, with those that be with him, and they that remaine, shall be merrie within foure hundred yeeres.

29 After these same yeeres shall my sonne Christ dye, and all men that haue life.

30 And the world shall be turned into the olde silence seuen dayes, like as in the fore iudgements, so that no man shall remaine.

31 And after seuen dayes the world that yet awaketh not, shall be raised vp, and that shall die that is corrupt.

32 And the earth shall restore those that haue slept in her, and so shall the dust those that dwell therein in silence, and the secret places shall deliuer those the soules that were committed vnto them.

33 And the most highest shall be openly declared vpon the seat of iudgement, and all miserie shall banish away, and long suffering || shall be gathered together.

34 But the iudgement shall continue, the truth shall remaine, and faith shall wax strong.

35 The worke shall followe, and the reward shall be the wed, the || righteousnesse shall watch, and the vnrightheousnesse shall beare no rule.

36 Then sayd I, Abraham prayed * first for the Sodomites, and * Moses for the fathers that sinned in the wilderness, 37 And they that came after him, for Israel, in the time of Ahas and Samuel,

38 And * Dauid for the destruction, and * Solomon for them that came into the sanctuary, 39 And * Helias for those that receiued raine, and for the dead, that he might liue.

40 And * Ezechias for the people in the time of Sennacherib, and diuers other in like manner, which haue prayed for many.

|| Or, appointed them,

|| Or, haue an end.

|| Or, the good deeds shall be of force. Gen. 18. 17. Exo. 23. 11.

Or, vice.

41 Euen so now, seeing the corrupt is growen bp, and wickednesse encreased, and the righteous haue prayed for the vngodly: wherefore shal it not be so now also?

42 Hee answered me, and sayde, This present life is not the end, oft times honour is retained in it: therefore haue they prayed for the weake.

43 But the day of doome shall be the ende of this time, and the beginning of the immortality for to come, wherein all corruption shall be banished.

44 Intemperancie shall be loosed, infidelitie be cut off, righteousnesse growe, and the veritie spring bp.

45 Then shall no man bee able to saue him that is destroyed, nor to oppresse him that hath gotten the victoꝝ.

46 I answered then, and sayde, This is my first and last saying, that it had beene better not to haue giuen the earth vnto Adam: or els when it was giuen him, to haue kept him that hee should not haue sinned.

Or, feare.

47 For what profite is it for men now in this present time to liue in heauines, and after death to looke for punishment?

Rom. 5. 15.

48 O thou Adam, what hast thou done? for though it was thou that sinned, thou art not fallen alone, but we all that come of thee.

Or, life.

49 For what profite is it vnto vs, if there bee promised vs an immortall time, whereas wee doe the workes that bring death:

50 And that there is promised vs an euersing hope, whereas our selues are euil & vaine:

51 And that there is laid vp for vs dwellings of heath and safetie, whereas wee haue liued wickedly:

52 And that the gloꝝy of the highest is kept to defend them which haue ledde a patient life, whereas we haue walked in the most wicked wayes of all:

Or, safetic and health.

53 And that there should bee shewed a paradise, whose fruit endureth for euer, wherein is freedom and medicine, whereas wee shall not goe in?

54 (For wee haue walked in vnplesant places.)

55 And that the faces of them which haue abstained, shall shine aboue the starres: whereas our faces shall be blacker then darkenesse?

56 For while we liued and did vnrighteously, we considered not that we should suffer therfore after death.

57 Then answered he me, and sayde, This is the manner of the battaile, which man that is boꝝne vpon the earth shall fight.

58 That if hee be ouercome, he shall suffer as thou hast sayd: but if he get the victoꝝ, hee shall receiue the thing that I say.

Deu. 30. 16.

59 For this is the life whereof Moses spake vnto the people while he liued, saying, Choose thee life, that thou mayest liue.

60 Heerthelesse they beleued him not, neither the Prophets after him, no nor mee which haue sayd vnto them.

61 That heauines should not so be vnto their destruction, like as ioy is for to come ouer those that haue suffered themselves to be enforced in saluation.

Or, to whom saluation is perfwaded.

62 I answered then, and said, I know, Lord, that the highest is called mercifull, in that hee hath mercie vpon them which are not yet come vnto that world,

63 And vpon those also that walk in his law.

64 And that he is patient, for he long suffereth those that haue sinned, as his creatures.

Rom. 2.

65 And that hee is liberall to giue, whereas need requirerth.

66 And that he is of great mercie: for he passeth in mercie much both those that are present, and that are past, and also them which are for to come.

67 For if he multiplied not his mercies, the world could not continue his beeing with those that haue inheritance therein.

Or, for the world.

68 Hee giueth also: for if he gaue not of his goodnes, that they which haue done euil, might be eased from their wickednesse, the tenn thousand part of men should not remaine liuing.

69 And if hee, being iudge, forgaued not those that he healed with his worde, and tooke not away the multitude of contentions, 70 There should be very fewe left, peraduenture in an innumerable multitude.

The viij. Chapter.

6 The works of God are excellent. 20 Esdras prayeth for him and for his people. 39 The promise of saluation vnto the iust.

And he answered me, saying, The most highest made this worlde for many, but the worlde to come for fewe.

2 I will tell thee a similitude, Esdras. As when thou askest the earth, it shall say vnto thee, that it giueth much mould wherof earthen vessels are made, but little of it that golde commeth of: euen so is it with the worke of this worlde.

Or, a man.

3 There be many created, but fewe shall be saued.

Mat. 3

4 Then answered I, and sayd, Then swallowe by the wit, (O my soule) and deuoure the vnderstanding:
